

Many Acts in Annual Band Concert Tonight at School

One hundred and sixty-three members of the Cass City Instrumental Department will present the annual spring band concert tonight (Friday) at the Cass City High School auditorium.

Scheduled for the program, highlight of the music season in Cass City, are the Tonette, fifth grade, sixth grade and high school senior bands.

Each band will play three numbers and the fifth and sixth grade bands will combine their talents in a march.

The program also includes a clarinet solo by Jimmy Jezewski and a cornet duet by David O'Dell and John Donahue. The performers are grade school students.

As an added attraction this year, the high school will present a special section called the Symphonic Band. The top talent of 33 advanced players will combine for three numbers and Bill Patch and Donna O'Dell will be featured soloists.

The 63 members of the high school band will play nine numbers during the evening. The selections will include four marches and a special novelty number called "Ragtime Wedding."

Another feature of the concert will be Paul Yoder's arrangement of "Get On Board Little Children." It is a rhythmic specialty featuring each section of the band.

Special Numbers.

Between these numbers and the remaining selections, there will be two special numbers presented by a woodwind quartet composed of Bonnie Benkelman and Mary Wood playing the clarinet and Dick Hendrick and Grace Ann Graham playing the saxophone.

"Memories of Stephen Foster" will be presented by a brass sextet. The members are Robert Marshall and Kathy Wood, cornet; Nellie Graham, French horn; Norma Harris, baritone; Lenore Peck, trombone; and Arthur Pratt, bass.

New Uniforms.

The band will be playing in their new uniforms for the first time. At this writing, a uniform, belonging to Sharon Ackerman, hasn't arrived.

Borg said that the former members of the Cass City Ladies' Band have been invited to attend the concert.

Final Rites Held for Mrs. Lena Phillips

Funeral services were held May 16, at 2:00 p. m., at the Decker Methodist Church for Mrs. Lena Phillips, Decker, who died at Marlette Community Hospital May 13. Rev. Lewis Caister officiated.

Mrs. Phillips, the former Lena McQueen, was born December 18, 1892, in Evergreen Township. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Glen McQueen. She attended Hay Creek School and Ferris Institute at Big Rapids.

On November 28, 1917, in Marlette, she married Mr. M. F. Phillips, who died in March of this year. After their marriage, they made their home in Decker.

She was a member of the Decker Methodist Church.

Surviving are one daughter, Miss Ann Phillips, Nashville, Tenn.; two sons, Paul and Clayton, both of Decker; four sisters, Mrs. Morton Orr, Cass City, Mrs. Fay McLean and Mrs. Willard Shimmel of Port Huron and Mrs. Mark Patterson of Decker, and two brothers, R. H. McQueen, Detroit, and Glenford McQueen, Sover. A sister, Mrs. Floyd Emigh, preceded her in death.

Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Hawks Post Easy Wins Over Harbor Beach, Marlette

Cass City added two more games to the right side of the ledger when they topped Harbor Beach in a conference game Thursday, May 15, and defeated Marlette in a non-conference tilt Monday. Both games were on the road.

Against Harbor Beach, a sixth inning explosion that netted a fabulous 18 runs, accounted for the Hawks' 15-7 victory.

It looks as if Cass City was going to be defeated going into the top of the sixth when they trailed 3-0 and hadn't been able to touch Binkie for a base hit.

But before the sixth inning was over, the Hawks had netted 13 runs on seven hits, two walks, a hit batsman and an error.

Leading 13-7 as the final inning opened, the Hawks added two more counters in the top half of the seventh to bring their final margin to eight runs and a lopsided victory.

Oatley Presides at Spring Conference

Five Cass City teachers represented the high school at the spring conference of the East Central Association of College Agreement Schools at Flint Wednesday afternoon and evening. The theme of the meeting, attended by 82 college and high school teachers, was "Helping Boys and Girls."

Harold Oatley, assistant principal here, was chairman of the conference and presided at all the general sessions. Arthur Holmberg, principal, spoke on the college agreement and the curriculum as one of a panel of three high school people and two college men to discuss the meaning of the agreement. Russell Kullberg, Otto Ross and Roy Benson represented Cass City in discussion groups on various phases of guidance.

Three Attend Scout State Conference At Camp Pine Lake

Dick Wallace, Jim Ware and Harold Oatley attended the annual state conference of the Order of the Arrow, scout campers' honor society, at Camp Pine Lake, near Fenton. The conference was a three-day affair that began Friday.

The group was addressed by Dr. E. Urner Goodman of Vermont, who founded the Order in 1915, and by Richard Wilson of New York, national secretary.

Oatley and Wallace were members of the state committee which planned the conference. Jim Ware acted the chief speaking part in an Indian ceremony presented by representatives of the Saginaw area Friday night to a state-wide audience of 200 men and boys.

Saturday afternoon, because of the unexpected absence of a young man from Grand Rapids, Ware was asked to study a different role, and Saturday night appeared again in a new part, the only member of the conference to appear in two ceremonies.

Presbyterian Men Meet Sunday

Fifty-four men from Presbyterian churches gathered at the Fraser Presbyterian Church, Old Greenleaf, Sunday for the third annual meeting of the Flint Presbytery Council of Presbyterian Men.

