Get ready now for safe grain storage this fall

Typical HARTZELL Installation

Whether you raise grain for feed or sale, you need proper storage facilities. And proper storage means preservation, not merely cover. Hartzell drying of grain in the bin takes the risk out of holding it for the rising market or for feed. Takes the moisture out before grain has a chance to deteriorate. Hartzell equipment is low in cost, easy to install and economical to operate. Come in today and let us show you how you can obtain greater crop profits with a Hartzell fan.

ELKTON

Young Billy Hubble shows how easy it is to unload a silo electrically. Automatically controlled, the blades work silage to the center, where it is picked up by the blower and dropped down the chute.

ELECTRIC SILO UNLOADER

saves one hour's hard work a day

Every farmer knows that it's hard, disagreeable work to climb into a silo every day and throw down silage. Charles Hubble, Lapeer County farmer, has done something about it with a new electric silo unloader that does the job for him and saves at least an hour of work every day. He finds these advantages, too. (1) The cows eat more because the silage is shredded finer. (2) The revolving blades keep the top of the silage leveled off, with less surface exposed to freezing. (3) Less waste from spoilage.

For more complete information on this new time-saving electric farm-hand, see your dealer or your Bdison Farm Service Advisor.

Good wiring is always important. So always ask your Farm Service Advisor for his recommendations.

Excitement Grows For State 4-H Show

Excitement among the 60,000 Michigan 4-H Club boys and girls mounts as State Show time arrives. Climax for the year's program, the 37th annual State Show will be held August 26 to 29 on the Michigan State College campus in East Lansing.

Some 2,000 youngsters are expected on campus to show the fruits of their year's work. Cash prizes and state-wide prestige are the goals. Highest honor will go to the two boys and two girls who earn top honors in the achievement booth competition. They will earn a trip to the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington next June.

Premium books are out, listing rules and requirements as well as judges and superintendents in the wide range of 4-H Club projects. Verne Freeman, acting state club leader, announces that the members will be housed in Shaw Hall on the MSC campus again this year.

Last week training and eliminations were held at Gaylord for members in the northern part of the lower peninsula. On July 28 a week-long 4-H Club Week will get under way at Camp Shaw in Chatham for Upper Peninsula members, Freeman said.

Final judging and eliminations will be held in East Lansing the first two weeks in August to pare down contestants for the State Show. Members in the lower part of Michigan will participate in these semi-final eliminations August 7 and 8 at MSC. Northern Michigan youngsters will come in August 11 and 12 to determine which members will earn the privilege of competing in the State Show.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Ed Vallender, Farm Editor
WBCM - Bay City
Downpour

The blessed rains come . . . and then the aftermath. Nature does funny tricks, sometimes. It's hard to outguess the old gal.

Some of the potato farmers located near the Bay were pumping water into the tile system to help beat the drought. Then came the three inches of rain ending the 21st and for them almost complete ruin. The ground was so soaked with tile irrigating, that the surface water had no place to go. Rot set in. Those with no irrigation will have less yield than in other years . . . but they didn't lose the whole crop. And so it goes. They speak of ten million dollars worth of damage in the Michigan wheat crop due to sprouting. On the other hand . . . a tremendous help to most every other row crop in need.

It was a freak rain . . . lasting some four days. The first part was steady and well controlled. The last day was the knockout. Flash floods put entire farmlands completely under water in some sections . . . missed others in the same township completely.

It was the rule . . . not the exception. All over the state the reports came in: either too much, or none at all.

Marketing Co-op
A new potato marketing Co-op is just starting operating in the Munger area. The special kind of sandy loam through two townships makes excellent spud ground. Several times during the last 20 years attempts were made to bring spud growers into an association with a common purpose. The efforts failed for one reason or another.

Right now, the "spud Valley" Co-op, with offices in Munger, have 100 members and 3,000 acres under contract. They are determined to make it work. If it does, it will mean a half million dollar boost in income to all the growers. The harvest season is very short. Most of the potatoes are dug and sold between August 1 and September 15. The Munger field is one of the major potato areas in the Country. Ten thousand acres of "early" cobbles pour into mid-western markets in a short space of time. The Co-op was formed to look for new and better markets. To eliminate the practices which have been so costly in the past.

Here's wishing "Spud-Valley" lots of luck.

Assuring Rainwear
A good trick for keeping rubbers and rainwear from getting separated or mislaid is to give your child brightly painted clothespins with his initials on them so he can clip galoshes in pairs, and rain hat to raincoat.

