MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

The St. Lawrence Seaway Project keeps hobbing up in the news. Most everyone except those in Washington backs it. Now a U. of M. engineering professor says the project is "sound, self-supporting and self-amortizing, and if the government can't give it over to private enterprise then good business judgment says government should proceed with it at once for the benefit of all concerned, including the government itself."

Dr. F. N. Menefee, professor of engineering mechanics, says the seaway would pay for itself in 50 years—plus bringing inland industry the benefit of lower transportation rates.

He contends that an average toll of 50 cents per ton on cargoes using the locks would maintain the locks and amortize their initial cost in 50 years or less. Industry would save $5 a ton on its shipping.

Development of the project would permit direct shipping from a St. Lawrence rail head (which would receive ore from the Quebec Labrador mines) to steel mills in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

The drive to push the program through congress has been abetted by information that remaining ore in Minnesota's Mesabi range is dropping in quality.

By the time the 16-day deer hunting season closes some 400,000 hunters will have swarmed through Michigan's brush to bag 166,000 bucks. But not only deer will die. Last year 18 hunters were killed and 55 others injured. Eleven were killed and 21 injured by members of their own hunting parties.

While Gen. Eisenhower hedges about running for president, Detroit's Brig. Gen. Herbert C. Holdridge is not so reticent. Recently returned from a 10,000 mile sentiment-sampling trek over the country, Holdridge says, "I can't honestly say I'm going to get the presidential nomination, but I'm going to tell a lot of truths while I'm campaigning."

Meanwhile in Michigan preparations are going ahead to meet another general — Douglas MacArthur. It is fairly definite now the general will address the legislature about Jan. 25.

When a candidate hedges it is safe to say he is fixing his political fences.

Some local areas are so dry that they have even taken the nip out of the air.

Science May Save Non-Breeder Cows

New advances in treatment of dairy cows with hormones show that modern science may be on the right track to saving many non-breeder cows and converting them into profitable dairy animals.

Initial success with the two hormones, progesterone and diethylstilbestrol, opened the way to increased studies at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. Research is being done by a team of scientists under the direction of Drs. Joseph Meites and E. P. Reineke.

Two sterile Guernsey heifers were the first animals studied and results of their treatment with the two hormones are now complete. A third hormone, thyroprotein, was also used on these animals. Tablets of the hormones were implanted in the shoulders of these animals which had never calved. One heifer began producing milk on the sixteenth day and the other on the nineteenth day.

Without calving, both heifers produced more than 6,000 pounds of milk and more than 320 pounds of butterfat. These amounts were about equal to normal first-calf Guernsey heifers.

Another approach was then studied by the scientists: Would it be possible to re-initiate the milk production of older cows which fail to settle? Two four-year-old non-breeder Holsteins were implanted with pellets of progesterone and diethylstilbestrol. Production started when the pellets were removed. One went to a peak of 80 pounds a day and the other to 45 pounds a day.

The cow that went to 80 pounds produced 298 pounds of butterfat during the first 4 months of lactation. The other produced 177 pounds of butterfat during the same period.

After four months of milking, the first cow was still giving 50 pounds daily and the second was giving 35 pounds daily.

Both of these animals would probably have been discarded from the herd without benefits of the hormone treatment. The researchers believe that there may be some chance that they will settle when bred again because the hormone treatment allows reproductive organs to rest.

Experiments thus far show that the Michigan State College Experiment Station scientists may have two-way benefits resulting from their research. They may be able to increase the milking period of the average cow; and they may be able to save infertile heifers and older cows from the butcher's block.

A lot of research is yet to be done, the MSC scientists report, but results thus far indicate that the project is a valuable one. It may be some time before the average dairy farmer can use this treatment in his herd, but the researchers are continuing their search for the answer to one of dairying's biggest problems.

Somebody Did!

It simply isn't true that "everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it." About 1593, Galileo invented an open-air thermometer for measuring temperature changes. The barometer, an instrument for determining atmospheric pressure, was invented by Torricelli in 1643. Modern scientists are investigating the possibilities of "changing the weather to order" by artificially inducing atmospheric conditions necessary for rain or snow.

Barnyard Cafeteria

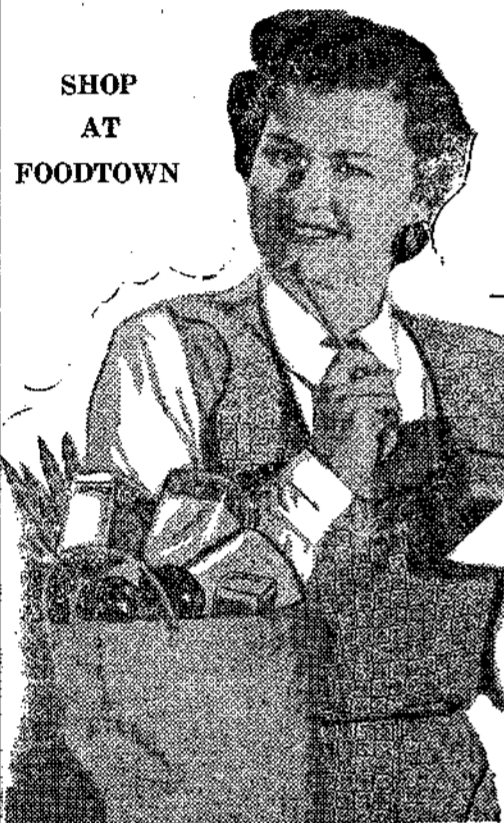

A cafeteria, with appropriate trays, has been designed for the feathered tribe of the barnyard. Roy E. Floch, Anatone, Wash., has designed a long counter containing trays for food, which is doled out sparingly from an overhead hopper. Baffle boards prevent fussy fowls from flicking their portions over the floor and wasting it, according to National Patent Council.

