

From the Editor's Corner

As usual, with the time drawing closer for the annual Home-coming celebration in Cass City, those responsible have been anxiously scanning long range weather forecasts and spending considerable time speculating about the weather August 6.

Since the event was inaugurated here four years ago, the affair has been blessed with almost ideal weather. Each of the preceding celebrations has been under sunny skies—although it has rained immediately preceding and following the Home-coming. With all the events crowded into one big day, weather plays a vital role in the success of the event.

It was just a year ago this week that we started jotting down these sidelights and personal opinions of the news in the Editor's Corner. During that time, some of the observations made seem ludicrous in the light of subsequent events. One such item was a remark about the weather. We talked about the severe electrical storms and heavy rains in the area, etc.—the violent windstorms and tornadoes of recent weeks made us think that we were making a mountain out of a molehill last year.

While speaking of the weather, we'll pass along some information from the weather bureau. According to the experts, the recent heat wave is just a beginning. The rest of July and August is expected to bring record or near record temperatures to the area.

Average Farm Acreage Rises, Few Own More

Tuscola County farmers are becoming monopolists.

Yes, according to a recent publication by the Tuscola County Land Planning Committee, since 1940 the average farm in the county has increased from 81 to 110 acres. This means that rapidly Tuscola is becoming a county of a few big farmers out-numbered by non-farm residents.

This is a far cry from 1839 when the first acre of wheat was sown by hand, between the stumps and dragged into the ground by a tree limb and from the years following when a majority of persons depended on farms for life.

The report credits the trend towards large farms to the Machine Age and to farmers learning it's not profitable to operate expensive machinery on small acreage so they are expanding. The prospect of continued farm labor shortages is also pushing the trend, the report states.

These "monopolists" are also taking part in another kind of revolution. The crops raised in

FFA Forges to Front in Close Cass City Softball Loop Race

FFA took over the lead in the red-hot Cass City Softball League race this week with three victories in as many starts, including a decision over the former league leaders, Decker.

The victories gave FFA an 8-2 record, while Decker now stands 8-3. Church of Christ, 6-4, and Auten's, 6-5, both have an outside chance of winning or sharing the title before the season closes July 29.

Both of the front-runners opened the week's schedule with convincing victories. Decker walloped Gagetown, 14-4, and FFA surprised league-followers by scoring an easy 11-4 decision over Auten's who have been unable to regain the form that shoved them into the league lead early in the season.

FFA posted their biggest scoring spree of the season Friday evening at the expense of Gagetown. They scored 16 runs while holding the neighboring village's nine to a single count.

Cass Tavern, which has been the doormat of the league in its first eight games, continued to show the improvement that marked their play recently in the nightcap Friday. The Tavern nine failed to win from Church of Christ, but staged a stiff fight before bowing, 5-3.

One of the largest crowds of the season was on hand Monday evening and saw two fine games.

Athletic Facilities Discussed

Ross Re-elected To School Board

A disappointing crowd of just 24 persons was at the Cass City High School auditorium Monday evening for the annual school meeting and election of a member of the school board.

The group heard a report on the internal accounting of the high school by Willis Campbell and the financial report by Fred Pinney.

Lester Ross was re-elected to his position after a nominating ballot presented the following persons as candidates for office: Mrs. B. H. Starmann, James Gross, Earl Harris, Dr. D. E. Rawson, Dr. E. C. Fritz and Mr. Ross.

A complaint was registered by Mrs. Floyd Porter over the lack of a physical education program for high school girls and a singing program for high school boys.

Alex Tyo asserted that too much time was devoted to boys participating in high school athletics and not enough to students who were unable to make the high school teams.

Superintendent Campbell pointed out that a lack of space was hampering the instruction of the youth.

In his financial statement, Mr. Pinney stated that the grade school debt now stands at $90 thousand and the bonds are being paid off at the rate of $8 thousand a year. He also said there is now $33 thousand in the building and site fund.

The school, operating still on 11 mills (divided, seven for operating and four for debt retirement), collects $75 tuition for out-of-district students of kindergarten to the sixth grade and $93 for the seventh to twelfth graders.

About 55 to 60 per cent of the students attending the school are non-resident. In 1952-53 the total students numbered at 985 and Mr. Campbell stated the number will probably top 1,000 this year.

Bus rates for next year will remain at $50, Mr. Campbell stated.

The cost of educating one child this year remained almost equal with '51-'52. It was $187.54 in comparison to $187.18 in '51-'52.

Insurance carried on the school, according to Mr. Campbell, is co-insurance of $978 thousand on the buildings and $56 thousand on the equipment.

Firemen See CAP Equipment Thursday

Approximately 75 visiting firemen are expected to attend the monthly meeting of the Tuscola County Firemen's Association at the Cass City Fire Hall Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Three movies on fire fighting will be shown and the Civil Air Patrol troops from five cities in the Thumb area will demonstrate their equipment. CAP groups from Imlay City, Marlette, Caro, Bad Axe and Cass City will join in the demonstration.

FFA Forges to Front in Close Cass City Softball Loop Race

In the opener, Auten's and Church of Christ battled to the wire before the Motormen took a narrow 3-2 decision.

Veteran Carl Kolb hurled for Church of Christ and Nelson "Moose" Wiley went the distance for Auten's.

The final game Monday was the feature of the week. FFA and Decker, fighting for first place in the league and a chance to meet the leader of the Caro Softball League Tuesday evening in an exhibition game, clashed head-on in a game that was much closer than the final score indicated. FFA won 10-4.

But it was anybody's game until the fifth inning when the Farm nine sent 11 men to bat and scored five big runs to sew up the contest, took first place in the league and won the right to meet Caro.

FFA was forced to come from behind to register the victory. They netted a couple of runs in the top half of the first, only to see Decker come charging back to tie it up in their half of the inning.

After holding FFA scoreless in the next frame, they netted another run to take a 3-2 lead.

Jack Fleming pitched well for Decker and Eldon Stoutenberg was effective for FFA.

Difference in the two teams was the defensive lapses by the Decker nine. Costly errors at critical moments helped FFA stage their big fifth inning rally.

Woman Pays Fine For Shoplifting

Mrs. Alice Saculla, 41, of Tyre was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Calvin Striffler Saturday, July 11, and paid a $25 fine and costs of $7.30 on a shoplifting charge.

Mrs. Saculla was first spotted with two young girls Friday in Parsch's Store as she was slipping an article into a shopping bag she carried. Officials later also found articles in the bag belonging to the Federated Store, Gamble's and the Ben Franklin Store.

She was arrested by Steve Orto, town constable.

