

Cass City Favored Over Marlette in First Grid Game

The Cass City Red Hawks played their final scrimmage before their first game of the year at Marlette Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock and Coach Arthur Paddy reports that the squad is in good physical condition for the season's curtain raiser.

The Hawks have a veteran eleven and go into the game as favorites to repeat last year's victory over Marlette. In the 1950 encounter, Cass City posted an easy, 32-0, victory.

Marlette has a new coach this year and reports indicate that they will be a better ball club with seven or eight regulars back to pace their squad.

Coach Paddy has indicated that the tentative starting line-up for the game will put Bob Wallace and Tim Burdon on the ends, Alvin Hutchinson and Charles Hempton at tackle, Dick Wallace at center and John Ellis and Arlon Kelly or Don Bartle at guard.

The starting backfield will line up with Don Tuckey at quarterback, Tom Schwaderer at left half, Stanley Gunther or Frank Creason at rightback and Stanley Beach at fullback.

Coach Paddy has indicated that several other players are likely to see action. They are Roy Wagg, Pete Martin, Graydon Agar, Clint Eskelson, Gerald Whittaker, Wayne Anderson, Dick Auslander and Russell Foy.

The complete 1951 schedule:
Sept. 14 at Marlette.
Sept. 21, Harbor Beach.
Sept. 28, Vassar.
Oct. 5 at Pigeon.
Oct. 12, Bad Axe.

Ladies' Aid of E. U. B. Church Celebrates Fiftieth Year

Fifty-four persons gathered in the social rooms of the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

Mrs. Arthur Ricker, one of the eight living charter members of the organization, took members back to 1901, when she reviewed the highlights of the year under the pastorate of Rev. Brumm.

Members can point with pride to the achievements made in the first half-century of the club's existence. A few of the notable accomplishments include the purchase of the communion linen in 1903, and the addition of individual communion cups in 1912. Previously, two silver goblets were used.

Mrs. Harvey Klinkman, vice president, was mistress of ceremonies and she read the 21st Psalm, which was followed by the Lord's Prayer.

Other parts of the fiftieth anniversary ceremony included let-

Butler's Record Giant Dahlia Still Growing

Earl Butler who lives at Caro, R 3, believes that he has the largest dahlia in Tuscola County, and maybe the largest in the state.

The giant flower towers nine feet high and is four and one-half inches around at the base of the stalk.

The flower has eight blooms and 16 buds on it now and Butler says, "the Dahlia is still growing." Last month when a measurement was taken the plant was approximately eight feet tall. According to Butler it has grown a foot in a little over a month—and that's quite a record.

She stated that she hoped to learn from the past to plan for the future in club work. Mrs. Henry McLellan gave the outline of the club work for the year. The program is flexible, designed to meet the interest of all the members.

An invitation to attend the flower show to be given by the Unionville Club was read and accepted.

Post Office Boasts Scales That Weigh Fraction of Ounce

When you take a package to the Cass City post office you can rest assured that the weight as given by the post office is correct.

For, with the addition of five new scales here, the post office can weigh any item down to the fraction of an ounce.

To prove their point, Postmaster Mrs. Andrew Bigelow and her assistant Chet Muntz, cut a sheet of paper 2 inches by 2 inches and dropped it on the scales. With the addition of the feather-like weight, the scales promptly tipped out of balance. The weight of the paper was too tiny to measure in ounces, but it proved the sensitivity of the scales.

The new scales are the finishing touches to the remodeling job done at the post office. The work included new boxes, decorating and shifting of facilities for added customer convenience.

Township Firemen Called to Put Out Two Unusual Fires

Two fires of unusual origin broke out in Elkland Township last week, one causing very little damage while the other cost the owner an estimated $5,000 to $6,000.

The big property damage was reported by firemen who were called to halt a fire Saturday on a drug wholesaler's truck on M-53, one mile south of M-81.

The fire broke out in the box of the truck and before the firemen arrived, had ruined the contents of the truck. However, the cab and the chassis of the truck were saved.

Lightning struck the barn at the Ernie McDonald farm Thursday, Sept. 6, and set fire to a bird's nest in the barn. The fire department was called, but the McDonalds had the small blaze under control when the department arrived. No property damage was reported.

Frederick B. Auten, Cass City, was among the 649 students from 31 states who have just completed a two-week residence session at the School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin.

The school, sponsored by the Central States Conference consisting of the bankers associations of 16 states, requires residence attendance for two weeks each year for three years for graduation. A total of 208 seniors from 23 states received their diplomas at the school's recent 1951 graduation exercises.

Attendance at the 1951 School of Banking enabled its students at Wisconsin's State University not only to meet a large number of bankers from all over the country, but they also had the opportunity of hearing the school's distinguished lecturers who are recognized authorities in banking, economics, law and industrial, agricultural and financial problems, typified by such men as Sumner H. Slichter, professor of economics at

Tuscola Farmers Protest USDA Book

Tuscola County farmers in a recent meeting at Caro, took a tip from neighbors in the Port Huron area and lodged protests against the United States Department of Agriculture's policies as revealed in a book entitled "U. S. Department of Agriculture Farm Review."

Most of the 125 farmers at the meeting had numerous protests against the book. Leading complaints were that the county agriculture mobilization committees failed to allow enough time to examine the book, that the book advocates more government control, tends toward Socialism and will increase Government employment.

The farmers voted unanimously to reject the United States Department of Agriculture's recommendations.

The annual meeting of the Tuscola County unit of the American Cancer Society was held Sept. 7, 1951, at the Hotel Montague in Caro.

Six Area Students Will Be Among New Members at MSC

Six area students will be among approximately 3,000 new students and transfers who are expected to be among an estimated 12,500 students who will enroll at Michigan State College for the fall term Sept. 17-21.

The six are: Sally L. Colbert, Carol J. Howarth, Marilyn L. Wagg, Tommy Townsend, all of Cass City; Frederick A. Ackerman, Gaytown; and Carolyn J. Hirsch, Snover.

The students from this area do not follow the trend in new students at the college. The new students and transfers will number 1,800 men and 1,200 women, according to Kermit Smith, assistant registrar.

The estimated 12,500 fall enrollment compares with 14,993 students registering for the fall term, 1950, Smith said. The enrollment drop is probably due to the uncertainty of international conditions, Smith said, and is expected to be felt by virtually all universities in the nation.

Breakdown of fall enrollment indicates that men will outnumber women 8,600 to 3,900.

School Days Bring Traffic Hazards

"How safe is my child?" The parents of children who are to begin school for the first time this month find this question their biggest worry, Chief Steve Orto said today.

"It is with the beginning of school," he said, "that the child most often breaks away from his parents' round-the-clock supervision for the first time and is exposed to the dangers of the street."

That the parents are justified in their fears is borne out by National Safety Council figures, quoted by Chief Orto, which show that throughout the country more than 1,400 children 5 through 14 years old were killed by motor vehicles as pedestrians and bicycle riders in 1950.

Since September—and the beginning of school—is a crucial month to the safety of youngsters, it has been selected for the State Safety Commission's month-long program of traffic safety education concerned with protecting children. The State Safety Commission concluded on page 8.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church will hold a bake sale at Townsend's Store, starting at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, September 22.—Adv. 9-14-2

Cass City will receive $401.56 and Tuscola County will receive $23,164.05 as their share of the first vouchers covering distribution of motor vehicle highway funds to the 83 counties and 487 municipalities of the state. The State Highway Department, under the new highway legislation, has submitted the vouchers for certification to the Auditor General, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announced.

