Before using a can of paint, cover name, color and number with a strip of transparent cellophane tape. By doing this amateur painters will have less difficulty in re-ordering the exact shade of paint before the container gets paint-smearred, thus obliterating all the needed information. The paint which may drip can be easily rubbed off the glossy surface of cellophane tape.

Poor Sight
Life insurance examinations of 2,000 executives, average age 42½ years, showed that 12.1 per cent of these businessmen suffered from seeing difficulties which they had not bothered to correct with glasses. The only disorders among the examinees which were more numerous than faulty vision were overweight or underweight, abnormal heart condition, and high blood pressure.

Home Permanent Survey
According to a recent survey made by the Toni Company, women between the ages of 15 and 24 use more home permanents than any other age group.

Rice Hulls

Holiday Deaths to Increase Bad Records

Holiday accidents this year will contribute to the worst traffic toll of any year in Michigan history, according to Steve Orto of the Cass City Police Dept.

"The total number of accidents and the combined total of deaths and injuries are reaching new peaks," Orto said. "The toll will be materially increased during the holidays unless drivers and pedestrians alike make greater efforts to practice safety."

"December is supposed to be the happiest month of the year, but instead it is the deadliest. Last December 153 persons died in Michigan traffic accidents, 44 of them during the Christmas week end."

"It is also feared that during December of this year there will occur somewhere in the nation the one millionth death in American traffic since records were first started. It could happen in Michigan."

"Longer periods of darkness and adverse weather conditions make traffic more hazardous at this time of year. During the holiday season traffic increases and many persons become so absorbed in the Christmas rush they grow careless."

"There is nothing we can do to prevent darkness and bad weather, but we can avoid carelessness if

Turkey will be a better flavor and certainly it will have a better texture if it is roasted at a temperature of not more than 275 degrees. Experienced homemakers know that is a very moderate heat. But that's the secret of the juicy, delicious turkey, say home economists at Michigan State College.

Slow Appreciation
In 1751, a Swedish scientist named Cronstedt obtained a sample of ore and succeeded in separating from it a metal previously unknown to science. He named the newly-discovered metal "Nickel". Until the beginning of the 20th century—in fact, well into this century—nickel was little appreciated and less sought after. To scientists, it was a metal twice as abundant in the earth's crust as copper, zinc and lead combined.

SWINE ERYSIPELAS IS VERY CONFUSING

Swine erysipelas is one of the most difficult of all livestock diseases to control, but there are several steps that can help to check the heavy toll it is now taking on American farms.

Arched backs may signify erysipelas.

The first point to remember is that erysipelas may be confused with other swine diseases. Because it is so easily confused with other maladies, and so highly contagious, it is vital that an accurate, dependable diagnosis be obtained at the first sign of symptoms which look like this disease.

Prevention seems to be the best answer to erysipelas. A very effective vaccine has now been developed, which gives a high degree of immunity. In areas where the disease has become a problem, pigs should be vaccinated as soon as possible after farrowing, because it often strikes them when they are only a few days old.

Strict sanitary and quarantine measures must also be put into effect quickly, or erysipelas may run through the entire herd and spread to other farms. These measures include the isolation of affected hogs, prompt disposal of the carcasses, and immediate cleaning and disinfecting of pens.

In the acute form, erysipelas kills many hogs and makes others unprofitable for market. Symptoms include scaly and sloughing skin, swollen joints, arched backs, lameness, high fever, and unwillingness to move unless forcibly roped.

Twenty years ago, swine erysipelas had been reported in only half the states. Now it exists in nearly all states, and causes yearly losses running into the millions of dollars.

Long Illness Fatal To Mrs. Boughner

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada Boughner, 77, widow of Robert Boughner and a long-time resident of Argyle Township, were held Monday at 2 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. Mrs. Susan Parr of Uby officiated.

Mrs. Boughner died Friday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Deo, near Snover. She had been in poor health for two years.

Daughter of the late Elijah and Hannah Husband Brown, she was born Feb. 10, 1874, in Brownsville, Ont., and was married to Mr. Boughner on April 20, 1897, at Burnside, Mich.

