

Thousands Watch These Scenes from Second Annual Home-Coming

Persons from all over the Thumb area were on hand Thursday, August 9, to see these scenes that were part of the second annual Home-coming in Cass City.

Most observers who saw the big event this year agreed that the Chamber of Commerce had again succeeded in staging one of the finest celebrations of its kind in this area and many persons voiced approval of the expense-free program that was arranged for them in the village this year.

They saw many different acts and events. Among some of the outstanding attractions were those snapped by Arthur Holmberg, with the Cass City School camera.

Many of the persons lined Main Street for the parade will remember the beautiful Palominos ridden by the Huron County Sheriff's Patrol—the horses were a new addition to the Home-coming this year.

One of the top attractions of the day was the bike parade. Shown next to the horses are the youngsters who walked off with first place Thursday. The Freiburgers and Abraham were judged the best over a large field of entries.

Farmers and others interested in horses made the annual horse pulling contest a highlight of the celebration. Holmberg snapped this unidentified team while it was trying to move the sand filled sled for one of the six places for which prizes were offered.

In the evening, many persons thought the audience participation show was the best of the one and one-half hour professional review. The man with the hat on backwards is Andrew Bigelow. Next to him is Herman Doerr. At the mike is the M. C., Jack Perry, while Bud Burt has his hand in the air. Undistinguishable in the picture is M. B. Auten, who is lying down trying to put on feminine wearing apparel.

Mrs. D. J. Mellendorf Sets Record Writing for Papers

It's seldom that a professional writer sticks to his work long enough to compile 50 years in his chosen career, but even more unusual is a writer who celebrates his or her golden anniversary as a correspondent.

Mrs. DeEtte J. (Parker) Mellendorf has made the enviable record with this week's issue of the Chronicle. Mrs. Mellendorf was writing the Cass City news for the Cass City Enterprise shortly after the Chronicle was born.

She began writing news from Canboro for the Enterprise and continued to be a correspondent for the paper when it was bought by the Chronicle.

In the 50 years of service Mrs. Mellendorf has written for eight area papers, Cass City Enterprise, Gageton Times, Owendale Herald, Elkton Advance, Huron News, Huron County Tribune and Cass City Chronicle.

During her 50 years of reporting, Mrs. Mellendorf has written obituaries for five generations of her family including her grandparents, parents, brother, nephew, son and husband, who died in 1935. She has written of the life cycle of many of the persons from the Rescue area including their birth, wedding, birth of their children and, finally, of their death.

Mrs. Mellendorf says that, "It seems good to the correspondent; to have people tell her they miss the news when she is away—and that she appreciates the help of the persons who give or send her news for her weekly column in the paper."

Bowling News and Views

George A. Dillman, Sec.

From mutterings heard here and there, our 1951-52 bowling season is becoming an interesting topic of conversation. And it should be, with only FOUR WEEKS until that first ball is rolled down the newly resurfaced alleys to crash against those stubborn pins that persist in standing there after hitting the one-three pocket. (you Concluded on page 12.)

Couple Wed Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holston will celebrate their Golden Wedding with an open house celebration at their home, four miles east and three miles north of Cass City, Sunday.

The couple's actual wedding anniversary is on Tuesday, August 21, as they were married August 21, 1901.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolston have six children, five boys and a girl. They have lived at their present address for about 11 years where Mr. Rolston makes his living farming.

Mrs. Rolston is 65 years old and Mr. Rolston is now 73.

Third Blossom in '51 For Atfield's Spiraea

A couple of years ago the Chronicle printed a story about the unusual twice-in-one-year blooming of a Spiraea bush, belonging to Mrs. Glen Atfield.

Now, Mrs. Atfield has a story that tops the original—for Tuesday morning she brought in blossoms from the hedge in her yard that marked the third blooming of the hardy plant this season.

According to Mrs. Atfield, the Spiraea bloomed first in June, then in July and this week had flowers for the third time.

Classmates of 1931 Hold Reunion at Local High School

The Cass City High School class of 1931 held a reunion Saturday at the high school gymnasium and 24 of the 41 graduates were on hand to celebrate the event.

A complete program was offered to the group including a turkey dinner served by the ladies of the Lutheran Church, music furnished by Roger Parrish and group singing under the direction of Mrs. Deloris Green.

Toastmaster for the evening was Delvin Striffler. To get the group reacquainted, he had each member of the class of '31 stand and introduce himself and his wife or husband and give a brief history of his career since leaving high school.

Members of the reunion committee were asked to stand for the group. They included Ray Flenor, Alex Tyo, Clarence Merchant, Lillian Hanby, Blanche Milligan and Helen Greenleaf.

Merchant also briefly told of planning the reunion and presented. Concluded on page 12.

Celebration Draws Record Crowd

New Navy Booth Feature of Annual Tuscola County Fair

One of the features of the Tuscola County Fair, August 20 to 25, will be the booth on display by the U. S. Navy.

The booth will be comprised of instructional navy equipment and tentative plans call for the booth to have a Gray marine cutaway diesel engine, similar to the ones the navy have in all Amphibious craft.

A sona vision projection cabinet, with continuous navy combat films will be shown, along with a signal flag display, the flags of the silent communication system of the navy.

Other exhibits will be the 20 MM gun mount, standard equipment on all navy ships; shell boards, with cutaway shells showing the actual construction of ammunition; dynamic analyzer, used for instructional purposes, of a complete radio on display board; various ship models, and navy display kits.

Also on display will be navy steering devices and compass, and instruction gear, that is standard ship board equipment. History of the various gear will be explained.

Season Completed For Village League Softball Players

The teams in the Cass City Softball League completed their regular season play this week and all but Western Auto and Alward's are preparing for the play-offs which start next week.

Western Auto and Alward's finished seventh and eighth respectively, to be eliminated for a chance at the play-off championship.

Wednesday, August 8, two of the more powerful teams in the league won close victories from a pair of second division clubs.

In the opener, Decker, paced by Lee Hartel's home run, edged Ellington, 9-7. In the final game of the evening Deford avenged its only regular season defeat by edging Alward, 5-2.

Home runs played an important part in the Deford victory. Joe Kilborne batted out a pair and Glen Warner hit one to make the margin of victory for Deford.

Some shoddy ball handling cost Church of Christ an opportunity to hand Deford their second defeat of the season, Friday.

The church men were leading 4-0. (Concluded on page 12.)

The Annuals Have Arrived. Students may call for their annuals from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday, August 18, at the school office or any day or evening at my home in Gageton. Frank Weatherhead.—Adv. 1

W. H. Gunsell Dies At Home in Caro

William H. Gunsell, 73, prominent retired Caro businessman, died Wednesday morning at eight o'clock at his home on North Almer Street, after an extended illness of 18 months.

Mr. Gunsell spent 14 years as a member of the Caro village council and 12 years on the Tuscola County board of supervisors, in addition to his varied business interests in Caro.

He operated the Gunsell Furniture Store, was a director of the Caro State Bank and operated a moving business for almost 50 years before he retired from active business.

Mr. Gunsell was born in Butler, Penn., April 5, 1878, moving to Caro in 1882.

He married the former Miss Margaret Lawrence at Caro, June 18, 1911. She died in 1946.

Mr. Gunsell was a member of Bay City Consistory of the Caro Chapter, R. A. M., of Mt. Moriah Lodge No. 226, F. & A. M., and the Caro Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Milton Nowland of Lapeer, Mrs. William Reed, Mrs. Dwane Petiprin and Mrs. Charles Sokolsky, all of Caro; two brothers, Fred and Lou, both of Caro; and seven grandchildren.