Name Three to Committee for Little League Baseball

The Cass City Gavel Club appointed three men from their organization to act on the 10-man committee necessary for the establishment of Little League baseball.

The three men, Glen McCullough, Lester Ross and Dale Kettlwell, were appointed at the regular Tuesday night meeting at the New Gordon Hotel.

Present plans for the committee calls for three men each from the Gavel and Rotary Clubs and four men from the village-at-large.

In other business before the club, a committee was appointed to set a date for a meeting at the Cass City Recreational Park. Present plans call for the Rotary Club to be guests of the Gavel Club at the meeting.

Program chairman Tuesday was Earl Harris. He showed slide shots of famous persons and members were called on to identify them.

Committees Chosen For Home-coming

Committees for the fourth annual Cass City Home-coming were announced this week. Roy Benson will have charge of the FFA part of the livestock show; the 4-H division will be under the direction of James Milligan, Dr. Crandell, Clarence Merchant, Harold Perry and Walter Goodall.

Warren Wood will be in charge of the parade and Lloyd Bryant the bicycle parade.

The horse-pulling contest comes under the jurisdiction of Andrew Bigelow, Orval Hutchinson and Ralph Youngs. Children's activities will be handled by Fred Auten, Irv. Clasenman, Alden Asher and Les Ross.

Russell Leeson, Fritz Neitzel and John West will direct the baseball throw. The electrical end of the event will be handled by Ed Baker and H. J. Ludlow, while Mr. Clasenman and Carl Kolb will be in charge of the baseball game.

Entertainment comes under the jurisdiction of James Bauer and Mr. Bauer will also handle the concessions, assisted by John Haire. Cliff Ryan will handle the obstacle course and Howard Ellis and Bernard Ross will direct the bingo game.

Officer Defines Use of Polio Shots

An explanation for the restricted use of the inoculations against polio was given by Dr. Savage, Tuscola County health officer, Monday. The inoculations are only being given to children under five years of age and only in the immediate families of polio victims.

Dr. Savage explained this is necessary because of the limited amount of the gamma globulin used for the inoculations. The amount available is small because it is obtained from human blood.

The Michigan State Health Office requires a list to be kept of all the inoculations given at the health officer's office. The dosage used each time is determined by the weight of the child—matching it with a chart released by the State Health Office.

Because of the small quantity available and the detailed checking necessary to keep track of the serum, local doctors cannot administer it without special permission and must obtain the supply from the county health officer's office.

Lodge, Man About Town

Don Lodge, patient at Stevens Nursing Home, discusses his early adventures on the seas in the living room of the Home. He has been a patient there for seven months.

Former World-wide Traveler Sees Cass City Via Wheelchair

There are advantages to everything, even to being paralyzed from the waist down, according to Don Lodge, 25-year-old patient at the Stevens Nursing Home in Cass City.

Mr. Lodge, a familiar sight to all Cass Cityites as he whizzes down the street in his wheelchair daily, found this out when he broke a leg recently while in the University Hospital in Ann Arbor. He felt no pain and the doctors didn't discover it was broken until two days later. Then he didn't have to wear a cast because in his paralyzed condition sores would develop underneath it.

Cass Cityites best know Mr. Lodge for his handicraft work. Since he became hospitalized six years ago, he has made approximately 500 billfolds which he sells and gives as gifts to his friends and family. These hand-tooled billfolds and celluloid "gay birds", ladies' pins, are his chief diversion.

An automobile accident in Tennessee six years ago paralyzed Mr. Lodge. He was then a six-year veteran of the Merchant Marines which he joined when he was 13.

"Lying about my age to get in was easy," he said, "and I loved every minute of it." During his time with the outfit, he visited France, Wake, Guam, Saipan and other countries around the world.

He has been at the Stevens Nursing Home for seven months. During that time, he has "driven" downtown, only a five-minute ride by wheelchair, he says, more and more frequently until now it is a daily occurrence.

His stay in Cass City is broken only by quarter-yearly trips to the University Hospital for check ups. These visits vary in length from one to 129 days, such as the time he broke his leg while learning to get from a chair into his wheelchair. It was later in this visit that Mr. Lodge demonstrated again the advantage of his condition. He scraped the skin off his shin bone so he had to stay in bed while it healed but he was in no pain.

His plans for the future include

Don Lorentzen Named Instructor For City Rifle Club

Donald Lorentzen, Cass City, has been selected as instructor for the newly organized Cass City Junior Rifle Club, the National Rifle Association announced this week.

Membership in the newly chartered group will be restricted to youngsters under 19 years of age. Officers, all of Cass City, are: Samuel A. Champion, president; Roger Wright, vice-president; Ronnie Fleenor, executive officer; Joan Parrott, secretary, and Jean Parrott, treasurer.

Aim of the new club, like thousands of others similarly chartered by the National Rifle Association, is to teach youngsters the fundamentals of good marksmanship and safe firearms handling.

Local Draft Board Calls Seven for Armed Services

One Cass City man will be among the seven from the local Draft Board No. 83 reporting for induction into the armed forces Thursday, July 23, at the American Legion Hall, Caro, at 6:30 a. m.

Chester J. Szarapski will leave with Henry F. Schoenow, Richville; Larry H. Norington, Akron; Erwin L. Baldwin, Millington; Dane A. Valentine, Fostoria; Howard H. Bittner, Reese, and Norman D. Forsyth, Millington.

Seven men have also completed their service time and reported to the board in Caro. They are: Edward Steffek, Fairgrove; William Pena, Cass City; Raymond Engel, Clifford; Weyman Church, Millington; Donald Rodammer, Vassar; Ernest Dilas, Reese, and Richard Stoddard, Vassar.

Community Chest Extends Drive for Tornado Relief

One more desperate attempt to get contributions for the tornado relief fund for the Flint area will be carried on this week, according to Harry Little, chairman of the drive being conducted by the Elkland Township Community Chest.

Contributions have been very few so far, according to Mr. Little, both at the banks with checks and in the six canisters in business places in the village.

Therefore, the drive will be extended another week to give the people a chance to contribute. Mr. Little reminded the community people that this is another chance for those who failed to meet their quota in the regular Chest drive in the spring.

Contributions may be made in the six canisters and checks may be turned in to the Cass City State Bank and the Pinney State Bank for the next week.

Newspaper Praises Work of Pfc. Helwig

The work of a Cass City soldier in Korea was praised in a recent publication of a Korean newspaper.

The report stated: "Medics of the 15th 'Can do' Infantry Regiment have expressed their thanks to the generous American people who donated blood to the GI's fighting in Korea. During the recent fighting on the Central Korean Front, wounded American soldiers were given whole blood and blood plasma which increased their chances of recovery 100 per

Brother-in-Law Injured

Accident Kills Mahlon Curtis

Mahlon Curtis was killed instantly and his brother-in-law, Frank Wright, 24, was injured when the milk truck they were riding in overturned on M-81 at 3:15 Wednesday morning, July 15.