Surviving besides Mrs. Gladys Deo, are two other daughters, Miss Beulah Boughner of Denver, Colo., and Miss Belva Boughner of Dearborn; two sons, Ellis of Farmington and Floyd of Highland Park; four grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

County Land Use Report Available

Completed copies of the intensive land use report for Tuscola County are now available at the County Extension Office, says Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent. The title of this report is "Know Your County." Land use planning studies for Tuscola County were carried on an intensive basis during 1946 under the guidance of Frank Suggitt, assistant agent in land use planning, and Norris Wilber, county agricultural agent. Completion of the report was delayed.

The former executive committee of the old county land use planning committee met recently to review the report and decided on steps to be taken to have the report published for distribution in Tuscola County.

Many Tuscola County people had a part in preparing this report by serving on township and county committees. The report begins with the first settlement in 1835 in Tuscola village. It follows the growth of agriculture and industry in Tuscola County up to 1946. When printed copies are available, Tuscola County people will be so informed, says Ballweg.

A young doctor had just hung up his shingle on the Lower East Side of Manhattan when a patient appeared suffering from a very bad cold.

"Cad you cure this code?" he sniffed anxiously.

The young doctor thought hard and said, "Go home, take a hot bath and then stand naked in a draft without drying yourself."

"That wid cure my code?" said the patient doubtfully.

"I didn't say that," answered the doctor. "But that will give you pneumonia, and pneumonia I know how to cure."

from the
TUSCOLA
COUNTY EXTENSION OFFICE

Dr. C. F. Huffman, animal nutrition research specialist at MSC, quoted some figures in a recent meeting that prove the efficiency of alfalfa as an energy-producing crop, to say nothing of its high protein content. Data from studies in Minnesota showed that alfalfa pasture produced more digestible nutrients per acre than any other crop studied, including sweet clover, sudan grass, and Kentucky blue grass, and the alfalfa cost less per 100 pounds of digestible nutrients than any other pasture.

The same study showed that alfalfa hay produced more nutrients and at a lower cost per 100 pounds than other harvested crops, although corn silage and ear corn approached it in economy of production.

As the mechanical incubator replaced the setting hen, so may pig nurseries replace the brood sow! The development of a synthetic sow's milk received wide publicity this week in the farm press. The basic experimental work has been under way for several years, of course, in agricultural colleges and private research laboratories. A commercial product is now available. In the new system, the pigs are removed from the sow 24 hours after birth, placed in heated brooders, and self-fed the new synthetic milk. Dry feed is added at two to four weeks of age and at six weeks the pigs are entirely on solid food. Experimental results are reported to be good. Advantages claimed are smaller pig losses, faster gain in weight, sows may be selected for large litters rather than good milkers, and it is possible to re-breed sows promptly so as to obtain three litters a year. This method of raising pigs is not expected to be used on average farms but it may be used on large hog farms and may permit extensive development of commercial "pig hatcheries" which will supply farmers with feeder pigs.

Magnetic Storms
The magnetic field of the Earth, which is responsible for attracting the compass needle to the north, undergoes slow changes as well as others that are faster and occur at regular periods. In addition, there are occasionally large and irregular fluctuations, called magnetic storms, which are caused by electric currents flowing within the atmosphere or beyond. These probably result from electrically charged particles which reach us from the Sun, combined with movements of masses of air which have temporarily become capable of conducting electricity. Magnetic storms have no connection with thunder storms, but are associated with displays of northern lights. Generally they are accompanied by difficulties in radio transmission.

Home sewing is one way to assemble many inexpensive gifts for Christmas. Dresses, smocks, sport shirts and aprons are popular but that isn't the end of the list by any means. Why not an ironing board cover? Or a gardening apron with huge pockets? Or a few pot holders which will protect the hands—not the thin, delicate ones which are more decorative than useful.

Aim high, but don't stop shooting just because you missed the first few shots.

Radio Telephone Tests Set for Rural Areas

Use of radio instead of poles and wires for some parts of rural telephone systems is soon to be tested on an experimental basis by the rural electrification administration, it was announced recently.

