

Gavel Club Relinquishes Reins at Recreational Park

After five years of supervision of the Cass City football field and recreational park, the Gavel Club voted to relinquish all supervision of the field at their Tuesday night meeting at the Home Restaurant.

The club, which was responsible for the lights on the football field, tennis and shuffleboard, and playground equipment, has spent some $17,760.08 on the field, according to detailed records kept by C. M. "Buzz" Wallace.

Of the amount, the biggest items were $6,932.43 for a lighted football field, $2,481.38 for playground equipment and $2,318.11 for tennis and shuffleboard.

Despite the outlays of cash, the Gavel Club has about $1500 in the treasury which is to be used exclusively for the playground.

Authorities of the Gavel Club point out that in the five years that their organization has been connected with the playground all the money collected from the playground has been placed in a separate account and used to better the facilities.

The Club has donated their time to put the project across. Members served as gatekeepers for sports conducted at the field and the proceeds went to improve the field. They also provided free manpower when any project required labor.

Now that the Gavel Club's interest in the playground has officially been turned over to the village, the council will have to decide what arrangements will be made with the school for the use of the facilities.

If the students are put in charge of their own games, the question of how much rent should be paid for the use of the lights and field must be decided. Discussion has ranged from a portion of the total cost of maintaining the playground to the free use of the field and equipment. Other sentiment calls for the cost to be borne by the school for the cost of the use of the field for nights it uses it.

The eventual decision on the proper procedure will be in the hands of the council. At this writing the council has no idea what steps it will take.

Twelve at Legion Meeting Monday

Twelve members of the American Legion Auxiliary braved the bad weather Monday evening to meet with Mrs. Everett Leishman at her farm home. Following the business meeting, Mrs. Louis Salas opened the many lovely baby gifts which she was presented.

First prize in games went to Mrs. Wm. Allison and consolation prize to Mrs. Salas. The door prize went to Mrs. Ella Vance. The next meeting will be Dec. 10 when Mrs. Arthur Kelley will be hostess and there will be an exchange of Christmas gifts.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold Hulbert and Mrs. Tom Cotic, served pie and coffee.

Sixteen memberships for 1952 were received at the meeting.

Sixty Cage Hopefuls Report For Initial Hawk Practice

Coach Arthur Paddy's Red Hawks basketball team has started practice for the 1951-52 season and approximately 60 students reported for the first practice. Of the group, 23 are freshmen and 37 in the top three grades.

From this group Cass City is expected to weld together a quintet that will make a strong bid for the Upper Thumb Conference title to add to the football championship they annexed this year.

Pacing the team will be three returning regulars, Tim Burdon, Tom Schwaderer and Bob Wallace. The trio are experienced veterans who helped send Cass City to the finals in the regional play-offs and put them second, behind Selkwaing, in last year's conference scramble. Schwaderer is the play-maker of the trio and directs the team from his guard position. Wallace is a fair shot and aggressive rebound player, while Burdon specialized in short push shots from near the foul circle in last year's campaign.

Besides the regulars, Stanley Guinther is a returning letterman from 1950-51. Other prospects from whom the remainder of the first squad may be chosen are: Roy Wagg, Frank Creason, Dick Wallace, Don Tuckey, Mason Cook, Russell Foy, Bill Martus and Pete Martin.

The Hawks have about three more weeks to get ready for the opening game of the season, Dec. 7. Cass City will play host to Vassar in a conference game to open the season. Sixteen games are scheduled in the regular season before the playoffs begin in March.

Council of Churches Plans Special Sermon

The Cass City Council of Churches is planning their annual Thanksgiving program for Wednesday, Nov. 21, and the Rev. Floyd W. Porter is scheduled to be the guest speaker.

Don Borg has announced that there will be a special choir composed of members of the three churches. The combined choir will sing two numbers: "Thanks Be To God," by Dickson and "To Thee We Sing," by Teach.

The group will rehearse next Sunday at three p. m.

Early Copy Please

Because of Thanksgiving Day next Thursday, the Chronicle will be printed on Wednesday, a day earlier than its usual publication date.

The staff reminds correspondents that copy should arrive at the office a day earlier than usual. Advertisers are asked to arrange copy so that it is ready either Saturday or Monday.

Home, School Council Meets Monday

The Home and School Council is scheduled to meet Monday at 8:00 p. m. to hear Katherine McCully, reading consultant, speak on "Modern Trend in Teaching Reading." In addition to the address, several musical numbers will be presented by elementary students under the direction of Mrs. Don Borg.

After the meeting open house will be held in the new grade school.

Six Rural Schools Enter Contest

Six rural schools in the Argyle locality are in the midst of a drawing and coloring contest to win prizes being awarded by the B. & L. Lumber and Service Co., of Argyle and the H. L. Anderson Co., of Wakefield, Michigan.

The schools have divided the pupils into two groups. The kindergarten through the fourth grade comprises one competing group and the older students in the fifth through the eighth grades will compete against each other.

Individual winners from each school will compete for larger prizes within their age group. Among the prizes are, kindergarten through fourth grade, pencil boxes; fifth through eighth grade, three piece pen sets. These prizes will be awarded for both the coloring and drawing contest winners.

Individual winners in the inter-city contest will receive watches and two wall clocks.

Cass City Grange Elects Officers

The Cass City Grange met Tuesday evening at the Bird Schoolhouse with Mr. and Mrs. Morton Orr and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKenzie as hosts. Officers for the coming year, all of whom were re-elected, were installed by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lassiter of Caro, who with Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Golding, Sr., attended the recent state Grange meeting in Cadillac.

Edward Golding will again serve as master and other officers are: overseer, Clifford Martin; steward, Elwood Eastman; secretary, Mrs. Don Reid; treasurer, Maynard McConkey; lecturer, Mrs. Sam Blades; chaplain, Mrs. Milton Hoffman; assistant steward, Clinton Law; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Clinton Law; Pomona, Mrs. Maynard McConkey; Ceres, Mrs. Jos. Benkelman; Flora, Mrs. Ben-Schwieger; gatekeeper, Don Reid.

Former Reporter Tells of Life in Yokohama, Japan

John R. Clock, who resigned his position as reporter of the Chronicle last January to enter the armed forces, is now located in Yokohama, Japan, where his work is still of a newspaper nature in that it deals with public information. He left Seattle on Sept. 21 and arrived in Yokohama on Oct. 3, glad to set foot on land after experiencing terrific weather, including one hurricane.

In a letter to the Misses Eleanor and Laura Bigelow, in whose home he resided while in Cass City, "Bob" writes:

"I am living in downtown Yokohama and enjoying every minute of it. How I wish that both of you could spend just one day here to do a little Christmas shopping. I'm sure you'd be just as amazed as I was at the beautiful merchandise on sale and at such ridiculously low prices. The little Japanese shops are crowded to overflowing with such wonderful things, it is difficult to resist the temptation to buy everything you see: Egg shell Novitaka china that makes your eyes pop out; embroidery on kimono, tablecloths and bedspreads that must have taken some Nip a year to do; and all manner of hand carved things in ivory and wood. You'd have to see it to really believe it and appreciate it.

"Then, too, every time I walk down the street is an experience I'll never forget. In the first place, Japan is very crowded and people are everywhere, hurrying along the street in long kimonos and wooden shoes; pulling rickshaws at an amazing clip; crouching down on the sidewalk at noon to eat a bowl of rice with a pair of chopsticks. I've heard about it all before, but I never believed it until now.

"When I had been here a couple of days I met a Japanese who drives a bus for the American Government, and, in the course of our conversation, he invited me out to his home near Tokyo to meet his wife and family. Not to miss a trick, I went, and needless to say, got quite a kick out of sitting on the straw floor mat with my shoes off and talking to him and his wife. I had a little book with me, 'Japanese in Three Weeks,' and he had a fairly fluent vocabulary of pigeon English so we got along famously.

"There is quite a good sized colony of Americans over here considering the Army, the officers' wives and the Department of the Army civilians on foreign duty, so really it doesn't seem 6,500 miles from home."

Special Courses

Mr. Willis Campbell, superintendent of the Cass City Schools, said today that if enough interest is shown in the program, a series of night adult classes would be organized for the benefit of the community.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that the classes would be started if and when enough interest is shown in them. Persons who want a class to begin are requested to call the school and state what type of a course they would be interested in.

Methodist Church To Show "Crossroads"

"Crossroads," an outstanding sound motion picture, will be shown at a special service in the Cass City Methodist Church, Sunday night at 8. "Crossroads" is the story of a typical American high-school boy, honest in his thinking and intensely loyal. It was a terrible shock to him when he learned that his most intimate friend had been stricken with polio and died.