The body is at the Huston Funeral Home where funeral services are being arranged.

Officers Elected at Auxiliary Meeting

At a regular meeting of the Auxiliary to Tri-County Post No. 507, American Legion, held Monday evening in the Legion hall, the following officers were elected:

For the coming year and will be installed at the next regular meeting, Sept. 10: President, Mrs. Clement Tyo; vice president, Mrs. Tom Coticck; secretary, Mrs. Everett Leishman; treasurer, Mrs. Wilbur Morrison; chaplain, Mrs. Harve Klinkman; Sgt.-at-arms, Mrs. Jake Wise; historian, Mrs. Ella Vance and members of the executive committee, Mrs. Arthur Kelley, Mrs. Arthur Little and Mrs. Alex Tyo.

In the business meeting, members voted a contribution to the fund for new band uniforms for the school, in keeping with the program of community service.

Members will start work on articles for a bazaar which will be held early this fall.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Arthur Little conducted a period of recreation with prizes going to Mrs. Jake Wise, Mrs. Wilbur Morrison and Mrs. Raymond Lorf and consolation prizes to Mrs. Dorus Klinkman and Mrs. Louis Salas.

The committee on arrangements, Mrs. Arthur Kelley, Mrs. Clement Tyo and Mrs. Arthur Little, served pie and coffee.

The door prize went to Miss Irene Gunther.

Farm Produce Co. Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of The Farm Produce Co. held at the town hall in Cass City Tuesday afternoon, stockholders of the company elected Joseph Crawford, C. J. Striffler, Andley Rawson, Bruce Brown, Dorus Benkelman, Donald Wallace and Audley H. Kinnaird to succeed themselves as members of the board of directors.

According to Frank Reid, manager of the company, gross sales of the past year were $489,652.35, which is nearly $100,000 less than the previous year. Of this year's gross receipts $418,456.62 were at the elevator plant and $71,196.23 at the lumber yard.

The business of the year just closed was the poorest in several years, due in great measure to the losses in the bean market.

The Farm Produce Co. sold its lumber yard and merchandise to the Brinker Lumber Co. in June of this year.

Shabbona Plans For Home-Coming

Members of the Evergreen Community Club announced recently that plans for the 17th annual home-coming at Shabbona, Saturday, August 18, are complete with a full schedule of events, starting at 10:00 a. m.

For at 10 o'clock a girls' softball game between Sanilac All-Stars and the Huron All-Stars will be staged.

Following the softball games will be sports contests, with prizes. The event will start at 11:00 a. m. At noon the horseshooting contest for teams under 3100 pounds will vie for $125.00 in prize money.

The next event on the schedule will be an address by D. Hale Brakes, Michigan State Treasurer, followed by a baseball game between the Huron All-Stars and the Blue Water All-Stars.

In the evening, the community club has arranged for an amateur program, with $50 purse for winners.

The annual celebration will be concluded with dancing in the evening.

Repair Work Starts On Two Local Stores

Two more Cass City stores have recently been remodeling to add to the appearance of their establishments.

On Main Street, Leeson's Wallpaper and Paint Store have removed the porch from their building and are painting and remodeling the front of the building.

With the removal of the porch, the last wooden overhanging porch disappears from the business section of the town.

On the west end of the village, the Cass Frozen Food Lockers are repainting their building. Painters started early this week to re-cover the building with white paint.

Parsch's Store will be open Thursday afternoons.—Adv. 11-10-1f

Counties Receive Weight Tax Money

Tuscola County's share of the $3,006,000 in state weight taxes will be $22,356, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has announced.

Revenue from the motor vehicle license tax since June 1, has been placed in the general highway fund along with money from the gasoline tax. It is paid quarterly on a percentage basis.

Two other nearby counties also received tax money. Sanilac County's share is $18,831 and Huron County receives $19,956 for the period.

Over a Century Old, Christening Robe Still Used

You can hardly classify a robe as an antique—but the christening robe, a family heirloom, belonging to the Karr family can hardly be described any other way.

The robe is over 100 years old and has been carefully handed down from one member of the family to the other through the years.

Last Sunday the robe was used again. This time it was worn by Arnold Leonard Karr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Karr of Gageton, who was christened in the Gageton Methodist Church by Rev. F. W. Porter.

The christening of Leonard marked at least the 25th time the robe was in use by members of the family of his grandmother, Mrs. Alex Milligan.

It was first used by Leonard's great-great grandmother in Scotland and has been in use ever since. Naturally, the robe is made of pure linen and is hand embroidered. Still in good condition, it now waits for the next christening in the family.

Stanley Martinek Shrapneled Twice In Korea Fighting

Pfc. Stanley J. Martinek, with the infantry in Korea, has been shrapneled twice while in action at the front.

The first accident occurred when a soldier near Martinek stepped on a land mine. The accident blew off both of his legs and put Martinek in the hospital with shrapnel wounds.

The second wound in action came when 143 men were ordered to take a hill. In the ensuing battle all but 40 of the soldiers were killed and Martinek received wounds in the leg from a "Cook" grenade.

Martinek has been in Korea three and a half months. He is the son of Mrs. Frank Martinek of Gageton and Frank Martinek of the Veterans' Facility Hospital at Grand Rapids.

Prizes Awarded to Winners in Many Different Contests

Persons in a position to know, estimated that fully one-half again as many persons crowded the Recreation grounds last Thursday for the second annual Home-coming than were on hand for the first event, last year.

Thus, the persons in the Cass City area gave their approval to the Chamber of Commerce's program of providing a full day of entertainment without cost to fair goers.

The thousands that crowded the village saw a bigger and better display in the second year of the Home-coming here.

For instance, the livestock show, under the direction of Dr. Harry Crandell, included, for the first time, dairy cattle in addition to the regular beef cattle on display.

Livestock Show

There were 14 beef steers and five dairy heifers entered in the show that saw an Angus, shown by Dale Leslie, win the grand champion award. Nellie Graham showed the reserve champion, a shorthorn.

Warren Wood awarded cups to the pair in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

Others who had entries in the beef show were: Eileen, Allen, Ruth Ann Quick; Barbara and Pauline Quick of Caro; Wilda Copeland, Dick Auslander, Jack Gallagher, Dick Donahue, Stuart Copeland and Harold Little of Cass City.

In the dairy division, Richard Carpenter showed the grand champion. Other entries were: David Matthews, Larry Merchant, Edward McConkey and Edward Profit.

The dairy entries were judged by Clarence Merchant and the beef cattle judged by James Milligan.

In the showmanship contest, Jack Gallagher was first and Edward Profit, second.

Bicycle Parade

First place in the annual bike parade was annexed this year by the team of Freiburgers and Abraham. Joy, Bob and Jim Freiburger, together with Mark Abraham won the decision of the judges with their "nursery rhyme" float that earned the quartet the $5 prize.

The Johnson patriotic float won second for $3, while the Huckleberry Finn motif of Stewart Little was third best in the opinion of the judges. Little received $2. The Muntz Doll Buggy float was awarded the fourth prize of one dollar.

James A. Rabideau Rites Held Tuesday

Eighteen years of illness finally ended in death for James A. Rabideau, 58, in a state hospital Saturday.

Mr. Rabideau, son of the late Henry and Selma Rabideau was born in Elmwood Township, November 24, 1892, and was a member of the St. Agatha's Church in Gagetown.

After his death he was taken to the Hunter Funeral Home in Gagetown where he remained until funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Agatha's Church. The Rev. Lucien Bourget officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

Marketing Order Out; Better Potatoes Vital

What will discontinuance of the potato marketing order on August 15, mean to Michigan growers of "Irish" potatoes?