Other communities in the area to receive money from the state are Ubyly and Gaytown. Ubyly receives $164.76 and Gaytown receives $87.83.

The two neighboring counties in the Cass City area each received a smaller share than was awarded to Tuscola County. Huron County's cut is $22,832.02, while Sanilac receives $22,684.85 of the total of $6,203,408.78 to be distributed throughout the state.

In accordance with the law, 44 percent of the total deposits of highway revenues made during the period June 1 to June 30, amounting to $2,729,499.86, will be released to the State Highway Department. Vouchers to the counties aggregate 37 percent of the total deposits, or $2,295,261.25, and those to the municipalities total 19 percent of total deposits, or $1,178,647.67. Under the new Acts, these funds must be expended on primary and local county roads and major and local streets in accordance with a formula established by the Legislature. The county funds are divided by law 75 percent for maintenance and construction of primary roads and 25 percent of maintenance and construction of local roads, after a mixed sum of $5,000 per year per county has been allocated for engineering services. City and village funds are divided by law 70 percent for major streets and 30 percent for local streets.

As the law provides that the counties and cities have until December 1, 1951, to submit tentative reclassification of primary and local road and major and local street systems to the State Highway Commissioner in accordance with prescribed standards, the funds distributed to the counties and municipalities for the two types of county roads and municipal streets have been estimated on the basis of Good Roads Federation studies and the best information available.

Gourmet Dish

The Harpodon lives in the ocean, in bays and estuaries, in shallow areas and at moderate depths. When freshly caught, it is described as handsomely and brilliantly phosphorescent all over. As the Bombay duck, bummalo or bommelo fish of cookbooks and Eastern menus, it makes a pungent dish. Some gourmets speak unflatteringly of its odor.

Headlamps In Daylight

The Road Research Laboratory now has scientific data to back the contention that headlamps are effective while driving in a daylight fog. The tests showed that headlamps made the car visible at a far greater distance in fog. However, side or parking lights were of little value.

Fine Furniture for Ranch Homes

With so many fine ranch type homes appearing on the American scene, a great demand has developed for various light finishes in furniture which will be suitable for their furnishing. Lined oak is currently very popular because the color is so well adapted to modern styles of furniture. Silver oak is another popular color, especially for occasional pieces. This effect is obtained by using a basic mahogany finish on the oak and then over-toning it with a light color. The rich natural grain of mahogany lends itself admirably to all kinds of blond finishes. Walnut, in various shades, is also quite popular.

Congdon Shell of Ecorse purchased the 50-acre farm, known as the old Bunker farm, from Henry Cooklin.

Sunday visitors at the George McArthur home were Mr. and Mrs. William Anker of Elmwood and Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Gillies of Pontiac.

Another telegram came to the Earl Rayl, Sr., home last Thursday, stating that Pfc. Elmer Rayl had been wounded on Aug. 29. On Friday two letters came saying only a scratch on the left wrist and that he had 24 hours rest and was sent back into action. He had been up on a mountain over a mile high where action was serious, but he said he was fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayl, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rayl visited their brother, Archie Lee, Sunday afternoon, at their parental home. When Archie Lee was taken to the doctor for a checkup, last Wednesday, the report was that he's doing as well as can be expected. The time passes quite fast for him as he enjoys the many gifts friends have given him.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milligan enjoyed the company of their entire family at their farm home on Sept. 9, the informal gathering honoring the first wedding anniversary of

Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Hartwick (Harriet Milligan) of Deford. Those present besides the honored couple were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hartwick and sons, Richard and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doerr and baby son, Henry, Jack and Fred Milligan, Jr., at home. Callers were Miss Margaret Leslie of Decker and Robert Matthew and the Misses Frances Mitchell and Bonnie Benkelman of Cass City.

Sunday Services—

It was expected that Dr. E. Ray Willson, Port Huron District Superintendent, would preach at the Deford Church Sunday morning, but he was ill. He phoned Rev. H. Kuhlman of Galetown, and he came for the services, also conducted communion. His message was enjoyed very much.

The re-decorating at the church is progressing nicely. There were no church services Sunday evening as there were no light fixtures installed. Prayer service will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kelley Wednesday evening if the light fixtures aren't installed.

There are to be services Sunday, Sept. 16, as usual. You are very welcome to fellowship with us, if you haven't a church home elsewhere.

The Intermediates had a fellowship party at the home of Marlene Ricketts last Friday night. Games were played outside for awhile and then some in the house, after which everyone enjoyed a wiener roast. Wouldn't you like to join this class, intermediates of the community? Horace Murry, the teacher would be glad to welcome you if you don't go to Sunday School somewhere else.

Light and Shadow Affect Decor
Light and shadow have a definite effect on the colors that are combined in a room's decoration. Because the wall area that surrounds windows is in shadow, it appears darker than the walls on which the light from the windows falls. Decorators sometimes have window walls painted in a lighter tint to compensate for this condition.

Pedestrians Fare Better
Pedestrians in Illinois fare much better today in traffic than they did 10 years ago. In 1939, 991 pedestrians were killed by motor vehicles but in 1949, only 564 were killed. In spite of the fact the motor travel has increased more than 35 per cent auto-pedestrian accidents have steadily declined. Illinois officials attribute the decline to successful application of the principles of engineering, enforcement, and education.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Meeting called to order August 28th with roll call, all trustees present. Minutes of the last meeting read and approved as read.

Mac O'Dell was granted a trailer license for parking on his property on Brooker Street for another year, motion made by Gross and Hunt and carried.

Albin Stevens read the transient photographer's ordinance as altered. Ordinance as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 46

An Ordinance Regulating Transient Photographers, Imposing a License Fee for Transient Photographers, Providing for a Cash Bond and for Penalties for Violation of said Ordinance.

The Village of Cass City Ordains: Sec. 1. No person shall engage in or follow the business or occupation of a transient photographer either as owner, employer, agent, solicitor or representative of said transient photographer within the Village of Cass City, Michigan, without having first obtained a license authorizing him or them to carry on such business within the Village of Cass City.

Any person or persons desiring such license shall file an application therefor with the Village Clerk, which application shall contain the applicant's name, his home address, the name of his or her employer, if any, and the number of days for which such license is desired. Said applicant shall pay to the Village Clerk the sum of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) for himself and Five Dollars ($5.00) for each and every agent, solicitor or representative in his employ in said Village for each and every day he proposes to carry on such business. Said applicant shall also at the time of making such application for said license deposit with the Village Clerk the sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) in cash bond to be retained by the Village Clerk for a period of six months after the issuance of the license to secure payment of any claims ordered paid therefrom by any court of competent jurisdiction upon any claims against said license arising from the transaction of his business as a transient photographer during the period of said license. Upon the expiration of six months the Village Clerk shall return said cash bond to the licensee, less any amount ordered paid therefrom by any court of competent jurisdiction as above provided.

Sec. 2. Upon filing the application and cash bond, as provided in Sec. 1, the Village clerk shall issue to applicant a local license according to the terms of said application, which license shall be signed by the Village Clerk. And every license shall authorize the person or persons receiving the same to carry on the business of a transient photographer within the Village of Cass City, Michigan, for the length of time and in the manner set forth in his application and license.