Facing the problem of suffering for the first time in his life, proved to be a rewarding experience for the boy and his parents, but resulted in a family crisis when he announced his purpose to become a preacher. Although a good member of the church, father had worked long years to pay for a fine farm with the dream that his son would take over when he was ready to let go. What now?

The entire community, young especially, is invited to attend Sunday night and see.

Council of Churches Slate World-Wide Bible Reading

Among the thousands of churches which will cooperate with World-wide Bible Reading, Thanksgiving to Christmas, are a number of the Cass City Churches, according to announcement by the Rev. M. R. Vender and endorsed by the Cass City Council of Churches.

Millions of Bible readers in many languages join in using the same selected list of Scripture passages for this period of approximately one month. President Truman annually heads up a national committee of laymen who sponsor the movement.

Additional observance of Universal Bible Sunday is being planned for December 9th, Rev. M. R. Vender said. Promoted by the American Bible Society, this day is intended to emphasize the primary importance of the Bible as a factor in the life of our nation and the work of all churches. The selected Bible readings have been listed by the American Bible Society. They are being distributed by local churches on Sunday.

John W. Douglas Named to Dean's List

According to an announcement just made by Dean Emil Leffler of Albion College, John W. Douglas of Cass City has been named to the Dean's list at Albion for his scholastic average of 2.3, or better than a "B" grade.

Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Douglas of 4607 N. Seeger, is a junior at Albion, majoring in a pre-engineering course.

Rated AAA

Chronicle Named One of Top Michigan Weeklys In Report

In a published report on the evaluation ratings of weekly newspapers of the state just released, the Chronicle was given a rating of AAA, designating it as "One of the Best Weekly Newspapers in America."

The AAA rating places the Chronicle in the top 20 per cent of the weekly newspapers of Michigan and the nation, according to an impartial study and classification of the 10,000 odd weekly newspapers of the country, being conducted on a state-by-state basis.

The ratings are made by Community Research Bureau, an independent research organization, which is working in cooperation with American Weekly Newspaper Publishers' Council to provide national advertisers with a guide in the selection of weekly newspapers for advertising purposes.

In this Continuing Evaluation Study, newspapers of each state are studied, analyzed, and rated in approximately 20 per cent of the five classification brackets, with papers of a state being placed in each of the five rated groups. The five quality classifications are AAA, AA, A, B, and C. The AAA earned by the Chronicle means that the newspaper rates in the top bracket.

In Tuscola County, two other newspapers received the coveted rating. In Huron County, three papers were rated AAA and in Sanilac County just one paper was judged good enough to be in the top bracket. Thus, in the three Thumb Counties adjoining Cass City only seven papers were in the top group from among the 27 weekly papers in the counties.

Each newspaper is rated on recognized quality factors, including local news, evaluated circulation, volume of local advertising and the fairness of the newspaper's advertising rate, based on cost per family reached.

Community Research Bureau is an independent research organization operated under control and direction of Frank B. Hutchinson, who has operated weekly newspapers, served as professor of journalism at Syracuse and Rutgers Universities and managed the New York Press Association and the New Jersey Press Association over a period of a dozen years before setting up his own newspaper research organization.

Rating of all newspapers are under general supervision of an advisory committee composed of leaders in the field of journalistic education, national advertising, and weekly newspaper publishing.

Ballots Mailed to Farmers Eligible For PMA Voting

Township ballots listing the names of candidates for election as PMA Community Committeemen and as Delegates to the county PMA annual convention are being mailed this week to all eligible farmer-voters in Tuscola County, according to Chas. B. Eckfeld, chairman of the present Tuscola County PMA Committee.

The mailing of ballots will be completed prior to November 19 and farmers who received ballots will have until December 20 in which to mark their ballots and return them, either by mail or in person, to the county PMA office located at 939 Gifford Road, Caro, Michigan.

All ballots received in the county PMA office through December 20 will be counted on December 21 by an impartial three-man election board.

Nominating committees in each of the agricultural communities in the county have selected no less than ten and no more than fifteen nominees whose names are listed on the election ballots. Each voter will vote for five of the nominees for the community committee and for two of the nominees for delegates. When the ballots are counted in the election of community committeemen, the nominee receiving the largest number of votes will be elected chairman, the one receiving the second highest number will be elected vice-chairman and so on. In the vote for delegates, the one receiving the highest number of votes will be elected delegate and the one receiving the second highest number will be elected alternate delegate.

The newly elected Community PMA Committees and delegates will take office on December 31, 1951, and will serve throughout 1952.

Elected delegates to the annual county convention will meet in the county PMA office on December 31. Concluded on page 12.

Speaks At Rotary

William Profit.

Mr. William Profit entertained members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon by telling the group the duties of the Register of Deeds, a position that Mr. Profit took over early this year.

Mr. Profit told how deeds are handled, filed and recorded at his office and described the routine of the work. Prior to his talk on the duties of the Register of Deeds, Mr. Profit entertained members with humorous stories.

Before the speech President Curt Hunt told members that the attendance figures were the best they have been since the beginning of the Rotary year.

Mrs. Leo Quinn, having sold her farm, moved to her new home in Cass City last week.

Keith Karr, of Grosse Pointe Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Karr, who attends Detroit Technical School, has been elected president of his fraternity, Kappa Sigma Kappa. This is Mr. Karr's third year at Detroit Tech. He graduated from Cass City High School with the class of 1934.

Super-Sensitive Barometer—American Paulin System, 1847 S. Flower Street, Los Angeles 15, Calif., has introduced an aneroid barometer with etched graduations reading to 1/1000 inch of mercury and accurate to one graduation.

The barometer has a range extending from 24.50 inches to 31.00 inches and is designed for ships, airports, weather stations, laboratories and similar uses.

Inviting Room—An inviting living room with a beamed ceiling is done in three shades of green, brown, bittersweet and yellow. The floor covering is the deepest green, with the two side walls painted in a slightly lighter tone. End walls are still lighter green. The woodwork and beams of the ceiling are coated in a warm brown and yellow appears in the upholstery of the divan and another comfortable chair. Accents of the bittersweet berry color appear in lamp shades and decorative accessories.

Speaking of Rapid Growth—Steel capacity has risen in all but nine years since 1900. Another 13 million tons will be added between now and the end of 1952. Companies will spend $1.2 billion for expansion this year alone.

Bones of Contention—There may be no skeletons in the administration's closet, but the Republicans are finding bones of contention.

Self conceit is one of the things you can't get a mortgage on.

Those leaving for the north woods to hunt deer are: Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Holmes of Caro, William Phillips of Flint, James and Melvin Phillips, near Rose City; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Tye of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Hubbard, Sr., near Maple Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tewksbury of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Drace, near Lewiston; Arthur Schott and Henry Zenke at the Frutchey Ranch near Alpena; Alva Allen, Tommy Ashcroft and Glen Warner, near Clear Lake; George Spencer of Fairgrove and Ollie Spencer at Ensign in the upper peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Palmer of Detroit were week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Molnar.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blades of Cass City spent Sunday with Mrs. Carrie Lewis.

Mrs. Carrie Lewis left Thursday morning for Cedarville, Michigan, where she expects to spend three weeks with her niece, Mrs. Melvin Bennett.

Keep Flies Floating

Even when you go fishing, you have evidence of careful research that has been carried on to add to your pleasure. To find a way to keep fishing flies from sinking below the surface of the water, industrial finish engineers developed a special finish that makes the feathers of the flies waterproof and keeps them floating.

Chlordane Offers Crab Grass Control

A new approach to crab grass control, through use of the insecticide chlordane, has been developed by Dr. B. H. Grigsby, weed control research scientist at Michigan State College.

An important part of the research is that applications of chlordane may have both insect-killing and weed-killing value.

Work was first begun on the idea of using the insecticide as a weed killer when it was reported that chlordane applied to the soil left a residue in the soil which affected seed germination.

Results from greenhouse trials indicated that chlordane has the property of delaying emergence and preventing germination of crab grass seeds. It also has some effect upon the germination of other grass seeds.

This fact is important because all crab grass control methods now available do not affect seed germination and require repeated applications after the original treatment.

Dr. Grigsby's research at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station indicates best results come when the technical resin form of chlordane is used in an oil carrier. Foliage application rates used in the trials, the equivalent of five to ten pounds chlordane an acre in a refined oil carrier, gave a rapid kill of crab grass without injury to lawn grass.

Results from applications of chlordane in crab grass spray oil or in kerosene showed clearly that the insecticide would increase the crab grass killing properties of these oils without causing undesirable effects on lawn grasses. The method permits a quick kill of crab grass with a single application of spray mixture and also leaves a residue in the soil which may prevent reinfestation later in the season.