This test, the U.S. department of agriculture says, is being made to find out whether radio link is more economic and efficient than usual installations in certain circumstances.

4-H Council Meets

The annual meeting of the Tuscola County 4-H Council was held last Saturday afternoon at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building. Bruce Ruggles, Kingston, chairman of the council, presided over the meeting, attended by 28 4-H Club leaders and other interested persons. Items of business discussed concerned the proposition of selling ads again for the Tuscola County Fair premium book. It was proposed that the valuation of the building be increased from $10,000 to $14,000. A few remarks were extended by George C. MacQueen, 4-H Club Agent, as to the need for an awards, policy and program committee. This was accepted. Mrs. Fred Black, council treasurer, representative on the district 4-H council and district representative to the state 4-H council, gave a report of the annual meeting of this latter group.

Five directors were elected to serve three years, filling vacancies of five whose terms have expired. Harold Stewart, Vassar, succeeded himself as did Mrs. Ruby Horwath, Fairgrove, whose term was only a year's duration. Other new directors who will serve until 1954 are Mrs. Margaret Starkey, Caro; Mrs. Fred Taylor, Millington; and Maynard McConkey, Cass City. At a board of directors' meeting following the general session, Bruce Ruggles was again elected as chairman; Harold Pike, Fairgrove, vice chairman; Mrs. Lucille Hickey, Akron, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Black, Akron, treasurer. The meeting was closed by all present enjoying coffee and cookies.

Guess you will fall over when you get this letter, don't blame you either. I am not much at writing, but can't blame me for trying. Hope you don't have too much trouble reading it.

I am one of the guys that you are sending the good old "Cass City Paper," to and would like to tell you how much I appreciate it, and I am sure I am speaking for the other guys. I really look forward to getting it, when I do I go through it from all angles, never miss a thing. A lot of guys in the gang I work in read it and get a kick out of it, except when they have headlines like "Cass City to get dial phones in 53" and I still haven't lived that down. It's really a good deal the dial phones, but some of these big city guys don't understand. I have a rough time trying to explain.

Well, Harry, this isn't much of a letter, but got some work to do. So will sign off. Thanks for me and the other guys as we really appreciate it. Be good and thanks again Harry.

The Cass City Terror,
Jeff.

Little Stories
about Great Hymns
O Come All Ye Faithful
O come all ye faithful, joyful and triumphant,
O come ye, O come ye, to Bethlehem!
Come and behold Him, born the King of angels!
O come let us adore Him, . . . Christ, the Lord!

This beautiful hymn is credited to St. Bonaventura. It is an old Latin carol written to be danced and sung around the altar and sanctuary in a Christmas drama. England first heard this hymn in 1700 at the Christmas Eve services in the Portuguese Embassy Chapel in London. Adeste Fidelis swept the audience with its inspiring words and majestic music. It was soon thrilling every congregation.

Deadline Set for Mailing PMA Ballots

December 20, 1951, is the closing time for accepting ballots in the community PMA elections, according to Chas. B. Eckfeld, Chairman of the Tuscola County PMA Committee.

Ballots will be counted on Friday, December 21, and the names of the committeemen elected will be announced as soon as the votes are counted. The delegates elected will meet December 31, and elect a county committee consisting of a chairman, vice chairman, member, and two alternates.

Ballots have been mailed to all eligible voters in each community. Any farmer—owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper—is eligible to vote who is on a farm that is participating in any program administered by the elected farmer-committees of the Production and Marketing Administration.

Eligible farmers who do not receive a ballot within a reasonable time before the closing date are urged to get in touch with the County PMA Committee.

Chairman Chas. B. Eckfeld emphasizes that the first responsibility in farm program administration rests with the farmers themselves in electing the most capable and best qualified committeemen to administer these programs.

"This is especially significant this year when agriculture has such a great responsibility in producing crops and products to meet the Nation's defense requirements. No farmer who is eligible to vote should let December 20 pass without casting his ballot."