Clarence Prentice, Michigan State College extension specialist in marketing, believes it will mean little. However, the grower marketing a quality product, free from waste and defects, will be in a better position to gain and hold a high demand for his product.

Past experience with a certain brand or pack is the most important point housewives make in determining what package of potatoes to buy when they market. Prentice cites a Michigan State College research survey which shows this factor rating well above the price of the package.

Growers in Michigan and five other neighboring states last month voted against continuance of the marketing order which established a committee for making regulations on the size and quality of potatoes that could be marketed in any year.

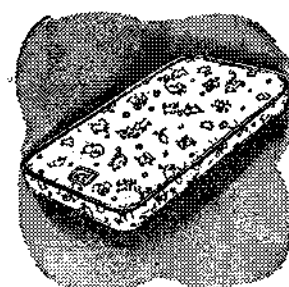

Last year, operation under the order was thought necessary because of support prices. But since supports are no longer available to potato growers, many of them apparently saw no value to the order.

Potatoes will continue to be sold under federal grade standards and consumers will likely find no difference in the quality of Michigan potatoes offered in retail stores.

Growers, however, will be able to build up a "repeat" order business for their trade-marked package by offering consumers high quality. Other states ship only their highest quality product into Michigan because paying freight rates on lower quality products does not pay. Prentice feels growers can meet this competition by marketing equal quality at a lower price.

Specializing in the care of the chronically ill.
Under the supervision of Helen S. Stevens, R. N.

Mr. McLellan and Mr. Gross reported on the session with the Water Resources Commission, held at Caro on July 22. No action was taken as yet on our sewage disposal problem by the council.

Clerk reported on a communication by phone with Mr. Ziegler concerning the resolution by the council to have M-31 resurfaced through Cass City. Proceedings will begin in about a month by the State Highway department. Storm sewer committee agreed to obtain a written agreement with Mr. M. Orr to the effect that we may put a storm sewer from Main Street thru his garden to the village ditch, and fill in the ditch as he has requested.

A request for a water main was read made by Mr. J. Tekelli to run into Garden Center subdivision. Motion by Hunt and Benkelman that the village install a permanent main from Garfield south one block on Maple Street, east to Sherman Street, and later north on Sherman to Garfield, the main to be a 4 in. transite pipe. Motion carried.

Motion by Gross and Benkelman that the road bond given by Mr. Tekelli, be released by the village since the roads have all been craveled properly by him in Garden Center Subdivision. Carried.

Clerk was instructed to write the G. T. W. R. Co. to see if something could be done to stop the signal at the crossing from ringing at such long unnecessary intervals.

Motion by Hartwick and McLellan that the treasurer be granted a 30 day extension on tax collections. Carried.

Motion by Hunt and Bauer that we insure the grader truck with the Michigan Mutual Insurance Company. Carried.

Building permits were issued for John Kuczajada and Melvin Whitaker.

Bills were presented. Bills as follows:

Penn Salt Co., $29.50; Baldy's Sunoco, $18.83; E. L. Schwaderer, $25.30; Diamond Salt Co., $187.50; Wallace Stone Co., $14.89; Brinker Lumber Co., $271.36; C. C. Chronicle, $22.41; Bigelow Hardware, $52.59; Art Esckilsen, $1.50; Shaw Contracting Co., $25.00; Reichle Supply, $71.63; Telephone Co., $15.20; Standard Station, $6.92; Village Tax, $1.50; Western Auto Store, $42.49; Meiser Station, $30.87; Auten Motor Sales, $4.75; E. Rutkowski, $13.25; Baker Electric, $7.91; Gregg's, $62.25; American Playground Co., $8.34; Bishop Hardware, $5.36; Ebersson-Ross, $2.23; C. C. Oil and Gas Co., $3.44; M. and M. Plumbing, $17.60; Mac and Scotty, $14.20; Maiers Freight, $3.76; Detroit Edison Co., $501.81; Park and Pool wages, $855.97; Steve Orto, $427.10; Wm. Simmons, $60.00; Wilma S. Fry, $100.00; C. L. Burt, $279.95; A. Hartwick, $2.00; Grant Ball, $8.00; Maintenance pay roll, $1579.96.

Motion by Benkelman and McLellan that the bills be allowed as read, and orders drawn for their various amounts. Carried.
Meeting adjourned.
Wilma S. Fry, Clerk.

A Superstition
Our superstitious forefathers of three or four centuries ago believed that spectacles had magic powers to ward off or cure certain diseases.

Cannibalism Serious In Young Chickens

Tuscola County poultry raisers were warned today to watch for cannibalism in their flocks when the young pullets are beginning to lay.

Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent, said that cannibalism often becomes a serious problem about this time of year. It's easier to stop any cannibalistic traits before they develop too strongly, he said.

It may carry over from habits developed in the brooder house. Or, if it shows up for the first time when the pullets begin to lay, cannibalism may be the result of some pullets laying oversized eggs and having a "blowout" or prolapse of the oviduct. Other pullets notice the blood and begin picking the bird.

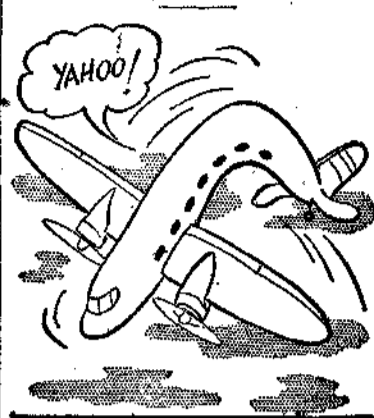

Other possible causes of cannibalism, which brings severe losses in some flocks, are crowded conditions, extreme heat, laying nests too close to the feeding troughs or excessive nervousness of the flock, Ballweg explained.

He points out that cannibalism is strictly a habit after it starts. It sometimes develops to a point where a large percentage of the flock is killed.

The most successful method of controlling the habit is debeaking with an electric debeaker. This job can be done anytime during the chicken's life. This practice amounts to taking off about half of the upper beak with a hit knife.

Debeaking will not lower production nor lower the amount of feed eaten if feed is provided in feeders. Foultrymen have used many other remedies, such as painting windows red, putting salt in the drinking water and applying red anti-pick ointment to the various parts of the birds being picked.

RIDERS IN THE SKY

A cowboy boarded our airliner at Santa Fe, N. Mex., on a day when gusty mountain winds made flying pretty rough. In spite of the hostess's numerous requests, he refused to fasten his seat belt.

"Young lady," he snorted, "for 30 years I've rode everything I ever mounted, and I ain't about to be saddle tied now. Let'er buck! I'll ride 'er."

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Bargains.

It has been said there's a little bit of larceny in each of us. It is also true that very few of us can turn down a bargain. Have you ever gone to Farm Auction Sales and returned home with bargains that turned out to be junk in the light of logic the next day?

Every once in a while we hear stories of fly-by-night operators that flit through the countryside with big bargains for farmers. This practice has been going on for centuries and will continue to thrive as long as folks are willing to take a chance.

The peddler who comes to your door with a gadget is only a smaller specie of the clan. Being taken for a dollar or two can be chalked up as experience and shrugged off with a laugh, and not much harm done.

Big Time Operators.

When a farmer gets stuck with a five-hundred dollar swindle, it ceases to be a laughing matter. These highway merchants appear at the farmer's door and offer materials and services at apparently great savings. Their promises and guarantees are unlimited. Usually a full season passes before the buyer realizes how badly he has been bilked—but then it's much too late. These short cut artists seem to come in regular cycles. Some years they are scarce—other seasons in great numbers. Their whole operation depends on speed. They talk fast, promise anything, do the job quickly and leave in a hurry—with your hard earned dollars. Maybe some of them are honest but a lot of them are not.