Sec. 3. A transient photographer, within the meaning of this ordinance, is defined as one who has not been a continuous resident of the Village of Cass City, Michigan, for at least one year prior to the date of application and who engages in the business of photography by soliciting from house to house, from an office, room, hotel, store, home or in conjunction with any local bona fide photographer of the Village of Cass City, Michigan. Said term "transient photographer" shall include any and all agents, solicitors, representatives and operators of such transient photographer whether or not they be residents of the Village of Cass City, Michigan.

Sec. 4. The Common Council of the Village of Cass City, may waive the requirements of a license and cash bond upon application therefor by any transient photographer, who shall establish himself with a regularly equipped photograph studio in a manner that indicates a permanent business, declaring intent to become a permanent resident of the Village of Cass City, Michigan, engaging in photography, and shall establish to the satisfaction of the Common Council that his intentions are bona fide.

Sec. 5. Any person who shall engage in the business or occupation of a transient photographer as in this ordinance provided, within the Village of Cass City, Michigan, without having first obtained a license above provided for, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine not exceeding $100.00, together with costs of prosecution or imprisonment in the County Jail for Tuscola County, Michigan, for a period not exceeding 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 6. The provisions of any ordinances or parts of ordinances of the Village of Cass City, Michigan, in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. In the opinion of the Common Council for the Village of Cass City, Michigan, this ordinance is an emergency ordinance and is hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, property and safety of the inhabitants of the Village of Cass City, and is ordered to take effect immediately upon its passage and publication.

Busy Communists

Since World War II, Russia has communized nine of its neighbor countries containing one-fourth of the human race (Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, Mongolian Republic, China, and Yugoslavia). In the same period, Western nations have granted freedom to 13 Asiatic states which hold another one-fourth of the earth's people. These, says the National Geographic Society, are India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma, Israel, Jordan, the Philippines, Syria, Lebanon, Indonesia, and Indochina's Viet Nam, Laos, and Cambodia.

Butting in, interrupting a conversation, whistling or making other noises will be deemed cause for removal of telephone."

Thumb Sheep Sale

The annual Thumb Sheep Sale will be held at Marlette Thursday evening, October 4, says Alfred P.
Bullwag, county agricultural agent.
The use of a good ram always pays. However, many flock owners believe that a good registered ram will be an especially good buy this fall.
In general the breed of the ram is probably less important than the fact that he should be a good individual of the breed. Flock owners who need a ram will find a good selection at the Thumb Sheep Sale.
Consignors are requested to consign a ewe for each ram. Consignaments from Tuscola County must be inspected by Fred Kirt, Ragenro, a director of the Thumb association.
Some flock owners will find nearby purchased involves an excellent place to select a ram.

Tiger Balm
For years the Far East's most popular patent medicine has been a salve known as Tiger Balm. Actually, no part of the tiger was used to make it (its official name was "Oil of Ten Thousand Gold"), but the picture of a ferocious tiger dominated the label on each tiny tin. Tiger Balm was the cure for any complaint from headache to housemaid's knee.

Venus Visible
During the spring of 1951 Venus is very prominent in the west in the early evening. As it is the first star or planet to appear at dusk, it is easy to identify. It will reach its greatest brilliancy July 29, and after that will quickly disappear from the evening sky. By the end of September it will be conspicuous in the east before sunrise.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Can Luscious, Seasonal Fruits Now
(See Recipes Below)

Fruit Canning Helps

LUSCIOUS FRUITS AND BERRIES canned right now mean better meals for your family later on during the year.

Isn't it nice to open a can of applesauce for luncheon, without having to cook it just before the meal? Nice, too to take peach halves, pears or apricots for salad right out of a jar, isn't it?

How about a berry pie? They're already in the jar, sweetened, ready to be put in a crust. Fruit for dessert? Open a can of pineapple, resting on the canning shelf.

Fruit is easy to can because it requires only the simplest of preparation. Some need skins removed by blanching in hot water. Then they're packed in jars and processed in a hot water bath or oven to cook them completely. If you want to prevent shrinkage on some types, pre-cook slightly.

Applesauce (Hot Pack)

3 pounds green apples
2 cups water
1 1/2 cups sugar

Wash apples, quarter, core and remove bruised or decayed parts. If fruit has to stand for any time, prevent discoloration by placing in slightly salted water. Drain. Add water and cook until soft. Press through sieve or colander to remove seeds and skins. Add sugar and bring to a boil. Pack while hot into clean jars. Adjust cap according to manufacturer's directions. Process 15 minutes in boiling water bath.

Baked Apples

Wash and core apples and place in baking dish containing enough boiling water to cover bottom of dish. Bake until tender. Pack immediately in hot, sterile jars. Fill to the top with juice from baking pan and additional medium syrup. Seal immediately. Medium Syrup: Use 2 cups water, 1 cup sugar, and bring to a boil before packing.

Apricots (Open Kettle)

This method gives nice, rich flavor to the fruit. Use firm, ripe apricots and drop into boiling water for 1/2 minute, then dip in cold water shortly and slip off skins. Remove stones. Place fruit in Medium Syrup and simmer for 10 to 15 minutes, then bring to a full boil. Pack immediately into hot sterile jars, filling the jar to the top and sealing quickly.

Berries (Hot Pack)

Use these directions for blackberries, blueberries, dewberries, huckleberries, loganberries, mulberries and raspberries, and help prevent floating which often occurs in canning them.

Wash and stem berries. Drop into boiling thin or medium syrup (Thin syrup: 3 cups water, 1 cup sugar), and let stand 15 to 20 seconds. Drain. Pack immediately in hot, sterile jars and fill to within 1/2 inch of the top with boiling syrup in which the berries stood. Seal jar and process 5 minutes in a hot water bath.

LYNN SAYS:
Here are Aids For Fruit Canning

Work with tongs or gloves when removing jars from hot water to prevent burned fingers.

When a recipe calls for hot, sterile jars, this means they should be prepared by washing in hot, soapy water, rinsing in clear hot water and then placing in a large kettle, tub or pan on a rack or folded cloth. Pour boiling water over them and boil for 10 minutes. Take jars out of hot water as you fill them.

Sour Cherries (Open Kettle)

Wash and pit cherries. For pitting use a pen point inverted in a holder. Place cherries in preserving kettle immediately and add enough sugar to sweeten, about 1 cup sugar to each quart of berries. Add no water. Heat slowly to the boiling point. Pack immediately into hot, sterile jars, and seal each one before filling the next.

Currants (Open Kettle)

Wash, stem and pick over carefully. Use 3/4 cup sugar for 1 quart currants. Place fruit and sugar in kettle. Add no water. Heat slowly to boiling, shaking kettle to prevent burning occasionally. Boil 5 minutes. Fill hot sterile jars and seal immediately.

Gooseberries (Cold Pack)

Wash stem and cut off blossom ends with scissors. Prick each berry with a fork. Prepare 3 cups medium syrup. Drop 1 quart of berries into the boiling syrup and let stand 20 seconds. Remove to colander and drain. Repeat, using another quart of berries. Continue until there are several quarts in colander for canning. Pack closely in hot sterile jars and cover to within 1/2 inch of top with syrup in which they were dipped. Seal jars and process 20 minutes in hot water bath or 70 minutes in a 250°F. oven.

Peaches (Open Kettle)

Use firm, ripe fruit. Dip in boiling water for 1 minute, then in cold water and slip off skins. Clingstone peaches are usually canned whole and freestone varieties are cut in halves or sliced. Cook peaches in thin or medium syrup for 20 minutes or until clear and tender. Pack carefully and tightly.