1951 Discoveries
In remote wildernesses of the Peruvian Andes, two explorers sought to pinpoint the true source of the Amazon River. A 5,000-square-mile desert of frozen sand was discovered on the Arctic Ocean coast of Alaska. In the North Sea, a German clergyman renewed the centuries-old search for the legendary sunken empire, Atlantis.

Frosty Drinks

THINK OF TALL, cool drinks and you are refreshed just by imagining them! Lazy afternoons spent on the lawn and comfortable evenings spent on the porch call for icy beverages that nourish as well as cool you off.

Wise homemakers will keep plenty of vegetable and fruit juices chilling in the refrigerator, ready to be poured into glasses and served at any time of morning, noon or evening.

When guests drop in, it's delightful to turn out fruit juice drinks, frosty and delightful, with a few flicks of the wrist. Your choice of cooling drinks is enormous, and they're all very simple. Usher them in with some cookies and you'll satisfy anyone's desire for refreshments!

Attractive glasses help make the drinks look especially mouth-watering. Add some gay, striped straws and sprigs of mint or fruit juice cubes to the glasses, and you'll have real party fare.

If you keep canned fruit juices and ice cream on hand, the beverages offer no problem. Place dips of ice cream into large glasses and fill with pineapple, orange or combination fruit juice. With straws and mint sprigs, the sodas are ready to serve!

When you want to have a partied punch, here are two excellent ideas:

- Pink Lemonade Punch (Serves 48) 1 cup sugar, 2 cups water, 2 cups lemon juice, 2 quarts chilled gingerale, 1 quart water and ice cubes, 1/2 gallon pre-packaged vanilla ice cream

Combine sugar and water in saucepan; place over heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Pour into punch bowl. Stir in lemon juice and chilled gingerale. Add ice cubes and water; stir until ice is melted.

If desired, a few drops of red food coloring may be added to make the punch pink. Open ice cream carton and use scoop or tablespoon to add ice cream to punch. Stir until ice cream is partially melted. Serve by 1/2 cupfuls.

- Mocha Meat Punch (Serves 48) 2 quarts freshly-made double strength coffee, 1 cup sugar, 2 quarts water and ice cubes, Peppermint flavoring, 1/2 gallon pre-packaged chocolate ice cream, 1 pint heavy cream, Green food coloring

Pour coffee into punch bowl. Add sugar, water and ice cubes. Stir until sugar is dissolved and ice melted. Add a few drops of peppermint flavoring. Open carton of ice cream and use scoop or tablespoon to add ice cream to punch. Whip cream; stir in a few drops of green coloring to tint a delicate green. Spoon on top of punch. Serve by 1/2 cupfuls.

- Fruit Flip (Serves 6) 1 pint orange, lemon lime or raspberry sherbet, 3 12-ounce cans (3 cups) pineapple juice, Mint leaves

Place a spoonful of sherbet in

- LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU *Zippy Tomato Juice, Salmon Salad, Pickle Sticks, Potato Chips, Hot Buttered Buns, Lime Sherbet, *Pineapple Raisin Drops Beverage, *Recipe Given each glass. Fill with pineapple juice. Garnish with mint leaves.

- *Zippy Tomato Juice (Serves 6-8) 3 cups tomato juice, 1/2 cup orange juice, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt

Combine ingredients; blend well; chill. Serve, topped with a sprig of parsley either as an appetizer or a refreshing beverage.

- Berry Punch (Serves 6-8) 1 1/2 cups loganberry or other berry juice, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 2 cups orange juice, 1 1/2 cups cold water, Orange slices, Fresh raspberries

Blend together juices and water. Pour over ice cubes. Float orange slices, centered with raspberries, anchored with a toothpick.

It's a good plan, on the days on which you do bake, to make a batch of cookies for the beverages. Here are some delicious recipes.

- *Pineapple Raisin Drops (Makes 2 1/2 dozen) 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, 1 egg, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup drained, crushed pineapple

Cream together sugar and shortening until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Stir into creamed mixture. Add well-drained, crushed pineapple (measured after draining), raisins and vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot (400°F.) oven or until lightly browned.

- Chocolate Mint Wafers (Makes 2 dozen) 1/2 cup butter or substitute, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 2 cups enriched flour, 1/2 cup cocoa, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup milk

Cream together butter and sugar. Beat egg and add; blend thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix thoroughly. Chill. Roll 1/8-inch thick on slightly floured surface with 2 1/2-inch cookie cutter. Bake on a greased cookie sheet in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 8 minutes. You should have 48 cookies all together. Put together with the following filling: combine 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar, dash of salt, 2 drops peppermint extract and 3 to 4 teaspoons light cream; beat until of spread consistency.

LYNN SAYS: To eliminate ants permanently, always try to find where the nest is so it can be destroyed.

