

Hawks Outclass Harbor Beach for Easy Win, 32-0

With the Cass City Red Hawks forward wall tearing huge holes in the Harbor Beach line, Cass City rolled to an easy, one-sided victory in their conference opener at the Recreation Park Friday night, 32-0.

An indication of how completely Cass City dominated the play can be seen by the fact that the Red Hawks were forced to punt just once all evening—they put on sustained drives for touchdowns the first four times they got the ball.

The Hawks scored twice in the first quarter, twice in the second and rounded out the evening with a marker in the third period. The fourth quarter was scoreless as the Cass City reserves saw action in that period of the one-sided game.

The first scoring drive started on the Cass City 48-yard line, after Harbor Beach had been stopped cold on three running plays and kicked.

Cass City moved for three first downs in a row and Stanley Beach plunged over for the touchdown. Pete Martin's boot for the extra point was short.

Passes helped in the next scoring march. Tom Schwaderer, who was exceedingly accurate all evening behind excellent line protection, tossed to Tim Burdon for 15 yards and then picked out his other end, Bob Wallace, for a 20-yard gain. Beach climaxed the drive by again plunging the final two yards to score. Martin's try for point was short.

In the second quarter, the Hawks made their longest drive of the day. The play started on the Cass City 44, but clipping and holding penalties set them back to their own five from where they covered 95 yards to score. Key play in the drive was a 31-yard dash off tackle by Beach, for the first five downs in the scoring series. Frank Creason rambled the final 10 yards for the six points and Martin made his first successful conversion of the evening, for the extra point.

The final score in the first half was chalked up by dint of some beautiful down field blocking and clever deception by Bob Wallace and Schwaderer.

After Harbor Beach was forced to punt, Wallace took the kick and faked a hand-off to Schwaderer and romped down the east side line to score without being touched by a Harbor Beach man.

Martin's kick was good and the Hawks led at the half, 26-0. The last touchdown of the game came on a pass. Schwaderer made a cross field heave to Don Tuckey that was completed after Tuckey had stepped out of the end zone. To prove that the play would work, the Hawks called the same play over again, to the same receiver, and this time Tuckey was in bounds as he caught the heave for the marker.

The statistics showed how one-sided the game was. Cass City made 331 yards to 50 for Harbor Beach, with a total of 15 first downs to three for their opponents. They averaged 6.1 yards per try, rushing and completed six out of eight passes for 105 yards. Harbor Beach averaged two yards per try through the line and failed to complete one pass. Cass City fumbled three times and was penalized 60 yards, while Harbor Beach never fumbled and lost 30 yards through infractions.

Cass City plays Vassar tonight at the Recreation Park in a game that most observers believe will go a long way toward settling the league championship. Vassar is the defending champion.

Cass Cityites Urged To Turn in Pennies To Avoid Shortage

Fred Pinney, of the Pinney State Bank, Cass City, is urging residents of the area to temporarily disregard the old adage "Save the pennies and let the dollars take care of themselves."

For the national penny shortage has hit Cass City. There has been a shortage of pennies here and area banks are having trouble meeting the demand.

The suggested solution while the temporary copper shortage is affecting the supply, is to empty piggy banks and other small change savings and bring them in for exchange of paper money.

It will help the local situation and after the shortage eases, it will be easy to exchange them for more pennies if savers so desire.

Mrs. Wilma Fry was appointed single administrator to handle the tax refund monies that go to the village under the new weight and gas tax law by the village council at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the municipal building.

Dr. Harris Speaks At Rotary Luncheon

Dr. Joseph R. Harris, vice president of Alma College, followed his Sunday sermon at the Presbyterian Church with an address before the Rotary Club Tuesday at their noon luncheon meeting at the New Gordon Hotel.

Dr. Harris pointed out the financial problems of secular schools such as Alma and stated that to survive these schools without state funds must have the support of businessmen in every community.

Dr. Harris pointed out that only non-state support colleges are truly independent of political and governmental influence.

Some of the reasons for the plight of small colleges, according to Dr. Harris are: inflation, draft and no state funds.

Jerry Prieskorn Makes Grid Team

When the Seward Tigers take to the gridiron Sept. 20, Jerry Prieskorn of Cass City will be wearing the purple-and-white of the University of the South, according to a letter from school authorities. A Seward sophomore, he is a former student of Cass City High School, Castle Heights Military Academy in Lebanon, Tenn., and Western Michigan College in Kalamazoo. He has four years' experience in football, basketball and track. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Prieskorn, he entered the University of the South Sept. 1.

