

From the Editor's Corner

With Proposals Number Two and Three on the ballot both dealing with reapportionment, many experts believe that voters will have difficulty in choosing the amendment they actually want put in force.

A simple little memory device may help many persons to remember when they go to the polls Nov. 4. Your editor is taking for granted that nearly all voters in this area will want to see the "balanced legislature" measure passed that gives representation to out state Michigan.

The way to remember is this: Two letters for the second amendment and three letters for the third amendment. In other words, no for two and yes for three.

Because Halloween is on Friday this year, the annual Chamber of Commerce party for area youth has been scrapped. Members of the organization felt that a party would be too much competition for the Home-coming game and dance on the same night. It is probably true that the affair will do more to curb malicious pranksters than any other event that could be offered.

It will be a credit to Cass City if pranks like last year's can be averted, when a tractor placed in the middle of M-81 caused an automobile wreck, which injured the driver of the car as he was headed for work.

While Blair Moody attacks the Republican party for fronting for big business, a report from information supplied by Neil Staebler and the National CIO-PAC shows where Democratic funds are coming from. Of the total $265,550 contributed directly to the 1950 Democratic state candidates, $200,000.00 came from Michigan CIO unions, $5,550 from the National CIO-PAC and $60,000 (22.5 per cent) from non-union sources.

Superintendent Willis Campbell announced today that there are still openings in the adult classes to be offered at the high school this winter. If you happen to be interested in one or more practical courses such as typing or shorthand, give the school a ring and tell authorities your preference. Classes will be offered in subjects that have the most interest to the most area residents.

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Drops Dead Dressing for School

Raymond J. Szczepanski, 14-year-old Novesta Township schoolboy, dropped dead Wednesday morning while dressing to attend classes for the day.

According to his parents, Raymond had shown signs of illness only on the day previous to his death when he was sent home from school because he suffered from nausea.

Apparently recovered on Wednesday, he was dressing for school when he died from what doctors described as a heart condition.

Raymond was born in Detroit Dec. 25, 1937, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Szczepanski.

Besides his parents, surviving are: one brother, Gerald; five sisters, Caroline, Theresa, Florence, Rosalie and Christine, all at home; a grandmother, Katherine Szczepanski, and five uncles and aunts.

Raymond is at Douglas Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Ellington Grange At Campbell Home

Eighteen members were present Friday evening when the Ellington Grange No. 1650 met with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Campbell. Officers were elected for the coming year in the business meeting and the officers will be installed Nov. 21.

Elected were: Master, Lawrence Wilson; overseer, Richard Campbell; lecturer, John Bayley; steward, Clarence Turner; assistant steward, Ernest Beardsley; chaplain, Mrs. Harold Satchell; treasurer, Hazen Patterson; secretary, Mrs. Richard Campbell; gatekeeper, Max Bradley; Ceres, Mrs. Clarence Turner; Pomona, Mrs. Hazen Patterson; Flora, Mrs. Roland Wilson; and lady assistant steward, Mrs. Ernest Beardsley.

Nightly Work Brings Project Closer to Completion

This is the second of three pictures to appear in the Chronicle like the one that will be erected in Cass City this year. The project is, from left to right, are: Bernard Freiburger, Russell Leeson and C. M. Wallace.

Teets Pays $15 to Prove Law Wrong In Justice Court

It cost Lloyd Teets, Snover, better than 15 dollars to prove that he should not have received a parking ticket at the recent Sandusky-Cass City football game played in Sandusky.

Teets, along with many other motorists, many from this area, received an illegal parking ticket, that would have cost him $3.

Irked at the procedure that fined him unjustly, Teets pleaded not guilty to illegal parking on Austin Street near the stadium.

His case was heard by Justice Harry Balhoff before a packed courtroom.

City Patrolman Robert Hall said that no parking signs were missing from the sign posts and asserted that the one adjacent to Teets' car was without a placard.

Teets said that he saw a school bus and other cars parked on the street and parked his car along with the rest of the automobiles.

The jury that heard the case returned a verdict of not guilty after examining the street where the alleged violation occurred.

Mr. Teets told the Chronicle that he paid over $19 for lawyer's fees, but considered the money well spent because it proved that he was right in principle and helped to expose what he considered bad law enforcement in Sandusky.

Rotarians Discuss Reapportionment

Fred Finney led an informal discussion over the reapportionment proposals that will appear on the ballot Nov. 4, at the regular weekly meeting of the Cass City Rotary Club held at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday noon.

Rotarians were told what the amendments mean and the significance of the two proposals on the ballot.

Audley Rawson, who is familiar with the two measures, explained at length what the measures mean to persons in the non-metropolitan areas.

Conservation Topic Of Gavel Club

Warren Wood was toastmaster at the regular meeting of the Gavel Club held at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday evening.

He called on several members of the club for short talks on conservation.

President Jack Esau spoke about trees and his multi flora rose plot which he has planted. The roses are used to build natural fences and are ideal for bird seed, according to Esau.

Another speaker Tuesday was C. M. Wallace who explained the changes in deer laws and compared deer conditions in Michigan with those in other states.

The meeting was concluded by brief speeches by Ben Benkelman and Bruce Shaw about deer hunting.

The group worked on the village Christmas display at the close of the meeting.

Baileys Return from Long Vacation Trip

When Lester Bailey, well-known local barber, returned home Saturday night from a 3721-mile, two weeks' vacation trip with Mrs. Bailey, he had visited during some seven or eight vacation trips, each of the 48 states and Laredo, Mexico.

This trip took them through Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

In Chicago, they visited his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harve E. Kapnik, and Friday night and Saturday, en route home, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanWinkle and children at Milan.

Mr. Bailey still prefers Michigan to anything he has seen as a place to live.

Hawks Favored in Conference Tilt at Caro Friday

The Cass City High School Red Hawks swing back into grid action tonight when they go to Caro to play the Tigers in a Thumb "B" Conference tilt.

