

Elkland Township Chest Drive to Start Wednesday

A kick-off dinner for Elkland Township Community Chest Wednesday, Oct. 17, will mark the opening of the drive for funds here to be used for all charities from persons in the township. The drive will last until Oct. 31.

This year, the chest drive will need more funds than ever before, according to president Delbert Rawson. More money is needed for the United Fund allotment due to increase in services to soldiers and this year the Red Cross is included in the drive for community funds.

Keith McConkey has been elected chairman for the drive and will direct the campaign.

This will mark the fourth year that Elkland Township has made one contribution for all charities. The chest drive is designed to make gifts to all relief agencies in proportion to their needs and to the money raised.

The Board of Directors of the Chest include: Three year terms, Leonard Damm and Dave Ackerman. Officers for 1951-52, President, Dr. Delbert Rawson; vice president, Lewis Bishop; secretary, Dave Ackerman; treasurer, Francis Golding, and trustees, Harry Little and Leonard Damm.

"Jack" for Jock

Arthur Little submits the following identification of the men in the old picture printed in the last two issues of the Chronicle, most of which he is sure of. Campbell, O. K. James, Hugh McColl and C. W. Heller.

The men bought "Jock the Lad," a Clydesdale, imported from Scotland and paid $2400.00 for him which then was a lot of "jack" for Jock. The horse lived about four years and died at the Wm. Little farm.

Arthur Crampton Surprise Speaker at Community Club

Arthur L. Crampton, General Secretary of the Flint, Michigan, Y. M. C. A., entertained members of the Cass City Community Club at the first fall meeting of the organization Tuesday evening at the Cass City High School gymnasium.

Crampton posed as the famous clown Joe Hanneford and amused the crowd with tales of circus life, although he had never met a circus performer until 1947.

With his special act, Crampton has toured the United States and has put on his act for luncheon clubs, church groups, school assemblies, boys' camps, Community Chest dinners, school administrators, amateur circuses, industrial groups, Junior Chambers of Commerce and many others.

His style and stories kept the members of the Community Club entertained throughout his talk.

Prior to Crampton's speech the club held a business meeting and voted to raise the annual membership dues from $1.50 to $2.00 to help pay for the cost of speakers which now cost about $25.00 per engagement.

Lubaczewski Sent To Ionia Hospital

Tuscola County Circuit Judge George W. DesJardins ordered Henry Lubaczewski, self-confessed slayer of his father and brother, August 22, to the Ionia State Hospital where he is to remain until restored to sanity.

Judge DesJardins acted after reviewing the record that showed that three psychiatrists judged Lubaczewski insane. The three doctors were: Dr. W. W. Dickerson, medical superintendent of the Caro State Hospital; Dr. Dave B. Ruskin and Dr. Norman Westlund, both of Saginaw.

Their examination was supplemented by two Caro physicians, Dr. Herbert L. Nigg and Dr. L. L. Savage.

Both of these doctors agreed that the crime grew from the diseased condition of Lubaczewski's brain and said he could be expected to repeat his acts of violence in the future.

Robert Hodge Wins Indianapolis Trip For 4-H Work

Robert Hodge, Snover, a member of the Germania Silver Stars 4-H Club, attended the International Dairy Exposition at Indianapolis, October 8 to 10.

Hodge was one of seven 4-H club members in Michigan who was awarded the educational trip sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association.

Competition for the trip began last spring at examinations held during a tour of the Detroit Milk Market sponsored by the MMPA. Several boys were selected to submit their 4-H Dairy project reports for 1951 to the State 4-H Club Department. A committee reviewed these reports and judged them on the basis of their progress in 4-H club work, activities participated in, leadership activities and completeness of records submitted.

Hodge is the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hodge of Lamotte Township and is completing six years of dairy club work with Ayshire cattle.

Other 4-H club members of the Thumb Area participating in the trip were: John R. Welsler, St. Clair County and Richard Enos of Tuscola County.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seekings will hold open house Sunday from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. and from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. to celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The couple, together with the attendants and companions of their wedding day 50 years ago, will have dinner at the New Gordon Hotel after which they will return home for the two receptions Sunday.

Charles A. Seekings married Fern Mae Turner, Oct. 17, 1901, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Seekings spent the first five years of their married life at the home of the bride's parents, later moving to their present home.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Harold (Wanda) Crane of Pontiac, and Mrs. Nelson (Vernette) Gremel of Cass City. Three grandchildren, Judy and Dennis Gremel and Rodney Crane, will be on hand to help the Seekings celebrate their anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Seekings have been active in social and political affairs in the Cass City area for many years. Mr. Seekings was a member of Bingham School board for 32 years and constable of Elmwood Township for 42 years.

The Seekings are known as successful farmers by persons in the Cass City area.

Two Unusual Plants

Two persons brought unusual specimens into the Chronicle office this week.

G. H. Burke brought a twin table queen squash from his garden and Mrs. Ed Golding, one and one-half miles west of Cass City, brought a Forsythia from her yard which is in bloom.

The squash is as much as a twin as the one brought to the paper early last month. It has grown together and the shape of each of the halves are identical.

Mrs. Golding reports that her Forsythia which bloomed for the second time this fall, also bloomed the same way last year. Forsythia normally blooms only in the spring.

Separate Openings Put Pressure on State Game Birds

Michigan's 45-day waterfowl season opens today and pheasant season is slated to open Monday as 'Thumb hunters get all the hunting the federal regulations allow. Several local business firms have indicated that they will close Monday for the opening of the bird season here.

The conservation commission recently turned down a recommendation that would have delayed the opening of the waterfowl season until Oct. 15, to spread first-day hunting pressure over both wildfowl and small game.

And if federal authorities hear the pleas of the commission and upstate sportsmen, opening of the 1951 season in the upper peninsula will be advanced to October 5.

Concurrent openings of duck and small game seasons in the lower peninsula had been ordered by the commission in recent years as a means of spreading first-day hunting pressure when both ducks and pheasants were in short supply.

There are more ducks and more pheasants this year, according to federal and state biologists, and the commission acted to give wildfowlers an additional three days of shooting.

The commission bases its appeal to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for an earlier opening date in the upper peninsula on the wide differences in climate that influence the movement of wildfowl. It is pointed out that the average arrival and departure dates for ducks is about October 1 and October 30 in the upper peninsula and about October 15 and November 15 in the southern half of the lower peninsula.

Gunsners may take four ducks daily, have eight in possession. Bag limits on geese are increased to five a day, five in possession, one more than in 1950, including Continued on page 8.

Unique P. T. Program Slated for Guild

Miss Dorothy Bewell, Field representative of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education of Philadelphia, and Rev. Albert Kunz of Flint, Presbyterian's Committee on Christian Education will bring a "sure-fire package Conference" to the Young Women's Guild which meets at the M. B. Auten residence on Monday at 8:00 p. m.

The program will include sound film-strips and a presentation of Christian Education in the Church and home, featuring materials and techniques for teachers and parents.

The Guild is inviting the teachers and officers of the Church School and parents as special guests.

Mrs. Frederick Auten is hostess for the October meeting and Mrs. J. A. Milligan is program chairman.

The program was arranged by Rev. M. R. Vender through the Presbyterian's Committee on Christian Education, of which he is a member.

Said Pastor Vender concerning this program: "I venture to say that this will be a most interesting and challenging program, and indeed the most significant of the year in the life of the local church, actually and potentially, as parents, teachers and officers catch a new vision of the opportunity and responsibility for Christian education and use of the new curriculum."