Dr. Grigsby's preliminary tests represent a new approach with an insecticide combined with a herbicide to secure greater weed killing properties. Chickweed can be killed about as readily as crab grass with chlordane in oil.

HAD ENOUGH

The lawyer was sitting at his desk, so absorbed in his work that he did not hear the door as it was pushed gently open, nor see the curly head that was thrust into his office. A little sob attracted his notice, and turning, he saw a face that was streaked with tears and told plainly that feelings had been hurt. "Well, my little man, did you want to see me?" "Are you a lawyer?" "Yes. What do you want?" "I want"—and there was a resolute ring in his voice—"I want a divorce from my papa and mamma."

Balanced Rations For Dairy Bulls

Feeding bulls balanced rations is vital to good dairy breeding practices and profitable for dairymen, says A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State College extension dairyman.

Baltzer supervises the feeding operation for 90 bulls owned by the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative and has some suggestions for feeding the dairy bull. He said that grain, salt, steamed bone meal, cobalt sulfate and roughage makes up the ration for the bulls. Each bull gets 20 pounds of hay a day, 12 pounds of ensilage and four pounds of grain.

The grain mixture is made up of 1,200 pounds of oats, 600 pounds of bran, 300 pounds of middlings, 300 pounds of corn, 200 pounds of meat scraps, 100 pounds each of linseed meal and cottonseed meal, 100 pounds of a high protein-vitamin-antibiotic concentrate and 60 pounds of salt with cobalt sulfate. Average weight of the Holstein bulls in the MABC bull stud is 2,183 pounds, Guernsey bulls weigh an average of 1,678, the Jersey bulls average 1,553 pounds, and the Red Danes average 1,834 pounds.

Baltzer said that dairymen should consider the weight of their cows as well as their milk production to feed most economically for best profit. A tape measure can be used to figure their weights and the MSC dairy extension office will furnish charts for feeding.

If you have a lot of scrap iron and steel that is just cluttering up your farm, get it into the "Scrap Harvest." It can then be used to bolster the country's supply of raw materials.

♦ LET'S TALK IT OVER ♦

Ed. Vallender - Farm Editor
Radio Station WBCM, Bay City
Winter Income.

There are only two ways a farmer can make money in the winter. Livestock and if he's fortunate enough—a productive woodlot.

It's been a long time since we cut any amount of timber in Michigan in quantity. Most of the great timberlands are far removed to the Northwest and Canada.

What we did here in Michigan to our natural resources is being done to our remaining forests—so says the U. S. D. A. Forest Service. As a matter of fact—they go even further than that. They say we are headed for a lumber famine.

They base their claims on figures which show we are cutting timber faster than it is being grown. This is due to an unprecedented demand for new homes and national defense construction.

Private Forests.

It is interesting to note that three-fourths of our timber is still in the hands of private owners. It is a matter of record that up until a few years ago, millions of acres of forest lands have been badly butchered and are now poorly stocked or just non-productive.

We didn't pass any laws about our timber resources until President Harrison's administration in 1891. Empowered by an act of Congress, Harrison proclaimed the first national forest—the Shoshone National Forest in Wyoming, and closed it against vandal cutters. During his administration more than 13 million acres were set aside as forest reservations. Presidents Cleveland, McKinley, and Roosevelt (Teddy) followed his lead.

At the turn of the century, the Forest Service was formed. Since then, for every tree cut, another has been planted in its place.

But—government control is limited to only one-fourth of the timber we have left in the country—and the USDA says that those interests owning that private timber are heading the US for a lumber famine.

Rebuttal.

About three weeks after these accusations had been made the big lumber companies fired back. They say that all this talk about a lumber shortage is "just plain bunk."

They say they aren't going to put themselves out of business. Ten years ago, recognizing that something should be done to stop waste in timber, industry leaders launched a program to encourage better management by owners of small timber tracts. After sizing the situation up, they discovered that they were going to have to depend more and more on small woodlots for their sources of timber.

Today, this program includes some 25-million acres of "Tree Farms," participating owners of which are obligated to observe the basic rules of conservation.

More Controls.

Efforts by the timber industry to put its own house in order stems partially from fear of government control. The USDA's Forest Service says that trees are being cut faster than grown. They have recommended government control over private timber holdings to compel the adoption of proper methods of conservation.

There is a big battle brewing. It started with the Lumber Industry's attack on the USDA last week.

Question.

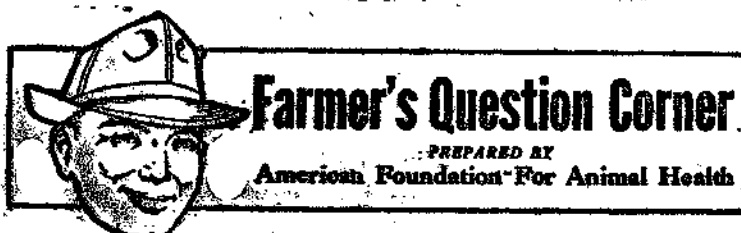

We accept government and state regulations for all game, hunting and fishing. We go along with laws on rivers and streams. Must we class all our remaining timber resources as critical in the national interest and have them controlled too??? It's a question not easily answered.

Hand Scoop

The above scoop may save considerable time for a number of farmers. It can be made from two-foot piece of sheet metal nailed to a wooden square. Ball is off center for easy tipping.

Farmers in the U. S. are raising a record crop of 52,774,000 turkeys this year—13 per cent more than last year, according to a preliminary estimate reported by Michigan State College authorities.

Farmer's Question Corner

PREPARED BY American Foundation For Animal Health

What About Calf Scours?

Q: Just what is calf scours?
A: It means an inflammation of the intestines which results in scouring.

Q: Is calf scours always contagious?

A: No. Some types are due to improper feeding or overfeeding. However, "contagious" scours—often called white scours—is a quick-killing infection which may appear suddenly even with careful feeding.

Q: What causes contagious scours?

A: Generally a germ called "E. coli". However, a virus may be responsible for some outbreaks. Once the intestine is damaged many kinds of germs may cause complications, also pneumonia or kidney damage.

Q: What are best precautions against calf scour losses?

A: Be sure calves get first milk or colostrum. Avoid overfeeding. Provide clean quarters, ample ventilation and sunlight. Prevent calves from eating bedding. Use clean feeding buckets.

Q: What if an outbreak of scours appears?

A: Isolate sick calves and get a veterinarian immediately. He can recommend the proper control plan and treatment. This may involve use of serum, sulfa drugs or antibiotics. Don't guess.

Q: What about scouring in older calves?

A: Sometimes this is due to worms or to coccidia. A technical diagnosis is usually required to be sure of the cause.

NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

Grain Supply May Be Short in 1952

Livestock numbers are going up at a faster rate than is the feed grain supply so farmers who need more feed grains should buy their 1952 supply of corn at harvest time this fall.

That's when prices will likely be at the lowest level of the year, according to Michigan State College agricultural economists. They explain that the total feed grain supply for the 1952 feeding season will be four to five per cent smaller than the record supplies of the past two years. And the number of animals to eat that grain has gone up three per cent.

This situation will make it necessary to draw on our reserve feed grain stocks and further reduce carry-over stocks by the end of 1952, the MSC agricultural economists point out.

Supplies of oil seed cake and oil meal are expected to set a new record for the 1952 feeding season—probably about five per cent larger than the 1951 supply. The big cotton seed crop this year is largely responsible for that. Supplies of linseed and soybean meal and cake probably will be a little smaller than in 1951.

Feed concentrate supplies per animal, including the grains and by-product feeds, will be six to ten per cent smaller than the big supplies in the past three years but nine per cent larger than the pre-war period.

Hay supplies in the nation are the largest on record. But more hay than usual in Michigan is coarse, over-ripe when cut or damaged by rain, so that the feed value has been reduced.

Your dairy cows will let down their milk better if you handle them gently, says MSC dairy husbandry authorities.

Ugly Duckling
Legend says that the brilliant kingfisher was once a plain gray bird which took on its blue-green and red hues when it flew toward the sun after being liberated from Noah's ark. According to the story, the blue came from the sky above, the red from the heat of the setting sun, notes the National Geographic Society.

Evaluate Dairy Sires
Artificial breeding associations in Pennsylvania are conducting bull evaluation surveys, according to Clyde Hall, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Local bull committees in each county are checking on the type and production of daughters in evaluating the sires used in breeding.

Culling the poultry flock is a job that never ends, says Michigan State College poultry husbandry specialists. It never pays to keep birds that are poor producers.

SHORT STORY

Bertha

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

3-Minute Fiction

ROY was correcting his English IV mid-year book reviews and the whistling annoyed him. It came from the alley beneath the window at the end of the hall. It had begun early that morning, a bright, cheery whistle, measured, high-pitched. Presently he could stand it no longer. He was not a violent man, but as he descended the back stairs there was a grin about his mouth.

