

MSC Scholarship Award Received By Nancy Sinclair

Nancy Sinclair of Cass City has received one of a total of 402 scholarships awarded to high school graduates from 76 Michigan counties by Michigan State College, according to J. Robert Stewart, MSC scholarship director.

The awards, which become effective in fall term, 1952, were made on the basis of scholarship and leadership and citizenship qualities displayed in high school, Stewart said.

The scholarships cover tuition fees of recipients. They are awarded for one year, but may be renewed for four years if the student maintains a satisfactory scholastic average.

Besides Miss Sinclair, other Tuscola County scholarships were awarded to the following students: John S. Harris, Caro; Janis Black, Fairgrove; JoAnn Ewing, Mayville; Norleen Ackerman, Unionville; and Donald Tinglan, Vassar.

Vance Speaker at Gavel Club Tuesday

The Cass City Gavel Club held Ladies' Night at O'Rourke's Restaurant on M-53 Tuesday evening and members and their guests heard Mahlon Vance from the Detroit Edison office in Caro speak on the high cost of government.

Mr. Vance pointed out that the solution to the problem was to show an active interest in government through letters to congressmen and other means of letting elected officials know the desires of their constituents.

Ed Baker was in charge of the program for the evening and secured Mr. Vance for the evening, according to club reporter, Harry Little.

James E. Foy Cited For Meritorious Devotion to Duty

Mrs. Arthur Dewey of Cass City was thrilled by a telephone conversation with her son, James E. Foy, who called from Sababa, Japan, on April 10. James served in the Korean area five months at the start of the war and later another five months in the same section of the Pacific. He is now serving his fourth year in the Navy.

On the same day he received

his second class officer's promotion, he was presented with the following citation, signed by J. H. Barnard II, U. S. Navy, C. D. R., Commanding Officer:

Meritorious Mast
For meritorious devotion to duty as Electronics Technician on the U. S. S. Radford, during a period of that vessel's operations in the Western Pacific from 1 December 1951 to 1 April 1952. The skill and initiative displayed by Foy above and beyond the requirements of his rate, in maintaining and repairing the electronics equipment of his ship, contributed in an outstanding degree to the continued effective operation of the radar system.

Correction

Last week's Chronicle stated that Bernard Shagena had been found not guilty of negligent homicide in a case in Circuit Court at Caro. The story should have said Ray Shagena. Bernard is a soldier on duty with the army.

Hemerick Injured By Falling Tree

F. D. Hemerick, well-known Gagetown businessman, was seriously injured Thursday, April 17, when a tree, felled by workers on his property on Rose Island, hit him as he was examining the work.

The workers, John Tenzer and James Phelan, were cutting down the second of two trees on the property when Mr. Hemerick walked under the second tree which fell in the opposite direction of the first tree.

Mr. Hemerick failed to hear the men shout and was hit by the falling tree. In the accident, his leg was broken below the knee, his back injured and he suffered many cuts and bruises.

Mr. Hemerick's son, Dr. Frederick Hemerick of Dunedin, Fla., was notified and he came to Gagetown Friday and returned Tuesday.

Hawks Drop First Two Games of Year By Close Scores

Cass City High School's baseball nine dropped their first two games of the season by a total of just four runs when they lost the season's opener, 2-0, to Sebawaing, Thursday, April 17, and dropped a 5-3 decision to Akrop Monday.

Against Sebawaing, Ben Loeffler broke a tight pitchers' duel between Larry Schmidt and Gerald Whittaker when he squeezed home Beers, who had singled and reached third on an error in the top of the fifth.

In the last inning, four singles brought home another Sebawaing tally and wrapped up the 2-0 victory. Sebawaing collected eight hits off Whittaker, while Schmidt limited Cass City to five safes.

Monday, Akrop jumped on Whittaker for a pair of runs in the first and second innings for a lead that Samson held for his teammates. Akrop added another in the fifth, but it was only an insurance marker, as the best Cass City could do was three runs in the sixth.

The Hawks' first runs of the season were scored when Tom Schwaderer tripled, Dean Hoag reached first on an error, Bob Wallace singled and Maynard Helwig tripled.

After the brief flurry, Samson again assumed control to chalk up the victory.