Mr. Wright told Steve Orto, town constable, and Dr. H. T. Donahue, coroner, who investigated the accident, that he and Mr. Curtis were returning from visiting a friend north of Bad Axe. They were traveling west on M-81, when Mr. Wright said, he suddenly realized the truck was off the road and he severed the wheel to bring it back on. However, the truck tipped over and rolled. Mr. Wright said he and Mr. Curtis were thrown out and lay side by side on the ground beside the truck.

Dr. Donahue stated that evidence pointed out that the truck probably rolled on top of Mr. Curtis. He died of a fractured skull and fractured nose, according to Dr. Donahue.

Mr. Wright was taken to Pleasant Home Hospital in Cass City with a severely cut left ear and bruises and cuts on his back. He was to be released later Wednesday.

Authorities stated no decision has been reached concerning an inquest. In a written report submitted by Deputy Sheriff Tomlinson, Mr. Wright said he and Mr. Curtis had had something to drink.

Mr. Curtis was 31. He was born March 22, 1922, in Novesta Township, the son of Mrs. Lena Rebehr Curtis and the late Joshua Curtis. He married Christina Wright in Cass City on March 22, 1952, and they lived on a farm near Wilmot.

Survivors are: his wife, his mother, three brothers, Sylvester of Pontiac; Clifford of Marlette, and Morris of Kingston, and two sisters, Mrs. Basil Hartwick of Rochester and Mrs. Hilary New of Caro; two half-sisters, Mrs. Iris McLean of Canada and Miss Theresa Curtis of Detroit and two half-brothers, Basil Curtis of Lake Orion and Earl Curtis of Standish.

Funeral services will be held in the Baptist Church in Cass City at 2 p. m. Friday, July 17. The Rev. Weckie will conduct the services and burial will be in the Elklund Cemetery. The remains will be at the Douglas Funeral Home until noon Friday.

Mrs. Bender Elected Secretary of Reunion

Mrs. Wilbert Bender of Cass City was elected secretary-treasurer of the Iseler family reunion for 1954 at the reunion in North Park at Harbor Beach Sunday.

Herbert Iseler of Port Hope was elected president for the year and Fred Ender of Port Hope was vice-president.

Approximately 80 persons attended the reunion. The group voted to hold the reunion July 4 next year in North Park again.

Council to Advance Meeting One Week

The monthly meeting of the Village Council has been advanced one week to Tuesday, July 21, to allow vacation time for Mrs. Wilma Fry, secretary.

Officers to Assume Duties Following School Elections

Fourteen school districts in the Cass City area held elections for school officers Monday, July 13. Results of the elections were: Crawford, Novesta No. 1, Norman Crawford replacing Harold Chapin as director.

Other business transacted by the districts included the decision by the Crawford School, Novesta No. 1, to buy the textbooks for their students this year.

Paul School, Novesta No. 2, Don DeLong was re-elected as moderator and they voted to transport children to Cass City High School. Quick School, Novesta No. 3, elected Robert Phillips director, replacing Mrs. Sophia Hinton.

Deford School, Novesta No. 4, elected Stanley Kloc to replace Armond Curtis as a trustee and Burton Allen succeeded himself as moderator. Also voted to have 180 days of school and to leave the question of taking kindergartners home at noon to parents of children.

Brown, Novesta No. 5, Mrs. Helen Little was re-elected moderator and voted to transport children to Cass City High School.

Ferguson, Novesta No. 6, Russell Cook was elected to succeed

Lightening Bolt Kills Mrs. Smith

The flash electric storms around the Cass City area on Tuesday afternoon, July 14, claimed one victim. Mrs. Alice Smith of Unionville was killed while sitting on a tractor in a field on their farm with her husband, Leslie.

Mrs. Smith, who was expecting a baby in the fall, was sitting on the fender of the tractor and her husband was sitting on the seat when the bolt struck. It stunned Mr. Smith for a short time and he reported, when he realized what had happened, he found his wife lying dead on the ground beside the tractor.

Mrs. Smith was born July 7, 1935, in Caro, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker. She married Leslie Smith on December 2, 1950, and they made their home in Unionville.

She is survived by: her husband; brothers and sisters, James Walker, serving with the Armed Forces in Germany; John and Jennifer Walker of Uby; Sally Owensby of Uby, and a twin brother, Allah, stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Funeral services will be held in the Baptist Church in Cass City at 2 p. m. Friday, July 17. The Rev. Weckie will conduct the services and burial will be in the Elklund Cemetery. The remains will be at the Douglas Funeral Home until noon Friday.

It stands to reason...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Big truck users, small truck users, all truck users buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. It stands to reason Chevrolet trucks must offer more of what you want.

Only Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks offer all these features... yet it's the lowest-priced truck line!

TWO GREAT VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINES—The Loadmaster or the Thriftmaster—to give you greater power per gallon, lower cost per load. SYNCHROMESH TRANSMISSION—for fast, smooth shifting. HYPOID REAR AXLE—for dependability and long life. DUAL-SHOE PARKING BRAKE—for greater holding ability on heavy-duty models. WIDE-BASE WHEELS—for increased tire mileage. BALL-GEAR STEERING—for easier handling. UNIT-DESIGNED BODIES—for greater load protection. BATTLESHIP CAB CONSTRUCTION—double-walled, all-steel unit of great strength and durability.

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When you stop to think about it, the best proof of outstanding value in any product is continued public preference. For when folks discover a "good thing," sales go up and stay up. That's the way it is with Chevrolet trucks. Year after year Chevrolet trucks outsell all other makes. And they're the top selling trucks in America today... for the twelfth straight production year.

This is a mighty important fact to consider before you buy your next truck. You'll also want to consider that, while Chevrolet trucks give you more features you want, it's the lowest-priced truck line of all!

Whatever your hauling or delivery need, think it over, when you're thinking of a new truck. Then come in and talk it over with us.

Thiel-Schwartz Rites Read at St. Agatha's

In a double-ring ceremony, Miss Mary Margaret Thiel became the bride of Edward George Schwartz Saturday, July 11, at 9:30 in St. Agatha's Catholic Church in Gagetown. The Rev. Glenn William Cronkite performed the ceremony in front of an altar decorated with garden flowers and lighted candles.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Thiel of Gagetown and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwartz, also of Gagetown.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of lace and nylon net over satin fashioned with a sheer net yoke, a fitted lace bodice and lace wristpoint sleeves. The floor length hoop skirt was of nylon net with an accordion pleated ruffle and lace insertion. Her double finger-tip veil was inserted with flowered medallions and rhinestones and held in place by a coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of carnations centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Roman Glaza of Peck, sister of the groom, served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of Nile green net over satin with matching headband. Miss Dolores Schwartz, cousin of the groom, wore a bridesmaid's gown of yellow net over satin. Both of the gowns were of identical styling with fitted bodices, a peplum and short jacket effect with skirts touching the floor.

