

Many Changes to Greet Students on Return to School

Students returning to high school this fall will find several new features designed to facilitate more effective work. With the release of some of the grade rooms to the high school, it has been possible to find new locations for three departments.

The Agriculture rooms will now be located on the first floor where a classroom, as well as an adjacent laboratory, have been prepared. The first floor location, with easy access to the outside, will make it more convenient for field trips in these classes. At the same time, the Biology department, which for years has shared rooms with the physical science classes, will take over what was the Agriculture room on the third floor. It is felt that this room, equipped with aquarium and growing room, will be much more suited to the new purpose.

New quarters for the Commercial department have been made from two adjoining classrooms on the third floor. A larger typing room will make it possible to teach about twenty-five students in one class. The extra room will allow authorities to arrange for a class in second year typing which up to now has not been in the schedule. The former commercial rooms will be taken over by the Journalism and Business Training classes with the small room, formerly used for typing, employed as a workshop for the school paper, annual, duplicating and similar activities, which have often in the past had to be conducted in classrooms while classes were in session.

Home rooms are also scheduled for a reshuffling with plans for two separate sets of rooms, one for students in grades seven through nine and a second for grades ten through twelve. It is hoped that, with more rooms available, no home room will need to be as large as some have been in the past. It is also felt that the new division will provide groups whose members, because of the smaller age span, will have more common needs and interests.

A problem in the athletic department in the past had been that, with a large number of first year students out for sports, it had been impossible to give them the attention they need while at the same time taking care of the varsity group.

This year, as an experiment, all ninth grade boys going out for athletics are being scheduled for a separate hour. This should keep a larger freshman squad out and give every boy a better chance to show his possibilities.

All students who were in Cass City High School last spring were asked to enroll for the new year at that time. An attempt has been made to arrange a schedule which will, as far as possible, accommodate their selected programs. There will, however, be a number of unavoidable conflicts that will need ironing out.

All new students in grades nine through twelve, as well as any who were in attendance last year but who failed to enroll then, are asked to report to the Principal's office on the third floor any morning during the week of August 27-31 for enrollment. With all students thus enrolled before the opening day of school, it is hoped that much confusion and delay in getting under way may be avoided.

When school opens on Wednesday, September 5, all students who have enrolled may pick up their program cards and, after a brief get-acquainted assembly, classes will be held in regular order. Such changes and corrections as are necessary will be made during the first week.

Miss Helen L. Christenson.

Joining the teaching staff of the Cass City School will be Miss Helen Louise Christenson. Miss Christenson holds a masters degree from the University of Michigan and comes to Cass City highly recommended.

She will take over the duties of Mrs. Mary Holcomb, who retired last year. Her primary duty will be teaching English in the Junior High School.

Miss Christenson was born in Ludington and attended the Ludington High School. She graduated with a B. A. degree from the U. of M. in 1949 and received her masters degree in June, this year.

Final Rites Friday For Mrs. Gallery

Funeral services will be held today at 1:00 p. m. at the Huston Funeral Home for Mrs. Anna Mead Gallery, 82, well-known Caro resident who died at the Caro Community Hospital after a two-year illness.

Mrs. Gallery is the mother of James and Douglas Gallery, co-publishers of the Tuscola County Advertiser, a Caro newspaper. She was born in Ovid, Dec. 2, 1868, coming to Caro in 1904. In 1897 she married Arthur D. Gallery, publisher of the Caro paper. Mr. Gallery died in 1942. She was a former member of the Twentieth Century Club, Wixson Club and Presbyterian Church.

Besides the two sons, survivors are one daughter, Mrs. A. R. Black, Jr., of Detroit; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Yerkes, of Northville, and Mrs. E. J. Frost, of Auburnville, Mass.; and six grandchildren.

Many Improvements Noted In Area Rural Schools

Grade schools in the Cass City area will start after Labor Day and many of the authorities in charge of the rural schools report varied changes and additions to the facilities in their area.

Many of the schools will have one-half month more school this year than last.

One of the largest grade schools in the area, Deford, will have 9 1/2 months of school this year in place of the nine months that classes were held in 1950-51.

The estimated 115 students going to Deford will be furnished books free and the school board has purchased a new bus to transport students. The new bus has not yet arrived but is expected in the near future.

Teachers at Deford this year are Mrs. Jacqueline Freiberger of Cass City, who is replacing Miss Gweneth Bills of Akron; Edward Billicki, Wilmet; Mrs. Betty Kinn, Cass City, and Mrs. Rayola O'Dell, Ellington.

This year a music teacher has been added to the staff on a one day a week basis.

Besides the new bus, the school has purchased a new desk for Mr. Billicki's room and window shades for the room of Mrs. Kinn.

Ferguson School. The Ferguson School will open

Tuesday, Sept. 4, with 15 pupils to start the 9 1/2 months school year. Last year the school term was nine months and 17 pupils were registered.

The children will have the advantage of new swings on the playgrounds and will be taught by Miss Joan Atkins. Miss Atkins is replacing Mrs. J. D. Turner, last year's instructor.

Crawford School. Another school starting the day after Labor Day is the Crawford School which is expected to have an enrollment of 27 students in seven grades this year. The eighth grade, consisting of one pupil, will be transported to another school.

The school now has 16 students in the Cass City High School, although the census roll shows a decrease from 62 to 47 this year. Mrs. Leola Retherford has been hired to teach at Crawford and will conduct nine months of school for the students.

Reports from Gageton School are not complete but school is expected to start there the day after Labor Day.

Large Per Cent Of Local Teachers Have M. A. Degrees

Not many schools in Michigan, or in the nation, can boast the percentage of teachers with masters degrees as are now on hand at the Cass City Grade and High Schools.

No less than 13 instructors and administrators or nearly 32 percent of the entire faculty have completed their studies and have been awarded advanced degrees from colleges in the nation.

Both the superintendent, Willis Campbell, and principal, Arthur Holmberg, have MA degrees.

It seems as if the University of Michigan is the favorite spot for local teachers to take their advanced studies. Ten of the persons holding advanced degrees received them from the University. They are, besides Holmberg, Harold Oatley, Miss Thelma Hunt, Otto Ross, Miss Mary J. Campbell, Orion Cardew, Arthur Paddy, Mrs. Marie Sullivan, who completed her studies this year, Miss Helen Christenson and Russell Kulberg.

Two of the present personnel at the school received their degrees at Michigan State College. Besides Superintendent Campbell, Donald Borg took advance work at the state college.

The only out-of-state school represented is Purdue. Irv Claxman did both under-graduate and graduate work at the Indiana school.

Besides the 13 who have received their M. A. degree, three other teachers have completed part of their advance work.

Farthest along the education trail is Bertha Mitchell, who is in a position to complete her work in the near future. Others with some advanced studies completed are Roy Benson and Richard Darnody.

