

Cass Cityites Pack Gym to Honor MacPhail Wednesday

Larry MacPhail entertained a crowd of 250 persons, who gathered at the Cass City High School Wednesday evening for a testimonial dinner in his honor, with anecdotes from his long career in baseball, horse racing and the armed forces.

Beginning with his early boyhood in Cass City, MacPhail said "I have very vivid memories of Cass City and persons here before I went away." He explained how he was born in a room above the Cass City State Bank which his father built and recounted his activities before leaving the community when five years old.

MacPhail drew away the curtain from many of the nation's leading military figures when he told of his personal experiences in visits to the headquarters of Eisenhower, Bradley, Patton and other generals of World War II.

"In most of the general's camps," MacPhail said, "officers seemed to be falling all over themselves and there was a great deal of confusion. But Patton's headquarters consisted of four trucks in the woods." He pictured the controversial general as a tough-talking, fighting man who had little patience with army "drass."

He recollected for the audience several interesting incidents from his career as president of the Cincinnati, Brooklyn and New York baseball teams.

One of the most humorous to the audience was his story of his visit with the Pope in Rome. At the time, MacPhail's Dodgers were in last place and had little chance to pull out of the league basement. The Pope, who evidently knew his baseball, asked MacPhail if he would like him to give the papal blessing to his club. MacPhail answered that he didn't want to appear sacrilegious but that he doubted if even the papal blessing would help his team that year.

MacPhail waited until his last year at the helm of a major league club for his biggest... when the Yankees topped the Dodgers and won the World Series, it was the highlight of the former Cass City boy's career. He sold his interest in the team after the series was over.

Other Entertainment. Prior to the address by the guest of honor, guests were entertained by Joan Holmberg who sang "One Kiss" and Mr. and Mrs. Don Borg who sang "Thine Alone" and "My Hero."

M. B. Auten was master of ceremonies and introduced MacPhail and amused the crowd with quips about the guest of honor and others responsible for the testimonial dinner.

Mrs. Larry MacPhail and Mrs. Herman MacPhail, sister-in-law of Larry MacPhail, also attended the dinner.

The meal was prepared and served by the Eastern Stars.

Mrs. Benkelman, Pioneer Resident, Buried Thursday

Cass City lost a respected member of its community Tuesday morning when Mrs. Mary Benkelman, 91, died at her home here after a period of declining health.

A pioneer resident of the community, Mrs. Benkelman had spent over three-quarters of a century in Cass City and Elkland Township. The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Striffler, she was born Dec. 8, 1860, in Madison, Mo., and with her father and sister, the late Mrs. Jacob Maier, came to Elkland Township in 1875.

Mrs. Benkelman married Samuel G. Benkelman Nov. 28, 1888. The couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1938 and Mr. Benkelman died in 1940.

Mrs. Benkelman was one of the founders of the Woman's Study Club in Cass City and served as president of the organization in 1910 and 1927. She was a member of the Adult Ladies' Class of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Douglas Funeral Home. Rev. F. W. Porter, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Surviving are two sons, Joseph and Ward Benkelman of Cass City; a niece, Miss Laura Maier, and a nephew, Fred Maier.

Alfred Goodall, one mile west and three-quarters of a mile north of Cass City, reports that there are at least three albino pheasants in his area.

He said that he saw three of the birds Saturday in two different flocks. At one time, there was an albino cock pheasant in the neighborhood, but it evidently was killed for it disappeared.

Whether the albinos are descendants of the white cock is unknown.

Village to Receive Second Quarter Tax Refund Allotment

Cass City will receive $2,784.54 as their share of the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for the second quarter of 1952, it was announced early this week by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The amount allotted to Cass City came from a total of $23,841,478.96 collected between April 1 and June 30. This is divided among counties, villages, cities and the State Highway Department.

Tuscola County was scheduled to receive $84,150.20, Huron County, $70,112.75, and Sanilac County, $78,411.70.

Area villages to receive allotments include: Gageton, $1,338.42; Kingston, $1,013.37; Owendale, $1,654.75, and Uby, $1,156.89.

Meanwhile, the highway department announced that the total collection for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1952, was $124,768,879 after collection costs were deducted. The amount was $3,395,876 less than the highway department's estimate.

All highway money possible is being allotted for construction but the backlog of emergency highway work will take several years to eliminate, Ziegler said.