Students Select Top Ten in Race for Football Queen

The Cass City High School took the first step toward picking a queen for the home-coming game with Caro, Nov. 2, when they selected the 10 top girls from 33 candidates Wednesday morning at the school.

The students selected the following girls to remain in the race for the coveted honor of becoming the queen for 1951: Joan Green, Bonnie Benkelman, Gail Lester, Wannalee Morell, Mary McClorey, Mona Lee Howell, Doris Root, Eunice Smith, Arlene Wills and Joan Holmberg.

From these students will come the eventual queen. Voting to decide the winner is scheduled for next Wednesday at the school.

The girl with the most votes will be the queen and the two runners-up will form the queen's court.

All members of junior and senior high school participate in the balloting to decide the winner.

Two Local Students Help Plan Start of Regional Council

Faculty sponsors and student representatives of all high school student councils in Legion Two, comprising fourteen counties in this area of Michigan, were invited to Flint this week to consider the organization of a regional student council association. The meeting was held in Flint Central High School library with sessions both morning and afternoon on Thursday.

The delegates heard an address by Dr. Guy H. Hill, co-ordinator of High School Relations for Michigan State College, on "Making Student Councils Functional." Mr. Richard Donley, Principal of Big Rapids High School, discussed the progress made in region four, centered about Grand Rapids, in forming a similar association. The afternoon session was devoted to the adoption of a constitution and the election of officers.

The Michigan Secondary School Association is sponsoring the development of these associations through its committee on pupil participation of which Mr. Arthur Holmberg, local high school principal, is this year's chairman.

Representing Cass City High School at the meeting were Tom Schwaderer, council president, and Jack Connell, a home room president and member of the council.

It is felt that such an association could do much to co-ordinate and stimulate student self-government activities in Michigan High Schools.

Nancy DeLong, Dale Turner Selected for Bank Award

Two students from Cass City High School agriculture and home economics department have been awarded the first annual Pinney State Bank Short Course Scholarship that will help pay the way for an eight-week short course at Michigan State College.

The boy and the girl selected by the judges to be awarded the scholarship are Nancy DeLong and Dale Turner. However, due to pressing farm work, Turner is unable to attend the school and Fred Milligan, who was a close second in the judging, will take his place at MSC.

The scholarship is awarded under a grading system that includes most of the different phases of school work, with practical application of ideas weighted the heaviest in the judging.

In the competition among the boys, the winners were judged on the following percentage basis: Forty per cent of the total evaluation of the students was awarded on the results of supervised practice projects. Scholarship was weighted for 30 per cent and the final 30 per cent came from the boy's leadership in FFA and citizenship while in school.

Judges for the FFA boy chosen were: Harold Oatley, Roy Benson, Arthur Holmberg, Dave Ackerman, Arthur Paddy and the six officials of the local chapter of the FFA. The FFA officers judged the supervised practice projects.

The competition among the boys for the scholarship was close and keen. The judges made their final selection from among six boys who were closely matched in the final percentages.

The six were, besides Turner and Milligan, Chester Dorland, Alfred Murray, Eugene Kloc and Arthur Warner.

The Home Economic student was chosen on the basis of five different categories. Most important were the grades the student maintained in home economic work and leadership. These were each worth 25 per cent of the total. Other activities considered were: General grades, 10 per cent; citizenship, 20 per cent; and outside activities, 20 per cent.

Four judges were used to select the winner among the girls. They were Donald Borg, Miss Bertha Mitchell, Harold Oatley and Arthur Holmberg.

Final competition narrowed to three girls to determine the winner. By a close margin, Miss DeLong won from Joan Dodge and Wenola Helwig.

According to members of the judging committee, work on farm projects and in home economics were purposely weighted very heavily so that the winner of the scholarship would be a person who could put into practical application the things offered in a short course at MSC.

Miss DeLong and Milligan will begin their courses on Monday, Oct. 22, and will finish their respective courses shortly before Christmas.

The judging is restricted to graduating members of the senior class at the Cass City High School.

Bad Axe Next Opponent for Championship Bound Hawks

Cass City took another step in its quest for the championship of the Upper Thumb football conference Friday night when they easily whipped Pigeon 27-0. The Hawks are undefeated in four games this season and face Bad Axe tonight at the Recreation Park in what many observers believe will be a stiff test for the local gridirers.

Although the Huron eleven have dropped two games in four starts, both of their losses could have been victories with a little better break in football fortunes, according to Cass City's coach Arthur Paddy.

Last Friday, the Hawks sewed up the contest in the first half by scoring four times to rack up an easy victory.

It took Cass City just three plays to score after Tom Schwaderer took Pigeon's punt at mid-field and ran it to the 25-yard line. Stanley Beach pounded through center for 15 yards on the first play. He then lost six and Schwaderer stepped back and tossed to end Tim Burdon for 12 yards and the first score. Pete Martin, who converted three out of four tries for the extra point, converted to put Cass City in the lead, 7-0.

The Hawks added their next marker in the next period on a sustained 61-yard drive. In the march, Creason picked up 15 yards, March, Creason rambled for 12 and then passed twice to Creason. The first heave netted 20 yards and the second covered 13 and was good for a touchdown.

Grayden Agar set up the next six points by intercepting a pass of the Pigeon 35 and returning it to the 23. The Hawks pounded along on the ground to the 12 from where Schwaderer hit Dan Tuckey for the remaining distance to pay dirt. Martin missed his only extra point try of the evening.

Cass City finished the scoring for the day by moving 80-yards. Schwaderer covered over half the distance by slanting off tackle for 45 yards. Stanley Beach went the final nine for the score.

Neither side scored in the last half as Coach Paddy used his reserves freely to keep the score within bounds.

The Hawks dominated the statistics. They ran up 15 first downs to seven for Pigeon. Cass City rolled for 230 yards on the ground and 87 in the air, while Pigeon made just 58 rushing and 17 passing.

The Hawks lost the ball three times on fumbles and were penalized 40 yards. Pigeon had one of their two fumbles recovered by Cass City and lost 25 yards through penalties.

Soldiers Write Letter to the Editor

Sept. 17, 1951
North Korea

Dear Sirs:
Some time ago we wrote a letter to your paper requesting pen-pals. The response, seemingly, was unanimous for Cass City opened its heart to us and showered us with mail. Thru your kindness in printing our request we have found many wonderful pen-pals to keep us in touch with the outside world and gave us much needed correspondence to read and answer. Many of the wonderful letters we will not have time to answer or correspond with the writer regularly so we are passing them on to others who are in the same position as we were.

In closing, I wish to say for myself and on behalf of the squad, thank you for helping us and thanks to the wonderful people of Cass City, for you have made us feel more secure in knowing the people back home are still behind us and haven't forgotten us. We are adopting Cass City as our "other home town."

Sincerely,

Mechanized Farms
The mechanization of farming has meant a $5,000 to $20,000 investment in machinery for the average farm. It has greatly enlarged the importance of this market for nickel steels, stainless steels and alloy irons all of which are used liberally in critical parts of farm machinery and equipment. The high strength low alloy structural steels likewise are used for body parts of corn harvesters, crawler tractors and combines.

Bowling

News and Views

George A. Dillman, Sec.

From the American Bowling Congress news letter No. 4, Vol. 12 received September 28—Frank K. Baker, ABC Secretary, Andy Varpapa and Joe Norris, two of the Nations top bowlers, have just returned from conducting bowling clinics in Europe. Mr. Baker states that American Soldiers serving in occupational forces in the European Command are enthusiastic in their acceptance of the bowling program offered them. The Soldiers pay 15 or 20 cents a line for bowling in camp installations. There are over 600 alley beds installed in Army Camps in the European Command.