Seward's eight-game season will open Sept. 29 when the Tigers meet the Hampden-Sydney (Va.) team on Seward's Hardee Field. The nucleus of the 1951 team will consist of 14 lettermen. Although these men and the returning squad members are capable of playing good football, a lot will depend on the new members of the squad entering school this fall, comments Coach Bill White. On the schedule Howard and Bethel College will replace Southwestern and Florida State University.

Seward experienced its worst season since the war last year with six losses, three schools beating the Tigers for the first. Five of the six losses were by eight points or less. In 1949 the record was four wins, two losses and one tie.

In 1946 Seward began a non-subsidized athletic policy and since that time the Tigers have produced two Little All-Americans—Reel Bell of Pensacola in 1947 and Ralph Reed of Albertville, Ala. in 1950.

Seven Leaf Clover

Most people get quite a kick out of finding a four leaf clover, the traditional good luck piece in the United States, but Harold Murphy says that four leaf clovers in his lawn are no novelty.

But one evening early this week Mr. Murphy brought in to the Chronicle a truly unusual clover. This clover instead of having four leaves had seven—three more than most folks think is lucky to find.

Gagetown Methodist Church Celebrates Sixty-Fifth Year

Gagetown Methodist Church celebrated the 65th anniversary of the erection of its first house of worship Sunday, September 23, and Dr. E. Ray Willson of Port Huron, district superintendent of the Methodist Church, who was pastor 1918-22, preached at the morning worship and Rev. Wesley Dafee, pastor 1934-41, at the afternoon service. Assisting at both services were former pastors Rev. Henry Kuhlman, 1947-50, Rev. E. F. Hildebrand, 1910-13, and the present pastor, Rev. Floyd Porter.

A potluck dinner was served to a large number of visitors from outside as well as local members at noon. During the afternoon service, gifts were presented to Mrs. Joe Young as the oldest member present, and to Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Lansing, as having come the longest distance expressly for the occasion. Music at the morning service was led by the Cass City Methodist Choir and in the afternoon by the Gagetown Church Youth Choir. Gagetown Church's male quartet sang at both hours.

An interesting exhibit of historical pictures was arranged by Virgil Spittler, and the history of the church was written by Mrs. George Hendershot. Others assisting were the invitation committee: Mrs. Harry Russell, Mrs. Wallace Laurie and Mrs. Blanche Wood.

Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Laurie read greetings from many who could not be present. Dinner Committee included: Mrs. Leslie Beach, Mrs. Earl Hurd, Mrs. Basil Ziehm, and Mrs. Fred McKellar. Decorations

The state committee on pollution has sent the Cass City village council a second notice of determination to try to solve the local pollution problem in the Cass River. According to the letter, the sewage disposal is inadequate and is killing fish in the river.

The main problem centers around the milk disposal of the Wesley Milk Co. and Nestles Inc. who dispose of waste milk in their manufacturing processes.

At present the village filter is inadequate to care for the waste as the milk destroys the germ killing bacteria in the local disposal plant.

The council has been requested to have a representative at a second meeting of the pollution board at Milford on Oct. 24.

The first meeting was held recently in Caro where it was decided that the village and industry would have to take measures to curb pollution here.

The council decided, after lengthy discussion, to call on their consulting engineers to find out the scope of the problem before the scheduled meeting at Milford.

Although Cass City is faced with what may well be a serious problem, indications are that their problem is smaller than other thumb communities also under the fire of the Pollution Committee.

The council hopes to have a complete report from their engineers to place before the pollution committee when it meets at Milford.

Study Club Meets At Landon Home

The Woman's Study Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. G. W. Landon for the second meeting of the year.

Mrs. Helen Moore was reinstated as a member. Mrs. Grant Patterson reviewed the book, "Pardon My Harvard Accent," by Wm. Morse.

Roll call was responded to by "The Latest Book I've Read." The next meeting will be Oct. 9 at the home of Mrs. Harry Young.

Long History.
The first Methodist service in the Gagetown vicinity began in 1872 but it was not until 1886 that the first Methodist Protestant Church was erected, Rev. A. E. Fox being the pastor. Two years later a parsonage was purchased. In 1900 the church was moved and a new parsonage built. In 1901 the Methodist Episcopal Church began services, resulting in the erection of their first building two years later under the ministry of Rev. D. B. Magee.

In 1926 this was closed and sold to the Methodist Protestants. However, these two branches of Methodists were united internationally in 1939, so that the present congregation, which also includes the former Brookfield Methodist Protestants, is a part of the united Methodist Church.

Many improvements have been made to the building in recent years, and plans to remodel the chancel and install a new altar area now under consideration.