The fifth annual chicken banquet of the Carolan 4-H club was held in the St. Agatha's Church dining room Saturday evening and 100 persons were on hand for the dinner and program, according to Miss Rosalia Mail, the Chronicle's Gageton reporter.

The food preparation girls, assisted by their mothers, prepared the meal and the club boys helped the girls wait on tables.

A varied program was presented. The group sang "God Bless America" and several numbers were presented by talented performers.

Among the acts were a trombone solo by Florence Sinclair and a piano solo by Theresa Ann Werdeman. Leatha Borodychuck and Sharon O'Connell presented a piano duet and a ballet number by Rosemary Tooley pleased the audience.

Paul and Jack Generous, 4-H talent show county winners, presented a novelty number and Mr. and Mrs. Don Borg sang a duet.

After the musical portion of the program was completed, Alfred Concluded on page 10.

Drivers Escape Injury In Auto Wreck

An automobile and a truck were damaged in a two-car smash one mile east of Cass City Monday, according to Steve Orto, Cass City policeman, who investigated the accident.

The smash occurred when a truck driven by Milton Powell, Gageton, attempted to make a left turn into Elkland Roller Mills and was hit by Alma L. Davis of Uby. The drivers were uninjured.

Mr. Davis was attempting to pass the truck and a car driven by Mrs. William Staroska, Uby, who was immediately behind the Powell truck.

Orto said that Mr. Powell and Mr. Davis reported conflicting stories. Mr. Davis asserted that Powell gave no indication of turning and Powell claims he did signal before turning.

There were no other witnesses to the accident and neither driver was ticketed, Orto said.

Damage to the Davis car was estimated at $300 and it was expected to cost $100 to repair the truck.

Many New Events Slated at Annual Tuscola County Fair

The Tuscola County Fair, Aug. 18 to 23, will offer more than its usual quota of surprises. New attractions have been billed in line with the Fair Board's determination to make this year's fair the biggest and most attractive in history.

An entire new midway brought by the Michigan Exposition Shows, will give the fair dazzling new features which should make it one of the most pretentious in Michigan.

The wrestling show, starting at 8 p. m. Monday night, will be a completely new feature of the fair. Mel Dove, near the top in his profession, will be one of the stars, many of whom have appeared on TV and at the Rainbow Garden of Chicago.

All indications point to a fine representation of agricultural displays, including livestock, grain, vegetables, and homemakers' exhibits. Great interest is expected in the light horse section, which is a new feature and is directed by Waldo Garner of Vassar.

The largest farm machinery parade in Michigan will be held Saturday at 2:00 p. m. The Merchants' Building will be filled to overflowing with farm and industrial displays.

Every evening, from Tuesday to Saturday, fairgoers will be entertained by the Missionary Society at Auten's Cottage.

Mrs. M. E. Auten entertained 31 members and six guests of the Presbyterian Missionary Society at the Auten cottage at Fort Austin Wednesday, July 30.

After guests enjoyed a ham luncheon, Mrs. Floyd Reid presided at a business meeting. Monthly committees for the Ladies' Aid for the coming year were read and Mrs. Ernest Croft and Mrs. M. R. Vender reported on synodical meeting held in Alma in June.

Guests paid a visit to the cottage of Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer which is within walking distance of the Auten cottage.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 3. Mrs. Frank Meiser and Mrs. James Colbert will be hostesses and a race relations program will be presented.

Mr. Clasenman in the past was head baseball coach and assisted in football and basketball.

Deford Wins League Softball Title in Last Regular Game

Deford won the regular season championship of the Cass City Softball League by defeating Western Auto 6-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Don Ladell Friday evening.

The win gave Deford a 12-3 record for the season, while Western Auto's final percentage read 10-6. Ladell's hurling was backed by heavy hitting from Deford. Harold Paul smashed a circuit clout for the winners to pace the attack.

Meanwhile, results of Wednesday night's encounters snarled the play-off race. Church of Christ whipped FFA 4-0 and Decker topped Ellington 4-3. The victories and Ellington's defeat made a three-way tie for the third and fourth positions in the league.

To eliminate a lengthy play-off for the positions, league authorities decided to make all the teams in the league eligible for the post season competition.

Play-off games started Monday evening when FFA faced Deford and Ellington opposed Western Auto.

FFA, who was the doormat of the league all year, mustered the most potent hitting attack of the year against Ladell since he joined the Deford squad late in the season.