For Cass City, Whittaker started and was relieved by John Ellis in the seventh. Samson went all the way for Akrop.

The Hawks will be looking for their first victory when they play Kingston Monday at the Recreational Park baseball diamond.

Kids' Parade Boosts Clean-Up Week

Despite the fact that there were no prizes offered, many observers felt that there were more youngsters in the second annual clean-up parade this year than there were when the parade originated.

For Monday morning, Cass City residents saw the students in the Cass City Grade School get the clean-up drive off to a flying start when they paraded down Main Street with their clean-up costumes and signs.

Most persons in Cass City are following the example put forth by the children and are cleaning up their stores, homes, yards and streets.

The village is still picking up trash free for the rest of the week and Cass City is expected to be one of the neatest villages in the Thumb when the campaign closes Saturday evening.

Fire Razes Farm Home of Ralph Tebeau Sunday

Fire completely demolished the farm home of Ralph Tebeau, eight miles north of Cass City, Sunday afternoon when a yard fire raged out of control and ignited oil barrels in the rear of the house.

The resulting blaze was so fierce that it left neighboring farmers and the Elkland Township Fire Department no opportunity to quell the blaze.

So quick were the devouring flames, persons at the fire had little chance to remove furniture and other valuables—nearly all of the Tebeaus' possessions went with the house in the fire.

Firemen and neighbors managed to save the barn and other buildings on the farm by spraying water around the edges of the fire to confine it to the home.

Green, Decker Speak Before Rotary Club

Representative Allison Green and Senator A. P. Decker were the guest speakers at the noon luncheon meeting of the Cass City Rotary Club held Tuesday at the New Gordon Hotel.

Under the direction of acting chairman Audley Rawson, who asked questions of the two elected officials from this area, both Green and Decker told members about their qualifications for office and their activities since elected.

Senator Decker has been active in the Michigan government for 18 years, serving 16 years in the house and two years in the senate. Representative Green is completing his first term in office.

The pair explained committee work in their respective organizations and told members what committees they had been appointed to.

One question that interested Rotary members was the question of reappointment, scheduled to be placed before the voters on the ballot this fall. According to Green, there will probably be three different measures to vote on and he regards the issue of primary importance.

Both the CIO and the A F of L labor unions will present a plan that would increase the number of representatives and senators from Wayne County. The last amendment would increase the number of representatives from Wayne County, Green said, but keep the balance of power in the senate.

After their addresses, the pair answered questions asked by Rotarians.

Cass City Wins Triangular Meet; Loses to Central

Cass City split their second and third track meets of the season as they were dumped by Bay City Central Reserves, 62-47, and won a triangular meet with Marlette and Deckerville Tuesday.

Against Central, Cass City was hampered by the loss of Dean Kritzman and Tom Schwaderer, who were unable to play when they became ill with measles.

Bob Wallace topped the Cass City entries at Bay City although he was closely pressed by Tim Burdon who picked up 11 1/2 points.

Monday it was a different story. With both Schwaderer and Kritzman back in competition, the Hawks dominated the meet. They scored 92 1/2 points, while Marlette made 37 1/2 and Deckerville 7 1/2.

Only one track record was tied and none were broken. Schwaderer tied his own record in the 100-yard dash when he posted a :10.4. Schwaderer was also top man in the meet with 16 1/2 points.

The complete Central-Cass City results: Broad Jump, won by Burdon, CC; second, Guinther, CC; third, Stevenson, BC. Distance, 19 feet, eight inches.

Shot Putt, won by Brenner, BC; Concluded on page 12.

Paint Increases Efficiency

Efficiency experts agree that workers can accomplish more in correctly painted rooms. In many offices and factories, walls and woodwork—from eye-level down—are painted in dark shades. The ceiling and the wall—from eye-level up—are painted in a high light-reflecting tint.

ELECTRIC DRYING
for HAY and CORN

"Better quality, fewer field losses, much less spoilage and big savings in time and labor." That's the report of farmers who use electric crop drying equipment.

A good investment? Yes, indeed. Ask your Edison Farm Service Advisor for complete details. There's no obligation whatsoever.