The highest individual series reported to the ABC as of September 28 was rolled by Jay Pfister of Berwyn, Ill. Pfister hit 248, 245 and 298 for a 791 total in the Berwyn Junior League. The red hot Ziem Antique Shop team of St. Louis, Mo., rolled a huge 1276 game and 3438 series on September 13 in the St. Louis All Star League. If the above single game of 1276 had been rolled last season, it would have been second high in the Nation. This team holds 1st and 4th position in high three game series rolled to date of September 28. H. L. Boudon, Jr., of Port Alleghany, Pa., is the first ABC member to attain membership in the ABC's new exclusive Conservation farming pays off! One-third more net income per acre, higher crop yields, and greater returns from livestock—these were some of the benefits of high conservation farming found in a study of 120 farm records made by soil conservation experts in the slowly permeable soils area of northeastern Illinois. Farmers will find considerable worth-while data in the report AE2508, Soil Is Like A Bank Account—Keep Your Account Balanced. Copies may be secured by writing the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana, Illinois.

"11 in-a-row" Club. Boudon opened with a spare and then posted 11 straight strikes for a 290 game. Just imagine, when one of our teams rolls a 2700 series, we only need 600 or 700 more pins to gain National recognition.

At the end of the first four weeks of bowling in the City League we find that only two bowlers of the sixty men in the league, Musall and A. J. Murray, have the highest number of strikes in-a-row, with six each. Six men have posted 5 in-a-row, Geiger, Bartle, Galloway, Hartel, Ryan and Hunt. Thirteen men have hit 4 in-a-row. The honors of gathering the most strikes in one game were attained by Geiger, Dillman, Galloway, Damm, Landon, Bartle, Franklin and A. J. Murray with 7 each. Schwaderer and Musall have the highest number of strikes in a three game series with 15 each. Out of 683 games bowled by City League Members, only ten games have been rolled in which there were no open frames. Of this number Galloway and Clara have two each to their credit. Twenty-two men have rolled single games with only one open frame showing. H. Copeland, Galloway and Dillman leading with 3 each.

A record of "Bowling Statistics" gathered from each week of games rolled will be reported from time to time to keep you informed of the leaders in various departments of scoring in the City League.

Knoblet-Lockwood Rites Told Friday

In a candlelight ceremony Friday evening at 7:30, in the Ellington Church of the Nazarene, Miss Charlotte Lois Knoblet became the bride of John Wesley Lockwood of Caro. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rinerd Knoblet, who celebrated their 33rd anniversary the same day, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lockwood are the parents of the groom.

Rev. R. J. Matteson, pastor, performed the ceremony and Miss Marian Lockwood of Caro played the wedding marches and Miss Roma Lee Humm of Fairgrove sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "My Father Watches Over Me."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white slipper satin. The bodice featured lace inserts, a button front, wrist point sleeves and a high neck with a pointed collar. The skirt ended in a long train. The illusion net veil, edged in imported French Chantilly lace, was secured to a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls. Her flowers were red roses and white bebes mums centered with a gardenia corsage and tied with white.

Miss Martha Knoblet, bridesmaid for her sister, wore a rose colored satin gown with matching mitts and a shoulder length veil. Her flowers were pink roses and bebes mums tied with wintergreen.

Alvin Lockwood was his brother's best man.

Ushers were Paul Lockwood of Caro, brother of the bridegroom, Fred Knoblet, brother of the bride, and J. William Parrott.

Included in the wedding party was a miniature bride and groom, Sharon Parrott and Rinerd Schember, nephew of the bride, of Cass City.

Mrs. Knoblet chose for her daughter's wedding a two-piece black crepe dress with black accessories. Mrs. Lockwood wore navy blue with navy accessories and both wore corsages of red roses and white bebes mums.

A reception, featuring a program with Don Monte, master of ceremonies, was given for the newlyweds in the Novesta town hall at Deford, following the ceremony, with 200 in attendance. Cakes, including a four-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom, and ice cream were served.

When the couple left on a short trip to Niagara Falls, Mrs. Lockwood was wearing a navy blue suit with navy accessories.

Guests from a distance came from Detroit, Roseburg, Bad Axe and Flint.

The bride was graduated from school here in 1949 and attended Bethel College at Mishawaka, Ind., for one year and has been employed for more than a year with the Tuscola County Advertiser.

They will make their home on a farm near Caro.

Plan Scrap Harvest On State Farms

C. V. Ballard, director of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, today called upon farmers to cooperate in an iron and steel scrap harvest to help obtain the raw materials needed in the production of equipment vital to the mobilization program.

Dates for the scrap harvest, set to follow the nation's grain harvest, are October 15 to November 15, Ballard said. The National Production Authority has requested the farm scrap drive.

Ballard pointed out that in addition to providing steel mills and foundries with scrap on which to operate, the scrap drives will help farmers clean up piles that have been accumulating.

He said that farms are a good source of the higher grade, heavier types of scrap used in defense production. And farmers will help us secure an adequate supply of the raw materials which are essential to steel production, thus helping guarantee more adequate manufacture of the farm machinery and equipment they need.

Although the emphasis is being put on iron and steel scrap in the nation-wide drive, copper and lead scrap also is needed, Ballard said. He stressed that the drive calls only for machinery and equipment which cannot be reconditioned. Farmers are being urged to conserve and repair any machinery they can continue to use since this will cut down on the need for new equipment.

An educator says dairy farms are harmful to children. That probably includes the tales told to them when they come home late.

New Weight Control Program Announced By Michigan State

A new weight control program, achieving weight losses averaging 12 to 20 pounds a week with no abnormal "hunger pangs" or disturbances to the diet, has been developed by Michigan State College foods and nutrition research workers.

The new diet contains a high proportion of protein and fat. The food combinations in the diet permit weight reduction without loss of vigor and work capacity, often associated with reducing diets.

Results of the long-time research program in weight reduction, under the direction of Dr. Margaret Olson, were reported at the national meeting of the American Dietetics Association, held in Cleveland. The study, conducted at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, was partially financed by a grant from the National Dairy Council.

"The diet is planned so that it may be prepared from food included in everyday family meals. A typical breakfast in the diet is made up of citrus juice, two eggs, toast and butter and milk. This substantial breakfast each day helps to fortify the body and prevent hunger.

Lunch and dinner each include adequate servings of a protein food, which may be meat, fish, chicken or poultry or a combination of these foods. Dairy foods are an essential part of the diet and are included in every meal. A wide choice of vegetables helps to vary the meals.

Assisting Dr. Olson in the diet studies were Dr. Dora G. Osler, dietitian, and Dr. William H. Brown, who presented results of the research at the dietetics meeting. Physicians in the Lansing area referred overweight patients to the School of Home Economics, and foods and nutrition department for participation in the weight control studies.

"This diet—like any reducing diet—should be administered under the direction of a physician," Dr. Olson points out. "Michigan State College recommends that no one attempt to lose weight through diet without consulting a physician."

Michigan State College records taking part in the weight control program ate at a special table for several months before starting the diet. The girls ate about 2,200 calories a day, counting meals and between-meal snacks. Their reducing diet permitted about 1,600 calories a day and the girls reported no hunger while on the diet.

A continuing part of the research program is the study of the maintenance diet needed after normal weight has been achieved.