They scored three runs off his slants, while the best previous effort was a single encounter in any one game.

But Deford's power was too much for Nelson "Moose" Wiley and FFA moved a step closer to elimination when they dropped a

Bean and Beet Tour Slated August 14

A bean and beet tour will start at the Jake Hecht farm beet field, 1 1/2 miles west on M-15 and 1/2 mile north of Vassar, at 9:45 a. m., on Thursday, August 14, advises Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

From the Hecht farm the group will visit beet fields on Stanley Fessler and J. C. Kirk farms before stopping at Akron where a bean luncheon will be served by Presbyterian Ladies' Aid.

Maurice Frakes, Field Research Director for Michigan Sugar Co., will speak at the noon luncheon on his recent trip to beet and bean producing areas of western states.

After lunch the group will visit fields of beans and beets on farms of Raymond Partlo and Norrington Brothers, Akron, and of Harold Humm and Jerome Jaques, of Fairgrove and Carole.

Cooperating in arranging this tour were field representatives of Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar Company, and Tuscola County certified seed growers. All bean and beet growers are urged to attend, says Ballweg.

Tuscola County followed the state-wide trend at the polls as voters turned out in record numbers to top the previous high for a primary election by a wide margin, according to County Clerk Mathews.

With all of the 25 precincts with the exception of Millington reporting, Tuscola County voters renominated Sheriff George F. Jeffrey over William S. Allison and selected Lee Huston of Caro and Dr. H. T. Donahue of Cass City for renomination over Benson Collon of Caro for coroners' posts.

Unofficial returns showed Jeffrey with 3,942 votes to 2,628 for Allison. Dr. Donahue led the candidates for coroner with 3,285 votes. Huston received 3,204 and Collon trailed with 2,753. Donahue's lead came from huge majorities piled up in the eastern section of the county.

Most of the county posts were uncontested. Republican incumbents nominated without opposition are Prosecutor Bruce D. White, Clerk Fred Mathews, Treasurer Arthur M. Willis, Register of Deeds William J. Profit and Drain Commissioner Freeland Sugden.

On the Democratic ticket in the county, nominated were Charles F. Becker for sheriff; Arnold W. Smith for clerk; Harold F. Jackson for treasurer, and H. Elizabeth Kennedy for register of deeds.

In state balloting, county voters gave William C. Vandenberg a slight edge over Fred M. Alger, who won the nomination with a large majority. Alger polled 2,565 and Vandenberg 2,596. Donald S. Leonard trailed with 1,407 votes.

The county helped make the landslide for Chas. Potter for U. S. Senator complete when they more than doubled his margin over Eugene Keyes, who ran second. The voting showed: Keyes, 1,682; Martin, 1,086; Potter, 3,089, and Prevost, 91.

For lieutenant governor, George W. Welsh led in the county. He polled 1,520 votes. Other candidates were: Henderson, 1,414; Reid, 1,411, and Young, 1,449.

For U. S. senator to fill vacancy, Martin polled 1,962 votes and Potter 3,552.

In the only competition in the Democratic race for nomination, Blair Moody defeated Louis C. Schwinger 496 votes to 112.

Area township clerks reported heavy votes in their area. Elkland Township Clerk Charles Patterson reports an all-time record for voting at a primary election in his precinct. Eight hundred and forty votes were cast.

The complete voting details from the five area townships follow. Republican results only are given because of the lack of competition.

Tuscola Delegates at Youth Program Soon

Farm youths who wish to take part in the youth program, American Institute of Cooperation, Aug. 10 to 12, at East Lansing can do so with about 3/4 of their expenses paid while at East Lansing, says Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent, if they will contact his office.

This offer is made possible, says Ballweg, by the announcement just received from Michigan Artificial Breeders.

The announcement says $12 will be allowed by the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative for a youth from a county, up to the first 40 applicants from the state. This amount, according to Frank Heim, president of the largest dairy breeders cooperative in Michigan, will provide for meals and lodging in one of the Michigan State College dormitories while the youth attends the Institute of Cooperation program at Michigan State College.

According to Mr. Heim, this institute program is one of the most progressive types of "live and let live" programs for the mutual betterment and well being of every segment of our economy and not one segment at the expense of another.