Pears (Hot Pack)

Peel and leave whole if stems are in good condition, or cut in halves and core. Drop into slightly salted water while preparing until all are done to prevent discoloration. Drain. Precook Klaffier and Sand varieties in boiling water until tender. Drain and use the water in making medium syrup. Cook Bartlett varieties in a medium syrup for 5 minutes. Pack in hot, sterile jars and fill with syrup to within 1/2 inch of top. Process 20 minutes in boiling water bath or 70 minutes in 250°F. oven.

Pineapple (Cold Pack)

Use fully ripe, sound fruit. Cut off butt end with sharp knife and twist out the top. Slice crosswise and pare each slice. Cut out cores and remove eyes. Pack in jars in slices, wedges or grated, as desired. Cover with thin or medium syrup to within 1/2 inch of top. Seal and process in boiling water bath for 30 minutes; or in oven 90 minutes at 250°F.

For oven canning, set jars 2 inches apart in a shallow pan. Heat oven to temperature necessary before putting in the jars, and begin counting the time immediately. If using an electric oven, do not use the top heating element.

When fruits are packed tightly in jars, you will not have too much space at the top after they're processed. A wooden paddle is good to use for this job, and so is a small olive bottle, the top of which fits nicely on the fruit or tomatoes as you pack.

Bowling

News and Views

George A. Dillman, Sec.

Fifty-nine men of the twelve team City Bowling League rolled the first balls down the Cass City Bowling Alleys last Monday evening to open the 1951-52 season of bowling. The one member absent was in Colorado and just couldn't make it. Thanks to five local substitutes in making the first night's attendance a success. Low scores prevailed for most of the higher average bowlers with only sixteen men over the 150 average bracket. C. Peterson stole the show as he found the alleys to his liking by hanging out a neat 565 three game total for a 188 average. George Lapp, substituting for Wallace on the Hunt team, rolled a three game series of 562 for an average of 187. Lee Hartel and Doug Partridge, beginners in the art of spilling the wood, rolled a high game of 180 to "top" the group of ten men members.

Following is the result of the first week of competition:

Team	W	L	Pts.
Hunt	3	0	4
Musall	3	0	4

Wooley	3	0	4
Peterson	2	1	3
Galloway	2	1	3

Dillman	0	3	0

Team high game—Hunt 833, Musall 833, Peterson 810.

Individual high series—C. Peterson 565, R. Geiger 512, Al Franklin 505.

Individual high single game—C. Peterson 219, G. Clara 205, L. D. Copeland 195.

Revered Edifice

Next to Mecca's Kaaba and Medina's Mosque, Jerusalem's Dome of the Rock, commonly called the Mosque of Omar and standing on the site of Solomon's Temple, is the edifice most revered by Moslems, says the National Geographic Society.

Slowing Reaction

When elderly people enter a dark room it takes longer for their eyes to get accustomed to the darkness than is the case with young people. The reason is that as we grow older the size of our pupils diminishes and they react more slowly, admitting less light to the eyes.

F-S Express hustles milk over Michigan country roads, demonstrated its low running cost in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run.

C. W. GILMAN in the dairy business 20 years, operates three Ford Trucks. He says: "Ford Trucks save me money every mile. Ford Truck power gets me there faster too."

"I move milk in a hurry for less than 2 1/2¢ a mile!"

"I figure that my Ford Truck with its Power Pilot gas saver has helped cut my running costs by 7%," says C. W. Gilman.

The Tecumseh Dairy Ford was one of 5,500 trucks that took part in the nationwide, 50-million-mile Ford Truck Economy Run. Daily running-cost records were kept.

F.D.A.P.

Mr. Gilman says: "In 5,183 miles of the Run, with an average load of 1,594 lbs., I had no repairs, spent a total of $129.21 for gas, oil and maintenance. That's a running cost of only 2.49 cents a mile!"

The POWER PILOT is one of many reasons for Ford Truck economy. The POWER PILOT gives you the most power from the least gas, under all conditions, on all jobs!

Make a Flavorful Supper with Curried Shrimp

(See Recipes Below)

Delicious Seafoods

MOST HOMEMAKERS don't mind trying something different, provided it's good. If it's delicious to eat as well as a saving on the budget, then there's more than ample reason for trying a new recipe.

Seafood, cooked properly, is one of the most important of food budget aids. Besides being plentiful, it's available in fresh, frozen or canned form, so you're certain to find several varieties at the store at all times.

You'll be glad at the opportunity of having interesting meals at budgetary prices with the use of seafood. At the same time, the family will be delighted to get away from menus that are "the same old thing."

Curried Shrimp on Rice is a good way to start off on seafoods because the flavor is intriguing, and the nourishing eggs and milk with shrimp makes this a good main dish, rich in protein.

*Shrimp Curry Au Gratin

(Serves 6)

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup finely diced onion
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 6 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups milk, scalded
- 1 1/2 pounds shrimp, cooked and cleaned
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 4 cups boiled rice

Melt butter, add onions and celery and cook until tender, while stirring. Blend in flour, salt, curry powder, ginger and sugar. Gradually add hot milk, while stirring, and cook until thickened, stirring the whole time. Add shrimp, lemon juice and half of the cheese. Heat through. Turn into individual casseroles, containing rice, then sprinkle with remaining grated cheese. Broil to melt cheese.

CRABMEAT AND MUSHROOMS

make a thoroughly delightful combination especially when the sauce is rich and well-seasoned. Golden brown, French fried noodles are the accompaniment.

Crab and Mushrooms

(Serves 6)

- 2 cans crabmeat
- 3 tablespoons fat
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup chicken stock
- 1/2 cup cream
- 1 pound mushrooms
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese, grated
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1 cup crisp noodles

Melt fat, add flour and stir until well-blended. Gradually pour in the chicken stock, then the cream, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add crabmeat and mushrooms which have been sauteed in butter. As soon as the mixture is thoroughly heated, add cheese, salt, pepper and paprika. Garnish with crisp noodles or serve in pastry shells or on toast points.

LYNN SAYS: Refresh Your Menus With These Combinations

Freeze fruit juices and use them scooped on top of fresh fruit salads to give them extra special interest.

A tasty, hearty hot weather sandwich uses deviled ham on toast. This is topped with egg salad and another piece of toast.

An easy cheese sauce uses processed American cheese melted with a bit of rich milk. Add some sliced olives to this and serve as a delectable sauce for cauliflower.

Can it be said that baby-sitters are folks that take hush-money? Isn't it amazing how many family problems are aired in taverns?

SHORT STORY

Pinky

By Paschal La Padula

JULIA WARREN looked up from her pie-baking suddenly, and thought it had happened.

"Bud," she called. "Please try to keep Pinky by your side. He'll get hurt if he keeps chasing cars the way he does."

She watched Bud through her kitchen window as he scolded Pinky by waving a fat finger at him.

"Mustn't do, Pinky! Mom says you're a bad dog!"

Then he pushed along the sidewalk in his wagon, Pinky at his side.

Julia went back to baking her apple pie, a worried look on her face. Pinky was lovable, but his habit of chasing cars through the streets of Collinsville made Julia dread the event which must inevitably occur. Julia had urged her husband Mark to persuade Bud to give up the dog, but Mark was too soft-hearted.

"It will break the boy's heart," he would say.

Not nearly as badly as it would if something dreadful happened to Pinky, Julia always thought. That could be something Bud might never get over. That might be something he would always remember like a sharp continuous pain. Julia knew well it would be that way.