MSC Experts Air Farm Problem Here

Efficient use of labor and a high rate of production are keys to success in farming in 1952, according to John C. Doneth and Everett M. Elwood, MSC extension specialists, who spoke at the "barnyard economics" meeting held at Cass City on November 29.

Interest was keen among the 50 farmers who attended the afternoon meeting, and questions from the audience kept the specialists occupied for more than an hour after talks were concluded.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE OFFICE.

Five Years Ago.

Mrs. Lester Bailey announces the engagement of her daughter, Mabel Jean Bradshaw, to Harvey E. Kapnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kapnick of Palmyra, Mich. Jensen Farms, Marlette, received the highest price paid for any female at the National Hereford Sale held in Chicago, in connection with the International Livestock Exposition. Their two-year-old Hereford was declared first in a class of 15 prize winners. The second highest female was also a Jensen Farms yearling animal.

Members of the Cass City Livestock Club are feeling jubilant over the success at the Junior Livestock Show at Detroit after winning reserve champion steer of the exposition and "stealing the show" in the Hereford class where 125 calves were in competition for awards. The reserve champion award went to Billie Zinnecker. In the Hereford class, 1st prize went to Don Loomis; 2nd, Dorothy Loomis; 5th, Robert Wood; 7th, Louis Langenburg; 15th, Alex Murray. In the Shorthorn class, Cass City won the following awards: 3rd, James Turner; 6th, Keith Little; 12th, Harold Little; 15th, Grace Graham. In the Aberdeen Angus class, second award went to Billie Zinnecker; 9th, to A. J. Murray; 15th, to Marilyn Loney; 20th, to Elwyn Helwig; 24th, to Don Karr. The cross-bred lambs exhibited by the Graham sisters of Cass City placed among the high five in that class. Fourth place went to Louis Langenburg for two steers shown by one exhibitor, and for the best three steers from one county, the 2nd award was won by the trio from Cass City.

Ten Years Ago.

The beautiful residence of Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Donahue was completed last summer, but grading and landscaping were not finished until recently.
Acting on instructions received from the company's New York office Sunday, W. L. Mann, manager of the Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., has doubled the watchmen force to insure the plant for safety against sabotage. The factory is classed as a defense industry.
William Zemke, reator, handled the negotiations for the sale of the property known as the Louis Holtz farm, purchased by a resident of Hamtramck.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

At the home of the bride's parents, on Thanksgiving Day, Miss Ethel Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robinson, became the bride of Robert B. McConkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConkey of Cass City. Rev. I. W. Cargot officiated and the couple were attended by Miss Edna Robinson, sister of the bride, and Keith McConkey, brother of the groom. Lyle, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Lounsbury had the misfortune to run one of the tines of a pitchfork through his leg Thursday.

Leslie, 13, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Lounsbury, was also the victim of an accident. He fell from a car and broke his left arm Sunday.

With the closing of the 1926 football season, Cass City found itself the undisputed 1926 Thumb champions, being the only unbeaten team in the Thumb when the season ended.

Players of the team included Severance, Hunt, Brown, McKenzie, Blades, Greenleaf, Hartwick, Urquhart, Bailey, Keenoy, Flint, Wilsey, Bliss, Schwegler and Bohnsack.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips was the scene of a very pretty wedding Nov. 29 at 6:30 p. m., when their youngest daughter, Margaret, became the bride of Avon Boag of Shabbona. They were attended by Grace Boag, sister of the groom, and Clark Phillips, brother of the bride.

About 20 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cross met at their home Saturday evening to join them in the celebration of their birthdays. Mrs. Cross was 64 years of age and Mr. Cross was 63. Mrs. James Greenleaf, on behalf of the friends present, presented them with several gifts.

The display ledges in the show windows of Wood's Drug Store are being enlarged and other changes are being made whereby more space will be acquired for better displaying the stock.

Geo. Hall has resigned the office of supervisor of Elkland Township because of his election as county drain commission and John A. Benkelman succeeds him as supervisor. Mr. Benkelman was appointed to that position by the township board.

Candle-making hobbies have solved Christmas gift problems for some families. The great delight is to be able to present the candle as it burns. If it is pine-scented, its arrival at the door on a dark night is a memory.