Roy emerged into the alley and headed for a high board fence, from behind which came the measured whistle. He went through a door in the fence and stopped short. A voice said: "Hi, kid!"

Suspended from a peg in the fence was a cage and in the cage was a parrot. As Roy stared at it the parrot emitted a shrill, piercing whistle.

Roy was in the act of opening the cage door when someone shrieked. He turned to see a girl with red hair and blazing brown eyes rushing at him.

"Don't you dare touch that cage! Who are you? What are you doing here? You were going to harm Bertha!"

"I'm sorry," Roy said. "Unless you remove Bertha from her present location I shall insist on bashing in her stupid head."

Roy blinked. "Yes," he said calmly. "I was going to wring Bertha's scrawny neck. Bertha's whistling annoyed me. It was driving me crazy. All morning long I have been trying to correct my English book reviews. If the book reviews aren't in by tomorrow I'm apt to lose my job."

The girl's eyes brimmed with tears.

"I'm sorry," said Roy. "Unless you remove Bertha from her present location I shall insist on bashing in her stupid head."

The redhead gasped. "And I'll bet you would do it, too! It's only on bright days that I place Bertha outside. Otherwise, she has to stay in where it's dark. If you don't believe me, come and see."

Roy realized that she was appealing to his better nature, if any. He permitted himself to be led into the house. The room, where abode the girl and Bertha, was truly a gloomy place.

"I concede the point," Roy admitted. He stared at the girl closely. "I should think on warm days you'd want to get out into the air yourself."

"I do. I spend nearly all my time looking for a job. Today I stayed home so Bertha could have a sunning. Tomorrow she won't bother you at all."

"Tomorrow," said Roy, "I won't be here to mind." He scratched his chin.

"Look here," he said. "What kind of work are you looking for?"

"I used to be a librarian," said the girl.

"A librarian!" exclaimed Roy. Would you like a job correcting English IV book reviews?"

The redhead's eyes grew round. "Do you mean—why I'd adore such a job!"

"By the way," he said, "I haven't asked your name."

"It's Roberta Cameron. And if you want these papers tonight, I think you'd better let me get to work on them."

It was in October that Bertha had first aroused Roy's ire. Two weeks before Christmas he asked Roberta an important question. She shook her head. "I couldn't marry you. You don't like Bertha."

"But I've really grown fond of Bertha!" Roy cried. "Why, if it weren't for Bertha, I'd never have met you."

The day after this, Bertha caught a cold. It was bright and warm in the morning and Roberta left the bird outside while she went to town. At noon it turned cold and began to rain. Attracted by a series of hoarse shrieks, Roy rushed into the alley, seized the cage and returned indoors. Bertha died the next day.

"I—I suppose," said Roberta, "I shouldn't have put her out."

Roy stared. A thousand thoughts galloped through his mind. But he had the good sense not to mention them. Instead he picked up Roberta's hand and Roberta smiled.

Never ask a favor unless you are ready to give one.

GAGETOWN NEWS

Jack Elliott is on the sick list. Mrs. M. P. Freeman was hostess to the 500 club last Friday afternoon. Three tables were at play. The first prize was won by Mrs. L. C. Purdy, second by Mrs. Harry Comment, and the two consolation prizes went to Mrs. Fred Kinyon and Mrs. Lawrence McDonald.

Miss Florence Lehman and Mrs. Paul Seuryneck went to Bad Axe Monday to visit Mrs. Anna High at the home of Mrs. Lena Farson. Mrs. High has recovered from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rocheleau and family spent Sunday in Saginaw visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Freeman.

Mrs. Esther McKee is in Dryden visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Fournier left Saturday for the upper peninsula where they will spend the hunting season.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hunter and family visited Sunday in Bad Axe at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughlin.

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Edwood King of Washington, D. C., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elery Sontag. Sunday they all were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William King of Owendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Elery Sontag and family attended the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rolmer. Mrs. Rolmer, the former Miss Mildred Ludwig, is Mr. Sontag's niece. The couple were married in St. John's Lutheran Church in Kilmarnock Saturday.

Mrs. Al Goslin and children of Ashmore were recent guests at the Elery Sontag home.

Mrs. Lucille Dabbs of Pontiac.

MASTER INSULT

John Randolph and Henry Clay once had a quarrel in the senate at Washington. For several weeks they did not speak, when one day they met on Pennsylvania avenue. Each saw the other coming up the side walk which was very narrow at that particular point, and each was meditating as to how far he would turn out for the other to pass. As Randolph came up he looked the grand old Kentuckian straight in the eye and, keeping the sidewalk, hissed:

"I never turn out for scoundrels!"

"I always do," said Mr. Clay as he stepped politely out into the mud and let Randolph have the walk.

Foregone Conclusion

Doctor: "You must avoid all forms of excitement."

Patient: "Can I look at them on the street?"

WILMOT

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Evans and sons of Pontiac were Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bell of Hale were Thursday callers at the Mina Clark home.

Beverly Evans and Donna Jo Tanner attended the senior play at Bad Axe Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark and daughter of Drayton Plains were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Mina Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Martin and daughter, Gay Mary, of Marlette and Mr. and Mrs. Clara Ballard were Sunday dinner guests at the Cleo Evans home.

Mrs. Chas. Woodruff returned home Saturday from the Pleasant Home Hospital where she was a patient the past week.

Nut Cracking

Nut-cracking devices of various kinds have been invented, but apparently nobody ever thought of the fellow who has to creep around under the trees to gather the nuts until Carl H. Smith of Milner, Ga., came along and invented the mechanical nut gatherer. This nut harvester is a drumlike affair to be rolled over the ground. U-shaped resilient grooves on the surface of the drum clamp onto the nuts and as the grooves come around to the top, the nuts are deposited in a basket. Carl Smith received patent No. 2,539,596 for this invention.

We have no idea what Sherman would call the sort of war now going on between the United Nations and Red China.

Stand Up For Jesus

Sund up, stand up for Jesus,
Ye soldiers of the cross;
Lift high His royal banner,
It must not suffer loss:
From vict'ry unto vict'ry
His army shall He lead,
Till every foe is vanquished,
And Christ is Lord indeed.

Dudley Tye, a young Philadelphia minister, was watching a new corn-shelling machine when he was fatally hurt. As his life ebbed, he sent one last message to his friends—"Tell them to stand up for Jesus!" Mr. Duffield, a friend and minister, felt these words were too great to be lost. He wrote the above verse, which, set to stirring music, is one of our most challenging hymns.

How Much Should We Charge Students

A deserving pat on the back to the Gavel Club for its fine community service in the five years it has managed events at the Cass City Recreational Park. Now that the club's obligations are paid, they have decided to give up the responsibility and have turned their control back to the council. The action poses a problem for the council—what to do about the management of the football field, formerly in the hands of the Gavel Club. We believe that there is only one fair way to handle the situation. Because handling funds and organizing games should be part of the student's educational training while in high school, we maintain that students should be in complete charge of the games. Most observers agree on this point. However, a sharp difference of opinion is noted when the amount the students should pay for the field is discussed. We believe that football gate receipts should pay for all maintenance for the football field and other expenses incurred on the playground while the season is in progress. All other expenses should be paid through another method. True, the playground annually runs in the red and is an expense to the village—but the cost is minor compared to the value it has to the community.

Thanks To You For AAA Rating

It is most gratifying to the editor and staff of this newspaper to learn that in an impartial analysis of this newspaper, along with other weekly newspapers of the state, this publication has earned a rating of AAA and the designation of "One of the Best Weekly Newspapers in America." We believe that the award should be looked on with satisfaction by every person in the Cass City area for in a very real sense it is your award, for without the help of this community it would be impossible to win any award or even publish the paper. Editorial content was one of the factors entering into the rating given the paper by the judges—so every time you phoned or wrote a news item or a news tip you were helping us put out the kind of paper that could be judged AAA. For this the Chronicle says thanks.

The high rating earned by the Chronicle should be of more than passing interest to the increasing number of advertisers who use the columns of this newspaper. The circulation coverage as compared with the advertising rate was one of the factors used in judging the papers. An AAA rating means that the advertiser is getting excellent coverage at an advertising rate that is low compared with that charged for other local newspapers.