Mustn't do, Pinky! Mom says you're a bad dog!"

She tried to cast thoughts from her mind that were like jagged glass. She opened the oven door, saw that the pie was almost brown enough to take out.

Then she heard it—heard it like she knew she would, like she had heard it once before in the recesses of her mind. Bud's scream, a car's futile brakes, Pinky's agonizing bark.

All she could hear then were Bud's sobbing words: "Pinky! Pinky!"

They buried Pinky in a small wooden box in a corner of the back yard among the flowers. Julia put a marker with Pinky's name into the ground while Bud just watched and said nothing.

Julia did not know whether there was more sorrow than relief in her heart. Maybe it was better that it happened now instead of five or six years from now when Bud's love for Pinky would have been too hard for the boy to forget. Bud could forget Pinky now as she had learned to forget . . .

At dinner that night there were not many words spoken. Mark patted his son's curly head, and tried to console him. "Pinky wouldn't like to see you so sad, son. He'd want you to remember him with a smile on your face, and forget what happened today."

Forget . . . forget. Julia looked at Bud's face and knew he would never forget. Young minds don't forget easily. They don't forget the most important things, Julia knew.

After dinner when the family was in the living room, Mark reading his paper, Bud playing listlessly with his blocks, Julia suddenly put down the sweater she was knitting. She got up from her chair and went towards the door.

"What's wrong, Julia?" Mark asked alarmed.

"Nothing, dear. I must get some air. I think I'll see Helen Reynolds for a few minutes."

It did not take more than a few minutes. Julia was surprised how little time it actually took. If only other people had realized what little time it took.

It was not until Julia had stepped into the living room that Mark realized what Julia had done. He rose to meet her, proud of his wife.

Julia knelt down beside Bud and showed him what her hands held. Bud's eyes brightened. It was a tiny bundle of fur. A month old cocker spaniel with sleepy eyes, and pink ears.

"Pinky the Second," Julia said with a smile. Bud reached out chubby fingers for a new Pinky, a new hope.

Julia was glad she had remembered Helen Reynolds telling her about the litter of pups. She was glad she had remembered one day many years ago when she herself was young with important things in her life.

Julia watched the sadness melt from Bud's eyes as he fondled the pup. She remembered herself as a little girl on the day her own dog had been hit by a car. They thought she would forget. They had not understood . . . for she never forgot.

Less speed and more courtesy in your driving will help.

Kitchens Describe Vacation Trip

Concluded from last week.

After a night in a Rawlins Motel where we had two double beds, kitchen, refrigerator, etc., for $5.50, we traveled through more river valley and mountainous country with markers of the Mormon trail. Finally through Partlay's canyon we reached Salt Lake City.

How the pioneers, equipped as they were, ever found their way into this valley is hard to understand. The city is well laid out with straight streets which are wider than those of any city I've ever seen. The homes are beautiful. After driving around some we went to Temple Square, arriving just in time to join the group with a guide to the main points of interest.

The Temple Square has a fifteen foot wall surrounding a ten acre plot containing the assembly hall, the sea gull monument, the tabernacle, the temple and other buildings.

The guide, who will be a businessman of the city giving his time free, gives a lot of interesting facts of the Mormon belief and the history of the settlement. Most marvelous are the tabernacle and the temple.

The tabernacle, which is over 200 feet long and seats several thousand, has a dome-shaped roof, originally covered with copper sheets. These were replaced after forty years and at the end of the second forty years were replaced by aluminum. It is built without nails and its pipe organ has 10,000 pipes. For the half hour organ recital at 12:10 the place was almost full. The acoustic properties are such that a pin dropped on the rail about the platform can be distinctly heard all over the building. Whispered words, whether the speakers back is turned or not, can be clearly understood. We saw the demonstration.

The temple is built of gray granite quarried in one of the eight canyons leading through the Wasatch Mts. to Salt Lake Valley. The stones were hauled one at a time on ox carts drawn by four teams of oxen. It required four days to make the round trip. When you know the foundation goes sixteen ft. in the ground and is nine ft. thick and the walls above the ground are six ft. thick, you will not wonder why it took forty years to build.

No one is allowed to enter the temple except Mormons in very good standing. One of the rites conducted in it is the marriage ceremony. All other marriages they consider legal but end with death, but according to their belief a marriage performed by their priest in the temple seals the woman to the man forever and she is his throughout eternity. Lots of folks here in Hollywood and elsewhere wouldn't want it that way.

Leaving there we drove fifteen miles west to the shores of Great Salt Lake. After dinner there we came back and drove south through irrigated farms to Nephi for the night. Behind our cabin rose Mt. Nebo to a height of 12,000 ft. and with snow still on its north side.

On Friday we drove down the Sevier River valley with mountains on both sides and leaving U. S. 91 we crossed over to 89. Leaving it we drove 20 miles on a side road through Red Canyon to Bryce Canyon. The colors and the marvelous formations left here by erosion are beyond words.

Back to 89 and south to Mt. Carmel junction we turned west on U 15 through the Pine and Zion Canyons. These do not have the grotesque figures found in Bryce, but the immensity of the rocks and the depth of the canyon make it a glorious place to drive through, for here you drive through the bottom of the gorge with the walls towering above you.

Coming out of the canyon we again came to U. S. 91 and crossed through the Shivewits Shemit Indian Reservation. We found the day so hot we decided to cross the Mojave desert in the night so kept on driving. After sundown the air became cooler and traveling was pleasant.

We crossed a corner of Arizona and then a part of Nevada. Because it was dark we could not see what the country was like but did get a better idea of Los Vegas than we would have in daylight. The main streets instead of being lined with stores were lined with clubs, bars, etc. and it seemed as if the front of every building was filled with one armed bandits (slot machines) and crowds of men and women were keeping the things busy or engaging in crap games or other games of chance. In fact one large sign boldly proclaimed the city as the greatest gambling center in the U. S. We also saw several large wedding chapels where quickie marriages are performed for the convenience of customers.

We drove straight through without stopping to get any dust from the place on our feet. So we had none to shake off when we left.

We stopped for a couple of hours to rest by the roadside as many desert drivers do and reached my wife's sister's home in Los Angeles about 7:30 a. m. Saturday morning, having covered 763 miles on our last lap. The Ford performed beautifully, averaged eighteen miles to the gallon and didn't give us a moments trouble.

Merle just got word through the Armed Services Center that Sgt. David F. Kitchin arrived at San Diego on the Steamer Black this morning. So everyone is happy.

More on California and other developments later.

Jason Kitchin.

mission's September slogan "Watch Out For Kids" is directed at the motorist, upon whose shoulders most of the responsibility for child safety rests.

Other phases of the program, however, Chief Orto said, will emphasize the child's own responsibility in traffic, the parent's necessity for wise safety education at home, and ways in which schools can increase their contribution to the students' safety. The Police Department has been assured of the full cooperation of Willis Campbell, Superintendent of Schools.

"Safety," Chief Orto stated "is not a subject that can arbitrarily begin with the child's first day of school and end on the completion of his formal education. The child's education along these lines should begin as soon as he can comprehend simple instructions and should continue the rest of his life.

The State Safety Commission's emphasis on child safety this month is part of a nation-wide program being conducted in cooperation with the National Safety Council's Operation Safety plan and co-ordinated locally by the Cass City Police Department.

Many a story gets its start at club meetings—probably the sense of "rumor" of some members.