BRING IN YOUR PENNIES

A temporary shortage of copper has made it necessary for the U. S. Mint to cut down on the coinage of pennies.

Banks throughout the country have been instructed to publicize that fact, and urge everyone in their communities who have been saving pennies to bring them in.

If Junior's bank is full, or if you have a jar or sack of small change laid away, you can help by turning it in to exchange for paper money.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five Years Ago.

Miss Lena Brown was pleasantly surprised Wednesday when she received notice that as honor student of the Class of 1916 she was entitled to a free scholarship in the collegiate department for one year in Hillsdale College. The scholarship, which has a value of $39 covers tuition and incidentals for the first college year. Miss Brown will not take advantage of the scholarship this year as she has accepted the position of instructor in the Brown School and has already commenced her duties there.

The Erskine United Presbyterian Church located twelve miles northeast of Cass City has been undergoing extensive re-modeling and repairs during the summer.

Miss Zella Hall was hit by a ball on the face while watching the ball game at the fair on Friday—no permanent injury was sustained.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Ross Howe, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Howe of Elmwood Corners, died about noon on Sunday as the result of injuries received when his car, driven by his cousin, Paul Johnson, turned turtle on a curve at Hunter's Creek, about five miles south of Lapeer, pinning both young men under the car.

Many expressions of surprise were heard on Main St. when the information was passed along Monday that G. & C. Folkert had sold their general merchandise stock to F. E. Kelsey, manager of the Farm Produce Co., for several years.

Earl Deneen, on Wednesday, purchased the farm known as the Wm. Randall forty, 4 miles south and one mile east of Cass City, for $1,800.

Ten Years Ago.

Fred Knoblet exhibited the champion Hereford steer in the open class at the Michigan State Fair in competition with 60 other steers. The Knoblet animal was also reserve champion of Michigan bred steers and was beaten only by a calf shown by Hendren Bros. of Webberville for grand champion of the entire show.

E. B. Schwaderer, Cass City contractor, was awarded the contract for the construction of four miles of concrete pavement on M-81 starting at Caro village and running northeast towards Cass City. Mr. Schwaderer's bid was $137,050, which was approximately $500 less than the next lowest bidder.

Lieut. Ferris Kercher sent a cablegram to his parents, dated at Reykjavik, Iceland, on Sept. 18, which read: "Safe in Iceland."

Five Years Ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sharrard and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Tyo left last Thursday on a trip to California, expecting to be gone two weeks.

According to a report made public by Probate Judge Almon C. Pierce, the V. J. Day celebration at Caro on August 14, cost within $65.11 of $4,000.00. Mr. Pierce, who served as treasurer, said total disbursements reached $3,934.89. Of this amount, $1,595.11 was for entertainment, $698.57 for parade, $1,204.21 for barbecue, $370.73 for advertising, postage and phone calls, and $66.47 for miscellaneous items.

Dr. E. H. Starmann and Dr. F. L. Morris are attending a three days' convention in Detroit.

For safety's sake, never re-fuel a tractor while the motor is running or extremely hot. Check fuel lines for leaky connections too, advise MSC agricultural engineers.

Don't be too rough with a pessimist. Some of them are that way because they backed an optimist.

Watch for Rodents To Avoid Losses

Rats and mice are beginning to look around for a nice, soft spot to spend the winter and that soon-to-be-filled corner ranks toward the top of the list of likely places.

Jim Boyd, Michigan State College agricultural engineer, has some suggestions for "out-foxing" the pests, which eat or spoil many dollars worth of grain apiece during a season.

The first step in your control program this fall should be a double-barrelled effort to poison those you have and end the lease on those you can't poison. This ending the lease should start with getting rid of all piles of junk, boards and other places where rats and mice might harbor around buildings.

Plug up all holes in foundations so they can't get under your buildings, Boyd recommends. If old buildings have refuse piled up under the floors and an open end, dig out under the floor so there's an open space of 12 to 14 inches.

If you're erecting new buildings leave the same amount of space to keep the rats from going into the buildings through the floor. Before storing corn this fall plug up all holes in the floor which rats might use as a doorway to a new home.

Another problem is keeping them from crawling up the foundation and into corncribs. A rat shield—a piece of tin between the sill and foundation extending out about 6 inches and bent slightly down—will stop them cold there.

Another way to keep them out of the corncrib is to put an 18-inch strip of tin just above the sill. They can't climb up the piece of tin and they can't get under it so they're stopped. This strip must be continuous around the whole building, Boyd points out.

Imagine, if you can, what this world would be like if people had no faith in one another. Many of us would have to live within our incomes.