Mr. T. D. Campbell of Bad Axe presided and Rev. W. E. Spence of Bad Axe gave the address. Others on the program were the state president, Mr. Lloyd Collins, Westminster Presbyterian Church of Detroit, who briefly addressed the men and Mr. Bruce Hodgkinson of Marlette, who led the question period.

Special music for the event was furnished by Mr. Arthur Holmberg, Cass City, who sang "My Task," accompanied by Mrs. Calvin MacRae. The men's chorus also sang a special selection.

Refreshments were served by the men of Fraser at the conclusion of the meeting. Members were present from Caro, Cass City, Bad Axe, Harbor Beach, Kinde, Uby and Fraser.

Marlette scored one in the third and one in the fifth for their two runs.

Although Pete Martin smashed out three hits, including a triple, in four tries, the game was marked by good pitching on both sides. Both Ellis for Cass City and McSkulin of Marlette set down 14 via the strike out route in the seven inning contest.

Parish's Store will be open Thursday afternoons.

Five men from the Cass City Track Squad won the right to compete in the state finals by placing in the regional eliminations held at Mt. Pleasant Saturday. Coach Arthur Paddy announced early this week.

Besides qualifying the five men, the team finished third in the meet with 37 points. Mt. Pleasant placed first and Alma was runner-up.

Tom Schwaderer, the meet's high individual scorer with 15 points, qualified in four events. He won the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, tied for first in the high jump and will run a leg on the 880-yard relay.

Tim Burdon placed in two events when he won the board jump and finished second in the 440.

Bill Martus also qualified with a second in the low hurdles. He placed fifth in the high hurdles and will run a leg in the relay in the state contest. Bob Wallace won second in the pole vault and Stan Gunther will run a leg in the relay.

Other point winners at the meet, according to Paddy, were Gunther, who placed third in the 440, and Dean Kritzman, who placed fifth in the mile.

Melvin Hall Tells Of Overseas Trips

Pfc. Melvin Hall writes from Wurzburg, Germany, about his experiences while overseas and the following are excerpts from his letter.

Speaking of the German restaurants he says, "Their (Germany's) main dishes are steaks, spaghetti meat balls and, most of all, Weiner Schnitzel (fried pork chops). The meals are delicious and cost two Dutch marks and 50 Phenings, which is 65c in American money."

Pfc. Hall says that he has found time to visit many historic shrines while in Germany. Of the castle that he saw, the Linderhof Castle and Passion Theater were among those that interested him most. He says the Linderhof Castle is filled with paintings of famous men who ruled as kings there and with elaborate and expensive furniture.

Of the Passion Theater, he reported.

New employees will not take over their duties without advance training. A school for the new men will begin June 2 and interested persons will have to sign in the near future for a guard position.

The additional help is expected to bring the amount of protection at the prison up to the standards now offered by the State Police, who have been drafted for duty.

West Elkland 4-H Club Elects Officers

The West Elkland 4-H Club elected Joyce Donnelly as its president for 1952-53 in the annual election of officers held at the home of the club's leader, Mrs. W. J. Donnelly, Monday evening.

Besides the president, other officers named at the May meeting were: Mary Donnelly, vice president; Sue Edzik, secretary; Jean Martus, treasurer; Jean Martin, recreational leader, and Grace Donnelly, reporter.

At the meeting, members chose their projects. The projects and the number enrolled are: Frozen foods, five; photography, three; junior leader, two; Sears garden, one; flower garden, one; bird study, one; rabbits, one; forestry, one, entomology, one.

The program for the summer was partly planned and will be completed at the next meeting. After the meeting, games were played and refreshments served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clara of Gagetown were honored on their 34th wedding anniversary Sunday, when a large group of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Quick of Caro for a surprise party.

A potluck dinner was served and the guests of honor were presented with many beautiful gifts.

The Claras were wed on May 18, 34 years ago, the date that the anniversary party was held.

Telephone Company To Adopt New Bill

Customers of the Michigan Associated Telephone Company will receive a new and different type of bill from the company beginning this month, Carl R. Nye, district manager, said yesterday. The bill is printed on a durable card, but retains the stub, perforated for easy removal.

With 87,000 customers, and more being added everyday, the company became interested in installing the most economical and efficient system of billing obtainable. The decision to install the billing machines developed by International Business Machines, Inc., was made since the performance of these units and the type of bill they employ offers a triple saving to the company and, indirectly, to the public.

The machines print 400 bills per hour, printing all information in a single operation. In addition, by the use of a separate color for each billing period, stubs can be sorted rapidly without the close examination formerly necessary.

A prime feature of the machine is the posting mechanically of payments by customers, more rapidly and accurately than humanly possible.

Mr. Nye cautioned customers not to tear, fold or mark up the bill, since it bears all information necessary to proper crediting of the payment. He further stated that with the functioning of the new billing department in Muskegon, all company operations are now conducted within the state.

Search County for More Guards to Work in Jackson

Even the dark clouds that brought the recent riots at Jackson Prison may turn out to have a silver lining for some young man in the Cass City area—that is, if he's looking for a job and likes police guard work.

For Mr. DeBoer, branch manager of the local Michigan Employment Office at Caro, advised this paper today that his organization is recruiting new correction officers (prison guards) for the State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Requirements for the position are not too difficult, DeBoer said. All that is required is that applicants be between 21 and 55 years of age, in good health, have a good reputation and at least a grade school education.