They carried colonial bouquets of yellow gladioli and valley lilies. Roman Glaza of Peck was best man and Arthur Thiel of St. Clair Shores seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thiel chose a white silk print frock with a picture hat and white accessories. Mrs. Schwartz wore a saddle brown dress with brown accessories. Their corsages were white carnations.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate family was served at the Home Restaurant in Cass City. One hundred and fifty guests attended a reception there later in the day.

The groom is employed at the Packard Motor Car Co. and the bride taught at a parochial school in Detroit. They will make their home in Detroit.

BAD AXE MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS CEMETERY MEMORIALS

Large and Fine Stock of Merchandise. RICHARD CLIFF Local Representative Cass City JOHN A. GRAHAM

No Change in Laws

Most of Michigan's small game hunting regulations will be the same this fall and winter as they were last year, the conservation department reports.

The conservation commission, in its July meeting at Higgins Lake training school, authorized the 1953-54 seasons and bag limits on most small game species. Discussion of deer regulations was held over until the August 7-8 meeting.

Only a few changes were made in small game regulations.

The season on ruffed and sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens in the upper peninsula will run October 1-November 1 inclusive, instead of October 1-November 10 as last year. In the lower peninsula, no change was made.

Also, no hunting will be permitted between 6 and 10 a. m. on October 20 in the lower peninsula; pheasant season opens that date and the brief shutdown in the middle of some game seasons already open will eliminate many law enforcement and hunting pressure problems.

Mink and muskrat trapping regulations will be the same except there will be no closed area in the northern lower peninsula, as there was last year.

About 1,500 acres near White Cloud, open to hunting last year, will be closed to small game hunting this year as a result of commission action. The area has been set aside as a dog field trial area.

Pheasant season will be the same, with two exceptions; the season bag limit in southern Menominee County will be four birds instead of three as last year, and Emmet County in the northern lower peninsula will be closed for the season. The county was open last year, but has been closed in response to a request from a sportsmen's group attempting to provide food growths and shelter for the county's small pheasant population.

Brought People Back Home

Tuscola County Still Profits From Depression's Effects

Lurking in back of many people's minds are the stories of those who profited by the misery and horrors of the depression of the '30s; yet how many Tuscolians ever suspected their own county did too?

However, Tuscola did profit by the depression. From the time of 1900 to 1930, according to recent publication by the Tuscola County Land Use Planning Committee, the population of the county was decreased to 1900. The Industrial Revolution hitting the surrounding cities and farms caused this. Young people, strong and healthy from an early farm life, were welcomed with open arms to the factories. Many of them went because they could find no employment at home and some because they had been raised on farm land that was good enough to support only one generation.

However, when the great Depression hit, the doors of the employment offices closed, the report states, and the young people had to stay at home. Also, many unemployed were forced to return to their family home in the county, or they rented or purchased small homes in the county.

When the industrial swing began again in the early '40s, Tuscola was ready for it and kept her people at home with small plants in each of her towns and cities. As a result, since 1930, Tuscola has gained over 5,000 people, as shown in the following figures.

Truth may be stranger than fiction, but will never sell for as much as these modern stories.

The only person who is happy, though rich, is the person who knew how to be happy while poor.

Birds, too, mate for life—but they never make the mistake of getting the wrong kind of bird.

By living more in the home, the modern family could come much nearer living within their income.

Money talks—and it will also stop much talk.

OKLAHOMA CITY—The fallacy that prohibition is a possible cure for the public health problem of alcoholism was ironically underlined again in a report from legally dry Oklahoma.

There alcoholism has become an acute problem.

According to Dr. H. H. Donahue, Oklahoma's state mental health director, alcoholics have grown to such numbers that they are crowding the mentally ill out of hospitals.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Hot Tomato Juice
Sausage-Corn Casserole
Green Bean Salad
Spiced Crabbapples
Muffins Jelly
Canned Peaches
*Chocolate Coconut Drops
*Recipe Given

1 teaspoon corn syrup
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup broken nuts
Scald milk, then stir in sugar, corn syrup and salt. Cook gently, stirring from bottom occasionally until the soft ball stage (236°F.) or until a small amount dropped in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from heat and add butter.
Cool, without stirring, until lukewarm. Add vanilla and beat until thick and no longer glossy. Stir in nuts and turn into waxed paper and shape into roll. Chill and slice.

Marshmallow Puffs
Dip marshmallows in hot cream which has been flavored with vanilla. Let remain in the cream until the outside of the marshmallows softens. Roll in finely ground pecans, then chill thoroughly.

Lynn Says:

If there is stuffing left in a carved bird, remove stuffing and place in a covered bowl for refrigeration. Refrigerate gravy promptly at the end of a meal.

If the bird is too large and heavy to handle and turn, place breast up and leave in this position throughout the roasting. Lay fat-moistened cheese cloth, large enough to drape down the sides, over turkey. This prevents the breast from browning too much.

Good stuffing has a pleasing texture, either moist or crumbly. It is well seasoned with no one flavor predominating. Likeness is important and for this reason, it should be spooned into the cavity rather than packed.

Frozen birds may be defrosted by leaving in their original moisture-proof wrapping and leaving in the refrigerator. This takes 2 to 3 days.

If the folks are fond of dressing extra amounts can always be baked in a separate pan, basted with pan drippings or broth from the giblets.

Raisin-Peanut Clusters
1/4 cup pure dark molasses
1/4 cup corn syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
3 tablespoons butter
2 cups shelled peanuts
1 cup raisins
Cook molasses, corn syrup and vinegar until a hard ball forms when a small amount is dropped in cold water or reaches 250°F. on candy thermometer. Remove from heat and add butter. Stir until combined with syrup, then add nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on greased pan. If candy hardens while you're working with it, place pan over very low heat and stir vigorously until it softens.

Chocolate Balls
(Makes 24)
1/4 pound grated bitter chocolate
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
1/4 cup almond paste
1 tablespoon very strong coffee
1 teaspoon butter
1/4 cup cocoa
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
Work chocolate, sugar, almond paste, coffee and butter together to make a smooth paste. Shape in very small balls and roll in cocoa and cinnamon together.

