

Improvements Planned for High School Next Year

The Cass City High School today announced that teachers for 1951-52 have been signed to contracts. As usual, a very small turnover in the number of teachers leaving was reported by Superintendent Willis Campbell.

Only four teachers were slated to leave this year. The school has already signed Dorothy Anderson to teach the second grade. She will replace Marian Croft who resigned.

Due to the additional space made available several new courses are contemplated next year. One which should prove of value to students who plan a secretarial career after graduation is the advanced typing course, not now in the curriculum at Cass City.

Besides the advanced typing course there will be a personal typing course offered next year. The typing room is being transferred to larger quarters on the third floor to accommodate the students.

The school will boast a new nurses quarters and a corrective speech room next year. The space was made available by the new grade school, now under construction.

Their performance includes all the standard tumbling acts, plus a clown and a very clever routine.

The team has performed at Michigan State College, Central State College, Sebawaing and a host of other high schools.

Gavel Club Aims Village Softball Plans

At the regular meeting of the Gavel Club Tuesday night at the Home Restaurant, club members began preparations for the softball season in Cass City.

Although no definite plans were formulated, it seems likely that there will be fewer teams in the league this year—due to the shortage of good playing material.

The club made plans for a "Ladies' Night" at the next meeting of the club, April 17.

New Record Set By Cass City's Music Department

Members of the Cass City High School Music Department who attended the State Instrumental Solo and Ensemble Festival at Ann Arbor Saturday came home with the best record of any group to attend the festival in recent years, according to Music Director Don Borg.

Topping the list were Donna O'Dell and Emma Jane Slicker who both received division one ratings for their cornet duet.

Judging is on a one, two, three, four, five basis. The best performances are given a one rating and others are given numerical ratings according to their ability.

Besides the number one rating awarded to the girls, Dick Hendrick received a division two rating for his saxophone solo.

The final group judged from Cass City was the mixed clarinet quartet, who received a division three award. The quartet was Phyllis Copeland, Annette Pinney, Jeanne Field and Dick Joos.

Scouts to See Tigers Play As Guests of Rotary Club

Cass City Boy Scouts will have an opportunity to see a Tiger baseball game sometime this summer as the guests of the Rotary Club, according to plans now being formulated by club members.

All Scouts will have to earn their way to the game. According to George Clara, Scouts, to be eligible to take the trip, must have shown achievement in Scout work by trip time.

The amount of progress that each boy will be required to make has not been definitely decided—but will be announced in the near future, as soon as a program has been worked out.

Present plans call for the Rotarians to accompany the Scouts on the trip.

No Tax Increase In Cass City Area

If the tax weary citizens of Cass City and Elkland Township thought that the proposed nationwide tax increases had hit this area with a vengeance after reading a pair of stories in the Chronicle last week, they can rest easy for awhile.

Due to an error in reporting, the paper stated that the assessed valuation was the amount of taxes that was to be collected.

In the village, the tax rate is $15 per thousand dollars, which makes the total taxes to be collected, $26,548.50. The township tax rate also remains the same, according to Wm. Profit, township supervisor.

Light Vote Cast As Townships Follow State Trend in Election

Republicans chalked up victories for all contested State offices Monday, sweeping 78 of 83 counties, to re-elect their men to state offices.

Only one new face will be seen on the state front. Leland I. Doan, of Midland was elected a regent of the University of Michigan over former Gov. Murray D. VanWagoner.

Chief Justices will be Republicans Neil E. Reid and Emerson R. Boyes.

Lee M. Thurston won the office of Supt. of Public Instruction by a margin of 80,000 votes over Edgar W. Waugh, of Ypsilanti.

Other winners were University Regent, Roscoe O. Bonisteel, Republican, State Board of Education, Forest H. Akers and Frederick C. Mueller.

The constitutional amendments providing for annual meetings of the legislature and a $500 bonus for survivors of persons killed in service passed. The proposed raise for supreme court justices was turned down.

Elkland Township, and other townships surrounding Cass City, followed the statewide trend in voting Monday as Republicans took state offices in a comparatively light vote.

Locally there was no competition in Elkland, Evergreen, Grant, Elmwood and Greenleaf townships and the slates selected by the various caucuses all took office.

Elkland Township

In Elkland Township, 286 persons voted. They re-elected Wm. Profit, supervisor and C. E. Patterson, clerk, while Mrs. E. Croft will begin her first term as township treasurer.

Other officers elected in Elkland were: Maynard McConkey, J. C. Hutchinson and C. J. Striffler, Justices of the Peace; Ervad Rawson, Member of Board of Review; Clair Profit, Charles Bigelow, Steve Orto and Grant Ball, Constables.

In Elkland Township, voters followed the state trend with one exception. Murray D. VanWagoner, Democrat, received 147 votes to 132 for his Republican opponent, Wheaton Strom in the race for Regent. Elkland Township followed the state trend in the constitutional amendments voting—overturning annual sessions of the Legislature and providing $500 bonus money to men killed in the Korean war. They vetoed a raise in salary for Supreme Court Justices.

Elmwood voters turned down two of the three constitutional amendments. They voted to give survivors of veterans a bonus of $500. The township was split down the middle on the first amendment—50 voted not to have annual sessions of the legislature, while 58 voted yes to the question. A raise in pay for Supreme Court justices was defeated, 55-38.

Evergreen Township

In Evergreen Township Arthur Craig was re-elected to the supervisor's post along with clerk, Harvey Fleming. The treasurer will be Floyd Kennedy and the two Justices of the Peace elected were John D. Jones and Leigh Biddle. Joshua Sharrard will be a member of the Board of Review.

GREENLEAF

The Greenleaf Extension Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Otto Goertsen Friday afternoon.

During the business meeting conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Elmer Fuester, it was decided that the members would all make application for a pen pal in a foreign country. This is one of the ways of carrying out this year's state project, "International Understanding."

The lesson, "Building Sound Attitudes," was very well given by Mrs. Ivan Tracy and Mrs. J. McCormick.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served delicious sandwiches, small cakes and tea on individual trays to her guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Riemstra returned Sunday from Worthington, Minnesota, where they were called by the death of Mr. Riemstra's father. They found a great deal of snow and slippery roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoadley, daughter, Patty, and Mr. and Mrs. James Mudge visited Friday evening at the Howard Hoadley farm near Imlay City.