The job pays between $3,182 to $3,576 yearly, with a meal a day and uniforms furnished. Overtime is paid for over 40 hours, DeBoer asserted.

New employees will not take over their duties without advance training. A school for the new men will begin June 2 and interested persons will have to sign in the near future for a guard position.

The additional help is expected to bring the amount of protection at the prison up to the standards now offered by the State Police, who have been drafted for duty.

Hardy Dahlia Plant Blooms Without Dirt

Mrs. Raymond McCullough has what is probably the most hardy dahlia bulb in Cass City. The plant rested in her basement all winter waiting for spring planting and when Mrs. McCullough went to get it, she found a small, but perfectly formed flower growing from the roots.

The plant was not in dirt, according to Grover Burke, who brought the plant to the Chronicle office. Besides a full-flowered dahlia, there was another bud on the plant.

Bobby Bullis, 7, Breaks Both Arms

Bad fortune has plagued the Bullis family in recent months.

Seven-year-old Robert Ray Bullis broke his right arm in a fall from a lumber pile about five weeks ago and had the arm in a cast.

Things went along smoothly for awhile after the accident until Bobby, his sister, Judy, and mother, Mrs. Jerry Bullis, who live in Detroit, decided to spend a week at Bobby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bullis.

While in the country, Bobby was determined to make the most of his visit and started climbing a tree while playing and fell and broke his left arm. He now has both arms in casts.

The injuries to Bobby marked the second member of the Bullis family to suffer serious accidents recently. Earlier this year, Cpl. Roy Bullis accidentally shot himself in the leg while cleaning a .22 rifle.

Thumb Publishers To Quiz F. W. Alger Saturday Evening

Thumb publishers, their friends and guests, are scheduled to meet with Fred W. Alger, secretary of state, Saturday night at the New Gordon Hotel for a question-and-answer period to determine his policies in this election year.

Arranged by Robert Neumann, publisher-editor of the Marlette Leader, the meeting will attempt to find out where Alger stands on controversial political issues.

If the plan is successful, publishers of the Thumb hope to continue the meetings with other candidates for State offices.

Neumann pointed out, in letters to the publishers, that the meeting is not a political rally, but an attempt to furnish editors in the area with a clearer view of the candidates in the primary election, August 5.

Cass City High School seniors will be launched into a busy round of final activities next Monday morning with the traditional Swing-Out ceremony scheduled for nine o'clock. Weather permitting, the more than eighty members of this year's graduating class will be led by the school band in a march through the business district and return to the auditorium for a special assembly held in their honor.

A special program, arranged under the direction of Arleon Kelley, junior class president, will be presented before the school audience. Tom Schwaderer, retiring student council president, will turn over the gavel of his office to Arleon, who was recently chosen leader of the students for 1952-53.

Included in the program will be short talks by Joan Holmberg, representing the underclassmen; John Agar, responding for the seniors, and Mr. Ross, speaking for the faculty. The lighter side of the program will come in the Giftatory, in which Ann MacTavish, Jane Hunt, Marjorie Holcomb and Joan Holmberg, all juniors, will present a bagful of gifts to the potential graduates. The band, under Mr. Borg's direction, will complete the program with several spirited numbers.

For the seniors, Swing-Out will mark the beginning of the final week of classes. For them, school will end with next week's session, as their trip to New York City is scheduled for June 2-5. Returning from this, the most pretentious outing ever planned by a graduating class of this high school, they will get ready for Baccalaureate Services on Sunday, June 8, and the culminating event of Commencement, complete with diplomas, on Tuesday, June 10.

Detailed programs for these later events will be published next week.

Farm Wife to Encourage Building, Remodeling

A group of researchers are convinced there's some truth in the warning, "never underestimate the power of a woman."

The real impetus to home building on the nation's farms will probably be generated by Mrs. Farm Wife herself, they say. Farm women, explain Minneapolis-Honeywell researchers, have 51 per cent more children than city women, and obviously larger families—50 per cent of farm children under 18 are in families with four or more children. Therefore, they see the big building push coming from this annual farm family baby crop. These births create a demand by the farm wife for roomier quarters.

Secondly, the expected manpower shortage on farms means that many a farmer will remodel his home to make housework easier for his wife who will have to shoulder more of the chores. The researchers see more automatic equipment, ranging from heating systems to dishwashers, being widely installed to help her keep pace with her new labors.

And if that's not convincing enough, the diligent researchers further point out that the signs are that farm incomes will be up some 5 per cent over last year's record estimate of $37.5 million, indicating that farm families will have the money for construction or remodeling purposes.

Watch for Rabies In Farm Animals

Farmers were asked to be on the lookout for symptoms of rabies this week by Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

He said that dogs, cattle and cats have rabies most frequently. Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State College extension veterinarian, told Ballweg that no cases of the disease in humans have been reported in Michigan during the past 7 years.

But Dr. Reed said that the state health laboratory got reports of 100 cases of rabies in animals in the state in 1951, 260 cases in 1950 and 177 cases in 1949. Many farm animals are susceptible to the disease.