Michigan Mirror News Brief

How to keep up with inflation is the perennial headache facing government in Michigan today from the state government itself down to the smallest village.

We have the highest price level in our history.

The commerce department at Washington reported a few days ago that Americans had raised their total annual income from $87 billions in 1929 to $239 billions last year, an increase of 175 percent.

President Truman has presented a budget for the fiscal year 1951-1952 asking for over $71 billions in expenditures. The amount as authorized by Congress, spurred by the present emergency, will place new strain on the nation's economy. Full employment is reported in nearly all Michigan cities. It is estimated that 700,000 workers will be added to the nation's labor force next year.

It is this growing, serious problem of inflation, that government officials are wrestling with.

What will continued inflation mean to Michigan?

The state treasury at Lansing is already incurring deficits under the sales tax diversion amendment which siphons 73 percent of the sales tax revenues back to home governments.

The state civil service commission is reported to be considering new wage increases for state employees, obviously needed by the rising cost of living.

The rise of inflation in our generation may be illustrated by some interesting figures. The federal Reserve banks held $1,998 million of U. S. Government securities on June 30, 1933. By December 31, 1945, they held $24,262 million. All commercial banks held $10.3 billions of U. S. Government securities in 1934. By 1945 this had soared to $90.6 billions!

The rise of consumer income from $7 to $239 billions in a span of little more than 20 years has been due chiefly to the Washington policy of a managed currency, not redeemable by gold. Our purchasing power has dropped to an all-time record since the Federal Reserve System was established in 1914. This has affected every family, and particularly those persons who have investments in insurance or government bonds. Every person who bought insurance finds that the purchasing power of his dollar today is about one-half what it was in 1940. The same is true with persons who invested in government bonds as an investment. Those who depend on a fixed pension to enable them to take it easy in their old age are already paying the penalty. Inflation is an invisible tax, taking money out of the pocket of all American taxpayers.

Increased wages become an integral part of the cost of all commodities leading to rise of prices. This in turn leads to increase of taxes, another cost of production which must be passed on to the consumer. It is a vicious cycle.

As of February 6, 1951, the purchasing power of our dollar had depreciated to a new low level of 42.3 percent of the average index for wholesale prices for 1939. There are indications that the plague of a depreciating currency may grow worse before Congress and the national administration takes courageous steps to end the spree of inflated dollars we have been enjoying.

These personal observations were prompted in part by an interesting booklet, the "National Economy in Time of Crisis," which came into our hands the other day. The booklet consists of a series of lectures sponsored by the New Jersey Bar Association.

Dr. Walter E. Spahr, chairman of the Department of Economics, New York University, forecasts further depreciation of our dollar unless our Federal Reserve System is protected from control by the President.

Dr. Spahr concluded with the following indictment: "Our government is doing many things that have characterized the beginning of the end of a strong nation. We seem unable to make ourselves realize this fact. We seem still to believe in the European adage that Providence protects fools, children, and the United States. We are showing ourselves to be a gullible, irresponsible, and foolish people. We refuse to look at the basic causes of our present situation and, like the French 160 years ago, we play with symptoms by creating, as did they, Laws of Maximum."

"We are rushing into totalitarianism through all the doors that our government officials have thus far been able to open. And when the President encroached upon the independence of the Federal Reserve System on February 1, there was opened another and very dangerous door which it was widely supposed no thoughtful President would ever dare to push through."

This column of the "Michigan Mirror" is another reminder that the financial problems of Michigan governments, state as well as local, are largely the indirect re-

All of this may serve to publicize the need of reorganization of government itself whereby public services, instead of being ever augmented, may be actually curtailed. Reorganization itself will achieve little economy unless the citizen is willing to forego some of the benefits he now receives. The record of certain pressure groups in getting all they can for themselves at Washington and Lansing does not augur that reorganization can be accomplished, readily.

What can YOU do about it?

If you have not written a letter recently to your representative and senator at Washington and Lansing, insisting on REDUCED SPENDING for public services from top to bottom, you have contributed indirectly to the inflation trend.

If you have not voted for candidates whose record is clearly one for fiscal sanity, you also have added to the fuels of more inflation.

The situation, serious as it appears, is not hopeless IF enough citizens arouse themselves to do something about it.

What this country needs at this time of year is a road map that will fold up as easy as it unfolds.

Cattle that lick clothing or most anything around the barn probably need salt.

Kitchin Trip

1630 Palo Alto St.
Los Angeles 26, Calif.
Sept. 18, 1951

The Cass City Chronicle
Cass City, Mich.

To the editor and our Chronicle reader friends,

We have had over three weeks in sunny (?) California and I presume some of you are looking for another letter.