Mrs. Henry McLellan is reported as being among those ill with the flu.

A reporter boarded the train carrying the Notre Dame team to the Southern Methodist game. Looking for a new slant on a story, he said to the student manager, "I understand that you carry a chaplain to pray for the team."

"That's right."

"Would you mind introducing me to him?"

"Be glad to. Which one do you want, the offensive chaplain or the defensive?"

Safety Precaution

"Would you love your husband if he had only one eye?"

"Why, no—how horrible!"

"Then let me carry that umbrella."

SUITABLE REPLY

"Have you ever appeared as a witness in a suit before?"

"Why, of course!" replied the sweet young thing.

"Will you please tell the jury just what suit it was?"

"It was a blue suit," she replied quickly, "with white collar and cuffs, and buttons all the way down the front."

Cass City Dairymen Attend Artificial Breeders' Meeting

Twenty-two Tuscola County dairymen were among the more than 600 who attended the annual meeting of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative held at Michigan State College last Thursday, March 29.

Ten of the Tuscola farmers attending the meeting were official delegates representing the five local artificial breeding associations now operating in the county. The delegates were Maynard McConkey, Cass City, from the Cass City organization; Emil Englehard, Unionville, of the Huron-Tuscola group; Richard Ross and Louis Wenzloff, Kingston, representing the Kingston association; Harry Benton, Bernard Jakubik and Norman Kurpsel, all of Millington, from the Millington artificial breeders group; and Earl Gohsman and William Holman, Vassar, and Carl Reif, Fairgrove, representing the Vassar local association. In addition to the above delegates, alternates and guests from the Cass City, Huron-Tuscola, and Vassar associations, and assistant agricultural agent, Byron E. Carpenter, attended the meeting.

The meeting included a report by the secretary-treasurer, A. C. Baltzer, who is also a dairy extension specialist at Michigan State College. Dr. Frank Thorpe and Dr. James Williams of the MSC veterinary staff reported on a new research project co-sponsored by the state artificial breeders organization. The project is concerned with the study of bovine sterility.

A new movie, "Better Dairy Herds with Artificial Breeding," showing many of the sires owned by the cooperative, was shown. The main speaker in the afternoon was Dr. H. J. Hill, Colorado A & M College veterinary, who talked about "Why Cows Fail to Settle."

Apt Punning

To please his father, orator Wendell Phillips attended Harvard law school. After receiving his degree, he hung out his shingle, but no clients were attracted. Several months passed and still his office was empty. In disgust, Phillips decided to quit and enter a more lucrative profession.

"Don't be ridiculous," advised a friend. "Stick to it and you'll get ahead. You were bred to the bar."

"Maybe so," sighed Phillips, "but the bar isn't bread for me."

ENOUFF IS ENOUGH

John Clerk, one of the most pugnacious of lawyers, once had a brush with the House of Lords. It seems that he preserved the old-fashioned "enough," whereas his younger brethren said "enuff" (enuff). Retaining this old usage while presenting his argument, he was interrupted by the Lord Chancellor saying, "Mr. Clerk, in England we sound the 'ough' as 'uff'. Enuff not 'enough'."

"Very well, my Lord," continued the very self-possessed advocate, "of this we have had enuff; and I now proceed to the subdivision of the land in dispute. It was apportioned into what in England would be pluffland, a pluffland being as much land as a pluffman can pluff in a day."

The Lord Chancellor could not withstand the apt riposte and burst into laughter, saying, "Proceed, Mr. Clerk, I know enow of Scotch to understand your argument."

The Easy Way

A great marksman was passing through a small town, and everywhere he saw evidences of amazing shooting. On trees, on falls, on fences, and on barns were numberless bulls' eyes with the bullet holes in the exact center. He asked to meet the one responsible for this great marksmanship.

The man turned out to be the town idiot.

"This is the most wonderful marksmanship I have ever seen," he exclaimed. "How in the world do you do it?"

"Easy," replied the simpleton. "I shoot first and draw the circles afterward."

Matter of Choice

"I don't know whether to marry a woman 10 years older than myself, or 10 years younger."

"It all depends on whether you want to be mothered or smothered."

The want ads are newsy, too.

Portuguese Sardines

Sardines, after an absence of two and one-half years, are back again off the Portuguese coast in such numbers that the market is glutted. Canning industry and domestic consumers combined are unable to keep pace with supplies, and the surplus is being offered for fertilizer.

Jinrikisha

If you are looking for an article which symbolizes the Chinese and Japanese way of life, you had better choose chopsticks rather than the jinrikisha. The latter may be considered wholly oriental, but it was invented in 1869 by an American Baptist minister, Jonathan Noble.

Chickens

The best way to prevent tuberculosis in chickens is to sell all laying birds at the end of their first year of production, replacing them with home-raised birds that were purchased as day-old chicks from disease-free hatcheries.

All People That On Earth
All people that on earth do dwell
Sing to the Lord
with cheerful voice;
Him serve with fear,
his praise forth tell,
Come ye before him and rejoice.
For why? The Lord our God is good,
His mercy is forever sure;
His truth at all times firmly stood,
And shall from age to age endure.

Called "Old Hundred" after the 100th Psalm, this quaint old hymn has been in constant use for over 350 centuries. It is the only hymn in present day hymnals which was sung by our forefathers in the Jamestown Colony. William Kiehl, a Scotch minister, wrote it while in exile in Geneva during the stormy period when freedom of thought was struggling for existence.

Poor Land Discussed At Soil Conservation Directors' Meeting

Directors of the Tuscola County Soil Conservation District were hosts at a regional soil conservation district directors' meeting Friday, March 30, at the Caro VFW Hall, which featured a talk by Tennyson Guyer, Findlay, Ohio, philosopher.

Seventy-five people were present, including district directors and their wives, county agricultural agents, and soil conservation service personnel from eight Saginaw Valley counties were present. There were representatives from Saginaw, St. Clair, Lapeer, Genesee, Shiawassee, Midland, Bay, Saginaw and Tuscola Counties.