Symptoms of the disease include a change in behavior caused by the effect of the disease on the brain. Gentle animals may become restless and excitable. Friendly dogs may become snappy and snappy dogs may become friendly. Tone of a dog's bark may change and dogs may wander.

In the dumb form of the disease, a partial paralysis may develop. The animal may stagger, drop its jaw, be unable to swallow and become extremely hungry and thirsty.

The disease could be practically eliminated if all dogs were controlled. Pets should be controlled and not allowed to stray. Stray dogs should be reported if there's a warden setup in the community for their control. Keep your pets away from stray dogs.

Vaccination of dogs will help reduce the disease if done on a wide basis, and will reduce the chance that your dog will become infected.

Testing Project

Further facilities for the study of sea water corrosion are being added to the Harbor Island Station of the Kure Beach corrosion project, near Wilmington, North Carolina. Included in the new facilities will be a full-size salt water evaporator and distillation unit to study the effects of water treatment and design on corrosion and scaling of such units—especially as used on board ship.

I Had Arthritis

For twelve years I suffered the pains and torture of this dreaded disease. It was almost impossible for me to rest at night. The pains in my feet, hands, shoulders and knees would cause me to wake up mornings, fatigued, actually more tired than when I went to bed. I tried nearly everything I heard of during these twelve years to get relief, but with little results. About two years ago I tried a product that has given me blessed relief. I cannot express my appreciation for the marvelous improvement I have experienced.

If you are one who is suffering with the pains of arthritis and rheumatism, and would like to know what I took to get results, just send me your name and address and I will be glad to forward the name of the product and where it can be gotten.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

MacArthur has come and gone, leaving a ripple of approval. The legislature has convened, causing a wave of dissent. It still can't get along with our governor.

The General in his famous style of delivery spoke softly and struck sharply at Communism and Socialism in Michigan.

In Detroit he blasted the "inroads made by collectivism" and said we need a "high level of statesmanship dedicated to the common purpose of advancing a liberal and unexploited labor movement and industrial economy sufficiently free from government controls to maintain a reasonable profit potential."

"We must resist," he said, "the spendthrift policies of government which may bring us to the brink of economic chaos and are forcing upon us an irresponsible economy apparently to avoid the political impact of a return to the long range protection of frugality and reason."

"They (labor) must establish strong bulwarks against the pressures upon the free labor movement by Communism, whose initial objective upon ascendancy to political power has ever been the worker's enslavement," the powerful speaker said.

The general's words are no longer news. But this thought is worthy of consideration—the general, despite his untimely suspension, has not been wrong yet.

Lake Michigan and her sister great lakes are slaughtering our beaches.

The rising waters of the lakes have caused millions of dollars in damage and pushed real estate values along the shore line down to nothing.

In 1946 the waters on the western shore of Lake Michigan gouged out a few expensive basements—but those were the expensive basements. The water receded and the entire state sat back and waited for the 20-year cycle to set in, but it didn't.

In 1952, new records were set for the total destruction. Entire tourist areas are being wiped out and beachline along the west coast virtually has vanished.

The situation has reached the point where it has caught the ear of our August congress—which is doing little.

The St. Lawrence Seaway got (or has so far) short shrift, although it hasn't been shelved yet. Assistance to the owners of beach property has been dignified by offering them loans through the RFC.

But mostly Congress is waiting for the cycle to turn the pounding waves back to the low water levels they have maintained the last few years.

And don't think the waters haven't turned Frankenstein on the state. Blue lake Michigan, which for so many years has pulled tourists from all over the nation, has turned on the resorters who have been exploiting it.

Poetic justice, perhaps, but the tourist business in Michigan still ranks with the automobile industry and farming and Michigan can't afford to lose the revenue it brings in.

With the water level at a new high, Lake Michigan and Lake Superior are hammering at the doorsteps of cottages and pulling mile upon mile of beach back into the waters.

Sailors on the lake complain that even their largest navigational checkpoints are vanishing under the bubbling onslaught.

Will the waters recede next year? They must. They can go no farther without inundating the entire peninsula. At least the entire state hopes so.

Donald C. Leonard, former state

Shabbona Extension

The Shabbona Extension Club met Wednesday evening, May 14, at the Community Hall with 16 members present.

The lesson, "The United States of America, It's People and It's Homes," was presented by Mrs. Wilfred Turner and Mrs. Harold Peters.

Mr. Hall was present and showed movies on the importance of the Great Lakes. He also showed slides on landscaping.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, June 3. Each member is asked to bring a hat which she made and placed in a paper bag.

The bag will then be sold and the hats worn for the rest of the evening by their respective buyers.

On Finish Line

The mechanical equipment for a complete finishing job in a bicycle factory has been designed to produce the finest finish obtainable at the lowest possible unit cost. It occupies a minimum of floor space within the plant and provides continuous conveyorized processing from metal cleaning and rust proofing through dry-off, flow-coating and finish baking operations.

police commissioner, has decided to take a whack at the gubernatorial chair.

While speculation ran rife as to what his political aspirations were, the political observers in the state were whacked back on their heels with the degree to which he aspired.

Few, if any, expected the successful police official to put his sights on such a difficult target.