Deford, Baldy's Off To Flying Start in Local Playoff Games

Two of the strongest teams in the league were off to flying starts in the playoffs this week as both Deford and Baldy's won their first games in the double elimination tournament.

Monday night, Elwyn Helwig hurled one-hit ball to pace Baldy's to a 6-0 victory over Baker-Urquhart.

Eugene Kloc accounted for five of the six runs for the gamemen as he pounded out two round-trippers for his team. In the second inning, he connected for a grand slam drive and in the sixth he homered with the bases empty.

Helwig backed up Kloc's performance by pitching his best game of the year. Besides limiting Baker-Urquhart to one hit, he struck out 13 over the seven inning route.

Rain forced Deford and Church of Christ to postpone their nine p. m. game Monday until the following evening when Deford squeezed out a narrow, 7-6, overtime victory.

It looked as if the churchmen would upset Deford, who only lost one game during the regular season, when they scored a run in the top half of the eighth to take a 6-5, lead.

But in the bottom half of the inning an error at third allowed Deford to score two runs and annex the victory.

Carl Kolb went the route for Church of Christ, while Koert Lessman and Harry Hartwick shared the mound chores for Deford. Hartwick received credit for the win.

Tom Ashcroft banged out a home run for Deford, the only circuit clout of the game.

Tonight Baldy's is scheduled to play Decker and Ellington is pitted against Deford.

After the games a drawing will be made for the second round of competition.

Sweeney's Angus Takes Top Honors At Huron County Fair

James Sweeney, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Sweeney of Sheridan Township, showed his Aberdeen-Angus steer to the grand championship in both the 4-H and open classes at the Huron County Fair last week.

Young Jimmy purchased the steer in February from the top Angus herd of John Zinnecker for his first 4-H project. The steer was exceptionally well trained and fitted, winning easily in both classes.

After entering and winning the showmanship contest in 4-H for a $12 prize, Jimmy pitted his six-months "know-how" against veteran showmen in the open class—winning the $150 prize donated by the Harbor Beach Bank and Huron County Breeders' Association.

He was complimented by William Findlay, of Michigan State College, who judged the show. Findlay praised Jimmy for the quality of his animal and the way it was handled.

The steer, weighing 980 pounds, brought 56c per pound at the auction sale on Friday, sponsored by the Huron County Fair Association.

Jimmy is a nephew of Mrs. Marie Sullivan and Miss Caroline Garety of Cass City.

School Needs Space In New Grade School

With enrollment at an all-time high, the Cass City School system will need the room that is to be available in the new grade school that will be ready for occupancy Sept. 10.

For Superintendent Willis Campbell has announced that an estimated 955 youths will be enrolled in school at Cass City this fall. Of the number, 450 are to be in the grades, 115 are slated for junior high school and 390 are expected in senior high school.

The teaching staff will have a total of 41 instructors on duty throughout the school year.

Two of the educators will be in an administrator's position. Mr. Campbell as superintendent and Arthur Holmberg, principal.

High school students will have 21 full time instructors and 18 will be in the grades. Besides these full time teachers, there will be three part-time instructors, in speech correction, first grade music and nursing.

These teachers will need the added facilities provided by the new grade school building. Supt. Campbell said that present plans call for the building to house the kindergarten, two first grades, two second grades, two third grades and an office for the grade principal.

The building has its own oil heating plant and is modern in every respect. The new school faces south and is located east of the high school on the former fair grounds.

The kindergarten room is 32x44 and the grade rooms 21x32.

Two Local Soldiers In Training Exercise

Two soldiers from Cass City, Pvt. James E. Connolly and Pfc. Harold Keith Mills, have arrived at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, with the 28th Infantry Division to take part in the huge exercise "Southern Pine" now in progress on the sprawling maneuver area here.

"Southern Pine," a joint Army-Air Force exercise, is the largest routine training maneuver of its type to be held in the United States since World War II. One of the largest units taking part is the 28th Division, former Pennsylvania National Guard Division, which completed nearly a year of training at Camp Atterbury, Indiana, before coming here. The maneuvers will continue until September 2.

Tuckey Reports for Duty at Air Base

Pfc. Charles Tuckey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Tuckey of Route 2, Cass City, has reported for duty with the 2472nd AF Reserve Training Center, U. S. Naval Air Station, Olathe, Kansas.

Pfc. Tuckey attended Cass City High School from which he graduated in 1949, and upon being recalled to active duty attended the Air Police School at Camp Gordon, Georgia.

Over Sixty Football Hopefuls to Report For First Practice

Coach Arthur Paddy expects between 60 and 65 football hopefuls to turn out for physical examinations and equipment at 12:30 Saturday in the first step towards resuming Upper Thumb competition this fall.

The group, to be examined by local doctors, will turn out for the first regular practice at 9:00 a. m. Monday, Paddy said.

Although it is early in the season, the Hawks are expected to have a better than average team this year.

Pacing the squad will be ten lettermen from last year's team that won six, tied one and lost one in eight games.

The ten lettermen and the positions they filled in 1950 are: Stanley Beach, fullback and quarterback; Tim Burdon, end; John Ellis, guard; Stanley Gunther, back; Alvin Hutchinson, tackle; Tom Schwaderer, back; Don Tuckey, quarterback and tackle; Bob Wallace, end; Dick Wallace, center and Roy Wagg, end.

Toughest competition this year is expected from Vassar, who handed Cass City their lone defeat last season, 14-7. Vassar has nearly an all veteran squad to defend the championship they won in 1950.

Coach Paddy will not have too much time to ready his charges for the opening game which is slated in three weeks. The Hawks play at Marlette, Sept. 14, in the season's opener.

Eva Marble Tells of German Reaction To United States

Rotarians were given glimpses of life in Germany by Mrs. Eva Marble, a former instructor in the Cass City Public Schools, who spent two years as a teacher of U. S. Army officers' children in Germany. In a talk before the club at the Rotary's Tuesday luncheon, Mrs. Marble said the States were made unpopular by the bragado of many Americans abroad and that movies sent from this country to foreign lands give their citizens a terrible picture of American life and should be gone over with a fine tooth comb before they are released for overseas showing.

The finest method for a better understanding of American life is the welcoming of foreign students for a year's residence in the United States to attend schools here. Here they may learn first hand the advantages of this wonderful country of ours, according to Mrs. Marble.

She admired the family life of the Germans as she saw it in her two years abroad and was impressed by the appreciation of music of both young and old. After relating several incidents of her army life experiences, Mrs. Marble exhibited pictures on the screen taken in Germany, Switzerland and Egypt.

M. B. Auten was program chairman and Don Borg conducted group singing. Recognition was made of the birth anniversaries of A. A. Ricker and A. C. Atwell.

Thursday, Aug. 16, members were entertained at a joint meeting of Rotary Clubs at Caro. Members from Cass City played golf and returned home with the lion's share of the prizes offered by the host club.

