

Speaker Tells Community Club of Need for Civil Air Patrol

The nation's effort to establish an adequate defense system in the United States against unexpected air attack was brought sharply into focus Tuesday evening by Lt. Goudzwart of the United States Air Force.

Speaking at the opening meeting of the Cass City Community Club, the lieutenant told why a ground observer post was urgently needed in Cass City.

"Most of you know," Goudzwart said, "that the United States has a network of radar stations around its borders. Many of you probably don't realize that radar has definite limitations."

The guest speaker went on to tell that radar has blind spots and was unable to detect low flying planes.

Using a sound film, "Air Attack," the lieutenant showed how air defense works from ground observer posts, through a filter center for observation and to the air corps.

He said that Michigan needs 45 ground observer posts to have an effective network. The posts require from 50 to 150 persons each.

He pointed out that modern advances in air flight has made the United States vulnerable from any place on the globe.

Lt. Goudzwart said that Michigan is in the midst of the "heartland" of the country's defense system.

Highly industrialized, the area is considered one of the primary target areas for enemy attack.

The ladies of the Evangelical United Brethren Church were in charge of the supper and served an excellent pork dinner to members.

A representative crowd attended the opening session of the club.

From the Editor's Corner

We know, as you probably did also, that the Bible was the largest "best seller" of all times. But a glance at some material received after the printing of the Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible brought the facts sharply into focus for us—perhaps it will for you, too.

The recent edition was the largest commercial printing job in history. The first run was nearly a million copies—with a retail value of $6,000,000. Add to that a British edition that will soon be issued and the immense popularity and demand for the Word of God becomes apparent.

The job is now two-thirds done—Tuscola County Clerk Fred Mathews reports the largest registration in history. Topping the previous high easily, expectations are high for a truly representative vote from the area.

Voters should be deciding now which candidates they want in office and be ready to make intelligent selections on Nov. 4.

Cass City High School, following a trend established by most schools in the Thumb area, will be closed Monday, the first day of hunting season.

Results in the past have shown that not enough students come to classes the opening day to carry on instruction. The vacation day comes on the heels of a two-day holiday for teachers' institute, making a five-day holiday for boys and girls.

Many business places will also be closed opening day as the wild game birds pleasantly disrupt normal working procedure.

Couple Celebrate 55th Wedding Year

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stoner of 133 Monroe St., Flint, were receiving congratulations from relatives and friends this week on their 55th wedding anniversary. We will be closed the first day of pheasant hunting season, Monday, Oct. 20, until 3 p. m. Farm Produce Company, Frutchey Bean Company at Cass City and Deford. —Adv. 1t.

Dewey Averts Serious Injury in Accident

Tom Dewey narrowly averted serious injury Tuesday afternoon when he overturned a truck loaded with gravel near Fairgrove.

The accident occurred when Mr. Dewey met a beet truck on the road and his front end locked, throwing him into a deep ditch and overturning the truck.

After landing in the ditch, the truck caught fire and Mr. Dewey escaped from the vehicle with flames leaping around him.

A hospital check up showed that he had received a badly bruised chest in the crash, but had escaped without any serious injuries.

Guidance Conference At Cass City School

Dr. Carl Horn of Michigan State College conducted a guidance conference at Cass City High School Wednesday afternoon.

Representatives from many Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac schools were present for the meeting. Authorities planned Wednesday for another meeting that will be held in Cass City Nov. 19 in connection with Tuscola County Schoolmasters' Club.

The conference will start at 4 p. m. and a dinner meeting will be served at 6 p. m. After the dinner, superintendents will gather in one room and guidance personnel will meet in another room for business discussions.

Highly industrialized, the area is considered one of the primary target areas for enemy attack. The ladies of the Evangelical United Brethren Church were in charge of the supper and served an excellent pork dinner to members.

A representative crowd attended the opening session of the club.

Workers Prepare Holiday Decorations

In keeping with their efforts to gain state-wide recognition for Cass City as the "Christmas Town," the Cass City Chamber of Commerce has announced the annual contest for the best decorated homes at Christmas.

The contest is open only to persons in the home. No businesses, civic clubs or other organizations are eligible for the contest, the Chamber of Commerce said.

Authorities pointed out that having homes attractively decorated will go a long way towards putting the plans for an outstanding decorated village into practice.

In order to encourage residents to help with the program, the most ambitious in the history of the village since the plan was originated, the Chamber of Commerce has substantially increased the amount of prizes to the winners and has increased the number of prizes offered.