Greener, leafier hay for the dairy cows on the Ervin J. Haskill Farm in Lapeer Co. Installed in 1947, the electric hay dryer cuts weather losses, cures 100 tons of chopped hay yearly.

Early picking, safe storage are two profitable benefits to the corn grower. On the Swartzendruber Farm, Huron Co., a 42" fan and 7 1/2 h.p. motor are used to dry hay first, then are moved to the well-filled corn crib.

Good wiring is always important. So always ask your Farm Service Advisor for his recommendations.

Possible Power
During the wartime years 1941 through 1945, the U.S. electric industry generated slightly more than one trillion kilowatt-hours of electricity. If there should be a similar five-year period of intensive war effort, the electric industry, with large amounts of new generating capacity added since World War II, could generate power at the rate of over 400 billion kilowatt-hours annually.

Greenleaf Extension

The Greenleaf Extension Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Anson Karr, Friday, April 18. The lesson presented by the leaders, Mrs. Elmer Fuenter and Mrs. Anson Karr, was "Landscaping."

Six members and four visitors were present. Plants and plant cuttings were exchanged. After the program, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hendrick and Mrs. R. L. Kilburn were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crampton in Flint. Also guests there were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kilburn of Lansing. Mr. Kilburn and Mrs. Crampton are brother and sister.

Mrs. John Haley was pleasantly surprised Friday evening when guests came to help her celebrate her 74th birthday. Guests who enjoyed the fine dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Haley were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rusch, Mrs. Ethel Dickinson and Judy, Mrs. Walter Walker, Mrs. Clarence Boulton and Mrs. Floyd McComb.

Frank and Marie Alward visited their families in Detroit Easter Sunday and brought back two of Mrs. Alward's nieces, the Misses Jeanette and Nelline Young. It was the first time the visitors were outside of Detroit. The two young persons said they liked Cass City and hoped to return in the near future.

THE STEALING CONTINUES. I bought a Diston hand saw and that disappeared a few years after I bought it. My best axe wandered away, evidently with some help. There has been considerable coal and kindling wood taken this winter. I understand the retired farmers retailed the kindling wood at 25c an armful. Last summer there were 42 jars of grape jelly taken from my cellar within a period of two weeks. At the beginning of cold weather last fall, a pair of black leather lined gloves (morocco) were picked up. Things are misplaced, but in that time they should show up. George E. Burg. 4-25-1*

Study Club—

The Gagetown Woman's Study Club held an election of officers Monday evening when it met at the home of the president, Mrs. William Anker. The nominating committee, Mrs. C. P. Hunter and Mrs. Stanley Muntz, presented Mrs. Charles Mayer for president; Mrs. Elmore Hurd, vice president; Mrs. John Malling, secretary; Mrs. Harry Comment, treasurer, who were accepted unanimously.

The program for the evening was on Fine Arts with roll call consisting of something appropriate. Talks were given on Castleton China by Mrs. Sherwood Rice, Fostoria by Mrs. John Malling and Wedgewood by Mrs. Frank Weatherhead. Plans were formed to sponsor a mother and daughter banquet to be held Monday, May 5, in the Methodist Church dining hall. Plans were also made to purchase a second hospital bed. The first bed was purchased one year ago and is being used by one of its members. The bed will be available for use by anyone in the community. The hostess served a date dessert topped with whipped cream, coffee and tea.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

The Michigan capital is a wonderland all of its own.

Legislative leaders herald the 1952 record as "economy," yet appropriations totaled $330,500,000, an increase of $21,000,000 over the year ago. How can you have economy when you are spending more? Fact: $18 millions more were authorized for public schools under mandatory diversion of state sales tax revenues, required by voter-approved constitutional amendment. Confusing, isn't it?

Then Governor Williams, whose own budget was cut $24 millions, decries the $33 million new tax program as a "fraud and a gun held against the tax-payer's head." The governor champions the poor suffering taxpayer, yet he defends his plan for $60 millions in new taxes. How come?

This is the magic mirror of state socialism: more and more benefits for the common man, all at the expense of the idle rich—the employers of business and industry. In other words, tax profits.

President Truman used the same tactics in seizing the steel industry, proclaiming steel owners' profits to be 2 1/2 BILLIONS. He failed to say that net profits were less than $1 billion ($926 millions, in fact) and that the federal government captured the difference in high taxes!

