Sanitation Spray Aid in Fly Control

Fly control around the farm is of Flint, Miss Dorothy Tyo of no easy job but sanitation and use will make it easier, according to Ray Janes, Michigan State College entomologist.

Sanitation means getting rid of all places where flies may breed. Janes said that unless breeding places are removed, it is doubtful that spray materials will do the control job. Manure piles, damp areas, calf pens and similar areas are breeding places for flies.

Present regulations forbid use of DDT in dairy barns. But lindane or methoxychlor will control flies in barns, Janes said. Ten pounds of 25 per cent wettable lindane powder, or 40 pounds of 50 per cent wettable methoxychlor powder, in 100 gallons of water is the correct strength. It should be applied in a coarse spray, but not in quantities that will run off the walls. Do not spray feeds, watering cups or mangers, Janes warned.

Outside walls or pig pens may be sprayed with DDT at the rate of 40 pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder to 100 gallons of water. Chlordane, at the rate of 16 pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder for 100 gallons of water, also may be used. Lindane, mixed the same as for inside use also is effective. A combination of pyrethrum and piperonyl butoxide is now available for spraying for horseflies and will aid in control of deer flies. However, treatment will last only about five days even under the best circumstances and concentrated dosages. Follow instructions of manufacturers, Janes recommended.

Buying Carrots When buying carrots, look for those with fresh-looking tops, that are smooth and well-shaped, that are clean, and that have fresh-looking, bright orange roots.

ANOTHER TEXAN

He was a Texan on his first trip to West Virginia and as he sat in the hotel lobby, he wasted no time contrasting the glories of his native state with West Virginia, "Why," he drawled, "you ain't got much in this little old country here except mountains."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Clean Your House Efficiently When Summer Deflates Energy

By Ertta Haley

YOU DON'T HAVE to let your house go during the summer months! Yes, it's true that you may spend a lot of time outside doing things and you don't have as many guests coming into the house, but for the times they do, have the home slick, clean and neat. It really isn't necessary to spend a lot of time on the house to keep it clean and orderly. In the first out-of-doors activities and this cuts down wear and tear on the house. In the second place, if you planned as smart homemakers do, your housework is pared down to a minimum by summer drapes and spreads that can be washed in a jiffy and need little or no ironing. Other items are put away, too, because you want to cut down on knick-knacks to dust, magazines and books to push around while cleaning and heavy rugs removed to keep the rooms cooler.

place, much activity is centered on

If you're really going to be smart about the housework, gather together some easy-to-use cleaners that do a snappy job in double time: forked dusters for Venetian blinds, window cleaner, long-handled mops and brooms that prevent bending, self-polishing cleaners and waxes on which you won't have to expend a lot of elbow work.

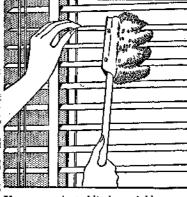

Keep your cleaning supplies in one place, in a basket, so they'll be right on hand when needed, and, all together.

Plan to whisk through the various cleaning routines while you feel fresh in the cool of the morning. That way leaves you free for a good part of the day, and easy and content about the way the house looks.

Doing the job this way does away with any big activity in cleaning that is really wearing!

Keep Windows Shining, Clean

Since the sun is bright during summer, people are bound to notice your windows, just as you do. You can do a quick job on windows as well as all the mirrors around the house with treated cloths just for the purpose, if they aren't too soiled. For bigger jobs of cleaning use professional cleaners that are quickly applied and easily wiped off. There are waxes, scratchproof cleansers as well as spray-on liquids. If you have small-paned windows, squeegees cut to fit the panes exactly will make an easy job of the cleaning. Try to avoid washing windows when the sunlight is directly on them. This makes the cleaner you're using dry too fast, and it also dries the glass to have the sun on it. All of this will cause streaking.

You can dust blinds quickly . .