Fourteen prizes will be offered to residents and a total of $120 will be offered in prizes.

First prize will be $25; second, $20; third, $15, and fourth, $10. In addition, there will be 10 consolation prizes of $5 each.

Judging will be done by an impartial committee to be appointed later, members of the Chamber of Commerce said.

Mrs. Fueter has one brother, James Morrison of Bad Axe, and Mr. Fueter has one sister, Mrs. Jennie Wickham of Durand.

Pheasant Season to Bring Nimrods to Cass City Area

Cass City farmers can look for an army of hunters to descend on the area Monday at 10 a. m. for the opening of the pheasant season in Michigan.

According to the Michigan Department of Conservation, the Thumb area is expected to produce the largest pheasant kill in Michigan. Estimates are based on game studies computed by rural mail carriers' observations and reports.

An increased number of hunters are expected to take the field on opening day. Last season, about 356,000 hunters bagged 944,000 pheasants.

Division of the pheasant and duck opening days this year is expected to add to the hunting pressure Monday. This year the season lasts through Nov. 10.

Besides the opening of pheasant season, rabbit, woodchuck, racoon and ruffed grouse seasons also open in the southern lower peninsula and the squirrel season opens throughout the lower peninsula Monday.

Hard Work Pays Off

Hawks Keep Title Hopes Alive With Win Over Vassar

Cass City kept alive its hope for at least a share of the Thumb B Conference crown Friday evening by defeating Vassar at the Cass City Recreation Park, 15-0.

Stout defensive play, a brilliant 85-yard kickoff return and one concentrated drive netted the victory for Cass City.

Outside of those two offenses flashed by the Hawks, the game was very close. In the first period, it looked as if Vassar would be the

Bulletin

Cass City scored two last half touchdowns Wednesday evening to defeat Marlette 13-0 in a Thumb B Conference game played at Marlette.

The victory was the Hawks' second in three conference starts.

The Vulcans made two scoring threats in the initial quarter, only to have the Hawks rise up and quell the threats.

Vassar moved deep into Cass City territory and with fourth down and five yards to go, tried a pass. The Vulcan end had outrun the Cass City secondary and was in the clear at the five-yard line—only to have the ball slip out of his hands for an incomplete pass.

Vassar had another chance to score a few moments later in the same period when a 15-yard penalty set Cass City back to their own three-yard line. Stan Guinther's kick was returned to the Hawk 30, but Vassar could not turn the break into a touchdown and their two best scoring opportunities of the day were wasted.

The Hawks showed little in the way of an offense of their own until the waning moments of the first half and the opening kickoff of the third quarter.

Within 30 seconds, the Hawk eleven exploded for two touchdowns, the only markers of the

The first meeting of the Craft and Study Club was held Monday evening in the home economics room at the school. Fifteen members and three guests were present.

MRS. ROY JEFFERY.

Ross - Jeffery Wed In Fall Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wellington Jeffery are making their home at 2316 Lawndale, Detroit, since their return from a Northern Michigan wedding trip, following their lovely fall wedding, Oct. 4, at nine-thirty o'clock in St. Columbkille's Church in Sheridan Township.

Rev. Fr. Edw. Werm officiated at the nuptial mass in the presence of three hundred relatives and friends from Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, Port Huron and the Thumb area. Autumn flowers decorated the church for the rites.

The bride, Mary Margaret Ross of Detroit, is the daughter of Hector Ross of Uby. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Helen Jeffery of Gagetown, R. F. D., and the late Roy O. Jeffery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white ballerina length gown. Panels of Chantilly lace decorated the nylon net skirt over satin. The fitted bodice of lace featured a mandarin collar and wrist point sleeves. Her fingertip length tulle veil fell from a lace Juliet cap. She carried a white prayer book and an arrangement of white mums.

Attending the bride were Miss

Catherine Ross of Uby, her sister, as maid of honor; Miss Margaret McCaren of Cass City, cousin of Mr. Jeffery, and Miss Dorothy Lee Hulbert of Cass City, niece of the bridegroom. Miss Ross wore bittersweet and the Misses McCaren and Hulbert, emerald green. Their ballerina length gowns were of nylon tulle. Each wore matching skull caps of nylon tulle. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of bronze and yellow mums.

Donald Ross of Detroit, brother of the bride, was best man. Guests were seated by Peter Kessler of Cass City and Robert Tennett of Elkton, a cousin of the groom. Little Rhonda Kay Fox of Detroit, niece of the bride, as flower girl, wore yellow organdy and carried a tiny colonial bouquet of bronze mums.