Within Reach.

When I spend a lot of money for some item, I want certain promises of quality and performance. More than that, I want to be able to get my hands on the merchant that sold me a bill of goods and be able to hold him to his guarantees. I can't do this if I don't know where to locate the seller.

That brings the local merchant into the picture. In order for him to stay in business he has got to be a man of his word and stand back of what he sells. If a purchase turns sour you know where you can find him. A small town merchant cannot misrepresent and fail to give satisfaction. News travels fast.

The local merchant is your friend. He is out to make a living and he is also selling to stay in business. He will charge you a fair price for honest merchandise and services.

A farmer is in business for himself just the same as the town shopkeeper. Everything the farmer buys is an investment in his own operation. The average farmer has about $25,000 tied up in his land, buildings and machinery. This amount is comparable to the stake in a city business.

Folks in a rural community are more than neighbors. They depend on one another for a livelihood. Don't get taken in by a smooth talker and a big story. Patronize the man who has to meet you face to face every day of the year.

Consolidation

Stella Roman, Metropolitan Opera singer, passes on the yarn about Picasso asking a Paris waiter, "What do you think of my paintings?"

The waiter admitted, "I don't always understand them."

Picasso asked, "Do you understand Chinese? No? Well, there are 500 million people who do."

'Nuff Said

An English poet, having become a citizen of the United States, was citing the benefits achieved by this step to a group of old compatriots in London. "And to cap it all," he concluded, "I am now one of the victors of the American Revolution."

Michigan Mirror News Briefs

If the weather has been hot, the political picture most certainly hasn't. Capitol activity has fallen off to the lowest summer in years, with only the occasional hum of a few politicians laying foundations for fall maneuvering to break the monotony. Only action worthy of mention has been among Democrat incumbents, Governor Williams and U. S. Senator Moody and Republican aspirants Fred M. Alger, Jr., and John B. Martin, Jr.

Williams, who has not yet announced he will run again, has been crossing frequently between the governor's summer home on Mackinac Island and the mainland. Alger, who would like to displace Williams, has been touring the state in an unfamiliar Alger style, speaking to many groups and crossing several questions.

Senator Moody is hard to find. He's in and out of Michigan so often his associates find it difficult to keep track of him. Martin, who wants Moody's job, is being an aggressive Republican, currently touring the upper peninsula and objecting strenuously and publicly to anything from Democratic sections.

Auditor General John B. Martin, Jr., has lashed out at the Liquor Control Commission's power "to throw out of line the entire budgeting process of the state by increasing liquor inventory." Commission Chairman George Burke, Jr., said tersely, "Martin makes noises like a candidate for the U. S. Senate."

The vacation season is at its height with traffic streaming through Michigan from every state in the union. Slowed up by chilly weather for a while, resorters hope now for a near-record year. Auto travel across the Straits was up 12.9 percent in the first seven months of the year. Ferries carried 321,285 cars in that period as against 272,030 in the same time last year.

State park and recreation areas are about on par with last year, but the number of outstate fishing licenses issued have gone up. Parks have had over 7,422,000 visitors thus far.

The State Defense Council hopes to get mass blood typing done cheaper and quicker. A second experiment has been ordered. Method to be tested is said to cost 83 cents and give persons their blood types in three minutes. The system now being used costs $1.10, and results aren't known for a month.

The Michigan State Bar will be asked to get behind a forced reapportionment of the legislature, a move long opposed by rural and upstate interests. Committee making the recommendation says reapportionment should remain based on population but should eliminate the Molyet clause which permits a county to have one representative in the house though lacking sufficient population.

How does industry feel about Michigan? A survey by the State Department of Economic Development shows manufacturers like proximity to manufacturers' market, availability of skilled labor, nearness to materials and general characteristics of state as place to live.

They dislike high wage levels, low productivity—especially in Detroit—distance from markets and distance from steel sources.

No more enrollment padding has been found in Michigan schools. Twelve districts have been audited, 288 yet to go.

Michigan now ranks fifth in total motor truck registrations with 266,360 listed. California leads with 571,452.

Business apparently is good in the state. Reo Motors of Lansing reports that it sold $11,865,000 worth of lawn mowers in 1950-51. At the same time General Motors announces a $1 per share dividend on common stock and Oldsmobile says it will build a half-million cars a year by 1960.

New and used car dealers expect an upsurge in sales, but they aren't sure whether it will result from easier credit terms or fears of a price increase.

The Michigan Health Council is producing a movie on how to go about organizing a community health council. Most of the action is being filmed in Michigan towns.

Agricultural economists at Michigan State College predicts a substantial increase in egg prices in the next few months. They also see a continued strong demand for pork, a record U. S. corn crop and a plentiful supply of peaches.

Last year five health department mobile X-ray units, working at 81 county fairs, took 56,658 x-rays, of which 1,087 revealed chest abnormalities and 518 indicated tuberculosis.

This year four mobile units will take free X-rays at county fairs as follows: Ionia, Aug. 6-11; Mt. Pleasant, Aug. 21-25; Jackson, Aug. 27-29; Charlotte, Aug. 28-Sept. 1; Harrison, Sept. 11-15, and the State Fair at Detroit, Aug. 31-Sept. 8.

Contented

"All those who want to go to Heaven will kindly rise," said the minister of a smallish Maine congregation—possibly to make sure everybody was awake.

All but one man in a pew near the rear rose promptly.

"Hm-m-m," mused the minister.

"Now anybody who wants to go to Hades will please stand up."

The congregation tittered and stole a look at the member who had remained seated earlier. Again he didn't move.

"Am I to understand, Brother Caldwell, that you want to go neither to Heaven nor the other place?"

"That's it exactly," was the reply. "I like it right here."

Quick Thinker

Official—"No, I can't find you a job. I have so many people here after jobs that I can't even remember their names."

Applicant—"Couldn't you give me the job of keeping record of them?"

DIVISION OF LABOR

We once had a very capable Negro woman working for us. Her husband, however, was a happy-go-lucky fellow who, although very likable, never seemed able to keep a job and seldom bothered to try. One day I asked her why she put up with him. Without hesitating she said, "It's like this, Mis'. I makes de livin' and he makes de livin' worthwhile."

SHORT STORY
Wrong And Right
By Richard H. Wilkinson

OF COURSE it was wrong for Johnny to kiss her and it was right for Jinny to slap his face. They stood there with the desk chair between them, staring at each other for a full moment. Jinny recovered first. She turned away and walked to the door with her head high and went out.

Johnny sighed and sat down at his desk. He was amazed and disgusted with himself. Ten minutes ago he had been the practical executive. He had rung for his secretary, Miss Alyne, and a girl with titian colored hair and blue eyes had appeared instead.

"I'm Jinny Allison," she explained matter-of-factly. "Miss Alyne is ill today and I'm taking her place."

She had stood looking at him from the other side of the chair, and without saying a word he had reached out and pulled her toward him and kissed her, and she had slapped his face.

Sitting at his desk Johnny wondered why he hadn't noticed Jinny Allison before. She must be new, he told himself. He gestured angrily. What a fool he'd made of himself.

He didn't believe in mixing business with—well, with things like that. And, he told himself fiercely, he wasn't going to begin now. Miss Allison would have to be dismissed. He couldn't have a girl around whom he'd kissed and who might think of him as—well, in that way.

He stood up, grimly determined. The matter had better be attended to at once. Half way to the outer office he stopped short. Suppose Miss Allison had already quit? Probably she had. The possibility that this might be the case brought on a sense of panic. He rushed to the door and opened it, was vastly relieved to discover a titian-colored head bent over a desk close by the door.