You will note the question mark after sunny and perhaps wonder at it. That depends on where you live in the state.

Here is a typical weather report from the Los Angeles Daily News of Sept. 14.

Dense, eye-stinging haze lay over the city today, reducing visibility to a quarter of a mile before noon while the temperature climbed steadily upward to 78.

The fire threat was real as yesterday's paper reported seventy-five spot fires caused by lightning and five major fires razing mostly in northern California, but the largest one is near Banning, about eighty miles east of L. A. There seven hundred men are fighting a fire which has covered 10,000 acres.

Of course, if you don't like the fog, or smog as it is called when loaded with factory fumes or dust particles, you need only drive through the coast ranges and in valleys you will have sunshine and HEAT. We were out there yesterday. Was told it was 102 degrees in Riverside and 108 degrees at Nuevo. Bro. Burke told us it was 117 degrees the day they arrived there.

In Michigan if visitors don't like the weather we can tell them to "just wait a minute." Here the weather is always "unusual."

My advice would be don't sell out and come to California to live unless you first come here and find something you are sure you are going to like. I met a retired Methodist pastor who has been here many years. His opinion is that only two classes should come, young people who are willing to take hard knocks and meet the competition which is keen and those with lots of money to live on.

We met one couple with five children in our Nuevo Church who sold out in Michigan over a year ago and came out here and bought a home. They are finding it very hard sledding and I predict they will come back with less than they left with.

Los Angeles is building some wonderful freeways. When they are finished you will be able to cross the city in different directions at sixty miles per hour without a stoplight to interfere. The roads outside are splendid too and are being rapidly improved. It costs a lot to build them here because of the hills and mountains.

The state has had a four and one-half cent gas tax for years and car licenses are sold for six dollars plus a property tax according to value. A new Chevrolet license will cost you over thirty-five dollars. One twenty years old is down to seven.

We drove down to San Diego the night David arrived. It was a happy reunion indeed. The next day we all had dinner with our niece, Virginia, and her family. Her husband has been a navy man for fifteen years but was at home that day so we met him for the first time.

Merle stayed in S. D. for the rest of the week to be near David. Then he received a furlough until the 24th. He must go back then and is scheduled to get his discharge on the 28th.

We have been visiting friends and I'm afraid fattening up. They all give us a royal welcome and feed us too well.

On Sat. before Labor Day we drove up to Paso Robles about two hundred forty miles. A pleasant drive much of the way along the coast and then through Gaviato canyon. We spent until Tuesday with wife's brother, Frank, making two trips through other canyons to the ocean.

Then we drove to Orange and pulled up in front of the parsonage, where Rev. Wm. Weihs lives just as she was getting in the car to leave. When she saw who it was she threw both arms up and really shouted, "Oh, Bill, come here." We had dinner with them and then they took us for a drive through Trabuco canyon and back by way of El Torro Marino Air Base. On this drive Bro. Bill and I left the car climbed up among the undergrowth to the spot where Patricia's body was found.

Friday we drove up to the neighborhood of the Hermon Free Methodist Church where we had

Wedding Rites Told

At a ceremony in the Little Chapel of First Presbyterian Church in Alma on Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock, Miss Leontine Netzorg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Netzorg, of Alma, became the bride of James Murray Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron M. Wallace of Cass City.

The Rev. Clyde F. Vance was the officiating minister before close relatives of the couple. Tall baskets of gladioli and candelabra decorated the altar.

A ballerina frock of white chantilly lace and net was chosen by the bride. A berth of chantilly distinguished the bodice under a chantilly jacket featuring a tiny mandarin collar, covered buttons to the waistline and pointed long sleeves. The jacket had a scalloped peplum over the bouffant skirt of net over taffeta. Her coronet was of seed pearls and her bouquet was of white delphinium and salmon colored roses.

Leontine's matron of honor and only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Netzorg, wearing powder blue chantilly and net ballerina gown styled identically to the bride's gown. She wore a small matching plume and carried rubrum lilies and blue delphinium.

The bride's mother wore a dress of winter blue crepe with black accessories. Mrs. Wallace, mother of the bridegroom, wore a grey suit with black accessories.

dinner with Clair Sumner's and later called on Ray's widow.

One evening we had a chicken dinner at Rev. Herb Dunnenworth's. He was a schoolmate of my wife and she an old friend.

Sunday morning we went out to Orange again where I spoke to the S. S. We again had dinner with the Weihs and in the afternoon went over to Rev. Burke's at Nuevo. They have a splendid new church and parsonage. Both were built since we were there five years ago. The cost was over $40,000 but they are free of debt.