Motor Fatalities

Under age 65, motor vehicle accidents outrank by far the other causes of accidental death for females. Among girls at 15 to 19, motor vehicle accidents account for practically two thirds of the mortality from all accidents, and at ages 20 to 44 the proportion is more than half. Burns and scalds, the statisticians point out, also claim the lives of many women and girls each year.

ODD AND INTERESTING FACTS from the LEONARD NOTEBOOK

BUTANE! — one of the high-octane components of every gallon of gasoline you buy, is so volatile — that a puff thrown into the air, evaporates before it can fall to the ground. Out-of-state gasolines are transferred from storage-tank to tanker, and from truck to transport as many as 10 times. Each transfer is another opportunity for the evaporation of these most valuable molecules. But not Leonard X-Tane — made in Michigan it goes from refinery to transport to station — and reaches your car with its pick-up-and-go molecules intact.

Eight Times a Year!
The blending formula for Leonard X-tane is changed at least 8 times a year instead of the usual 4, to provide the right mixture of volatile components for each month in the year.

Team Almonds with Coconut for these Delectable Bars (See Recipes Below)

Tempting Cookies

THERE'S ALWAYS a place on menus, lunch boxes and cookie snack jars for delectable cookies.

Now that school has started, you'll have to keep the cookie jar well filled again for cookies with fruit are a favorite dessert for the "carried lunch."

You'll want some for after-school snacks, for easy dinner desserts that can be made well in advance, and for entertaining.

ALMOND COCONUT BARS are a delightful chewy type of bar, and they make a perfect mate for ice cream and custard desserts.

*Almond Coconut Bars (Makes 24 1 1/2x2-inch bars)

Bottom layer:
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/4 cup brown sugar (packed)
1/2 cup butter or substitute

Top layer:
1/2 cup roasted, unblanched almonds
2 eggs
1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded coconut
1/2 cup thoroughly drained crushed pineapple

Bottom layer: Blend flour, brown sugar and butter together thoroughly. Pack in bottom of greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 10 minutes.

Top layer: Chop almonds. Beat eggs well. Gradually beat in brown sugar. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Stir into egg-sugar mixture. Blend in coconut, pineapple and almonds. Spoon over baked layer. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven 25 to 30 minutes longer. Cut into bars while slightly warm.

YOU'LL ENJOY this Orange Cookie which takes its flavor from brown sugar, fresh orange juice and rind. The cookies may be iced singly, or they may be put together with icing in-between, sandwich fashion.

Orange Cookies (Makes 30 2-inch cookies)
1/2 cup light brown sugar
1/2 cup shortening (part butter)
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add egg and beat until mixture is light and fluffy. Add orange rind and juices. Sift flour, measure and resift with soda and baking powder. Stir flour mixture into sugar mixture stirring gently until it just forms a soft, smooth dough. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for about 7 minutes or until done. Ice cookies or put two together, sandwich fashion with:

Orange Icing
Place in top part of double boiler 2 cups confectioners' sugar, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon melted butter and 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind. Cook over hot water for 10 minutes. Beat icing until cool and of easy spreading consistency.

LYNN SAYS:
Serve Tempting Dishes For Cool Weather

Try a hot corned beef hash sandwich for a hearty snack. It's easily prepared by heating the hash in a skillet with sweet pickle relish, salt and grated onion for seasoning. Spread on toast, top with a tomato slice and another piece of toast.

Curried chicken soup starts any meal off right. Simply add one teaspoon of curry powder to diluted canned chicken soup. Sprinkle with parsley before serving.

Sometimes we wonder if baseball is a sport or big business.

Butterscotch Cookies

(Makes 5 dozen cookies)
1 cup shortening (part butter)
1 1/2 cups brown sugar (firmly packed)
2 eggs
3 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup broken nutmeats
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Cream together shortening, sugar and vanilla and lemon juice. Add eggs and beat until fluffy. Sift flour with baking powder and salt and add to creamed mixture. Add nutmeats before all flour is mixed. Blend to a smooth dough.

Form into one or two rolls, 2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and chill thoroughly. Slice thin, using a sharp knife and bake in a moderately hot (400°F.) oven for 8 to 10 minutes.

Frosted Black Walnut Cookies

(Makes about 50 cookies)
1/2 cup shortening (part butter)
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 tablespoons water
1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup chopped black walnut meats

Cream together the shortening and sugars. Add egg; beat until fluffy. Add vanilla, salt and water. Gently stir in flour which has been sifted with soda. Stir enough to make a smooth batter. Fold in nuts. Drop by small spoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet, well apart. Bake in a moderate (375°F.) oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Remove from pan as soon as baked. While still warm, frost with: 2 cups confectioners' sugar blended with 1 tablespoon melted butter, 3 to 4 tablespoons of top milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Pecan Slices

(Makes 40 1x2-inch bars)
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup shortening (part butter)
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
1 cup chopped pecan meats
1/2 cup shredded coconut
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine the 1 cup of flour with shortening and mix until creamy. Spread the mixture in a 9x12-inch pan, patting gently until mixture is smooth. Combine beaten eggs, brown sugar, coconut, nuts, flour, baking powder, salt and vanilla. Mix well and spread over mixture in pan. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 25 minutes.