He went back to his own desk. Well, she hadn't quit and he wouldn't fire her. No, he decided to let her stay and ignore her entirely.

During the remainder of the morning he put Miss Allison from his mind. When he had letters to dictate he rang for a stenographer in exaggerated unconcern. And when prim Abby Nathan appeared he told himself he was relieved.

THAT night Johnny went to sleep putting Jinny out of his mind. The next morning he reached the office before nine. At 9:15 he opened the door of the outer office and breathed easy again when he saw that Jinny was at her post. At noon he looked toward her desk on his way out, caught her eye and felt strangely sick when she turned coldly away. During lunch he became pretty grim, admitting to himself that he was making rather a mess of his resolve. Miss Allison would have to go. There was no use, he just couldn't concentrate with her on his conscience. It would solve the whole problem to have her out of his sight.

His first act on reaching the office was to call Miss Nathan and ask her to send in Miss Allison.

Jinny, notebook in hand, entered and stood looking at him from the other side of the interview chair just as she had the day he had kissed her.

"Miss Allison," he began, and stopped. He cleared his throat importantly. "Miss Allison, I've called you in to—apologize for what happened the day before yesterday."

"Oh," said Jinny. "I don't want you to think," Johnny went on, scarcely recognizing his own voice, "that I—er—kiss—er—act that way with all—with other stenographers."

"Oh, I don't," said Jinny, her eyes wide.

"In fact," said Johnny, "you're the first one, I mean, well—" He stopped, desperate, panicky, angry. "Miss Allison, you're fired!"

"Oh!" said Jinny. Johnny gulped. "No, I don't mean that! What I mean is, I can't concentrate unless—unless—we have an understanding. Oh, the devil! That wasn't what I intended to say at all. I mean, Miss Allison, would you like to go out to dinner with me?"

"It might be nice," Jinny agreed

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leslie, Decker, announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Jack Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milligan of Cass City. The couple have not decided on a definite date for their wedding.

Couple Speak Vows At St. Agatha Church

Miss Marilyn Ann Langlois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Langlois, became the bride of Robert Richard Balzar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Balzar, Unionville, Saturday, 9:00 a. m., in St. Agatha's church. The Rev. Lucien Bourget officiated at the nuptial Mass.

Various colored gladioli, palms and candles made up the background for the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with plain bodice and wrist point sleeves. A full skirt, trimmed with lace and ruffle inserts, fell into a cathedral train and her veil was of finger-tip length. Her bouquet consisted of gladioli and white roses.

Mildred Schwartz, maid of honor, wore yellow nylon net over taffeta with a lace bodice and Chinese collar. The bridesmaids, Elizabeth Balzar of Hazel Park, aunt of the bridegroom, Dorothy Proulx, cousin of the bride, and Bonnie Jacoby of Unionville, wore identical floor length gowns of pink, green and orchid. Their picture hats matched their gowns. Lawrence Langlois, brother of the bride, and William Balzar of Hazel Park, uncle of the groom, were his attendants. Patrick Goslin and Duane Ewald of Unionville, were ushers.

Mrs. Ray Toohy played and during the Mass "Ava Maria" was sung.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served to sixty members of the family at Arbeiter Hall, Sebewaing, and a reception was held. There were 450 guests in attendance.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a red and black suit. Upon their return, they will make their home at 1054 Saratoga Ave., Detroit.

Guests came from Marine City, Flint, Bay City, Pontiac, Detroit, Hazel Park and Royal Oak.

Blind Spot

At the back of every human eye is a spot or disk about a twelfth of an inch in diameter which is insensitive to light, so that the act of seeing cannot occur there.

New Evidence

Vatican archeologists, unearthing purported new evidence that Peter lived his last years in Rome, have found bones believed to be those of the apostle, although no official pronouncement yet has been made.

Standard Item

The silver nutmeg grater was a standard pocket piece of gentlemen two centuries ago. Apparently it was roughly a parallel of the cigarette lighter of today.

Life Expectancy Progress in extending the average length of life has been more rapid in the industrial population than in the population as a whole.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

Q: What fish is considered the chief contender for the title of Champion of the Deep?

Q: Can a true French gourmet enjoy American cooking?

A: The famous industrial designer, Raymond Loewy in his book, "Never Leave Well Enough Alone," tells us that once he entertained Justin Lauren-Frings, past president of Club des Cent, a noted French epicurean group, and cooked for his guest a typical American dinner including cream of fresh clams, fried chicken Maryland, corn

A: It is the sawfish, in the opinion of Thomas William Helm III who tells about this vicious ocean denizen in Sports Afield. According to Helm, sawfish, though not recognized man-eaters, have killed and maimed men, and have taught many a shark a lesson fatal in its learning. A 12-foot sawfish with 10 bullets in its head literally came to life in a 17-foot catboat; jacked and recoiled explosively; cut the legs from one hapless fisherman and slapped another into the sea; splintered the craft and then swam away seemingly unharmed.

critters, braised endive, romaine salad, and old fashioned strawberry shortcake. Monsieur Lauren-Frings enjoyed this experience so much that he came to American three times to repeat it.

Q: Could Red Russia's ground armies attack the U.S. through Alaska?

A: According to an article in Collier's by the Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S.J., Santa Clara University geologists, who has spent 25 of his 62 years exploring unknown areas of Alaska and other polar regions, a land attack by any invading force through Alaska is absolutely impossible. The Alaskan wilderness is so deadly, according to Father Hubbard, that any military force would be engulfed in it without our having to fire a shot.

Q: Who won the Battle of Bunker Hill?

A: In a condensed article from his book, "Appeal to Arms," William M. Wallace points out the battle was fought on Breed's Hill, and although the American volunteers were forced to retreat when they exhausted their ammunition, they killed or wounded 1,634 of the 2,560 British troops, or 42 per cent of the effective force. The Americans suffered 100 fatalities, 271 wounded and 30 taken prisoner.

SHORT STORY

Obadiah

By Richard H. Wilkinson

OBADIAH Nelson was a man of unappreciated qualities. For two years he had worked as clerk in the scenario department of Magnificent Films, Inc., and had thought up ideas for pictures which scenario writers wrote into scripts and directors produced for a neat profit.

3-Minute Flotion

reduced for a neat profit. "Lady Luck," Magnificent's most recent success, had netted the house something over a million dollars. Noel Norbert, who wrote the script received $2000, and Obadiah, who thought up the idea, collected his $60 per week.

Ada Adams, who occupied a desk next to Obadiah's and who earned $50 a week reading stories, knew what was going on and told Obadiah in no uncertain terms what she thought of him.

"Barnum was right," she said. "How a man can be such a sucker and still live is beyond me."

Obadiah blushed to the roots of his hair. "Why, shucks, I didn't do anything. It was just an idea I had that I mentioned to Mr. Norbert."

And Mr. Norbert collected $2000 for it."

"Well, how's Magnificent's $60 a week sucker today?" Ada asked Obadiah.

A month later Magnificent began work on "Love's Appeal." Noel Norbert had turned in the script after taking Obadiah to lunch. A week after that Ada Adams came into the little restaurant on Sunset boulevard where Obadiah was eating lunch.

"Well, how's Magnificent's $60 a week sucker today?" she asked. "They tell me Mr. Norbert has turned in another box-office success that you thought up for him. He's asking $2500 for it."

Obadiah's face went white. Without knowing it Miss Adams had aggravated a wound that she had inflicted five weeks previous with her first scathing comment on Mr. Nelson's lack of what it takes to get ahead. She was, therefore, astonished when Obadiah suddenly rose without a word and left her.