Confusing, isn't it? Remember—1952 is a political year.

Victor A. Knox, the big man from the Soo, 280-acre farmer at 18, is going to run for Congress.

And to all appearances the craggy-featured Republican will win the race with the same handling which has kept him in the legislature 16 years, the last six of them as speaker of the House of Representatives.

The recent announcement of his candidacy came as no surprise to Capitol observers despite the fact Knox has hinted very broadly he was interested in the secretary of state's job and the auditor generalship.

The 53-year-old Republican was quietly waiting to see if Rep. Potter was going to vacate his seat and run for the senate. And at last Potter decided to forsake a relatively sure position as representative and tossed his homberg into a hotly-contested senatorial fight against such campaigners as Blair Moody and John Martin.

It will be quite a change for the Sault Ste. Marie republican who for so long has been keeping house G. O. P. members in line with his hickory gavel. "But, at least, I'll learn something—the hard way," says the indefatigable Knox. Most of the things Knox has learned have been picked up the hard way.

"When I was 14," he says, "I figured the schools couldn't teach me any more. I quit and went to work on the farm (Sault Township). I worked in Detroit at the Timken Axel Works for a year, 12 hours a night, and then came back to the farm."

When he was 18, his father retired and Vic took over the 280-acre farm.

He married Bertha Byers, also of the Soo, when he was 20. "She's the one responsible for my education," he says. "Along about the time I had been married a year, I decided I needed a bit more education, and she coached me. I was good in math—poor in English." His English still is not too good.

He began his political career in 1925 when he was elected treasurer of Sault Township. In 1930 he was named supervisor, a job he held for six years, holding all the important posts. In 1936 he came to the legislature.

"Then I had to start studying again," he says. "I attended all the lectures I could find and took a correspondence course. My wife still was beating the stuff into my head."

In the legislature, Knox's primary job was as committee member under the late John Espie, whose Ways and Means committee virtually was dictating the state's financial policy.

The last two years Knox has been primarily occupied with budget and taxes, actively opposing Gov. Williams' 4 per cent corporation tax on all sides, and lately he has been booming for the constitutional convention.

"Look back four years," he says, "when we still had a good balance in the gen-fund, albeit the money was going out faster than it came in."

"Since then we have added to the state income by $51 millions. And a year ago we still had a $21 million operating deficit. We levied additional taxes on corporations (the franchise tax) which brought in another $16 million. This year we find a $42 million deficit." This is his favorite subject.

"Everything we have done in those four years turns out to be purely stop-gap to keep the state solvent. This year we turn around and levy $30 to $33 million more in adjusted and new taxes which will keep the state from going any deeper. We may possibly—I say possibly—be able to apply $3 million of that on the present deficit, but if inflation continues to spiral the way it has the last four years we'll be hopelessly lost.

"We can't afford to guess. We must have a constitutional convention and revise this hodge-podge taxing system we have. The people won't stand for any more new taxes—we'll have to find some way of getting along on what now is taken in by rechanneling that revenue and making it work for

Short Run

The shortest sleeping car run in this country (and very likely the shortest in the world) is the 134.3-mile run from New York to Springfield on the New Haven. However, there was a shorter one not long ago. Sleeper car service on the 184.1-mile trip from Scranton to Lackawanna on "The Owl" was recently discontinued.

Electric Nation

From the end of World War II to the end of 1950, about 11 million new customers began to take electric service. This increase is almost as great as the total number of customers being served after the first 38 years of the electric industry's existence.

Babies Prefer Bright Colors
Babies can distinguish between colors and almost invariably reach for red as their first choice. A survey to determine color preference among such younglings rates bright red as the first choice with bright blue, white and bright green following in the order named. This natural tendency is carefully considered by manufacturers in choosing the paint colors for toys.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Ed Vallender, Farm Editor
WBCM Bay City
Farmer's Costs
Last week, the House Agriculture Committee took a look at the farm "cost" situation with an eye to changing the existing support laws.

They found that farmer's total production expenses in 1952 will probably be five or six per cent over the 1951 level—up to a new record.

This in the face of falling market prices.