Huron Sheriff Nabs Henry Lubaczewski at Sebewaing

An intensive 10 hour search for Henry Lubaczewski, 26, double slayer of his father, Frank L. Lubaczewski, and brother, Ted Lubaczewski, ended at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday when Meritt R. McBride, Huron County sheriff, apprehended the fugitive at Sebewaing.

Sheriff McBride was assisted by Russell Armstead and Duane Wahal, Huron County police officers, in making the arrest.

According to McBride, Lubaczewski submitted without a struggle and was taken to the Bad Axe police station.

In his statement to Huron County Prosecutor, Arthur Bach, Lubaczewski said that his brother and father were mean to him and refused to give him money to go back to the hospital.

Lubaczewski, who left with a gun in his hand claims to have hidden the weapon, a 12-gauge shotgun, in a ditch by the side of the road between the farm home, six and one-half miles southwest of Cass City, where the shooting occurred, and Sebewaing. He claims he walked from the farm to Sebewaing, approximately 25 miles.

According to Prosecutor Bach, Lubaczewski showed little remorse over shooting his father and brother.

His account of the actual shooting followed closely the theory of the crime as constructed by the police. He said that he got up, walked around, and went in and shot his brother, Ted, from six inches away while he was sleeping. When his dad started through the door between the kitchen and dining room, Lubaczewski shot him in the chest.

According to the story given to Bach, the father and son did not struggle before the elder Lubaczewski was killed. In reconstructing the crime, police believed a struggle had taken place.

Police were first notified of the killing around four a. m. when Steve Orto, Cass City Chief of Police, and Dr. Myron Tazelaar answered a call to the farm. Dr. Tazelaar and one of the surviving brothers, Walter, from Gageton, entered the home and examined the bodies.

It was little Casimir Lubaczewski, Jr., 8, who was sleeping by his uncle, Ted, when the shooting occurred, who escaped with his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Lubaczewski, to the neighboring farm of Otto Ruslo to give the alarm. Ruslo notified other relatives of the family who in turn went to the farm home of Clare Turner to call the authorities.

Prior to the double tragedy Wednesday, Henry Lubaczewski had a long history of mental disorders. Both Chief Orto and the Caro police reported that they had arrested the slayer numerous times for minor infractions of the law.

Late this spring the family had placed Henry in the Mercy Wood Sanatorium at Ann Arbor. According to Walter Lubaczewski, he was released as being "not dangerous" after about three weeks.

To apprehend the killer, police organized one of the most intensive man hunts ever seen in Tuscola County. State Police from Bad Axe, Sandusky, Bay City, Romeo, West Branch, St. Clair and Flint, together with area sheriff's patrols, combined to hunt down the fugitive.

The bodies of the two Lubaczewskis were taken to the Little Funeral Home where the autopsy was performed.

Rosary for the slain pair will be held at the funeral home at 8:00 p. m. Friday. Prayers will be said at 8:30 a. m. Saturday and Requiem High Mass will follow at 9:00 a. m. the Rev. J. J. Bozek will officiate.

The Cass City Oil and Gas Company reported the largest volume in the 80-year history of the organization at the annual meeting of the stockholders held recently.

A dividend of 10 percent was declared at the meeting this year, the same amount that was paid last year.

At the meeting, all officers were re-elected for the coming year. Henry Smith is the president; Bruce Brown, vice president, and M. B. Auten, secretary-treasurer. The directors will be Ben Hicks, Roy Severance and Arthur Atwell. Stanley Asher was re-hired as manager for the coming year.

About 2,000 representatives of the state's nearly 60,000 4-H Club members will vie for top honors at the 36th annual State 4-H Club Show, according to A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader.

Goodall Appointed To Farmers' Home County Committee

Alfred Goodall, Route 2, Cass City, was appointed in July to the Farmers' Home Administration committee for Tuscola County. John McDurmon, local supervisor for the agency, said this week. The appointment was made by Roswell G. Carr, East Lansing, state director.

The new committeeman is a livestock farmer and long time resident of the Cass City community. His experience in developing a successful family-type farm, McDurmon said, fits him well for his new assignment in aiding other farmers to do the same. He will serve three years.

McDurmon explained that all applications for Farmers' Home Administration credit must be approved by the county committee before loans can be made. When a real estate loan is being considered to buy, enlarge or develop a farm or to improve housing and farm buildings, the committee also determines how much the farm is worth as security for the loan.

Advice of the committeemen is sought on good farm management and on the refinancing of Farmers' Home Administration loans when borrowers build up enough equity in their property to get credit from local banks or other lenders, McDurmon added. Farmers who can get private or cooperative credit are not eligible for loans from the agency, he said.

Goodall succeeds Roy Wagg, farmer near Cass City, whose three-year term expired June 30.

Members of the committee who will continue to serve are Alex Hunter, Kingston, and Loyd Pettiprin, Sr., of Caro.

McDurmon said that Alex Hunter was selected at the July meeting as the new committee chairman to serve through next June. Mr. Wagg was chairman last year.

Pvt. Lyle Deneen.

Pvt. Lyle Deneen is on duty with the famed 101st Airborne Division at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., according to a letter received by Mrs. Glen Deneen from Major General Ray E. Porter, who is the commanding officer.

Now's the Time to Cull Non-producers

Top Michigan Republicans who attended the annual picnic of Oakland County's Republican women, Young Republicans and Lincoln Clubs, heard a scathing rebuke of a "stagnant party" from Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman.

"The papers are full of the Fair Deal appearances of Gov. Williams and Democratic Senator Moody," Skillman said, "but who is heard in opposition?"

"Continuance of a subservient, docile, anemic and 'me-too' Republican Party can result only in a one-party system of government, and that would end our liberties as we know them."

Skillman said he spoke freely now because he was not and would not be a candidate for partisan political office.

In Skillman's audience were State Chairman Owen J. Cleary; National Committeewoman Rae

Hooker, of Mt. Pleasant; Auditor General John B. Martin, Jr., Republican candidate for the Senate; Treasurer D. Hale Brake; Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, and United States Rep. George A. Dondero, of Royal Oak.

Michigan's National Guard is at camp—at a cost of some $2,000,000. The expense of keeping our citizen army trained and up-to-date on modern warfare runs $18.41 per day during the two-week stay for each of the nearly 7,000 guardsmen in field training.

Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland, guard commander, told the men, "get the most out of your training activities—it's taxpayers' money that pays for all this."

Michigan's taxes always are news. The joint legislative committee considering the state's muddled taxation system and mounting deficit (a predicted $75,000,000 by June, 1955) has asked for suggestions from a citizen advisory committee. The citizen committee requests more information.

The legislative group states: The tax structure is full of inequities—either more money is needed, the present money must be better distributed or state spending must be reduced.

