Farm Worker Crop Output Triples in Fifty Years
Fifty years ago a farm worker produced enough food for himself and five other persons. Today the crops raised by a single worker are sufficient for 18 persons. Although machinery has had much to do with this spectacular productivity record, a major factor is the expanded use of fertilizers. The nation's farms last year consumed 18,344,182 tons of soil food—six times as much as in 1901—at a cost of $744,000,000. At the turn of the century 265 million acres of crop land, tilled by 13 million farm workers, were needed to supply the crops required by a population of 76 million. Now 16 million workers produce from 335 million acres of land the food required by twice as many Americans, as well as thousands of persons in other countries. Agricultural authorities say that the use of fertilizer is responsible for roughly one-fourth of the volume of all crops. The use of fertilizer is expected to continue upward for an indefinite period. The want ads are new, too.

Logical Heaves
He: "Why do you weep and sniffle at a picture show over the imaginary woes of people you never met?"
She: "Some reason why you weep and yell when a man you don't know slides into second base."

BAD BUSINESS

The salesman was trying to sell a men's furnishings shop some new goods. "Sorry," murmured the proprietor, "but business is bad!"
"That's funny," said the salesman, "Harry Truman says business is very good!"
"I can't help that," said the proprietor. "Maybe Truman's got a better location."

ALMOST CONVINCED

Jeb, accused of stealing chickens, was taken before the judge. His lawyer made such a stirring plea that Jeb was acquitted. Outside the courtroom his friend turned to him and said, "Jeb, did you or didn't you steal those chickens?" "Well," replied Jeb, "to tell the truth I thought I did, but after hearing that there lawyer, I'm dummed if I know whether I did or not."

Unappreciative

"How was the applause, Garrymore?"
"Terrible. It sounded like a caterpillar in sneakers stomping across a Persian rug."

The promising man keeps his promises.

The Rev. Angelo LaVallo
a converted Roman Catholic priest, will be at the First Baptist Church
Sun., Jan. 6, at 8:00 p. m.
Mon., Jan. 7, at 8:00 p. m.
Fri., Jan. 11, at 8:00 p. m.
and at 7:30 p. m.
The Rev. Angelo LaVallo has formerly been in the priesthood and studied in Italy and is now affiliated with Christ's Mission. He will be speaking about the dangers of Catholicism. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Rice Planting
The Oriental planters stand in the mud and set rice plants six to eight inches apart in each direction. The field is kept flooded until the plants are a foot or more tall, then the water is drained off and the crop is hoed. The land then is flooded again, and kept in that condition until ten days before the seed is ripe, a stage indicated by the bending of the heads. It then is reaped by hand, banded, dried, and the grain removed by pounding the heads across the logs, by driving cattle over them or by drawing through a hatchell.

New Type Tires

Latest in the line of farm equipment is a strange-looking pneumatic rubber tire (above) that will improve the farmer's efficiency in planting corn. The new tire, which has a smooth-V-shaped tread and is constructed with shoulders and a low center, was designed to replace conventional steel wheels that come as original equipment on farm implement. It was developed by B. F. Goodrich engineers.

High Quality Hay Can Reduce Feeding Costs

High quality hay can cut feeding costs about 32 per cent and milk producing costs by 26 cents per hundredweight, says Michigan state college farm economists.

Cows fed poor hay required 250 pounds more grain and 450 pounds more concentrates to yield the same amount of milk produced from high quality hay. Good quality hay is high in protein-carrying legumes, cut at the right stage.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

While most of the state was enjoying the pre-holiday season, the state defense council tossed in a civil defense budget that may worry a good many legislators in 1952. The council asked for $3,200,000 in state funds. Additional $1,048,900 expected from the federal government and $682,855 expected from local governments on a matching basis would provide a total of $4,931,855.

That is assuming, of course, that state lawmakers will stay put for the original request. Last year the civil defense department asked for $7,000,000. It was given $1,973,000. But the CD department has shown amazing progress in one year and the legislature is likely to be a bit more lenient with the purse strings despite an unprecedented budget fight which is sure to come.

The proposed new program would include $1,479,420 for continuation of mass blood typing; $240,000 for buy 38 fire pumps and $76,165 for air raid sirens.

Meanwhile Gov. Williams is scolding around to learn the basis of complaints of lack of leadership leveled at a Wayne County medical society meeting.

Will there be a gasoline tax retrocendum? There still is a fog of doubt on whether the C. I. O. will be able to get the issue on the ballot next fall. The petitions were checked and the required number found valid. But the secretary of state's office says many of the petitions were circulated by persons who were not registered voters. If so, the signatures on those petitions will be tossed out. Thus far, 93,660 signatures have been found valid, 51,322 invalid. At least 38,270 are needed to put the issue to a vote. It will be a tight squeeze.

