

From the Editor's Corner

Our congratulations to Chester Muntz on his appointment as acting postmaster for Cass City. Chet has been one of the key men of the organization for many years and steps into the post with a knowledge of the job to be done.

Football season opens this week and fans in the area are in hopes that this year's team will prove a surprise to the rest of the schools in the Thumb "B" Conference. In pre-season ratings, the Hawks have received little mention in the conference race, but many observers of the squad believe that the 1953 edition of the Hawks may have a good deal to say about crowning the champion.

For several years now, Cass City Public School has been flirting with an enrollment that will top the 1,000 mark. Never in its history has it succeeded in having over a 1,000 pupils when school ended in the spring.

Enrollment Tops 1,000

More Pupils Start School

As in past years, enrollment at the Cass City Public School has shown an increase this year, according to records revealed this week by Supt. Willis Campbell.

A total of 1,034 students have entered the grades and high school for the 1953-54 school year as compared to 987 pupils at a corresponding time last season.

Supt. Campbell pointed out that the increase this year has not been due to the consolidation of rural schools. No new schools were admitted by the school board this fall.

The increase, this year, as in most previous years, comes in the kindergarten and ninth grade. This year there are 85 more students in the Freshman class than there were in 1952-53.

At the opening of the school year in 1952, 98 students had registered for the ninth grade. This year school records show 133 pupils.

Comparative records from the seventh through the 12th grades are: seventh, 70 in 1952 and 78 in 1953; eighth, 80 in 1952 and 62 in 1953; ninth, 98 in 1952 and 133 in 1953; 10th, 115 in 1952 and 92 in 1953; 11th, 85 in 1952 and 105 in 1953, and 12th, 86 in 1952 and 70 in 1953.

In the grades, including the kindergarten, 463 pupils were enrolled in 1952 and 499 this year.

Cues for Color Is Topic for Clubs

Home demonstration groups in Tuscola County will start their program year with a lesson on color in the home, according to Miss Jean E. Gillies, county home demonstration agent.

The homemaker is constantly searching for the right color for the rooms and the furnishings in her home. Colors and color styles change continually, so it is a never ending search. That is what makes color plans interesting. With a little study and with a well considered plan even amateurs can come out with colorful rooms which are neither too bold nor too dull.

There have been recent surveys of what colors people want in their homes. They are tired of tan and beige and maroon and wine are on the wane. In their places we find a variety of cool greens, blues and fresh yellow-greens.

Upholstery fabrics are clearer and brighter and rugs are lighter. Rooms can be modernized and brought up to date with new colors carefully selected and thoughtfully arranged.

Local leaders of home demonstration groups will have an opportunity to study the selection and use of color in the home at the leader training meeting scheduled for Friday, September 18, at 10 o'clock in Caro at the Wilber Memorial 4-H Building

Plans Set for Fall County Hog Show

According to George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent, final plans have been made for the 22nd semi-annual 4-H and FFA Market Hog Show and Sale on Tuesday, Sept. 22. As with the previous shows, this will be held at the Caro Livestock Auction Yards. This event is considered as one of the top shows of its kind in the Thumb area, MacQueen said. Livestock buyers have come to know this show and sale as a place to purchase top quality pork produced by boys and girls of Tuscola County.

Trophies will be awarded the purchaser as well as the exhibitor of the champion hog. To other purchasers will go the comparable ribbon won by the exhibitor of his purchase.

Approximately 17 exhibitors will be on hand with 65 head of hogs for the show at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Exhibitors are asked to bring their animals in at 8:30 of that morning. At this time they will be weighed and classified into the show classes of heavy and medium weights.

After the show, the sale will be held at 2 p. m. in the sale arena. Many local buyers are expected to be on hand. Top price at the spring sale was $66.00 a cwt. paid by Tuscola County Farm Bureau for Mark Culbert's Hampshire hog. The public is urged to attend and see this fine event.

To be successful one must learn how to listen even though the conversation isn't the least bit interesting.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago.

The official opening of the new Cass City Bowling Alleys will take place Saturday afternoon. They are housed in a new 50x120 ft. building located on the corner of Weaver and Church Streets.

One of the largest crowds of the softball season witnessed the game here Monday night between DeFord and Baldy's Sunoco when DeFord won with a 4-0 score.

Enrollment in the Cass City Public Schools on Tuesday totalled 893 students. Of this number, 427 are in the kindergarten and the first six grades and 466 are in the junior and senior high combined.

Ten Years Ago.

Ninety-two solicitors for the Third War Loan Drive in Elkland and Novesta Townships and in the village of Cass City will begin today (Friday) to meet the quota of $183,100.