County fairs are experiencing a banner year. A general 10 percent increase in attendance over last year is the average report by fair officials.

Work on the new state office building is going ahead on schedule. Houses on the block-square plot West of the Capitol building are being razed and the site prepared for digging. What will be housed in the new building? The only sure bet is that the Highway and Conservation departments and Civil Service Commission will win berths in the modern structure.

Conservation Department experts predict a record-breaking number of fishermen this year. They expect dealer sales returns to exceed the 1,056,060 resident and

Now is the time to lay it on the line for the birds that lay down on the job instead of laying eggs.

That's a lot of laying but Carl G. Card, head of Michigan State college's department of poultry husbandry, says that August is the time to spot the loafers in the laying house and take out the poor-doing pullets before housing them.

Pullets with physical deformities and those that lack thrift or are weak should be taken off the debit side of the budget and sent to market. Most important in selecting pullets for the laying flock are pigmentation, plumage and body size.

The loafers among older hens in the laying house may just as well go to market along with the culled pullets, Card said. This is a good time to spot them and a good time to sell them, too.

non-resident permits sold last year.

Permits to hunt deer in the special December seasons are being distributed to license dealers. Those intending to hunt deer of either sex December 1-5 in the Northeastern cherry country or antlerless deer December 1-10 in Allegan county must hold a permit in addition to the regular license.

An above average yield per acre for all Michigan field crops has been predicted by the federal-state crop reporting service. Yield for hay and potatoes may be the highest on record.

There are 40,000 Federal employees in Michigan. Divided by 83, it works out to nearly 500 Federal employees per county. What on earth can they find to do?

Polio the crippler is with us again—or yet. According to health department officials this looks like an "average year," as no epidemics have been reported. They said 416 cases have been reported in the state thus far. There were 300 cases in the same period last year; 687 in 1949. The total 1950 was 2,029 cases.

Little Stories about Great Hymns
Hark, Hark, My Soul!

Hark, hark, my soul! angelic songs are swelling
O'er earth's green fields and ocean's wavebeat shore;
How sweet the truth those blessed strains are telling
Of that new life when sin shall be no more!

Angels of Jesus, angels of light,
Singing to welcome the pilgrims of the night!

Every Sunday, in hundreds of Protestant congregations, choirs and members sing this glorious old hymn of Frederick Faber, usually unaware that its author was of the Catholic faith. Faber wrote some 150 hymns in a successful attempt to expand the limited number of English hymns for the Catholic laity. "Faith of Our Fathers" is another that has gained wide popularity with Protestants as well.

❖ LET'S TALK IT OVER ❖

Everyman's Pride.
There are few things that the city man and farmer can compare notes on from one season to the next—except perhaps landscaping. In recent years, there has been considerable emphasis on the home beautiful in the country as well as the city. Farmers are taking pride in the appearance of the front yard—as well as the field. Michigan State College maintains a department dedicated to aiding the rural dweller in these matters.

Lawns.
For many years we have been amused by the displays of grass seed put up for sale in the spring of the year. Under very favorable circumstances a lawn of sorts can be started in the spring but trying to make this same spring lawn survive the hot summer sun is asking too much.

Plant Now.
A county agent once said that he could start a better lawn in the late summer with half the attention simply because he had nature on his side. He also set up a very simple rule about lawns and their care. Fertilize in the spring—plant in the fall.

The reason for all this comment about lawns is this: We get more inquiries about lawns than any other topic. Everybody has grass and it's always a problem. It seems as though more disagreeable things can happen to a lawn than any other growing plant or grass.

Getting back to why grass should be sown now. Seed planted this time of year has the able assistance of the elements. Ample rain—warm days and cool nights—a minimum of competition from weeds.

We would like to see the hardware stores and elevators with grass seed and advertising material on lawns prominently displayed for the next six weeks. A lawn is an expensive proposition especially if good seed is used. Plant now and enjoy beautiful, well rooted lawn next summer.

Burning Stubble.

The countryside is very impressive from the air this time of year. Last week we invited a friend to take a look at the crop lanes from an airplane. As we cruised along we compared notes on the various stages of the harvest—what crops were in—and so on. This passenger was a city boy and one of his questions proved most embarrassing. He wanted to know why farmers burned wheat and oat stubble.

We told him that wheat straw is difficult to rot even when plowed under. He asked if there wasn't some way to hasten the process by chemical or some other means. That was the embarrassing question.

Nitrogen.

Recent tests have proved that ammonium sulphate (nitrogen) applied at the rate of 100 pounds to the acre will turn the straw to humus in less than six months. The nitrogen is simply broadcast over the stubble which is then plowed under. Action starts immediately.

All this I admitted to my friend the city boy. He asked me why farmers burn their stubble fields and lose this valuable humus—the same humus which will increase crop yield the next year.

The answer to that question is: "I Don't Know Why."

A physician says a man is slightly taller in the morning than in the evening. We never checked on this theory but have noticed a tendency to become "short" before every payday.

What this country needs is a good plan where we can keep on spending all the money that we are spending now and at the same time reduce the taxes back to the 1935 level.

In a recent survey, taken to find out why people are so extravagant, up comes this answer. There are thousands of ways to spend money but only one way to save.

Hogs Need Attention During Hot Weather

Increasing number of hogs will be traveling in August and September, going to shows and market, and a lot of them will be heat-prostrated unless precautions are taken, Michigan State College swine specialists warned farmers today.

Hogs should not be crowded during hot weather. One way to prevent losses and crippling during summer heat is to move hogs during cooler periods of the day, preferably in late evening or during the night.

The MSC hog experts advised bedding the truck with wetted-down sand and making sure the truck is well-ventilated. For heavy hogs it will help to put a few chunks of ice into the truck. And hogs will stand the trip better if not fed too heavily first—especially if they are to be hauled any long distance.

Orto Reminds Motorists to Obey Traffic Signals for Safety

Steve Orto, Chief of the Cass City police department, reminds all motorists of Cass City that his department is cooperating with the State Highway Department and the Michigan Safety Commission in a program designed to make our highways safer. The campaign continues through the month of August.

This week, Chief Orto says, stress is being put upon the reasons for obeying traffic signals. "This is an all-out drive to save lives, prevent injuries and stop the property damage on our streets and highways," he said.

"Traffic signals are very dangerous," the Chief said, "unless all drivers obey them, because drivers approaching from opposite directions depend upon each other and when one fails to heed a stop light a crash is certain. Stop and go lights, yellow flashing lights, and red flashing lights, are there for driver and pedestrian protection, but do not provide automatic safety. If all drivers and pedestrians obeyed the traffic lights at all times there would be no accidents at intersections."

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler says that stop and go signal lights are placed only after careful study determines that safety conditions at an intersection will be definitely improved. He warns that drivers trying to "beat the lights" are the greatest contributors to intersection accidents.