The meeting began at 10:30 a. m. with a panel discussion "Conservation Education as it Applies to Elementary Schools and 4-H Clubs." The discussion was conducted by Miss Shirley Brehm, Michigan Conservation Department, Educational division, assisted by the following ladies: Mrs. Glen Gray, Vassar, girl scout and 4-H club leader; Mrs. Bertha Achenbach, Akron, elementary teacher and 4-H club leader; Miss Ottilia Frisch, Saginaw County superintendent of schools; Miss Esther Lauer, Saginaw County, helping teacher; and Miss Gladys Griffiths, division of field education, Central Michigan College of Education.

The discussion brought out the social and economic problems of unproductive land pointing out the relationship between soil productivity and inadequate nutrition. The panel concluded that teaching in schools can not be limited to the three R's but practical aspects of living, must be emphasized. One of the major subjects to emphasize, the group decided, is conservation, with respect to both human and natural resources.

After a few announcements, the chairman turned the recreation hour over to the leaders of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rayl. After some games and refreshments the youth sang some selections. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McVety were welcomed into all phases of our church life. May we meet you at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rayl the fourth Friday night of April?

'Rival' Is Blown to Bits With Click of His Heels

ROME, Italy—Rome police recently charged Pier Luigi Tamburiani with concealing dynamite in the heels of his cousin's army boots so that the victim blew himself to bits when he clicked his heels at attention.

The almost fantastic plot was linked to Tamburiani after 18 years of investigation.

In 1933 the victim, Capt. Gualtierotti, approached his commanding officer, a colonel in the cavalry, and came to attention, saluting and clicking his heels. The instant his heels touched, there was an explosion and Gualtierotti was killed.

Police charged that Tamburiani, believing his cousin had seduced his fiancée, bought an expensive pair of boots, hollowed out the heels and tampered them full of explosive. He gave them to Gualtierotti as a birthday gift. The girl committed suicide when she learned of the captain's death.

Driving in Connecticut
Connecticut has taken official cognizance of the menace of the driver who does potentially dangerous things—often because of faulty vision. Learning that 20 per cent of the state's drivers had been causing 80 per cent of the traffic accidents, Connecticut put its motorists on a "report-card" basis. Every traffic violation is entered on the driver's record in a master file. A minor violation may result in only a one-point black mark; drunken driving will bring 10 points. When a driver gets three points, he receives a warning letter; with five points he is summoned for a conference; and six points mean a formal hearing and often loss of his driving license.

'Rival' Is Blown to Bits With Click of His Heels

ROME, Italy—Rome police recently charged Pier Luigi Tamburiani with concealing dynamite in the heels of his cousin's army boots so that the victim blew himself to bits when he clicked his heels at attention.

The almost fantastic plot was linked to Tamburiani after 18 years of investigation.

In 1933 the victim, Capt. Gualtierotti, approached his commanding officer, a colonel in the cavalry, and came to attention, saluting and clicking his heels. The instant his heels touched, there was an explosion and Gualtierotti was killed.

Police charged that Tamburiani, believing his cousin had seduced his fiancée, bought an expensive pair of boots, hollowed out the heels and tampered them full of explosive. He gave them to Gualtierotti as a birthday gift. The girl committed suicide when she learned of the captain's death.

SHORT STORY

Killed Instantly

By Richard H. Wilkinson

THE TELEPHONE on Sheriff Bill Streeter's desk jingled and he picked it up.

"Hello, Bill?" said an excited voice. "This is Guy Halbert. Say, for God's sake, get out to the ranch at once! Homer's been shot!"

"What makes you think so?" Bill asked.

"I just telephoned him. He said he'd been plugged and tried to tell who did it, but his voice trailed off. Then I heard a crash, as though he'd fallen."

"Where are you now?" said Bill. "In Stansboro. I came in this morning to see about a cattle shipment. I was to call him and report this afternoon."

"O. K.," said Bill. "I'll go right out."

Two hours later Sheriff Streeter entered the main building of the Diamond G and found the place in a state of excitement. Jay Leonard, Gorman's foreman, dark-skinned, curly, ill-tempered, met the officer. "Hello, Jay, what happened?"

"I dunno, Minnie, the housekeeper, went in to the office to call the old man to lunch and found him."

"Doc Humphrey here yet?"

"Up. Been here 30 minutes."

"At that moment a door behind the store fireplace opened and gray-haired Doc Humphrey emerged. "Killed instantly," he said. "Can't say how long ago. Maybe two—three hours."

"Thanks," Sheriff Streeter entered the office. Gorman had been laid out on a cot and covered with a blanket.

Streeter returned to the main living room. Doc Humphrey was still there.

"Who do you reckon would want Homer killed, Doc?"

Humphrey scratched his chin. "Plenty. Everyone who worked for him hated him. He was a hard task master." He glanced swiftly toward the scowling figure of Jay Leonard near the door. "I reckon Jay hated him as much as anyone. Then there's Guy Halbert."

"Guy was in Stansboro and Jay ain't the type to hate bad enough to kill."

"Well, I don't reckon Minnie would kill anyone."

STREETER WENT out on to the veranda, and sat down and rolled a cigarette. He had a lot of thinking to do. He didn't want to make any mistakes.

Suddenly the officer bounded to his feet and went into the ranch house where Doc Humphrey was packing his bag. . . Minutes later he returned to the veranda just as an automobile swung in at the ranch gate. Guy Halbert leaped from behind the wheel.

"Is he dead? Lord! I got here as soon as I could."

"He's dead," Streeter nodded. Halbert's eyes widened. "I was afraid of that. I was afraid that's what had happened when his voice trailed off."

"That so?" said Bill Streeter. Halbert produced a handkerchief and began mopping his brow. "This is terrible. Who do you think would want to kill him, Sheriff?"

Suddenly, Halbert stopped mopping his brow and stared. Behind the sheriff he saw the dark face of Jay Leonard. Behind Jay he saw Doc Humphrey.

"Say!" he said, "what's wrong? What are you all staring at me like that for?"

"You other know, mister," said Streeter quietly. "If you should know?" His voice rose wildly. "Say, what's the matter? Lord! You don't think I did it? Why, I was in Stansboro! I can prove it."

"Sure you can. But you can't prove Homer wasn't shot before you went down there."