Michigan Wheat champions. Harold Metcalf of Fairgrove and Lee Ferden of Chesaning won first and second place in the International Competition at Chicago.

This is a minor miracle, no less. For 23 years, the International wheat Championship has reposed in Canada. Some fellow in Corvallis, Montana, by the name of Smith had the honor in 1927 and 1928. Since that time, our good neighbors north of the border took a two decade option.

Pastry Flour Wheat.
Hard wheat farmers do not even recognize the existence of soft wheat growers. The good black earth belt that grows our bread flour wheat ends many hundred miles west of Michigan. This northwestern wheat supremacy has been a regional monopoly for over a hundred years. The Canadian wheat kings are dead, (at least for a year) so long live the new monarchs, Metcalf and Ferden—of Michigan.

Varieties.
We've often wondered how many people know what the difference is between pastry and bread flour. With "ready-mix" items taking over the market, the five and 25 pound bag of flour may be going the same way the old flour barrel did. It's very simple nowadays. Buy a box—crack the top—pour in bowl and mix with milk—success is assured. The old recipes and oven skills will soon be a museum memory.

Metcalf and Ferden won with "soft" wheat. King Metcalf entered the Yorkwin white winter wheat that tested sixty and a half pounds to the bushel. Crown prince Ferden entered a brand new red variety called Vigo. Vigo—grown just two years here in Michigan—weighed in at 61.2 pounds to the bushel.

Soft Wheat.
Soft wheat, which makes premium pastry flour, has one outstanding virtue. The finished flour has the ability to absorb moisture. This one property makes a pastry recipe turn out right. Light, even-textured cakes. Crisp, tender cookies. Fluffy biscuits. Soft winter wheat, is the answer. Maybe some of our readers would like to prove this one way or another. Try real soft winter wheat—grown and milled here in Michigan. The judges in Chicago say we have the best. "The proof of the (pastry) is in the eating."

FAIR FIT

Little Henry wore his father's clothes, which his mother cut down for him as best she could. One day, as the little boy was getting into a vest that had been cut down from an overcoat, he began to grumble. "What's the matter now?" asked his father. "Why," said Henry, "this pocket ain't got no bottom to it." "Pocket, nothing!" retorted his father. "That's a buttonhole!"

New We Know
Judging from some of the specimens they pick for husbands no wonder brides blush.

Help, Please
As the dog said to the leader of the flea circus, "I can't carry the show alone."

If you plan to make peanut brittle for Christmas gifts, try inserting strips of cellophane between the pieces to prevent sticking. The salty flavor of peanut brittle makes it a welcome gift when too many sweets have a way of collecting at holiday time.

New Dairy Housing Unit in Use at MSC

A new dairy barn arrangement, designed as a research and demonstration unit, was put into use this week at Michigan State College. Savings in labor, herd health and ease of operation are among the advantages of the new structure.

A demonstration, Thursday, inaugurated a dairy cattle housing research project which will be conducted by MSC's Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with farm building and equipment manufacturers.

The new facilities are designed for one-man handling of a 25-cow herd by the "loose-housing" system. The structure may be expanded to allow one man to handle as many as 40 cows. Two Quonset buildings are utilized in the unit, placed in an arrangement designed by MSC research agricultural engineers. The arrangement may be duplicated by any farmer using buildings and equipment available today.

Time required to care for the herd and perform milking chores is reduced by several innovations in barn design. A heated milking parlor and milk room are constructed within the loafing barn; feed is mixed automatically and delivered by gravity to feed troughs in the milking stalls. Simplified controls handle entry and exit of cows to and from milking stalls; pipe-lines deliver milk from the milker unit to bulk storage tanks.

Maternity and calf pens are located within loafing and hay storage barns; manure is removed by tractor scoop; hay is dried by forced air and self-fed to animals. Other features are a paved feeding lot and non-freezing water troughs.

It is the unexpected which fascinates us as we open Christmas gifts. That is why the "woman who has everything" is deeply touched with a gift of applesauce cake, a jar of homemade mincemeat or a tiny jar of jam with your own little verse or greeting attached.