He enters the field against such seasoned campaigners as Fred M. Alger, Jr., secretary of the state; Bill Vandenberg, lieutenant-governor now, and Eugene Keyes, Doctor-Dentist-lawyer who plays in politics because "he has a fever."

Present hopes seem to center around the fact that he will take a passel of votes away from Detroit, where Williams and Alger will be jostling for all but the Hamtramck ballot—which is already Williams!

Six Chosen to Attend 4-H Camp

A delegation of six 4-H boys and girls from Tuscola County will convene June 6, 7 and 8 with 15 other southeastern Michigan counties at the Waldenwoods young men and women's camp, says George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent. The local delegation consists of Gloryanna Taggett of Caro; Martha Dowling, Caro; Joanne Davis, Vassar; Clayton Ruggles, Kingston; Frank McMullen, Mayville; and Richard Enos, Vassar. This event is considered as being one of the finest leadership experiences a 4-H member can attain. Because of this, members were chosen on the basis of a combination consideration of leadership and 4-H record compiled. The three-day event will have a program planned and executed by a campers' committee with the aid of personnel from the State 4-H Club Office and County Extension workers.
Clayton Ruggles, Kingston, was selected by the planning committee as camp chairman. Responsibilities such as vespers, parties, refreshments, flag raising and lowering, banquets, recreation and church services have been distributed to various counties. One of the traditional events is the baseball game between the campers and Extension Agents.
Success to be proud of was not earned by acts that needed lengthy explanations.

Jesus, Lover of My Soul

Jesus, Lover of my soul,
Let me to thy bosom fly,
While the nearer waters roll,
While the tempest still is high;
Hide me, O my Saviour, hide,
Till the storm of life be past;
Safe into the haven guide;
O receive my soul at last.

As Charles Wesley, the author, gazed out an open window, he saw a songbird perched on a branch. The bird flew in thru the window and into the arms of Wesley. It inspired this immortal hymn, so full of hope and trust in the Lord.

Precious Optical Illusion
Palladium, one of the precious platinum metals, is the newest of the rare metals used in jewelry today. The majority of the engagement rings sold in 1950 contained diamonds weighing between one-sixth and one-third of a carat. Buyers of these diamonds frequently prefer to have them set in special settings that make the gems appear larger. It is important that these special settings be made of a white precious metal. Palladium is preferred because the diamond is held securely by this white metal of high strength.

Farm people now make up one-seventh of the total population of the United States. If the present trend away from the farm continues at its present rate, the percentage will be reduced to only one-tenth by the year 1975.

Never mind what the world owes you—it is your ability to collect that counts.

There is such a thing as being "wide-asleep," if it can be called that. That is, some human beings do sleep with their eyes open, but comparatively few people can do it unless they are extremely tired.

That Old Black Magic
The first recorded reference to coal in any form was made by Theophrastus, a pupil of Aristotle, who in 371 B.C. called it black magic stone because it could be set afire.

Sentimental Value
San Franciscans are hoping that the renewal of service on the California Street cable lines will not mean a change of color scheme. The world-famous little cable cars, painted maroon and lettered in gold, are well beloved by San Franciscans. Not only local but visiting painters of note delight in depicting the picturesque conveyances on their sketch pads and canvases. The bouncy, clanky cars are renowned on postcard and portrait.

Roving Eyes
A "roving eye" doesn't actually move out of position unless, that is, you're a flounder. A fully grown flounder has two eyes on one side of his head and none on the other. When he was a baby, he had an eye on each side, like any normal fish, but he took to lying on one side in the sand until one eye slowly traveled around the back of his head and took up a permanent place next to its brother eye.

The American Way

The words "Michigan" and "fishing" are practically synonymous at

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Wonders

It doesn't pay to get set in this business. Just about the time you think that science has given you all the facilities to do a first rate job, a whole new batch turns up for consideration.

After 2, 4-D and DDT, it seemed like there couldn't be much left. A few refinements, maybe, but nothing absolutely new.

How wrong to think that way. That's why it doesn't pay to get set.

Keeping up

Any farmer that closes his eyes to the swiftly moving revelations in agricultural science is out of the race. Used to be a matter of mostly sweat and hours to root a living from the soil. With present cost of operation making profits hard to come by, it's different from start to finish.

Feeding

Let's start with feeding. Feeding anything on a farm. Hogs, cattle or chickens.

A short time ago, a manufacturer told me the industry had learned more about feeding since World War 11 than they had found out in the previous 200 years.

At that time, they had it all figured out, once and for all. The feeds were so nutritious, so perfectly balanced that it should now be considered a disgrace to have a bottle of medicine around the place. If a producer had to use medication in his management, he just wasn't on the beam. The big words were, free choice. Put it in

Hot Weather Poses New Problems for State Flock Owners

Hot weather is coming along to pose some new egg marketing problems for flock owners of Michigan. William A. Aho, Michigan State College poultry specialist, has some suggestions along this line.

He says that eggs should be gathered often and stored in a moist place at a temperature of about 55 degrees to maintain good quality. Also, they should be marketed at least twice a week.

Most all flock owners feel they have to wash eggs at one time or another. Aho cites work done at the New Jersey Experiment stations which seems to have the answer for doing the job right.

Their work shows that eggs can be collected in wire baskets and dunked in a detergent solution made at the rate of one-half pint detergent to six gallons of water. The solution should be about 140 degrees and the eggs should be rinsed after dunking with a clean, forced spray of tap water at 140 degrees.