The following youth delegates will represent Tuscola County at the American Institute of Cooperation, according to Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent: Charles Wells, Vassar; Clayton Ruggles, Kingston, and Richard Stevenson, Caro, representing Junior Farm Bureau and sponsored by Tuscola County Farm Bureau; Laura Stewart, Fairgrove, sponsored by Tuscola County Grange; Marilyn Seddon, Millington, representing county 4-H club and sponsored by Caro National Farm Loan Association; Lionel Ackerman, Reese, and Louis Wenzloff, Jr., of Kingston, representing F. F. A. and sponsored by local F. F. A. chapters.

Tuscola delegates will be among 1,000 from State of Michigan and all other states in the United States.

To Form Civil Air Patrol in Caro

Organization of a Civil Air Patrol squadron in Caro will be effected at a meeting at the Caro Airport August 13 from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., it was announced today on orders of Maj. Carl A. Nye, of Cass City, commanding officer of the Thumb Group 6316. Other squadrons in the group are located at Imlay City, Deckerville and Bad Axe.

Already active in promotion of plans for organization of the group are: R. Hoyt Smith, Frank Pullmer, Al Holdberg, William Preston, Clayton Monte, Paul Monte, Richard Avery and Lee McComb. Interested in the formation of a cadet corps are: Jim Quinn, Jr., Jerry Holden and Gerry Moore.

Major Nye stated that major interest of the Civil Air Patrol now is focused on the cadet program. More than 28,000 cadets came into the program in 1951 and a membership goal of 100,000 has been set. From the last day of school until Labor Day, the CAP cadets dominate the scene in vacation time. The "big three" programs—the Air Force base encampments, the two drill competitions and the International Cadet Exchange provide thrilling programs on a national and international scale. Last year, 33 CAP cadet encampments were staged and 20 Air Force bases, two National Guard camps, a State Police camp, a state park, a university and a civilian camp were utilized.

The purpose of the encampments is to provide the cadets with additional training that cannot be accomplished in the units and to familiarize participants with Air Force life and military aviation. Short courses are given in radio, radar, flight operations, fire fighting, aircraft line maintenance, training of the soldier, physical training and marksmanship.

Farmer's Question Corner
PREPARED BY American Foundation for Animal Health

WHAT ABOUT THE DOWN COW?

Q: What causes cows to go down?

A: There are several causes; among them are leukemia, actinemia, milk fever, "hardware disease", and nutritional deficiencies. Or the trouble may stem from fractured bones, nerve injuries and various poisons from infections and food sources.

Q: Are these diseases very deadly?

A: Most of them can prove fatal.

Q: What should the owner do if a cow goes down?

A: His first step should be to call a veterinarian, so the trouble can be diagnosed and corrective treatment started. While waiting for professional help it's a good idea to cover the cow with warm, heavy blankets, because in most of these cases the cow's temperature usually drops. This is especially true of milk fever. Keeping her warm helps her chance for recovery. Do not try to move the cow as it may lead to further injury and complications.

Q: Is there any advance warning that a cow is about to go down?

A: In milk fever, the cow often looks dull and doesn't like to move around. In leukemia, there may be a swelling of the lymph glands in the neck, general weakness, loss of appetite and a wasting away. "Hardware disease" is marked by a loss of appetite, grunting and other symptoms.

Q: How successful is treatment?

A: It depends on the individual case and how quickly treatment is started. Modern techniques are now saving many down cows which would have been considered hopeless cases a few years ago.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

Michigan voters who practiced at the polls Tuesday will have an even bigger job in November.

For Michigan is a key state in the strategy of both the Republican and Democratic camps.

The Eisenhower forces plan to win the Presidential election by carrying the state that went for Dewey in 1948 and the extra ones that now have Republican governors.

Michigan lined up in the 16 Dewey states to give the Michigan-born governor 188 electoral votes. The states that didn't go for Dewey but did elect GOP governors in the last state elections have 102 electoral votes.

Add those two groups together and you get 288 electoral votes. Two hundred sixty-six mean election.

Michigan figures in the Democratic strategy as one of the eight states where big-city labor strength is dominant. Those states, they figure, will give Stevenson 199 electoral votes.

The rock-ribbed South—which the Dixiecrat revolt failed to crack—and the border states should yield 80 electoral votes for a total of 279, 13 more than are needed. So they figure.

That Michigan has a Democratic governor is heralded as a good omen by Adlai's advisors, too.

Obviously there's some overlapping there.

Both parties need Michigan, California, Wisconsin, New York and Maryland to carry out their master plan.