Outside, his cheeks still rather pale, Obadiah was hastening toward the Magnificent studios.

"Mr. Maurice," began Obadiah firmly, "I want to know why it is that you pay $2000 to Noel Norbert for writing scenarios that I think up. No, don't answer. I know why. It's because you think I'm a sucker without enough backbone to stand up for my rights. Well, let me tell you something. I mean, you can drive a horse to water but you can't make him willing—I mean, drink. Or something. Anyway, I'm quitting. The Pacific studios have offered me a thousand a week to work for them."

Obadiah paused, breathing heavily, and mopped his brow. "Well," he said, "I guess that's all."

"Is that so?" said Mr. Maurice. "Well, young man, you're wrong. That ain't half of it." And he punched a bell button on his desk.

ADA ADAMS was eating dinner in the same little restaurant on Sunset that evening when Obadiah came in.

"Well," he said, "I've been raised from $60 a week to $1000."

"So I heard," said Ada. "Congratulations. I'll bet you could have got more, however, if you'd gone back to Pacific and told them that Maurice was meeting their price."

"I couldn't," said Obadiah, "because Pacific never offered anything in the first place."

Ada stared in open-mouth wonder. "Well, well, well," she said. "And likewise, well."

"Even if they had," said Obadiah. "I couldn't have thought up ideas for Pacific anyhow."

"Why?" asked Ada.

"Because you wouldn't have been there," said Obadiah. "All those ideas I thought up were about you and me. Just seeing you put them into my head. Without you I couldn't think of anything. In fact," he added, "sometimes I can't think of anything with you."

Ada swallowed a scallop whole. "For goodness sake!" she exclaimed. "Obadiah Nelson, I didn't think you had it in you to propose marriage."

"Propose?" said Obadiah. "Who's proposing? But it's not a bad idea at that."

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five Years Ago.

Street Commissioner Hutchinson and his crew of workmen have just completed a cement sidewalk from the Striffler and Patterson Store north on Ale Street to the fairgrounds. This is an improvement which will be greatly appreciated by the public.

Harry T. Crandell leaves next week Wednesday with his show herd of 35 hogs and flock of 82 sheep on his annual trip to the larger state fairs of the central and middle west states. His first showing will be at Columbus, Ohio. At the conclusion, they will be shown at both Detroit and Indianapolis.

Among the swine are the following fine specimens: Crandell's Model, a senior yearling boar of 740 pounds, Harry's Dandy, a yearling, that tips the scales at 400, and seven sows, each weighing over 500 pounds. Cass City Belle, a year old sow, made a gain of 72 pounds in 17 days. She won first prize at the Iowa State Fair in a gilt class of 57 last fall.

Mr. Crandell's purchases of sheep for his show flock range all the way from $100 to $450.

Next Tuesday, August 22, is road bee day for the business men and high school students of Cass City.

Messrs. Auten, Hooper and Townsend were appointed to interview local business men. They found local merchants ready to participate and all agreed to close their business places next Tuesday, so that they could all assist in improving highways in this vicinity.

On Tuesday, August 15, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Striffler, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Ethel, to Robert H. Orr. Rev. S. Cormany officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Orr motored to Kingston where they boarded the train for Detroit Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Orr is the pharmacist at the Wood Drug Store. His bride is a graduate from the Cass City High School and for nearly four years has been reporter on the Chronicle staff. Mr. and Mrs. Orr have leased the residence of Mrs. Jessie Pettit on Garfield Ave.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Cass City schools will open Monday, August 30. With the completion of the new building, it is expected to add a strong commercial course which will include all the necessary requirements for office work. Bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand, commercial arithmetic and other necessary subjects will be offered in this course.

The eighth annual reunion of the Chambers family was held August 14 at the home of John Paul, south of Cass City. A chicken dinner was served to the forty-five present. Relatives were present from Cass City, Decker, Shabbona, Orion, Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw, Alma, Lenox, Richmond and Detroit.

Fifteen Years Ago.

Ensign Ralph W. Rawson of Cass City was one of a group of 48 officers selected by the Navy Department for flight training, it was announced at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Illinois.

Ensign Rawson is the son of State Representative and sister, Mrs. Hersey Young at Fort Morgan, Colorado. The trip was made by airplane from and to Detroit.

The Farm Produce Company's business the past year was one of the best in the company's history. Over 6,000 of the 7,820 shares of stock of the company were represented at the meeting on Tuesday either in person or by proxy.

W. J. Schwieger, C. J. Striffler, J. A. Benkelman, I. W. Hall, Smith Hutchinson, Charles Bond and J. E. Crawford were reelected members of the board of directors. Frank Reid will continue as manager of the company.

Five Years Ago.

Mrs. Helen S. Stevens, R. N., has purchased the Hutchinson Convalescent Home at Cass City and plans to take possession about September 3. Mrs. Stevens has been both superintendent and purchasing agent of the East Side Hospital in Detroit.

The St. Paul Methodist Church of Rochester was the scene Saturday at four o'clock of the marriage of Grace Adele Tripp of Rochester and Dr. James W. Eastman of Rochester, formerly of Cass City. Dr. Eastman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Eastman, Cass City.

The couple will honeymoon in the East, returning to Rochester in about two weeks, where Dr. Eastman will continue his practice as a veterinarian.

Little Stories about Great Hymns
Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah
 Guide me, O Thou great Jehovah
 Pilgrim through this barren land,
 I am weak, but Thou art mighty,
 Hold me with Thy powerful hand.

The composer, William Williams, was inspired to a dynamic practice of his Christian faith thru an open-air sermon by the famous Welsh preacher, Howell Harris. Williams too became a powerful speaker and singer. His first hymn book appeared in 1744 when he was only 27 years old, and contained this well-loved hymn of faith and trust in the Lord.

SHORT STORY

My Mistake
 By Richard H. Wilkinson

MRS. Luther was very smug. "Of course, darling, I know how happy and thrilled you are at being married. Phil is a nice boy. Dear me, I remember when Alvin and I were first married. I was just the same."

Mrs. Luther sighed. "The illusions of youth. Dear me."

Beth Franklin tried hard to maintain a role of gracious hostess. "Were your illusions shattered, Mrs. Luther?"

"Shattered?" Mrs. Luther laughed and suddenly looked wise. "Well, yes, I suppose they were. For I did have illusions about my husband, darling, just as you have about your Phil. And then—" Mrs. Luther's lips tightened—"he strayed."

"How dreadful!"

"Not dreadful, darling—fortunate. Oh, my yes. You see, Dave, my husband, is not naturally a woman chaser. He was frightfully upset and shamed. He promised to do anything I'd only not leave him. To this day Dave is repentant. He'll do anything I ask. He is humble and grateful, and I declare, I think I have the best husband in the world."

The orchestra swung into a fox-trot. Beside her, Tom Craig said: "My dance, Beth?"

"I suppose it was fortunate, wasn't it?"

Mrs. Luther leaned toward her young hostess. "So fortunate, my dear, that I wish others could benefit by the same experience. Your Phil is very handsome, and Gretchen Carter is very beautiful." She smiled. "Well, darling, I simply must be going."

Beth sat down at a window, cupped her chin in her hand and stared out at the rain. "Gretchen Carter is very beautiful." What had Mrs. Luther meant? Mrs. Luther was bitter and disillusioned. . . . Poor Dave Luther. How dreadful it must be to be constantly under suspicion.

TWO weeks later the Hempton Country Club held its annual spring opening ball. Phil and Beth went with the Craigs. En route, Dorothy Craig said mischievously: "Keep your eye on that handsome husband of yours tonight, Beth. They tell me Gretchen Carter has bought the most seductive gown. . . ."