If they are then air-dried by a fan, they maintain quality equal to unwashed eggs under comparable conditions.

Aho also suggests putting a small basket on the side of the egg gathering basket for collecting the dirties. In this way they won't contact the clean eggs. Soiled eggs should be brushed clean. Dirty eggs should be washed immediately.

Cellophane Tape Uses

A torn paper dress pattern can be restored by applying strips of cellophane tape over the tears. Use cellophane tape to mend your worn out driver's license case where the imitation leather has been scuffed or torn. Crayons and colored chalks so popular with children won't break off so easily if wound around with cellophane tape. It will mend the broken ones. A cracked window pane can be restored to usefulness sealed with a strip of transparent tape.

front of 'em, let 'em eat all they want. The theory was: Chickens and animals are smarter than humans. They (chickens and animals) knew what to eat and how much.

Practice and Theory

Now, this free choice deal had marvelous results. All the vitamins and antibiotics they doused the feed with changed the whole conception of feeding. All sorts of records were broken. We had entered a new era of nutrition, on the farm.

This put the whole country on the high road to greater production. We were going through typical American revolution of constant progress.

But, cracks in the fortress are beginning to appear.

New Discoveries

There is a new chemical, just out called "Krilium." The manufacturers claim that very limited use can turn the most unproductive clay into a rich loam.

A chemical company has just released a bulletin about a new bug killer called "Sistox." They claim one application will make every tree or plant a death trap for ANY bug for a whole growing season. (Not harmful to humans).

Another outfit has a spray ready for the market that will do away with every known blight plaguing tomatoes or potatoes.

As for feeding: A group of poultry men have been testing a thing called "limited feeding." Their records show a saving of as much as 50 percent in feeding and 15 more eggs per year.

They put the feed in front of the bird for just ten minutes, twice a day. The second feeding, by the way, is just plain oats. And then, they miss a complete feeding twice a week.

Also, have you heard the one about the feed lot operator that does a better job on corncocks, corn and vitamins?

Like I say, "Don't get set."

New Methods Cut Weather Hazards

Newer hay-harvesting methods which reduce weather hazards are becoming more common on Michigan farms, resulting in higher quality hays, according to Karl A. Vary, Michigan State College agricultural economist, who has studied the situation.

The weather problem in field-curing hay to 25 per cent or less is obvious. To field-cure hay to a moisture content of 25 per cent requires about 15 to 20 hours of sunshine. That means about one and a half to two days of clear weather.

According to U. S. Weather bureau Records at East Lansing, the probable number of days without rainfall during the first two weeks in June is about two or three days in a row. You can count on about one to two clear days in a row during the second two weeks in June, and three clear days in a row during the first week in July. These figures were compiled by Vary from records from 1918 to 1951.

With a hay crusher the number of hours of sunshine required to field-cure hay is cut to eight to ten. A barn drier will cut hours of sunshine required to six to eight. And farmers who make grass silage need only one to three hours of sunshine to cure their hay.

The dry matter loss for the hay loader method is 24 per cent, for the hay crusher it is 21 per cent, for the barn drier 16 per cent, and for grass silage, 15 per cent. These dry matter loss figures are from time of cutting until time of feeding.

Green tipped bananas are best for cooking, ripe bananas flecked with brown are best for salads and fruit cups. Try baking this fruit by placing it in a well-buttered pan and sprinkling with salt and baking at 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. For variations, bake with brown sugar, molasses or cranberries.

There are better ways of staying young than by acting childish.

Peas, beans and lentils fall short of meat in the quality of protein they possess, but if they are served with eggs, milk or cheese, they can take the place of meat in the meal, say Michigan State College nutritionists.

Baked beans will stay piping hot on your next picnic if you insulate the dish with plenty of newspaper wrapping.

China that seems very fine and delicate is actually a tough, durable product that can stand wear and tear. Be careful not to expose china to extreme temperature changes, however.

M S C Tips Help Cut Seeding Failure

Better seeding in oats and barley are possible by observing a few tips from farm crops specialists at Michigan State College. Good cultural methods, plus a new method of seeding, help do the job.

Soil should be right, they say, with a PH (acidity rating) of six or above. Your county agricultural agent can help you check the PH of the soil. If PH is below six, lime should be added, especially for alfalfa. Use 400 pounds of 0-20-20 fertilizer per acre at time of seeding.

The drill should be set so the seed falls behind the disk. Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station tests in 1951 got twice as good a stand when seed fell behind disks as when it fell in front of the disks. When dropped in front, seed was covered too deeply.

Cultipacking after seeding is a valuable practice, too.

Band seeding is a new method of improving seeding in oats and garden hose two and one-half feet long to tubes leading from small seeding attachment, and wire the hose back of the disks so seed falls on top of the ground. It should fall eight inches behind disks to get seed directly above fertilizer for a quick boost in seedling growth.

Band seeding is especially valuable on poor soils or when the season is dry, the farm crops specialists say.

Experiments at East Lansing gave a 48 percent better stand of alfalfa by using band seeding as compared to conventional drill seeding.