Kidney beans are popular fare and can be used nicely for a hearty sandwich. Season canned kidney beans with chopped onion, catsup and Worcestershire sauce, then spread on split hamburger buns. Top with sliced tomato and strips of bacon; broil until bacon is crisp.

When menfolk want a snack, none of them will turn down this one: mash canned sardines with their oil, add chopped stuffed olives and enough chili sauce and mayonnaise to make the mixture spread easily on crackers.

Experience is a thing that keeps right on going up in price.

Fertilizer Facts Given for 1952 Crops

Facts about the fertilizer situation for the 1952 crop season were given farmers this week by L. M. Turk, head of the soil science department at Michigan State College.

He said that in the over-all fertilizer situation, one fact seems to stand out. In 1952 the United States will be called upon to produce even more food and fiber than was produced in 1951.

One of the "flies in the fertilizer ointment" is the shortage of sulfur and sulfuric acid, both used in making superphosphate. Industries with defense orders are taking a bite out of supplies. Turk said that it is estimated the supply of phosphate fertilizers in the country will drop between 8 and 10 per cent during the coming year.

The outlook for nitrogen supplies for the next year points to a slight increase. It has been estimated that about 40 per cent more nitrogen could have been profitably used this year in meeting our production needs. It also is believed that the real need for nitrogen fertilizer will increase at the rate of at least 100,000 tons per year for the next few years.

It appears rather certain there will be an ample supply of potash, Turk said. There is always the possibility of a transportation problem from the mines to the manufacturers and distributors. But it looks like potash production will go up steadily during the next few years and a 10 per cent increase in potash supplies is expected during the coming year.

Turk suggested that farmers buy their fertilizers now for next spring provided they have suitable storage.

When you come right down to it the reckless driver is very rarely wreckless.

A man who can't collect his wits would be a poor risk as a bill collector.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five Years Ago.

Nearly one hundred guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Babcock at Unionville Nov. 9 to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Day were born in Vermont, coming to Bay City at the age of 18 and 11 years, respectively. They lived there for 32 years after which they moved on a farm two and one-half miles west of Unionville.

Archie McPhee has sold his farm in Novesta township to Martin Anthes for $3,500. This farm has been the property of the McPhee family for 40 years. Mr. McPhee's father blazed the way to that tract of land in 1876.

The public school building at Pigeon was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon, the fire originating from formaldehyde fumigators. A large number of text books and the school library were destroyed. School sessions will be held in the churches of the village.

Don Koepfgen will attend the National 4-H Club Congress and the International Livestock Show at Chicago Nov. 29 to Dec. 6. He was selected by the Tuscola County 4-H Club Council and his trip is sponsored by the Cass City Rotary Club.

The Cass City Grange installed officers at the Bird schoolhouse Friday night.

Officers installed included: Master, Clinton Law; overseer, Maynard McConkey; lecturer, Mrs. Clifford Martin; steward, Floyd Reid; assistant steward, Ellwood Eastman; chaplain, Mrs. W. Schell; treasurer, Clifford Martin; secretary, Mrs. John Marshall, Jr.; gatekeeper, Dan Hennessey; Ceres, Mrs. Maynard McConkey; Pomona, Mrs. Milton Hoffman; Flora, Mrs. Floyd Reid; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Ellwood Eastman.

Twenty-one of the 23 instructors of the Cass City Public Schools had made plans to attend the Upper Thumb Round Table at Elkton held Thursday night. Five local instructors were leaders of discussion groups—Mrs. Zora Day, early elementary; Lester Ross, athletics; Orion Cardew, industrial arts; J. I. Niergarth, superintendents; Willis Campbell, principals.

The village council awarded the contracts for the machinery and equipment for the municipal water softening plant at Cass City to the Bermudit Co. of New York City for $10,738.00. Delivery is promised within six months. The building to house the water softening plant is nearing completion.

Miss Esther Eskilson became the bride of Harold Gunther on Thursday evening, Nov. 21.

Treat Cows Gently

If a cow doesn't let down all her milk, it may be because the milker is causing her some pain without knowing it.

Michigan State College dairymen point out that a cow can't hold up her milk or give it down like you'd turn a faucet on and off. Letting down milk is an involuntary process, regulated by hormones. Gentle treatment at milking time helps the let-down process.

Leaving the milking machine on too long may cause the cow to associate pain with the machine and prevent complete let-down. Four minutes is about as long as you can leave the machine on a cow without risking injury to the udder.

Walter C. Schell, 66, died Friday in the Stevens Nursing Home here. He retired in 1925 after 30 years service as a rural letter carrier.

DISTINCTION

A new system of memory training was being taught in a village school, and the teacher was becoming enthusiastic.

"For instance," he said, "supposing you want to remember the name of a poet—Bobby Burns. Fix in your mind's eye a picture of a policeman in flames. See—Bobby Burns?"

"Yes, I see," said a bright pupil. "But how is any one to know it does not represent Robert Browning?"

Poor Service

After several hours' fishing little Patty suddenly threw down her pole and exclaimed, "I quit!"