"I talked with him on the telephone. It was me he told about his being shot. It was me called you."

"Called me so I wouldn't suspect you. Streeter's voice was suddenly cold, accusing. "The doc says Homer was killed instantly, mister."

"But—" Halbert stopped talking. Terror leaped into his eyes as the significance of the sheriff's words dawned on him. Killed instantly! A man who is killed instantly couldn't tell him over the telephone that he'd been shot!

Aquaculture Class In Maryland School Proves Successful

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md.—Thousands of boys throughout the nation take courses in agriculture while in high school. But the Calvert county consolidated high school in Maryland has an aquaculture class. It's an earning as well as a learning class. The pupils learn how to raise oysters.

Like farm crops, oysters can be planted and harvested. Their growth can be encouraged and the yield sustained by scientific methods of management and conservation.

From two beds on which they planted seed oysters two and a half years ago, the boys harvested an estimated 5,700 bushels in 1950. Figured at an average price of $2.50 per bushel, that comes to something like $14,250. After paying back the tide-water fisheries department for the seed oysters, investing in more of them, and putting a percentage of the take into class projects, the boys cleared about $40 each.

But so far as educational and conservation authorities are concerned, the actual profits are strictly secondary.

They see the course as a valuable educational, practical, and civic experience for the boys. They also see it as an example to older residents of the benefits of sound conservation practices.

The boys take classroom work and meet once a week to make and repair equipment. They spend at least half a day every month at the Chesapeake biological laboratory at Solomons, making field observations, taking inventories of their stock, and studying problems of resource management.

The class was formed late in 1947 by about 20 boys, on their own initiative. It is limited to sons of watermen, and to students living on tide-water.

Conservation officials view the class as the beginning of a new trend in oyster production. Chesapeake bay production has declined from 15 million bushels a year to less than 2 million in the last 65 years.

Who Polices the Police? Washington Has the Answer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Have you ever wondered who polices the police? Well, here's one city's answer.

Superintendent of Washington police, Robert J. Barrett, en route to work at 8 a. m., radioed headquarters with a description of two of his officers.

He wanted to know what scout car they were driving.

"Scout 113," the startled dispatcher replied.

"You tell the one sitting next to the driver to sit up," Barrett ordered. "If he wants to sleep, let him go home."

Mighty Dinosaur Suffered Arthritis, Scientist Says

CHICAGO, Ill.—A Smithsonian anthropologist reports that dinosaurs, the big shots of the reptilian era millions of years ago, apparently suffered from arthritis in their old age.

Dr. T. Dale Stewart said the Smithsonian Institute has a dinosaur whose skeleton shows bone defects strikingly similar to those observed in humans known to be suffering from "degenerative arthritis" sometimes accompanying old age.

This type of arthritis—believed to be due in most cases just to the wear and tear of living—limits the activities of its victims and usually causes pain.

Stewart said the roughening of the joints seen in the Smithsonian's monstrous "dino" presumably would have caused the beast to take many a day off to rest up on his pain.

He cited the case as further evidence in support of a current study indicating that prehistoric men and animals suffered from much the same bone diseases and deformities that affect modern man and beast.

79-Year-Old Handyman Will Life Savings to Socialite

PHILADELPHIA—A member of one of Philadelphia's oldest and most socially prominent families was named beneficiary of a 79-year-old handyman's will recently.

Alfred Williams, who spent the last 25 years of his life working for residents in an exclusive apartment-house section, directed in his will that the balance of his savings after payment of debts be left to Edward Shippen Morris, a descendant of Robert Morris, who helped finance the American revolution. The estate was valued at $1,000.

Patterson-Loesel Take Wedding Vows

In an evening ceremony at the Sutton Methodist Church Saturday night Miss Yvonne Marie Patterson of Caro became the bride of Wallace Richard Loesel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loesel of Frankenth.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Patterson of Caro. The ceremony took place at 8:00 p. m. before an altar banked with candelabra, palms and twin baskets of white stock, carnations and snapdragons. Rev. Theodore Hastings officiated. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Harold Satchell of Caro and the Lord's Prayer was sung by Mrs. Clair Fisher of Saginaw.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of slipper satin with a high, tiny round collar trimmed with seed pearls. The dress featured a fitted bodice, long fitted sleeves and a full skirt ending in a fan shaped train. Her matching pearl trimmed satin cap held in place the fingertip length illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, hyacinths and ivy with a removable corsage.

Miss Shirley Scharrer of Saginaw, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Scharrer was gown in yellow taffeta with a short cape-sleeved jacket and carried a colonial bouquet of Tallisman roses and ivy. Matching flowers were worn in her hair.

Miss Catherine Brady, also a friend of the bride, and Miss Phyllis Loesel, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of green taffeta styled like that of the maid of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations and ivy and wore matching

Many Local Students Enter Essay Contest

Seventy-seven pupils taught by Mrs. Mary Holcomb submitted essays in the current contest sponsored by the Auxiliary to Tri-County Post No. 507, American Legion. Sixty-five students in Otto Ross' classes also participated. The essays are in the hands of the judges here and winning essays will be sent April 15 to the district contest. The topic this year was "Michigan's Place in the United States Today."

For Highway Safety
Of the 18,000 traffic fatalities which occur annually in our streets and highways, many could be prevented with better street lighting. With that idea in mind an electric company has developed an ultra-sensitive, portable lightmeter, so simple to operate that a schoolboy can take highly technical readings of extremely low light intensities.

"Too Cold to Snow"
The popular belief that it may be too cold for snow is not true, although usually very cold air does not hold much water vapor. Alaska has had snowfall when it was 52 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Painting Metal Work
Treating galvanized metal with acid solution etches it or eats into the surface and roughens it so that the metal priming paint has better anchorage. Also, if there is any oil on the metal, left there during the manufacturing process, this oil will be eaten off by the acid treatment.

Dry Cleaning Solvents
The vapors of all dry cleaning solvents can produce unconsciousness if inhaled in high concentration.