Figures
In the first three months of this year, farm production costs have averaged four per cent higher than last year. Feeder livestock prices have dropped. Materials for building have eased off. But those declines were more than wiped out by increasing labor rates, and higher prices for machinery, feed, fertilizer and seed.

Farmers are paying higher tax and interest rates, along with almost everyone else. And for the nation as a whole, there's been a substantial climb in payment of interest by farmers. The national farm mortgage debt is growing, and that increase will continue through the year.

National Labor Picture
The Report says there should be enough farm labor to continue high-level production. But that's the NATIONAL picture. It doesn't mean many sections of the country won't find farm labor tight this year.

The selective service boss blames two other factors for taking farm boys off the land:

First, Hershey says many have been leaving for higher-paying jobs in the cities—doing farm chores after hours and on week ends.

Second, he blames the Armed Forces recruiting methods—he says recruiting officers go into the rural areas and sign up all the farm boys they can get. Hershey charges these officers make no effort to find out if the youngsters are needed at home.

Many sections of the country do not have the labor procurement setup we enjoy here in North-eastern Michigan. The sugar beet companies and canning factories usually recruit the labor necessary to get the crop in and out.

Mechanical Man
The report goes on to say that "To get the job done, it will be necessary to make good use of labor saving devices—we must make full utilization of every worker—there must be an effective recruiting placement program."

The Farmer In Uniform
There's been a lot of pressure on the USDA recently for high-level action to slow the drafting of farm workers.

General Hershey, the draft boss, denies the draft is stripping essential labor from farms. Hershey says local draft boards are doing a good job in studying the merits of individual farm deferment cases.

The selective service boss blames two other factors for taking farm boys off the land:

First, Hershey says many have been leaving for higher-paying jobs in the cities—doing farm chores after hours and on week ends.

Second, he blames the Armed Forces recruiting methods—he says recruiting officers go into the rural areas and sign up all the farm boys they can get. Hershey charges these officers make no effort to find out if the youngsters are needed at home.

Besides, it's difficult to talk about reasons in general because no two cases are alike.

Summary
The fact remains—with cost of operation up and prices of commodities down—the average farmer is going to be forced into better farm management if he is to finish this year of 1952 in good circumstances.

Bowling

News and Views

George A. Dillman, Sec.

The Reid team is undisputed champion of the City League.

This unpredictable team won the first and second "rounds" and then proceeded to win the third "round" by winning three points from the Rusch team Monday while Wooley, who had a mathematical chance of winning, was losing three points.

With only one more week of league bowling left, no team can overtake the Reid team. We were so certain that they could not repeat their performance of the first two schedules that we purchased "runner-up" trophies. Now if any one has any suggestions as to what to do with them, call George at 171.

We could use some suggestions. Next Monday night, April 28th, final night of the City League Bowling for 1951-52 season will come to a close and bowling balls and shoes will be put away and will be forgotten until the opening of the 1952-53 season but memories of the good fellowship and sportsmanship during this closing season will not be forgotten. Thanks "fellows" for a successful league. Without your fine cooperation it could not have been accomplished. Banquet tickets will be distributed to City League members and eligible substitutes next Monday and Wednesday nights. You will need these tickets to attend the banquet as they will be collected by the organization serving your banquet.

To date the following men who served as substitutes in the City League (twelve games) will receive tickets, Frank Alward, Fred Auten, Lew Bishop, Dale Damm, O. Hutchinson, E. Helwig, J. Juhasz, F. Knoblet, Dave Knight, George Lapp, Art Paddy, P. Rienstra, Del Strickland, Len Smith, Ed. Smithson and F. Tye.

Other fellows who took the place of members who left the League also will receive tickets. If you will pick up your tickets next Monday and Wednesday night at the Bowling Alley, it will save time and confusion in getting them to you.

The combined forces of the Tuscola County Farm Bureau women and the 4-H Mothers' Club are bringing about a change to the interior of the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building. The former group agreed to purchase the paint if the Mothers' Club would secure a means of applying it. This was done and the result is that the main hall and dining room are taking on a new lease on life. A committee of 4-H mothers met with Miss Jean Gillies, county home demonstration agent, and decided on an off-white ceiling and a pale green wall and woodwork cover.