We spent the night with Roy Mudge's. They were very happy to have us and we were glad to see them so comfortably situated. Before noon we called on their daughter, Mary, and then to the Burke's home for a taco dinner.

After that we drove past the March Field Bomber Base to Riverside and drove up, around, and around to the top of Mt. Rubidoux where the original Easter Sunrise service was held. There isn't room to park more than a very few cars at the top so thousands of worshippers make the ascent on foot each Easter morning. It is no trip for a heavyweight.

We are enjoying our vacation but when that discharge comes through will be heading back for the "land of the lake circled border" and I'm afraid the young folks will want to travel too fast for us to see much on the way home.

Yours for Michigan,
Jason Kitchin

Little Stories about
Great Hymns

My Country, 'Tis of Thee

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing:
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring!

Samuel F. Smith selected a stirring, patriotic tune for the Boston school children, not knowing it was also the British National Anthem. On impulse, he wrote a hymn of his own, "America" to the tune. To his surprise, Smith later heard his hymn sung at the children's Fourth of July celebration in Park Street Church. Soon it was sung from Maine to California—a symbol of America's liberty.

❖ LET'S TALK IT OVER ❖

Ed Vallender - Farm Editor
Station WBCM *** Bay City School Again.

Last week, we gave the Rural school system a lambasting, letting the chips fall where the neglect was the worst. This is a case of "if the shoe fits, wear it." Some Rural schools are tops—others pretty terrible.

In all fairness to the country schools we ought to bring our whole elementary educational system into focus.

Number One Problem.

The school population has jumped almost 25 percent in the past ten years, while the total population has increased only 14-and-a-half percent. Almost 27 million youngsters are in elementary and secondary public schools and another three and a half million are enrolled in private schools. What's more, education officials predict that we'll have 32 million children totting books by 1956.

Two factors are responsible for this mushrooming school population: The high birthrate in the 1940's and the fact that more and more children are staying in school longer.

Building Shortage.

To handle this increasing load, more school buildings are badly needed. Yet in 1950, three-fourths of the states reported shortages of buildings in both rural and urban areas. World War Two, which took both money and materials away from school construction, was a terrific BLOW to many educational systems, and the Korean War is just more of the same.

American Nomads.

Another problem in the building shortage is the population shift. A new school built in a boom area is fine, but if economic conditions cause a shift away from that area, the school is relatively useless. People move but buildings stay where they are.

School construction has been inadequate for the past twenty years. Only about 20 percent of the nation's schools have been built since 1930—meaning many school houses are too small and comparatively obsolete. The result has been the increasing and undesirable use of half day classes. More than 300-thousand youngsters will have to attend classes on a half-day basis this year.

Teachers.

The Teacher-Supply is the one situation that has been improved—thanks mainly to a concentrated propaganda drive by the nation's press. Salaries are up a little, but they are still shockingly inadequate compared with those of the other professions.

No Aid.

There is no federal government aid to school construction except in areas affected by Federal activities. Usually the states and local communities have to solve their problems on their own—and they're having their troubles. Federal taxes supply only two percent of the total school revenue.

Teaching.

It's bad enough that we have poor schools and crowded conditions—the ironic part is that teaching methods have jumped far ahead of teaching facilities. It must be discouraging for a teacher to do a second rate job when she is capable of much better effort—if she had the facilities.

Crops.

Agricultural crops are important. We'll all agree on that. More important, however, is our future crop of citizens.

Ask a city child what grade he is in and chances are he'll say, "fourth grade, third shift, second layer."

Price to Determine
Way to Market

Michigan farmers who raise dry edible beans are asking themselves, their county agents and Michigan State College specialists, "Should I make use of the government price support program this year?"

The difference between the current paying price and the support guarantee price is causing many farmers to wonder about it.

Clarence Prentice, Michigan State College extension agricultural economist, said today that the decision depends largely on the price of beans at the time the producer is ready to sell them.

Prentice said that all bean producers in the state are eligible this year to take part in the price support program, and it is the same over the whole state for each specific class of beans. Pea or navy beans, red kidney and cranberries are supported this year.

Growers have the option of storing beans on the farm or in an approved commercial warehouse up through next April. The grower then can turn the beans to the government on that date or dispose of them before April 30, according to the program rules.

Support prices on cleaned and bagged pea or navy beans is $7.94, red kidneys $9.29, and cranberries $8.64. Expected handling, cleaning and bagging charges are 95 cents a hundred for white beans and $1.25 for the colored beans, plus the picking charge.