Beth laughed. She strove for and maintained an attitude of indifference. Even later when she saw Gretchen Carter, blonde and gorgeous in a white, filmy gown that was truly seductive, she would not admit that what Mrs. Luther or Dorothy had said was affecting her peace of mind.

She danced the first dance with Phil and then, conscious of Mrs. Luther watching her from across the room, conscious of Dorothy Craig's mischievous glance, she deliberately ignored her husband.

It was quite by accident that toward the middle of the evening she saw Phil slip through the French doors out on to the terrace. Or was it accident? Certainly it wasn't accident that sent her eyes sweeping around the room till they found Gretchen Carter.

And then her heart stood still. Gretchen was moving toward the same French doors.

The orchestra swung into a fox-trot. Beside her, Tom Craig said: "My dance, Beth?"

"No," she said. "No, Tom, I—I've got a headache. . . . Excuse me, please." And she moved away, swiftly, blindly. Without consciously establishing a destination, she made her way out on to the terrace, stood there in the dim light.

Abruptly she saw them—two figures silhouetted against the sky at the far end of the terrace standing close together.

Reason left her. Logic fled. Seized by an uncontrollable fury, conscious only of one desire—the desire to wreak vengeance on this woman who had robbed her of her faith, she sped along the terrace, cried out in sudden anguish and flung herself toward the filmy white dress and startled face of Gretchen.

As from a great distance she heard a masculine exclamation, saw a face in the dim light—and suddenly it was as if an icy cloak had engulfed her and was holding her close. For the face of the man who had been standing with his arm about Gretchen Carter was that of Dave Luther.

Michigan Broiler Day Slated at MSC

Plans are under way for the first Michigan Broiler Day scheduled to be held at Michigan State College, September 12. The program will be of interest to poultrymen of the state, according to Carl G. Card, head of the college department of poultry husbandry.

Speaking on various phases of broiler production will be L. A. Wilhelm, of Purdue University; Max Miller, Detroit, Dwight Ballard, a broiler producer near Lansing, and Edmund S. Talucci of A. K. Zinn and Company, Battle Creek, along with several college staff members.

A broiler project has been conducted at the college for the past few weeks and the broilers will be dressed the week before for a special exhibit. A barbeque will be a feature on the afternoon's schedule.

NOTES from the
TUSCOLA
COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Extension plant pathologist informs the county agent's office that late blight has been observed in tomato and potato fields in Southern Michigan. To prevent the spread of late blight, spray or dust fields with fixed copper, nabam or zineb, often enough to keep all foliage covered. Spot rot, or scab, has also been noted on cucumbers in this area. This disease is favored by cool moist weather. To control cucumber spot rot, spray or dust with fixed coppers or a "carbamate." Directions for preparing spray or dust mixtures can be obtained from the extension office.

Vegetable specialists at Michigan State College are planning an interesting demonstration for the public on September 5. At that time the annual vegetable field day will be held at the College. Some of the research work to be shown includes irrigation and fertilizer trials, new varieties of tomatoes, sweet corn, onions and vine crops, and onions and potatoes treated with maelic hydrazide, to prevent sprouting in storage.

Cows in Dairy Herd Milk Fever Hits Top

Milk fever is loaded with bad features and the safest thing to do is call the veterinarian when you first discover it, Glen Reed, Michigan State College extension veterinarian, advised dairy farmers today.

Among the worst features of the disease are that it has a tendency to strike well-fed cows that are usually less apt to get other diseases, and it usually attacks cows between the third and seventh calving—the best period in a cow's life.

Dr. Reed said that the disease most often strikes the best milkers and told how to recognize it. A cow coming down with milk fever will stop eating, and become listless and slow moving. She gets weak and has trouble standing. A coma often follows, and death will result in a few hours or a few days unless the cow is treated.

It usually shows up within two days of calving. As the cow starts producing heavily she draws a lot of calcium from the blood. A calcium salt-injected into the veins will usually cause cows to get well in a hurry. Sometimes several treatments will be needed.

Some cases are different and require additional salts such as magnesium or cobalt. Another method of treating is to pump air into the udder, but unless great care is taken, this can damage the udder and introduce infection causing mastitis.

Although the exact cause of milk fever is unknown, it is accompanied by a lack of calcium in the blood, Dr. Reed said.

Industrial Foot Note

Forty years ago the expectation of life at birth among the industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Insurance company was about 6½ years less than in the general population of the United States. Today the figures are practically the same for both groups.

NEWS FROM DEFORD

Official Board Meeting—
The official board of the local W. C. T. U. met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Edna Malcolm. Plans were discussed for the ensuing year and directors were appointed.

The temperance film, "Contrary Winds," will be shown in the Deford Church Monday, October 1, 8 p. m. You will enjoy this picture, the moral, the characters and the film coloring.

Faithfulness Shown in Gifts—
Because of the condition of the interior of the church sanctuary and lack of adequate Sunday School rooms for the Sunday School of the church in Deford, the executive board and pastor, Rev. Edith Smith, called for a giving for this fund for August 12.

The church was nearly filled with eager anticipators and while all sang "Revive Us Again," each marched to the altar and placed their gifts there. In those few minutes over $700.00 was placed there.

On Monday night, the board and committees met in the church for further discussion and plan making.

Everyone was deeply thrilled in the experience, as their goal was set at $500.

If you haven't a church home elsewhere, come and enjoy this growing fellowship.

The W. S. C. S. met at the Deford Methodist Church at two o'clock Tuesday p. m. About 15 members were present. In the business meeting it was decided to have their next meeting in the evening of the second Tuesday in September at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayl.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayl and family spent Sunday p. m. at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ella Childs.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kelley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Norman McQueen spent Sunday p. m. at the camp meeting in Romeo.

Mrs. Helen Wagner and Walter Schlee of Pontiac were Sunday visitors at the Belle Spencer home.

Stanley, James and Danny Smith of Detroit spent the past week with their grandfather, Syl Ales.

Sgt. Alton Lewis left for Ft. Lawton, Washington, on Monday. His wife and daughter, Madelon, accompanied him as far as Detroit.

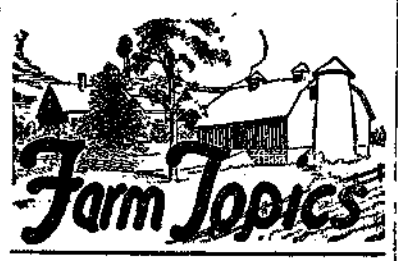

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Drace had as guests the past week Mrs. Drace's mother and aunt, Mrs. Charles Tyrill and Mrs. Hannah Hadden, both of Rochester.

William Zemke was a business caller in Detroit on Monday.

Nitrogen Starved Corn Produces Small Ears

Lack of Nitrogen May Show Up Early in Crop
(Second of Two Articles)
The ear of corn and the leaf shown in the photo below tell a plain story of nitrogen starvation. The soil didn't supply the nitrogen the crop needed, so unmistakable signs are evident on both the ear and the leaf.