Save Butterfat

Michigan State College dairy specialists today made a suggestion that can mean real dollars and cents savings for the state's dairymen.

They told farmers not to fill milk cans so full that cream will collect on the lid. That results in a loss of butterfat and a lower test when the product is sold.

Elevator Cleaning Aid

The usual way to clean an elevator generator is to blow the accumulated carbon and copper dust away under high pressure. This practice has several disadvantages because the dust is scattered throughout the machine room creating a major clean-up job as well as a fire hazard. But, with Lebara's new "Bio-Vac" Cover, a heavy cotton drill bag fits over most generators and the dirt can be contained until it is sucked up by a vacuum attachment.

Artificial Breeding Cuts Farmers' Costs

Farmers using artificial breeding for dairy cows spend just half as much on each female animal in the herd for breeding services as dairymen keeping a herd sire. That's what a recent cost survey of records of 75 farmers in the Detroit milkshed made by Michigan State College agricultural economists revealed.

The total cost of keeping a bull averaged $264 a year. And if you think a 'teen-aged boy consumes a lot of food consider this bill of fare: 1,458 pounds of grain, 5,500 pounds of hay and 3,000 pounds of silage. That's what the average herd bull consumed in a year. The feed alone cost $106 and labor in feeding and taking care of the animal cost another $73.

Herd owners with less than 20 animals of breeding age paid out an average cost of $13.10 a head to maintain a bull. But those with 30 or more females maintained the sire at a cost of half that much for each animal.

Many of the dairymen covered in the survey not only could have bought breeding service cheaper through the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative, but could have obtained the use of better sires. They also could have eliminated the danger of keeping a bull and provided space for more producing dairy cows in the area occupied by the bull, the economists contend.

The young man interested in making farming his life's work can get a booklet from his county agricultural agent which describes various short courses available during the slack winter season. Or he can write to the Department of Short Courses, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Stirring milk with a rod during the cooling process may introduce unwanted bacteria, MSC dairymen warn. They suggest putting covers on tightly and rocking the can occasionally.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Vacation Blues.

The only thing sad about a vacation is going back to the old grind when it's all over. We averaged about six hours a day with rod and reel trying to get the elusive rainbow trout to take the lure. Total score for the Vallender family—six fish.

The Missus provided the real story to talk over during the winter months. A ten pound lake trout took her line around the boat in one of those thrilling battles that comes once in a lifetime. She worked the big fellow close in (to the shouts of encouragement from the other nearby fishermen). Ye editor was ready with the net, mentally calculating what shutter speed would be used on the camera shots—when down went Mr. Lake Trout.

The fish pulled—the wife tugged—suddenly the line went slack. That evening—with the story all over camp, we had many callers offering their condolences. Never saw a woman so close to tears in all my life. But then it's probably a good thing. If she had landed that fish, I'd never been able to hold my head up.

Northern Farmers.

Had quite a chat with a farmer from that North country. He offered the information that between poor soil and cold weather—it is a terrific gamble on any crop. Says they can count on frost at any time during the so called summer. Main thing is cattle, says he. Asked him what kind of pasture they were developing. His answer: Quack grass. I jokingly mentioned fertilizer on this type of roughage. He surprised me by saying that he had used an 0-20-0 analysis on the quack grass with some pretty fair results. Farmers not only pasture on this grass most of us try to kill—but they cut it and feed it during the winter—what a switch!

Too Many Fish.

Most all of frontage on our vacation lake is owned by one man. From what I understand it's been in the family for generations. State law requires that a certain amount of any lake be open to the public for bathing and fishing. Outside of these two small clearings, the shoreline is unmarred by any man made structure. For years the state has been stocking this lake with rainbow trout. Our count showed eight different kinds of game fish and four species of minnows—and there's the rub. The fish in this lake are so well fed with natural foods that they seldom take to the work or lure. Our reports from previous campers were all the same. Darned hard work to get a sizeable catch.

We had an exasperating experience with a nest of bass we were trying to interest in a jumbo nite crawler. The crystal clear waters showed bass ranging from one to six pounds. It was possible to drop the baited hook within an inch or two from their noses. They simply ignored it.

There were some 14 to 17 inch perch on the other side of the lake. They were swimming lazily through schools of minnows. The minnows tried to eat line and all—but the big perch just swam away.

Big Mistake.

Many years ago, one of the local fishermen caught a four foot muskie in the nearby Sturgeon River. Just for a laugh and because the fish doesn't make good eating, he hurried the gasping giant to our Silver Lake and dumped him in.

The Muskie survived and has since become a legend. Many have seen this fearsome monster, usually about dusk. A minister, taking his children for an evening boat ride told me that when the Muskie surfaced, he looked like a small submarine. There's a reward out for this killer—at Silver Lake—near Wolverine.

Rain, Rain, Go Away

Rain is a handicap for the big circus. This is not only due to the fact that Jupiter Pluvius cuts down on attendance, but also because rain doubles and triples the immense work of setting up this town-sized traveling performance. The canvas of one "big top" weighs 11 tons dry and three times as much when wet.

Use Kerosene Lamp When Filling Silo

Although it may seem a little out of place, a kerosene lantern is an important tool to have around when silo-filling time comes.

It's a handy gadget for checking the silo for carbon dioxide and may save someone a lot of trouble according to David Steinicke, Michigan State College farm safety specialist.

He says that there is always danger of carbon dioxide in a silo, especially if silage has stood overnight or longer. His suggestion is to tie a rope onto the lantern handle and lower it into the silo. If the light goes out, watch out.

Among other silo-filling suggestions, Steinicke urges farmers to repair their silo ladder before filling time comes. That job and removing or covering the bottom rungs to protect young children may save a costly injury.

After the filling job is under way be careful around the cutter. Many a hand and finger has been lost in the rollers of the cutter when the operator tries to work stalks loose. Be safe by always putting the machine out of gear before unclogging, he warns.

Never open the housing that covers the blower blade to unplug the blower while the machine is running, Steinicke cautions.

A regular milking routine is best, say MSC dairymen. They point out that cows are largely creatures of habit. Feeding grain, the rattle of milk pails and washing the udder help get the cow ready for thorough milking.

NOTES from the TUSCOLA

COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

At this time of year a question quite often heard is, "Won't my corn silage be just as good if I pick off the ears and save them for the crib?" The answer is no. The practice of removing ears from silage corn is not recommended. The ear contains the same amount of feed value whether it is husked and stored in the crib or chopped and blown into the silo. So don't waste your time picking corn that can be harvested so much easier by chopping for the silo. Corn is ready for silage when it is in the late dough or early dent stage.

Now that the bean harvest season is here again, the inevitable autumn fires of burning bean straw will be lighting the sky. Burning any form of crop residue is a very unthrifty practice, resulting in the loss of many pounds of plant food, not to mention the improvement in soil structure that straw would provide. Bean straw can be disked into the soil, even when the field is to be fitted immediately for wheat. Attachments are now available for combines which chop the straw into fine particles which encourages more rapid decomposition and permits working in the residue with less clogging of implements.

Fire Prevention Week in October

Rural fires will take a toll of 3500 lives and $102,000,000 in property this year unless farmers take immediate steps to eliminate the causes of these tragic fires, the National Fire Protection Association said today.

Byron E. Carpenter, Assistant Tuscola County Agricultural Agent, urges that both farmers and townfolk take stock of their buildings and remove all fire hazards.