"Why, Patty, what's the matter?" asked her mother.

"Well, Mother," she answered, "I just can't seem to get waited on!"

Little Stories about Great Hymns

Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life

Where cross the crowded ways of life,
Where sound the cries of race and clan
Above the noise of selfish strife,
We hear thy voice, O son of man!

This "Prayer for the City" (author's title) is the direct outpouring of Dr. Frank Mason North's own compassion for the great city and its greater needs. From a lifetime of ministering in New York City, he knew its "haunts of wretchedness" its "shadowed thresholds dark with fears" its "famished souls" its "restless throngs" its "lures of greed." Knowing all these needs, his heart, like that of the Master's, was saddened so he prayed.

The lesson on "Your Clothes and You" will be presented by Mrs. Herbert Ludlow and Mrs. Ernest Croft.

Life Into Art
Rubens' second wife, Helena Fourment, and one of their children, were probably models for the lovely painting of "Venus and Adonis". On easy terms as painter and diplomat with Europe's rulers, Rubens painted such historical portraits as "Archduke Ferdinand". Even his religious scenes, such as "The Idleness Altarpiece," seem to have a pagan joyousness and made use of contemporary beauties and the artist's own children for models.

Mrs. Elizabeth Parsell of Caro spent the week end with her niece, Mrs. Robert Campbell.

Dr. and Wayne Fleenor of Albion visited relatives here Saturday and were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kinnard that night.

His new address is James C. Turner 433-21-80 Barracks S-20, Section 2, N. A. Tech. Tra. Cen., Memphis 15, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anthes, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anthes and Larry from here, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Bush and children of Unionville were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Beecher in Vassar Sunday at an early Thanksgiving dinner and in honor of the birthday of Walter Anthes.

Mrs. H. F. Lenzner was hostess Friday afternoon to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society meeting, an organization in Salem Evangelical U. B. Church. The Thanksgiving program was in charge of Miss Johanna Hommel and during the program, Mrs. S. C. Striffler conducted a candlelight thank offering service.

Mrs. Lenzner was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Jos. Benkelman, when refreshment, consisting of pumpkin pie, fruit cake and coffee, were served at small tables.

Calling your neighbor or friend at mealtime may insure your finding her home. But it may not be the thoughtful, considerate thing to do, says Dorothy Greey, of the home management and child development department, Michigan State College. Family talk and family relaxation around the table is a precious commodity which should not be interrupted.

When you have invited friends to a buffet supper, serve the early arrivals promptly. It is that kind of a party—perfectly correct to have a small group eat as they arrive and then take care of the latecomers without any feeling of apology. It is simpler for everyone, suggests Miss Helen Widick, of the institution administration department of Michigan State College.

Nowadays the ordinary man has to do a lot of high thinking just to get a plain living.

Three Hundred at Fall 4-H Program

Approximately 300 persons were on hand at Murray Hall Friday evening to pay recognition to the 4-H club members of Tuscola County. This was the annual fall achievement program and climaxed the summer 4-H work just completed. The program was highlighted by the ceremony of burning of the mortgage on the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building.

Bruce Ruggles, council chairman from Kingston, received the mortgage on behalf of the 4-H clubs of Tuscola County. Clara Hearn, vice president of Michigan Sugar Company, Saginaw, was on hand to tender the mortgage to Mr. Ruggles. The Michigan Sugar Company was the mortgagor on the Wilber Memorial Building.

Byron E. Carpenter, assistant county agricultural agent, then presented the Michigan Farmer awards to Martha Dowling, Caro, and Leonard Russell, Akron.

Joseph Bichler, County Agent from Austria, and on a visit to Tuscola County, was introduced by Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent. Mr. Bichler gave some interesting remarks about his country.

The evening was brought to a close by the presentation of county medals to the winners of the county level of the national 4-H awards and achievement program. The awards program was explained briefly by George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent, prior to being assisted in the presentations by Mrs. Fred Black, Akron, treasurer of the 4-H Council.

Those receiving the medal awards and the program for which it was offered included from this area: Achievement—Tom Sinclair, Cass City; Dairy—Gene Taggett, Caro; Tom Sinclair, Cass City; Frozen Foods—Joyce Donnelly, Cass City; National Garden, Donald Carmody, Cass City; Leadership—Keith Green, Caro; Jo Ann Fischer, Gageton; Poultry—Gail Wallace, Kingston; Tractor Maintenance—Orlin Allen, Vassar; Frank Salgot, Gageton; Fred Martin, Cass City; Harold Field, Deford.

Recipients of supplemental awards of the General Foods Corporation were Martha Dowling, Caro, baking activity award; and Barbara Ruggles, Kingston, cereal activity award. Miss Ruggles also received the award sponsored by the Foley Manufacturing Company presented to the outstanding food preservation girl.

Only two 4-H Club members have ever had both the lamb and steer grand championships in the Detroit Junior Livestock Show. Verne Freeman, assistant state 4-H club leader at Michigan State College, says some feeders who have previously shown a champion have entries in the other projects this year.

Regulations prevent a contestant from showing both fat calves and lambs the same year. And once a winner of the grand championship, a contestant cannot enter in that class another year. But if he shows a champion steer, he can show in the lamb class—or the other way around.

Until last year, a Lapeer County girl had been the only person to show champions in both classes. Louise Porter had a grand champion lamb in 1935 and the following year came back with two grand champion steers.