Fred Auten, our Merchants League Secretary, has left his "bowling worries" to shift for themselves while he attends a two weeks Bankers' School at the University of Wisconsin. Fred told your reporter that Sponsor Applications or memberships were very slow, only five teams received. City League applications are on a par with the Merchants League, only twenty-five received.

We know that this warm weather does not inspire us to give thought to bowling. We think of bowling as a cold weather sport. Less than three weeks from the date of this issue until opening day remains. This doesn't give us much time to prepare schedules and league sanctions. Your co-operation in this regard will be appreciated. So let's get those applications to us promptly.

No foul man to argue with this season. You either foul or you don't foul. You can't fool the electric eye detectors. Who will be the first bowler to slide through the

PUBLIC INVITED TO SEE STATE 4-H SHOW

New events scheduled for the program this year include playoffs for the state softball championship and a home talent festival, with top acts from district eliminations trying for top billing and national contest consideration.

Nearly 1,500 head of top-quality livestock, thousands of home economics projects, as well as handicraft, electrical, crops, flower, conservation, and vegetable exhibits will be judged during the event.

About $20,000 in awards will be distributed to winners during the state 4-H show, the only one of its kind in the country held on a college campus and not at a fairgrounds.

The club members themselves will live in college housing areas and will see a bit of the inside of college life. College staff members, extension specialists and state 4-H Club leaders turn out en masse to help coordinate and run the mammoth show, listing more than 500 separate classes.

Highlights of Tuesday's program include judging the Chicken of Tomorrow, food preservation, school lunch, family living and similar classes and the sheep shearing contest.

Wednesday's schedule includes dairy, livestock, and crops judging, and plowing, public speaking, judging and demonstration contests. The evening program will feature music by the Branch County 4-H Club band, special numbers by professional entertainers from the WLS Barn Dance, presentation of 4-H achievement winners and awarding of special honors.

More demonstration contests, and activities will highlight the Thursday program. Thursday evening visitors will see presentations to outstanding 4-H Club leaders, finalists in the 4-H Club talent festival, and presentation of dress revue girls and other 4-H winners.

Horse, dairy cattle, sheep and hog judging will continue Friday. A clothing judging and dairy showmanship contest will climax the annual event which ends Friday afternoon.

Balance of Power

Laws passed either by the senate or by the house of representatives must be approved by a majority of the other body.

Good advice: Do today's work well and forget about what tomorrow may bring.

Miss Tait Honored At Linen Shower

Miss Alice Tait of Caro was guest of honor at a linen shower held Tuesday evening at the William Zemke home. Guests present were: Miss Tait, Mrs. Worthy Tait, Mrs. George Klein and daughter, Marilyn, Miss Sharon Montague, Miss Anne Gallery, Mrs. Thomas Walker and Mrs. William Stone, all of Caro, Mrs. Karl Keifer and Mrs. Harvey Soaper from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Miss Joan Hartwick from Rochester. Games were played and prizes awarded. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served. Miss Tait is the bride-elect of Donald Klein of Caro. The wedding date has been set for September 8.

Report Many Persons At Home-coming

The seventeenth annual Home-coming at Shabbona, held under the auspices of the Evergreen Community Club, attracted one of the largest crowds in the history of the event to witness the day-long program held Saturday.

One of the highlights of the day was the horse pulling contest, won by Norman Frier of Sebewaing.

Following Frier, came Martin McIntyre, Port Huron, and Mr. Raffie of Peck, who finished third. Other winners were John Jones, fourth; Leonard Copeland, fifth, and Lester Cross, sixth.

In the afternoon, Evergreen Community Club president, Lillian Dunlap, introduced J. P. Neville, who gave the welcome and Harry Severance of Saginaw, formerly of Shabbona, who gave the response. Senator A. P. Decker introduced the speaker, D. Hale Brake, state treasurer.

Two ball games were played. The Sanilac girls defeated the Huron All-Stars in softball and the Huron All-Stars won a baseball game from the all-stars.

In the evening, an amateur program and dance concluded the day's entertainment.

Largest Opal

The largest known opal, found in a Hungarian mine in 1770, weighs one pound and five ounces. It is in the Imperial Museum at Vienna.

Mistaken Idea

A mistaken idea among owners that hog cholera strikes a large percentage of a herd at one time is blamed by veterinarians for many needless swine losses.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

Q: What organized U. S. group has done the most to improve race relations?

A: In the opinion of James C. Evans, Negro adviser to the Secretary of Defense on race relations, the Armed Forces get the credit, according to an article in The Sign by John C. O'Brien. In this article we learn that never before has the color line been relaxed among American combat troops as it has been in Korea and in building up our armed forces. This, the author says, is a result of the policy proclaimed by President Truman in 1948 which accords equality of treatment and opportunity to all armed services personnel.

Q: Who is the hidden star of the Metropolitan Opera?

A: He is the promoter, Otello Ceroni, often responsible for success or failure of a performance, according to information in Morton Hunt's McLean's Magazine article. Ceroni, who takes his position in the little tin box at the front of the world's most famous stage knows

Q: Are the American Indian tribal chants disappearing?

A: The chants were in danger of being lost forever, as elder tribesmen died off, because most chants can only be spoken, not written, Joseph Stocker tells us in The Survey. However, Odd S. Haiseth, Norwegian-born city archaeologist of Phoenix, Arizona, has preserved for posterity on his wire recorder, 200 chants of 13 tribes, approximately 20 hours of playing time.

Q: Who completed the first coast-to-coast automobile trip?

A: Dr. H. Nelson Jackson of Burlington, Vermont, completed the first trip to win a $50 bet, but the trip cost him $8000. With a mechanic, Sewal K. Crocker, they left San Francisco on May 3, 1903 in a two-cylinder Winton. Two months, nine days and 6000 miles later they arrived in New York City. Three weeks of the time was spent repairing the car, waiting for spare parts and waiting. The story of this trip is recounted by Ralph Nading Hill in his book, "Contrary Country."

SHORT STORY

Obadiah
By Richard H. Wilkinson

OBADIAH Nelson was a man of unappreciated qualities. For two years he had worked as clerk in the scenario department of Magnificent Films, Inc., and had thought up ideas for pictures which scenario writers wrote into scripts and directors produced for a neat profit. "Lady Luck," Magnificent's most recent success, had netted the house something over a million dollars. Noel Norbert, who wrote the script received $2000, and Obadiah, who thought up the idea, collected his $60 per week.

3-Minute Fiction

Ada Adams, who occupied a desk next to Obadiah's and who earned $50 a week reading stories, knew what was going on and told Obadiah in no uncertain terms what she thought of him.

"Barnum was right," she said. "How a man can be such a sucker and still live is beyond me."

Obadiah blushed to the roots of his hair.

"Why, shucks, I didn't do anything. It was just an idea I had that I mentioned to Mr. Norbert."