Hickory Farmers' Club Elects Officers

The Hickory Farmers' Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Scott on Nov. 9, for their annual turkey dinner which was served by Mrs. Howard Randall, Mrs. Fred Crawford and Mrs. Lon Scott. After dinner the business meeting was conducted by president, Wm. A. MacQueen. Officers were elected for 1952: President, Wm. A. MacQueen; vice president, Blanford Monte; secretary, Mrs. Blanford Monte; treasurer, Agnes Cowan; pianist, Mrs. B. E. Reavey; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Maggie Hosier. After the business meeting, a program, in charge of Mr. Lon Scott, was given: Music by Joyce Wagner, Betty Mitchell, Alice Husman, Eley Childs, Donald Pike, Howard and Vern Behrls, Fairgrove. High school students; readings by Mrs. Frank LaValley and Wiley Lassiter and a talk was given by Rev. Plum of the Fairgrove Methodist Church. Glen Cronkite officiated. He died Tuesday, Nov. 13, at Veteran's Hospital, Saginaw, after a long illness. He was 59 years old and burial was in St. Agatha's Cemetery.

Kansas Farmers Get $2 Million for Wheat Damage

Kansas farmers whose 1951 wheat acreage is insured with the federal crop insurance corporation are expected to receive more than $2,000,000 in total indemnities for losses sustained during the current crop year. More than 300,000 acres of damaged wheat has been released in the state by the corporation. Release depends upon the extent of damage to insured land.

Steel Is Prepared
In 1950, the steel industry shipped approximately 71.5 million tons of steel to consumers, only three per cent less than was used for direct war purposes during all of World War II.

Cass City, Mich.
Dear Sir—
I am sure plenty of people named the "Well Known Trio." There was one little error in your comments under the picture. They were dressed for "Hobo Day" at the high school. I know because I was the science teacher at that time and had to look at them nearly all day. Three finer boys never lived. While they hold their pipes like veterans, I am sure none of them smoked at that time.
I am enclosing a picture of about the same period. Maybe you would like to try it out on your readers. I'll appreciate its return whether you use it or not.
I taught and tried to coach in Cass City from Aug. 1910 until June 1912. The winter of 1911-12 was too much for me, I came farther south. I was in Cass City in August 1950 and it looked good to me, I had not seen it in 38 years.
Sincerely,
W. E. Harnish,
Assoc. Prof. of Educ.
University of Illinois.

Be Prepared

"Why?" is the question that drives most parents to distraction—but, according to child guidance experts of Childcraft books, you can be prepared for what's to come. Results from a survey of children's interests indicate the leading interests of children from kindergarten to sixth grade are topics of nature such as animals, plants, weather and the sky.

SOME CONFUSION

A surprising number of persons became confused over this picture. No one had any trouble with E. B. Schwaderer, left, or Alex "Buck" Miller, right, but very few were able to correctly identify Dorus Benkelman, center. Many of the replies stated that Dorus was his brother, Alvin. Among the ones confused was E. B. Schwaderer who thought that he had posed with Alvin. Mrs. O. W. Nique of Decker was the first with the correct identification.

Nitrogen Starved Corn Produces Small Ears

Lack of Nitrogen May Show Up Early in Crop

(Second of Two Articles)

The ear of corn and the leaf shown in the photo below tell a plain story of nitrogen starvation. The soil didn't supply the nitrogen the crop needed, so unmistakable signs are evident on both the ear and the leaf.

The ear of this nitrogen-starved corn is short, but the kernels are well-filled and the ear has fair finish. Nature has an uncanny way of regulating the size of the ear to match the amount of nitrogen available when the ears are shooting. This is its insurance for seed another year.

When nitrogen is lacking the middle of the leaf turns yellow and dies. Signs of nitrogen starvation can show on the corn any time from the knee-high stage to maturity. Early hints are skinny stalks and pale green leaves. "Firing" of the lower leaves is another sign, although it is often mistakenly blamed on drought.

You can add more nitrogen for your corn in three ways: (1) By having more well-fertilized deep-rooted legumes in the rotation; (2) By using more manure; (3) By using fertilizer carrying nitrogen. The point to remember is that no matter how much nitrogen the corn gets, it cannot build strong roots and stalks and fill out kernels unless it has plenty of phosphate and potash, too. Besides adding nitrogen, well-fertilized deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover unlock tightly packed clay soils below the plow layer and let air and water in.

Citrus Fruit Processors Develop New Cattle Feed

Florida's concentrated citrus fruit processors have found a gold mine from what was once a complete food loss. In so doing so, the processors are solving one of the citrus industry's most troublesome problems. The problem had to do with the disposal of hundreds of tons of orange, grapefruit and other citrus fruit rinds, pulp and seeds.

The end result has been the development of a new cattle-beef and dairy-feed that is making cattle healthier and increasing the amount of milk per cow.

The new process dries and grinds seeds, pulp and rind of citrus fruit into a dry feed that has the appearance of cereal flakes. During the process, a juice is pressed from the former waste residue and evaporated into a citrus "molasses." After the process is completed the dry feed is put up in 100-pound bags.

Jeep Spraying

The jeep is challenging other equipment in the important farm operation of spraying to control weeds and insects. Big advantage of the Jeep is said to be that the nozzle of the sprayer can be adjusted to eliminate "float" or "drift" of insecticide into other fields.

Orphan Turtles
All turtles are orphans at birth. Mother turtle lays her eggs and leaves them. Hungry newborn turtles head immediately for the nearest body of water, where a first meal of insects and tadpoles awaits them.

Catfish Calls

Can a catfish meow? According to the World Book Encyclopedia, some species of fish do "talk"—at least emit sounds. The fish's "speech" is due to organs which are comparable to the lungs and the windpipe of a human being. Many of these same fish also have well developed hearing organs—a fact which leads many to think of the interchange of sounds as fishy love calls.

Council Proceedings

Meeting October 30th with all trustees present. Minutes of last regular meeting and special meeting read and approved as read.

Fred Pinney and C. M. Wallace were present representing the school board. Discussion concerning the construction of the street and curbing in front of the big school was held, the cost was $2000 which was paid by the school. Motion by Gross and Benkelman that the village reimburse the school $400, for the cost of the construction of the 20 feet of street belonging to the village, as a major job. Motion carried.

E. B. Schwaderer was present in behalf of the county road commission. As county commissioner, he informed the council that Seeger Street, formerly a county road, had been turned over to the village for the future maintenance and repair. He requested that we also accept Doerr Road and Seventh Streets, which are border line streets in the village. Mr. Schwaderer is of the belief that under the new highway act, act 51, the village will receive more revenue for the upkeep of these streets than the county. Motion by Hunt and Gross that we accept these streets. Carried.

Mr. Gross gave a very thorough and interesting report on the meeting held at Milford with the Water Resources Board. He explained that our first step after the state has made B O D tests on the stream will be a negotiation with the Nestle's Milk Co.

Clerk was instructed to write letters of thanks to Mrs. Ray McCullough and to Lyle Koepgen for the trees donated to the park. The bad condition of the dump ground was discussed. President appointed Arlan Hartwick and Ben Benkelman as a committee to see about purchasing a new site for a dump ground, and then we would consider closing the present one.

Building permits for a remodeled house for Sam Vyse, and addition to present home for Keith McConekey and a garage for Wm. Patch were submitted and passed on.

Bills were presented. Bills as follows: Watson Service $3.96; C. C. Oil and Gas Co. $3.03; Murphy's Service $46.47; Guy Woolfolk $13.25; Keith McConekey $192.80; Albee Hardware $14.59; Brinker Lumber Co. $1715.70; Baldy's Sunoco $17.28; Earl Harris $12.68; Leonard Damm $18.00; H. O. Paul $35.50; Trojan Tool Co. $31.85; Badger Meter Mfg. Co. $18.22; Hartwick's $2.09; Municipal League $88.00; Russell Uniform Co. $18.24; W. S. Darley Co. $40.22; C. C. Auto Parts $4.40; C. C. Chronicle $13.75; Tuscola County Road Co. $95.00; C. L. Burt $33.30; Wood's Drug Store $9.95; Bigelow Hardware $8.80; Roy McNeil $5.15; Baldy's Sunoco $17.28; Telephone Co. $17.69; Detroit Edison Co. $489.43; Ray T. Lapp $43.50; Fred Jaus $7.50; Wayne Dewey $12.00; Luke Tuckey $203.73; Wm. Schram $182.50; Steve Orto $293.44; C. L. Burt $302.67; Wilma Fry $100.00; Pay Roll $1009.36. Motion by Bauer and Benkelman that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their various amounts. Carried.

Meeting adjourned.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Exercise and Diet Essential To Every Skin Beauty Program

By Erita Haley

SKIN BEAUTY is essential during the whole year, but since most of us are meeting old friends and new more during holiday time than at any other, we'd like to give our best impression.

There's nothing like the beauty of a healthy, attractive skin to give beauty to a woman, or a teen-ager. With glowing countenance, she can face any situation confidently and be certain that she is giving a good impression.

You cannot work miracles in a week or two if skin is a problem, but you can make a great improvement with care. If you have good skin, you can make it even more of an asset by trying a new make-up, a new freshness.