Men who failed their draft medical tests will be called back for re-examination after the first of the year. Some 400 will be tapped again in January.

The state department of public instruction has advised school officials to be a bit more careful with their money. The department suggests that all business be carried on by check and that money be deposited daily. Reason: A rash of school break-ins throughout the state.

There was a record low of forest fires in Michigan during 1951. An intensified prevention campaign held state total to 671 fires burning 4,317 acres. Previous record was in 1950 with 873 fires burning 6,606 acres.

Although politics in the state are passed around the Yule holidays the Vandenburgs keep peeping up—Junior may have his eye on his father's cloak, and Williams could have an orb cast at the governor's chair. Both have held off making any announcements. Both have a mighty good vote-getting name—but not good enough by itself to carry a winner.

This year more than 400,000 Christmas trees were sold netting the state at least $60,000 in sales tax and license fees. Average cost of tree: $5.

Michigan was fourth in the census gain, jumping 1,115,660 in population between 1940 and 1950. Of that, 778,000 were due to births, 337,000 moving in from out of the state.

Joseph R. Tuzsak put his Detroit restaurant on the map and money in the bank when he lowered his prices to 1949 levels. But cutting soup to five cents a bowl and T-bones to $1.25 brought down every inspector in the city upon him. They ordered the walls retrofitted. Made him put in a heater. "They check everything from the pancake syrup to the noon sign," he said. Even the smoke inspector called on him. "Only smoke around here is out of the cash register," says Tuzsak.

A bill has been filed for introduction in the 1952 legislature to triple the deductions allowed retailers on gross proceeds. Says Louis C. Nims, state revenue commissioner, "It might cost the state $1,000,000 a year."

The condition of your poultry house this fall and winter is going to have a lot to do with the health of your poultry flock.

Start Saving Lambs By Good Ewe Care

Although your lambs won't be coming for a few weeks yet, now is the time to start saving the 1952 lamb crop, Harold Heuserman, Michigan State College animal husbandman, pointed flock-owners of the state this week.

He said that practices followed this winter will go a long way in determining whether lambs are born strong and healthy, and thus how much profit you'll make. And proper feed and care for the ewes means more milk for the lamb and faster, cheaper starting gains.

"Ewes should gain about 30 pounds up to lambing time," Heuserman said. "About half of this gain in weight is fat which is needed and used by the ewe during the nursing period."

Sheep that are in thrifty condition can be wintered until 6-weeks before lambing on about 4 pounds of alfalfa or clover hay per head per day. Another good ration is 2 pounds of legume hay and 4 or 5 pounds of corn silage. If you substitute hay silage for corn silage, extra grain will be needed.

Six weeks before lambing the ewe no longer has room to eat as much of these bulky feeds so a change in ration is needed. That's the time to start feeding a half to three-quarters of a pound of grain per head per day. This grain is needed to put on extra gains in weight. A good grain mixture is 30 pounds of oats, 40 pounds of corn, 10 pounds wheat bran and 10 pounds of oil meal. Or mixtures of half corn and half oats, or oats alone have given good results.

Trace mineral salt should be kept before the sheep at all times and fresh water provided. Best housing is a shed open to the south to protect the flock from rain and extremely cold winds.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Ed Valtender, Farm Editor
W B C M - Bay City Memories.

Here we are—twist Christmas and the New Year.

A year of confusion. For Agriculture. For business. For all of us. A year neither fish nor fowl. Of a hot and cold war. Of doubt and uncertainties.

We are a nation in constant crisis. Trying to feed ourselves and sparing all we can for others.

We have endured an epic flood disaster.

We have suffered over 100 thousand casualties in a year that cannot be won decisively.

We have been forced to assume world leadership for the legions of democracy.

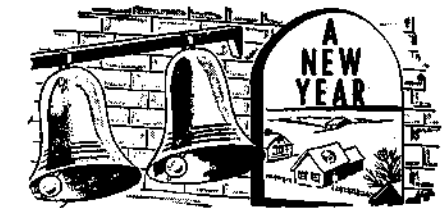

Not one of us can tell what the fates hold.

We will not deal the cards. We do not know the timetable. Hops.

No great tyrant in history's pages has prevailed for long. There is still need for faith. Our strength must come from within each of us.

The future is dark and troubled. We cannot fall back now. There must be an end to this hatred and violence.

Give us courage. Hear our prayers. Let God's light shine over all the earth in 1952.