Radar Waves
Ultra-short waves are a key factor in radar, because they travel in a straight line from the transmitter to the target and back again, thus assuring that the exact beam so that all its energy is projected outward, is rotated in a composition of the target is recorded by the receivers. The longer radio waves used by commercial broadcasting systems, on the other hand, do not travel in a straight line, but tend to curve around the surface of the earth. The waves are fired in short bursts from the radar antenna, which consists of a dish-shaped reflector much like the one in your automobile headlight. The reflector, used to focus the radar plate circle for surface search.

From a Sage
In a letter to Miss Mary Stevenson, London, dated June 11, 1780, Benjamin Franklin said: "There is no rank in natural knowledge of equal dignity and importance with that of being a good parent, a good child, and good husband or wife, a good neighbor or friend, a good subject or citizen, that is, in short, a good Christian."

Donahue Herd Reports 456 Pound Butterfat Average

Annual reports submitted by tester supervisors of Tuscola County's three dairy herd improvement associations at their annual meeting March 20 revealed the Henry Opperman and Sons herd at Millington as the one winning top honors in butterfat production. The Opperman herd had an average butterfat production of 451.7 pounds for the testing year.

Second place honors were taken by the Ben Loeffler herd at Reese, which averaged 436.7 pounds of fat for the testing year just completed. The herd owned by Werner List, Vassar, ranked third among Tuscola County DHIA members, with a 430 pound fat average. All three of these herds consisted of both registered and grade Holsteins and were members of the county's number two association, which is supervised by Jack Rose of Caro. The Opperman herd contained an average of 16 cows during the year in which the above record was made, while the Loeffler herd had an average of 14 cows, and the herd owned by Werner List made its record with an average of 27 cows.

The number two association held top place among the county's three testing units with an average of 397.4 pounds of butterfat and 10,867 pounds of milk per cow. A total of 20 herds completed year's records, representing 427 cow years in association number 2.

Tuscola County association number one finished the year with an average production per cow of 355 pounds of fat and 9594 of milk. Cows tested in this association represented 375 cow years and were in 26 different herds which completed full-year records in 1950. Jack De Simpelare, Unionville, has been tester-supervisor of association number one for three years. De Simpelare was called into military service March 6, however, and the work is now being carried on by Kendall Hobart, Unionville.

Tuscola DHIA number three finished its 1950 testing year with 27 different herds completing annual records, including 429 cow years. Average butterfat production for the entire No. 3 association was 332.5 pounds per cow while milk production stood at 9610 pounds a year.

Herds ranking high in association number 1 with 400 pounds or more of butterfat were: L. S. Gansell, Caro, averaging 437 lbs. fat for the year; Rufus Wark, Akron, 459 lbs.; F. B. Otherson, Unionville, 441 lbs.; Alton Reavey, Akron, 429 lbs.; Roy Jackson and Sons, Caro, 414 lbs.; Harry Russell and Sons, Gagetown, 407 lbs.; Howard Foster, Fairgrove, 401 lbs.; and Clayton Rohlf, Fairgrove, 401 lbs.

Other herds in association number 2 producing over 400 pounds last year were Roy Brown, Fostoria, 438 lbs.; Reynold Johnson, Millington, 431 lbs.; Yokom Stock Farm, Mayville, 431 lbs.; Caro State Hospital, 430 lbs.; and Eber Wallace, Kingston, 404.2 lbs. The Caro State Hospital record was made on a three-times a day milking.

In the number 3 association the Dr. H. T. Donahue herd at Cass City ranked high with a 456 pound butterfat average. Other herds with over 400 pounds of fat per cow were Clark Montague, Deford, 437 pounds; E. G. Golding, Cass City, 438 pounds; Alvah Hillman, Cass City, 428 pounds; Frank Fort, Cass City, 426 pounds; and Clarence Merchant, Cass City, 403 pounds.

High individual cow records made during the past year listing name of owner and butterfat production are as follows: 5 years old and over—Werner List, 733 lbs.; Henry Opperman and Sons, 727 lbs.; H. T. Donahue, 724 lbs.; Werner List, 635 lbs.; over 4 and under 5 years—Alton Reavey, 589 lbs.; Henry Opperman and Sons, 589 lbs.; Alvah Hillman, 588 lbs.; Roy Brown, 558 lbs.; and Ben Loeffler, 552 lbs.; over 3 and under 4 years old—Henry Opperman and Sons, 616 lbs., 599 lbs., and 540 lbs.; under 3 years old—Chester Kinney, Millington, 505 lbs. and 438 lbs. (2 cows); Rufus Wark, 476 lbs.; George Foster, 474 lbs.; and Henry Opperman and Sons, 474 lbs.

English Condemn Abbey Containing Pocahontas Tomb

GRAVESEND, Eng.—St. George's Church, where the body of Pocahontas was buried 333 years ago is in danger of being torn down. The church was condemned back in 1948 and the order to tear it down may be issued at any time.

The Rev. Richard Daunt-Fear, vicar of St. George's, says there is not the slightest doubt that the bones are still there.

"The church records show that she was buried here," he said, "and the vault is still intact."

The vicar does not want to see his church torn down; neither does he consider that it would be fitting for the bones of Pocahontas to wind up under the foundations of a factory or an apartment building.

Received by Queen Pocahontas married colonist John Rolfe and came to England with him and their son early in the 17th century. Exotically beautiful and lionized as the daughter of a native emperor, she made a great splash in court circles and was even received by Queen Anne.

In March, 1617, the Rolfes started the long ocean voyage from London back to America. Aboard ship, Pocahontas fell ill. She was taken ashore at Gravesend, where she died and—according to surviving accounts—was buried in the church.

From time to time, skeptics have raised doubts whether her bones do in fact lie under St. George's. Mr. Daunt-Fear points to an entry in the church burial record book dated March 21, 1617:

"Rebecca Wroth wyffe of Thomas Wroth, Gent. A Virginia lady borne was buried in the chancel."

The substitution of "Thomas Wroth" for "John Rolfe" is shrugged off by the vicar as a mistake made by a clerk who had only heard the name spoken.

Did Pocahontas really save the life of John Smith?

The version long taught in American schools came from a "General Historie" of early Virginia published in London. According to this, Capt. Smith, bearded soldier of fortune, was waylaid and taken prisoner by Pocahontas' father, the chief Powhatan, while exploring the Chickahominy river basin.

Would Cost $220,000 The Indians forced him to kneel with his head on a stone.