For insurance, Ike-men will try to crack the South and aim for shaky Democratic states. The Democrats will try to woo back states-rights areas Truman lost and to retain eight Western states where they've won five consecutive times but whose electoral votes aren't plentiful enough to give them key positions.

Michigan personalities are sure to figure prominently in the campaign, too.

Plint's Arthur E. Summerfield, as chairman of the Republican National Committee, will direct General Ike's overall campaign. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., taught the lore of the political arena by his late father, the illustrious Senator, is Eisenhower's executive assistant.

Both were pre-bandwagon Ike supporters, a status that adds to their influence.

Two Michigan men were often in the spotlight at the Democratic convention. They were Governor Williams and Senator Blair Moody. Williams' polka-dot bow tie was familiar long before the demonstration that greeted his favorite nomination. Moody practically took the temporary chairman's job during the opening debate on the "loyalty pledge" rule. In fact, it became known as the "Moody amendment."

That pledge was in part nullified when the convention allowed Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana delegates to participate despite their firm refusal to sign on the dotted line.

Whether Michigan jumped from Kefauver to Stevenson early enough is something for which no stop-watch has ever been invented. Whether the ire Moody aroused among several of his Southern Senatorial colleagues will continue to smolder is not apparent now. Whether the Stevenson-Sparkman combination represents, as many observers believe, a victory of "conservative" Democrats over the "liberals" headed by Williams, Moody and Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, is a matter of personal opinion.

Answers to those questions may determine the influence the Michigan duo will have in and after the campaign.

But there's no question about their names being familiar in and out of Democratic circles. And there's no question about the importance of the decision the Michigan voters must take in November.

Michigan business is contributing to a campaign which will be launched this fall to bring new industry into the state. The Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan spent a year in analyzing opinions of Michigan manufacturers on the assets and liabilities of the state as a location for industry as a basis for the drive.

Dixie is drawing industry from Northern states. But there's going to be another war between the Blue and the Gray, this one fought out on sales talks to affected industry. The No'th'ners will use three big weapons: Privately financed development corporations to augment work done by state agencies such as the Michigan Department of Economic Development; More intensive promotion, including greater efforts to develop industry from within; A new atmosphere of cooperation with industry in many Northern industrial centers.

Defeat of the proposed 2% industrial processing tax in the closing days of the Legislature in June removed a threat that might have kept many an industry from coming into Michigan or expanding facilities already here.

Over 10,000 Michigan residents are scanning the skies for alien aircraft but a minimum of 25,000 are needed to keep up an efficient 24-hour watch. Less than 200 observation posts are manned around the clock.

Let's Talk It Over

Ed. Vallender - Farm Editor WBCM - Bay City

The Honey Bee. Most of us are afraid of them. We stand quiet. We know that the little monster can make things very uncomfortable . . . if aroused. Most of us can tell of some harrowing experience with a nest of hornets . . . a painful memory of some bee hive.

If we said that the Department of Agriculture in Washington is getting more than a little worried about the "bee" situation . . . Most folks would ask, "How come?"

Old Fashioned. To start with . . . we don't eat honey like we used to. Nobody knows why. There just isn't the demand. On account of this change of taste, beekeepers can't make enough money to stay in business . . . And that brings up the real problem.

Nature's Way. There are about 40 important crops in the United States that depend on bees for pollination. Used to be that the Beekeeper would take his colonies from farm to farm in a sort of mutual agreement with the owner.

Lately . . . with fewer bee-men in business . . . the farmer has been paying the beekeeper to bring his little workers around at the right time.

Next Move. If we don't get back on the ball . . . Start buying honey to push the price back up . . . we're going to have the government in the bee business . . . and brother, that'll really be something. The people in Washington say they don't want any part of keeping bees. What they suggest we do is eat a little more honey so the existing beekeeper can stay in business.

As a matter of fact . . . they have decided to launch a great advertising campaign to sell more honey.

Now that the matter is understood, let's get some honey on the table for those big farm breakfasts.

The bee is a very important fellow on the farm.

TRANSFORMATION

Just the other day we heard the story about the lady who had three blood transfusions from a Scotchman. After the first, she paid the Scotchman the usual fee of $50. Upon the occasion of the second, she cut the price to $25. By the time the third was made, her new Scotch blood was working so well that she merely said: "Thank you!"

