

Eighty-Five Due to Report for Spring Sports Practice at High School

Practice for spring sports begins at the Cass City High School Monday, March 26, and approximately 85 boys are expected to turn out for the first practice session in baseball and track.

The lion's share of the men are expected to be under the direction of head baseball mentor, Irv Clasen. Over 60 boys are expected to try for one of the nine starting berths to be filled before the opening game next month.

In track there will be 25 athletes reporting for a spot on the squad. With a host of lettermen returning the Hawks should be in contention for the crown this year.

Biggest threat to a championship stems from Vassar who was the champion in 1950 and who has practically the same squad this season.

In baseball, Clasen will build his squad around five returning lettermen in an effort to win the Upper Thumb championship that Cass City shared with Vassar, Caro and Elkton in 1950.

The regulars who have an inside track for their positions are Lee Hartel at third base; Eugene Kloc at shortstop; Bob Alexander at second base; Tom Schwaderer, center field; and Jim Fox in left field.

Other boys who won letters last year and are expected to help Cass City are Chet Dorland, catcher; Gerald Whitaker, pitcher; and Jim Bishop who plays either first base or right field.

Others who have shown promise are Wallace Brown, pitcher, and Pete Martin, first base.

On the track team only two events are without experienced men to carry Cass City's colors. The broad jump and shot-put are wide open for aspiring athletes.

The Hawks have Upper Thumb champions back for four different events this season. They are: Tom Schwaderer, 100-yard dash and 180-yard low hurdles; Eugene Kloc, 220-yard dash and Lee Hartel, high jump.

Beside the champions, here is the way Cass City will probably line up this year.

One-hundred yard dash, Eugene Kloc; 220-yard dash, Hartel; 180-yard low hurdle, Charles Watson; 120-yard high hurdle, Hartel and Watson; 440-yard run, Alex Salas and Arleon Kelly; 880-yard run, Tom Townsend and Roger Little; mile run, Alfred Murry and Arthur Warner; high jump, Schwaderer; pole vault, Bob Wallace.

The relay team is expected to be Schwaderer, Salas, Kloc and Hartel.

Iseler Farm Fire Sixth Blaze Reported In Cass City Area This Month

When the Elkland Township Fire Department answered the alarm that sent them to Fred Iseler's turkey farm, one mile east and one-half mile north of Cass City, it marked the sixth time in 16 days that fire broke out in the Cass City area.

The most recent blaze proved to be minor due to the alertness of Mrs. Iseler in discovering the fire and the promptness of the fire department in answering the alarm.

Very little damage was recorded. The fire was smothered and water mopped up before it seeped through to ruin the walls.

The Iseler fire was small in comparison to some of the other blazes that broke out this month.

Three of the worst were the Harry Hartwick fire that ruined his trailer home, the holocaust that burned the Parker home to the ground recently and the Jordan

Annual Cantata Highlights Programs For Earliest Easter in Eleven Years

Snowy Spring for Cass City Area

Spring is here—according to the calendar the new season was ushered in Wednesday, but the weatherman mixed his dates and snow covered the Cass City area when spring officially arrived at 5:26 a. m. EST.

Snow began falling at 10:30 a. m. and in two hours blanketed the area.

Even the storm came in reverse Tuesday—instead of sweeping down from Canada, the spring snow came from the south, over Lake Superior and into the north country.

There's no relief in sight yet—the forecast is for continued cold.

Cass City churches will climax a week of special services with special Easter messages in all churches Sunday.

Old man weather hasn't been cooperating with the fashion-conscious this season as he sent a heavy snow storm to the Cass City area to give a winter aspect to the earliest Easter since 1940.

Church calendars reveal that Easter won't come this early during the 20th century again.

But despite the weather, the Easter Parade is expected to be as great as it has been in more balmy Easterns of the past.

Churches expect capacity crowds to services and many are planning special events to celebrate the joyous day.

One outstanding program of the Easter season will be the annual Cantata tonight at the Cass City High School auditorium.

Eighty voices are expected to present the "Crucifixion," by John Stainer, and nine soloists will perform in the admission free program.

In order of their appearance they are George Dillman, Wayne Leikert, Arthur Holmberg, Roy Severance, Fritz Neitzel, Alex Lindsay, Don Borg, Al Hanna and Russell Pike.

The Lamotte United Missionary Church, eight miles north of Marlette will present an Easter evening program of group singing and special songs by the chorus choir—including duets and trios.

The Presbyterian Church has announced a special sermon and Easter Anthem by the choir.

Bulletin

Mrs. George Kolb, for many years a resident of Elkland Township, died Wednesday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ted Bruggeman, in Philadelphia, Pa., and was brought to Cass City Saturday.

Funeral services will be held in the Douglas Funeral Home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Holmberg Defines "Acid" Christian Test

Arthur Holmberg, Cass City High School principal, gave the initial sermon for the Cass City Council of Churches Holy Week program Monday evening.

Holmberg defined "A Christian," in his sermon and, according to Rev. M. R. Yender, chairman of the program, gave a powerful and inspiring message that carried more weight because it came from a layman and not a practicing minister.

Holmberg told worshippers that the acid test of the Christian is the degree to which he reveals to the world, in his daily living, the spirit that was Christ's.

He pointed out that the spirit of Christ included devotion to truth, spirit of sacrifice and brotherhood. Holmberg asserted that only when the spirit of Christ dwells in the hearts of men will today's chaos be remedied.

Wood's Drug Store

From Scripture
At a public function one of the diners, a minister, found himself ill at ease with the fish course. He sampled it dubiously.
"Dear me," he said, "whatever is this?"
After a glance at the fish, his neighbor said succinctly, "Piece of cod that passeth all understanding."