Measure Feed for Dairy Cattle Profits

A dairy cow that's giving 10 pounds at a milking needs less than a pound of grain at a feeding if she is eating all the good roughage she can hold. The same row on the same roughage diet needs four times as much grain if she gives twice as much milk. These facts have been pointed out by J. G. Hays, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. He says that dairymen must weigh or measure the feed given to every cow and keep a record of milk production if top profits are to be realized. Hays advises farmers to try more or less grain per cow to see what effect it has on her milk production. If additional grain results in additional milk that's worth more than the cost of the grain, you're profiting from the additional grain feeding. "Wash basins, scoop shovels and old derby hats are out as satisfactory ways of measuring grain," Hays says, because they aren't accurate enough. Either weigh the grain or use a measure that is accurate, like a straight-sided pail. Of course you won't have time to measure every feeding exactly but you can come close without much extra trouble. Keeping a record of the amount of grain fed to your cows is important if you want to avoid wasting grain. Another reason is that the cow's appetite is no safe guide as to amount of grain she can profitably use in her business. If you want further information on how much grain to feed your cows, ask your county agricultural agent for "Feeding the Dairy Cow in the Non-Pasture season," Hays suggests. The real test is to figure whether additional grain will result in enough more milk to more than pay for itself. That's the key to figuring profits. Moderate Exercise Folks in New Jersey tell of a police officer who found a window open in a church, long after midnight. He climbed in to make sure it wasn't the work of marauders. He found everything all right, but the empty pulpit tempted him, so he delivered a short, telling sermon just for fun, you might say. But as the pulpit had a microphone connected to a loudspeaker in the tower and the sexton had forgotten to switch it off after broadcasting part of the Sunday services—his sermon woke the town. Ready-to-Surface Of the millions of gallons of paint manufactured yearly, a great proportion is used for finishing products made in factories. A quick glance about you will reveal any number of manufactured articles that depend on some type of paint, varnish, lacquer or enamel for their protection. Preparing the surfaces of these products so that the finish will adhere firmly and present an attractive appearance is a specialized field in itself. Nickel and Coal Do you know that nickel plays a vital part not only in the production of coal but also in its conversion to light, heat and power? The cutters, conveyors and miners' lamps that are used in the mining of coal, the railway engines and the road vehicles concerned in the distribution, the plants converting it to steam power and electric current—in all these, nickel is present.

Down Memory Lane FROM THE FILMS OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five Years Ago. Howard Kuttnerford and Dennis Funk of Novesta Township and Ed Griffiths of Detroit are champion kumite hunters of Michigan. They base their claim on the result of Thursday morning's hunt when they dug out 18 splendidly formed specimens of these animals renowned for their powers of subversive secretion. The skulls were found on the John McCrackens farm. Edgar Davis passed away Wednesday morning at the home of his nephew, W. O. Marshall. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the Marshall home and burial was in Elkland Cemetery. Rev. W. F. Zander officiated at the funeral. Monday afternoon, highway commissioner of Novesta Township will leave next week for Lansing where he will pursue a course in highway engineering at the state highway department. The course will include profile study, cross engineering and bridge construction and will continue for a six weeks' period.

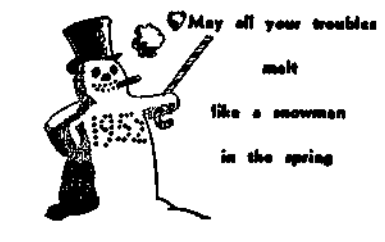

Twenty-five Years Ago. Chas. H. Campbell, manager of the Tuscola County farm, died suddenly shortly after noon on Monday at the age of 65. He suffered a heart attack about ten months ago and his death Monday was due to a similar attack. At the close of the practice hour last Friday evening, the members of the Junior choir of the Evangelical Church were given a surprise by their sponsor, Mrs. A. A. Kicker, when she invited them to the basement of the church where they were treated to lunch. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Schwadorer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Christmas Day. A large number of relatives and friends called to congratulate the couple and wish them many more years of happiness. G. A. Striffler's Oakland sedan skidded on the icy road west of DeFont on the Monday and turned over into a shallow ditch. No one was seriously injured. Ten Years Ago. Florence Hillman's patrol had charge of the Christmas party on Wednesday evening when the Girl Scouts met at the Youth Center. A beautifully lighted tree gave a festive appearance to the room. Christmas carols were sung and gifts exchanged. On Saturday afternoon, the girls met, bringing toys and other things for the community basket. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Harry Young; vice president, Mrs. Frank B. Smith; secretary, Mrs. Stanley McArthur; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Charlton; White Cross chairman, Mrs. E. A. Livingston. Mrs. Robert Warner was elected president of the Art Club Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 17, when that group met in the home of Mrs. Ralph Ward. Other officers elected: vice president, Mrs. Brent Raugh; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Edward Golding; reporter, Mrs. Frank Hall. Five Years Ago. A Christmas meeting was observed by the Woman's Missionary Society of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at the home of Mrs. E. W. Dercer Friday afternoon with 20 members and 11 visitors in attendance. Mrs. Fred Buchty conducted the devotional