To qualify for the support price the producer must sign up at the county PMA office by January 31, 1952, Prentice explained. Then the producer must decide whether to use commercial or farm storage. Commercial storage guarantees the grade and quality of the beans stored with it. Cost of storage is 8 cents a hundred per month. For farm storage the farmer is responsible for losses from rodents, weather and so on. The usual choice of purchase agreement or loan program is available, Prentice said.

NOTES from the TUSCOLA COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Dorr Perry, pioneer farmer of Tuscola County, says, "One of the greatest needs for improvement in Tuscola County agriculture is the growing of a pasture that will produce the whole season."

Mr. Sam W. Blades of Cass City believes in the practice of summer fallow on his farm. He aims to have about 10 acres or more each year. There are three reasons why Mr. Blades likes fallow: (1) for getting rid of quack grass and weeds, (2) gives soil a rest, (3) leaves farmer stands to profit in the long run.

Evergreen seedling and transplant order blanks from Department of Conservation and Michigan State College nurseries are available at the Extension Office for landowners who wish to buy trees for reforestation purposes. Trees should be ordered soon for either fall or spring planting, since the supply will probably be exhausted before planting time in the spring.

Tuscola County farmers who attended the Ferden Farm Field Day at Chesaning on September 20 saw and heard about some of the surprising results obtained by MSC Soil scientists who manage the 2,000 test plots located there. Extension specialist Paul Rood compared the cost of increasing corn production by various methods of soil improvement and fertilization. An extra 20 bushels or more of corn were obtained in a cash crop rotation at a cost of 26 cents a bushel by a mid-summer side-dressing of nitrogen fertilizer. Plowing down 1,000 pounds of fertilizer produced increases in corn yields, but the cost of such an operation was greater than the value of extra corn obtained. Plowed-down and planting time fertilization of corn was least effective on fields that had been in alfalfa the previous year. From Rood's presentation farmers concluded that besides being a good cow feed, alfalfa is about the most economical source of soil nitrogen for other crops.

With "hot cereal time" approaching, Michigan State College foods specialists remind homemakers that hot cereal can be kept free of lumps by sprinkling the dry cereal slowly into the boiling water and stirring as the cereal swells.

Even if the dollar is worth only fifty cents, its value will never be as low as some people will stoop to get it.

USDA Council Told of German Agriculture

The Tuscola County USDA council resumed its schedule of monthly meetings on September 19 when fourteen members gathered at the courthouse for a business session followed by a talk by county agricultural agent Alfred P. Ballweg. Ballweg showed slides and told of his interesting experiences while serving in the state of Hesse, Germany, for four months during the summer of 1950 helping to organize a cooperative extension service similar to the system of county agents serving each county here in the United States. He pointed out that the Nazi government failed to recognize the importance of agriculture and consequently its development in Germany is far behind the scientific and industrial fields over there. His description also called attention to the lack of education among the masses and the absence of local leadership in rural areas.

The council is composed of U. S.

Department of Agriculture workers and vocational and veterans teachers of the county. Wilson Kirk, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association office at Caro, presided. He took over his duties as the head of the council after Claude Elmore, Fairgrove High School superintendent, left last July to take a position as county superintendent of schools at Cheboygan.

The next USDA council meeting will be at Caro the evening of Oct. 16.

Funeral services were held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Baptist Church, for Mrs. Arthur Taylor, 71, who died Thursday, September 20, at the Stevens Nursing Home, where she had been a patient since February, 1947.

Mrs. Taylor was born in Grant Township on December 11, 1879, the daughter of the late William and Marion Cooley Parker.

At one time she was employed in Pontiac for eight years after which she came home to care for her parents.

She was married to Arthur Taylor of Grant in November, 1930, in Bad Axe. They then lived on the homestead in Grant Twp.

Surviving are her husband, a patient in the Stevens Nursing Home; two brothers, Ulysses G. Parker of Cass City; William W. Parker of Grant; one sister, Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf of Grant Township; one stepdaughter, Mrs. David Young of Elkton; two stepsons, Frank Taylor of Bay City and Albert Taylor of Grant; six grandchildren; several nieces and nephews. Three sisters and two brothers preceded her in death.

Mrs. Taylor was at Little's Funeral Home until 12:30 Sunday, when she was taken to the Baptist Church to lie in state until the time of services at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Arnold Olsen officiated and burial was in the family lot in Grant Cemetery.

Relatives and friends attending the funeral were from Caro, Pontiac, Bay City, Richmond, Royal Oak, Harbor Beach, Kinde, Detroit, Elkton and Smiths Creek.