Great opportunities come to those who make use of smaller ones.

The want ads are newsy, too.

When the outgo exceeds the income, the upkeep is the downfall.

It's easy to love justice when it is meted out to the other fellow.

None of us ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep on trying.

Crude oil boils - and becomes 6 liquids in the LEONARD tower of trays!

Raise crude oil to a temperature of 650 degrees Fahrenheit, let it vaporize and rise slowly to a height of 100 feet. As these rising vapors hit cooling trays at different elevations they liquify to form different fuels. That's part of the Leonard recipe for making gasoline.

In Leonard's huge crude-oil fractionating tower there are 6 draw-off trays, with a different boiling range at each level. At the lowest level—where the highest temperature exists—is found reduced crude oil. Just above it is the tray that flows with domestic fuel oil, above that kerosene, then naphtha, next raw gasoline, and from the top comes gases that can be refined into butane, propane, and other highly volatile fractions. This is just one step in the process that gives you x-tra octane Leonard X-tane.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflo Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

H. O. Paul Co. Showing New Pontiac

New Power Train Draws Expert's Praise

The H. O. Paul Co. lifted the curtain on its models for 1952 which feature an entirely new power train consisting of a new dual-range Hydra-Matic transmission, higher compression engines and the lowest rear axle gear ratio (3.08 to 1) yet to appear on American passenger cars.

The combination, according to engineers responsible for the development, results in new standards of performance and economy for the 1952 cars, at the same time providing two separate driving ranges, a flexibility in driving that meets extreme conditions of heavy city traffic or safe, smooth travel on the open highway.

In addition to the new power train, the 1952 Pontiac models, now on display at H. O. Paul, feature a number of important styling changes and refinements. There are new colors available both for interiors and exteriors of all models. Interior colors are provided in a choice of grey, blue or green to match or harmonize with the color selected for the body. These interiors combine solid colors with matching tri-tone check patterns used for seat upholstery. Window mouldings and instrument panels are similarly styled according to body color.

The newest Silver Streak models are offered with six and eight cylinder high compression engines, each series having five standard and five deluxe models, and one super deluxe, the Catalina.

Throughout the entire line a number of innovations have been made in ornamentation which quickly distinguish the 1952 models from their predecessors. There is a revised edition of the characteristic Pontiac Indian head hood ornament, modifications of the radiator grille, and other changes in the belt moulding, trunk handles and interior fittings.

While these and other appearances changes combine to distinguish the new models, the highlight among new Pontiac features is the Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive. The owner of the new 1952 model is provided with two completely optional driving ranges, each having individual characteristics which make it suitable for two different classes of driving conditions.

One of these systems provides the usual first, second, third and fourth gear speed range permitting smooth, economical performance for country and boulevard driving. The second is a new first, second and third gear range particularly adapted for driving in congested traffic or mountainous territory.

When driving in the 1-2-3 traffic or mountain range, the car will normally remain in third gear and cannot shift into fourth except at very high speeds. This gives greater flexibility in normal city traffic, provides engine braking in mountains or on steep hills, and because of the greater reduction in the gear box allows for a lower ratio rear axle. This permits the car to accelerate more quickly and at the same time assists in braking, a safety factor and a marked contribution to longer brake life.

In the 1-5 range, most forward driving or cruising is done in the fourth gear speed which brings the new 3.08 to 1 rear axle into full economy service. The new axle ratio is a 15% lower reduction than the previous 3.64 to 1 which results in corresponding reduction in engine revolutions per mile of travel. The result is quieter operation, improved fuel economy on the highway and driving more nearly approaches the effect of "coasting."

ENGINE BRAKING IMPORTANT IN NEW PONTIACS

"In our new Dual-Range Hydra-Matic cars introduced for 1952 we have given particular emphasis to this function," Delaney states. "When the engine takes up a major portion of the braking duties on long, steep hills, brake lining life is immeasurably prolonged and furthermore both brakes and tires remain cooler. It must be remembered that foot brakes accomplish their purpose by converting the energy in the moving vehicle into heat. This heat is produced by friction between the brake lining and the brake drum. The heat must be then dissipated into the air.