A Repeater
Sophomore—"Dad, do you know that you're a lucky man?"
Father—"How is that?"
Sophomore—"You won't have to buy new books for me next semester. I am taking last year's work over again."

MAJOR OPERATION

An American tourist went into a dimly lit bar in South Africa. When his eyes adjusted to the darkness, he saw on a stool beside him a perfectly formed human being in military uniform—only six inches high. Incredulous, the tourist stared until the bartender spoke up in broad cockney accents. "Don't you know the Myjor, sir?" he asked, reaching across the bar, picking the little fellow up and placing him on the bar. The tourist shook his head.

"Speak up, Myjor," the bartender said. "Tell the Yank about the time you called the witch doctor a bloody damned fool."

"A" FOR EFFORT
A teacher was slightly in doubt as to what mark to give the boy on his answer in an examination to the question "What is a will?"
The boy's answer: "A will is a written document in which a person tells how he wants his property divided among his heirs."

Lie Down!

Clancy fell off a six story-high scaffolding and lay unconscious on the ground as a hastily summoned ambulance clanged to the spot. A crispy efficient intern made a cursory examination and pronounced authoritatively, "This man is dead." Just then Clancy regained consciousness and indignantly protested, "You're a liar. Of am not dead." A friend kicked him in the pants and murmured, "Be quiet, ye fool; sure and the doctor knows best."

IMPROVEMENT TEMPORARY

A druggist met an old customer on the street and asked, "Well, Tom, did that mudpack I suggested improve your wife's appearance?" "It did for a couple of days," replied Tom mournfully, "but it wore off."

Cool Cal

One day, when Calvin Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts, he invited the state road commissioner to the executive mansion for dinner. When he advised his wife, Grace, that there would be a guest for the evening meal, Mrs. Coolidge decided that this was the time to bake her first apple pie.

Mrs. Coolidge's cooking experience was limited, but she followed the recipe carefully, and was rewarded by a pie as luscious looking as she had ever seen. At dinner, when the pie was placed on the table, it was greeted with murmurs of approval, and all eyes lighted up with anticipation. Eagerly, the diners dug into it.

At the first bite, however, their expressions changed to one of disappointment. The crust was as hard as a rock. Like the others, Mr. Coolidge dutifully finished his portion. Then, turning to the guest, he commented: "Now, this is what we should use on our roads!"

DEFORD NEWS

March WSCS—

Ten ladies and five children gathered in the annex Wednesday about 11 a. m. for their regular monthly meeting. After the business session they all enjoyed a fine potluck dinner. The lesson was given after dinner, also a quilt top was begun.

During the business meeting the vice chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Churchill, led in singing some songs of praise, calling on Mrs. Earl Rayl, Sr., for prayer. Several items of old business were taken care of. One, that the annex floor will be covered with asphalt tiling as soon as weather permits. Another, that we finish a "crazy patch work top" quilt for home missions. For new business many items were mentioned and "moved on," such as two bake sales, a dinner in the annex each month to which all are invited, free will offering, and in May a Mother and Daughter banquet will be served. After the dinner the quilt top was started and we listened to the funeral service of Rev. Vorhees of Lapeer. Then Mrs. Blanche Kelley, aided by Mrs. Norman McQueen and Mrs. Kenneth Churchill, brought a wonderful devotion and lesson on "How We Can Help Others to Know the Christian Way of Living." All are invited to fellowship with us on Tuesday, April 10, when dinner will be served at noon. A committee will be appointed to get the annex in readiness. The announcement of Family Fellowship Night will be made later.

There were not so many out to midweek service due to much illness. Horace Murry was the very able leader as Rev. Harris was also ill. You miss much when you miss these cooperative discussions on the Word in these Wednesday night services. Won't you come and fellowship with us?

The Family Fellowship will be March 30 with Warren and Ruth Kelley and family. Potluck lunch, program of devotions and recreation to which all are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fischer attended the wedding reception of Marilyn Behr and Harold Deering at Cass City Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Zinnecker and family spent Sunday in Flint at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adrian. Mr. and Mrs. John Pringle accompanied them as far as Otisville and spent the day with Mr. Pringle's sister, Mrs. Dana Bonestill, at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Field and sons of Drayton Plains were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Field, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kelley of and Saginaw, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bills and Sherry Lynn of Caro, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kelley.

Mrs. Don Clark is a patient at the Cass City Hospital where she underwent an operation Saturday. Arleon Retherford had the misfortune last week to hurt two fingers very badly. Arleon is working in Caro at the Kline Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gabe of Maple Valley were Thursday and Friday visitors at the Floyd Gage home.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Phillips, and Darline, Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Holmes, Raymond Phillips and Miss Elaine Lajoie spent Sunday afternoon and evening in Flint with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Phillips.

Mrs. Maud Murry is a patient at the Pleasant Home Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shilson, Jill Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayl, Rayl, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rayl, Rena Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rayl and Renea, Walter Rayl, Della Hirsch, Joe Velz and Pedro Malave gathered at the Rayl home Saturday night to help Mrs. Shilson and Mrs. Rayl celebrate their birthdays. The Rayl family were dinner guests of their son, Arnold, and family on Saturday and of their brother, Lou Childs, and family on Friday, for the same reason.