Just as a brave man was taking a full windup with a war club, Pocahontas dashed forward, seized Smith's head in her arms and prevented the fatal blow.

Smith's own diary of his exploits during that period never mentioned the incident. Neither did the accounts of his comrades in arms.

Since Smith was never one to play down his own adventures, later chroniclers think the "General Historie" sort of improved on the facts a little.

The vicar reported the church will be torn down if funds are not raised to restore it. What would become of Pocahontas' bones is still an unsolved question. It was estimated it would cost about $220,000 to restore the church.

Rings on Trees Measure Rainfall Centuries Ago

WASHINGTON—One of the best available means of determining weather conditions before the days of records is by the growth rings of trees. The thickness of these rings (one ring a year is added to a tree) varies with the amount of rainfall during a growing season.

By means of the so-called "tree-ring calendar", it has been possible, for example, to get a fair idea of wet and dry epochs several hundred years ago.

The fact remains, however, that the calendar, taken alone, provides only an approximation of conditions in the past. Rainfall is not the only factor involved in tree-growth variations. Archeologists and climatologists both have needed a tree-ring calendar that would make possible more precise and accurate interpretations.

A start on this has been made by the Smithsonian Institution in support of the work of Dr. Waldo S. Glock—a study of the precise correlations from year to year between growth of selected trees in a limited area in northern New Mexico and rainfall variations.

Women Take Over Numerous Jobs in Small English Town

LONDON, Eng.—The town of Skipton, population 12,800, has become a woman's town. Already they have taken over and kept many jobs held before the war by men.

If you travel on buses a "clippie" takes your fares. At the railroad station a woman porter looks after your luggage. Superintendent Registrar Miss Dorothy Harrison registers all births and deaths. If you go to the hospital the doctor who examines you will likely be Dr. Mary Hunter. And you may be arrested by Policewoman Mayor.

Husbands freely are predicting that one day the entire town will be run by their wives.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

HOLBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jackson and son, Robert, were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hendrick at Wickware.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rienstra and family spent Sunday at the Loren Trathen home. Dennis and Dean Rienstra returned home with them after spending a week with their grandparents, while their parents were in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dunlap and daughter and family of Shabbona visited Monday at the Theodore Gracey home.

U. S. Death Rate

The United States has a lower death rate than Australia for a number of the important infectious diseases, including the principal communicable diseases of childhood, tuberculosis, and influenza and pneumonia. On the other hand, we have a higher death rate from the diseases common in middle and later life, such as the heart diseases and cancer, and from accidents.

Suburban Areas

The census has brought to light the tremendous increase in population growth of suburban areas. Many of these towns and cities are confronted with the need for the sewerage and water systems.

Canine Family Tree

The dog family goes back 60 million years to the miacis, a civet-like animal the size of a weasel. About 35 million years ago it had evolved into the cynodonts, native of western North America.

Cooked Fish

Generally speaking, cooked fish or meat will keep longer at 45 degrees than if it is left uncooked. The heat of cooking kills many of the bacteria and enzymes which cause it to spoil.

Fruit Tree Planting Time

Fall or spring is a good time to plant fruit trees. What to plant is no problem, just think of the fruits you like best. A nursery catalogue from any reliable nurseryman, or consultation with your nurseryman should help you to come up with a home fruit garden plan that will answer all your needs. Variety is a blessing in fruits, if you want to satisfy all your taste desires. Fresh fruits from your home garden likewise supply more and healthy vitamins and natural sugar for the growing family. From the looks of things, today, the home fruit garden will increase in value as time goes on, and fruit trees in a few years may be far less plentiful than they are now.

Hay Fever There is no hay fever in Venezuela. The pollen that causes the malady does not exist in the South American republic.

The picture will also show Sunday and Monday, April 8 and 9.

Free souvenirs will be given to the first 500 cars attending the re-opening program.

The mammoth outdoor screen has been newly painted with two coats of Arctic White, an outdoor theatre screen paint especially formulated to obtain the highest degree of brilliance from the high intensity lamps of the projection machines.

In the near future, 25 stadium type outdoor theatre chairs will be installed on a concrete platform near the projection building for the convenience of walk-in patrons.

R. C. A. sound engineers this week completed the installation of the in-car speakers on the field and testing of the sound equipment.

L & L Theatre Concessions of Detroit will again operate the concession department where delicious food and beverages will be served at popular prices. Irene E. Thomsen will return as manager of the concession department for the above company.

Last season's policy of two shows nightly, rain or clear, will again be in effect and a midnight show will be featured every Saturday.

Children under 12 will be admitted free and will be privileged to enjoy the well-equipped, supervised free playground.

Mr. Thomsen said that an exceptionally fine array of Hollywood's major pictures have already been scheduled for showing during the coming outdoor movie season including many Class A pictures which have not been shown in this area.

NEWS from RESCUE

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashmore and children, Ronald, Joan and Jacqueline, of Tawas City were Saturday evening and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quinn, Jr., and son, Thomas, were callers in Cass City to see a doctor as their son has been ill a few days.

The following men served on the election board in Grant Twp. Monday: Chairman, Twilton Heron; Justices, Peter Sinclair and Ephraim Knight; Clerk and deputy clerk, Clark Sowden and Philip McComb; and gate keepers, Wilbert Ellis and Howard Martin.

Sheldon Martin and Miss Nancy Barnes of Pontiac spent Saturday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maharg of Mayville were Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brown of Colwood were Sunday visitors of the former's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maharg and sons, Larry and Johnny, called Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dodge of Cass City to see their aunt, Mrs. Alfred Maharg, who was a patient several days in Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City. Mrs. Maharg is staying with her daughter until she is able to return to her home. The Mahargs have spent the winter months in Cass City living in Mrs. Anthony Doerr's home while she was in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lester and daughter, Grace, of Detroit came Saturday to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore.

They returned home Sunday accompanied by their son, Garry, who had spent the past week with his grandparents.

Walter Shuette of Elkton spent Monday with his son, Richard Schutte.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grant Church met with Mrs. Manley Enderbee this week on Thursday, instead of meeting with Mrs. Ralph Tobeen as was reported in the paper last week.