"Naturally, in the process of developing friction and heat the temperature of brake drums, wheels and tires rises to a considerable degree. While brake linings and tires are capable of withstanding a tremendous amount of this strenuous duty, wear inevitably takes place.

"On the other hand, when the engine is used as a brake, the energy of the moving car is simply utilized to operate the engine as a compressor or pump. Since the car is equipped with a complete heat dissipation system provided through the radiator, there is no problem involved and wear is negligible.

"Naturally, with brake linings and drums cooler, due to the use of the engine as a brake, if an emergency stop is required, the regular braking system is in a far better condition to do the job. Brakes are cool and ready to go to work for supplementary braking over and beyond that performed by the engine. While the 1-2-3 range in the new 1952 Pontiac will be highly appreciated in traffic driving it will also prove to be a boon to the mountain traveller or in communities having steep grades."

Reconditioning of Cars Important

The H. O. Paul Co. believes that one of the most important jobs of their modern, skilled service department is to recondition used cars before offering them to persons in the Cass City area.

Often a complete check of a used car that we make discloses necessary work to be done that adds more years of service to the automobile.

Then too, say officials, after our mechanics have reconditioned a used car we can, with confidence, offer the buyer a guaranteed used car that we know will give satisfactory service.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

The multi-million dollar copper development in the upper peninsula will be a needed shot in the arm for that area's economy. With backing of the RFC the Copper Range company of Boston will sink at least $57 million into the venture, $15 million of which will go toward building a model town.

The development at White Pine adjacent to the Porcupine Mountains will have more than 600 dwelling units, railroads, a new copper smelter, mill and other equipment to produce 70 million pounds of copper per year—an additional four per cent to the nation's supply.

The White Pine development was attractive because some of the copper veins are only six and eight underground. Many times shafts as deep as 7,000 feet must be sunk to get out copper ore.

Writing in his weekly newspaper, the Ingham County News, Vernon J. Brown, elder statesman of Michigan Republicanism, hailed Major Albert E. Cobo of Detroit as a "new star in the Republican skies of Michigan. . . . It might well be his beams may some day lighten the stygian darkness that now shrouds Michigan's G. O. P. celestial sphere."

The little Hoover commission endeared itself recently to the hearts of every governor of Michigan, past and present. It recommended more power for the governor. The commission suggested a four instead of two year gubernatorial term with power to supervise all state officials, whether elected or appointed. It is recommended that a single administrative board head most state agencies, to be appointed by the governor with senate confirmation.

Loren B. Miller, commission director, termed the executive branch a "Chinese puzzle" and says the use of state commissions, able to act independently of the governor has led to "secret and hidden government" operating for special interests instead of the public good.

State governmental officials are breathing easier now. Low bids for to restore the fire-damaged state office building came within legislative appropriations. Total for bids was $2,758,589. The appropriation was $2,921,000.

State government virtually came to a standstill when administrative heads moved out en masse to attend the inauguration of Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher as eighth president of the University of Michigan.

A new law will make it against the law to buy or sell alcoholic beverages in Michigan during a 34-hour period this Christmas. Sale must stop at 9 p. m. Christmas eve and cannot be resumed until 7 a. m. the day after the holiday.

Michigan's military units are short on recruits. On the heels of an announcement that there will be no change in the draft laws so long as volunteer enlistments remain so high, the National Guard and army organized reserves reveal they have had small results when they beat the drum for recruits. The Guard, especially, has been harried by rapid turnover and loss to the regular army.

Pressure is rising in the rank and file of the automobile unions, embarrassing both management and union officials. This pressure, result of some work shortages because of material lacks, is reflected in such demands as a 80-hour week to spread available work—with, of course, 40 hours pay.

Accolade of the season: To sponsors of a movement to "put Christ back in Christmas." Goal of the project is to separate the chimes of Christmas bells from the clang of cash registers.