As usual, the Hawks will be favored to win. Caro has had rough sledding this year—dropping their opening tilt to Lapeer and then playing three tie games.

The game tonight will be the first action for the Hawks in nine days. Their last home game was played on Wednesday when they defeated Marlette, 13-0, to stay in the race for the conference crown—providing another conference team can knock off high flying Bad Axe.

However, experience has shown that comparative scores mean little when these two traditional rivals are pitted against each other.

For instance, last year Cass City had a powerhouse eleven and were expected to walk all over Caro, who had been beaten by all the better teams in the conference.

But when the two teams met in Cass City, Cass City was extended to the limit to register a 13-0 decision.

Following the Caro game, the Hawks will have two more conference tilts to complete their 1952 schedule. Crosswell-Lexington will make their first appearance here in the Home-coming game and Yale will entertain the locals on Nov. 7, the final game of the season.

WSWS Meets at Harry Young Home

Mrs. Harry Young was hostess to the Women's Society of World Service of the E. U. B. Church in her home Thursday afternoon, Oct. 16. Besides the members of the society present, seven visitors were in attendance.

Miss Muriel Addison and Mrs. Wilma Fry were in charge of the program on stewardship with the theme, "We Have A Concern for Human Rights." Miss Addison described the United Nations organization, its origin and functions, and the Declaration of Human Rights. She and Mrs. Fry then read the 30 articles of the declaration to their audience.

Mrs. Fry gave an interesting Concluded on page 10.

Clarks Observe Golden Wedding at Two Celebrations

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Clark of Sheridan Township, Huron County, observed their golden wedding anniversary with a family gathering Sunday, Oct. 19, and a party in their honor staged by Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Blair Wednesday evening, Oct. 22.

Mrs. Clark was born in Brook, Ont., in 1872 and came to Huron County 65 years ago with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Stirton, and settled in Grant Township.

Mr. Clark was born in Parkhill, Ont., in 1872 and came to Huron County with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clark, when he was two years old.

Mr. Clark has lived in Sheridan Township all his life, except for 10 years when he and his family lived in Bad Axe.

At the family gathering Sunday, a dinner was enjoyed by the following members of the Clark family: Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Armstrong of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKenzie of Dearborn and their children, Mary Jane and Kathryn Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Buckner of Big Beaver; Mrs. Annie McCullough and Mrs. Esther McCullough, both of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Stirton of Grant Township.

Members of the immediate family who were unable to attend were: Mr. J. W. Stirton of Richmond, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Cameron of Leslie, Saskatchewan.

At the party Wednesday, an estimated 25 friends of the Clarks gathered to pay tribute to the couple on their golden wedding.

Methodist Church To Hold Special Mission Services

Cass City and Gagetown Methodist Churches will cooperate with nearly 500 other Methodist churches in the eastern half of the lower peninsula and the entire upper peninsula in a United Evangelistic Mission October 31 to November 9.

"There is a new hunger in the hearts of men, a growing realization that 'God has the answer,'" says Rev. Floyd W. Porter, local pastor, explaining the significance of the mission. This week has been set apart to enable folk to "Give God a Chance" to answer their need.

Services will be held in each church nightly at 8 p. m., beginning Sunday, November 2. Also, each night some 40 visitors, divided into two groups, will be out calling in the homes of people in a friendly visitation for Christ and the church.

Thumb district activities in the mission get under way on the preceding Saturday night with a youth rally in Marlette, at which local groups will join with others in a parade of decorated cars.

Jack Gallagher and Catherine Patterson are leaders of the Cass City Concluded on page 10.

Elkland 4-H Club Meets Wednesday

The West Elkland 4-H Club held their October meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Judy and Janet Perry.

The secretary reported that 115 copies of the Modern and Reader's Digest had been collected by the club for the soldiers in Korea.

Work was started on the Red Cross boxes which they hope will make Christmas a little happier for children somewhere in the world.

The club has more than doubled its enrollment and the following projects were chosen for the coming year: clothing, nine enrolled; knitting, five; food preparation, seven; junior leadership, two; home management, two; rabbits, two; handicraft, one, and photography, one.

Two new members, Judy Helwig and Mary Hanby, joined the club at this meeting.

Spot Check Reveals No Increase In Hunters in Area

Although experts have said that hunting pressure was to have been the greatest in years in the Thumb area this season, a spot check at four local license outlets reveals that very few more licenses were sold this year than in 1951.

Western Auto, Hulien's, Bishop Hardware and Albee Hardware all reported about the same or slightly greater sales than last year.

The figures were estimated, but store owners felt that their estimates were fairly accurate.

In support of the theory as indicated by the license sales, restaurant owners said that the expected influx of hunters had failed to materialize in the proportions they had expected.

The weather may have had something to do with the poor turnout this year. Opening day was cold and snow flurries kept birds close to the ground. Most hunters reported little success as they trekked back to Cass City at the close of the day.

Young Republicans To Meet in Richville

The Young Republican Club of Tuscola County will sponsor a banquet at Richville Nov. 1 at 7 p. m.

70 Workers Ready to Launch Elkland Township Chest Drive

Mrs. Avery Named Chairman of Club

Twenty-three members attended the meeting of the Cass City Home Demonstration Club held Thursday evening, Oct. 16, at the schoolhouse.

At the meeting, officers were elected for the new year. Mrs. Roswell O. Avery was named chairman; Mrs. Lyle Koepfgen, vice-chairman, and Miss Muriel Addison, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Avery presented the lesson, "Leisure Time For Youth."

Members enjoyed a 6:30 p. m. dinner served by Mrs. F. L. Morris, Mrs. Dorus Benkelman, Mrs. A. H. Kinnaird, Mrs. C. U. Brown and Mrs. William Day. Tables were decorated in keeping with the Halloween season.

The resignation of Mrs. Angus MacPhail, presented during the business session, was accepted.