On Friday evening of last week friends and neighbors gathered at the church-house for a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cox who have moved to their farm home west and south of Kingston. The program consisted of group singing and choruses, readings by Mrs. George Roblin, Mrs. Horace Murry and Gale Lester, a piano solo by Vernon Churchill and vocal numbers by Marjory Kelley and Rev. Harris. A potluck lunch of sandwiches, pickles, cake, jello, ice cream and coffee was enjoyed by all. A purse was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Cox with best wishes for their future. They will be very much missed in the Sunday School and neighborhood.

There was a fine number of people of all ages baptised and a number who joined the church Sunday morning. It is expected there will be another like service on Easter morning. There is a welcome awaiting you on Easter morning and at all the church services.

Only two families from Deford were in attendance Sunday evening at the beginning of Passion Week services in the Kingston church. Rev. H. C. Watkins of Cass City was the guest speaker. Rev. Joseph Dibley is scheduled to speak Friday night.

Watch for the announcement of the colored singers, sponsored by the Port Huron Rescue Mission, who are expected to appear in Kingston April 8 in the Methodist Church.

GREENLEAF

The Fraser Presbyterian Men's Council had a committee meeting Monday evening at the home of Rayford Thorpe and decided to sponsor a benefit skating party next Monday evening at the Cass City Arena. The church choir also had a rehearsal in preparation for singing Thursday evening at the special union services held in the Presbyterian Church in Ubyl this week.

James Dew has been quite ill with a bad cold for the past week. Mr. and Mrs. James Mudge made a business trip to Gagetown on Saturday.

Mrs. Rodney Karr accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Loren Trathen, on a shopping trip to Saginaw on Monday.

Mrs. Robert Hoadley attended a teachers' meeting in Sandusky Friday of last week.

Gave Shakespeare Pointers

Many scholars believe that a letter by William Strachey describing a great storm in 1609 came into Shakespeare's possession and provided material for the first act of "The Tempest," one of his more famous plays. Strachey was the first secretary of America's oldest colony at Jamestown. According to tradition in the Strachey family, William Strachey gave Shakespeare additional details of the storm by word of mouth after returning to England in 1611.

Not So Forgetful

Fanny Brice has always been somewhat absent-minded, except about certain matters. Jesse Block, an old-time vaudeville acquaintance, recently visited her in Hollywood and mentioned having been on the same bill with her at the Oriental Theater in Chicago.

"I never played the Oriental," said Miss Brice.

"You did," said Block, "and after the show we went to the College Inn."

"I never went to the College Inn with you."

"Don't you remember?" said Block. "I pointed out Al Capone to you."

"Who's Al Capone?" asked Fanny.

"Fanny," said Block, "that was the week at the Oriental you got $7500."

"I did not," said Miss Brice. "I got $8000."

Stamp Collecting Is Nation's Most Popular Hobby

NEW YORK—Stamp collecting tops America's 10 most popular hobbies it was determined recently after a survey of more than 22,000 hobby clubs throughout the United States.

The other top 10, in order of their popularity, are: American glassware, woodworking, model-making, dolls, autographs, coins, painting, needlework and miniatures.

This represents a complete change in America's hobby habits since 1941, when the last nationwide comprehensive study showed that the 10 most popular hobbies were stamps, dolls, coins, books, cooking, buttons, Indian arrow-heads and artifacts, amateur naturalists (collecting butterflies, insects, etc.), trains and postcards.

Collecting Glass Popular

The big surprise is America's number two hobby, the collecting of American glassware, which ran 15th or 16th in previous years. However, the last three years have seen the formation of close to 800 clubs dedicated to the collecting of hand-made American glassware. Approximately 250,000 men and women are engaged in this hobby. This is the oldest American art, dating back to 1600.

Woodworking, the nation's number three hobby, never rated before in the first 25. This new popularity is attributed partly to the emphasis educational organizations have placed on this craft, and to American pride and ingenuity in creating a useful article that can be used around the home.

Seven hobbies never before in the first ten have crashed the elite circle. They are the collecting of handmade glassware, autographs and miniatures; and among the creative hobbies they are woodworking, model-making, painting and needlework.

Foundation Makes Survey

The survey was made by the American Hobby Federation, an educational organization founded in 1936 to encourage men, women and children to engage in hobby activities through programs in public schools, colleges, women's and men's clubs, church organizations, etc.

The federation sponsors annually the admission-free American Hobby Show in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and elsewhere, and helps hobby clubs throughout the country in putting on their exhibits. It also serves as a clearing-house for hobby information on all creative and collective hobbies.

Another phase of the study revealed that throughout the country there are about 19,000,000 hobbyists. Ten million are women; 7,000,000 men and 2,000,000 are children.

Lion That Kisses Mistress Seares Neighbors; They Sue

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Major Sheridan, a 130-pound African lion, was named a defendant in a court complaint recently. The neighborhood said he was a "nuisance."

The complaint charged that Dr. J. E. Frank kept the lion in his residence but "without proper security measures."

A boy recently stuck his foot under the Frank residence gate and the lion seized it, lifted the gate from its hinges and pushed it over on the boy.

The Major is a favorite of many young patients of children's hospitals where Dr. Frank often takes him on visits.

The Franks got him last summer. Then but a five-week-old cub, suffering from pneumonia, he was nursed to health and became a household pet. His favorite trick is to kiss Mrs. Frank.

Graduated as a regular Turkish air force pilot, Sabiha in 1935 flew combat against rebellious Kurds in eastern Turkey. She was adopted by Ataturk at the age of 12 and attended the American girls' college in Istanbul.

Treasury to Use Counting Machines to Save $250,000

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The treasury department announced recently it will substitute 25 electronic machines for 80 persons now counting money by hand. The machines will save taxpayers an estimated $250,000 a year.