The Grant Center Extension Club met on Thursday, March 30, with Mrs. Lawrence Summers. They held their business meeting and then the leaders gave a lesson in sewing.

Mrs. Andrew Spencer and daughters, Elva, Ruby and Stella, of Port Huron arrived Monday, March 26, and visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Day, Mrs. Katherine McCauley and other relatives. The Spencers returned Sunday to Port Huron with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Molinar and Mr. Spencer who spent Sunday with relatives here.

Michigan has a grand jury law in name only. All its teeth are gone, according to Attorney General Frank G. Millard.

Lacking today are the right of granting immunity to key witnesses or even the power of subpoena to require their appearance. These handicaps apply to both the 23-man grand jury and to the three-man grand jury which replaced the old one-man grand jury plan.

Millard does not favor restoration of the one-man grand jury system unless new safeguards are set up. The State Bar of Michigan has recommended several important changes.

It will be disturbing to many citizens to learn from Michigan's chief law enforcement officer that Michigan's grand jury law is weak and ineffective—and hence a wide open invitation for graft and corruption.

The tang of spring has set legislative noses sniffing. Eyes are beginning to turn toward home and the spring plowing. The house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee are beginning to burn a little late oil to whip appropriation bills into shape.

Most legislators are resigned to a mid-June adjournment—the usual time for the session's end. The shortage of tax bills yet passed heightens this expectancy.

Gov. Williams has jogged the civilian defense effort, nudging both Detroit and federal officials. He told reporters the Detroit air raid exercise appeared to be lagging and slowing up the entire state program. He added that federal authorities "must awake to the necessity of establishing priorities for materials and manufacture of items needed for civil defense."

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, State CD director, recommends consignment of 10 state-owned civil defense fire trucks to Sault Ste. Marie, one of Michigan's most vital bomb targets.

Michigan's draft quota under the reduced April induction call is 2,124. The call originally was 4,728.

228. Things in Korea are looking up—again.

Peak defense production in Michigan isn't expected to be reached until next year. Aside from a relatively small volume of trucks, transport vehicles, passenger cars and other items requiring no re-tooling, the armament orders still are largely in the paper stage. From 1941 through 1945 the automobile industry built $29,000,000,000 worth of arms.

Michigan's surplus apple problem may be solved in the near future. The U. S. department of agriculture finds that frozen apple juice tickles the consumer palate. Like orange juice now on the market, the produce will be a concentrate. USDA survey results indicate the most successful concentrate to be 50 percent Delicious apple; 20 percent Winesap; 20 percent Jonathan and 10 percent Rome Beauty with 4 percent acidity.

State TB hospital situation looks better. When the new Flint hospital transfers Genesee County patients from the Howell sanitarium, 100 beds will be open for Wayne County cases. Wayne has 400 patients in private hospitals and 200 on waiting lists. One hundred beds is but a drop in the bucket for the overall state picture—but it helps.

State Democrats have been accused of "a disregard of decency" by Cong. George Meander (R-Ann Arbor) following the revelation that a questionnaire was sent out by the state Democratic chairman asking county leaders who they would prefer appointed in case Gov. Williams should have to name a replacement for the ailing Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

Michigan again led the nation in number of licensed fishermen last year, but dropped from second to third place in license revenue. The state sold 1,050,756 licenses, taking in $2,008,807. California distributed 995,880 permits with a total revenue of $3,033,755.

With the dry season still in the offing, 21 fires already have burned over 315 acres in Michigan this year. In 1950 no fires were recorded until after April 1.

The Little Hoover commission has tackled the state civil service commission—a man-sized job. There are three ways to handle the 10-year old system: Junk civil service and return to political control; let it continue as is; revise the system to correct shortcomings pointed up by a recent commission task force report.

The commission did, however, deviate from its usual course of throwing bouquets at the state corrections system. Says a commission task force: "the prisons are generally well run, clean and adequate, and reasonably well financed by the legislature."

Although the group said the parole and probation systems were sound, it did say Jackson prison is too large for efficient operation.

There are more federal employees in Michigan than there are people on the state's payroll. According to a census, 40,838 Michigan persons are on federal lists, 8,091 more than the state hires.

Many service groups have expressed interest in bringing entertainment and gifts to the patients at Percy Jones Army Hospital at Battle Creek. Before doing so, such groups should contact the Red Cross in their local community.

Reddy Kilowatt is Ready!

REDDY KILOWATT...
Your Electric Servant

Much of our nation's strength lies in its preparedness. Electric power is a vital resource. An important question is: Have we enough of it... enough for complete preparedness?

Detroit Edison's Answer is Yes

In December, 1950, demands for electric power by our customers were greater than ever before... five times during that month new records were established... and we had power to meet these demands. Yes, Detroit Edison is ready today and is building ahead to be ready tomorrow.

More Power to Keep Us a Stronger Nation

Our company's construction program will continue to keep us ahead. Since 1940, new equipment has increased our electric power capacity by 50%.

★ Two 75,000 kilowatt turbine-generators added at our Delray Power Plant.

★ Two 75,000 kilowatt turbine-generators added at our Marysville Power Plant.

★ Two 100,000 kilowatt turbine-generators added at our Trenton Power Plant.

With new construction our 1940 capacity will be doubled:

★ Two 100,000 kilowatt turbine-generators are being added at our Conners Creek Power Plant.

★ Three 125,000 kilowatt turbine-generators are being added at our new St. Clair Power Plant, now under construction.

Construction of transmission lines, substations and distribution circuits is keeping pace.

Similar effective programs are going forward in all of America's electric companies under the able management of men who know that a strong America is a free America.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Black Bean Soup Starts a Fine Dinner (See Recipes Below)

Economical Main Dishes

WHEN THE BUDGET'S sorely pressed, food, like every other item, will come in for its share of economy. In a xperensive meat cuts, extended wisely with nourishing and filling foods like potatoes, lentils and vegetables offer tasty substitutes for roasts, chops and steak.

You can add interest to meats by varying the carbohydrate (starchy) food with them, like parsleyed spaghetti and savory noodles.