Holidays are a good time to start because they're an incentive to looking our best. Skin care started now may be just the thing you need to carry you through the whole year.

Check over your diet list first. If yours includes too many rich foods, your skin may be breaking out constantly, and this is impossible to control with external care. Delete the rich foods and you'll notice great improvement in a week.

Skin will benefit from a balanced diet that's rich in fruit and vegetables with simple dressings and seasonings. Include milk, eggs and a moderate amount of protein foods such as meat in place of the sweets

Gift Memo

Santa Claus will have done right well by the young lady who receives an ivory white case containing all-in-one foundation and powder intended to give the wearer the complexion of an angel. The compact-case bears a flower design etched in gold and contains a full view mirror, adequate for fixing hair or lips, as necessary.

of baths which, properly administered, will give you as much cleanliness as the tub or shower. Consider the sponge or the towel bath when you can't get into a whole tub or running shower.

You can take a sponge bath in as little as a quart of water. You may want to use more, but it's possible to get clean in that small amount. Place the water in a basin or pan, and stand yourself on a washable towel or rug. Dip a washcloth in the water and rub it over a bar of soap. Work up a good lather. Starting with the face, go over the whole body with the soapy cloth.

Rinse the washcloth in clear water and wipe off all traces of soap. Rinse out the cloth a second time and repeat the treatment again so no soap is left. Follow with a brisk rub with a dry, absorbent towel.

The towel bath is a modification of the sponge bath, and may be used if you don't have a basin handy. It is often used if you are just getting over a cold and don't want to expose yourself to all-over immersion in water.

Soak the Turkish towel in mild, warm suds and go over the whole body. Rub hard. Rinse the towel thoroughly in clear water and go over all the area. Follow this, too, with a brisk rub with a dry towel.

All Types of Skin Need Soap Cleansing
Cream cleansing is advised for skin, but not to the neglect of soap and water. There are such skins which react unwillingly to the over-use of too much soap and water, but even then this type of cleansing should not be neglected.

Choose only a very mild soap for facial cleansing. Use lukewarm water and work a good lather out of soap which is to be applied to the face quickly and lightly. Rinse this off promptly. Dry thoroughly and apply lotion or cream.

Those with thick or oily skin should use hot water generously and rub the lather into the skin vigorously. Follow this with a cold rinse, splashing the face vigorously. Since this type of skin is already oily, cream or oil need not be used after washing.

If you are looking for a very mild soap, choose one which has non-irritating perfume as well as soap in which fats and alkali have been combined carefully so there is no excess of the alkali.

Enhance Natural Beauty With Sensible Make-Up

Make-up is a normal procedure in making the face more attractive than it would be without it. Heavy make-up is not essential or even recommended, but something of the art of bringing out the natural skin beauty is of benefit to every woman.

A slight blush in the cheeks, so slight that you hardly notice it, brings more color to the eyes, for example. A touch up to the lips will prevent them from having that faded look which all but few have.

Heavy shine, too, is worth some effort in combatting for somehow this makes pores seem larger and contours unflattering. You may use a foundation plus powder, or what is newer, a combination make-up that is dry but gives you foundation and powder at the same time. This is excellent for mothers to recommend especially to the teen-ager who uses make-up with too heavy a touch, for this gives lightness that is flattering.

The latest eye make-up is very striking but it takes expert hands to apply if it is to give the desired results. Most women still prefer only a minimum of penciling and shadow only at evening for the eyes.

The newest suits will have lots of dressmaking details, and on first look, many of them seem to be dresses, so feminine are they. Slender skirts, nipped waists, clever buttoning and a minimum of shoulder padding are important features.

Gray flannel piped with bright red is the latest entry on the fashion horizon in the world of casual suits. Other colors like black brown and navy are available for those who want to by-pass gray.

Daily cleansing is essential . . .

and starches you may have been consuming.

There is such a thing as beauty sleep, for if you get your quota of seven or eight hours nightly, you can do a lot to erase harsh lines on the skin just by the relaxation.

Get Daily Quota Of Exercise

Exercise is something else you should watch if you want to have good skin. Though it may seem a bit remote at first thought, exercise is as essential to skin beauty as cleanliness, diet and rest.

When you get some vigorous exercise everyday, you not only stir the circulation, but you perspire more freely. Perspiration stimulates skin action and thus frees the pores of surface dirt, and this means that you can wash away skin impurities and dead cells more readily.

You don't have to take special courses to get the proper exercise, although these are recommended if you have the time. If you don't, then reorganize whatever you do, so that it will amount to exercise.

As you make the beds, move around the bed freely, turn the mattress, fluff pillows and tuck the covers underneath, do all these things briskly.

When you walk, to shopping or just around the house doing your work, don't dawdle. Stand up straight, walk energetically, breathe deeply. You'll be doing this not only because it's good for you, but also because you'll be more attractive.

When you stand properly and breathe deeply, your blood circuto beautiful, glowing skin.

lates more freely, and your whole body, including your skin, will respond to this care.

If at all possible, take some form of bath after vigorous exercise. You will have perspired freely, which is to the good, but if you don't wash away the impurities, the pores of the skin will clog and prevent proper elimination of sweat, oil and other products which the skin must throw off.

Many Bathing Facilities Offer Adequate Cleanliness

Regular bathing is essential to good skin care, namely, to wash off impurities which would otherwise tend to clog the pores. A tub or shower bath may not always be possible because you lack the facilities, the hot water or the warm room in winter.

This doesn't mean you should skip the bath. You can always get enough heat and heat enough hot water to take one of the other types

Bowling

News and Views

George A. Dillman, Sec.

One of the basic factors that made bowling the great game that it is today was fun and good fellowship. A night of bowling offered friends and fellow workers an opportunity to meet on a common ground for an evening of real enjoyment.

Do you fellows agree that our leagues are enjoying those same things today? If they aren't it's time to sit down and take a look at ourselves. A few of the questions you might ask are: Are we ready to laugh even if we aren't bowling too well; are we ready to overlook little things our opponents may do that irritate us; do we look forward to bowling as an evening of entertainment and good fellowship; do we try and help our teammates who are not doing too well? If all of us can answer "Yes" to these questions, we're having fun. If we say "No" we're making a lot of work out of bowling. If you think our leagues are not having fun let's do something about it.

A number of our members have traveled to the north to get themselves a buck, or perhaps just traveled north. We wish them luck and pray for a safe journey to and from the hunting grounds. Because of the deer hunting season the leagues have postponed bowling until Friday, November 23, when the Merchant's League resumes competition. The City League following on Monday, Nov. 26.

We haven't learned what magic words Guy Landon whispered into the right ear of his man, Herman Hildinger, the night of Nov. 12, but whatever it was, Herman became an inspired bowler after opening with a light game of 122. He just stepped up and got himself a second game of 256 and closed with a third game of 173 for a three game total of 551. Even Hunt's high series of 561 was over shadowed by Herman's effort because Herman's season average, as of the 12th, was 139. In his second game he opened with a spare, then a strike, another spare and then he really went to work by hitting the pocket for seven strikes in a row for a 256 score, which places his name on top in the individual game scoring honors by 19 pins over Geiger who has held this spot for quite some time.

With one more week to go in the first schedule, your reporter cannot determine the winner. The Reid team is in first place by three points over Peterson and four points over Hunt, Musall and Landon. Now Frank told this reporter, "Don't you dare mention about my team backing into first place." But we think that Frank and his teammates will have to do more than "back in." They meet the Hunt team in the final night. (A rough team). Peterson will have easy going as they take on the faltering Rusch team. And anything can happen as Landon meets Musall.

Two friends, one married and the other a bachelor, were at the latest play, admiring the performance of a famous actor.

"By Jove," the married man murmured, "he's wonderful. The way he displays affection toward the leading lady, eh?"

"Yes—pretty good," the bachelor agreed, "but, you know he's been married to her for eighteen years."

"What? Really married! Gosh—what an actor!"

"What's the shape of the earth?" asked the teacher, calling suddenly on Wee Willie.
"Round," said Wee Willie.
"How do you know it's round?"
"Well," says Willie, "it's square then; I wanna want any argument about it."

Model L-110, 115-inch wheelbase, 6 1/2-foot pickup body, 4,200 lbs. GVW. Pickups in the L-110, L-120 and L-130 Series include 115, 127 and 134-inch wheelbases, 6 1/2, 8 and 9-ft. bodies, GVW's to 8,600 lbs.

This pickup pinches pennies!

There are two simple reasons why you save money when you buy an International pickup truck.

First, you get lower operating and maintenance costs. You get a pickup truck that is engineered throughout to do more work for less money.