Taking time to insure good seeding helps reduce costly failures. Seeding failures result in loss of expensive seed, soil erosion, lack of high quality roughage for livestock and breaking up of planned rotations with reduction in yield of following crops.

Greenleaf Extension Holds Final Meeting

The Greenleaf Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Archie McEachern for their final meeting of the season on May 9.

The business meeting was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Elmer Feuster, and roll call was answered by "health hints."

The lesson topic, "Know Your Heart," was presented by Mrs. Rayford Thorpe and Mrs. Henry McLellan.

A delectable lunch was served the group by the hostess.

Spray Guns Helpful

The spray gun is now available in small models and simplified form for home use. In addition to being useful for large areas, they are handy for painting radiators, hard-to-reach spots, indoor and outdoor furniture.

The Common Cold

Chiropractors are not in business to knock anti-histamines or Hadacol but—
Patients under chiropractic care for a time usually comment on the fact that, though other members of their families have had colds, they seem able to resist them very well.

This is not co-incidence because, according to your Chiropractor, the common cold is a natural method the body has of eliminating waste materials accumulating over a period of time.

The chiropractor says that two or three mild colds a year cause no particular concern.

But when colds become frequent it is a danger signal that the general functioning of the body is below par. The organs and glands which usually remove waste products have become incapable of normal function.

It is a signal to consult your chiropractor for a check-up and a simple adjustment.

No bottles. No pills. No pain. See for yourself by calling on your local chiropractor, DR. B. V. CLARK, at 148 W. Lincoln Street, Caro or phone 370 for an appointment.—Adv.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve Simple Refreshments Graciously
(See Recipes Below)

Entertaining Lightly

ANY WOMAN WHO belongs even to one club will have to take her turn at entertaining the members every once in a while. Perhaps it's a sewing circle, a bridge group or a committee.

These occasions which come in the afternoon or evening need something of the light refreshment variety. You'll want something your friends will rave about, but at the same time, keep it simple and easy to serve.

Light desserts are welcome often, and so are tasty but dainty sandwiches or cookies. If these can be made in advance, you're free to devote the last few minutes before they arrive toward looking your prettiest or giving the house a once over lightly to have everything at its best.

If the refreshments are to be served buffet style, with all the ladies going to the dining table or sideboard to help themselves, this can be set in advance. Your prettiest tea set with attractive platters of cakes, sandwiches or cookies will make for a decorative occasion.

A few blossoms or leaves attractively arranged can add festivity even to simple tables. If you have a lovely glass bowl, try floating a few flowers in clear water, or place some vines in a well designed container.

Refrigerator cookies can be mixed and chilled several days ahead of time, to be baked on the morning of the day you entertain. This type is especially colorful.

Fruity Ice Box Cookies
(Makes 6 dozen)
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup minced candied cherries
1/2 cup minced candied green pineapple

Blend together shortening, sugar, egg and vanilla. Stir in remaining ingredients and blend until smooth. Divide dough into four equal parts and shape each portion into a 1-inch roll. Chill rolls thoroughly.

(They may be wrapped in foil or waxed paper). Slice off cookies about 1/4-inch thick and place on ungreased cookie sheets 2 to 3 inches apart. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 15 minutes.

These date cookies are really sandwiches and give you nice variety with any other kinds of cookies served.

Oatmeal Date Sandwiches
(Makes 48 cookies)
Cookie Dough:
1 1/4 cups butter or substitute
1 cup brown sugar
2 1/2 cups flour
2 1/2 cups rolled oats, uncooked
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup warm water
Filling:
1 pound dates, minced
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup cold water
To make cookie dough, cream

LYNN SAYS:
Enhance Your Vegetables
To Add Menu Interest

Preserve fresh green colors in vegetables by cooking without the cover. Some vitamin loss will occur, but short cooking can prevent much of this, and vegetable will be eaten if it's more attractive.

Cabbage and cauliflower should be washed carefully to prevent any worms from lodging in the vegetable. If placed in cold, salted water for a short time before cooking, worms can be drawn out.

If the lines of your farmhouse are low and horizontal, plant low, rounded foundation plantings for best effect.

Little Sleep for Soldiers Battling Flood

Editor's note: This is the third and last installment of the letter from Pvt. McConnell.

They put you to work filling sand bags and after that it is hard to keep track of time. That 12-hour shift is a joke. It's 0230 before you get back and after that first night they call you out after only three or four hours of sleep sometimes and you work 12, 14 or 16 hours at a time. You eat when you can and sometimes that isn't at all. It seems that if it wasn't for the townfolks and the Red Cross you would starve to death. The army is doing a poor job of getting chow out to you and when they do, it is usually only a couple cold sandwiches. You do just about everything that there is to be done.