Unit currency is cut in two before it is returned to the treasury by federal reserve banks and branches. Packages of 100 halves will be fed automatically into the machines, each of which will count more than 500 pieces a minute.

The machines were developed by the national bureau of standards and the treasury department.

Victims of Bees
A report issued by veterinarians calls attention to the fact that swarms of bees occasionally attack large farm animals and poultry. A possible explanation for the attacks is that bees dislike the odor of certain animals, especially goats and horses. A warm period with excessive rain and high humidity may make the odor so strong that bees will strike in force. Sometimes the victims are injured so severely they die, unless treated promptly with injections of anti-histamine drugs.

Pig Litters
Small litters can sometimes be traced to improper feeding of the pregnant sow.

Michigan is getting closer to a fair employment practices law. Although Democratic efforts failed in the last regular session, Rep. Louis Cramton (R-Lapeer) now has submitted an F. E. P. C. bill which apparently transcends partisan politics.

The state-national civil defense program has not bogged down but there is dissension between Lansing and Washington. Millard Caldwell, federal CD administrator, urges the state legislature to create a "basic civil defense strike fund."

Big Gen. Lester J. Matland, head of the state's program, says federal efforts are "waiting in the wings." Caldwell hopes to get $250,000,000 in federal funds to match state appropriations.

ing houses in a tizzy. Officials have been meeting to decide what to do about their bungling cold rooms. They could drop prices.

Michigan's automobile industry is making no predictions. Word around Detroit is "we should be able to do very well until June or July. Nobody knows after that."

Politics already! Will Fred M. Alger, Jr., run for governor in 1952. He hints as much. He probably would have opposed Williams in the last election but he waited too long to get into the primary waiting for higher G. O. P. work.

And concerning the presidency? Only one thing seems to be certain. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is popular. He is the man to beat.

A blind woman was the most prolific and popular hymn writer of Sunday School hymns that America has ever produced. Fanny Crosby was born in 1820 and tragically lost her sight when only six weeks old. At 15 she entered the institution for the blind in New York City. There she remained 7 years as a pupil and 11 as a teacher. In all she wrote the extraordinary number of 6000 hymns.

inmates at the Boys Vocational School in Lansing, city officials waxed wrathful. Says one Lansing commandant: "The legislature should take action to confine the youngsters at the institution or get the damned thing out of here."

The "little Hoover commission" still is kicking up dust in Michigan. Latest recommendations ask creation of a stronger and more centralized state treasury department. This department would absorb the present revenue department, state board of exchequer, gas-oilme tax division of the secretary of state's office, municipal finance commission and part of the auditor general's office.

But state officials aren't too alarmed. Says one worker: "It sounds good in theory—but could they set up the new department and would it work?"

Another bugaboo of the legislature has breached its last for another year or two. The possibility of a four year term for Michigan governors has been swamped by a bi-partisan vote in the house of representatives. Long sought by governors—and others—the question will rise again, he assured.

Predict Good Prices For Field Crops

With spring planting time looming up, now's the time to shape up those final field crops plans.

If you're still pondering over expected demands and prices, here are some up-to-the minute pointers on the farm crops outlook that may help.

C. E. Prentice, Michigan State College agricultural economist, says that with good management, maximum production of all crops except potatoes will be the goal this season. Prices will bump the party ceiling for all storable commodities grown in Michigan. The seasonal price decrease at harvest time is expected to be less than normal.

Even with large carryovers of feed grains, grain prices will rise as corn advances to the parity level. Increased livestock numbers and higher livestock prices are adding to the demand for grain and concentrates. Prentice points out:

man even though the 1950 crop was the largest in history.

Large government holdings of dry edible beans have tended to hold prices down. But excessive stocks of Michigan beans of marketable quality are expected to disappear by 1951 crop harvest time. The crop support price will be 75 percent of parity, but a price nearer 90 percent of parity is expected in Michigan.

No support for potatoes is indicated, and acreage should be reduced. A 15 percent cut has been requested in the U. S. 13 percent for Michigan. Higher prices can be expected for the 1951 crop if these recommendations are followed.

Shrubs Need Mulch 'Til Warm Weather

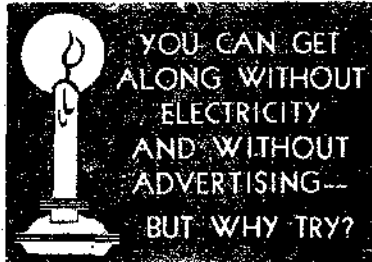

You'd better not get your shrubs and other landscape plants "out of bed" too soon this spring, cautions Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State College.

Spring may be just around the corner but there is still a chance for a lot of freezing and thawing. Heaving of roots in the soil will prove detrimental if no mulches are used or are removed too soon.

Let mulches such as leaves, straw, or peat moss remain until you are sure the spring weather is here to stay, he advises. Then work this material into the soil about your plants instead of raking and burning. Your soil will improve in humus content, water holding capacity, and plant food elements.

Your landscape plants will not only thrive with these methods but you will be simplifying summer cultivation and weed control.

West Point Cadet Tells Army's Viewpoint on Korean War Fighting

Editors note: Because of the interest in this topic the Chronicle is printing this letter from Cadet Don C. Anker, of the United States Military Academy in its entirety. We believe that it shows the army's slant on the present Korean war.

While reading the Cass City paper recently, I ran across several articles that referred to a very familiar question—why are we fighting in Korea?

To me, there is no one better qualified to help answer that question than Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Commanding General Eighth Army.