The diet imposes few restrictions on foods which may be eaten. Salt intake is reduced but not cut out. Coffee or tea, unsweetened, may be included in amounts which your doctor recommends, utilizing part of the diet's milk allowance.

Meals may be prepared in any way desired, including frying, broiling, baking, etc., may be used to season vegetables.

A motion picture, "Weight Reduction Through Diet," sponsored by the National Dairy Council was produced at Michigan State College and demonstrated the effectiveness of the diet. It will be available for public showing after November 1.

Persons wishing to lose weight should first consult their physicians to determine the weight reduction program best suited to their needs. Dr. Olson advises. Members of the medical profession may secure details of the diet by writing to Dr. Olson at the Foods and Nutrition Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

SHORT STORY

Lucky Leslie

By Helen Langworthy

THEY CALL ME Lucky Leslie—not because I'm so lucky but because of my wife Celia and her phobia. Sure, lots of people believe in luck, omens and that stuff. But you could cover half the country before you'd find anyone the equal of my Celia for ideas on luck. It's not ordinary garden variety luck that Celia talks about either—not four leaf clovers, new moons and rabbit's feet. Oh, no! Celia goes in strong for lucky numbers. In her book, 7 is the luckiest, 3 is a fair number and 6 you skip by with eyes shut and hands clenched.

Celia believes if you have good fortune doing a thing a certain queer way once, then if you repeat it—bingo!—you're fortunate. If Celia were to find a diamond on the corner of Main street on the 7th of the month and while wearing a red rain coat; she would believe that next month, come the 7th, she could don the same rain coat (no matter if the sun was blazing), go back and find a ruby. The queer part of it is—Celia would.

When we were married in those unpleasant days of '43, I had leave from the 15th of one month to the next. We had known each other for a couple years, Celia and I. If I'd had my way we'd have been married the 18th. But Celia said, "The 7th—that's the day for luck." Even reminding her that that date was a century away and that we would be married but a few days before I went back into action wouldn't swerve her. The 7th it was; To this day Celia believes the reason I wasn't amongst the 166 killed in our regiment was because we were married on the 7th. And maybe she's right!

Take our son—the doctor said David would be born on June 26th. Celia said she chose July 3rd. The doctor snorted, "Choose!" But David was born on the 3rd of July at 7 o'clock—just like Celia had predicted.

Her strongest belief is that things happen in 3's. If there's 2 big train wrecks, Celia expects the third. When David had measles and chicken pox inside of 2 months, I thought it enough. Celia said there would be more. He came down with the mumps on the 6th. If we have unexpected company 2 nights in a row, Celia makes a batch of cookies and waits for someone to drop in without warning. They always do!

BUT even Celia couldn't find enough lucky omens or charms to counteract the 6th of the month that was rushing at us. Old Crawford, head of Crawford Corporation said business was so bad that half the office crew would be through on the 6th. I was one of the last taken on. The 6th was coming and I had a good idea of who was going to get a pink dismissal slip in their pay envelope. Celia said she would try to think of something. Ha! We both knew we were whistling in the dark.

Early the morning of that fateful day David woke with a terrific stomach ache. Two hours later he went to the hospital for an appendicitis operation. I know, operations aren't unusual. But it was blow number one—of three. At breakfast our toaster popped sparks and smoke instead of toast. Celia chattered about the low cost of repairs. But I knew she was thinking to herself "the second trouble."

Like they had gone into deep mourning, that's the way the office force looked. I tried to write up orders like it was just any day, instead of the 6th. Celia telephoned to say she had dropped her wrist watch and broken it. Now why was a trivial thing like that worth a telephone call! Women!

Then the pay checks came. Mine didn't have a pink slip. I could have danced on my desk top. I rushed home to tell Celia the good news and that her theory was wrong. She took it casually. "Remember my watch," she asked blandly. "That was the third blow. See?"

But do you know something funny? She said she dropped it. I found her shoe on the dresser amidst some bits of broken glass, and some glass was stuck in the heel. You don't suppose the heel of her shoes met that watch on purpose—or, do you?

Prevention Week being observed from October 7-13, by proclamation of President Truman.

Now, when so many farmers are planning to remodel and repair the farm home, barn, and other buildings, is the time to plan to eliminate the four "built in" hazards, says Byron E. Carpenter, assistant Tuscola County agricultural agent.

Here are the NFPA recommendations to include in remodeling plans:

1. The heating plant should stand on a concrete foundation; and the ceiling above the furnace should be covered with plaster, gypsum or asbestos material. A good, solid door should separate the basement from the rest of the house—closed at night. The chimney should rest solidly on the ground and be free-standing. That is, it should not lend support to or be supported by the house. The chimney should be four inches thick and lined with fire-clay tile or fire-brick. There should be separate flues for each heating device. Both the heating plant and the chimney need cleaning yearly.

2. Approved lightning rod systems properly installed and maintained offer farmers virtually "guaranteed" protection and should be used on all main buildings. Regular inspection is necessary to be sure connections are tight.

3. Fire resistant roofing such as asphalt shingles, asbestos or metal is needed on all buildings. Dried, curled, flammable wood shingles are good tinder for a spark from a chimney or a brush fire. Fire resistant roofing is effective in preventing the spread of a blaze from one building to another.

4. Overloaded electrical circuits are a serious hazard, the NFPA warns, so before adding a new electric range in the kitchen or a new motor in the barn, check the wiring to be sure it is adequate. Have plenty of outlets to eliminate long extension cords. Keep appliances and motors clean and in good working order.

Warning that "hollow walls form a flue through which fire races from floor to floor," the NFPA recommends fire steps at each floor level.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural Extension Services, represented by the Extension Agents at the Court House in Caro, are cooperating with the NFPA in this year's campaign.

Painting Over Varnish
When painting over varnish, first clean the surface thoroughly, removing any dirt and grease by washing carefully with soda and water. Then dull the gloss by rubbing with steel wool or sandpaper, by wiping off with turpentine, or with one of the commercial preparations for the purpose.

Ever notice how many people start giving youngsters good advice as soon as they get too old to set bad examples themselves?

A sensible looking girl very often is not as sensible as she looks, because a sensible girl has more sense than to look sensible.

Attend Tractor School

Three 4-H boys from Tuscola County are attending the 4-H tractor leaders' training school at Jackson, says George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent. The school is under the direction of the agricultural engineering department of Michigan State College and engineers from the Standard Oil Company, sponsors of the school, and 4-H tractor maintenance project. The leader-trainees attending are Steve Kish, Jr., Caro; Clayton Ruggles, Kingston; and Keith Kuhne of Unionville. These boys will learn a great deal about the importance of proper maintenance of farm tractors and how to organize and conduct 4-H tractor maintenance clubs. The school will terminate October 5. Upon returning the boys will either organize or help conduct 4-H tractor clubs in their communities. Organization of all such clubs will be held at a later date, says the 4-H agent.

On many farms, more time is spent cleaning eggs by hand than in caring for the flock. It's easier to produce clean eggs than to clean dirty ones by hand. Your county agricultural agent has suggestions for producing clean eggs.

Sixty-five Attend Calf Demonstration

One-half to two-thirds of all deaths occurring among dairy calves are caused by pneumonia and scours, according to a statement by assistant Tuscola County agricultural agent Byron E. Carpenter, at a calf raising demonstration at the Chester Kinney and Sons farm at Millington on September 25.