Mrs. Jeffery chose for her son's wedding, a royal purple wool dress with matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of mums.

A wedding dinner was served to forty at O'Rourke's.

The bride was graduated from Elkton High School and Mr. Jeffery from high school here and recently was discharged after serving four years in the Navy. A reception for the couple at Elkton was attended by a large crowd of relatives and friends.

Doris Sparling Wed At Bad Axe Saturday

The First Baptist Church, Bad Axe, was the scene of a beautiful fall wedding Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Doris June Sparling became the bride of Harold C. Cummings.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sparling, Bad Axe, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings, Gagetown, are the parents of the groom.

Palms, candelabra and baskets of mums decorated the altar before which Rev. Walter Sponsel read the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 275 guests.

Duane Johnston sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Johnston.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. The jacket of the gown had a high neck accented with a Cape Cod collar and buttoned down the front.

Long sleeves ended in points over the wrists and the hoop skirt extended into a long train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was fastened to a scalloped satin band. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Audrey Clark, Bad Axe, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She chose a dress with a full skirt of pink double nylon net over satin and bodice of pink Chantilly lace with mandarin collar and tiny covered buttons extending down the front to the waist. Her heart-shaped headband was of pink net over satin. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink mums.

Mrs. Frank Rifenbark and Mrs. Douglas VanAllen were bridesmaids. They were attired in blue gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of blue mums.

Marilyn Summers, Gagetown, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore an orchid gown and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid mums.

Robert Sparling, Ferndale, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Donald Cummings, Gagetown, was best man. Winton Ellis, Gagetown, and Jack Milligan, Decker, were the groom's attendants and Howard Hill and Jack VanAllen, both of Cass City, served as ushers.

Mrs. Sparling chose for her

Hitchings - Kilbourn Wedding October 4

In the presence of only the immediate families, Miss Patricia Diane Hitchings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hitchings of Caro, became the bride of Raymond (Joe) Kilbourn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kilbourn of Deford, Saturday evening, October 4, in the chapel of the Caro Methodist Church.

Fall flowers and autumn leaves with lighted tapers decorated the altar before which the double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Dibley.

Mr. Norman Blank of Snover, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, played the wedding march from Lohengrin, while the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gold fall suit with green accessories. She carried a bouquet of bronze and white baby mums.

Miss Marita Hitchings, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and wore a green suit with russet accessories. Her bouquet was bronze and yellow mums.

Best man was Maurice Kilbourn, brother of the bridegroom, and James Hutchinson of Caro was usher.

Mrs. Hitchings, mother of the bride, wore a gray suit with gold accessories and Mrs. Kilbourn chose a blue crepe dress. Both wore corsages of yellow roses.

For their wedding trip, the newlyweds spent a few days in northern Michigan from which they returned to spend the remainder of Mr. Kilbourn's furlough with their parents.

The reception was held October 15 with several guests attending from out of town.

The following week, the bridegroom will report to Seattle, Washington, to resume his duties with the armed forces. Mrs. Kilbourn is planning to attend North-eastern School of Commerce at Bay City.

daughter's wedding a wine dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Cummings, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue suit with matching mums.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the church parlor. The bride's table was centered with a five-tier wedding cake.

After returning from a honeymoon trip in northern Michigan, the couple will reside on a farm near Gagetown.

Five Ballots To Face Sanilac Co. Voters

A privilege that prevails in this great country of ours will be exercised on Tuesday, November 4, 1952, when voters will go to the polls and select officers whom they think are qualified to conduct public office.

In Sanilac County, the voters will be handed five ballots. One of ROLAND L. MEREDITH these is called a non-partisan ballot. It will contain names of men running for the office of Justice of Supreme Court, Judge of Probate and Circuit Court Commissioners.

Of interest to voters of this county is the race for Judge of Probate. Roland L. Meredith, a former sheriff, is opposing the present judge, who has held this office for the past twenty years, or five terms. This is twelve years longer than any other judge of this county, except Grant H. Smith, who held the office twelve years and was defeated by the present judge.

Four years ago, voters were given to understand by the present judge that it would be his last term. When asked this spring if he was again going to be a candidate, he stated this would probably be his last term. In 1932, when he campaigned, voters were led to believe that three terms were long enough for this office, and by that issue was elected.

Should you feel that the present judge has held this office long enough, an (X) placed before the name of Roland L. Meredith will elect a competent and qualified man as your probate judge.