Chocolate Coconut Drops
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1/4 pound shredded coconut
1/4 cup walnuts, cut
Melt chocolate over hot water, then stir in sweetened condensed milk, coconut and nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto baking sheet in the shape of bon bons. Place in a moderate oven (350°F.) and turn off heat. Leave candy in until it has a glazed appearance, about 15 to 20 minutes.

SHORT STORY

Got To See You By Clarence Sydney

"WELL, BARBARA, so long," Jeff said.

"Jeff, I—take care of yourself in the army," Barbara said softly, aware of all the words she wanted to say but couldn't. Not with all those people around, and not after all the time they had worked together with nothing more to remember than that they worked together.

"Sure I will," he grinned. "Nice of the office to throw me this party as a going away present. I hear I have you to thank for suggesting it."

"I just happened to mention it first, that's all."

Inside she was happy that he knew it had been her. And then he was gone.

"Hey, Barbara. Boy, what an idea I got," Don shouted as he came into the office.

"Why weren't you here for Jeff's party?" Barbara asked. "He wanted to tell you goodbye."

"Forget him. Wait until you find out what a terrific publicity stunt I've cooked up."

"I don't feel like listening to your crazy ideas right now. Later, maybe."

Don watched her leave, a crooked grin on his face. "Well," he said to himself, "I'll tell her

"So-rum," he said. "The lady and I just got to see each other alone."

tonight. Who knows, with that lunk Jeff gone, maybe . . ."

Barbara flung the door of her room open, and threw herself down on the bed.

Later that evening there was a knock at her door. "Barbara. There's a card here for you."

Barbara opened the door and took the card from her landlady. It was an ordinary postcard, with her name typed on one side. On the other was a short message: "Got to see you. Seven p.m. ferry from the point. J."

Jeff, thought Barbara. She changed clothes, and took a cab. The ferry from the point was almost deserted at this time at night, and she just barely made it.

He wasn't in the lounge, and she stepped out on the deck.

"Barbara."

"Jeff."

They stood for a moment, looking at each other, and then he was holding her close. "Darling," he murmured, "To think that I almost left without telling you I loved you."

"Jeff," Barbara whispered, "I thought you had left."

"I go tomorrow morning. Will you wait for me?"

"I'll wait. I'll wait as long as I have to. Oh, Jeff, honey, why haven't you told me before?"

"I always thought you were Don's girl."

"Never. But why didn't you tell me you didn't leave until tomorrow?"

"You didn't know?" he asked.

"Not till I got your card."

"You got my card? I got yours, you mean." He took a postcard from his pocket. It was addressed to him, and said: "Got to see you. 7 p.m. ferry from the point. B."

"But I didn't send that. I got this one." She showed him the card she had received. They stood staring at each other.

"Hey. There you are. I thought you had gone off to the arms of Uncle Sam." Don stood beaming at them.

"What are you doing here?" Jeff demanded.

"My idea. It worked."

"What idea?" Barbara asked.

"The cards. See, I mail the cards out to people. They come to find out what it's all about, and I give them a prize, or some tickets to a show. Great publicity stunt, see. Maybe for a perfume advertiser. We give them a bottle of perfume. Or some soap for another advertiser. It's a natural."

"But why the initial J?" Barbara asked.

"Every gal knows somebody named John, or Jack, or Jim, or Joe. Same with the B, there's Betty, Betsy, Bertha, Bonny. Oh, it's a great idea. Don't you think?"

"Yes," Barbara sighed. "It was a great idea, Don. Just wonderful."

Jeff kissed her again. "Terrific. Now scram, Don. The lady and I just got to see each other—alone."

If you ever use too much "permanent" starch on cotton and find it does not wash out quickly, try soaking it in rubbing alcohol for a few minutes. Then launder promptly in good soapy water.

Serving ice cream for dessert often in hot weather? It's a good idea to chill the serving dishes in the refrigerator at least an hour ahead of serving time to prevent ice cream from softening too rapidly.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

A search for gold is underway in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Perhaps not for gold in its mineral form; the search is to discover potential wealth existing in natural resources. The object is to develop the area as an economic community.

Encouraging facts have turned up following investigation. Some of them are discussed in a 188 page report published by the Economic Development Commission of Michigan. It reports a survey made by Ebasco Services, Inc., a New York engineering firm specializing in such investigations. Cost of the year long study was $20,000; half contributed by industries and business houses in the Upper Peninsula and half by such companies in the Lower Peninsula. Both groups believe that the economic situation of the U. P. is of vital concern to the whole state.

Advantages and disadvantages of the Upper Peninsula were considered in the survey. Problems were defined. Solutions sought. An accurate evaluation of all contributing factors was attempted.

Basic conclusion is that Michigan's Northern Peninsula has everything it needs to become an economically healthy community. To realize prosperity at the earliest, the report shows, will take planning and hard work. Most of both elements is expected to be supplied by the people living in the U. P.

The Ebasco report recommends that the area's development program be planned under sponsorship of the Upper Peninsula Advisory Committee, a sub-group of the Michigan Economic Development Commission, the Upper Peninsula Bureau, local Chambers of Commerce and service groups.

People of the peninsula constitute both the most serious problem and the most valuable asset. Ebasco investigators consider as unfavorable an attitude of defeatism in some localities, a lack of appreciation of changing market demands and some evidence of undue reliance on outside help.

Consultants were concerned with the steady loss of other areas of aggressive young people. Glamour of jobs in metropolitan centers is seriously draining this vital element of the labor pool thus creating a serious problem.

"The most important single resource of the Upper Peninsula is its people," state Ebasco engineers. Inhabitants are described as adaptable to new methods, possessing excellent attitudes toward their jobs and maintaining a record of high productivity in industrial fields.

They are less affected by economic cycles than people in metropolitan centers since they have the opportunity to supplement their income with farms, woodlots, hunting, fishing and working in the recreation industry part of the year.

In forest products, according to the Ebasco report, lies the greatest field for potential development. Good opportunities also exist for agriculture. Dairy farming and beef raising are economically feasible—soils are favorable to potatoes, strawberries, green beans, carrots, beets and cabbage.

"The Peninsula's tourist and recreational industry is now valued at $50,000,000 a year, but because of the availability of scenic and other factors not yet exploited, it offers unlimited possibilities for development in the future," the report states.

Mining still offers room for development. Copper companies are progressive and iron ore operations continue development programs. Both commercial fishing and sport fishing are expected to hold their own or gain slightly as important factors in U. P. economy.

The report concludes that the greatest needs of business services are in the marketing and promotion fields. Opportunities exist for sales agencies that can market the output of wood, agricultural crops and fish products.

How to create prosperity in the Upper Peninsula?