Schoolmates Meet At McGrath Home

An Away-Back-When affair was held at the John McGrath farm Wednesday, Oct. 15. Local schoolmates planned and provided dishes for the midday meal which was in honor of Mrs. Janet (McLellan) Baker of Oakland, Calif.

Those present were Myrtle Orr, Cass City; Beryl Koepfgen, Midland; Mrs. Janet Baker, Calif., and Mrs. O. (Schenck) McGrath, all of class '01.

Mrs. Walter (M. Cooper) Schell, '02, and Hollis McBurney, 1900, contributed to the success of the party, as did the presence of Mrs. Elizabeth Koepfgen, who is now in her 96th year.

Topics of timely interest with a musical background of "School Days" and "Auld Lang Syne," along with old photos, made up the informal entertainment.

Coming Auctions

Six auctions are listed in this week's issue of the Chronicle. The first is on Monday, Oct. 27, when Clem Hool will sell his personal property at his farm, one and one-half miles north of Colwood.

On Wednesday, Oct. 29, a farm auction is listed for Harold Chapin who lives two miles east of Deford. The sale includes all his personal property.

Thursday, Oct. 30, Cleo Haggadone will sell his cattle at his farm, three miles south and two and one-half miles east of Caro.

Two sales are listed for Friday, Oct. 31. Arthur H. Moore and son will hold an auction of registered and grade cattle at their farm, six miles north and two miles east of Cass City. John T. Young Estate will be offered at auction on the premises located nine miles west, one south and one-fourth west of Caro.

The final sale listed this week will be held Saturday, Nov. 1, at the farm of Alva Allen, one-half mile east of Deford. The sale includes cattle and milking equipment.

The area's first death from polio was recorded early Wednesday morning, when James Stirton, 26, died at the Saginaw Contagious Hospital.

Mr. Stirton had been ill for approximately a week before his death. Doctors said that the Grant Township farmer had contacted two types of the disease. They said his death was caused by bulbar and spinal polio.

Funeral services will be held at the Douglas Funeral Home under the direction of Arthur Holmberg and burial will be in Elkland Cemetery.

Surviving are: His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stirton; two brothers, Gordon of Curwood, Ont., and Pat, a student at Central Michigan College of Education; three sisters, Lucile Stirton of Arcata, Calif.; Mrs. Ivan (Betty) Steiner of Urbana, Ill., and Mrs. Charles M. (Isabelle) Clarke of Birmingham; one grandmother, Mrs. Enoch Turner of Cass City, and several other relatives.

A report from the family says that Mrs. Clarke is now also ill with polio.

High School Completing Plans For Annual Home-Coming

Cass City High School's Student Council is completing plans for its annual Home-coming to be held next Friday, October 31. This year the event is scheduled in connection with the final home football game of the season against Crosswell-Lexington.

Home-coming events will get under way with a parade in which each class of the high school will be represented by a float or other contribution. Led by the high school band and featuring the Home-coming queen and her attendants, the parade is scheduled for three p. m. Students are voting this week to name the queen and her two attendants.

Crowning of the queen will, as before, be a pre-game event. The royal group will be honored at both the game and at the dance which will follow.

An added feature of this year's program will be a section of the stands reserved for the fathers of the football squad. Invitations have been extended to the dads to sit in a special place for this occasion.

The Home-coming Dance is under the sponsorship of the senior class. The gym will be colorfully decorated for dancing which is scheduled for ten to one o'clock.

Notice!

Fifty-one persons attended the annual kickoff banquet for the Community Chest drive in Elkland Township Wednesday evening at the New Gordon Hotel and heard President Harry Little tell of the need for more money from area residents this year.

Increased expense and the addition of the Red Cross has sent the quota to nearly $6,000, Little said. This year will be the first since the organization was inaugurated here that the Red Cross has not made a separate drive in the township.

In a last minute substitution, Miss Laura Bigelow and Herb Maharg will replace James Gross as chairman of this year's drive.

Miss Bigelow will direct the volunteer workers in the village and Mr. Maharg will have charge of the remainder of the township.

The pair will be directing the activities of 70 volunteer workers, who will begin their duties Thursday morning.

The Community Chest drive is expected to last for just two weeks this year. All contributions or pledges are asked to be in by the end of this period.

However, it was pointed out by members of the Chest, it is not necessary to make a full cash payment at the time workers contact you. A down payment can be made to the charity and the rest of the pledged money can be paid at stated times.

Last year, the drive in Elkland Township fell a little short of its goal. Members of the Chest say that it will require the fullest cooperation of residents this year to shove the drive to its goal.

Take Soil Samples For Better Crops

Home gardeners and farmers who want better gardens and crops next spring can act on it now, recommends Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent. He advises that they take soil samples and have them tested this fall. That will give them time to obtain valuable advice and order fertilizer, or lime, as needed in plenty of time, he explains.

Amounts of phosphorus, potassium and acidity in soil affect the vegetables grown on the plot, notes Ballweg. Only a soil test will give the correct answers on what to do, he stresses.

Advice on soil test procedure is passed along by the county agent from Robert E. Lucas, in charge of soil testing at Michigan State College.

Dig seven-inch-deep holes in about eight locations in the garden, advises Lucas, and remove a thin slice of soil from one side of each hole. Dry the soil at room temperatures, he continues. Then, crush the soil and mix it thoroughly. From the mixture, take about a pint of soil for the sample. Pack the soil in a paper sack and then in a box or can, suggests Lucas. Finally, label it with your name and address and mark it "No.—"

From the mixture, take about a pint of soil for the sample. Pack the soil in a paper sack and then in a box or can, suggests Lucas. Finally, label it with your name and address and mark it "No.—"

Samples can be mailed or delivered to your county soil testing laboratory, care of County Farm Bureau Office, Caro. The cost is 50 cents for each sample.