Misunderstanding On The Tie Game Rule

Some bowlers have interpreted the ABC's new tie game rule to be optional. This is not the case, however, and all leagues must abide by the rule which states that each of the two teams involved in a tie game shall be credited with one half point.

Absentee Member Rule

Monday night, Oct. 13, the Wallace team started their three-game competition, using three substitute bowlers along with two regular members, and if a third member had not arrived to participate, the Wallace team would have forfeited the three games to their opponents. The ABC rule specifically states, "No less than three eligible members shall start as a team in a five man team league." Just because we are operating on an individual membership plan does not mean that any substitute player becomes a member of a team as soon as he is placed on a team to bowl. The members who are recorded on the ABC team application under the title of Captain's name are eligible members of a team. This is one important item for you Captains to watch.

Another important item regarding players is this: If you must use a substitute bowler in place of a regular member, be sure that he has procured membership in the ABC and City Association and has receipt for same. If after games have been bowled, a team is found to have used an ineligible player, all games can be declared forfeited. Our own City League rules makes a member responsible in furnishing a substitute player if he is to be absent and to notify his Captain well in advance of the bowling date. Some of you are not doing this and the team has to bowl without a full squad. Another item which has been brought to our attention is the matter of tardy bowlers. League games are scheduled to start at seven o'clock.

Some teams are not getting started until 7:15 and 7:20. This is "tough" on the teams that take the alleys on the last shift. Some of the pin boys are of school age and 11:30 and 11:45 is too late for these boys to work. Let's try and correct this habit. I am sure it will promote better bowling conditions, not only for ourselves, but for those who work for us.

Fred Knoblet has taken over the "Chuck" Auten team due to the wishes of Uncle Sam. It seems that Sam has other important matters to be taken care of on Monday evenings, thus taking Chuck from our organization.

The Reid team, which has been entertaining a twelve game losing streak, finally broke into the winning column by trouncing the Dillman Five for two games and total pins. Captain Reid hit 587 for his three-game total to help his team break the long spell of losses.

Your Secretary felt "mighty low" after hitting 119 in the opening game, but after reading the following article, he feels better. "George Stieber, Detroit, didn't feel so good when he scored a game of 9 in the General Post Office League. His only consolation, however, is the fact that he now holds an ABC record since this is the lowest game ever reported to the ABC. He ended with games of 115 and 131 for a 255 total." (This article taken from the ABC news letter Oct. 1, 1952, Vol. 13, No. 2.)

Learn Correct Lifting To Avoid Injuries

"Correct lifting should be practiced until it becomes a habit," says Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent. Each year thousands of persons are victims of sprains, strains, hernias and other injuries caused by improper lifting.

According to records of Michigan State College safety specialists, the most common cause of lifting injuries are: lifting and lowering with the back muscles; insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; using quick, jerking, twisting or awkward movements of the body; obstructed vision, unstable loads or inadequate control and insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

One common practice is to bend at the waist when reaching down to grasp an object. Lifting in this position places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles. Always bend your knees and keep your back straight when it becomes necessary to lift.

The county agricultural agent advises rearranging work to eliminate or reduce the amount of lifting required. He also suggested exploring the feasibility of using simple and safe mechanical aids, such as rope hoists, wooden skids, hand trucks or inexpensive conveyors.

Potatoes stored where light hits them may turn green and taste bitter.

Cut Wheat Loss By Close Inspection

"Smitty" is a horrid word—but it's worse when it becomes a part of your wheat grade at the grain elevator and your check is cut for each bushel of "smitty" wheat.

Herbert R. Pettigrove of the

ROLAND O. KERN

I am a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge. The Primary Election for this office will be held in February, 1953. Your support is respectfully sought and will be gratefully received.

Michigan State College farm crops department points out that no matter when wheat is damaged, the farmer loses money. Field damage from smut or sprout, or bin damage—musty, sick, weevily or rodent-hit wheat—all take discount dollars out of the farmer's pockets. Pettigrove stresses the importance of examining farm-stored grain.

Hot weather after the harvest this fall makes inspection important, emphasized the MSC farm crops specialist. Sick wheat may be developing or weevils may be increasing. Pettigrove was on one farm in late August where the farmer stored seed wheat at just under 14 per cent moisture. The wheat was on the second floor of a toolshed-and-granary under a metal roof; high temperatures put this grain "out of condition" even though moisture was down, Pettigrove explains. Checking stored grain gives the farmer a chance to treat or move it as necessary, he points out.