Interested people and groups should promote for these improvements.

Expansion of electric power capacity and natural gas is much needed if industry is to expand; construction of the Mackinac bridge, which is expected to increase automobile traffic by 85%.

Other transportation projects include a bridge between American and Canadian Soo areas; better ferry and airline service.

From a "morale" standpoint Ebasco engineers believe the early establishment of television service is an important requirement. And they recommend publicity to counteract false adverse opinions of U. P. weather conditions.

Favorable state legislation must be encouraged, says the report, and local areas must be stimulated to organize their own development plan.

Training programs for resort operators are worth considering, according to Ebasco, and efforts must be made to place local young people in good local jobs.

New industries must be enticed to the area, but not at the expense of enterprise already located there. Ebasco advises that first consideration be given existing business, for their development can be secured most easily and at least expense.

The report warned that securing new industry requires expenditures for direct mail campaigns, out of town trips and visits of prospects. And it listed what an area should be able to offer to attract new business ventures. Among the conditions are a receptive attitude by the community, a sympathetic local government, suitable housing for personnel, adequate labor supply, room for future expansion, business service for routine needs and adequate transportation facilities.

Analysis of the Ebasco report indicates that well directed energy will result in an expanding Upper Peninsula. Its recommendations amount to some sizable, though completely possible, orders. Improvements are not likely to appear overnight; but they could begin in an upward spiral as efforts bring results which produce in turn, more efforts and better results.

With the Ebasco report, the people of the Upper Peninsula and the Michigan Economic Development Commission have a means of understanding the job that is to be done. It is up to them to create skill to accomplish the task.

It's easy for those outside to criticize those on the inside.

Movie to Tell Story Of Raider-Missionary

The story of Sgt. Jacob Deshazer, one of Commodore Doolittle's raiders who became a missionary to Japan, will be told in a movie in the Cass City High School auditorium Monday, July 20, at 8 p. m.

The color movie depicts 40 months in a Japanese concentration camp. It is being shown under the auspices of the Seattle Pacific College, school of Missions.

Doors of the auditorium will open at 7 p. m. and seating will be on a first-come-first-served basis. There will be no charge for admission.

Sheep Breeders To Hold Picnic

The Thumb Sheep Breeders' Association will hold its annual field day and picnic at the Charles Cleland farm, near Deckerville, on Thursday, July 23. The day will be open to all commercial and purebred sheep raisers of Sanilac County.

The program includes a discussion on selecting and judging sheep, preparing sheep for the show and a talk by Graydon Blank, animal husbandry specialist from Michigan State College. Mr. Blank will discuss and demonstrate sheep management practices including the latest recommendations on parasite control, drenching and foot trimming.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Thirty-five years ago

The Greater Cass City Fair was slated to be held August 20-23 to give the home people a chance at relaxation from their work for the War effort. One-half of the premiums were to be paid in War Savings Stamps.

The Farm Produce Co. declared a six per cent dividend and the year's net profits at $1,782.79. They also re-appointed Hugh Cooper, William J. Schwieger, R. J. Knight, Nelson A. Perry, John A. Benkelman, Smith Hutchinson and L. K. Reid as board of directors.

Five hundred and fifteen Michigan boys were in training in the handling of trucks and tractors at Michigan State College.

Nurse's shoes were advertised at Crosby and Son's for $2.00.

Twenty-five years ago

Alfred Fort installed a Champion ice cream manufacturing machine in the basement of his store and began the manufacturing of a portion of his own ice cream.

One hundred and fifty persons attended the reunion at the Dillman School. Mrs. A. J. Knapp presented the school with a large picture of "The Last Supper".

The May-Heller group won in a series of games played in the Horseshoe Pitchers' League.

Ten years ago

Staff Sgt. Maynard H. Smith of Caro received the Congressional Medal of Honor in England from Secretary of War Henry Stinson. The award was made in recognition of his heroism in battling flames, fighting off German planes and playing nurse to a wounded crew member of a Flying Fortress while returning to England following a raid on St. Nazaire.

Fuel oil users were requested to sign up for ration coupons so they would be prepared when cold weather came.

William Kilbourn was displaying 80-inch corn in his Victory Garden.

The Human Comedy was playing at the Strand Theater.

Cattle Prices to Stay Level, MSC Man Says

Any substantial improvement in cattle prices is not expected in the next two or three years, says Harold Riley, a Michigan State College agriculture economist.

The reason, he believes, is that beef supplies are likely to continue larger.

At present, he adds, the price outlook for lower grades of slaughter cattle doesn't look favorable for the seller. Continued price weakness is expected and marketings are likely to be unusually large this summer and early fall.

Reasons for the price weakness, for stockers and feeders, he asserts, are these:

1. The increased supplies—the seasonal movement of grass cattle and those cattle coming from drought-stricken areas. 2. The weakened demand—the general fear of late summer and fall prices on grass cattle, restrictions on cattle loans and the losses by cattle feeders during the past several months.

The relatively unfavorable price spread between feeders and fat cattle and the current pressure of field work is keeping farmers away from the market, too, Riley says.

Many a boy—poor at geography in school—later puts his home town on the map.

4-H'ers to Compete

4-H Club members of Tuscola County will have a chance to compete for county honors at the final 4-H Demonstration Day on Monday, July 20, at the Wilber Memorial Building, according to George C. MacQueen, 4-H agent.

From the contestants, demonstrations will be chosen to compete at the State 4-H Show in early September. The program will start at 9 a. m. with the scheduled presentations and all others will be judged in the afternoon. All club members interested in competing for 4-H Public Speaking honors should be on hand at this time also, Mr. MacQueen stated.

Lofty Quest for Uranium

EVEN MORE dramatic than the gold rush days is America's quest for uranium ore, now under way high on the rugged Colorado Plateau. At Uravan, below, ore mined in the Rockies is refined. Town was named for "ura" in uranium, "van" in vanadium.

ONCE PROCESSING IS completed, uranium, below, has a black, sticky form. Drying reduces the material to powder.

SANDSTONE near this typical mining structure yields carnotite. From it are derived traces of uranium ore.

MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING International trucks, one of which is shown in background, haul the ore to mills from nearly inaccessible mines. Miners examine ore for yellow streak, proof of uranium.

Grain Storage Hints Given for Farmers Seeking High Prices

Farmers should recognize now that finding a safe and satisfactory home for stored grain this harvest will present more and varied problems than ever before experienced. Most farmers are going to have to help solve this problem by building farm storage facilities at home. Here is why.