About sixty-five farmers and vocational students attended the meeting, at which proper calf management practices were demonstrated. MSC extension dairyman, George Parsons; county agent Alfred Ballweg; veterinarians Robert Drysdale, Mayville, and Rex Orr, Caro; veterans instructor Francis Ode, Mayville; and DHIA tester David Greenleaf, Kingston, aided Carpenter and the Kinney's with the demonstration.

Studies of calves in the MSC dairy herd showed that calf mortality is highest during the weeks of life, with 44 percent of all calf deaths occurring during the first month, and another 25 percent of calf deaths took place during the second month.

Practices suggested to reduce pneumonia losses included better stabling facilities and more sanitation practices. The individual pen with a raised slatted floor and a solid wall partition between pens was recommended to keep calves off from damp drafty floors and healthy animals from exposure to sick calves and contaminated litter.

Parsons told farmers that the scours problem and other intestinal troubles could be reduced by proper feeding. One pound of milk, or its equivalent, each day (not each feeding) is the standard for feeding calves. Too many dairymen overfed calves, Parsons said. Mr. Kinney pointed out that calf pails should be cleaned thoroughly after each feeding. If a calf gets scours, it is recommended that the milk ration be cut in half, and steps be taken to isolate the affected animal, since the disease is contagious.

Studies show that with ordinary attention dairy calf losses in large herds often run as high as 20 percent, but when special care is given to calves the death rate is cut to about one-third the above figure.

Cement pouring started Monday on the five-mile stretch of highway which is being improved this fall on M-81 between Cass City and Caro.

IN A TRACTOR THIS SIZE

The CA Tractor is actually a new size in the Allis-Chalmers line. Here is a two-plow tractor with all the snap and power you could ask for.

Watch the way it handles its Two-Bottom plow in all kinds of soil. It hustles every job with extra traction and reserve power.

Ten-inch tires on ten-inch rims put more of the tire in contact with the ground — for increased traction. Slower low gear and optional Two-Clutch control give unusual power take-off capacity.

You ought to see this tractor work. Give us a ring and we will let you try it in your fields.

Proper Fall Care
Will Improve
Spring Lamb Crop

"You can increase the size and vigor of next spring's lamb crop by proper care and management of your sheep flock this fall," Graydon Blank, extension animal husbandman at Michigan State College, advised farmers today.

He said that the first essential is using a good ram. Yearling or older rams are safer to use. Ram lambs should probably not be used on over 20 ewes. "It's still not too late to locate a good purebred ram from one of the many purebred breeders in the state," Blank said.

Always keep an eye on the ram at breeding time. Check to see if he is settling the ewes. A good way to do this is to paint the ram's brisket every 3 days with a paste made from a mixture of yellow ochre, venetian red or lamp black and oil. The color should be changed every 16 days. If the ram cannot be marked a check ram should always be used.

Heavily woolled rams will usually be more active breeders if they are sheared. Feet also should be trimmed when needed.

Blank recommended having the ram in good flesh at the start of the breeding season and feeding him so he will remain in vigorous condition. If possible, it is a good practice to give the ram a pound of oats daily for several weeks previous to and during the breeding season.

The ewes should be gaining weight at breeding time. That will increase the chances of having more twin lambs. Changing the flock to a fresh pasture several weeks before breeding, or feed a half to three-fourth of a pound of oats per head daily during this period.

Middle age is the period when it takes half as long to get tired and twice as long to rest.

Many a man has taken a gal's hand in marriage, but makes a blunder by letting her keep a thumb to hold him under.

Miss Tait and D. E. Klein Are Wed

A double ring ceremony recently united Miss Alice Tait and Mr. Donald Edwin Klein in marriage. Miss Tait is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy C. Tait of Caro and Mr. Klein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Klein, also of Caro.

Rev. Fr. E. J. Betzing read the nuptial mass. Mrs. Ray Toohey of Gagetown played the Lohengrin wedding march and Duane Bogart of Caro sang "O Beautiful Mother." The central altar was banked with red roses, the other decorations were white gladioli and white bebs and large chrysanthemums. The aisles were strung with white rope and large white bows designated the pews for the immediate families.

The bride was escorted to the altar on the arm of her brother, Forest Tait. Her gown was of white satin edged in lace with a full train, also edged in lace. The tiasa was of white satin covered with lace, and it held the full train length veil. The bride carried a white prayer book topped with a fan-shaped corsage of white roses from which lilies-of-the-valley, tied in white streamers, hung.

Mrs. Gerald Fournier of Detroit, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a shrimp-colored floor-length gown with fitted bodice. Maids of honor who were classmates of Miss Tait were Miss M. Sue Noland of Chicago, Illinois, and Miss L. Joan Marasek of Eau Claire, Wisconsin. Their dresses were of sage green, similar to that of the matron of honor, as were the dresses of the junior bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Klein, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Delores Ann Tait, cousin of the bride. The color of their dresses was autumn gold.

The bouquets of each of the attendants were bebs chrysanthemums of the fall colors tied with streamers to match each dress. Darlene Kay Tait of Deckerville and Linda Sue Devault of Detroit, nieces of the bride, were attired in shrimp-colored, hooped, floor-length dresses. They carried the train of the bride's gown. Joann Tait, flower girl and niece of the bride, wore white lace over satin with matching head dress and carried rose petals in a white crocheted basket. Tommy Dale Devault, nephew of the bride, wore black velvet and white satin while carrying the two rings on a white, heart shaped, satin pillow.

Dwayne Klein was his brother's best man, and also attending were Clark Purdy of Caro and Arvid Erlanson of Norway, Michigan, classmates of the bridegroom. Ushers were R. Douglas Devault, Detroit, Gerald Fournier, Detroit, and Cyril Klein and Wayne Tait, both of Caro.

The mothers of the bridal couple both chose navy blue for their clothes and wore corsages of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was held at the Hotel Montague for 75 guests. A four-tiered wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Gerald Fournier was served. A basket which had belonged to the bride's great-grandmother held the bridegroom's cake.

A reception was held at the home of the bride from two until five for about 150 guests.

Guests attended from Chicago, Illinois; Sioux City, Iowa; Toledo, Ohio; Fremont, Indiana; and Flint, Jackson, Port Huron, Cass City, Bad Axe, Bay City, Saginaw, Detroit, Dearborn, East Detroit, Fairgrove, Deckerville, Fenton, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

Pre-nuptial affairs for the bride were given by Miss Mabel Zemke at Deford, Mrs. George Fritz at Caro, the Misses Ila Willis, Marjean Donnelly and Phillis Livermore in Ypsilanti and Mrs. Cyril Klein in Caro.

Michigan State College clothing authorities say that nylon garments may be washed safely in your washing machine, using warm water and a mild soap or detergent. Fragile items should be put into a bag or pillow-slip before being placed in the machine.

Food Demonstration At Co. 4-H Building

"Something different" using the same, everyday foods, is that what you would like for dinner? How about some menus with that delightful "grilled" flavor or a few that may be prepared in double-quick time?

Menus like these will be suggested — and demonstrated — at the meeting held for leaders of home economics groups on Friday, Oct. 19, and Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building, beginning at 10:00 in the morning, according to home demonstration agent, Jean E. Gillies. The menus and recipes will be provided for group members at their local club meetings.

Are you being fair to yourself or are you being cheated of your fair share of riboflavin? You'll be able to take your own riboflavin rating in a quick and easy way after these meetings.

It is important that every group send two leaders to the meetings.