Second, you get longer truck life. Even the smallest International pickup truck has the traditional stamina that has kept Internationals first in heavy-duty truck sales for 19 straight years.

You get these all-truck savings right along with features that no other pickup truck gives you. For example—the COMFO-VISION CAB is "the roomiest, most comfortable cab on the road." The Silver Diamond engine is an outstanding development of the world's largest exclusive truck engine plant. Super-steering gives you maneuverability and ease of handling that make driving a pleasure.

But get all the facts for yourself. Come in and learn why International pickup trucks are the best truck value in pickups today.

The season of top egg prices is closely approaching or may be here, so it will pay poultrymen to exert extra efforts the next few weeks to encourage top production from hens and pullets. One way to get more eggs in this season of reduced daylight hours is to use artificial lighting to make the birds work overtime. If lights are kept on for an extra three or four hours either in the morning or evening, the layers consume more feed, and are thus capable of a higher laying rate.

Another thing to check is the water supply. Eggs contain a high proportion of water, so if there is nothing to drink, there will be no eggs to gather. Supply clean water in automatic float controlled waterers or in adequate containers, and don't let it freeze! It pays to buy or construct a warming device to keep water at a temperature above 40 degrees, so the birds will drink more. Poultrymen should also guard against lice, cannibalism, and damp litter if they expect to obtain maximum egg production while egg prices remain relatively high.

MSC Extension Folder F-156, Farm and Field Rental Agreement, is a new publication now available from the County Agent's office, giving customary provisions in various types of share-rental arrangements. Probably the most important thing that landlords and tenants should do is to have a written understanding between partners. The above folder serves as a reminder of the items that should be included in such a lease.

When taking samples for soil testing, farmers and gardeners are cautioned to do the job correctly, or the test will be of little value. Several samples of soil should be taken from each field or each part of a field that has different soil characteristics. Then the samples should be mixed together to form a "composite" specimen. About a cupful of the composite soil mixture should be brought to the testing lab in a glass container or paper bag. Label each container to correspond with the field or part of the field from which the soil was taken. More detailed instructions may be obtained from the Extension Office. In general, soil tests made in the fall or winter are just as accurate as those delayed till spring, and save farmers valuable time as well as giving him advance notice on his fertilizer needs.

He Made Air Work
David Thomas, a Pennsylvania ironmaster, proved about 1232 that increased air pressure in blast furnaces greatly increased iron output and furnace efficiency. Ironmakers the world over imitated his air pressure practices to step up production.

Increase in Artificially Bred Cows in Oct.

A significant increase in number of dairy cows artificially bred in October over the September totals is a sign that farmers are planning their breeding programs in order to secure a greater volume of production in the autumn months, says Assistant County Agricultural Agent Byron E. Carpenter.

We are encouraging dairymen to so manage their herds that they will be shipping their largest quantity of milk during autumn months, Carpenter said. This is advantageous because the fall is commonly a season of short milk supply and prices are usually higher at this time. Also, the quantity of milk shipped in the fall months establishes the farmer's base, which determines what proportion of his following year's production will be shipped as class 1 milk at top prices.

"It isn't possible or practical to change the freshening date of an individual cow more than one or two months, each year," said the Agent, "but farmers should try to gradually work for a herd freshening in the fall."

Three of the five artificial breeding associations operating in Tuscola County reported increases in number of first services amounting to 25% or more from September to October. These were the Vassar, Huron-Tuscola, and Kingston associations. The Vassar ABA showed the greatest increase, going from 73 first services in September to 108 in October, a jump of 41 per cent. Vassar also topped all other groups in the county in acquiring new members during the two-month period, reporting twelve more subscribers. The Vassar association secretary-treasurer, Lewis Tinglan, now shows 221 members, with 1519 cows listed for artificial service. Telford Proffer, Vassar, is the association's inseminator-manager.

Other ABA organizations in Tuscola County and their inseminator-managers are Cass City and Kingston, Richard Ross, Kingston, inseminator; Millington, Bernard Jakubik, inseminator; and Huron-Tuscola, Franklin Stoll, Unionville, inseminator.

Officers of each association recently were notified by the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative secretary, A. C. Baltzer, that a series of district directors' meetings has been arranged to be held at the central association headquarters at East Lansing. ABA directors from the Thumb area and east central Michigan will attend this meeting on December 4.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

The reapportionment bugaboo raises its head again. The Michigan Federation of Labor is circulating petitions to qualify a proposal for the general election ballot in '52. Copies of the petition propose the constitution be amended to give the secretary of state, rather than the legislature, power to apportion legislative seats.

The proposal calls for reapportionment in 1953 and every 10 years thereafter. Wayne County might get four or five senators in addition to the seven they have now and house representation would rise from 27 to 31 seats. Result: Urban control.

The issue has come up regularly now for years and just as regularly has been buried in the legislature.

Fair employment practices legislation has been pushed by Democrats for three years with no success. Such a bill would make it illegal to discriminate against workers because of race, color or creed.

A prominent Republican legislator recently predicted that in the next session of the legislature the controversial bill WOULD come out of committee. Said the G. O. P. stalwart, "The Democrats don't want this bill any more than we do. We'll get it out on the floor and let them (Democrats) defeat it themselves."

With the present majority, Republicans will need no help knocking out the bill. Closest yet to its reaching a vote of the people. Democrats refused the overture and the issue died.

Another record breaking army of bow and arrow hunters is expected this year. Sales of archery licenses as of Nov. 1, totaled 6,600 as against 5,400 by the same date last year. Reports of small game licenses showed 124,779 sold compared to 122,542 at the same time last year.

It may be Dec. 15 before all of the 150,000 signatures of the anti-gasoline petition tax referendum petitions are checked. No more talk of a grand jury investigation into lobby methods of the Good Roads Federation, which supported the gas tax boost.

University of Michigan and Michigan State College have 5,415 students in reserve officer training this year—1,448 at U. of M., and 3,967 at M. S. C. Freshman and sophomore military training is compulsory at M. S. C.

When asked if he thought pro-Eisenhower Republicans could stop Taft, Sen. Blair Moody said, "I don't think so. The senator is a very determined man."

W. F. Doyle, chairman of the little Hoover commission, recently defended the state legislature against criticism that it is to blame for "high cost" of state government. He says, "The fault clearly lies with well-meaning citizens who are willing to sacrifice the welfare in accomplishing the dubious purposes of organizations in which they hold primary interest."

In short; pressure groups.

A Michigan Girls Town, first of its kind in the country, is being discussed. Hitch is in financing the project. Present plan for the home, to be located near Gaylord, is to raise money by subscription to a publication.

Meanwhile the marked rise in escape attempts and walkaways at Ionia reformatory has state corrections officials worried. Jump in escapees has been from nine in 1949 to 15 in 1950 and 24 this year. Warden Garrett Heyns blames the trouble on not enough guards.

The upper floors of the fire ravaged state office building have been cleaned out preparatory to remodeling. Work is expected to start on the building by Dec. 1. Steel allotment has been secured.

Conservation officials will ask the legislature next year for authority to charge admission to state parks and to lease state lands for private use.

A new birth record may be set in

If you stuff a piece of steel wool in the drain before washing your hair, it will catch stray hairs and prevent clogging.

Many farm workers who now have only one hand trace the loss of the other to a corn picker accident. Cleaning out rollers or attempting to work around the picker with the power on is dangerous.

1951. Since April, births have been running 13 per cent above those of last year. Federal security agency says the Korean war is the cause.

The 1952 model automobiles are beginning to roll off the assembly lines. No major changes, for the most part.

City of Caves
Vladivostok, Soviet Russia's Far Eastern bastion, is a city whose real might lies underground in the surrounding hills. Aircraft hangars, subterranean ammunition depots, supply dumps and troop quarters are buried in huge man-made caves, the National Geographic Society reports.

The average person in the United States today eats about 60 per cent more fruits and vegetables than he did in the period 1909 to 1918. Increase in individual diets, plus an increase in population, has boosted the importance of home gardens and other sources of fresh vegetables and fruits.

responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.
The date for the completion of such contract, and the terms of payment therefor, shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting. Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drainage Board a certified check or cash to the amount of Two hundred and no/100 Dollars as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded. The payments for the above mentioned work will be made as follows: To be announced at time of sale.
Notice is Further Hereby Given, that on Thursday the 20th day of December, 1951, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, the County Drain Commissioner of said County, will, at the Courtroom in the Village of Caro, County of Tuscola, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the appointment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "Knight Drain Special Assessment District," and the apportionment thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.
The following is a description of the several tracts or parcels of land constituting the Special Assessment District of said Drain, viz:

STOCK LOSSES DUE TO WOUNDS

Remember the old saying: "For want of a nail the horse was lost?"
Equally true is another adage

Proper care may save lockjaw losses.

reason is that nail punctures of that "because of nails thousands of horses and mules are lost". The horses' feet bring grave danger of fatal lockjaw, unless proper preventive measures are taken.