Parsley Spaghetti with Barbecued Lamb (Serves 4-6)
1 chopped medium onion
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup cider vinegar
2 teaspoons brown sugar
1 can tomato paste
1 1/2 cups water
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Few drops tabasco sauce
2 cups cooked lamb, cubed
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces thin spaghetti
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley

Saute onion in butter until tender. Add vinegar, sugar, tomato paste, water, Worcestershire sauce and tabasco sauce. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Add lamb; simmer until heated. Meanwhile, add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Toss with melted butter and finely chopped parsley. Serve with barbecued lamb.

Skillet Noodles and Beef (Serves 4-6)
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup thinly sliced onions
1 cup chopped celery
1 pound ground beef
2 cups sliced raw carrots
1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes
1 cup water
1 tablespoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
8 ounces egg noodles

Melt butter in large heavy skillet over low heat. Add onions and celery; saute 5 minutes. Add ground beef, stirring occasionally, until meat is brown. Add remaining ingredients, including the uncooked noodles; mix thoroughly. Cover skillet; simmer 40 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Baked Sauerkraut and Frankfurters (Serves 4-6)
1 No. 2 1/2 can sauerkraut
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
2 medium cooking apples
1/2 cup thin onion slices
1/2 cup melted butter
6 frankfurters

In a mixing bowl, combine sauerkraut, sugar and caraway seeds. Place half of sauerkraut mixture in bottom of a 2-quart baking dish. Core apples and cut into 1/4-inch

LYNN SAYS:
Check on Food Storage To Save Money

Do not plan to keep sweet syrup on hand for long periods, as flavor deteriorates rapidly. For the time you must keep them, store in a cool dark place.

Use chicken within a day or two after purchasing, if it's fresh. Wrap loosely in waxed paper for refrigerating.

Both tea and coffee will lose flavor if they are not kept tightly covered. A cool, dry place is best for them.

slices. Place half of onion and apple slices on sauerkraut mixture; dot with butter. Cover with remaining sauerkraut mixture. Add remaining onion and apple slices. Arrange frankfurters on top. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°) 45 minutes. Serve immediately.

Lamb Paprika (Serves 4)
4 slices bacon
1 tablespoon butter
1 medium onion, sliced
1 pound shoulder lamb or mutton, cut in small pieces
Flour
Pinch of rosemary
1 teaspoon salt
1 to 1 1/2 teaspoons paprika, to taste
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup canned tomato
1/2 cup beef bouillon
1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
3 medium potatoes, sliced

Fry bacon and remove from pan. Add butter. Fry onion and meat, dredged lightly with flour, until golden brown. Blend seasonings except caraway seeds, with tomatoes and bouillon. Pour over meat. Place bacon slices on top of meat. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°) for 30 minutes. Arrange potatoes on top of meat and baste with sauce in pan. Cover and bake another 30 minutes. The caraway seeds in mustard bag and drop in center of pan before baking. Remove when serving.

Tortilla Pie
1 cup corn meal
3 1/2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 green pepper
2 tablespoons onion flakes
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 pound ground beef
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1/2 cup shredded cheese

Make mush of corn meal and boiling salted water. Add olive oil and chili powder. Line casserole with 1/2 of the mush. Fry green pepper and onions (soaked in 1/4 cup water) in oil until clear. Add meat, salt, pepper, chili powder. Stir until meat changes color. Add tomatoes. Simmer till thickened. Add olives. Turn into casserole. Sprinkle with cheese. Top with remaining mush. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 to 40 minutes.

Apple butter spoils readily because it does not have a high sugar content. Place in refrigerator after opening.

Buy spices once a year in small quantity, as they lose flavor on standing, even though not opened. Highly seasoned sauces with many spices and high vinegar content keep well for months. Store in cool place without light.

Honey should not be discarded when it crystallizes. Liquify by placing in water that is not over 140°. Higher temperature may injure flavor as well as color.

Always purchase your fish last, but store it first when you get home. The coldest place in the refrigerator, right under the freezing unit, is best for it.

All fats require a cool, dry, dark place for storage. They should be tightly covered at all times to avoid contact with strong odors which fats readily absorb.

Vitamin Production

People to whom vitamins still are something of a mystery usually voice surprise when informed that weekly production in the United States over the past two years has averaged close to 2 tons of vitamin B-1, 10 tons of vitamin C and 11 tons of niacin. Production is reported by the U.S. tariff commission.

Populations Per Mile
Large desert areas help to hold down Australia's overall population density to a sparse 2.6 persons to the square mile. In comparison, South America's figure is 14.7, Africa counts 15.1, North America 21.3, Asia 77, and Europe 145.3.

Platforming
A noteworthy development in the past year has been the use of platinum and palladium catalysts in new production processes. For example, "platforming," a new refining method for producing gasoline with high octane rating, is done with the aid of platinum catalysts.

"Blackleg"
The germ that causes blackleg in cattle can survive in soil for many years.

Modern City
All roofs in New Braunfels, Texas, have been fireproofed, mostly with sheet steel and iron, thereby reducing insurance rates as much as 75 percent.

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

CALF DEATHS HIGH: ONE OF FIVE LOST

About one calf out of every five that is born never lives to produce milk or beef.

Some calf losses are bound to occur, but if all farmers would apply proved preventive and treatment methods, at least half of the total loss could be avoided.

Proper care will save more calves.

Some calf deaths related to poor feeding and care of pregnant cows. Poorly ventilated, sunless or unsanitary calf barns are also linked with sick calves. Scours and pneumonia likewise rank as top calf killers, while parasites come as a close second.

Recent studies have proved just how important housing can be in saving calves. Even on farms having a long history of high calf mortality, veterinarians and herdsmen have worked out housing systems which have brought a marked decline in the number of calf deaths.

In avoiding sick and dead calves a little prevention is ever so much better than attempts at salvaging animals already sick. Before the next calf crop is due, the farmer should survey his calf nursery. He should be sure that the calf quarters are sanitary, well ventilated and with access to sunlight.

All new-born calves should get the colostrum, or "first milk," but should not be overfed.

Colostrum is highly fortified with vitamins and minerals. It was designed by nature to give young animals the best possible start in life. Ordinary milk cannot take its place.

If previous losses from scours or pneumonia have occurred, it may be a wise caution to have serum given to each new-born calf. If any calves scour or breathe heavily, a veterinarian should be called promptly, as these are signs that denote real danger.