Lt. Gen. Ridgway made the following statement on the Department of Defense radio program, "Time For Defense" on 25 January 1951. Quote: "In my brief period of command duty here, I have heard from several sources, chiefly from members of combat units, the question, 'Why are we here?' 'What are we fighting for?'"

"What follows represents my answer to those questions. The answer to the first question, 'Why are we here,' is simple and conclusive. We are here because of the decisions of the properly constituted authorities of our respective governments. As Commander-in-Chief, United Nations Command, General of the Army, MacArthur said publicly yesterday: 'This command intends to maintain a military position in Korea just as long as the statesmen of the United Nations decide we should do so.' The answer is—simple because further comment is unnecessary. It is conclusive because the loyalty we give, and expect, precludes any slightest questioning of those orders.

The second question is of much greater significance, and every member of this command is entitled to a full and reasoned answer. Mine follows:

To me the issues are clean. It is not a question of this or that Korean town or village. Real estate is, here, incidental. It is not restricted to the issue of freedom for our South Korean allies, whose fidelity and valor under the severest stresses of battle we recognize, though that freedom is a symbol of the wider issues, and included among them.

The real issues are whether or not the power of western civilization, as God has permitted it to flower in our own beloved lands, shall defy and defeat communism; whether the rule of men to shoot their prisoners, enslave those to whom the individual and his individual right are sacred; whether we are to survive with God's hand to guide and lead us, or to perish in the dead existence of a Godless world.

If these be true, and to me they are, beyond any possibility of challenge, then this has long since ceased to be a fight for freedom for our Korean allies alone, and for their national survival. It has become, and it continues to be, a fight for our own freedom, for our own survival, in an honorable, independent national existence.

The sacrifices we have made, and those we shall yet support, are not offered vicariously for others, but in our own direct defense, wherein certain principles mean more than life.

In the final analysis, the issue now joined right here in Korea is whether communism or individual freedom shall prevail, and make no mistake, whether the next flight of fear-driven people we have just witnessed across the Han River, and continue to witness in other areas, shall be crushed and defeated overseas or permitted, step by step, to close in on our own home lands and at some future time, however distant, to engulf our own loved ones in all its misery and despair.

These are the things for which we fight. Never have members of any military command had a greater challenge than we, or a finer opportunity to show ourselves and our people at their best, and thus be an honor to the profession of arms, and a credit to those who bred us."

I do not know how many people in Cass City may have heard this speech, but it is significant, in that it represents the opinion of our Eighth Army Commander. I also feel that it will represent the opinion of many people in the Cass City vicinity.

Sincerely,
Cadet Don C. Anker

Agricultural Agent Urges Farmers to Buy Seed Oats Now

With oat planting time just around the corner, now is a good time to buy your seed oats if you need them, Byron E. Carpenter, Assistant County Agricultural Agent, advised this week.

Some of the common varieties for Michigan are Eaton, Clinton and Kent. From Kenneth Frey of the Michigan State College farm crops department, the agent has received a brief summary of the various oats.

Eaton has a white grain and stiff straw. It is adapted to the whole of the lower peninsula and is invariably among the better yielding varieties. Date of maturity is medium. It has medium to light test weight and certified seed is available.

Clinton has yellow grain and stiff straw. Adaptability is the same as Eaton but it is most popular in the southern part of the lower peninsula. Farmers growing this variety should use an improved Clinton strain such as Clinton 59 or Clinton Reselect because they are more uniform in growing habit than the original Clinton. It has a medium test weight and has given very good yields in recent tests. Medium in maturity.

Kent has white grain and heavy test weight. It is midseason in maturity and is adapted to soils of medium to low fertility. Kent variety is quite susceptible to Septoria or "black stem." Septoria disease reduced the yield of Kent in 1950. Certified seed is available.

Agent Carpenter says both

Eaton and Kent have proven good yielders in Tuscola County.

A list of sources for certified seed is available from the agent's office, located in the courthouse at Caro or from the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

FORD WINS AGAIN!

V-8 TAKES FIRST PLACE IN CLASS "A" 1951 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN

Both Ford V-8 and SIX Deliver more than 25.9 miles per gallon

Gruelling 840-mile test proves Ford Economy

Again this year... it's high honors for Ford! In the most important economy trial for American stock model cars... the famous annual Mobilgas Economy Run... A Ford 100-h.p. V-8 equipped with Overdrive took first place competing against all cars in its price class, making 54,587 ton-miles per gallon* and 25.994 miles per gallon. And its companion in quality, the new Ford SIX with Overdrive, was right up there with the winner. In fact, both cars averaged better than 25.9 miles per gallon.

Traditional Ford economy, for the second straight year, has been proved in open competition. Proved on the tough 840-mile grind from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon... a course that included city traffic, below-sea-level desert heat and 7,000-foot mountain passes. Ford's Automatic Mileage Maker, standard equipment on all Ford V-8's and SIXES, contributed to this great achievement by squeezing the last mile out of every drop of gasoline.

Why not "Test Drive" the new Ford at your neighborhood Ford Dealer's? There's no better way to be convinced that "You can pay more but you can't buy better!"

*The AAA Contest Board determines the winner by a "ton-mile per gallon" formula to insure equal chance for all cars in each class regardless of size and weight. Ton-miles per gallon equals the car weight (including passenger), in tons, multiplied by number of miles travelled, divided by number of gallons of gasoline consumed.

Artificial Breeders Club of Cass City Sign New Members

Tuscola County's five artificial breeding associations reported a total of five new members in February, says Byron E. Carpenter, assistant county agricultural agent. Secretaries of each of the associations operating in Tuscola County reported to the extension agent, giving the number of new members enrolled and the number of services given.