Musty or moldy wheat becomes sample grain—the lowest grade possible—and is discounted in line with the elevator's ability to dispose of it, claims Pettigrove. Sprouted and sick wheat are classed as "total damage" and the grade varies with per cent of damage to the entire lot—from grade 1 for 2 per cent damage to grade 5 for 15 per cent damage, he states. All over 15 per cent are sample grade. Discounts vary season-to-season and elevator-to-elevator, he adds; this depends on the wheat volume and ability of the elevator management to handle and use such wheat.

New 4-H Projects

The coming project year will provide a small grains project for 4-H club members, says George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent. This project is a new addition to the present crops projects and includes wheat, rye, oats, barley and soybeans.

The need to stress health and safety has been reflected in the fact that projects on safety in the home, safety practices for 4-H baby sitters, 4-H bicycle and pedestrian safety, safety on the farm, safety with electricity, driver safety and safety with firearms have been developed.

A new project in entomology or insect collecting and identification has also been added. This gives 4-H club boys and girls the opportunity of selecting from a total of thirty-three different projects, each of which has many divisions by years of participation.

Treat Cattle Now To Eliminate Lice

Late fall is the time to treat cattle to limit lice population over the winter, reminds Ray L. Janes, extension specialist in entomology at Michigan State College. Lice are generally more abundant on cattle in the winter season, he explains.

The later the treating, the better the results as a general rule, according to the entomologist. If spraying is delayed too late, however, there may be a weather hazard. A warm day is best for lice control, notes Janes.

If spraying is done in a barn or other enclosure, animals should be turned out immediately to dry. The building, if wet, should be dried out if possible, advises Janes. Spraying of animals in unfavorable weather is a choice farmers must make for themselves, he cautions.

For treating lice on dairy animals, the specialist advises use of methoxychlor and points out that DDT has no place at this time for this purpose. Methoxychlor should be mixed at rate of eight pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water. He stresses that thorough treating of animals with the spray or drench has no substitute for fall control of cattle lice.

4-H Clubs Organize For Winter Program

According to George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent, many 4-H clubs in Tuscola County are organizing for the winter program consisting of the ones that can be carried and done entirely in the home, school, shop or basement. Clubs that are organizing now find that they are allowed ample time to choose their project, select materials and complete their work before the "first-of-the-year" rush. They find the most popular projects to be clothing, knitting, handicraft, electrical, foods, home improvement and conservation. These projects give the members ample opportunity to learn the home arts as well as the shop crafts in their 4-H work during the winter months. They also give a deeper appreciation of the importance of a good home and how they each can preserve and develop it. Projects such as conservation, which includes fur trapping, allows the outdoor boy to receive recognition for the job he is doing. Muskrats are plentiful and there is a large number of mink, fox, etc., making this project a varied and interesting one. Other winter 4-H projects offered are: 4-H club girl, family living, 4-H club boy, personal accounts, health and safety, fire prevention, photography and tractor maintenance. All 4-H club enrollments are due in the 4-H office by Monday, December 1.

Initiative is the ability to do the right thing—first. And the world pays well for it.

Tuscola Entries at Top in Crops Show

A summary of premium awards in the 1952 crops show at Michigan State Fair just received, reveals that 23 Tuscola County farmers entered 127 exhibits which won premium money, reports county agricultural agent Alfred P. Ballweg.

Thirty per cent of the exhibits winning premium awards were from Tuscola County. Entries were made in certified wheat, oats, barley, beans, corn, as well as uncultivated classes of these crops including grass and legume seed, baled hay and buckwheat. Half of the 18 premium award entries in the Ira H. Butterfield Memorial exhibit were by county exhibitors, advises Ballweg.

Those exhibiting from Tuscola County were: Spencer Dunham, Caro; Foster Hickey, Fairgrove; Harry Rohlf, Akron; George Dunham, Caro; Wm. Rohlf, Akron; M. D. Kirk, Fairgrove; Ellis Aldrich, Fairgrove; Lloyd Walz, Vassar; Chester Hutchinson, Caro; Clarence Keimath, Caro; Clayton Rohlf & Sons, Fairgrove; Clifton Metcalf, Fairgrove; Roy J. ## LET'S TALK IT OVER

Ed Vallender, Farm Editor
WBCM

Milk Business
It's getting downright critical—this business of "To be or not to be"—in the Dairy game.

News just came out from the USDA says that dairy farmers will earn about as much money next year as this year.

The question then—is what they're getting enough?