At least two previous winners are trying for their second championship this year. They are Billy Zinnecker, Cass City (Tuscola County) and LaJean Marshall, Alton (Hillsdale County). Zinnecker had the grand champion steer in the 1948 show and this year is feeding lambs for competition. On the other hand, Marshall had the grand champion lamb in 1947 and this year will show a steer.

Freeman points out that any of the youths do not show champions until late in their 4-H club careers, since it takes a number of years of experience to beat the keen competition. Reaching 21 years of age or entering college and halting project work often cuts down on youths being double winners.

Zinnecker Aims for Dual Championship

Only two 4-H Club members have ever had both the lamb and steer grand championships in the Detroit Junior Livestock Show. Verne Freeman, assistant state 4-H club leader at Michigan State College, says some feeders who have previously shown a champion have entries in the other projects this year.

When you have invited friends to a buffet supper, serve the early arrivals promptly. It is that kind of a party—perfectly correct to have a small group eat as they arrive and then take care of the latecomers without any feeling of apology. It is simpler for everyone, suggests Miss Helen Widick, of the institution administration department of Michigan State College.

Nowadays the ordinary man has to do a lot of high thinking just to get a plain living.

Presbyterian Church Improvements Slated

The Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian Church will present a report and recommendations for scheduled improvements in the church building, at a called meeting Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Included in the program will be a modern heating system and a plan for modernization that will include adequate provisions for the departmentalized church school.

The new heating plant is expected to provide additional space in the basement. Plans that have been under way in recent weeks also call for changes in the dining room and kitchen.

The changes have been suggested by the Improvement Committee of which Arthur Holmberg and Dr. H. T. Donahue are members. The Board of Trustees as a whole had regular meeting for consultation and drafting of plans.

A consultative committee was established with representatives from all organizations and boards of the church. Two full meetings have been held with this group and individuals have been contacted when the proposed plans affected special groups.

Other members of the Board of Trustees are James Gross, Chairman; Curtis Hunt, Secretary; Frank Reid, Frederick Pinney, R. J. Knight, E. A. Hanna and A. J. Knapp, honorary life member.

In addition to presentation of the modernization plans, the budget, current and benevolent, for 1952, will be presented for action by the congregation. Edward G. Golding is director of the budget and every member canvass.

Local Church to Present Radio Show

A new radio ministry, "The Word of Life Hour," now being presented each week by the United Missionary Churches of the Thumb Area, is being broadcast by two radio stations covering this entire district. The program may be heard Sunday from 1:00 to 1:30 p. m. over WLEW, Bad Axe; and a similar program Friday from 3:00 to 3:30 over WMPC, Lapeer.

In addition to sermon messages presented by various United Missionary pastors, the radio music is provided by a special "Word of Life Hour" Choir, as well as other attractive musical features. The "Word of Life Hour" is especially designed to make a definite contribution to the spiritual welfare of the area it covers. The program announcer is Rev. R. J. Matteson of Cass City.

Lack of Nitrogen Retards Corn Growth

A soil-building, deep-rooted sweet clover crop grown regularly in the rotation made the difference between these (below) two corn fields. Both crops were grown at the University of Missouri's experimental farm at Columbia, Mo. Both had the same fertilizer treatment, including 3 tons of limestone and 150 pounds per acre of 0-20-20 fertilizer in the row at corn planting time.

The crop in the upper photo was grown on land that had a rotation of corn, small grains and shallow-rooted lespedeza. Even late in the season the growth is stunted and scarcely head high.

The lower crop was on land that had a rotation of corn, small grains and sweet clover.

Over a 14-year, test period, the corn crop having the benefit of sweet clover in the rotation yielded 10.7 more bushels per acre than the other field. The average yields were 67.7 and 57 bushels per acre, respectively.

The sweet clover crop added extra organic matter to the soil, improved tilth and drainage and helped the corn crop make better use of the fertility in the soil. The taproots of legumes such as sweet clover and alfalfa probe down several feet into the subsoil. They drill out passageways for water and air. They condition the soil from the surface on down through the root zone.

Mothers-to-be who do their own sewing are happy to learn that pattern companies have come to their rescue. Not only are there patterns for maternity dresses but for slips, housecoats and gowns. Mrs. Norinne Bennett, of Michigan State College textile clothing department, suggests planning dresses with the center of interest at the neckline. Above the waist trimmings and bright contrasts are good.

Farm Bureau Meets At Shabbona Hall

The Evergreen-Greenleaf Farm Bureau met with Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn McNaughton at the Shabbona Hall, Tuesday, Nov. 9, for their regular meeting. There were twenty-eight members present for the discussion, entertainment and potluck lunch that followed.

Plans were made to entertain the county Farm Bureau women for the Christmas party at Shabbona Hall, Dec. 7, for potluck dinner at noon, program and a gift exchange. The ladies also plan to have a bake sale and bazaar. All Farm Bureau women of the county are urged to attend.

The next meeting of the Evergreen-Greenleaf group will be at the Arthur Meredith home Dec. 11.

Never Out Of Style
Ever since the days of the Pharos, painted furniture has been popular. Beautiful painted pieces from that long-gone period have been found. For hundreds of years, French, English, Dutch and Chinese masters and cabinetmakers contributed their skill to this ancient art. Because of its combination of beauty and practicality painted furniture will undoubtedly continue in popular favor.