And Mr. Norbert collected $2000 for it.

"Well, how's Magnificent's $60 a week sucker today?" Ada asked Obadiah.

A month later Magnificent began work on "Love's Appeal." Noel Norbert had turned in the script after taking Obadiah to lunch. A week after that Ada Adams came into the little restaurant on Sunset boulevard where Obadiah was eating lunch.

"Well, how's Magnificent's $60 a week sucker today?" she asked. "They tell me Mr. Norbert has turned in another box-office success that you thought up for him. He's asking $2500 for it."

Obadiah's face went white. Without knowing it Miss Adams had aggravated a wound that she had inflicted five weeks previous with her first scathing comment on Mr. Nelson's lack of what it takes to get ahead. She was, therefore, astonished when Obadiah suddenly rose without a word and left her.

Outside, his cheeks still rather pale, Obadiah was hastening toward the Magnificent studios.

"Mr. Maurice," began Obadiah firmly, "I want to know why it is that you pay $2000 to Noel Norbert for writing scenarios that I think up. No, don't answer. I know why. It's because you think I'm a sucker without enough backbone to stand up for my rights. Well, let me tell you something. I mean, you can drive a horse to water but you can't make him willing—I mean, drink. Or something. Anyway, I'm quitting. The Pacific studios have offered me a thousand a week to work for them."

Obadiah paused, breathing heavily, and mopped his brow. "Well," he said, "I guess that's all."

"Is that so?" said Mr. Maurice. "Well, young man, you're wrong. That ain't half of it." And he punched a bell button on his desk.

ADA ADAMS was eating dinner in the same little restaurant on Sunset that evening when Obadiah came in.

"Well," he said, "I've been raised from $60 a week to $1000."

"So I heard," said Ada, "Congratulations. I'll bet you could have got more, however, if you'd gone back to Pacific and told them that Maurice was meeting their price."

"I couldn't," said Obadiah, "because Pacific never offered anything in the first place."

Ada stared in open-mouth wonder. "Well, well, well," she said. "And likewise, well."

"Even if they had," said Obadiah, "I couldn't have thought up ideas for Pacific anyhow."

"Why?" asked Ada.

"Because you wouldn't have been there," said Obadiah. "All those ideas I thought up were about you and me. Just seeing you put them into my head. Without you I couldn't think of anything. In fact," he added, "sometimes I can't think of anything with you."

Ada swallowed a scallop whole. "For goodness sake!" she exclaimed. "Obadiah Nelson, I didn't think you had it in you to propose marriage."

"Propose?" said Obadiah. "Who's proposing? But it's not a bad idea at that."

The American Way

The words "Michigan" and "fishing" are practically synonymous at this time of the year. And after a day's fishing, it's the "American Way" to enjoy a glass of cool, refreshing Michigan brewed beer. For beer belongs... to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs... to our own American heritage of personal freedom. *Beer Belongs... More people have become successful by profiting by mistakes of others than by reading success stories.

A local man bought so many labor saving devices he has to work twenty hours a day to pay for them.

Many people who figure the world has an opening for them usually find it—they end up in the hole.

B. L. Middleton will move his ice cream parlors and confectionery store into the new quarters prepared for his establishment in the Ale Block, three doors east of the post office, the first of next week.

The store building has been all newly decorated and gives plenty of room, light and air and is particularly suited for Mr. Middleton's business.

The Sebwaing Blade is a good Country newspaper but it will be better from now on. Herman Muellerweiss, its enterprising publisher, will install a typesetting machine within the next week, thus enabling him to set more and later news of local interest. Thumb publishers are pleased to note the evident prosperity of their brother publisher.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Not many persons in Michigan villages have the distinction of knowing personally the much loved movie "sheik," Rudolph Valentino, who passed away in New York Monday, Aug. 23. Alfred Fort, our local fruit dealer, was a boyhood friend and playmate of Valentino in Castellana, Italy, living within a block of his home.

Mr. Fort has not seen Mr. Valentino since he was 14 years of age, but had planned to go to Detroit this week to see him and renew their friendship. His disappointment is keen because of the passing of his friend.

Saturday, August 21, was considered by the Cass City Oil and Gas Company to be the best day of the year. The total sales for the day amounted to $2,559.32. From Friday noon to Saturday night the company sold 4,850 gallons of gasoline, 1,000 gallons of kerosene and about $500 worth of tires and tubes.

Miss Grace Cole passed away at the home of her nephew, J. A. Cole, on Monday afternoon.

Miss Cole was born in Ontario on November 26, 1840. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:00 p. m. at the Cole residence. Rev. W. W. Edwards officiated and burial was in Elkland cemetery.

A wedding of much interest to a number of Cass City people was solemnized by Rev. Wade, pastor of the M. E. Church at Grand Ledge, on Thursday, Aug. 19, when Miss Helen White of Middleville was united in marriage to Edward Grant L. Reagh of Cass City, who is with the Army Air Force at Selfridge Field, Michigan, is one of the first men to qualify for the Enlisted Pilot's Course. Corporal Reagh graduated from Cass City High School in 1938. He also attended State Teacher's College at Mt. Pleasant for one year.

E. B. Schwaderer of Cass City is one of the three prominent highway contractors of Michigan who was awarded the contract for the construction of the runways and other outside paving at the bomber plant which is being constructed for the Ford Motor Co. at Ypsilanti. The contract involves a paving construction program amounting to close to one and a half million dollars.

Members of the Nazarene Church determined to erect a new worship edifice which will be located on a lot on Third Street, just west of the present church building.

According to the present plans the new church edifice will be approximately 40 by 60 feet in size and will be constructed of cement blocks.

A basement under the entire building will provide class rooms for the Sunday School.

The new church will seat 325 persons, while the present edifice has room for 120.

James E. King of Bad Axe will open a dry cleaning shop at 6414 West Main St. in the near future.

Mr. King has had seven years' experience as a dry cleaner at Harbor Beach and Bad Axe. He and Mrs. King will continue to reside in Bad Axe until housing facilities may be obtained in Cass City.

The business will be conducted under the name of King's Cleaners.

Footings have been poured for the municipal building at the Cass City Park which will house the new water softening machinery and other village equipment. The building will be approximately 80 by 81 feet in size, one story, and will be constructed of cement blocks. It is located 300 feet east of the swimming pool.

Keith McConkey, who has been employed with the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. since 1928, asked for a termination of his duties as manager of the local store. His request was granted August 15.

James Woodard, who has been with the company for five years, is the new manager here.

Mr. and Mrs. McConkey are opening a jewelry and gift shop in the store owned and occupied at the present by Ella Vance. Mr. McConkey has leased the building for a period of years and they expect to open the new shop late in September.

MSC Experts Say

Leaves Poison Cattle

A Michigan State College extension veterinarian today warned farmers that wilted wild cherry leaves are poisonous to cattle.