Champion and runner-up champion wheat growers of North America are Michiganders. Harold Metcalf, Fairgrove, won the title at the International Livestock exposition in Chicago. Lee D. Ferden, Chessaning, won the reserve championship.

Some 10,000 trappers will go after the muskrat, mink and raccoon in the 31-day December season in the southern third of the state.

In proportion to the population, the number of college students has just about doubled in the last 20 years. One out of every 61 persons was enrolled in 1949-50.

New Red Raspberry Developed at MSC

A new red raspberry variety, named Early Red, has been developed at Michigan State College's South Haven Experiment Station after twenty years of breeding and testing.

Stanley Johnston, MSC horticulturist and superintendent of the station, reports that the early maturing season of Early Red is of particular value because the early season red raspberry crop is usually smaller and brings higher prices.

Plants of Early Red are upright, tall, vigorous, hardy and very productive. Berries mature early and are light red when first ripe, turning rather dark when fully ripe. This is important, Johnston points out, as the berries are easy to pick while firm and harvesting can be done before the berries are too soft and too dark in color.

Since 1931 when the first cross was made, Early Red has gone through a long testing period at the South Haven Station and a ten-year commercial test in the raspberry producing area near Benton Harbor.

Early Red withstands the canning process very well without crumbling. It freezes as well as Latham, the leading commercial red raspberry.

While the berries begin maturing early, the ripening season is long. The very good flavor and long ripening season of Early Red should make it a popular variety for home gardens.

The limited number of plants available are being distributed among nurserymen specializing in raspberry plant production, Johnston advises. This is being done to insure a stock of plants at the earliest possible date. The Experiment Station has no plants for general distribution.

Number of Cattle In Nation Increases Record Total Indicated; Swine Crop Nears Peak

According to a late department of agriculture survey, the number of beef cattle and swine on the nation's farms is near an all-time record.

The department estimates the country beef-cattle may total 65,400,000 by January 1, 1952. This would be 5,800,000 more than last January 1, and 7,800,000 more than at the wartime peak of 1945.

Dairy cattle, a source of calf meat and processed meats, but not significant as a source of beef, are excluded from these figures.

The above chart gives an indication of the upward curve of beef production in the nation during the past few years.

With this rise in beef cattle, all cattle would increase from the 80,000,000 level of 1950, and the 84,200,000 level of 1951, to between 90,000,000 and 91,000,000.

The department estimated the 1951 pig crop, which will come to market from the middle of September on, is the second highest in the nation's history. The crop is estimated at 106,000,000 pigs, or 5 per cent greater than the 1950 crop.

Fork production, 5 to 10 per cent larger than last year, is expected to continue until next March. Chickens, too, are at record levels.

Potato Production Looks Good for '52

With present stocks adding up to a mere sizeable eating crop and prices climbing, potato production for 1952 looks pretty good.

D. L. Clananhan, Michigan State College farm crops specialist, says that Michigan's 1951 potato acreage was the lowest since records have been kept. The United States acreage dipped to the lowest point since the 1870's. That's the reason the United States Department of Agriculture has asked for an increase in acreage for 1952. A boost of 10 per cent for Michigan has been asked.

Number of acres planted to potatoes has been going down throughout the nation and Michigan growers have reduced acreage faster than those of other states. A cut of 25 per cent under 1950 was made in the state in 1951.

Michigan growers are located close to the national center of population and yet they grow barely enough to feed the state. Saving on freight in shipping to nearby markets should add up to a greater net return for Michigan growers.

Clananhan pointed out that the acreage of potatoes has been getting more concentrated. That means the nation's spud supply is more apt to be seriously hit by weather, blight or similar hazards.

THE ELASTIC FEE

The lawyer surveyed the tattered client as he listened, and decided that he would be lucky to obtain a ten-dollar fee. He named that amount as necessary to secure the prisoner's release. Thereupon, the client drew forth a large roll of bills, and peeled off a ten. The lawyer's greedy eyes popped.

"What jail is your son in?" he inquired craftily.

"In the county jail."

"In the county jail, not the city jail?" was the exclamation in a tone of dismay. "That's bad—very bad. It will cost you at least fifty dollars."