Large cuts of veal which lend themselves to the simmering method are the neck, shank, heart or tongue. They're especially delicious with some spices added to the water.

Reporter Tells Of Scenic Sights In Alaska

Second of Two Installments.
We thought when we saw Muncho Lake it was worth the trip, but when we saw Klusane Lake, it really took our breath away—beautiful snow capped mountains and fluffy white clouds all reflected in the blue lake.
The latter part of the route may not be all such beauty but it's thrilling to cross into the Territory of Alaska. We were surprised to find such good accommodations and as reasonable as we did.
Fairbanks really surprised us—we never did find out how many thousands of people were crammed into the town, plus the servicemen. The town is about the area of Cass City. The streets are narrow and the cars are many, creating a traffic problem, the like of which Cass City sees only on Home-coming days. The stores are modern and there is one big new hotel that has 500 rooms, with a shopping center that has everything. If you stay there, you need never go out of the building for anything—there is even a parking area in the basement for your car!

We enjoyed visiting with our folks from home—Lt. Don Anker spent one evening with us. We called on Pfc. Lyle Deneen and enjoyed the wonderful hospitality of Nancy and Jim Rabideau and their cute son, Mike. Of course, the main event of the trip was Patsy's and Garry's wedding which took place at the church of Rev. and Mrs. Ali Jarman, former Cass Cityites.
We left Fairbanks about noon on Wednesday, which was a poor idea, there are fewer places to stay overnight on the stretch east of the border than any other place on the road. We cleared the customs at 7:30, then discovered we had crossed a time zone and it got later and later and no place to stay. We found gas before our tank went dry and pushed on. Usually it didn't get dark, but that night the clouds were rolling over the mountain peaks and so close, it got quite dark, with intermittent rain. It really was better driving, because we weren't bothered with dust or road graders or trucks, but it was scary. We saw an Indian walking, not on the road, but over by the trees. About 1 a. m. we came to a car stranded with a flat tire on his last spare and 25 miles from the next stop. We gave them a lift and lucky us, the next place was open and had room for everyone.

Car Accident.
Thursday morning, a truck following too closely on a strip of wet slippery clay road, hit our car and rolled it over in the road. We were all traveling slowly at the time and although the car was badly wrecked, Harold and I were not hurt and were able to enjoy our trip home by plane.
From White Horse, Y. T., we flew to Juneau, Alaska, and saw that beautiful harbor, stopped at Ketchikan and then on to Seattle. We got to Seattle about 9 p. m. and it was a beautiful sight to see all those colored lights and to be back in our own country again.
To anyone making the trip, remember, easy does it. You can not speed on the Alaska Highway. If a curve is marked for 15 miles an hour, that's what it means, not 20 or 25 as you'd expect at home. Where the road is stony, again, easy does it. You are just bound to have some tire trouble, so go prepared. It's not always the stones that does it but everyone seems to pick up nails. There are folks who make the trip with no flats at all, but don't trust your luck. It's no fun to be stranded 20 miles from nowhere and have your last spare go flat.
Rev. and Mrs. Jarman sent a hearty "Hello" to all their Cass City friends. They get the Cass City paper and enjoy seeing their friends in print.
See ya all in Cass City.
Mrs. Harold Evans.

Remarks by the pastor, Rev. Jason Hollopeter. Program committee were Mrs. William Hereim and Miss Marilyn MacCallum. Potluck lunch was served. Kitchen committee were Mrs. Lawrence Moore and Miss Marilyn MacCallum.

Mrs. Stanley B. Mellendorf and children were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartwick, near Cass City.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Catlip of Detroit visited the week at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore and granddaughters, Donna and Diane Moore, visited relatives in Canada a few days last week.
Donald Martin of Detroit spent from Saturday until Friday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Howard Martin, in Grant.
Mr. and Mrs. William Ashmore, Sr., and granddaughter, Jean Ashmore, were Saturday evening callers at the William Ashmore, Jr., home in Gagetown.
Richard McDonald, who is employed in Pontiac, spent the week end at his farm here.
Remember, services every Sunday at the Grant Methodist church. Sunday School at 10:30 with Dudley Andrus as superintendent and preaching services at 11:30 with Rev. Jason Hollopeter as the pastor.