Long-Odds Offer. Though 80 years old, an Atlanta, Georgia, gentleman still was spry and kept his sense of humor. Unfortunately, he was away from home on his fiftieth wedding anniversary. So he wired his wife $50 along with the following message: "Congratulations, dear, from your only husband. Want to try for 64?"

Many County 4-H Members Competing

Tuscola County will be well represented in the many departments of judging and demonstrations, says George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent. The judges will compete August 11 and 12 at the district 4-H eliminations at East Lansing. The demonstrators' next stop will be at the State 4-H Show, also at East Lansing. Those who will compete in food preparation judging are Betty Cyr, Mayville; Mona Lee Haag, Unionville; Marcelene Jacques, Caro; Cora Baxter, Millington, and Edna Tacey, Fairgrove.

Those on the 4-H food preservation team are Lois McMullen, Mayville; Norleen Ackerman, Unionville; Charlotte Ackerman, Reese; Joanne Downing, Caro, and Ruth Baur, Unionville. The clothing judging team will consist of Theresa Werdehan, Cass City; Gail Wallace, Kingston; Barbara Ruggles, Kingston; Mary Alice Luther, Fairgrove, and Carol Irish, Akron. Judging teams will also compete for dairy, livestock, crops, garden, poultry and home improvement.

The 4-H demonstration competition produced some fine results. The following will compete at the State 4-H Show August 25-29 at East Lansing: food preparation, Joan Lassiter, Caro; bread baking, Marie Sontag, Gagetown; clothing, Carol Irish, Akron; home improvement, Betty Lou King, Caro; frozen foods, Norine Cramer; dairy foods, Vonda Lee Wark, Akron; flower arranging, Lorraine Higgins, Akron; dairy, Gene Targetter, Caro; soil conservation, Dan Davis, Vassar.

Bill Pike, Fairgrove, and Norine Cramer, Akron, will be the representatives to compete in the public speaking contest at the district eliminations.

Chemicals Reduce Fence Maintenance

The cost of maintaining fences can be materially reduced by the use of chemical wood preservatives and Lester D. Bell, Michigan College forestry specialist, has figures to prove it.

He says that it is a matter of simple arithmetic. If a post costs 75 cents and it costs 50 cents in labor to set it and staple the fence to it, you have a total cost of $1.25. If this post rots off in five years, it has cost 25 cents per year of service.

If, on the other hand, you take the same post at 75 cents, add 25 cents worth of chemical preservative, and then add the 50 cents labor cost to set it, your post has cost you $1.50. This is where preservatives really pay off because the treated post can be expected to last three times as long as an untreated post—15 years.

With 15 years of life, the annual cost of the treated post is ten cents a year as compared with 25 cents a year for the untreated post. You also save the labor and trouble of resetting the other two untreated posts it would take to cover the 15-year span, Bell points out.

Several chemicals are satisfactory for treating fence posts. He suggests that you contact your county agricultural agent or write to the forestry department at Michigan State College, East Lansing, for further information.

A man who had a cello with a single string used to bow on it for hours at a time, always holding his finger in the same place. His wife endured this for months. Finally in desperation she said, "I have observed that when others play that instrument there are four strings, and the players move their fingers about continuously."

"Of course the others have four strings and move their fingers about constantly," he explained patiently. "They are looking for the place. I've found it!"

Feeder, Market Hog Outlook Discussed

"You can pay up to $18.20 for 50-pound feeder pigs if you feed them unbalanced rations, and use good sanitation and production practices, including good legume pasture."

That's the answer Robert Kramer, Michigan State College agricultural economist, gives to farmers who are wondering about buying feeder pigs today. That figure assumes corn at $1.70 a bushel and 40 per cent protein supplement at $6.60 a hundred pounds. It also assumes that you will market your feeder pig as a 225-pound butcher hog four months from now.

With that point as a starter, you can figure back to your own situation. If you feel that you will have to pay $1.80 a bushel for corn and $6.70 a hundred for protein supplement, you can afford to pay only $17.10 for your 50-pound feeder pig. In other words, you can pay $1.10 each less for your feeder pigs for each ten-cent increase in the cost of corn and protein supplement. Or you can add $1.10 for each ten cents less you figure they will cost.

On the other hand, if it costs you more to put gains on your pigs, you'd better figure on paying less for them.

These figures assume that market hogs will sell for $21 a hundred pounds the first week in December when your feeder pig would weigh 225 pounds and be ready for market, Kramer said.