Little Attentions Pay Dividends On Walls

One of the big reasons why you should not let cleaning slip during the summer is the fact that walls and wallpaper can get very dusty and dirty. Your windows are open a great deal, of course, and dust and grit will get blown around. If allowed to slip, this kind of cleaning can be expensive and difficult in the webs from gathering, and as any homemaker knows, these can spring up almost overnight to embarrass her in front of guests! Showers will undoubtedly be frequent, and with windows open, sills can become very chipped and dirty. A cream wax wiped on the sills after cleaning is good technique. As you wipe it on, you'll remove finger smudge and -rints, and, at the same time, leave a protective and smooth finish which resists

If you have youngsters in and out of the house, get at the smudges almost as soon as they appear. Then you won't have to spend any long sessions rubbing at alls and getting all the way down to permit drying.

Waterproof Cover

Sudden showers, while windows are open, cannot damage this trim-looking radiator cover, for the top is finished with moisture-proof clay tile. Dust and grime can be removed in a jiffy, simply by wiping with a damp cloth. The cover also makes an ideal extra top shelf in a small child's room.

off most of the paint.

For times when you do have to wash part of a door or a wall, make the task easier by washing from the bottom toward the top. This will prevent streaking. Use a solution which does not need rinsing, so that you need go over it only cace.

Wallpaper can be cleaned with dough-type cleaners. Start at top, work down, using a light, even touch. Overlap the strokes to prevent streaking. Keep turning and kneading the dough so the dirt can be kept off the surface of the dough which you're applying,

Clean and Polish Furniture In One Operation

Glossy wood surfaces will not get as dirty and dusty as quickly as those which are dulled by lack of care. Therefore, if you want to make easy work of dusting, use furniture cleaner and polish regularly.

Furniture, to look its best must be clean as well as polished. It's a time-saver to use a cleaner and polish, so that all this can be done most quickly.

There are many polishes now on the market, too, which do not require much rubbing to bring out the fullest luster of your furniture. In this case, rub it on, let dry slightly, and then rub off and you have a good luster without much work.

When rubbing polish either on or off furniture, make certain you rub with the grain of the wood. A good supply of freshly clean or new cloths will make easy work of applying or rubbing down the polish. These should be soft as well as lintfree to be most effective.

of the wood, but they can usually be removed easily if you apply some cleaner-wax to the ring. If the rings don't disappear with the first application, place a blotter over them; and press with a warm (not hot); iron. Repeat this process until the rings disappear.

Clean Upholstery By New Methods

If your furniture is upholstered and not slip-covered, your biggest problem is to keep the furniture from looking grimy. Remove spots as they appear. In this way they can't get covered with daily dust and dirt and become dissicult to remove.

There are many good spot cleaners available, and some can be sprayed on, then rubbed, and this is a good way to prevent rings from forming. It's smart to test the cleaner on the back or some other inconspicuous spot so you can be certain he fabric doesn't fade. One of the easiest ways in which you can clean upholstered pieces, where the whole chair or sofa needs cleaning, is foam cleaner. The lather or suds which are worked up can be applied easily, without mess, to brighten colors. Foam cleaners can be used only if the fabric is fast-colored. Use an electric fan, too, to speed the drying. It's best to clean only small areas at a time.

Use the vacuum cleaner attachments on upholstered pieces as a regular part of your cleaning routine. The cushions should be cleaned on all sides first and then you should go over the frame. Use a crevice cleaner where you can't reach to get at loose dust, crumbs,

Did you know that the name of Yucatan, the Mexican state, literally means, "Huh?" or more politely, "What did you say?" The name came into being when the Spanish explorers asked the natives the name of their land. The puzzled Indians responded with their word for, "I don't understand you." The Spanish took this to be the name of the country, and it stuck.

Service Machinery Before Rush Season Servicing Will Prevent Expensive Breakdowns

The big season of work is here. If you haven't prepared your equipment for the long hard grind, you better hurry.