Pocket Money
The experts are talking about net income—which is a lot different than the gross take. Consumer demand is expected to remain strong—prices will probably be higher. That adds up to an increase in cash receipts. As a matter of fact, they expect the gross income to set a new record. Something like four and a half billion dollars.

Fly In The Ointment

Looks like a rosy picture for the dairyman until you take a peek at the cost sheets. To call a spade a spade—the average returns to a family on a dairy farm will remain below income on other type farms. This has been true ever since the depression of the early '30's. In those years, dairymen were earning more than most other farmers. Beginning in 1941, however, the road turned. Income for the farm family's work and management rose for producers of meat animals and most crops. The dairy farmer dropped behind.

Example
In 1951, for example, a study showed net income on a typical Michigan dairy farm was about $3,000. Other livestock growers reported working shorter hours for net incomes on more than $4,300—and up to $8,000 in some cases.

This situation is partly responsible for the fact that the number of milk cows in the nation has dropped sixteen per cent since 1944. There has been no great change in cow numbers—and not likely to be in the next twelve months. Farmers are holding a large number of young dairy cattle. Reports indicate that enough of these will be sold to prevent any increase in milking herds next year.

Expansion Halted
Dairy herds in this country expanded with the population up until about ten years ago. Then came the halt. Herds have not increased since 1942 but our population keeps climbing.

It is reasonable to assume that we will have a real shortage of milk if this trend continues. A reduced demand for butterfat delays this danger. With substitutes invading the butterfat market, supplies of fluid milk can meet consumer demand for a longer time.

Fifteen years ago, little more than half the milk sold from American farms was in the form of whole milk. This year, three quarters of all milk sales are in that form.

Struggle
The butter-oleo battle still rages with the substitute slowly winning. Even the ice cream makers are looking to substitutes to replace butterfat. There is being created however, a demand for skim milk to supplement these vegetable oils—to give them the dairy flavor. The question is—can the cow survive the crisis.

Biggest Deed
The world's biggest deed was one executed by the five Indian nations in 1735 for land along the Susquehanna River which conveyed title to an area westward "to the setting of the sun."

Each time a farmer leaves the tractor seat during corn picking, he's that much nearer to being an accident statistic, notes David Steinicke, safety specialist at Michigan State College short courses.

A short play on Africa was put on by Mrs. Haskett Blair, Mrs. Lawrence Harkwick, Mrs. Howard Britt and Mrs. Dudley Andrus.

Plum Island Named Animal Research Site

Plum Island, located in Long Island Sound, New York, has been selected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the site for construction of a laboratory to study hoof-and-mouth and other animal diseases.

Construction of the laboratory will be on land made available by the Department of Defense which also will provide such facilities as docks, water and other utilities, including water transportation.

The island comprises about 800 acres and lies about one and a half miles from the northern tip of Long Island and 10 miles from the Connecticut coast. It is about three miles long and one mile wide at its widest point.

USDA reports it meets the requirements set by congress that the laboratory be located on a coastal island surrounded by deep navigable water and entirely under control of the U.S. government.

There has been substantial interest in establishment of a U.S. laboratory for research on hoof-and-mouth disease for some time, but little progress was made until the widespread outbreak of the disease in Mexico in 1946 and the subsequent outbreak early this year in Canada near the U.S. border.

Peck-Proof Feeders

The above portable, dry mash feeder may be the answer to the poultry producer's feeding problem. A reel mash feeder, which gets its name from the revolving piece of 1" x 2" lumber mounted on spikes to keep the hens from perching over the trough, are 4' long, 21" high and 16" wide. Tempered preswood is recommended for the trough portion. A piece 4' long and 1 1/2" wide is needed. Other material required: one piece of 1 by 6 lumber 7 1/2 feet long, a 1 by 4 of 8-foot length, another that is 7' long, and a 1 by 2 that is a half inch longer than 4'; a half pound each of eight-penny and four-penny nails.

ROMANCE: In Yugoslavia

The invitations read: "Marshal Josip Broz Tito and Mrs. Jovanka Broz invite..."

Thus, in sending out invitations to a reception for British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, did Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito coyly make known to the world his three-month-old marriage to a woman major in his army.

Tito, 60 years old, and his bride, who is 28, kept their marriage secret for three months, indicating that the Yugoslav ruler, like his former friend, Stalin, considers his private life no business of the public or the press, and maintains a rigid curtain of secrecy around all of his more personal interests.