The ear of this nitrogen-starved corn is short, but the kernels are well-filled and the ear has fair finish. Nature has an uncanny way of regulating the size of the ear to

Bean Research Plots Now Open to Public

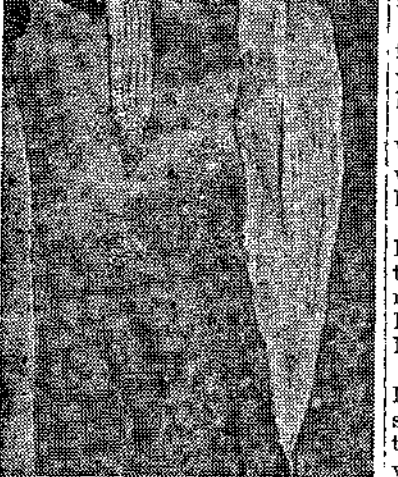

Farmers and others interested in Michigan bean production are invited to see latest developments in white bean breeding at the Henry Hetzner and Sons farm, 4 1/2 miles east of Saginaw on M-46, August 20.

Byron E. Carpenter, assistant county agricultural agent, said today that results to date in field testing and breeding selection work by Michigan State College and the United States Department of Agriculture would be explained at the program, which gets under way at 1:30 p. m.

Dr. E. E. Down, MSC bean breeder, and Dr. Axel Anderson, plant pathologist for the USDA, stationed in East Lansing, will conduct the meeting along with other college specialists.

The breeders have been working together for several years to develop high yielding strains of beans which are resistant to Virus 15, Anthracnose and bacterial blight, all three of which caused great damage to beans in 1950.

All of the 1951 field testing of white beans is being done on the Hetzner farm, Carpenter said. There are about 3 acres of bean plots with some 3,000 breeding selections included. About 2,500 of these are selections made for resistance to Virus 15, a mosaic disease which causes much damage to Michigan white beans in some seasons.

match the amount of nitrogen available when the ears are shooting. This is its insurance for seed another year.

When nitrogen is lacking the middle of the leaf turns yellow and dies. Signs of nitrogen starvation can show on the corn any time from the knee-high stage to maturity. Early hints are skinny stalks and pale green leaves. "Firing" of the lower leaves is another sign, although it is often mistakenly blamed on drought.

You can add more nitrogen for your corn in three ways: (1) By having more well-fertilized deep-rooted legumes in the rotation; (2) By using more manure; (3) By using fertilizer carrying nitrogen. The point to remember is that no matter how much nitrogen the corn gets, it cannot build strong roots and stalks and fill out kernels unless it has plenty of phosphate and potash, too.

Besides adding nitrogen, well-fed deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover unlock tightly packed clay soils below the plow layer and let air and water in.

Bean Research Plots Now Open to Public

Farmers and others interested in Michigan bean production are invited to see latest developments in white bean breeding at the Henry Hetzner and Sons farm, 4 1/2 miles east of Saginaw on M-46, August 20.

Byron E. Carpenter, assistant county agricultural agent, said today that results to date in field testing and breeding selection work by Michigan State College and the United States Department of Agriculture would be explained at the program, which gets under way at 1:30 p. m.

Dr. E. E. Down, MSC bean breeder, and Dr. Axel Anderson, plant pathologist for the USDA, stationed in East Lansing, will conduct the meeting along with other college specialists.

The breeders have been working together for several years to develop high yielding strains of beans which are resistant to Virus 15, Anthracnose and bacterial blight, all three of which caused great damage to beans in 1950.

All of the 1951 field testing of white beans is being done on the Hetzner farm, Carpenter said. There are about 3 acres of bean plots with some 3,000 breeding selections included. About 2,500 of these are selections made for resistance to Virus 15, a mosaic disease which causes much damage to Michigan white beans in some seasons.

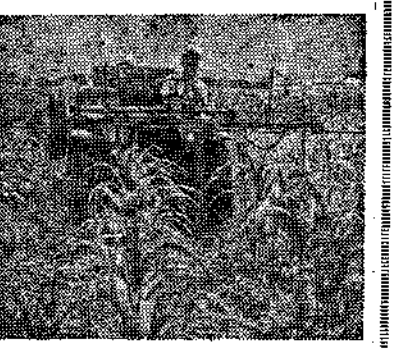

Citrus Fruit Processors Develop New Cattle Feed

Florida's concentrated citrus fruit processors have found a gold mine from what was once a complete food loss. In so doing so, the processors are solving one of the citrus industry's most troublesome problems. The problem had to do with the disposal of hundreds of tons of orange, grapefruit and other citrus fruit rinds, pulp and seeds.

The end result has been the development of a new cattle-beef and dairy-feed that is making cattle healthier and increasing the amount of milk per cow.

The new process dries and grinds seeds, pulp and rind of citrus fruit into a dry feed that has the appearance of cereal flakes. During the process, a juice is pressed from the former waste residue and evaporated into a citrus "molasses." After the process is completed the dry feed is put up in 100-pound bags.

Jeep Spraying

The jeep is challenging other equipment in the important farm operation of spraying to control weeds and insects. Big advantage of the Jeep is said to be that the nozzle of the sprayers can be adjusted to eliminate "float" or "drift" of insecticide into other fields.

Kansas Farmers Get $2 Million for Wheat Damage

Kansas farmers whose 1951 wheat acreage is insured with the federal crop insurance corporation are expected to receive more than $2,000,000 in total indemnities for losses sustained during the current crop year.

More than 300,000 acres of damaged wheat has been released in the state by the corporation. Release depends upon the extent of damage to insured land.

SOFTBALL LOOP ENDS REGULAR SEASON

Concluded from page 1. ing into the fifth inning, when Deford scored all of their runs to win the game—with errors accounting for most of the markers.

In the nightcap, Baker-Urquhart cinched a position in the playoffs by handing Ellington a two run, 9-7, defeat. "Moose" Willy, Baker-Urquhart's pitcher, hurled over a home run by Cliff Robinson to register the victory, although he needed help in the late innings.

In one of the most hotly disputed games of the season, Monday, Deford racked up a 6-5 win over Decker.

On Tuesday, "Chic" Holcomb clinched the long distance hitting for the season as he walloped three home runs to pace Ellington to a 14-6, decision over Alward's in the final game of the regular season.

MANY PRIZES AT LOCAL HOME-COMING

Concluded from page 1. The next 16 floats were awarded 50 cents and all entries received 10 cents for participating in the event.

Another event that captured the interest of the throng was the riding show staged by the Boots and Saddle Club of Tuscola County.

The children who finished in the first 20 are, in order of their place in the judging: Neiman, Albee, Jezewski, Hoffman, Hulien (clown act), Hulien (wild man), Fritz, Bryant, Gross, Horner, Ryan, Teller, Grenel, Holmberg, Borg and Greenleaf.

The only event in the show that a Cass Cityite failed to place in was the senior pickup race. The event was won by Betty Smutek and Doris Tomlinson, of Caro, and second place went to Waldo Garner, Vassar, and Dick Weber, Caro.

Carpetner also won the boots and saddle race for juniors by besting Jim McAlpine, who was second, and John Schlicht, third.

In the senior division of the race, Ken McLeod, Caro, was first, Doris Tomlinson, second, and Peggy Urquhart, third.

The final contest of the day was children's horsemanship. The event was won by Larry Curtis, Caro, Schlicht, second and Mary Shaw, was third.

Other winners and entries in order of their placing were: Bob Burns, Decker; Harold Copeland, Cass City; Ed Rayl, Cass City; Stuart Copeland, Cass City; Lawrence Seifferlein, Marlette; Jack Cook, Kingston and Clare Auslander, Cass City.

The Cass City Chamber of Commerce didn't fail to have enough events for the children.

First on the list was the wheelbarrow race for boys under 10. It was won by Jim Ross and Billy Kelley. Second place was awarded to Paul Holmberg and Ray Borg, while Robert Sprague and Bill Ross were third.

In the over 10 group, Joe Malace and Alan Field were first, Billy Freeman and Ed Freeman, second and Gary Knuckles and David Loomis, third.