There is a very large carry-over of government owned wheat and corn and other grains, which is now occupying a large portion of the nation's commercial storage space. Difficulty is now being experienced to find storage space for the wheat the government took over May 1. There are millions of bushels of corn due to be taken over July 1. "Moth ball" fleets of ships are being used in the Hudson River for storage, at the present time, and export markets have greatly declined, which does not help the situation.

The government price-support program on wheat is designed to yield the greatest benefits to farmers who store at home. By storing at home, not only does the farmer save the storage charges, but when grain is delivered after take over date, May 1, the government also pays the elevator for handling it, which they will not do if the wheat is delivered to the elevator prior to that time. We are told that this is done with deliberate intent to encourage farm storage.

Your local PMA is offering up to 80 per cent, or 45¢ per bushel, whichever is lower, to help farmers finance the construction of eligible farm storage facilities. Local lending agencies will also cooperate to help finance this farm storage program. The State PMA office has reported that farm storage earned will defray from 20 per cent to 25 per cent of the storage cost each year. This being true, farm storage will liquidate itself in four or five years. This represents a sound farm business venture.

When building or buying a farm storage facility, serious consideration must be given to storing the grain safely over a long period of time. The structure must be waterproof, rodent-proof and bird proof. The structure should also provide for moving and aerating the grain to keep it cool and sweet and also to help overcome moisture problems, if present. With some extra thought, it may be possible to include facilities for attaching a portable dryer.

Good storage cannot be over-emphasized for the producer is directly responsible for the quality of the grain stored on the farm until it is sold or turned over to the government.

Caro Champions To Receive Honors

Two Caro champions will be honored at the Michigan State Fair to be held in Detroit Sept. 4-18.

Betty Lou King, recently crowned Bean Queen of North America, and J. Spencer Dunham, recently crowned Wheat King of North America, will be honored guests at the fair.

The two young people received their titles at the International Grain and Hay Show in Chicago.

Fast Ball

Approximate data furnished by the research department of one of the large manufacturers of sporting goods indicate that a golf club head must be moving at a speed of about 135 feet per second to drive the ball 200 yards. With the club head moving at 175 feet per second (two miles per minute) the ball would carry about 250 yards, while a speed of 200 feet per second would drive it some 275 yards.

Farmer's Question Corner

How to Control Swine Erysipelas

QUESTION: How serious is swine erysipelas?

ANSWER: The infection has spread all over the nation in the last 20 years.

QUESTION: In what form does it appear?

ANSWER: It takes several forms. There is an acute type, and a chronic type. Also, the disease does not limit itself to swine. The same germs can infect turkeys, lambs, and human beings.

QUESTION: What are some findings in the acute form?

ANSWER: Common symptoms in swine are sudden deaths, red spots on the skin, soreness and arched backs.

QUESTION: How does the chronic form differ from the acute?

ANSWER: The chronic symptoms are lack of gain, lameness, patchy loss of skin, bob tails and unthriftiness.

QUESTION: Can a producer rely on these symptoms?

ANSWER: No. Swine erysipelas may resemble hog cholera and other diseases. It is very baffling, and often does not run true to type. A laboratory examination can be made, however, to help tell if erysipelas is present.

QUESTION: What can a swine raiser do to protect his animals?

ANSWER: 1. Keep newly purchased swine away from the main herd for at least three weeks. 2. Keep a sharp lookout for large joints, or thickened ears among young pigs. 3. Have a veterinarian examine the herd immediately if suspicious symptoms appear.

QUESTION: What about vaccination?

ANSWER: In localities where the disease is prevalent vaccination is a wise, standard practice. However, since the vaccine is a living culture of the causative germ, and is also highly infectious to man, it should be administered by a veterinarian.

NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

Divorce Cases Heard

Divorce cases heard in the Tuscola County Court Wednesday, July 15, were:

In the case of Clarence Zapfe vs. Wanda Zapfe, the decree was granted and the custody of the minor children was awarded to Mrs. Zapfe.

In the case of Ray A. Fleischman vs. Luella Fleischman, the decree was granted and Mrs. Fleischman restored to her former name of Luella Mullen.

Tuscola have switched from the top three of 1900, wheat, oats and corn, to a strong emphasis on beans, sugar beets and barley which were virtually unknown in the county in 1900.

Sheep, too, have practically disappeared from the landscape of Tuscola, falling from 19,737 in 1880 to 2,848 in 1950 and swine have had a 5,000 drop in the same period.

With these changes in view, the question looms, "What next?"

Until then Cass Cityites will soon be able to "hear" him go by in his wheelchair as he blows his two-toned horn. That is as soon as it is repaired, because as Mr. Lodge said, "Father's Day, my nephew wanted to see if he could swing on it—he couldn't."

If you're in the habit of cleaning ice cube trays and tray grids with hot water, it's time to change your ways. Hot water tends to remove the wax coating on the surface of the trays which is there to make removal of ice cubes easier. So next time you clean ice trays and tray grids, use warm, not hot water.

Various Groups Plan Booklet Distribution

Former members of the Tuscola County Land Use Planning Committee will meet with Chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Agriculture Committee, Farm Bureau, Grange, Farmers Clubs and representatives of Michigan State College Extension Service Tuesday evening, July 21, to plan the distribution and sale of 1000 copies of the "Know Your County" report recently received in the county, according to Alfred P. Ballweg, county agriculture agent.

The preparation of this report involved Land Use Planning Committees in each township along with many other individuals and agencies.

The report includes a detailed factual study of the agricultural development in the county, as well as the social and economic progress of its people.

Copies of the report are now on sale at the county extension office.

Members of the original County Land Use Planning Committee who will assist in the distribution of the report are: George Foster, Fostoria; Reid Kirk, Fairgrove; Walter Kelley, and Art Whittenburg of Caro.

Better Eggs Bring Higher Prices AT FREIBURGER'S

WHAT IS A GOOD EGG?

A Good Egg is Determined by the Following Points:

Outside Appearance

1. Large, 24 ounces to the dozen, or over.
2. Shell clean, sound, white or brown in color.
3. Supply held under refrigeration.
4. Displayed and delivered in an attractive and sanitary condition.

A Good Egg As Judged by the Candling Light

1. Shell clean, sound, normal in shape.
2. Air cell small, not over 1/4 inch in depth, should not be movable.
3. Yolk should be only dimly visible as a shadow when the egg is turned before the candle and should have limited freedom of motion, free from visible germ development.
4. A good egg is one that will grade U. S. Standard (Grade B) or better.

Broken-Out Appearance of a Good Egg

1. Yolk should stand up, well rounded and surrounded by white.
2. Yolk should not show any germ development or other defects.
3. White should be firm, thick and clear.
4. Flavor should be fresh and sweet.