Fire Prevention Week, sponsored by the NFPA, will be observed October 7-13 and the agent expressed the hope that every family in Tuscola County will make a thorough fire inspection that week and then remain "fire cautious" the remaining 51 weeks of the year. Information from the NFPA points out that rural fires are occurring at the rate of one every 5 minutes.

The organization's records also show that 90 percent are due to carelessness and negligence and are preventable and can be traced to one or more of the following hazards: (1) Failure to protect buildings with lightning rods; (2) defective, sooty, and poorly constructed chimneys; (3) sparks from chimneys and bonfires falling on inflammable wood shingle roofs; (4) defective stoves and furnaces; (5) careless smoking habits; (6) improper storage of gasoline and kerosene; (7) spontaneous ignition of hay; (8) overloaded electrical circuits, failure to replace worn cords, and defective electrical appliances.

As evidence, Agent Carpenter reminds that invariably there is an abrupt and a sharp drop in the number of fires during and immediately following Fire Prevention Week. Then, the fire loss zooms upward once again.

Fire Prevention Week is an ideal time to correct these hazardous conditions before the winter heating season starts when fires are more prevalent.

Electric Hoist

A new all-purpose electric hoist, designed to take the "back-breaking" strain out of lifting jobs on the farm, was put on the market recently. The unit includes an electric motor, trolley, cable and the necessary hooks to fit any make of litter or feed carriers. It will travel on any size or type of track and negotiates curves without difficulty. Farmers who might be interested in the equipment should inquire at their local dealers. It is manufactured by the Finchbaugh company of York, Pa.

Car Expansion

The longest railway passenger cars in operation in the 1850's were fifty feet in length. These were considered to be curiosities at that time. Today, passenger cars range from sixty-five to eighty-eight feet in length, the average being in the neighborhood of seventy-two feet.

District Public Policy Meeting at Caro

This may be a bit early but Tuscola County people will want to keep in mind a public policy meeting scheduled to be held in Caro October 24, says Alfred C. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Topics, such as, "We Are Drifting Toward Socialism," "Is Big Business Bad?", "Is Government Growing Too Big?", "Can We Distribute Our National Income More Equitably?", "Morals, Ethics, and Free Enterprise," and many other problems involved in the preservation of our system will be touched upon and laid out for discussion.

As more definite plans develop, final details for the meeting will be announced.

Little Stories about Great Hymns

Awake My Soul
Awake, my soul, and with the sun
Thy daily stage of duty run;
Shake off dull sloth, and joyful rise
To pay thy morning sacrifice!

Bishop Ken, as a boy, was raised by Isaac Walton. He wrote this hymn for the use of students in Winchester College. It had 14 verses. Bishop Ken sang this hymn every morning upon waking, playing the accompaniment with his lute. At his request, when he died, he was buried at sunrise, and the singing of this hymn was almost the only ceremony that took place.

Pasturing Woodlots Hurts Cattle, Timber

When their regular pastures have been browned and dried up a bit, or when farmers decide to give their alfalfa meadows a rest in September, many are tempted to turn their livestock into the farm wood lot for some supplemental grazing.

It's not a paying proposition, though, according to Byron E. Carpenter, assistant county agricultural agent.

In the first place wood lots make poor pastures, as the sparse grass and other plants yield less than one-fourth to one-half of the forage that open pastures produce. And pasturing soon leads to poor wood lots.

The agent pointed out that timber should be considered as any other crop, since it provides a good supply of native lumber, fence posts and fuel for winter months. If wood lots are to produce these forest products, and still maintain high yields and quality, they can't be grazed.

Grazing destroys the humus layer of the forest floor, increasing soil losses from erosion and water run-off. Any young trees often are injured or destroyed by grazing livestock, keeping the trees from replacing themselves as the older trees are harvested.

This soon results in a run-down timber. Livestock tend to trample over the ground too, packing the soil with their hooves. This slows down or prevents the penetration of air and moisture into the soil.

Grazing animals also destroy the bark layer on tree trunks and damage roots running along the ground. This leaves the trees susceptible to fungus diseases and often results in decay and death of the trees, Carpenter points out.

Little Betty had been allowed to stay up to dinner one night on the strict understanding that she should behave very well and not ask for anything on the table.

When dessert came all the guests were attended to, but she was overlooked.

She sat despondently for a time, and then was struck by a bright idea. She exclaimed in a loud voice, "Who wants a clean plate?"

DROP DEAD!

An Irishman was carried to the hospital in an unconscious condition after a terrible fall. The surgeon made a brief examination, but shook his head significantly, and turned sympathetically to the anxious wife. "Madam," he said, "I am sorry to tell you that your husband is dead."

"No I ain't," said the supposed corpse, opening one eye.

"Hush up, Terence," said the wife, "don't the doctor know better than you?"

The want ads are newsey, too.

EXPERIMENT STATION TESTS PROVE PAVED BARNYARD INCREASES PROFITS

A paved lot or feeding floor increases farm profits. Tests at two midwestern state agricultural experiment stations have shown the dollar and cents value of paved lots for the cattle feeder.

In one test, a group of steers in an unpaved lot actually lost weight over a 26-day period sloshing around in the mud. Not only did each animal weigh less after the muddy spell, but each ran up a $10 feed bill.

In the other test, the paved feeding lot more than paid for itself the first year in reduced labor costs, saving of manure, added gains in beef poundage and gains in hogs following the steers.

Experience of thousands of farmers who have laid down concrete feeding floors bears out these tests. Paved lots and floors mean less wasted feed, more gains. Cattle on concrete don't tramp feed in the mud. They don't use up all their energy sloshing around in deep mud. Hogs following cattle save grain. Valuable manure does not leach away—losing its precious nitrogen content. The rundown soil of many farms has been restored to first-class condition by application of manure saved from the paved feeding lots.

Thousands of dairymen have paved their barnyards. Paved yards mean less labor needed for washing the cows before milking. The cows get more exercise and stay healthier—injury from slipping is reduced.

How to Make Floor

For each head of cattle, 30 to 40 sq. ft. of floor is recommended; for each hog, 10 to 15 sq. ft.

Floors are usually made about 4 in. thick except where driven over by heavy trucks; then they are made 6 in. thick.

Make floors in sections 10 ft. square. In this way you can lay the pavement as time allows. Areas next to the barn and around feed bunk are usually laid first. Use 2x4's for the side forms when the floor is 4 in. thick, 2x6's when the floor is 6 in. thick.

Make a mushy mix in proportion of 1 sack portland cement, 2 1/2 cu. ft. sand, 3 cu. ft. of gravel or crushed rock, and about 5 gal. of water. Add more sand and gravel if mix is soupy or sloppy—cut down on sand or gravel if mix is too thick.

Place full thickness of the floor in one operation. Level freshly laid concrete flush with the top of the guide forms with a 2x4 about 12 ft. long. When the concrete becomes quite stiff finish with a wooden float. This gives the floor a gritty nonskid surface.

As soon as the concrete hardens, cover it with straw or earth and keep it moist for about 5 days by sprinkling.

It takes about 7 1/2 sacks of portland cement, 3 cu. yd. of sand, and 1 cu. yd. of gravel or crushed rock to build 100 sq. ft. of floor 4 in. thick.

Dairy Calf Raising Show Scheduled

One of the most expensive and most difficult problems of dairymen today is that of providing well-grown healthy replacements in the dairy herd.