Make Pie Fillings Luscious and Velvety Smooth (See Recipes Below)

Palate-Pleasing Pies

THIS IS THE SEASON for pies! New pastries are always making their entrance into the pastry parade and this season is no exception. You're bound to enjoy every one of these new varieties.

There's a pumpkin chiffon pie with a walnut crust for which you'll receive plenty of applause, a delightful apple juice mince pie, as well as some smooth and delicious cream pies.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie with Walnut Crust

- 3 eggs
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1 1/2 cup canned pumpkin
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 1 tablespoon orange juice
  - 3/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
  - 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
  - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
  - 1/2 cup cold water
- To the slightly beaten egg yolks add 1/2 cup sugar, pumpkin, milk, orange juice and rind, salt and spices. Cook in double boiler until thick. Soften gelatine in cold water and add to the hot pumpkin mixture. Mix thoroughly and cool. When it starts to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which the remaining 1/2 cup sugar has been added. Pour into walnut crust and chill in refrigerator. Serve with a topping of whipped cream, decorated with walnut halves.

Walnut Crust

- 3/4 cup finely chopped walnut kernels
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Combine the sugar and nuts thoroughly. Then press in a thin layer over the bottom and sides of a well buttered pie pan. These amounts are sufficient for one 8-inch pan. If the pan is quite deep, 1 cup of nuts should be used instead of 3/4 cup. This crust should not be baked and will lend itself for use with any chiffon or cream filling pie. After chilling the nuts cling to the filling and may easily be removed as a crust when the pie is cut.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Roast Chicken
  - Mashed Potatoes
  - Buttered Peas and Carrots
  - Gravy
  - Head Lettuce Salad
  - Hard Rolls
  - Butter
  - *Apple Juice Mince Pie
  - Beverage
- *Recipe Given

- 1 baked 9-inch pie shell
- 1/2 cup cream, whipped and sweetened
- 1/2 cup chopped raisins or dates
- 1/2 cup broken nut meats

Add chocolate to milk and heat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine sugar, flour, and salt; add small amount of chocolate mixture, stirring until smooth; return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Then continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add small amount of mixture to egg, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and cook 2 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add butter and vanilla and cool slightly. Turn into pie shell. Chill. Before serving, cover with sweetened whipped cream to which raisins or dates and nuts have been added, or serve with whipped cream.

Lynn Says:

For pan broiling have lamb chops cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick. Use a heavy skillet. Pan-broil slowly until well browned. Turn and brown other side. Season and serve medium or well done.

To make breaded veal chops, use loin, rib or shoulder chops, cut 1/2-inch thick. Season. Dip in beaten egg, diluted with 1 tablespoon milk or water. Dip into sifted crumbs. Pan-fry slowly, using 2 tablespoons of lard. Brown well on both sides. Add 2 tablespoons of water. Cover. Cook very slowly about 20 minutes.

To clean plumbing fixtures, if chromium, wipe with damp cloth wrung out of soapy water and then polish with a dry cloth. If nickel, wash with soapy water, apply fine cleanser, then polish with soft cloth. Lemon juice or vinegar removes any corrosion on worn nickel faucets.

Linoleum on kitchen counters is cleaned with an application of liquid self-polishing, no-rubbing wax. When dry, rub down to a hard finish. When lightly soiled, wipe with a cloth dipped in cold water.

To remove soap scum deposit (ring around the tub), apply kerosene with a piece of paper toweling, then wash clean with soapy water.

Don't Bring Prohibition to This County Again

Prohibitionists are hard at work again in Tuscola County attempting to bring back a repetition of one of the most colossal social blunders ever made in this country. They wish to revive a discarded social experiment which corrupted many young people as well as adults and set in motion, a practice in criminal gangsterism which left its mark on American life for many years. They wish to revive this outmoded plan of salvation on the pious plea that they are interested in the welfare of youth. They would once more go to any length to bring about their "reform." They consistently blind themselves to the evil effects of the prohibition law. They seem to forget what a farce prohibition was before. It does not have popular support and cannot be enforced.

Certainly you cannot legislate public desires. If a man wishes to have a glass of beer or wine on Sunday, he will have it regardless of the law. The only difference is that he will have to drive a little farther for it. Sunday prohibition does not stop anyone from drinking. It only drives business out of one county into the next.

Tuscola County needs the revenues and tax monies now received from the legally licensed and inspected establishments. In these times of economic stress it certainly is foolish to drive business out of your community.

Bear these facts in mind when you vote and vote NO on the Sunday closing law. This is the ballot for this amendment.

TO PROHIBIT THE SALE OF BEER AND WINE ON SUNDAY

SHALL THE SALE OF BEER AND WINE WITHIN (THE COUNTY OF TUSCOLA) BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 2:00 A. M. AND 12 MIDNIGHT ON SUNDAY BE PROHIBITED?

YES
NO

VOTE FOR SAFE SUNDAYS

Is The Restriction Of The Sale Of Beer and Wine On Sunday Prohibition?

Beer and wine can now be sold in Tuscola County from 7 a. m. to 2 a. m. the following day
19 hours out of every 24 hours
114 hours out of every 144 hours
six days of every week.

Is that not enough?????

NO. They have to have it all . . . 14 hours more . . . seven days a week . . . 128 hours a week

The GROCER uses only 63 hours per week to sell us all the food we need . . . and there are no bootlegging or blind pigs in their business.

The OTHER MERCHANTS use only 55 hours per week for the sale of their wares . . . you don't hear them cry "prohibition."

The BANKS need only 38 hours to transact the financial affairs of the community . . . and people do not run to another county to do their banking.

All these men recognize that Sunday should be kept for our two great American institutions . . . the home and the church.

REMEMBER
Before the "days of prohibition" . . . before the "blind pigs and the bootleggers" THERE WAS NO SALE OF BEER AND WINE ON SUNDAY.