Chas. Wright Dies After Long Illness

Charles Oliver Wright, 73, resident here most of his life and for the past several years of Lewiston, Mich., died Sunday in the home of his daughter, Margaret, in Plymouth, following a long illness. He underwent surgery in Ford Hospital in 1946 and had been in declining health since that time. He went to make his home with his daughter in January of this year and had been confined to his bed for the past two months.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home, Rev. John Tuckey of Brown City, a nephew, officiated and burial was in Elkland cemetery.

Mr. Wright was born January 21, 1878, on a farm northeast of town, son of the late Luke and Almira Withey Wright.

Surviving are six daughters: Mrs. Douglas Stilson (Verneta) of Cass City, Mrs. James Moore (Laura) of Detroit, Mrs. A. J. McKinley (Margaret) of Plymouth, Mrs. Myron Glendinning (Ada) of Paleremo, Maine, Mrs. Gus Moore (Aletho) of Farmington and Mrs. Leslie Hurd (Georgene) of Gagetown; two sons, Charles W. of Cass City and George W. of Bad Axe; 26 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Heller of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Chas. Powell of South Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. John Day of Cass City.

M. A. B. Open House Slated at E. Lansing

Members and guests of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative at East Lansing have been invited to attend an open house program at the organization's headquarters at East Lansing on October 11, according to A. C. Baltzer, secretary-treasurer.

Baltzer has notified local artificial breeding associations and 4-H and FFA leaders of the event and expects a large number of guests. Among the things to be seen will be the 80 proved sires, bull barn, a new office building, a newly constructed self-feeding silo, the semen laboratory and other exhibits prepared especially for the occasion.

Local ABA's in Tuscola County have not had time to make plans to attend the open house, but it is expected that several carloads of members will try to visit the central headquarters.

Reports from ABA secretaries showed a steady operation during the month of August, but with fewer services being given. This probably is a seasonal trend and likely will be followed by increased numbers in about two months to maintain the pattern of a large number of cows freshening in the fall.

Carlyle Everett, secretary of the Kingston association, reported that 78 first services were given by inseminator Richard Ross in August. First service totals in other ABA locals were Vassar 71, Millington 68 and Cass City 63.

The Cass City secretary, E. G. Golding, listed six new members signed up by his association in August, and new members in other associations numbered four at Millington and two at Kingston.

Married men are considered to be the best listeners. It's probably another case of practice makes perfect.

Trench, Pit Silos Advantages Listed Biggest Disadvantage Amount of Food Spoiled

In this year of near record crop and cattle production, farmers in many areas will need a larger amount of silage. Many of them do not have adequate silos.

These farmers may make profitable use of trench or pit silos, which have a number of advantages, but at the same time a number of disadvantages.

The trench silo is easily and speedily filled. The relatively low cost of construction is another of the advantages. And they can be emptied as easily as filled. As for size, they can be made to fit the crop.

However, one great disadvantage stands out. A great amount of feed can be spoiled if carelessly filled, compacted or covered.

But due to construction costs, a trench silo is a major project on most farms these days. Many farmers might find it profitable, therefore, to investigate the construction and maintenance of a trench or pit silo.

The local county agent, no doubt, can supply complete instruction. And they should be investigated thoroughly before any farmer undertakes to build one.

Forest Sites for Summer Homes Are Available

Many vacationists who visit the national forests make the wish that they might have a summer home in the forest. Many are not aware that the wish might come true. The possibility is worth investigating. More than 16,000 families already have such summer homes, and in many forests there is room for others who want what the forest service has to offer. The services recognizes summer home opportunities as one of the "multiple uses" for the national forests and provides sites for approved buildings.

This may surprise many who have motored through national forests without ever noticing a colony of summer homes. That, in fact, is one of the features of the policy on summer home building are not now issued for areas within sight of highways or on lake shores, along fishing streams, or near scenic attractions. Such areas are preserved for general use of the public which, of course has first priority.

Farm Scrap Iron Is Needed for Defense

The steel industry is asking for more scrap iron to keep its furnaces running full blast. Old worn out and broken machinery, no longer usable on the farm should be sold as scrap and once more put into use in the defense program.

A scrap clean-up program not only helps our defense preparations, but it also cleans up possible accident hazards. Scrap iron produces ready cash.

Heating the Great Outdoors

An interesting innovation to protect crops, fruit trees and plants against sudden cold snaps is the new "Frostguard," a generator of infra-red rays. This unique device will undoubtedly save many crops from unseasonable conditions. It consists of a kerosene-burning combustion chamber made of nickel-chromium cast iron which, when ignited, casts protective rays over a large area.

A writer says that if women ever do get equal rights it will be quite a comedown for some of them.