GIVE YOUR HAY this thatched roof protection

Here's the "roof" cut loose and lifted from an Allis-Chalmers rolled bale. Like the curving sheets of a Quonset hut, these curved outer layers of hay protect the layers beneath from rain and snow.

That's why rolled bales give you new insurance against rain-damaged hay, and why some western cattlemen leave the bales right out on the range for winter feeding.

Whether your hay needs this winter-long protection on the range or only temporary safety from summer showers, you will profit from using rolled bales.

Novesta Extension

The Novesta Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Hollis Seely, Friday, April 18, and seven members, together with a guest, were present for the meeting.

Members discussed program planning under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Connolly and Mrs. Manley McCrea, leaders for the evening.

After the program, members enjoyed a luncheon served by the hostess.

Quoting figures from an industry survey, Mr. Krug asserted that well over two-thirds of the 1951 total was used for household, farm and direct motor fuel applications. The remainder was consumed for industrial, chemical manufacturing and miscellaneous purposes.

HONOR STUDENTS

It is somewhat unusual for a student to enter a class at the beginning of the junior year and win his way to class leadership the next year, but that was the achievement of Ronald Posluszny, who transferred to Cass City from a Detroit parochial school. Ron has impressed everyone with his maturity, his dependability and his scholarship. Although he plans to go to college, his vocational goals are at present uncertain.

In almost a photo finish for top honors, salutatorian rank was won this year by Tom Schwaderer. His leadership has been well demonstrated by the fact that his class elected him president for three years. During the past year he has been elevated to the post of student council president, where he has given notable service. Tom's contributions in the athletic field are too well known to need repeating. His record has been outstanding in every sport and numerous honors have come his way through the years in this area. Tom has been accepted at the University, where he plans to pursue a premed course.

Central Michigan College will likely claim Ellen Sickler, third ranking scholar in her class. Ellen's chief extra-curricular activity, perhaps, has been with the student board, with which she has been associated for several years. Her vocational interests are inclined toward the teaching field.

The post of hall guide commissioner during the past year was ably filled by the appointment of Delores Simmons. She has also participated in three class plays during her junior and senior years and has been a dependable worker in every project her class has undertaken.

Another boy who has made athletics one of his major interests is Dick Wallace. His activities, however, have been diversified enough to include forensics, dramatics, student council activity and a wide array of school and class projects. Dick is already accepted at Alma College, but hasn't made that important choice of a vocation as yet.

Western Michigan College seems to be a popular choice among this year's graduates. Mary Wood also plans to attend there. First named to the honor society in the ninth grade, Mary has been this year's president of the group. She has a long record of service in the band and her name has frequently appeared in class and school committees associated with almost every worthwhile activity.

In addition to the seniors named to the society, twenty-two underclassmen were inducted in this week's ceremony. In all cases, the final selection were made by a faculty council, guided to a great extent by ratings given students by their fellow classmates. Careful consideration was given to the four areas of scholarship, leadership, character and service. Except for the senior class, the council left numerous vacancies for future selections.

Those named from the other classes were the following:

Eleventh grade: Tim Burdon, Bob Fox, Marjorie Holcomb, Joan Holmberg, Arleone Kelley, Joan Kitchen and Faith Parrott.

From the tenth grade were chosen: Clinton Eskilsen and Marilyn McCarthy.

Ninth grade selectees include: Ed Fox, Karen Gracey, Judy McCormick, Roger Marshall and Bob Zinnecker.

The eighth graders honored were: Sharon Ackerman, Jack Clara, Marie Gurdon, Marilyn Horner, Carol Hulien, Yvonne Krohn, Beverly McClorey and Beverly McComb.

Gas Sales Increase

Continuing its spectacular advances of recent years, the liquified petroleum gas industry registered an estimated 25.9% sales increase in 1951. D. A. Krug, local Shellane LP-Gas jobber, said today.

Approximately 4,100,000,000 gallons of the fuel, also known as butane, propane, bottled and tank gas, were marketed nationally, compared with 3,254,082,000 in 1950. This is exclusive of the amounts that went into production of aviation and motor gasoline and synthetic rubber.

The want ads are newsy too.