County Meets Quota

Tuscola County 4-H club members and the Tuscola County 4-H Council joined in meeting their quota for lifting the mortgage on the National 4-H Center at Washington, D. C., says George C. MacQueen, county 4-H Club agent. Through a share and care program, 4-H Club members raised $68.70 by donating 10c each at the County Fair. A quota of $99.80 was given to the county based on last year's enrollment at 10c each. The difference between the donation and the quota was provided by the Tuscola County 4-H Council.

The 4-H Center is under the direction of the National 4-H Foundation. This group purchased Chevy Chase Junior College at Washington, D. C., last February. A. G. Kettunen, State 4-H Leader, is the chairman of the Foundation Board of Trustees. The center will be a mecca for 4-H club members and adult extension groups alike. It will also be the hub of the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

New bulletins now available at the extension office are MSC Special Bulletin 373, Dairying for Profit in Southern Michigan, and North Central Regional Publication No. 18, Family Farm Transfer Arrangements.

Sugar beet growers who use the King-Wyse harvester which employs the beater-type top remover, are cautioned that topping beets more than one or two days ahead of pulling results in a marked decrease in sugar content. Michigan Sugar Company grower contracts forbid topping more than 48 hours ahead of the harvester operation.

University of Illinois experts report that good and choice steer calves fed for the fall market will pay for themselves and their feed if they bring within $5.00 a cwt. of the purchase price. For good and choice yearlings the break-even selling price would be $1.00 to $2.00 under the price paid for feeders. Heavier cattle and lower grade yearlings, however, must bring $2.00 to $3.00 above their purchase price to pay out.

Several 4-H service club members are planning to be guests of the campus 4-H Club this Saturday at Michigan State College. The young people plan to attend the football game with Marquette and then have an evening of fun at the Demonstration Hall on campus.

NOTES from the TUSCOLA

COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Representatives of several dairy farmer organizations and one dairy plant operating in Tuscola County met for a dairy extension program planning meeting with extension agents on September 21. Those present felt that a more detailed knowledge of the number of dairymen, number of cows, and quantity of dairy products sold annually would be great help at such meetings. A sanitation and quality program was felt to be one of the most urgent educational needs of dairymen at the present time. It was requested that quality be stressed at local meetings and a county tour in 1952. The farmers present asked that a two-day "dairy institute" be held in the county sometime during the coming winter, combining several ABA annual meetings, breed association annual events, and a county dairy banquet, and offering educational talks and demonstrations each day by dairy specialists. A quarterly news letter for members of artificial breeding associations was also requested.

Results of crop rotation and fertilizer trials announced at the recent Ferden farm field day at Chesaning revealed that sugar beets following alfalfa sod averaged higher in yield when the sod was fall plowed. When fall plowing is done early enough, a winter cover crop of oats is recommended to reduce sheet erosion during the winter. It's better however to leave a hilly or sloping field in sod or stubble than to fall plow and take a loss in topsoil erosion and gully-ing that is inevitable on unprotected soil.

4-H crops club members will have an opportunity to get some advice on preparing their exhibits for the fall grain show if they attend a meeting planned for them today. Demonstrations and discussions on preparation of show samples will be presented at the Michigan Bean Company elevator at Caro both morning and afternoon on the 12th. Practice judging will be a part of the program, as well as help in preparing beans, small grain, ear corn, and potatoes for the show.

It's surprising our presidents don't do better—with all the free advice thrown to them by the citizenry.

Get Cows and Barn Ready for Winter

Dairy cows soon are going to start living an unnatural life, confined to barns. That's bad enough, but if the barn and cows aren't properly prepared for winter it will be worse.

J. G. Hays, extension dairyman at Michigan State College, has some suggestions for farmers getting ready for winter.

"Now is the time to dehorn those heifers you missed as calves," he reminds dairymen. "Dairy cows don't need armament and a horn clipping job is easily and smoothly done by a good veterinarian. The patient will get along better and recover faster if she can convalesce outdoors rather than in a crowded pen."

And don't put off giving your cows calcium and phosphorus from steamed bone meal. Hays points out that sunshine "sets" these minerals in the animal and sunshine is getting scarcer as the days grow shorter. "Speaking of minerals—you should be making plans for giving the cows daily access to salt during the winter too," he says. Two suggestions include little stanchion-line boxes for each pair of cows or put a sheltered box in the barnyard.

It's easier to make barn repairs now than after the cows start indoor boarding steadily. A bit of concrete for repairs here and there, replacing wire with proper chains and bolts, and similar jobs can be done now and avoid annoyance later on.

A whitewash job now will help brighten up the quarters this winter when light is more feeble.

And if the bull pen or safety breeding chute needs some repairs, remember that post holes are more easily dug now than after the ground is frozen, Hays concludes. Apples supply some vitamin A

McNabb's Ayrshire Complete Records

The purebred Ayrshire herd of LaVerne McNabb, Crosswell, Mich., has completed its 2nd year on the Ayrshire Herd Testing Plan with an average of 10799 lbs. of 4.1% milk and 448 lbs. of butterfat.

According to a report from the National Ayrshire Breeders' Association office in Brandon, Vt., the herd of 6 milking females is credited with 11607 lbs. of 4% milk on a Mature Equivalent twice-a-day milking schedule.

The highest butterfat producer in the herd was Terrace Bank Myrna with 14069 lbs. of 4.2% and varying amounts of vitamin C. They also furnish minerals, organic acids, bulk and pectin. And in addition, they're ideal for good eating in many ways, remind foods and nutrition authorities at MSC.

milk and 586 lbs. of butterfat. With a record total of 15,000 cows enrolled in the Ayrshire Herd Test Plan, the Ayrshire breed holds the record among all dairy breeds as having the highest percentage of its cows on test.

When farmers add new replacements to their dairy herd they should consider several factors. One is the risk of introducing disease into the herd through purchased cows. You also should consider quality of heifers raised from your own herd and how the new cow fits in with the program of herd improvement on the farm.

It seems futile to preach highway safety, but we often wonder what the slaughter would be if there were no preaching at all.

Statistics show that a girl need neither be pretty nor rich to be popular—it's no handicap, though, to be pretty rich.

Efficient Machines Increase Production American Farm Records Are Made by Equipment

No one any longer disputes the fact the machine, namely the tractor, has replaced the horse on the average American farm. Constant research in recent years has resulted in high speed implements, more work for each gallon of fuel, and a number of multiple-job attachments for the farm tractor.

The mechanization of American agriculture has been the main reason for increased farm production in the last 10 years or more. But it stands to reason that the more mechanized the farm becomes, the more important it is for the farmer to know how to care for his machinery and how to operate it skillfully.

The tractor has replaced the horse on thousands of American farms, but many farmers still do not know how to get the most efficient use from the tractor.

Properly adjusted machinery can pull with less gas and less strain on vital parts. Such things as proper hitching, use of the right kind of oil and regular lubrication, sharp soil-working tools, correct carburetor adjustment, can improve tractor efficiency from 10 to 20 per cent.

Crop Conditions Are Reported Good in U.S.

The U.S. department of agriculture reported continued improvement in conditions for crop development during June and early July has resulted in prospects among the most favorable the country has ever known.

The department reported farmers were able to plant crops on the largest aggregate acreage since 1935. Yield prospects are reported virtually as good as the best in recent years. Winter wheat prospects improved, despite adverse harvesting conditions in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, and spring wheat acreage exceeded planting intentions by nearly a half-million acres.

As a result, an all wheat crop of 1,070 million bushels, 16 million more than on June 1, is now in prospect.

Larger acreage of corn, hay, soybeans and sorghums than intended earlier are growing under mostly favorable conditions. Of the major crops only rice and hay are expected to set new production records, but several others will be of near-record size.