Paving Barn Lot Makes Work Easier

"When farm work slackens this fall you may want to consider paving your barn lot to make next spring's work easier," suggests J. S. Boyd, Michigan State College agricultural engineer. He has some pointers for doing a better job. The barn lot is most useful if the area is sunny and has some protection from prevailing westerly winds. That means planning the lot for the south or the east side of the barn. Or a board fence between buildings may turn the wind. You need only a little protection. Second consideration is the slope of the lot. About one-fourth inch per foot is about right, Boyd says. Carry the slope out from the barn to a broad, grassed waterway where surface drainage water leads rapidly away. Boyd suggests a goal of 100 square feet per cow in the paved area. You may want additional earth barn lot for drier weather. Clean the lot before you pave, fill in spongy spots and grade down high spots. Sand or gravel, four to six inches deep, will keep the lot from settling after the concrete is laid. A gravel base also helps reduce damage from frost heaving. The finished paving will need to be several inches below the inside barn floor level. That lets doors swing free and keeps water from running into the barn. Boyd recommends a full four inches of good quality concrete. If there will be heavy traffic, such as loaded wagons or trucks, the concrete should be reinforced with welded wire mesh. It is a good idea to dig a foot-deep trench around the edges of the paved area. Fill this with sand the same as under the rest of the barn lot. This will help keep out rodents, prevents undercutting from erosion or cracking from vehicles driven onto the pavement. Don't wait too long to start the job this fall. Boyd warns that concrete should never be laid over frozen ground.

MICHIGAN needs 'em BOTH!

Dwight D. Eisenhower

NO SHIRT-TAIL RIDER—FRED M. ALGER

Fred M. Alger

Alger became an enthusiastic Eisenhower for president supporter more than a year ago, when the two met and talked over the country's needs, seeing eye to eye.

Alger was the first state official, and the only candidate for governor to endorse Eisenhower. He was criticized for doing so. It wasn't good politics. Good politics dictated that he ride the fence. He wouldn't because he believes the people should know where a candidate for office stands.

The Eisenhower-Alger combination is a natural. Both are agreed that the Nation's defense comes first. Both have proven themselves good and able administrators, Ike in the European zone, Alger as an efficient, economy-minded, three-term Secretary of State.

Both are full-time veterans of World War II. Both have records bespeaking unalterable hatred of dictatorship, Ike in arming the western world against Stalinist aggression; Alger as leader of the movement which ended machine rule of the Republican Party of Michigan.

They understand each other. It's a pair that can't be beat.

For Michigan and the nation, it's Don't neglect to treat those noxious weed patches. They spread like the plague from farm to farm. Good weed control—like good fences—make good neighbors.

Grass is a crop—a good or a poor crop, depending on the attention given to it. If managed properly, it is cheap food, Michigan State College livestock specialists point out.

No building is safer from lightning than one which is protected by well-grounded lightning rods.

If you are considering the purchase of fine glassware, investigate the red oxide of lead content of the glass. If it contains 25 to 50 per cent red oxide of lead you can be assured it is fine crystal.

When using a pressure canner, never add cold water to a hot canner, and guard against sudden cooling that might cause it to warp.

Personal News and Notes from Deford

Miscellaneous Shower.
Mrs. Louis Babich and Mrs. Earl Rayl were co-hostesses Saturday evening at the Rayl home at a miscellaneous shower honoring bride-elect Virginia VanDemark. About thirty friends and relatives spent the evening playing games and watching the honored guest open her many lovely gifts. A lunch of ice cream, cake and orange juice was served at tables on the lawn. Virginia and Samuel Mills of Indiana plan to be married Saturday evening at the Deford Methodist Church.

Church Notes.
Thirteen members of the Intermediate Sunday School class met on Monday evening, July 21, at the home of Linel Rayl and enjoyed games on the lawn, a wiener roast and hay ride.

The Youth Class enjoyed a hay ride and wiener roast at the Warren Kelley home on Tuesday evening, July 22.

The Junior Class will meet Friday evening, August 1, at the Harold Chapin home.

Wednesday night prayer meeting was led by Samuel Mills of Indiana and Miss Virginia VanDemark.

The film, "The Missing Christian," sponsored by the Church Board of Education, was shown at the church on Friday evening.

There will be a "Hallelujah March" at the Deford Methodist Church on Sunday morning, August 3, at which time a special offering will be given to meet the expenses of installing a new furnace in the church and finishing and furnishing the new Sunday School classrooms in the basement. All members and friends are invited to attend.

The bald banker in a small town was in the habit of wearing his hat during business hours, for in summer the flies used his pate for a parade ground and in winter the cold air was uncomfortable as it swept the polished surface. Each week an Italian workman would come to the bank to get his paycheck cashed.

"Why don't you open an account with us?" the banker asked one day.

The Italian looked at the banker's hat, and then whispered confidentially:

"Me afraid, Mistah Boss, you alla time looka like you gonna maybe take da trip somewhere."

Tough Combination
A young woman took a job as a governess, then suddenly left it. Asked why she resigned, she said: "Had to. Backward child, forward father."