Smart Man
 Lawyer, reading client's last will and testament to circle of expectant relatives: "And so, being of sound mind, I spent every cent I had before I died."

NOT FOR LOAN

The railway coach was crowded and a none too well dressed little boy had taken a seat alongside a very haughty and fashionably dressed woman. The boy was sniffling in a very annoying manner. Finally the woman turned to the boy and asked:
 "Have you got a handkerchief?"
 "Yes," replied the boy, "but I don't lend it to strangers."

Outlives Enemies
 "Wal," bragged the ancient patient, "I'll be 80 my next birthday and I haven't an enemy in the world."

"Gee, that's remarkable" said the young one.
 "Yep," went on the old one, "I've outlived every turned one of 'em."

Foolish Pride
 "I hear you lost your job. Why did the foreman fire you?"
 "You know what a foreman is—he's the one who stands around and watches his men work."
 "What's that got to do with it?"
 "Just this—he got jealous of me. People thought I was the foreman."

Pure Fact
 Most of us know how to say nothing; few of us know when.

Opportunity is a fine thing—so fine in fact that many of us miss it.

Opperman Herd Still Leads DHIA Testing

The herd of 14 registered Holstein cows owned by Henry Opperman and Sons at Millington led the Tuscola County dairy herd improvement association members in average butterfat production in October for the third consecutive month. Opperman's herd dropped from season record average of 62.2 pounds of butterfat per cow which they made in September, to a 50.4 pound average in October, but this average was still high enough to easily excel the Ruben Rohloff herd average of 43.7 pounds, which was the second highest record for the month.

Seventy-three herds were tested by the three DHIA tester supervisors operating units in Tuscola County last month, keeping records on 1806 cows, a little more than five per cent of all the dairy cows in the county. Kendall Hobart, association No. 1 tester, showed an average production of 843 pounds of milk and 33 pounds of butterfat per cow in the 26 herds he tested. Association No. 2, with 26 herds supervised by David Greenleaf, averaged 874 pounds of milk and 31 of butterfat. Averages for October in the 21 herds in association No. 3, reported by tester Bill Andrus, were 734 pounds of milk and 28 pounds of fat per cow.

Other high average herds listed in the October DHIA report are shown below, giving owner and average fat production per cow: third ranking herd was Walter Moderow, Reese, 42 pounds of butterfat; fourth, Foster Hickey, Fairgrove, 41; fifth, L. S. Gunsell, Caro, 41; sixth, Dr. H. T. Donahue, Cass City, 39; seventh, Clark Montague, Deford, 39; eighth, Reynold Johnson, Millington, 39; ninth, Floyd Churchill, Caro, 38; and tenth, Roy Brown, Fostoria, averaging 37 pounds of fat per cow.

High individual production for the month was made by Tippie, a nine-year-old registered Holstein in the Opperman herd, that was second high in the individual record list in September. Tippie produced 2910 pounds of milk (almost a ton and a half, or about 94 pounds a day) and 93 pounds of fat, in the fourth month of her present lactation. Second highest record in the county was made by number 69, in the H. T. Donahue herd, with 91 pounds of butterfat. Ben Loeffler, Reese, owns the cow standing third, with an 86 pound record and owners and records of other high individual butterfat producers in October were: fourth, A. B. Quick, Caro, 83; fifth, Clayton George, Vassar, 80 pounds (in 26 days); tied for sixth place were four identical records, Foster Hickey, George Foster, Fostoria, Werner List, Vassar, and Tom Laurie, Cass City, all with 78 pounds of fat; and in tenth place, a cow in the George Foster herd, with a 75 pound record.

Thirty-two 305-day lactation records with 365 pounds of fat or more were reported by the DHIA testers last month. The highest of these made by cow number 10 in the A. B. Quick herd, with 16,827 pounds of milk and 633 pounds of butterfat for the 10-month record. A cow in the Roy Brown herd was second high with 615 pounds of fat produced. The owners and records of the remainder of the ten high 305-day record cows are: third, Homer Daubenmeyer, Marlette, 530; fourth, Clarence Merchant, Cass City, 526; fifth, Rufus Wark, Akron, 495; sixth, Homer Daubenmeyer, 472; seventh, Clarence Merchant, 465 (in 296 days); eighth; Homer Daubenmeyer, 456; ninth, Howard Foster, Fairgrove, 452; and tenth, George Foster, 451.

The Right of Way
In England the fox, the hounds and hunters have the right of way over trains during the hunting season. A few seasons past the engineer of a fast London train fumed and fretted for eight minutes, watching his schedule go to pieces, while the Belvoir hunt—fox, hounds and horses—crossed the track. However, this "right" is seldom exercised.

Unfortunately, the man who loses his head always keeps his tongue.

"Fort Worth"
In Technicolor

The history of that Island is pretty much the same as the rest of our Northern Michigan with a few notable exceptions.

Around the turn of the century a logging outfit butchered the entire 55,000 acres leaving only a small northern finger of land intact. Most of the interior of the island is a wilderness of sickly looking birch and ash. The virgin timber on this one northern tip is an awe-inspiring sight. If you love the forest—the carnage wrought on the rest of the island by man's shortsightedness would make you weep.