Fourteen teams will participate in the bowling league this season. The captains in the order of their teams are as follows: Landon, Reid, Dillman, Farsch, Retherford, Auten, Fritz, Schwieger, Wallace, Pinney, Ludlow, Mann, McCullough and Starmann.

Forty members of the Church of Christ gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stoner Friday evening to honor their pastor, Rev. Bruce Spitzer, and his wife, who have since left to attend school in Cincinnati.

The Order of the Purple Heart was recently conferred upon Francis L. Lenhard for bravery during World War I. Private Lenhard was wounded June 21, 1918, at Cantigny, France, 35 years ago.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Benjamin Leverette, 82, a resident of Decker, was fatally injured Sunday when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck on the corner of M-81 and M-63.

Miss Esther Caister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Caister of Evergreen Township, had both hands and arms badly burned Saturday evening when she attempted to light a fire in the kitchen stove. She used gasoline instead of kerosene to kindle the fire.

A. Doerr has sold 160 acres of his farm land in Ellington Township to Marble and Cowe of Pontiac for $10,000. He still owns an 80-acre farm there.

Rev. Geo. Hill was returned to the congregation as pastor of the local Methodist Church.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

Rev. J. D. Young was given a unanimous invitation to return as pastor of the First Methodist Church and the Bethel Church. Eighty-eight new members have been added during his two-year pastorate.

Within the next week, every young woman between the ages of 19 and 35 will have the opportunity of enlisting in the service of her country.

At closing time Saturday night, the cord supporting an electric light bulb in Auten's store had caught fire. The blaze was immediately extinguished.

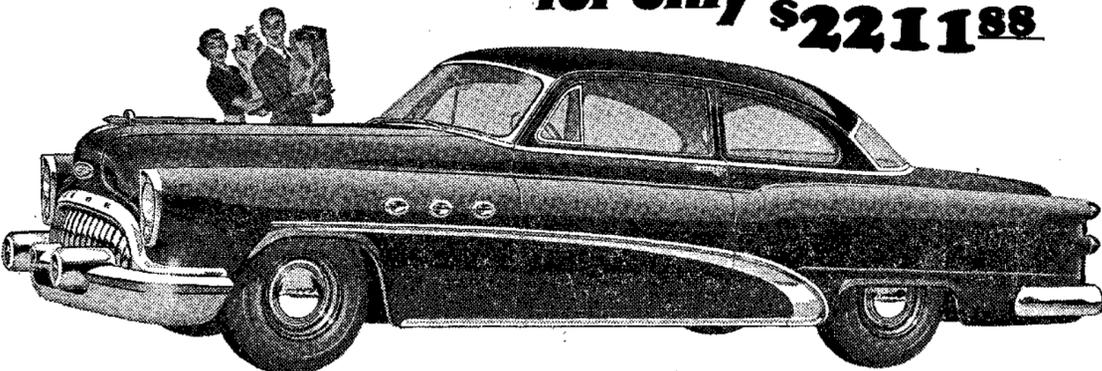

A new tar and gravel roof is being placed on the Doerr block on Main St., west. J. Maier's photograph gallery has also been improved with a new roof.

The faith that used to move mountains now lets them stand as an attraction for tourists.

Why—when this big and beautiful new Buick SPECIAL delivers for the surprisingly low price shown here?

Could be you're one of those folks who still don't believe that the price of a Buick really is just a few dollars more than that of the so-called "low-priced" cars.

So here we show our car and price to prove it.

But beyond that—what you get in this great Buick, for so small a step-up in what you pay, is plenty.

More power. Fireball 8 power. The highest horsepower and compression ratio ever placed in a Buick SPECIAL.

More room. Real six-passenger room—even by man-size measurement.

More comfort. The solid comfort of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—with coil-spring cushioning on all four wheels, wide-tread stability, torque-tube steadiness.

More pleasure. The pleasure of high visibility, of luxurious fabrics and fittings, of superbly easy handling—and the deep satisfaction of bossing a big and able and stunningly styled automobile that does you proud wherever you go.

Why not drop in on us and see things for yourself?

That way you'll also learn about the long list of "extras" you get at no extra cost in this spirited new 1953 Buick SPECIAL—things that most other cars of similar price charge for as extras. Can you make it this week?

It is well to remember that it takes a lifetime to build a reputation—and it may be lost in a moment.

In an uphill struggle it's doing our level best that counts.

Some men can be trusted to the far ends of the earth—others can't be trusted unless they are there.

Very few people care what you think—it's what you do that really creates attention.

Gardens Require Early Protection

Thousands of new insecticides—bug killing poisons—have been registered with the government in recent years. As a result it was never before so easy for the gardener or farmer to protect his plants from insects and disease.