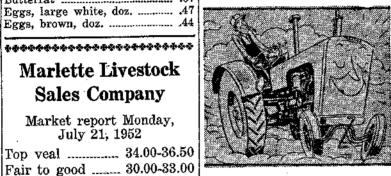

What about the tractor? If it has sat idle in the barn through the cold months, it needs attention. Service chores now are easier than later when you're in the midst of the rush season.

Give your tractor a spring lift with fresh oil, grease and gasoline. Stale gasoline literally gums up an engine; clean the carburetor care-

The oil probably had hours of cable insulation is brittle, don't Have the spark plugs cleaned and adjusted, even though they were new late last season. While they're scientifically designed to keep a

While on the subject of ignition, check the timing; your tractor service manual shows how. Improper timing is a power thief but easily remedied. Don't drag a plow or harrow around your acreage in second gear when a few minutes work will let you do it in third.

Clean the air filter now-and throughout the season. During the busy season douse it in kerosene, add fresh oil every ten hours or if fields are real dusty, every five. Remember, too, that a good operator puts a grease gun to pressure fittings every ten hours on wearand-tear spots.

Keeping your tractor and other equipment in good operating condition is a matter of pure dollar economy.

Fertilized Soils Drink Hard Rains

Unfertilized Soils Break Down Under Hard Rains

Does your farm land "drink" in pelting rains? Or do those rains break down the surface soil, seal the top like a lid, puddle and then run

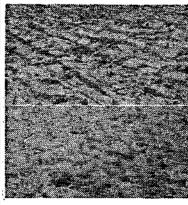

The answer depends on soil care, say Missouri University agronomists.

The accompanying photos show what happened after a beating rain fell on two freshly plowed fields adjoining each other at the Sanborn Experiment Field at Columbia, Mo.

Both fields had been in corn since 1888. The top field was fertilized; the lower one not. For the test, all crops were removed and then the soil was plowed.

Soil in the top field took the rain in stride. The water drained quickly down in. There was practically no runoff; no soil damage, or loss of water or topsoil. The plowed clods are intact and the surface looks loose and porous.

On the lower field, the beating rain broke the bare surface soil into tiny particles. Clods were dissolved.

The tiny particles quickly filled the pores of the surface soils, forming a hard, lid-like crust. Water could not get down in, so it ponded on the surface. This field suffered a double loss. It lost needed moisture for crops and it lost valuable topsoil due to runoff.

Sales Cycles

Automobile sales figures from 1893, when the Duryea Brothers' first gasoline driven vehicle appeared, to 1950, show a definite sixyear cycle. Of the 13 highs and lows indicated all but one have come exactly on time or within a year and a half of perfect timing.

Fast, Efficient Way To Fertilize Shown Liquid Nitrogen Sprayed On 1,000 Acres by Plane

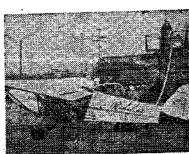

How to fertilize a 1000-acre field in a day was recently demonstrated in Madison County, Ohio.

A new liquid nitrogen product was used. The feat was made pos-, sible by direct transfer of the fertilizer from a railroad tank car to a Burton Allen, gasoline .. small plane on a landing field adjacent to the train siding. The loaded plane flew to a farm 20 miles away, sprayed the wheat field, and returned to the siding for another load, all in about 15 minutes. Six thousand gallons, in all, were used in this first rail-plane fertilizing operation.

The railroad predicted a largescale system of fueling centers for liquid fertilizer in the future.

For many farmers, the event recalled other chapters in the story of railroad agricultural development and assistance to farmers.

On March 1, 1911, in Broome. County, New York, the first county agent in the United States was hired at the suggestion of a Lackawanna vice president. The railroads, in fact, paid part of his salary. Subsequently, many eastern railroads established their own agricultural departments, and worked with the agricultural colleges, running farm demonstration trains into rural communities. Soil conservation, better livestock breeding, new