The saloon keepers of that age respected Sunday as an American privilege. A vote for the restriction of the sale of beer and wine on Sunday does not take us back to the "prohibition days" but "pre-prohibition days" of remembering "the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy." (Exodus 20:8)

Don't be fooled by the possibility of giving over our county to the bootleggers because we respect Sunday . . . God honors the nation . . . the state . . . the county that honors Him and keeps that Day as a Holy Day.

VOTE
 NO  YES

WOMAN'S WORLD

Beautiful Floors Need Regular Care, Not Hard Scrubbing

KEEPING your flooring in good condition can be a big job or an easy one! Much depends on the proper care regularly administered rather than constant, back-breaking scrubbing.

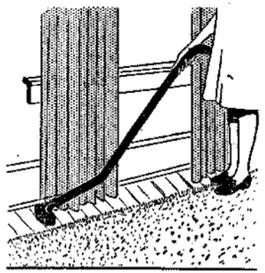

Many homemakers do more work than is necessary, surveys reveal, in keeping their floors in tip-top condition. The reason? They just don't know what care each type of flooring requires.

As a result of this all kinds of floors get a constant scrubbing, and a hard one, at that, just because a homemaker is zealous in her efforts for cleanliness. Correct methods, on the other hand, would eliminate much of the homemaker's work, and at the same time keep in better condition the type of flooring which she has.

Anyone who has kept house for any length of time knows that it's much easier to keep things clean than to get them clean. This means that a small amount of attention given at regular intervals can eliminate much of the really heavy work that comes from thorough and extensive cleanings.

Flooring of any kind is an extensive investment in money, as anyone knows who has had to cover the floor of even a single room. Thus, it's far better to give floors the care recommended a little at a time than something which will ruin the floor and cause expense in re-covering.

Much of the damage comes from scrubbing with harsh soaps and brushes. Much of this can be eliminated if the floor is dusted daily with mop or vacuum cleaner. Under no circumstances should any floors be scrubbed unless this is recommended by the manufacturer.

In some cases cleaning solutions are preferable to the soap-and-water treatment. Wax is often used for protective coating.

Buffing Maintains Sheen On Rubber Floors

If you have rubber flooring in your home, ordinary cleaning will serve for most occasions. Simply brush the loose dirt with a broom, vacuum or a non-oily dry mop.

When the rubber floor becomes really dirty, and this, of course, depends on the traffic in your particular home, give it a quick once-over with a clean mop which you have simply dampened in cold water.

Once or twice a year you can do a really thorough cleaning job on rubber floors. In this case use a cleaning solution which has been especially prepared for them. Then rinse the floor with a mop which has been wrung out in clear, cold water.

When the floor is dry, buff to remove any invisible film that may have been left from the cleaning solution or water. Apply a very thin coat of a water-emulsion flooring wax. Buff it, then apply a second coat of wax and buff again.

Rubber floors treated in this way will look as lovely as when they were first installed. Some spots which get a great deal of traffic may need special service in-between these yearly or semi-yearly cleanings. In this case, clean and re-wax the floor areas rather than the entire floor.

... polish with grain of wood.

Well Waxed Floors Require Little Care

Floors which have a good wax carefully applied to them will need very little care except the two or three times a year when the old wax has to be removed and a new coat applied.

Good quality wax, whether it's of the paste variety or the liquid type, forms a very hard coating on hard wood floors which seal the pores and tiny cracks in the wood. Thus it makes dirt easy to remove by simply swiping an electric cleaner over it, using a nozzle attachment, an untreated dry mop or a clean, soft bristled brush. Oiled mops should not be used

Leaf Cutout Rug

Grandmother never made a more delightful selection of fabrics for her patchwork than this pleasantly sealed leaf cutout in this charming provincial carpet. Colors are chestnut, blue-green, olive and peach on a warm beige ground. It's a gay, practical covering in a room which is otherwise done in plain color.

on waxed floors. They not only weaken the wax but they also leave a film which easily catches the dirt and dust that are brought in.

Soap and water can be used to remove the old wax from the floors, and you may also need some turpentine or denatured alcohol or other special preparation for the job. These preparations not only soften the wax, but remove dirt which has been ground into the wax. For this reason they may be used as "spot" treatment in-between waxing the floor.

Waxes may be applied with applicators for that purpose, or with a cloth which is dipped in the wax. Always be certain the floor is clean before starting.

Some waxes do not need polishing or buffing because they dry to a hard gloss which gives a lovely, lasting finish. Other waxes are improved with buffing. This may be done by hand, but more easily with buffers for the purpose. The latter may be rented if you do not want to go to the expense of purchasing one.

Buff or polish the wax with the grain of the wood rather than across or against it. The more buffing it receives, the higher the sheen, as well as smoother. This means that the surface is less prone to have dirt and dust ground into it.

Wax Over Varnish Gives Protection

Varnish is preferred by many for their floors because it gives a hard and durable finish. The varnished finished will be even more durable if you apply a thin coating of wax to the last coat of varnish when dried.

Floors finished with varnish are cared for much the same as waxed floors, with the main emphasis on daily dusting so that dirt cannot accumulate.

Water spilled on varnished floors should be wiped immediately or it will cause white spots. For daily cleaning use an untreated dry mop or one of the cleaning tools to your vacuum cleaner.

Weekly or semi-monthly care demands that the floor be wiped with a clean cloth or mop dipped in warm, soapy water, but whichever is used should be wrung very dry. Wipe immediately with a dry cloth and polish lightly with an oiled mop or cloth. Avoid leaving an oil residue on floor.

To prevent varnished floors from becoming brittle and dry, as well as to clean them more thoroughly, make a solution like this: mix thoroughly 1 quart boiling hot water, 1 tablespoon turpentine and 3 table-spoons lemon oil or boiled linseed oil.

Let this solution remain on floors for about 10 minutes, then wipe dry with a clean cloth or mop.

You'll find this solution excellent also for cleaning varnished woodwork.