Why Clip Wings?

To the housewife who has a small flock of chickens and has trouble with their flying, here is an idea that might prove practical. Instead of clipping a fowl's wing feathers, wrap a short piece of wire solder around the three largest feathers of one wing. The solder not only prevents full spread of the wing for flying, but also weighs it down so that any flight will be made in a circle.

Bulletin Tells Methods Of House Preservation

A man's house was never any more his castle than these days when wood rots and wood-eating insects may be controlled by the means as are described in revised U.S. department of agriculture bulletin 1953. The bulletin discusses causes, general and special safeguards, the durability of new building materials, and care of houses to stop termites, decay and rot. It is recommended for all farmers.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five Years Ago.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist Church gave a surprise party in the basement of the church for Mrs. Selma Brown, who leaves here Monday to make her home in Texas.

The reception held for Rev. J. D. Young and family in the Methodist Church Friday evening was largely attended and all had a very enjoyable time.

The Evangelical Ladies' Aid elected the following officers at a meeting held last Thursday afternoon: President, Mrs. J. J. Striffler; vice president, Mrs. B. F. Benkelman; secretary, Miss Martha Striffler; treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Ricker.

Council Proceedings

Council called to order September 25 with roll call, all trustees present. Minutes of the last meeting read and approved as read.

Licensing of bicycles committee reported their progress, which was tabled until the racks ordered have been installed.

A motion for the following resolution was made by Bauer and seconded by Hartwick and carried. Resolution adopted.

"WHEREAS, the Village Council of Cass City, Michigan, have found Mr. Ball to be an efficient deputy, it is hereby RESOLVED: The Village Council do give Mr. Ball a vote of confidence, and will give him their full cooperation and backing in his job. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be sent to George F. Jeffrey, sheriff, respectfully requesting that he honor it."

Storm sewer committee reported that Mr. Orr has agreed to sign for an easement through his property for a drain from Main Street to our ditch. The easement is to be registered with the County Recorder, and the ditch by the street which he had already deeded to the village to be filled, and entered in the agreement.

A letter was read from Highway Commissioner Ziegler in which he stated that the resurfacing of M-81 is entered in the state plans for 1952.

A letter from the Water Resources Commission was read. Clerk was instructed to call George Hubbell for a conference with us before the committee has to go before the Commission at Milford October 24.

Mr. Hunt was excused from the meeting for a good reason.

Highway Department reported on speed control survey, stating that it will take effect October 15, 1951, a 35 mi. per hr. limit from east limits to Sherman Street, a 25 mi. per hr. limit thru the village to West Street, and 35 mi. per hr. on out of the village.

A written request from Mrs. Lucy Starman, Girl Scout leader, to have the fire escape to the club rooms erected as soon as possible, was read. This was left to the building committee for regulation of erection.

A request from Mr. Ziegler was read, in which he asked that a single administrator of Act. 51, Public Acts of 1951, for the village be appointed by the governing body. Motion by Gross and Hartwick that the clerk act as this administrator. Carried.

Building permits for a two and a half car garage for Phil Brack, and sun porch addition for Frank E. Hall were submitted and passed on.

It was agreed that we should advertise for bids for the digging and filling of the trench for the water main extension, approximately 1000 ft. on Maple and M. Streets from Garfield Ave.

Specialists Discuss Feeder Outlook

Tuscola County farmers interested in livestock feeding had an opportunity to hear Henry Larzere and Bill Finley, specialists in agricultural economics and animal husbandry, respectively, from Michigan State College, on Monday evening, October 1.

Demand for meat will continue strong because of heavy defense spending. Farmers starting out in the livestock feeding business were advised to begin with a few head of livestock and thereby gain experience before undertaking the feeding of larger numbers of livestock.

Finley advised farmers interested in purchasing feeder cattle to line up with a dependable feeder cattle dealer or commission firm. He also stated that a farmer can market corn through silage for 50% more income than any other method.

Cattle feeding is a splendid method of marketing roughages and grains produced on Tuscola County farms, says Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural extension agent.

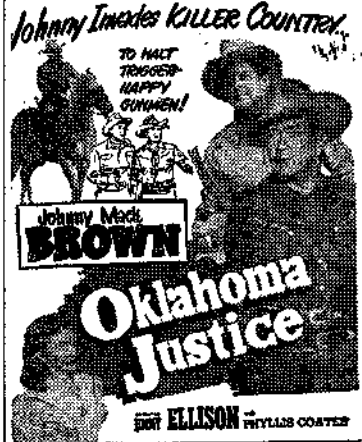

The hunting season is here again, with the usual limits on birds and animals, but no limit on how many accidents can happen to the hunters.

SHORT STORY

The Long Way Home

By Beatrice Cargill

LONG AFTER the 12:07 had moved out of sight around Black Mountain, two figures stood motionless on the tiny platform.

Above them, creaking on its hinges, the sign read "Turner Junction." Wind whirled and eddied around them harshly. Jeb Reynolds, station master, stayed discreetly inside the ticket office. He had watched folks for twenty years as they experienced that first aloneness.

The train had paused for only a minute. Then, with Rob Cameron waving and smiling on the rear platform, it had made its noisy departure.

"Must be nearly down the valley to Ellentown by now," John said. Sara clutched the shiny black leather purse tighter. It was Rob's last gift.

"Feels like snow in the air, Mother." John's gray head bent to hers.

"Turkey weather." "Yes, Thanksgiving's almost here again."

Sara looked deep into his eyes. "John, he'll be gone for a long time."

"Yes, Sara." Jeb Reynolds came out on the platform and watched them climb into the old blue sedan. The old car woke up and cleared its throat.

"Must be down the valley to Ellentown by now," John said.

"Need some anti-freeze, I do." John pulled out the choke.

"Maybe a little coffee might help," Sara smiled, but it was only her lips that moved.

They drove seven miles past browned and crisped meadows.

John slowed down near a white, low farmhouse. There was a small sign on the side of an elm tree--

"Mrs. Whitely's Famous Dinners."

Sara nodded in reply to his unasked question. She straightened her hat in the rear view mirror and put on her gloves, taking a long time with each finger. Rob's train must be nearly to Coddington.

THERE WERE long, silent minutes between soup and chicken and dessert. After dinner, they went out behind the barn to see the minks, kept in orderly cages. Mrs. Whitely's boy fished in the pond for sunfish to feed them. Sara bent over to see the tiny creatures and her hair played in the wind. The gray streaks were like a light touch of snow.

She counted the minks. Two large ones, one small one, screened off by himself. A family? Their family had been three--John, Rob, Sara.

"Yes, they are beautiful," she said. "I wish I could look at them without thinking of the coats they are going to make." She smiled, apologetically. "It seems wicked, to kill them. I mean."

Mrs. Whitely grinned. "Well, Mrs. Cameron. I used to feel sorry for them, but after the first check came in, I never thought about it again."

The train must be at Gorge City now. Another hour and he'd be there. She closed her eyes.

John's arm was around her. "I feel as if I'd been running," she murmured. "Guess I leaned over too long looking at the minks."

They settled themselves in the old car again. They could see the farm on a distant hill.

"I still love it, John. I still like coming around that curve and seeing it, knowing it'll be there."