Plan Rock Phosphate Tests at M S C

Extensive research into the value of rock phosphate as compared with superphosphate has begun in several locations over the state, report Michigan State College research soil scientists. A total of 192 test plots have been laid out in four Michigan counties. Tests include many combinations of crop rotations. Care was taken to select soils which are representative of important agricultural areas. Experiments will enable the researchers to determine the value of rock phosphate and how it compares with other phosphate carriers. The tests are expected to run from 8 to 12 years. When our own character will not defend us, explanations will not vindicate. Bricework Here's a trick that works wonders for either painted or unpainted bricks... around your fireplace or for other interior brickwork. First clean the bricks thoroughly, then brush on a 2/1 mixture of boiled linseed oil. This gives the brickwork an attractive, glossy finish that's easy to dust. Advertise it in the Chronicle!

Mrs. Mary Holcomb.

Cass City lost the services of an outstanding teacher when Mrs. Mary Holcomb retired after 30 years in the teaching profession.

G. Mennen Williams.

Cass City was honored by a visit from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who appeared at the Community Club last spring. He gave a short speech and greeted members after the meeting.

Dr. Joseph H. Harris.

Dr. Joseph H. Harris, vice president of Alton College, spoke at the Freshyrtan Church and before the Rotary Club in Cass City.

BYRON CARPENTER

The assistant Tuscola County Agricultural Agent resigned his position in December to become a fieldman for the Michigan Artificial Inseminator's Association.

Allison Green.

The representative was named to three important committees in 1951 and served the interests of his constituents well.

Don Auker.

The community was honored with a West Point graduate. Don Auker was commissioned a Lieutenant in the army and is now on active duty.

Dick Hendrick.

The Sanilac County representative to the 4-11 Congress in Chicago was Dick Hendrick. His expenses were paid by local businessmen and Greenleaf Growers' 4-11 Club.

Dale Leslie.

Dale Leslie's steer was judged the best and won the grand championship at the Detroit Livestock Show. It clinched a long winning streak for the young farmer.

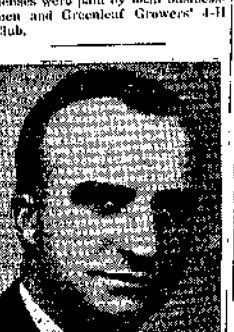

Bill Zinnecker.

Top honors for the championship lamb in the Junior Livestock Show at Detroit went to Bill Zinnecker. He had previously won the steer championship.

William Proffit.

William Proffit was named chairman of the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors and later resigned his position to become Register of Deeds in place of Ernest Linder, who died.

ALFRED BALLWEG

Arthur Ballweg became the new Tuscola County Agricultural Agent this summer. He came to the county from North Dakota and was highly recommended.

Miss Helen Christenson.

One of the new teachers who is spending her first year in Cass City, Miss Christenson has a Master's Degree.

An electric motor is probably one of the cheapest "fired hennis" on a farm, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers.

Well Kept Buildings Add to Farm Value

New Materials Make Repair Jobs Easy

The appearance and condition of its buildings will increase or decrease the value of any farm. But more than that, well-kept buildings are an indication of the farmer's efficiency and his standing in the community.

A number of new materials such as asbestos shingles or siding, masonite—a tempered hardboard, plywood and others are durable and inexpensive materials which the farmer who is handy with tools can use to increase the value of his property.

The building is the top picture is a discredit to any farm, while the one below, a remedied version of the one above, will add to the farm's value.

Perhaps the old building will serve in its sorry-looking way, but maybe a wild storm will flatten it and any hope of salvage. It's smarter to fix up the old place and protect your investment.

If the framework has sagged, of course, it is a good policy to have the building straightened up before anything else is undertaken.

From there the farmer who is handy with tools could do the job of repairing.

Nearly half of all the eggs produced in the world are laid by hens in the United States. For the last five years, the average American has been eating eggs at the rate of more than one a day.

Completes Tests

With 374 pounds of butterfat and 13701 pounds of milk to her credit, Oakwood Kang Apple Frances, registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Mr. A. B. Quick, Cass, Michigan, has completed a 365-day production test in official Herd Improvement Registry. She was milked two times daily and was four years three months of age when she began her testing period. Testing was supervised by Michigan State College in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Color Add to Circus

Circuses depend, to a great extent, upon the customer-attracting power of color. Wagons and cages, coaches and carriages all glisten with new coatings of paint. The gaudy and brilliance of the color provides an untiring magnet and the protective power of the coating guards the wagons against the heat and cold, sunshine and rain, sleet and sleet they must encounter on their thousands of miles of travel.