Use Water Sparingly On Painted Floors

Old, neglected floors are best covered with a coating of porch or deck paint, if it's used to cover the floor completely. If the floors are in very poor condition, it's wise to use two or three coats to cover them completely.

Several coats of paint will seal the wood fairly well and give a durable finish which is easily cared. If you will apply a thin coat of wax on the floor after painting, the finish will be even more durable.

Remove dust and dirt daily with a vacuum cleaner, soft-bristled brush or a clean, dry mop. If there is more dirt than these means will remove, use a mop wrung out in clear, warm water.

Mild, warm soap suds can be used when special care needs to be given to the floor. Have an extra mop or cloth handy which is clean and dry so this can be used for wiping dry after washing.

Fashion Forecast

Cummerbunds which were encountered some time ago are still making fashion news. Sheath dresses are especially effective with them and are made interesting by contrasting the fabric of the cummerbund to that of the dress.

ULTIMA THULE: Arctic Air Base

Back in the misty period when Leif Erickson and other intrepid Vikings were roaming the northern seas, Ultima Thule was an awe-inspiring term meaning "farthest land of the world."

But earthly distances have contracted so much since that when we hear today that a huge strategic air base has been constructed by the U.S. only 930 miles from the North Pole.

The name of the base is, of course, Thule. It straddles the polar air routes over which long-range bombing attacks could be carried in a future war.

Thule air base, which sprawls over 90,000 acres on the rugged western tip of Greenland, is not yet completed, but it is the ready and working northern-most outpost of United States jet fighter defense and an obvious staging ground for Air Force intercontinental bombers.

It is situated at a point 2,752 miles from Moscow, 3,199 from Omsk, 3,867 to Stalinsk, and 4,115 to Vladivostok.

If the Russians have anything comparable to such an advanced Arctic base, such layouts are supposed generally to be located in the Franz Josef Land group of islands, which lie on the other side of the North Pole.

Thule air base has been scraped out in the past 18 months from a few square miles of one of the infrequent sizable flat areas along Greenland's jagged west coast.

September is a good time to seed grass waterways for conserving soil, according to Michigan State College authorities.

Thumb Churches Plan Saturday Rallies

A new Christian Youth movement has been formed among the evangelical churches of the Thumb area and will be known as the Christian Youth on the March. Its purpose is to foster fellowship among the Christian young people and to promote Saturday night gospel rallies in the various cities of this area.

At a constitutional meeting of the organization held Monday evening at the First Baptist Church, Caro, a provisional policy was adopted that will govern its activities for this coming year. Churches from five different denominations, as well as a number of independent churches, are already working in this new venture. Every cooperating church has equal voice in its policy and program.

The first rally of the Christian Youth on the March will be held at the Caro High School November 22 at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be the Rev. John Brooks, Superintendent of the Detroit City Rescue Mission, a very popular young people's speaker. Special music from other youth organizations is also being planned by the program committee. These rallies will not be limited to the cooperating churches but open to everyone in the area and by the enthusiasm already exhibited, there will be record breaking crowds at each rally.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Ed Vallender, Farm Editor
WBCB
Popcorn

Everybody eats popcorn—except maybe those with loose plates. It is grown in every state in the union—yet very little is ever mentioned about the crop, because it is classed as a "specialty" crop by the USDA.

Matter of fact—it won't be until December that facts and figures on the 1953 crop will be published.

There are some interesting things about popcorn. This year's crop is expected to come near last year's 192 million pound output. Popcorn assumes its real importance only when we realize that it is a 100 million dollar a year industry.

Ad Campaign
You're likely to see a lot of popcorn advertising appearing on television screens and even on some roadside billboards. Not only are popcorn processors and manufacturers pushing for increased consumption, but salt and fats trades are joining in the publicity drive aimed at spreading the joys of popcorn eating.

While movie theatres and other commercial establishments now take the lion's share of the yearly popcorn crop, the advertisers expect to enlarge the number of home popping experts as new TV stations keep more and more folks at home nights.

Tradition
The drive may return popcorn to the place where it got its start—in the home. And it got its start with the Indians—became commercially important back in 1890 and has greatly expanded since then.

As an example of the growth of the popcorn industry, there were some 45 million pounds of popcorn harvested in 1912. That crop brought a million dollars in income. Last year, output was 192 million pounds and worth more than eight million dollars.

The states that produce the most popcorn are Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Illinois, in that order.

Personal Experience
Last year, we decided to put in a couple of long rows of popcorn in our garden. Came harvest time and we loaded bushel after bushel into the front hallway for conditioning. Matter of fact, the volume got a little out of hand. Visitors were asked if they'd like to take a little home.

We kept testing the corn for popability. During February, some five months after harvest, we decided it was right for canning. The family spent three nights shelling. (You can only handle so much before your hands become too sensitive.)

Finally we had it all set to can. Quart fruit jars were dry-heated over the stove. The jars were filled with popcorn then the vacuum type lid turned down tight. Later in the evening, the lids dented in, just the way they do in regular canning.

We won't have to grow popcorn for another four or five years. In spite of our two or three times a week popcorn sessions—we are making very little dent on the overall supply.

You want some fine popcorn—come to our house—bring the butter.

Teacher's Salary

The average public school teacher in the United States draws a salary of $3,290.

OUR DEBT: Still Growing

It isn't exactly news, but the U. S. debt is continuing to grow.

The Commerce Department reports that net public and private debt increased 31 billion dollars in 1951, reaching 519 billions by the end of the year.

Private debt rose 31 billion dollars, and the debt of state and local governments 2.5 billions. The net debt of the federal government showed virtually no change for the second successive year. Thus, the federal debt stood at 219 billion dollars at the close of 1951.

Interpreting its report, the department said that the increase in debt was accompanied by "a general growth in economic activity and a record volume of business and individual investment."

There were some hard-headed economists who were prone to diagnose the increased debt plus the accompanying phenomena described by the Commerce Department as an acute case of inflation.