At one time during the lumbering boom, a railroad ran from east to west across the island. During the last war, the Coast Guard built a fairly good road around the island for patrol purposes. They also built a landing strip for small airplanes. Telephone cable linking the mainland was laid across the seven miles of open water. This single circuit is used mainly today by the island fire warden. Bois Blanc could have been a paradise for tourists and sportsmen. Instead, it is a monument to our tragic shortsightedness.

Farming Failed.

After the lumbermen finished their cutting, the island was invaded by a few hardy pioneer farmers. They too, left their mark on the island. We visited several of these now deserted farms—all quite by accident. The largest clearings are only a couple of acres. These small patches of once cultivated land are connected by wagon trails.

We got so interested in these abandoned farms that we made a sight-seeing tour over the island by plane. The farm buildings were all built on the outside edge of the island. The cleared crop land stretches inland like a chain connected by short wagon trails. There must have been at least two dozen of these homesteads cleared, then deserted.

There are about five going farms on the southeast corner of the island. From what we saw—there isn't much prosperity connected with these agricultural ventures. The quickest and best money is probably obtained when the farm-houses are turned into barracks for the annual invasion of hunters.

Stone Island.

There's a good reason why farming never paid on Bois Blanc. It is a gravel island. You construct a road by simply making a crown on any path. Stone and gravel lie a few inches beneath the surface.

There are many legends about the island. A British payroll is said to be buried somewhere on the north side. There is a rock the size of a small house hidden amongst the trees. Records say the treasure is close to the rock. The seven or eight families that live on the island the year around have excavated the ground for a considerable distance around this rock. So far—no luck.

No Facilities.

The deer are fairly plentiful on Bois Blanc Island. The only trouble is—you can't get to them. The number of hunters on the island is limited by the facilities. The ferry runs once a day—at noon) and carries one car. I fly in. I hope I'm lucky.

A man was discovered by his wife one night standing over his baby's crib. Silently she watched him. As he stood looking down at the sleeping infant, she saw in his face a mixture of emotions—rapture, doubt, admiration, despair, ecstasy, incredulity. Touched and wondering alike at this unusual parental attitude and the conflicting emotions the wife with eyes glistening arose and slipped her arms around him.

"A penny for your thoughts," she said, in a voice tremulous. He blurted them out:

"For the life of me, I can't see how anybody can make a crib like that for three forty-nine!"

SHORT STORY

The Trap

By Daniel Shifren

"Trist!" Howie called again, "Trist! Over here!" Tristam Olds set the rake against the barn and ran over the knoll to the orchard.

3-Minute Fiction

Howie was bundled against a tree, trussed wrist and ankle, very pale.

"Goodness, Boss-sh!" whooshed from Trist's dry, thin lips as he undid the bonds.

"There, that's good enough. I'll finish by myself. Get to the barn fast. It may be ablaze by now."

Trist, amazement on his whisker-framed face, jounced his aging bones and came up the incline breathing hard.

Flame licked over the haymow. He swept up two pails and raced down to the pump. Howie came running too.

They scampered around for half an hour. At last the smoke began to trail away.

"That's for now," said Howie, "but we'll have to keep a sharp lookout."

When Sheriff Gunfrey arrived, Howie had changed clothes and was rocking on the porch.

He led a coil of black wire through deep grass until he reached the pine tree. He attached the wire to the house bell.

"What's all this about burnin' barns down? Hasn't been anything like this since I copped the election."

"They tried it right enough," said Howie. "Know of any strangers in town?"

"Nope," said Gunfrey. "Well, little matter. They're from somewheres round here. But I guess either Shell or Long is the guilty party—either one or both."

Gunfrey fired the crusty cake in his pipe and puffed. "How you figure that, Howie? They're neighbors, man."

"In the last couple weeks they tried to buy out my farm. Kept upping the price, but I told 'em 'No.' I got no yen to sell this place."

"Did they make any threats?" "They sure wasn't pleased."

"Hm. I'll hunt around town and ask 'em some questions. Ring me anything turns up."

HOWIE and Trist alternated on lookout. Chores were left undone. Then, during the night before Howie told Trist to discontinue the watches, he slipped out to the barn and emerged with a shovel and trowel. He worked and as light gray rose over the horizon, he laid out the last strips of straw and grass, returned the tools to the barn and came back.

He led a coil of black wire through deep grass until he reached the pine tree. He wound the wire around and attached the house bell he had in his back pocket.

The next morning he said to Trist, "No use to keep up the watches. They're not likely to come back."

Trist grunted. "Sure. Might'sh well get back to work."

The unexpected shrill of the house bell came that night. Howie rushed out without donning trousers, Trist behind him crying, "What's that bell for!" But Howie did not answer.

He swept the pit with a powerful flash, picking up their figures. One's bandanna slipped as he tried to escape the slippery pit and he recognized Jerry, Trist's youngest son.

The boy's eyes, large with fright, lit on Trist and he cried out, "Dad!" Howie's flash went out then. He heard them stumbling away.

The telephone rang before Howie could make his call. It was Gunfrey. "Which one of 'em was it bought out Trist's boys to fire my barn, Gunfrey?"

Gunfrey said, "You were right, Howie. I didn't know—I mean about Trist."

"More the boys. They wanted the money bad. Trist couldn't do nothing with 'em. Afraid they'd get caught so he kept his mouth shut."

"Howie, I broke Long down. He tried to blame Shell, but I got him to admit something like what he was up to."