The car whined in self-pity as it climbed the hill. John drove up to the front door. He fumbled for the key and then just held it in his hand. Something seemed to hold him back. He didn't want to go into the house. He leaned down to pat the old collie who stood waiting there--and saw the note. Pinned to the dog's collar was a scrap of paper. Together John and Sara read it, incredulous. Drawn in the quick scrawl of a boy in a hurry were Mom and Dad--woeful faces above single-line bodies. Mom was clutching the black purse. Dad his keys. Beneath the picture Rob had written in large black letters,

"CHEER UP--YOU SURE LOOK GLOOMY"

"John, you sure look gloomy," Sara repeated--and John began to grin. Sara laughed.

"That boy," he said, "That crazy kid."

He opened the door and they went into their house.

NEWS IN BRIEF FROM ALL OVER MICHIGAN

A lot of temperamental toes in the Michigan tourist industry were stepped upon collectively by staff report No. 23 on reorganization of state government.

The report, as drafted by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan (successor to Loren Miller's Detroit governmental bureau), was submitted to Rep. Robert M. Montgomery, chairman of the state joint legislative committee.

Recommendations include: Require the four regional tourist associations to match state aid dollar for dollar up to $100,000 a year ($25,000 each). Then decrease this amount until no state funds are granted.

Permit the governor to appoint five members to the Michigan Tourist Council without present requirement that they be nominated by the four regional associations. The four association secretaries would be deprived of their right as ex-officio members.

The state director of "tourist development and promotion" would serve as secretary of the Tourist Council and also of the Soo Locks Centennial Celebration commission. The council now has its own full-time director, while the commission is planning to appoint one in the near future.

The report challenges the principle that it is good business for the State of Michigan to subsidize, in part at least, the cost of advertising Michigan as a tourist state. A quote: "During the 1947-49 biennium The State of Michigan contributed 35 per cent of all the funds spent on tourist promotion and publicity."

Actually, Michigan has lagged behind other competitors in the amount of money being spent for tourist promotion. Tourist leaders believe more money should be spent, not less. The big rub apparently is this: Who is going to provide the money? The State of Michigan 66%, of the tourist industry 100%?

Speculation as to aspirations of G. Mennen Williams to the vice-presidency's nomination in 1952 virtually has halted.

But one observer brings up an interesting possibility. If Williams is re-elected governor in 1952 and if Williams were to defeat Sen. Homer Ferguson (or whichever Republican runs for the senate chair) in 1954 he would perhaps be the brightest star on the presidential horizon.

Remember, Williams was touted to go down in ignominious defeat in 1950. He was expected to be snowed under in 1948. Republicans may be convinced he'll never be re-elected again (no Democratic governor yet, has succeeded himself twice as Michigan governor) but the G. O. P. is doing a bit of whistling in the dark.

The on-again-off-again variable of the state—the draft—has popped up again. State draft quota for November was jumped from 2,417 to 2,787 to "cover last minute emergencies." The nature of the "emergencies" was not disclosed. Childless husbands now are subject to call.

While some states are having trouble spending all the federal aid money for wildlife project being funneled in through a formula based on area of the state and number of licenses, Michigan will get only 88 cents per licensed hunter. Nevada, large in area and low in population, gets $13.07 per licensed hunter but can't put up the required matching funds.

Looks as though Michigan will get its new state office building. National production authority has agreed to release 350 tons of steel. Another application must be made by Jan. 1, for the next quarter. If it requires as many telephone calls and loss of expensive time to high paid officials it will be cheaper to do without the new building.

The "Little Hoover commission," studying reorganization of state government is dubious about the little legislature's legality. The little legislature may be called in to authorize expenditure of limited sums for urgent needs when the full legislature is not in session, and has been doing so for years. A constitutional amendment may be necessary to legalize the body's status.

Michigan has been in the furor of political prognostication. Who's going to do what—and when?

Thus far, and the smoke has cleared away enough for normal vision, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., of Grosse Pointe is still the only avowed G. O. P. candidate for governor.

Friends of Lieut. Governor William C. Vandenberg of Holland insist he will be a candidate. And linked to Vandenberg by persistent rumors is the name of Wilfred (Bill) Doyle of Lansing and Mackinac Island, chain store legislative agent and former state senator from Menominee in the UP, as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor. This smiling Irishman is chairman of the citizens' committee for reorganization of state government and is committed to governmental economy. He holds the confidence of both Alger and Vandenberg and knows Michigan politics thoroughly.

Owen J. Cleary (now G. O. P. state central committee chairman) was thought to have gubernatorial aspirations for a while, but depositors now rank him as a candidate for secretary of state, the job now held by Alger.

Kit Clardy, Lansing attorney, suggested that he might run for U. S. senator "if there is a demand" to oppose Blair Moody, the active young campaigner appointed by Gov. Williams to succeed the late Sen. Vandenberg. Clardy, once defeated for U. S. representative, still has his eye on that spot.

John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, current auditor general, still has the inside track for the senatorial G. O. P. nomination. Kelly is still on the background, well camouflaged. Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., is being boosted by one or two groups—but both have yet to declare themselves and get campaigns under way.

The new federal tax bill is going to cost Michigan taxpayers some $276,580,000 more in taxes. Individual income taxes will account for an additional $129,870,000 under the new measure, and corporations must raise an additional $92,117,000 more than they are contributing now. Miscellaneous taxes, $53,593,000.

Michigan stands among the top contributors to Uncle Whiskers' tax kitty, along with New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California. Reason: Concentrated industry and agriculture.

More price hikes are feared in the automobile industry, nullifying any advantages gained from easing of credit terms. Sales also have increased and dealers are again wiping their usually doleful eyes.

Believe it or not, there seems to be a trend in Michigan toward greater governmental economy. In 1950, 32 counties spent less than in 1949. In 1949, only 19 counties showed a drop in expenditures.

Sen. Taft will address a G. O. P. dinner Oct. 15 in Detroit. Some 1,500 are expected—at $100 per plate, adding $150,000 to party coffers. The meal, as usual will be expendable.

A long chuckle has been heard throughout the state concerning the Democratic fund raising blunders. The letters soliciting contributions from prominent Republicans (including Secretary of State F. M. Alger) were laughed off by Democrats as a mailing list mistake. A Wayne County official was reported to be hinting that liquor license might be available if certain parties kicked in. Last came the report that big wheel Dems were trying to shakedown candidates for postmasterships. Republicans, while rubbing their hands in glee, don't deny they also solicit funds—but, they say, they are much more careful.

The lamprey eel has been painted a deep black as a menace to edible fish in Michigan waters. Now the harmless smelt has been added to the criminal list. Seems the transparent delicacy known as smelt eats the young of whitefish—profitable industrial produce of the state.

Michigan consumers apparently are hanging onto their money—unimpressed by talks of cutbacks. Disposable income is at an all-time high, but the people just aren't spending—contrary to all business tenets.

News to all: Michigan's summer was surprisingly normal. Highest temperature all summer was 95 degrees and there was no periods of prolonged extreme heat.

The fancy new ferry to be put to service across the straits this fall—much to the delight of deer hunters—has taken on new importance. It may become a vital link in our defense transportation setup. Understandable—it is the only link between the upper and lower peninsula.

Little Stories about Great Hymns
Faith of Our Fathers
Faith of our fathers, living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword
O how our hearts beat high with joy
When'er we hear that glorious word!
Faith of our fathers, holy faith,
We will be true to thee till death.

This popular hymn was written by Frederick W. Faber, who followed John Newman into the Catholic Church. Faber wrote, "It seemed desirable that Catholics should have a hymn book for reading, which should contain the mysteries of the faith in easy verse." Faber not only succeeded in this, but his hymns have had wide use in Protestant churches as well, among them this triumphant hymn.