First you are on one job and then on another. There is an enormous crew of civilians working but they are under the supervision of the engineers. You sort of take the initiative and do whatever has to be done to keep the ball rolling. The work must go on day and night. They expect the crest of the flood in a couple of days and it is already within 3 feet of the top of the levee. A company is the only outfit here and they work like heck. At night the string of truck lights and carbide flares make a pretty sight as they extend for miles along the levee. This particular levee is 11 miles long. The civilians are operating a tremendous fleet of dump trucks. You count as many as six dozen trucks that you can see at one time. Six dozen dump trucks, eight dozers, two large cranes, three or four pickups, two graders, and a bunch of army dence and a halves that are in view at one time. That gives you some idea of the tremendous scope of this operation. If this dyke doesn't hold, twenty thousand acres of farm land will be flooded. There is no sand to put into the so called sandbags. There is only mud. Mud, mud, and more mud. The fields next to the levee are very wet and under ponds of water in most places. You have to keep watch for sand boils, places where the water seeps through the bottom of the levee and bubbles up in the ponds on the other side. A wall of sandbags has to be built around the worst boils. If they are not taken care of, they will undermine the levee and it will cave in. If that happens, you had better head for high ground because once that water gets a good start through the levee, nothing can stop it.

The side of the levee is thick with snakes and mice that have been driven to high ground. The ducks are about the only thing that seems to enjoy the flood. They say that the river is about ten times as wide as it usually is at this point. When you look out over the flood you can't think of it as a river but only as a lake. You see the peaks of a couple of barns sticking out of the water and the tops of a couple railroad crossing signs are just barely visible at the base of that hill way out there. In closer to the levee about six feet of the top of a bridge can be seen. About 100 yards out from the levee is a strip of ground six feet wide and two hundred yards long. There are a couple skunks running up and down its length looking for a way off. You see a muskrat swimming close to the levee and out there on a log is something that might be a possum or a beaver. One of the fellows gets a new born wolf. He is a cute little fellow and becomes the pet of the company.

The mud is pretty bad and a couple graders and dozers are kept busy keeping the ground passable for the trucks. There is a never ending stream of trucks. They get their load of dirt, dump it on the levee, and head back for more. We are literally rapping the side off a hill and piling it on the levee. That levee has to be built up a lot to handle the crest of the flood. They don't know where the crest is right now. They have lost track of it. Every time that a levee goes out upstream it is slowed down. It should be here before long though.

The weather hasn't been with you at all. It has been cold and damp and rainy. You wish that you had a pair of hip boots. Sloshing around in mud with just combat boots and fatigues on.

Piper Cubs keep a constant vigil above the water and twice you see a helicopter.

They move in one whole battalion and part of another one. You think "Oh boy, relief at last" but they only move you downstream 20 miles where they say you are needed worse. A company seems to be spark plugging this campaign.

The top of this new levee will be all right but you have to work on the sand boils. You work for twelve hours here and then go back to rest. You get back to town about 2400 and at 0300 a guy comes running in saying that the crest is hitting Forbes levee. He turns on the lights and wakes everybody up. It is an emergency and we have to get out there in a hurry. They are having a hard time holding the levee. Forbes levee is the one that you have been working on right along.

Well this is it. You get in the trucks and take off.

The trucks can't go further than a bridge about 8 miles from the levee. If that levee breaks they might not get out again. So you leave the trucks and finish the trip to the levee on a little rail motor car. The railroad runs right down to the levee. When you get to the levee the lieutenant says, "Men, we were here before and we fought like dogs for it. Let's not lose it now." Then you go to work.

Later, the paper said the water was coming over the levee in three places. Three places heck! The water was seeping over all down the line.

You start working about two miles down the levee and you take one long look at the high ground down at the end. Of course you are not scared, but you wonder just how long it would take to make that two miles if the levee broke.

The trucks are all gone now. They couldn't get through anyway. The only thing that can get through that mud is a cat. There are a couple of them running up and down the levee carrying bales of empty sandbags in their scoops.

Even the captain and a major are busy handling sandbags. It is a long hard fight, but you finally win and there isn't an inch to spare. You took everything the wild Missouri could hand you and came out on top. It makes you feel good. You learn later that the civilian engineers had given the levee up as lost at 0200. The army said no though and called A company out.

The brass and civilian wheels give company A credit for saving the levee. All you know is that you worked like blazes until you just wanted to lay down in the mud and rain and go to sleep.

Some of the guys claim they lost as much as ten pounds.

The battle is over now. All that remains to be done is to patrol the levee and watch for the washing away of the bank by the receding water.

Here is part of what the St. Joe paper had to say.

"Only the superhuman efforts of the soldiers, corp of engineers and construction company employees during a pitched three-day battle saved the endangered levee, two top river engineers declared."

Both Col. E. E. Browning, area engineer for the corp of engineers, and Lieutenant Col. Sydney Davis, in charge of the Pick-Sloan levees in this district, were high in their praise of the men, who for 72 hours waded through mud and water to keep the pounding Missouri from breaking through the huge embankment.

Complicating the struggle were rains which made roads by which trucks had been hauling dirt and material to the 11-mile-long levee impassable. During one period early yesterday morning, the river began to surge over the levee at three points. Sandbagging was resorted to and the gaps were plugged as troops slogged their way through mud that was hip deep at times.

"It was just like Burma except there wasn't any shooting," said Col. Browning.

Well, that's the story, Charlie. We are supposed to start back for Carson Monday.

So long for now,
Stub.

Color Conveys Cleanliness
Fastidiousness and cleanliness in a store is often conveyed to the public by its color scheme. One baker does it by painting his establishment all white. Another pastry shop has a blue front and a large white area above the show window. A similar air has been given to a drug store by painting the front of the store, as well as the door and trim, in white. The firm's name is lettered in magenta.