The department also reported that total farm debt amounted to 13.3 billion dollars at the end of the year—an increase of 11 per cent.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

"By 2000 A. D. the whole southern part of Michigan will undoubtedly be one vast suburban area."

That's the opinion of Dr. Paul Miller, rural sociologist for Michigan State College. Being a serious student, Miller won't make that as a flat prediction. But there are plenty of clues pointing to that trend.

That points up the need, he believes, for township zoning in what are now rural areas and a new examination of the best use Michigan can put its land to.

Miller is no highbrow dweller of the ivory tower of scholarship. He admits—with probably a faint touch of pride—that he's a hillbilly "who draws vowels all around the town and drops consonants all over the street."

He gets out in the dirt roads and plowed fields to talk to people and it's always a toss up whether he's engaging in research or just enjoying a friendly visit.

The results of such door-to-door palavering brings out a picture of a southern Michigan community that few people in the state realize.

He found that the community of rural dwellers living close to a city of 2,500 are classified in these four groups:

1. About half describe themselves as "natives who are good people."
2. "Natives who are chisellers"—the term is the one used by the "good people"—make up 10%.
3. "Hardworking Detroiters"—again the term is the "good" natives—make up another 10%.
4. "Shiftless Detroiters"—so called by the first group—are the remaining 80%.

The term "Detroiters" is applied by the "natives" to everyone who hasn't been born and raised on the land.

These divisions in what used to be a closely knit rural community naturally make for something less than an ideal climate for civic progress. "Detroiters" complain that their neighbors show none of the friendliness for which rural America was so long noted. The "good natives" retort that they'll be willing to be sociable "but the Detroiters won't even ask for advice."

The customary activities that trend to weld a community are almost all concentrated among the "good natives." Building bees, Grange and Farm Bureau activities, church affiliations, card parties—all the things that make neighbors—generally are found only in the top 50%.

So normal association between the old and new groups is slim.

But the barriers break down in the younger generation.

School kids whose parents have nothing in common soon grow buddy-buddy. They don't care if their fathers are working in a nearby factory or operating a successful farm. Their friendship is probably the biggest single factor that points to the ultimate creation of a good neighborhood spirit.

Of the "good natives," two fifths are 65 years of age or over. That means that the younger generation are predominant in the other three groups and that the friendship of youngsters will soon become even more important as the elders die off.

"The new rural community is just like a new frontier," explains Miller. "It's growing and it doesn't know what it's growing into. It will take time for its character to crystallize."

"When a man moves out into the country and buys three or five or 10 acres, that land goes out of farm production. Will that eventually mean we'll have too little land to grow the crops we need?"

That question was put to Miller. "I think that the natural balance between man's needs and the land that supplies them will prevent this from happening," he opined.

"But I do think that rural townships would do well to begin at once with zoning plans. I'm not a zoning expert; but I feel that too many township zoning plans are the work of an attorney and an engineer instead of a reflection of what the people themselves want."

"The citizens of every community ought to get together and thresh out this problem."

Michigan has fewer farms and less cultivated land now than in the past 30 years. The U. S. Census of Agriculture for Michigan has just been released. It shows that there are now 155,589 farms in the state. In 1920 there were 196,447.

The number of farms under 10 acres increased by a third in that period. Farms under three acres increased 500%.

Right now 47.3% of all of Michigan's land area is farmland; in 1920 it was 51.7%.

The average age of Michigan farmers is 49.9 years.

Over 20% of all farmers in the state worked at least 100 days in a factory last year.

As Miller points out, "There is no typical American farmer any more. The farmer isn't the straw-hatted hayseed cartoons depict him as. He's to be a good businessman, a mechanic, a marketing expert, a chemist and a biologist. And he has to be a vital member of the new rural committee forming in Michigan. For everyone has a stake in the soil; no one can live off dead land."

If your attic is a typical one, you periodically vow, "We've got to get rid of some of this worthless stuff we're keeping."

That's just what the State of Michigan is doing.

Millions of records clog State offices and 40% are kept for no reason at all.

So, following legislation passed on recommendation of the Little Hoover Commission, conservation and civil service agencies threw out 29 useless and obsolete forms and save $15,850 annually. Simplifying birth records in the department of health eliminated five typists and 49,275 annual expenses.

Thirty per cent of all records in the departments of administration and conservation were found valueless and their destruction approved. Savings: $7,000 yearly.

When paperwork controls have been put in effect on the 14,000 different forms used by all 114 state agencies, the Little Hoover group estimates savings will reach $800,000 annually and that when a centralized records center is established, the yearly economy will reach the million dollar mark.

Alger Urges Lower Costs, Not More Tax

Fred Alger insists that lower costs of government—not higher taxes—are the answer to Michigan's present financial crisis.

"The State of Michigan, like you and me, can go broke too. And the State will go broke if it keeps on spending more than it takes in," Alger insists.

RECENT PRISON RIOTS cost you and your fellow Michigan citizens about $2,000,000! The supervisor of Michigan State Prisons—appointed by the Governor—and the Governor himself, failed to act in time to prevent these costly riots. Later, a "truce" was made with the surly prisoners and YOU bought them steak, ice cream and other favors for their promise to be "good boys" in the future!

WHO CONTROLS OUR GOVERNOR? Find out who ordered him to open the prison gates for a goon-squad leader convicted of destroying property. Find out who ordered him to veto the "Good Roads Program" to take Michigan out of the mud. Find out who ordered him to veto the loyalty board charter amendment to Detroit's city charter and told him not to let the legislature consider anti-communist laws in a special session.

THESE SPECIAL GROUPS can get favors and privileges from the Governor's office because they "control" the Governor. He owes allegiance to them because they are the back-bone of his support. They are not interested in what is good for the State of Michigan but only in what will further their own ambitions and lust for power. These groups are controlled by a few men who dictate policy and act as political advisors to the Governor. They are responsible to nobody but themselves. This secret political bossism in Michigan must end!