ONLY A GOOD EGG STAYS FRESH

Handle Eggs Under Refrigeration

METHODS USED BY PRODUCERS TO PRODUCE FINE QUALITY EGGS

1. EGG SIZE—primarily a breeding problem and can be improved by proper selection of the male and female for egg size.
Maturing pullets to full size before they start laying reduces the number of small eggs.
2. SHELL COLOR—is a breeding problem. Breed for the color of egg that suits your market best—Chalk White or Dark Brown.
3. SHELL TEXTURE—May be improved by feeding fish oil at the rate of one-eighth pint a day to 100 hens and by adding two to three percent of ground limestone or ground oyster shell to the mash in addition to having oyster shell before the birds at all times.
4. CLEAN EGGS—it is easier to keep eggs clean than to clean them.
a. Provide one nest for every five hens.
b. Keep nest well littered with shavings, excelsior or straw.
c. Keep floor covered with clean litter.
d. Use 1 1/2 inch mesh—16 gauge netting on underside of perch.
e. Confine hens to house when yards are muddy.
f. Gather eggs three times a day.
5. INTERIOR QUALITY
a. Kill, cull or confine the male birds when the hatching season is over. Fertile eggs start to incubate at 68 degrees.
b. Gather eggs from nests three to four times daily.
c. Cool eggs 12 hours before packing. Eggs when first laid have the body temperature of the hen.
d. To cool eggs to the proper temperature before packing in case they should be placed in wire basket or spread out on wire screen in cool, moist cellar or subjected to some artificial cooling system for 12 to 18 hours.
e. Keep eggs in cellar with temperature below 60 degrees.
f. Market your eggs twice a week if possible.
g. Use a complete laying ration, lots of clean water and wholesome food. This combination results in high quality eggs.
h. Sell on a grade and quality basis to an egg dealer who appreciates quality.

Expert Lists Supplies For First Aid Kit

With farmers in the busy harvest season, it's more important than ever to keep a well-supplied first aid kit on hand, says David G. Steinicke, farm safety specialist at Michigan State College.

He points out that the box containing the first aid kit should be tight enough to keep out the dirt. A cash box, a fishing tackle box, or even a tightly covered tin can will serve as a container. It should be thoroughly cleaned and well labeled. Steinicke advises that the kit should contain these items:

Several rolls of adhesive tape of varying widths, sterile cotton, swabs and sticks. Sterile white cloth should be included along with a tube of sterile white salve for minor burns; a pair of scissors, boric acid, a recommended antiseptic and aromatic spirits of ammonia.

A well stocked kit may save a life or prevent serious infection from an injury, Steinicke points out.

Hard cooked eggs for summer picnics, salads and cold plates should be cooled promptly to prevent overcooking and to help ward off the dark ring that sometimes appears around the yolk. Both the cooling and the shelling can be done at the same time under the cold water faucet.

ELECTRICITY

ENDS THREE-YEAR SEARCH FOR EFFICIENT GRAIN and BEAN DRYER

For three years, Harold Gremel, Huron County farmer, searched for a better way to dry his beans and small grains. Then, with some help from Edison Farm Service Advisors, he successfully developed this electrically powered system that enables him to dry six to seven thousand bushels of beans and grain per season. Result: He can harvest when his crops are ready and cut down weather losses. This means higher prices on the market.

Mr. Gremel farms 370 acres of land—100 in beans, 80 in small grain, 35 in beets—and milks a herd of 13 cows. As do many Michigan farmers, he is each year finding new ways to put electricity to work to lighten his load and give him greater security. For further information on farm electrical equipment, see your Edison Farm Service Advisor.

Michigan State to Build New Library

A new design in library construction, which permits thousands of students to be served at all times without standing in line at main desks, will be a feature of Michigan State College's new library building, shown in this architect's drawing. An initial appropriation of $1 million has been earmarked for the library by the Michigan Legislature, with construction to begin when the money is officially made available. The library will be the largest in America yet built on the "divisional reading room" principle, according to M.S.C. Librarian Jackson Towne. This means the breaking up of the "conventional" library into large subject reading rooms with thousands of volumes on open shelves. Under this plan, 15,000 M.S.C. students can be served without the "bottleneck" problem in present library facilities. M.S.C.'s present library was built in 1925 when enrollment was 2,500. The new $4 million building is to contain space for one million volumes, more than 100 faculty rooms for research, 200 cubicles for graduate students and a specially-equipped reading room for blind students. Containing four floors and a basement, the structure will be constructed of steel and concrete with a red brick veneer.

Holstein Breeders To Hold Annual Show

Tuscola County Holstein Breeders will hold their Annual Black and White Show at the Fairgrounds in Caro on Monday, August 3, according to Tom Williams, associate chairman and manager of the Donahue farms of Cass City.

4-H and FFA project members are encouraged to participate. Appropriate trophies and awards will again be a part of the show.

Officers and directors of the County Holstein Breeders' Association are: Williams, Foster Hickey, Fairgrove, secretary and treasurer; Basil Quick, Caro director; Clarence Merchant, Cass City director; and Alton Reavey, Fairgrove director.

Farmers to Inspect Nitrogen Test Plots

A tour to see the results of nitrogen applications on wheat will be held at the Jim Reagh farm on Friday, July 17, at 8 p. m. The tour is open to all wheat growers.

The farm is located on East Akron Road, one-half mile west of the junction of East Akron and West Dodge Roads.

Jim Reagh has been working with the County Extension Office and Michigan State College in testing the effects of different applications of nitrogen fertilizer on wheat.

Three different types of nitrogen fertilizer were used in the tests. They were anhydrous nitrogen, ammonium sulfate and ammonium nitrate.

The nitrogen was applied to the test plots at different times to demonstrate the effect of time of application as well as total effect on yield over plots where no nitrogen was added.

Everything we have is taxed— even our time and patience.

To expect the right of way always, is the wrong way to drive.

Ford Master-Guide

the last word in Power Steering!

WHO NEEDS
MUSCLES?

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically . . . and in varying degrees as required . . . right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jars and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is . . . guide the car . . . Master-Guide supplies the muscles.

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much!

Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Grand Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. Fordomatic remains the most versatile automatic you can buy.

Ford's new "ride" brings you road-bugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars. Front end road shock alone has been reduced up to 80%. Easier-acting suspended pedals. Center-Fill Fueling and Full-Circle Visibility are just a few of the many important advancements first introduced by Ford.

And now Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering . . . Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car . . . worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to keep you on a steady course. At the same time, Master-Guide absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. You'll find all handling is easier with Master-Guide and that parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease and stability, with a natural feel and full security, wherever you may drive. Optional on all V-8 models of extra cost.

Test Drive Ford with Master-Guide Power Steering!