The Vassar association ranked highest in new members gained last month, with the following five dairy cattle owners subscribing for artificial service: Beatrice Getty, Vassar; Ed Bernthal, Reese; Ted Barabel, Mayville; Emma Caulfield, Fairgrove; and Richard Rodammer and Sons, Frankennuth. Lewis Tinglan, secretary-treasurer of the Vassar association, reported that inseminator-manager, Telford Proffer, delivered a total of 134 services in February, of which 58 were first services.

The Cass City artificial breeders showed a gain of four members in February, listed by Secretary-Treasurer E. G. Golding as follows: Bernard Partlo and George Mercer and Son, Cass City; Matt Warju, Caro; and Fred Palmer, Gagetown. One hundred sixty-seven services in all were reported by inseminator Richard Ross, with 91 of this number being first services.

Carl Armbruster, Sebawaing, secretary-treasurer of the Huron-Tuscola artificial breeders organization, reports Charles Holzworth, John Tyler, and Glen Hagitt, all of Unionville, as new members last month. A total of 85 services were given in the dual-county association, 48 of these being first services, according to inseminator Franklin Stoll.

Bryce McGinnis and Bernard Jakubik, secretary-treasurer and inseminator of the Millington association, reports that Robert E. Allen, Millington, was the only new member signed up last month. Jakubik delivered 124 services, of which 57 were firsts.

Foster Plane, Kingston, and George Hergenreder, Caro, were listed as the new members gained by the Kingston artificial breeders group last month by Secretary-treasurer Carlyle Everett. The 147 local associations will be secretary said that inseminators Richard Ross and Chas. Seddon provided 149 services, which included 83 firsts.

Local associations are making plans to send delegates to the annual meeting of the state ABA annual meeting which will be held at East Lansing, March 29. Each of the 147 local associations will be represented at this important meeting by one or more delegates.

Observing Rules Is 'Must' When Home Cooks Make Dishes of Cheese, Eggs

IF YOU'RE BUSY juggling menus for Lent or simply trying to add variety to your meals, then there's concrete help in today's column of recipes. Cheese, eggs and fish are favorite foods right now, and it's a wise idea to know how to bring out the best in each food.

All these foods, cheese, eggs and fish are economical, which may be an incentive for you to give them more than a passing thought. However, they're also foods which are highly nourishing. All three contain high quality protein which you need for building and repairing tissue.

Aside from other vitamins, cheese furnishes calcium and riboflavin. Eggs supply vitamin A and riboflavin as well as iron. For these reasons, both foods should be included in the daily diet.

THERE ARE MANY schools of thought on how omelets should be made, but the main thing is to have them light.

A light touch is necessary in putting together an omelet and it should be cooked until just done, then served at once. The omelet

A flavor triumph is this new way with omelet which uses broccoli in the fold and is served with a delightful cheese sauce. There's nourishment aplenty in this cheese, egg and vegetable combination as well as variety for your menu plans.

recipe given here uses one of the season's most delicious green vegetables and is made even more appealing with cheese sauce. Serve it with a vegetable juice cocktail, hot rolls and relishes and a simple fruit dessert, and you have a meal you'll be proud to serve anyone.

Broccoli Omelet (Serves 6)

- 6 eggs
- 6 tablespoons milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 cup hot, chopped steamed broccoli
- 1/2 pound American cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup milk
- Whole heads of cooked broccoli.

Beat the egg yolks until light. Add the milk and salt, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a skillet in which butter has been melted. Cook slowly until puffed and lightly browned on the under side. Place in a slow (300°) oven for a few minutes to dry the top. Spread half of the omelet with hot, chopped broccoli, fold the other half over it and turn onto a platter.

Melt cheese in top of double boiler. Add the milk, stirring constantly until sauce is smooth. Garnish the omelet with whole heads of hot, cooked broccoli and serve with hot cheese sauce.

YOU'LL FIND THESE supper rolls quick to fix, and an excellent, nourishing way to solve a meal problem:

Lenten Supper Rolls (Serves 4-8)

- 1 pound grated American cheese
- Small bottle of stuffed olives
- 1/2 cup butter or substitute
- 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup minced onion
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
- 8 hard rolls

Mix cheese, sliced olives, butter, green pepper and onion. Blend in canned tomato sauce. Cut off ends of rolls and hollow them out. Butter insides of crust and stuff with cheese filling. Replace ends of rolls and wrap each roll in waxed paper, twisting ends to hold paper tight.

LYNN SAYS: Here are Facts About Yeast Breads

It's important to use all-purpose flour in making bread and rolls with yeast because this contains gluten. Cake flours are short on gluten and do not make good bread with yeast. When the temperature goes higher than 80°, the heat may easily kill the action of the yeast.

Mix finely chopped, hard-cooked eggs with cream cheese and spread on toast. Broil until slightly bubbly and serve with bacon strips.

Here's another quickie for a meatless luncheon or supper dish:

Lenten Rolls (Serves 3-4)

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 cup canned tomato sauce
- Salt and pepper
- 1/2 cup grated American cheese
- 1 cup flaked tuna fish
- 1/2 teaspoon tabasco sauce

Melt butter, remove from range stir in flour to make a paste. Add canned tomato sauce gradually, stirring until smooth. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and blend. Spread on slices of bread and place under broiler until golden brown and bubbly. Garnish with a sprig of watercress.

CHEESE AND POTATOES are two foods that combine naturally to make a pleasing flavorful dish. This soufflé may be baked in individual dishes or in one large casserole. For a meatless meal, serve it with asparagus tips in drawn butter sauce, minced carrots and creamed onions. It may also be served very nicely with a roast leg of lamb in place of au gratin potatoes.