Farmers will have a chance to hear and see the latest in calf raising ideas when they attend a dairy calf management demonstration at the Chester Kinney and Sons farm, 6 miles east of Millington, on September 25, says Byron E. Carpenter, assistant county E. Carpenter, Assistant County Agricultural Agent for Tuscola County.

The Agent will be assisted by George Parsons, extension dairymen from MSC, and others, in presenting a series of demonstrations on efficient, economical, practical calf raising methods.

Emphasis will be placed on feeding methods, disease prevention, proper housing, dehorning, and other vital management problems that spell success or failure in the big job of growing satisfactory dairy herd replacements. Studies have shown that one out of every four cows in the average dairy herd must be replaced each year. "This is recognized as a serious problem when we consider that only half the calves born are heifers and many of these are unsatisfactory as replacements because of undesirable breeding, or disappointing progress in early life," says Carpenter.

The demonstration will make use of live calves from the Kinney herd of registered and grade Holsteins. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m.

Michigan Mirror News Briefs

It's politics and football time again, with football having the edge in news play throughout Michigan. Politics we always have. Football only in the fall.

Currently pre-campaign campaigns are in progress. Democrats are calling Republicans do-nothings. Republicans admit Democrats have done things, but cry "we don't like it."

Policy committees have been active. G. O. P. again is aiming at a unified policy which will preclude any split in voter ranks. Democrats are banking, apparently, on labor and recent welfare legislation to supply the impetus for Gov. Williams' campaign.

Toughest row to hoe is that of Sen. Blair Moody. In office only a few months he faces a rough and tough election. He's been in Michigan so much lately he and Williams are referred to as the "Toni twins."

One columnist takes exception at the constant political jockeying. He says, "An officer is inaugurated at noon, rearranges the office furniture, appoints a deputy and secretary and that night is campaigning for reelection at a cold roast beef and greasy gravy dinner. The poor voter just doesn't get a rest."

President Truman has asked Michigan Democrats to keep him posted on developments in the senatorial race for Moody's newly-acquired seat. G. O. P. leaders nationally are keeping in contact with state leaders to see if any progress is being made toward recapturing the seat held for more than three decades by Republicans.

Edward W. Frey, state's new election director, hopes to use television to educate city dwellers on the proper marking of ballots and perhaps avert "another chaotic election such as we had last year." Election workers also will attend instruction schools. Catch: A lot of voters don't have TV sets.

The polio season has passed its peak. Paralysis has been about one-fourth what it was last year.

More than 6 million dollars has been collected under the reform highway legislation. The new law requires counties to use 75 percent of their share for maintenance and construction of primary roads, 25 percent for local roads. State's share is $2,295,261.

Truck output in Michigan still is climbing to new records. Passenger car production has been hit by shortages, but trucks may exceed 1,400,000 before the year is out.

The Rifle River has been added to the ever-expanding hunting territory of the lamprey eel. A 26-inch brown trout has been found in Devoe lake with the usual deep scar, showing death was caused by a lamprey.

Fishing law violators in July paid $6,799 in fines and spent 170 days in jail. There were 390 conservation law infractions, 294 involving fishing regulations.

Controller Robert F. Steadman has asked the civil service commission if it is contemplating a pay raise to state employees. Last year the CSC upset Steadman's budget plans by granting sweeping raises after he had prepared the budget. The commission has a "moral responsibility" to cooperate, he says.

General MacArthur may address the Michigan legislature. In reply to an invitation MacArthur said "it would be a great honor indeed... but the time of the regular session is so distant it would be impossible to make any definite commitment."

Nothing can stop a public relations man. J. R. Ferren, Washington, D. C., walked right through a plate glass window next to the main entrance of the Lansing

State Journal building. Ferren, in charge of public relations for the Seventh Day Adventist camp at Grand Ledge, delivered his releases then walked out—the door—to go to the hospital to have five stitches taken in a cut wrist.

Wash Dirty Eggs

Use of detergents and water for cleaning eggs now is a recognized practice. Howard Zindel, Michigan State College poultry specialist, has found that washing will not affect the quality of eggs if properly done.

If eggs are dirty he recommends detergents in washing water, heated to about 110 degrees. Eggs should be washed immediately after they are cooled and then dried. A fan will help dry them.

A strong soap may leave a bad flavor so is not recommended.

People who profit by their mistakes will find they really have made no mistakes.

Use Eggs Right For Best Results

Hints for getting the most out of eggs, one of the most-called-for recipe ingredients, came today from Michigan State College foods and nutrition specialists.

The two qualities that make eggs valuable in cooking are their ability to act as thickening agents and their ability to hold air in recipes. A little know-how will help them do these jobs better.

It's the air that's beaten into the eggs, not the eggs themselves, that helps to leaven batters and doughs. And the way the eggs are beaten makes lots of difference in the final product.

Here's how to get the best results from beating. Take the eggs out of the refrigerator ahead of time so they can warm to room temperature before beating. That way they will give better volume. If the whites and yolks are to be separated, do so while they are still chilled.

Do not beat eggs until you are ready to add them to the recipe. If the recipe says to beat slightly, just mix with a fork, whether it is a whole egg or the separate yolk or white. To beat until thick and lemon-colored, use a rotary beater or electric mixer until the egg becomes lighter yellow and thick.

If the recipe says to beat egg whites stiff, be sure there isn't a speck of yolk in the whites. Use a beater until the mass is stiff but not dry. The whites will form peaks that topple. If they stand up stiff, they are overbeaten and will not give much volume.

When using eggs for thickening in custards, sauces and puddings, you can prevent streaks of cooked egg by adding the hot liquid very slowly to the beaten eggs and stirring at the same time.

A clergyman says all scandal should be printed. Evidently he doesn't know the high price of newsprint.

Hunters Be Careful

With the hunting season approaching, David G. Steinicke, extension safety specialist at Michigan State College, today issued some warnings to hunters.

He recalled the first day of the 1950 squirrel season. A Michigan hunter was leaning against a tree in the woods. Another hunter fired at what he thought was a squirrel. The first hunter had a doctor pick the buckshot out of his back.

Almost two-thirds of Michigan's hunting accidents are caused by humans in the line of fire, mistaking humans for game and hunting with the safety catch off, Steinicke said.

An underground tank with a pump similar to service station equipment will provide the safest storage for large supplies of farm tractor fuels, gasoline or kerosene on farms, Michigan State College farm safety specialists point out.

ARTHRITIS

Hundreds Claim Its Grip Broken!

Dear Friend:

Do you have Arthritis? Have you a relative or friend that is suffering from this painful, distressing ailment?

I came upon a simple remedy, that ended my long search and battle to rid myself of Arthritis. I had teeth pulled, tonsils out, serum shots, electric fever treatments, special built shoes, hot baths, pills and salves. The Arthritis withstood them all, and examination in several of the best known clinics could detect nothing. Finally, I discovered Sulgly-Minol. Today, after seven months I am more free of pain and soreness than at any time in twenty years. Can work ten hours a day, with nothing more than tired feet. Legs, hips, back, neck and arms are practically free of pain and soreness. This has cost me less than six dollars.

This is all I did, and all you will have to do to try Sulgly-Minol. Just rub it on the soles of both feet before going to bed. A bottle will last about a month and will be enough to tell whether it will help. If it helps, keep it up for a month, and after that, just as you feel. If my feet feel sore from too much activity, I rub some on for a night or two. In my opinion, the benefits of Sulphur are more sure and complete on the soles of the feet. The results obtained have been acclaimed by many as a Godsend.