Less expensive cuts of meat must be cooked for a long time at a slow temperature, remind Michigan State College home economists. Or, grind the less-expensive cuts and treat them as you would tender meats, they suggest.

Farm Profit, Dollar Share Not the Same

The farmer's share of consumer food dollars does not fix profit and loss in farming, stresses Dale E. Butz, Michigan State College extension specialist in agricultural economics.

The 1952 farm portion is about 48 cents, reports Butz, compared to a normal 50 cents. The range has been from 32 cents in 1932 to 54 cents in 1945, observes the farm economist.

A farmer could profit more from a smaller share one year than from a bigger share another, because of price trends, according to a study by Butz. Labor and other marketing costs may force prices up, and other retail trends take them higher, while the farmer's share drops off. Even though his share is off, the farmer may still reap a good profit, according to Butz. A higher share of the consumer's dollar does not mean more farm profit, however, if production costs on the farm go up faster than does the farmer's price for his products.

Profit in farming still depends on the relation of prices farmers get to their production costs, emphasizes the specialist in farm economics. Shares of a dollar are based on averages, also, he notes, and each commodity must be examined on its own merit.

When retail prices go up, costs of marketing may stay fairly steady again—and the farm production share drops, explains the MSC economist. In the past year, rising prices at retail leveled off sooner than marketing costs, which also were rising, and that cut into the farmer's share; that accounts for the 48 cents, he reports.

More efficiency in marketing can give the consumer lower prices, according to Butz, while also giving the farmer a bigger return. Research at the college is aimed at trying to cut market costs to benefit both groups.

Vaccination Puts Check on Fowl Pox

"Don't let your poultry be 'sore-heads.' Poultrymen can control fall and winter inroads of 'fowl pox' into their chicken and turkey flocks, advises Henrik J. Stafseth, head of the Michigan State College bacteriology department. Vaccinations will check the infectious disease, known also as 'chicken pox' and 'sorehead.' The disease causes scabs on unfeathered parts of fowl's heads and cankers in their mouths. Any chickens or turkeys with these symptoms should be put in separate pens, the MSC bacteriologist cautions. Vaccinations will help the healthy birds but will not stop the disease once a bird contacts it, notes Stafseth. Poultrymen can use fowl pox vaccine on 8-to-20-week-old birds that are not laying, says the bacteriologist. On laying pullets and hens, he advises using pigeon pox vaccine now for temporary protection. If they are to be kept another laying season, they should be protected later with fowl pox vaccine, he points out. Pigeon pox vaccine gives immunity for three to six months. Chicken growers can protect their hens for life by using fowl pox vaccine at molting time. Neither the pigeon nor chicken pox vaccines produce permanent protection in turkeys, Stafseth cautions. To avoid trouble, poultrymen can use fowl pox vaccine on chickens when they are 8 to 10 weeks old, the MSC specialist suggests. He warns against the vaccination of unhealthy birds, using vaccines in cold rainy weather or when mosquitoes are bad or use of old vaccine.

World Sulphur Shortage End Near, Farmers Told

The world sulphur shortage, critical since the start of the Korean conflict, has improved to the point where U.S. farms and factories are getting virtually all of the sulphur they need. Furthermore, the outlook for the future is "extremely encouraging" as the result of nearly 100 new free world projects that will substantially increase the supply of sulphur in various forms. This is the report of Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., president of Freeport Sulphur company, who says that "the large gap between demand and supply no longer exists." One-third of all American-produced sulphur goes into fertilizer. The manufacture of hundreds of other items, such as steel, rubber, chemicals, paper, petroleum products and insecticides, also depend on the mineral. "There is enough new production in sight to dispel the threat of a continuing shortage," Williams said. "Even if the requirements of U.S. industry and agriculture should increase by 1955 to the level estimated by the Defense Production Administration, there will be enough sulphur to meet the demand assuming the new projects measure up to expectations." The new projects, he added, will add approximately 1,500,000 long tons of sulphur in various forms to free world productive capacity by the end of 1952, 1,350,000 tons more by the end of 1953, 250,000 tons more by the end of 1954, and 900,000 tons more by the end of 1955.

Cows Calved in Fall Net Best Returns

Fall-freshening cows give more returns for feed costs than those freshening in the spring, reports L. A. Johnson, dairy extension specialist at Michigan State College. Study of 2,347 records of cows in Dairy Herd Improvement Association tests in 1951 gave Johnson his answers. Cows freshening in September through November averaged 24 more pounds of butterfat and $20 more income over feed costs per cow than those freshening in March through May. Feed cost to produce milk was slightly lower with the spring freshening cows, admits Johnson. But a combination of higher production and higher fall prices gave the financial advantage to the fall group. Dairymen breed cows to freshen year-around seeking an even flow of milk, Johnson notes. Lush spring pastures increase spring production and short pastures in the fall cut production, he continues. He thinks it would be to the dairymen's advantage to breed more cows to calve in the fall. This would even the milk supply up even more and give a financial gain, he advises. Planning a timed breeding program is not easy, he says, but strict attention to time of drying off, heat periods and breeding dates as shown in a complete breeding record will help make the system work.

Determine Death Cause, Bury Carcass, Warning

When a farmer is in doubt about cause of death of livestock on his farm, have an accurate diagnosis made by a veterinarian before burying the carcass, Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State College extension veterinarian advises. Dr. Reed has some other suggestions for reducing the spread of livestock diseases. He advises against having the rendering truck drive onto your farm to pick up the carcass of an animal if it can be avoided.

A roof over a trench type silo will help prevent side walls from caving or sloughing off. It does not, however, add to the keeping qualities of the silage. The posts for the roof should be placed two or three feet from the edge of the silo to prevent caving of the walls near the posts. The above drawing gives a general idea of how a roofed trench silo can be constructed.