Potato and Cheese Soufflé (Serves 6)

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 cup grated or shredded cheese
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 2 cups diced potatoes
- 2 egg yolks
- 3 egg whites

Melt butter, add flour and blend. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add cheese and seasonings and cook over very low heat until cheese is melted. Add potatoes and well beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Turn into a large or into individual casseroles which have been buttered and bake in a moderately (325°) slow oven for 40 to 60 minutes.

Light-as-a-feather cheese and potato soufflé is an ideal way to serve the family more milk, for cheese is a concentrated form of milk. It's delicious as a luncheon dish or a supper dish with a meatless meal.

seroles which have been buttered and bake in a moderately (325°) slow oven for 40 to 60 minutes.

BAKED BEANS, prepared as they are in the following recipe, are tasty and filling, guaranteed to take the edge off sharp appetites.

*Lenten Baked Beans (Serves 4-8)

- 1/2 cup minced onion
- 1 1/2 cups minced green pepper
- 4 tablespoons fat or salad oil
- 4 cups cooked or canned baked beans
- 1/2 cup chili sauce
- 1/2 cup grated American cheese
- 1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs

Saute onion and green pepper in fat until tender. Add beans and arrange in a greased casserole, alternating layers of the beans with cheese. Top with crumbs. Bake in a hot (400°) oven for 30 minutes.

When you ready the dough for rising, grease the top of it lightly with butter, fat or salad oil, and cover with a clean towel.

Light greasing helps prevent a crust from forming on the dough. The towel prevents dust from coming in contact with the bread.

Bread and rolls should be removed from their pans immediately after baking so they will not steam and become soggy. If you like a soft crust on rolls, brush them with melted butter as soon as you finish baking.

Cleaning Hints Given at Club Meet

Easter emblems decorated the tables in the homemaking room of the high school building when the Cass City Extension Group met for their regular meeting Monday evening, March 19. A chop suey dinner was served at six o'clock by a committee composed of Mrs. Albert Gallagher, Miss Laura Maier, Mrs. C. L. Graham, Mrs. Mason Wilson and Mrs. Albert Whitfield.

Following the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Herb Ludlow, president, Mrs. R. O. Avery presented the lesson on "Cleaning Walls, Floors and Other Surfaces." She presented many helpful suggestions relative to this phase of housekeeping and showed various implements and devices used for cleaning purposes.

"Cosmetics" will be the subject of study for the next meeting to be held in April.

Old Movie Player Says Tom Mix Was Best Cowboy Star

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Bob Kortman, a veteran of 40 years in westerns, says Tom Mix was the greatest cowboy of them all. Kortman, who has tossed a lasso with just about every big time western star in 750 western movies over four decades, will tell you that some of the other sagebrush heroes had to be taught how to get on a horse.

"Mix was the biggest showman ever to hit Hollywood," he said. "He lived his part 24 hours a day. He drove a long convertible with his name all over it and steered horns on the radiator cap. He wore loud clothes and carried about 30 cowboys on his pay roll all the time."

"There was a saying then that Mix's hat could never blow off and hit the ground. Some yes man would catch it first."

Hoot Gibson and Art Acord are rated next to Mix by Kortman. Rounding out his top five are Buck Jones and Hopalong (Bill Boyd) Cassidy.

"I think Buck Jones was the best natural cowhand of 'em all," he said, "but Mix was a greater showman by far."

As for the famous Bill Hart, he couldn't even climb aboard a horse until Kortman and the others showed him how.

"But he had a flair, I guess. He and Tom Mix made millions."

Today's range riding favorites are sissified cowhands, Kortman insists. "All they have to do is yodel or croon or strum a guitar," he said. "I never did see a real cowhand strum a guitar, and if they sang they did it in a bar over a shot of hooch."

A cowboy today, naturally, drinks nothing stronger than sarsaparilla.

Brassiere Industry Faces Crisis Over Copper Order

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The government's recent copper order, banning the use of copper in snaps and hooks and eyes, has raised a vital question in the brassiere industry.

"We can substitute something else for garter fasteners," an industry spokesman complained. "but what are we going to do about fasteners for brassieres and corsets?"

He explained that manufacturers had been trying to make arrangements for steel as a substitute, but hadn't been able to line up sources of supply. The problem could become critical.

128-Year-Old Ranch Hand Recalls Civil War Battle

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—"Pancho" Comacho has a simple desire. He wants to live a few more years. He is 128 years old.

"Senor, my name is Francisco Comacho, and I am 128 years old," he told a census taker who visited him on the Comacho ranch near the mouth of the Rio Grande river.

Pancho told of crossing the Rio Grande with an older brother. They were orphans and Pancho was only seven at the time.

The brother went to work on Valentin Gavito's ranch and Pancho was allowed to do chores about the house. He grew up there and married.

After his wife and their first born died at the birth of the child, Pancho went to live with a sister who died about 10 years ago, at the age of 125.

He rode his own pony until a few years ago when he fell and broke his hip. He still has a good appetite and likes to display his full set of natural teeth.

Most of all he likes to talk about the things he has seen and experienced, including the Civil War battle fought near his home after the Confederacy had surrendered. He got to view the skirmish between the "Americanos" because poor communications didn't bring word of the surrender in time to stop it. He was 43 at the time.

Man Invents Pinless Diaper, Saves Wear on Wife, Baby

KENOSHA, Wis.—A man has invented the improved baby diaper.