No wound on an animal should be considered a trivial matter. For one thing, animal skins are invariably contaminated with germs capable of causing blood poisoning, gas gangrene or lockjaw. And in many sections, larvae of screw worm flies may cause fatal damage in neglected wounds.

Simple small wounds can be washed with soap and water and dusted or daubed with an antiseptic dressing.

Sometimes livestock owners seek to promote healing by plastering wounds with mud or a spider web. Such measures increase the danger of infection and should never be used.

Deep or extensive wounds, or those of the puncture type, should always be handled by a veterinarian, for preparation of the wound area, drainage and suturing are essential to proper recovery and function.

Fort Steuben was built in 1786 on the Ohio River about 40 miles below Pittsburgh, and was named after Baron von Steuben, "drillmaster" of the Continental Army. The town of Staubenville was planned about 1797 at the site of the Fort. Iron-making furnaces were built in the town about 1852. Today, Staubenville has capacity for nearly 1.5 million tons of iron, and about the same steel capacity.

SHORT STORY

Teen-Age Love

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

It was only natural that Rose should be thrilled at thoughts of meeting Loring Hunt. After all, Loring Hunt was the most glamorous of modern day screen stars. And Rose—well, Rose was just another young girl with dreams.

She had fallen in love with Loring Hunt when she was 12 years old. Maturity had rather dampened her enthusiasm; at least she never betrayed the real depths of it.

When told of Loring Hunt's pending arrival Jerry had sported.

"What!" he cried disgustedly. "That sap coming here? To your house? Why, your mother must be out of her mind!"

"Mother's far from out of her mind," Rose replied furiously. "It's only common decency that she ask Mr. Hunt to stay with us while he's in town. His father and mine were close friends. Since Daddy's death, the Hunts have been splendid to mother." She added spitefully: "We're giving a party in Loring Hunt's honor and I guess you'd better not come."

"I look under 30, eh?" Loring chuckled. "They do marvelous things in Hollywood."

"Try and keep me away," said Jerry. "I'm not letting the girl I'm engaged to run around unprotected with that lizard in the vicinity."

"We're not engaged," Rose told him.

"We're practically engaged," said Jerry.

A week later Loring Hunt arrived. He was wearing a mustache and colored glasses, both of which he removed as soon as he was inside the house. "It's my defense," he smiled by way of explanation. "I'd be mobbed without them."

Loring was all and more than she had expected. There were a few grey hairs about his temples, but what are a few grey hairs when the man of her dreams was here in the flesh and seeming to take a particular interest in her.

At least Rose imagined he was taking a particular interest in her.

DURING the first of the evening Jerry assumed an attitude of aloofness. He stood in a corner and tried to look disdainful and superior. But when this attitude failed to impress Rose he abandoned it, and took to following her around.

Toward the end of the evening Loring Hunt asked her if she'd meet him outside on the terrace in five minutes.

"Quite a trick, getting away from that crowd," Loring Hunt smiled. He drew her to a hammock and sat down. "I wanted to have a few moments alone with you before I left."

"Yes?" whispered Rose.

"You remind me so much of your father. He was a fine man. I remember him well."

"You remember my father? But I was only a child when he died!"

"You were at that," said Loring Hunt. "I was young too." He sighed. "Ah, me! How time does fly. Here I am almost 50 and—"

"Fifty!" cried Rose. "Why, I thought—that is—in your pictures—"

"I look under 30, eh?" Loring chuckled. "They do marvelous things in Hollywood. But, here, let's not talk of me. Tell me about yourself. Are you in love? I noticed a fine looking boy giving you a lot of attention."

Rose was a bit overcome. She hadn't dreamed that her ideal was—was an old man!

She started to speak, but a figure had glided up and was standing in front of them. It was Jerry. In the pale light she could see the set look to his jaw.

"Ah," said Loring Hunt, rising, "here he is now. We were just talking about you, young man. Rose was telling me—well, rather I was telling her that it was a pity her father couldn't have lived to see his daughter grown to womanhood."

"Yeah?" said Jerry.

There was a pause. Rose leaped to her feet. "Mr. Hunt was asking me if I'm in love and—and I told him yes. I told him I was in love with you, Jerry."

Slowly Jerry relaxed. Rose had taken his arm and was hanging on for dear life. It was a good thing, he told himself importantly, for Loring Hunt, that she had come to her senses.

Prizes Awarded in Sanilac Bean Show

Despite adverse weather conditions the third annual Sanilac County 4-H and FFA Bean Show was held at the Crosswell High School, November 6. The severe storm did necessitate the cancellation of the evening program however.

R. W. Bell, Farm Crops Specialist, Michigan State College, spent a busy day in judging the 78 samples and records on exhibit. When the day's judging activities were complete, Gordon Pabst, Marlette FFA member, and Robert Zmich, Tyre, Austin Cloverleaf 4-H Club member, were the recipients of the high individual trophies in each division.

Norwin Robert, Snover, a member of the Sandusky FFA, and Donald Kunze, Palms of the Deckerville FFA, received the second and third prize cash awards of $10 and $5 respectively. In the 4-H club division, the final scores found a tie between Carl Kolar and James Zmich, both of Tyre and the Austin Cloverleaf 4-H Club. The second and third prize of $10 and $5 was divided between the two boys. A very close decision by Judge Bell found the Sandusky FFA Chapter the winner of the Best Chapter Plaque over the Deckerville Chapter.

The Best 4-H Club Plaque was easily won by the Austin Cloverleaf 4-H Club led by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zmich of Tyre. All individual awards were made on the basis of completed projects in the respective divisions.

Share the Wealth

Lucy: "Nobody will ever care for me."

Sergeant: "Don't say that, Lucy. After all, in this world there's a man for every woman. It's a wonderful arrangement."

Lucy: "Believe me, I don't want to change it. I just want to get in on it."

Silicones Are Up-Coming

The use of silicone-base finishes has greatly increased during the last year. Since first marketed about five years ago, silicone finishes have been discovered to have extreme heat and weather-resistance. They are especially suited to space heaters, furnaces, steam generators, mufflers and processing equipment. They make extremely weather resistant enamels for advertising and highway signs, street signs, metal awnings and siding.

Harry Wallace Dies After Long Illness

Mr. Harry Leon Wallace, well-known resident of this community, died Monday afternoon at Stevens' Nursing Home, where he had been a patient for one and one-half years. He had been in ill health the past eight years. Funeral services were held at the Elmer Methodist Church at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, the Rev. Elmer Gibson, Reese, and the Rev. Lewis Caister, Decker, officiating.

Mr. Wallace was born in North Buckston, Ontario, March 15, 1879, the son of the late Dr. Joseph and Mrs. Sarah Powell Wallace, and came to this country with his parents when a young man.

On October 8, 1902, in Elmer Township, Sanilac County, he married Miss Lucy Harrison, after which they settled in Elmer Township. Mrs. Wallace preceded him in death. In 1935 Mr. Wallace moved to what is now known as "Wallace's Corners," at the intersection of M-59 and Deckerville Roads, where he owned and operated a gas station and grocery store.

He attended the Elmer Methodist Church and was also a member of Temple Lodge, Ancient Order of Gleaners.

Surviving are: one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Sangster of Decker; one son, Mr. Raymond Wallace of Romulus, Michigan; one brother, Mr. W. Richard Wallace of Sandusky; one sister, Mrs. Irene Irwin of Marlin, Ontario, and two grandchildren. One brother preceded him in death.

Burial was in Hyslop Cemetery in Elmer Township.

Anniversary Prize Winners Announced

Freiburger's Grocery announced that Beatrice Stafford was the winner of their anniversary free prize drawing and will be awarded a $25 war bond by the store.

Besides the first prize, six baskets of groceries were given to the next six lucky persons. Five of the six winners came from Cass City. They are Mason Wilson, Mrs. John West, Phyllis Tyo, Mrs. Annie McCullough and Mrs. E. Lounsbury. Besides the Cass City winners, Mr. Richard Shaw of Decker was awarded a basket of groceries.

Wealth may not bring true happiness, but there are some folks who would be satisfied with good imitations.

Not A Good Monthful

The digestive fluids in the mouth, stomach and small intestine change the insulin when taken through the mouth so that it no longer has the effect that it does when injected hypodermically. Some years ago a capsule preparation was placed on the market, but was withdrawn after many tests had shown that it did not have the desired effect against diabetes.

Conception of Equality.

The average man's conception of equality is a state in which he will be considered an important citizen.

It is significant that Communism makes its greatest inroads where ignorance and injustice rule.