"I was thinkin' I'd hate to prosecute anyone seein' no harm done."

"I don't want you to, Sheriff, only . . ."

"Yeh, I thought about that." Gunfrey laughed his cackle. "Long won't be around after tomorrow. I'm lettin' him leave town."

Some people argue over religion as stubbornly as though they had it.

DEFORD NEWS

Church Items— Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chapin conducted the prayer and study service last Wednesday night at the church. There were several out who enjoyed their fellowship and we did miss you. Miss Smith will lead on this week.

On Friday night the W. S. C. S. will sponsor a community fellowship of the Deford Church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rothwell McVety.

Several from Deford enjoyed youth and church services at Kingston Sunday night, Nov. 25, services will be in the Deford Church. We need you and pray you will need us. Do come. Sermons are wonderful.

Mrs. Gerald Hicks gave a very fine flannelgraph story to the Sunday School members Sunday. Even the "oldsters" enjoyed it. It was very well given. The Women's Christian Temperance Union sponsored this event as Sunday was Temperance Sunday.

Harry Hartwick had the good fortune to shoot a 170-pound buck at 7:15 Thursday morning in the orchard of the John Elley farm north and west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pankey of Pontiac were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Jacoby.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Colwell and Mrs. Thomas Colwell of Cass City visited Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer on Sunday.

Mrs. Alton Lewis and Madelyn visited Everett Ackerman and children of Fairgrove on Sunday. Mrs. Wayne Evo and children are spending this week with Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evo of Royal Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. William Zemke and Mabel spent Wednesday at the Ward Roberts home in Pontiac. Arthur Schott and Kenneth Kelley returned Sunday evening from the Frutchey Ranch, near Alpena, where they have been hunting deer.

Sylvester Ales visited his family in Detroit over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Mary Jarvis of East Dayton.

Eye Study

A study of pupils in St. Louis grade schools revealed that one out of four needed eye care. "If this typical of all schools, it means that the eyes of 6,500,000 school children throughout the United States require professional attention," the Report noted. To help teachers and school nurses detect eye trouble, the Society conducts vision-testing demonstrations as an important part of its school program.

There will be high prices as long as customers insist on paying them. Turning over a new leaf doesn't count so much as the writing done on it.

Serving Molded Salads Offers Glamour Touch To Almost Any Meal

COMPANY COMING? Serve whatever simple fare you've planned for the family, but make a pretty molded salad to add the eye-catching dish to the meal.

Refreshment two layered salad is a combination of tangy crushed Hawaiian pineapple molded with a pale green cucumber and mayonnaise base.

HERE'S A COLORFUL and captivating sea food salad that can be served as a main dish: tomato aspic ring filled with ever-popular tuna fish salad.

Salad: 1 7-ounce can tuna fish, flaked 1 cup diced celery 1 cup diced avocado (1/2 avocado)

Salad: Toss together lightly tuna fish, celery, diced avocado, salt and pepper. Combine salad dressing and lemon juice.

NOTE.—To make 12 servings of the above salad, increase gelatin to 5 tablespoons and double all remaining ingredients. Pour aspic into a 2-quart ring mold.

HERE'S A SUBSTANTIAL salad which will do as a good main dish. You may want to use the leftovers of your halibut on the second day for this:

Jellied Halibut Salad (Serves 4) 1 tablespoon gelatin 1 1/2 cups cold water 1/4 cup tarragon vinegar 1/4 cup sliced pickles 1/2 cup chili sauce

FRUIT SALAD in orange ice rings is as pretty a salad as one can find. You may make the ice as directed here, or, if desired, purchase the ice and freeze in ring molds until firm.

Combine orange and lemon juice, add salt, then freeze until firm in refrigerator tray. Boil together sugar and water for 3 minutes and pour slowly over stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly.

Several small servings of salad on a single plate with small sandwiches make an easily prepared, attractive luncheon. Prepare in advance and you'll avoid last minute rush when guests arrive.

Tuna fish salad on chicory makes a tasty salad. Serve with cole slaw, lemon wedge, spiced peach and crisp potato chips.

Salmon salad is colorful when served on greens with celery hearts and deviled eggs. Nut muffins contrast nicely with this salad luncheon.

Over 300 Attend Baur's Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Baur were feted at a reception by over 300 relatives and friends Nov. 9 at the Cass City Arena. Hosts to the reception were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Karr.

Elden T. Smith of Caro was Master of Ceremonies. Community singing of several numbers led by Jim Riley of Brown City was followed by a program. The program included: Monolog by Mrs. Clarence Lindenberg of Unionville and Mrs. Allen Rohlf of Fairgrove; a reading by Mrs. Clair Tuckey of Cass City; piano solos by Norine and Dorene, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kramer of Unionville; accordion duet by the Bauer twins, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bauer of Reese; and several vocal numbers by the trio, Carl Mantey, Edgar Mantey and Harold Humm, of Fairgrove.

The young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts. Refreshments were served to complete the evening. Out-of-town guests were from Saginaw, Sebawaing, Brown City, Bad Axe, Kingston, Caro, Unionville, Reese, Lapeer, Millington Vassar, Snover and Gagatown.

Defense-Minded Clubbers Every 4-H club leader in Colorado is already lined up in defense work, says Miss Audrey Sandstead, assistant state 4-H club leader, Colorado A & M College. Volunteers for this important job are contacting county extension agents now.