The inventor, Willie C. Burke, got tired of seeing his wife and baby stabbed by diaper pins. So he invented a diaper that fastens itself.

The secret is a series of metal snappers arranged to fit any baby eligible for diapers. Obvious? Yes, but the United States patent office granted Burke a patent because no one had thought of the gimmick before.

The idea has netted Burke well over $3,000 in two years, and his pinless diapers are selling as fast as a Chicago factory can make them—a quarter million a year.

The diaper is Burke's first financially successful invention. But he had another of which he is even more proud. Burke gave that one away.

Appalled at the number of casualties suffered by U.S. invasion forces between the time the men left their ships and reached cover, Burke invented an amphibious vessel that climbs up the beach until it reaches trees thick enough to conceal the invaders. Burke sent his plans to the government which reports complete success with models. The vehicle is now in production.

Complete With Gadgets

By Richard H. Wilkinson

DANA BRIDGES is a printer by trade, but every one says he should be a salesman. He has a very competent and confident manner. His choice of words is vivid, his gestures impressive, his delivery powerful.

Back in 1934 Dana bought a Northland Special Six. As every one knows the Northland is one of the most expensive cars on the market. Dana's income is not large, but he is the type of man who likes the best or nothing.

"In the long run a Northland is the best buy," he told his wife. "It will outlive three smaller and cheaper cars."

Rachael, Dana's wife, knew by experience that Dana usually knew what he was talking about.

So when Dana stated they ought to own a Northland she nodded and smiled and felt confident that everything would be all right. She didn't, however, anticipate owning and driving the same car for 18 years. Not that she minded too much. The Northland, as the world knows, is expensive enough so that the manufacturer don't have to change the design too radically each year. Fundamentally the 1934 Northland had the same lines that the new 1950 Super Special possessed.

Moreover, Dana being a pains-taking type of person, kept the machine in perfect order.

Nevertheless, it was an ancient hack and the neighbors used to grin when the Bridges' drove by, and Rachael felt embarrassed and wished that they could have a new car.

"Why," Dana demanded when she hinted at such an idea. "The old hack's doing all right. No engine trouble. Looks good. Why swap her in?"

After the Bridges' had owned their Northland seven years a salesman tried hard to sell Dana a new car. Dana listened to his talk and then asked what he'd offer for the 1934 model. The salesman named a figure so low that Dana got mad and kicked him off the place. And Rachael decided, with a sigh, that now their chance of buying a new automobile was remote indeed.

She was right. For 18 years the Bridges' kept their Northland Special Six, and after awhile the neighbors stopped laughing and some of them began to think that maybe Dana was pretty smart.

IN THE SPRING of 1950 Dana drove his Northland Special down to the Northland salesroom and told the floorman he wanted to buy a new Super Special Eight, complete with radio, heater, clock and any other gadgets they had.

"Have you a car to trade in?" the salesman asked.

"Sure," said Dana. "It's a pip, too. A 1934 model."

"You mean, of course, a 1944 model," the salesman said politely.

"No," said Dana. "I mean 1934."

The salesman coughed. "I'm afraid we can't allow you very much on a car as old as that."

Dana was a painstaking type of person and kept the machine in perfect order. The paint looked like new.

Dana waved an airy hand. "Take me to the president of this outfit. I can't be bothered with underlings." He glared at the salesman.

So a few minutes later Dana was ushered into the president's office. "Commere," he said to the president, beckoning him to a window. "See that shiny, good looking car out there? It's a Northland 1934 model. It's been driven over 200,000 miles. It runs as good as new. Looks as good as new, doesn't it? Now, look, Mr. President, would it or would it not be a good advertisement for you if you stuck that car in your show window and put a sign on it, saying it was 18 years old and has gone 200,000 miles and doesn't that prove that a Northland can take the gaff?"

The president got his hat and went out and looked at Dana's car. He drove it around the block. "What kind of a trade do you want?" he asked Dana.

"I'll swap you even," said Dana, "for a 1950 Super Special, complete with gadgets."

The president smiled, then sobered, then figured on the back of an envelope, then looked at Dana's car again, then nodded. "It's a deal," he said.

And now poor Rachael is wondering if she will have to wait another 18 years before she gets a new car.

Grocer Produce Meetings End at Local High School

The final meeting in a series of four lecture-demonstrations on produce retailing was attended by 16 grocers from Tuscola, Sanilac and Bay counties at Cass City High School March 14, according to Byron E. Carpenter, Assistant County Agricultural Agent.

The meetings were designed to help grocers in this district do a better job of caring for fruits and vegetables, enabling them to provide their customers with a variety of quality merchandise, and returning a profit to the store operators. Raymond Higgins, MSC specialist in consumer education, was the instructor of this course.

About 50 different grocersmen from "thumb" counties attended one or more of the meetings. The average attendance was 25. Higgins has also been conducting meetings of this kind in Saginaw, Port Huron and other cities about the state.

"Tuscola County grocers have comprised the majority of the attendance for this group of meetings," Carpenter said. Many have reported that the information they obtained at the classes was being applied in their stores with the result that produce is keeping better and customer demand has increased.

Subjects covered in Higgins series of lessons include proper trimming, storage, display and arrangement, buying pointers and merchandising suggestions.

"Was he a tall man?"

"Yes, yes!" shouted his friend.

"Yes, he did!"

Attie Hazards

The attic can be made fire-safe rather quickly. Take a look at those old clothes, broken toys, discarded pieces of furniture, and stacks of magazines you've accumulated up there. Those things make it easy for a fire to get started . . . and they feed it once it's under way. Clear out your attic . . . and you'll have a safer home.