Dr. Glen Reed says that they often contain large amounts of hydrocyanic acid. Symptoms of poisoning include rapid, shallow breathing, a fast heart rate and staggering gait. Affected cattle go down and may die in as little as 20 minutes.

Some people are in debt because they spend what their friends think they make.

Caro Drive-In Wins U. S. Merit Award

Ashmun Theatres of Caro received official notification during the past week that the Caro Drive-In Theatre has been selected along with 16 other drive-in theatres in the United States to receive national recognition, the bronze merit award plaque.

The merit award, the motion picture industry's Seal of Approval, is a coveted honor awarded annually to only those theatres constructed during the previous year which represent the finest in construction excellence, layout, and scientific planning in relation to the patronage served.

According to J. M. (Jay) Thomsen, manager of the Caro Drive-In Theatre, there were 950 new drive-in theatres constructed during the year 1950 in the United States, all of which were eligible for consideration for the 17 Merit Awards. Mr. Thomsen said the Merit Awards have the same significance to the theatres of the nation as the Academy Awards have to the motion picture stars in Hollywood.

Several weeks ago, the Caro Drive-In received a two-page pictorial presentation in the Theatre Catalog, annual authoritative reference book of the theatre industry. Nineteen other drive-in theatres and 37 roofed theatres were similarly presented.

Selection of the Merit Awards theatres were made by the Technical Advisory Board of Jay Emanuel Publications, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The bronze Merit Award plaque will be formally presented to the theatre in the near future.

A safety warning that should make everyone think is the sign in a tombstone maker's window: "We Can Wait—Drive Carefully."

Test Wheat Land for Lime Needs at Once

Applying lime now on wheat land that will be seeded to a legume next spring reduces the danger of seeding failure, loss of seed and interruption of your crop rotation plan, according to James Porter, soil scientist at Michigan State College.

If the soil test indicates a need for 1 to 2 tons per acre, apply limestone while the seedbed is being prepared, after plowing. If the soil is highly acid—needs more than 2 tons of limestone to the acre—split the application. Apply half the lime before and half after plowing.

Mrs. William Dalton and son, Stacy, have gone to their home in Detroit after spending some time with Mrs. Dalton's mother, Mrs. Althea Kelley.

William Zemke and daughter, Mabel, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ward Roberts and family of Pontiac Monday evening.

Farmers See Value of Good Rotation, Seed On Bean Tour

Bean growers of Tuscola County had an opportunity to check results with that of their neighbors when visits were made to seven farms in the county on Friday of last week, says Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent. There should be no question about the real value of legumes (alfalfa and clover) and use of disease free seed in the rotation of Tuscola County bean growers for those who took part in the tour.

Highlight of the tour was a noon luncheon served by the Presbyterian Ladies Aid of Akron. Clarence Prentice, marketing specialist at Michigan State College, spoke to the group during the luncheon on problems faced by growers in the marketing of beans. He pointed out the importance of marketing only quality beans. "Marketing beans of poor quality may destroy the market for beans," he said. He also cautioned producers not to try and market poor quality beans by mixing them with beans of top quality.

Answering many questions and assisting with the tour were Michigan State College specialists Dick Bell and Paul Rood.

Cooperating farmers whose farms were visited were Arnold Zwerk, E. C. Korthals and Cecil Baker of Denmark Township; Lee Taylor, Jake Hellebuyck of Gilford; Joe Romain of Almer; and Harry Rohlf of Fairgrove Township.

Seven 4-H Winners Will Visit Chicago

Seven of Tuscola County's top ranking older 4-H Club members were working extra hard last week in preparation for their special exhibits at the County Fair. They are the four girls and three boys who were chosen as 1951 achievement winners and designated to make individual 4-H achievement booth exhibits at the Fair, showing the progress made in their 4-H careers. In November the achievement winners will be taken on a four-day award trip to Chicago.

The winners, announced early this week by County 4-H Club Agent George C. MacQueen, were Martha Dowling, Caro; Paul Findlay, Reese; Dorothy Irwin, Millington; Beth Luther, Fairgrove; Keith Mead, Mayville; Tom Sinclair, Cass City; and Gloryanna Taggett, Caro. Their booths are on exhibit throughout the Fair Week at vegetable hall. The winners were chosen on the basis of their 4-H project completions, leadership, honors won, participation in judging and demonstration activities, and their 4-H records. All 4-H members in the county over 17 years of age were eligible to apply for the achievement honors.

Each of the seven achievement winners is already making plans to spend four days next November on a visit to Chicago. The award trips this year are made possible by fifty dollar contributions from each of the following organizations and businesses: Hart Brothers Elevator, Vassar; Laethem Farm Service Company, Fairgrove; The Nestles Company, Cass City; State Savings Bank of Reese; and the Tuscola County Advertiser.

A trip to Chicago was given the eight achievement winners last year, which was the first time this kind of award had been made to Tuscola County 4-H winners. The trip will be planned and chaperoned by County Extension Agents, during the time that the International Livestock Exposition is on in Chicago.

TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Alfalfa meadows which are to be kept for hay or pasture should not be mowed or pastured during the month of September. The alfalfa plant stores its reserves in its roots in September and if the top growth is interfered with, root reserves are depleted, resulting in more serious winter killing.

Vegetable and truck crop growers should keep plants sprayed or dusted with copper or other materials to prevent blight and other fungus diseases at this time of year. Warm humid weather favors the development of the blight diseases. Apply new spray or dust after each rain.

Don't plant your wheat too early. There was considerable wheat damaged by Hessian fly this year. Watch this column for the "fly free date" which is the earliest date that wheat should be planted to be safe from Hessian fly damage.

My Mistake
By Richard H. Wilkinson

MRS. Luther was very smug. "Of course, darling, I know how happy and thrilled you are at being married. Phil is a nice boy. Dear me, I remember when Alvin and I were first married. I was just the same."

3-Minute Fiction

Mrs. Luther sighed. "The illusions of youth. Dear me."

Beth Franklin tried hard to maintain a role of gracious hostess. "Were your illusions shattered, Mrs. Luther?"

"Shattered?" Mrs. Luther laughed and suddenly looked wise. "Well, yes, I suppose they were. For I did have illusions about my husband, darling, just as you have about your Phil. And then—" Mrs. Luther's lips tightened—"he strayed."

"How dreadful!"

"Not dreadful, darling—fortunate. Oh, my yes. You see, Dave, my husband, is not naturally a woman chaser. He was frightfully upset and shamed. He promised to do anything if I'd only not leave him. To this day Dave is repentant. He'll do anything I ask. He is humble and grateful, and I declare I think I have the best husband in the world."

The orchestra swung into a foxtrot. Beside her, Tom Craig said: "My dance, Beth?"

"I suppose it was fortunate, wasn't it?"