The Yugoslav government released a few details on Mrs. Broz "for information" purposes. She is a tall, very dark and handsome 28-year-old Yugoslav army major, student and ex-partisan fighter. She met Tito earlier this year while serving in his secretariat. Her maiden name is Budisavljevic. She is Tito's third wife, and he has two sons by his two previous marriages.

Parker Assigned to Helicopter Work

Army Pvt. Howard F. Parker, Route 1, Decker, is learning how to work with the Army helicopter in Korea.

He has been participating in the 25th Infantry Division's training program designed to train foot soldiers in how to clear and mark landing sites, indicate wind directions, mark hazards and assist "copter pilots in loading and unloading the crafts.

Helicopters in Korea have been invaluable in evacuating wounded directly to the hospital and in transporting supplies to isolated areas of the front lines.

Parker, a machine gunner with the 27th Infantry Regiment, wears the Combat Infantryman Badge. He has been in Korea since June 2.

HAWKS WIN

With time running out, the Hawks started a drive that moved to the six-yard line with five seconds remaining. "Runs by Bob Wallace and Stan Beach and pass from Wallace to Beach moved the ball into scoring position.

With time for just one play before the half, Cass City called for Stan Gunther to take a hand-off and skirt his own left end. The play clicked and Gunther crossed the goal line standing up. The try for point was good and Cass City led at the intermission, 7-0.

On the first play of the second half, the Hawks scored their second touchdown. Russ Foy took the opening boot on his own 15 and scampered straight down the middle for the score.

Cass City's downfield blocking on the play made the run easy for the hard-running Foy. After he avoided a pair of tacklers around his own 20, Foy raced down the field without a man touching him on his scoring gallop.

Cass City's defensive ends stood out in the victory. Time after time they smeared Vassar runners when it looked as if they might have started a scoring drive.

In the opening half, Vassar picked up the majority of their yardage through the center of the line. But in the final two quarters, Cass City plugged the hole and Vassar never made a serious threat to score.

HEN HOUSE DAY

he hung in the hen house. The chart is only part of an armload of material that the dealer will hand out on "Hen House" Day. Daily egg record sheets will also be available.

Among information included in a specially prepared farm bulletin tin entitled, "Hen House Helps," are these hints:

1. Be regular in "Hen House" habits, such as feeding hours and attention to waterers.
2. Avoid disease troubles by proper ventilation, frequent culling, cleanliness and elimination of overcrowding.
3. Use artificial lights regularly every day.
4. Don't waste feed by overfilling feeders.
5. Try to stop picking before it starts by keeping your birds busy and using leafy hay in the house.
6. Guard egg quality by gathering at least three times a day.

The dealer here will offer a "quick culling" course which is designed to make poultry production enjoyable. Special instruction in how to combat cannibalism and how to light for extra laying will be provided.

This is the first time that a special event has been set up for the significant period in farm operation when hens really begin to pay off by producing eggs.

Because 65 to 80 per cent of the income from poultry raising comes from egg production, the "Hen House" move requires expert know-how. Farm Produce is prepared to provide it.

To top off the get-together, free coffee and doughnuts will be served at the elevator.

Michigan Mirror - - - News in Brief

An old Ozark preacher once attributed the amazing success of his sermons to the manner in which he delivered them.

"Fust Ah tells the congregation what Ah is gonna tell 'em."

"Then Ah tells 'em."

"Then Ah tells 'em what Ah tol' 'em."

On that basis, that it takes more than one telling to clarify a situation as confusing as the one facing Michigan voters on constitutional amendment proposals, leaders throughout the state are "telling" the voters what they told 'em."

Business and professional organizations and farm groups throughout out-state Michigan are repeating this theme in the closing weeks of the campaign:

"Proposal No. 2 would place control of both houses of the Legislature in the hands of 26% of the voters."

That's a broad and alarming statement.

To people outside the Wayne-Macomb-Oakland area that prospect becomes more alarming when they are reminded, again and again, that 26% of Michigan's voters represents a bloc which is apparently well under control of CIO labor bosses.

It hasn't been until recently that such domination of both the Senate and the House was possible.

In 1900, for instance, it took 24 counties to account for 51% of the state population. These represented both industrial and agricultural sections from Detroit factories to Thumb farms to Ionia shops.

The House of Representatives, elected on a population basis, could therefore never become lopsided in reflecting the welfare of a small segment of Michigan.

The Senate, based on area, made representation even more thoroughly reflective of the whole state.

Under two state constitutions—those adopted in 1835 and in 1850—the plan worked satisfactory.