Mrs. Luther leaned toward her young hostess. "So fortunate, my dear, that I wish others could benefit by the same experience. Your Phil is very handsome, and Gretchen Carter is very beautiful." She smiled. "Well, darling, I simply must be going."

Beth sat down at a window, cupped her chin in her hand and stared out at the rain. "Gretchen Carter is very beautiful." What had Mrs. Luther meant? Mrs. Luther was bitter and disillusioned. Poor Dave Luther. How dreadful it must be to be constantly under suspicion.

TWO weeks later the Hempton Country Club held its annual spring opening ball. Phil and Beth went with the Craigs. En route, Dorothy Craig said mischievously: "Keep your eye on that handsome husband of yours tonight, Beth. They tell me Gretchen Carter has bought the most seductive gown..."

Beth laughed. She strove for and maintained an attitude of indifference. Even later when she saw Gretchen Carter, blonde and gorgeous in a white, filmy gown that was truly seductive, she would not admit that what Mrs. Luther or Dorothy had said was affecting her peace of mind.

She danced the first dance with Phil and then, conscious of Mrs. Luther watching her from across the room, conscious of Dorothy Craig's mischievous glance, she deliberately ignored her husband.

It was quite by accident that toward the middle of the evening she saw Phil slip through the French doors out on to the terrace. Or was it accident? Certainly it wasn't accident that sent her eyes sweeping around the room till they found Gretchen Carter.

And then her heart stood still. Gretchen was moving toward the same French doors.

The orchestra swung into a foxtrot. Beside her, Tom Craig said: "My dance, Beth?"

"No," she said. "No, Tom, I—I've got a headache. . . . Excuse me, please." And she moved away, swiftly, blindly. Without consciously establishing a destination, she made her way out on to the terrace, stood there in the dim light.

Abruptly she saw them—two figures silhouetted against the sky at the far end of the terrace standing close together.

Reason left her. Logic fled. Seized by an uncontrollable fury, conscious only of one desire—the desire to wreak vengeance on this woman who had robbed her of her faith, she sped along the terrace, cried out in sudden anguish and flung herself toward the filmy white dress and startled face of Gretchen.

As from a great distance she heard a masculine exclamation, saw a face in the dim light—and suddenly it was as if an icy cloak had engulfed her and was holding her close. For the face of the man who had been standing with his arm about Gretchen Carter was that of Dave Luther.

George Seeger, 68, Dies at Farm Home

George Frederick Seeger, 68, a resident of this community for 63 years, died Friday afternoon in his farm home in Greenleaf Township, following a long illness. Funeral services were held Monday at 2:00 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. Robert Morton of the Fraser Presbyterian Church officiated and burial was made in Elkland cemetery.

Mr. Seeger was born November 20, 1882, in Lancaster, N. Y., son of the late Andrew J. and Mary Christ Seeger. He was married to Miss Lucy Hartwick of Cass City on November 23, 1909, in Sandusky.

Surviving are his widow, Lucy; two sons, Donald C. Seeger of Cass City and Gerald Seeger of Detroit; one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth (Rhea) Sweet of Lapeer; three grandchildren, Jimmie Sweet, Jimmie and Sandra Seeger; two sisters, Mrs. Sam Popham of Cass City and Mrs. Blake Sackett of Detroit, and three brothers, John of Bay City, Albert of Pontiac, and Andrew of Cass City. One sister Mrs. Chas. McCaslin and two brothers, Arthur and William, preceded him in death.

Local Members Play Leading Roles at Scout Honor Camp

Cass City members played a large part in the August meeting of the Order of the Arrow, scout honor camper society, at Camp Rotary Sunday through Tuesday. Dick Wallace was appointed acting Chief, presided at the business sessions, and served on two ceremonial teams. Jim Ware was assigned the second speaking part in two ceremonies. The second rank of the society, the Brotherhood Honor, was conferred on James Baker, while Roger Little was in to the order. Russell Foy and Harold Oatley attended the entire session, while Edward Baker and Ray Fleenor were present at the Monday evening banquet and ceremonies. The fifty members worked on several projects for improving the camp facilities.

Origin of Soap
Soap has been in use for many centuries. In the first century A.D., Pliny described a soap of tallow and wood ashes used by Germanic tribes to brighten their hair. A soap factory and bars of scented soap have been excavated at Pompeii.

Varied Program at Karr Reception

A reception was held at the Cass City Arena, Tuesday evening, August 7, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Don Karr. One hundred and thirty-five neighbors, relatives and friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Borg, accompanied by Joan Holmberg, sang several selections; also the male quartet, Don Borg, Art Atwell, Fritz Neitzel and Al Hanna sang in their usual manner.

Later James Milligan took charge of the music and dancing after which ice cream, cake, punch and coffee were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Karr will reside at M. S. C., East Lansing.

Five Area Residents Visit Local Soldiers

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Deneen and Patsy McQueen of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans of Gageton recently visited Pvt. Lyle Deneen, Pvt. Gary Evans, and Pvt. James Felske, all at Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky.

On their trip they toured through the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky, and took pictures of different places of interest en route.

While there, Pvt. Lyle celebrated his 24th birthday and in spite of the heat on the trip, all reported a good time.

An efficiency expert claims that most wives would be fired if they worked in industry the way they do housework. He'll have to be an expert if he gets by with that one.

Homemade Fences
A homemade electric fence controller is an invitation to disaster. The toll of dead animals each year is testimony to the fact that homemade controllers often turn into "booby traps."

Dupuis Leave for New York IGA Show

IGA's silver jubilee celebration—destined to be a virtual "World Fair of Foods"—will be held the week of August 26 at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Dupuis, IGA retailer at Cass City, will be among the more than 3000 grocers and their families expected to attend the anniversary party.

A unique, dissolving color slide presentation entitled "America the Bountiful" will be the continuing attraction at the action-packed meeting. "Sensational" and "instructive" is the description given to the vitarama production by J. Frank Grimes, founder and president of the Independent Grocers' Alliance of America.

National grand prize winners of the four nationwide popularity contests sponsored by IGA in its member stores will be introduced.

The principal jubilee dinner will be held on Wednesday (August 29), with Attorney General J. Howard McGrath as featured speaker. His address is expected to be of major importance.

A "peek into the housewife's future" will also be given at the meeting. The convention will hear a report on the "electric eye" checkout system which is expected to compute the shopping bill automatically and almost instantly.

Depicted, too, will be IGA's growth from 64 stores and $3,000,000 in sales in its first year, 1926, to almost 10,000 fully and semi-affiliated stores and an expected annual sales volume of $2 billion in 1951. Nearly 2,000,000 housewives shop every week in IGA stores, all of which are independently owned.

Mr. and Mrs. Dupuis will leave Monday, August 27, by plane on American Airways to attend the meeting and will return, Thursday, August 30.