Under the present, 1908, constitution, there have been rumblings of dissatisfaction. Because, by constitutional provision, senatorial districts have to be redrawn in every year ending in 8, labor bosses see the November election as an excellent way to prepare for reapportionment next year, '58.

They noted that Wayne, Macomb, Oakland and Genesee counties now have 51.6% of the state's 6,371 million population. They are also well aware that tightly-controlled unions can swing those four counties.

Thus, by scrapping the Federal ideal of representation in the lower house by population and in the upper house by area, the labor bosses would obtain the same half-brother reception in the Legislature they now enjoy from the Governor's office.

If the CIO Plan 2 were in effect, there would be no reason for two houses in the Legislature, say two state opponents. The reason we have two houses in Washington and in most states is to give equitable representation to areas whose interests are vital to the general welfare but whose population would make them impotent minorities on a per-population basis alone.

Farmers, especially, are gravely concerned and, though the Michigan and local Farm Bureaus, are fighting to defeat the CIO plan.

In 1900, 60.7% of the state's inhabitants lived in rural areas. Today, 64.3% live in urban areas, incorporated places of 2,500 or more.

Part of the shift was the emergence of industry as the biggest economic factor in the state. Part was due to mechanization of farm work so that fewer and fewer farmers could feed more and more city cousins.

There are four methods of determining representation. Population only, the plan the CIO sponsors, which is used by five states; Voting participation, with representation determined by turnouts at the polls, which is not used by any state; Functional representation, with occupational or economic interest groupings determining legislative makeup, which is used only by Arizona; and geographical only, a plan used nowhere in the United States.

Thirty-three of the 47 states which have two houses use a combination, a different base for each house. This is the present Michigan set-up which is threatened by the CIO attack.

Amendment No. 3 maintains the current system, has the House chosen by population and the Senate by areas. The only difference between Plan No. 3 and the present plan is minor. It would raise the House from 100 to 107 Representatives and provide 34 instead of 32 Senators.

So, the outstate battle-cry is "No on No. 2; Yes on No. 3."

Privately, some leaders would be very content if both questions were defeated. "It's better to carry the slight handicap of the present system than to have the whole state under the thumb of Walter Reuther," they philosophize.

With two strong groups fighting over two questions on the ballot, it's good for the peace of mind of the average voter to know that everyone agrees on Question No. 1.

Without any recorded dissent, all parties are agreed that passage of No. 1 will strengthen the law in its fight against narcotic mobsters. It revises rules of evidence so that the scum that pushes dope to teenagers will find fewer loopholes to escape their just desserts.

Michigan had its first snowfall last week.

There wasn't enough to whiten the landscape but there was enough to start state officials speeding up their cold-weather planning. Highways, police, conservation and parks are affected by weather.

Plans were started before last winter's snow had melted. Now comes last-minute detailing. Execution depends on when the weatherman really cuts loose.

Shades of Paul Revere!

A Michigan city has a chain-telephone-call system that alerts merchants against bad-check passers. In the first 90 days of operation, the alarmers went into action four times—and since then not a bad check has been passed.

While the community is proud of that record, it isn't taken any public bows. It isn't giving advance warnings to any slick crook by revealing its identity.

Pole Barns Offer Farmer Advantages

Many new barns going up in Michigan are being built of poles, reports A. J. Bell, extension agricultural engineer at Michigan State College. He passes along the information that they make an economical and efficient type building for beef cattle, dairy cows or sheep. One advantage, he notes, is that the farmer can shift from one type of livestock to another with a minimum of expense.

Pole barns have other advantages, he advises: The simple pole frame takes less time fitting and cutting and reduces the skilled labor required. There is no foundation and this saves time, labor and material. Pole frames can be covered with sheet metal or lumber.

Church at Gagetown will be dedicated Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 9:00 a. m. by Rt. Rev. E. D. Kelley of Detroit and about 100 visiting clergy.

ber. With the open pen type of barn, there are no ventilating problems. Bell gives some essential instructions on the building: Set poles five feet into the ground on a six-inch concrete pad. Treat the poles! poles pressure treated with pentachlorophenol or creosote will last 35 to 40 years. Nailing girts do not need to be butted; ends can be lapped to save time and labor. Put in a deck to store bedding. Use treated plank around the bottom to hold the manure pack.

Methoxychlor is recommended by Ray Jones, entomologist at Michigan State College, for fall spraying of dairy cattle for lice. He warns that DDT residue may carry over in milk and meat.

It isn't the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog that counts.