Once it was necessary to have two or three kinds of insecticides on hand—one to kill leaf eaters, one to kill aphids, and one to keep diseases from spreading. Now all three have been rolled into one. The time to spray is before the damage is done, since nothing can repair the plant that insects have ruined.

Dusting and spraying are both effective. Dusting has many advantages for the non-experienced gardener. Equipment may be economical, and the dusts come ready for use, whereas sprays usually have to be mixed with water before each application.

Care should be taken that no part of the plant—whether spraying or dusting—is allowed to escape treatment. The plant would be enveloped by a cloud of dust which leaves a coating about as heavy as face powder.

Plants should be drenched with spray if this method is used so there is a heavy runoff to the ground.

What About Anthrax?

Q: How serious a threat to livestock is anthrax?
A: It depends on the locality. Although anthrax has occurred in almost every state, there are only a certain number of regions where it is a constant hazard.

Q: Is the disease very deadly?
A: Yes. It is the most dangerous of all known animal diseases; and it kills human beings, too.

Q: What are the symptoms of anthrax?
A: Owners may not see any "symptoms". Often an animal is suddenly found dead, for no known cause. Then, unless prompt steps are taken, anthrax may easily spread all over the locality.

Q: What causes anthrax?
A: A tiny spore, which lives in the soil. The spore form of this germ can survive for years, and still kill.

Q: What can one do to prevent anthrax?
A: In "anthrax areas" livestock can be protected by vaccination. However, vaccination should NOT be done except in these areas, or where an outbreak occurs. And in any circumstances, the vaccinating should be done by a veterinarian. Because the anthrax spore is very deadly, and careless or improper handling may actually cause an outbreak.

Q: If an animal dies of anthrax, what should be done?
A: Move all stock off the pasture where the animal has grazed. Call a veterinarian immediately to make sure of cause of death. Then follow his guidance on method of handling the rest of the herd, and on disposal of carcass, as the dead animal is a threat to all other stock in the neighborhood.

NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

Whether Michigan will follow the lead of several other states in setting up a fee system for state parks will be decided by the next Legislature.

Until then, and probably long afterwards, the question will be subject for many an argument by many people in many parts of the state.

Foremost of several plans to raise additional money is one requiring windshield stickers for every automobile entering a park. Stickers would be good for a year. Prices could be changed from year to year. At present, the fee most often proposed is $1 per year. Other proposals would set a lower amount for each person who entered a park or charge higher rates to out-of-state visitors.

Those who oppose a general "admission" fee suggest higher rates for campers or simply a bigger appropriation from the state treasury.

Tourist business is a big industry in Michigan and the Legislature has been hesitant to do anything that would discourage the annual influx of vacationers.

Endorsement of the fee idea has been made by the Conservation Commission several times, but the Legislature has never acted favorably on the plan.

Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy says that he understands money raised from admission fees would not be used to cover operating costs. "But we have a serious need for a source of revenue that can produce a predictable amount for capital improvement." Typical example, he said, is Sterling Park in Monroe. "Improvements there will cost nearly $1 million," he said. "This would be spent over a period of several years, but we can't start a program until we are sure of enough funds to complete it."

Until the Lake Erie beach is improved, everyone, particularly southwest Michigan people are deprived of practical use of the shoreline, he explained.

Survey of park needs in 1946 showed it would cost $17 million to put state recreational facilities in tip-top condition. This included required sanitation, electric, bathhouse, toilet and road installations. Cost for the same improvements today would probably be $35 million.

Only way conservation officials can see to get extra money is through new charges or fee plan. Hence their support of ideas.

Public reaction in Minnesota state parks will be observed by all interested parties. Fee plan for state parks was put in effect there for the first time this summer. If a sizeable amount is raised without much public objection, it will be a strong argument to start practice in Michigan.

National parks in both United States and Canada have admission charges which are generally well accepted by the public. Several states besides Michigan are now considering fee plans to help finance recreational facilities.

Fairly or unfairly Michigan's Justice of the Peace system has long been attacked as inadequate. Justices have been charged with illegal actions which resulted, according to critics, from ignorance or unethical practices. Included are "paying off" arresting officers, levying excessive fines and court costs.

A "conspiracy" exists to do away with Justices altogether, charges "Official Michigan," publication of the Michigan Justices of the Peace Association. Listed by the magazine as a part of the movement to abolish the present system are "some few prosecutors" and some members of the Michigan Bar Association.

In defense of their offices, the Justice association states that its members, themselves, have tried to improve the status of Justice Courts. They invite all critics, particularly the Bar Association, to join with them to accomplish the task.

Three plans are listed by the Justices for consideration.

The "Certified Justice Plan," which has been defeated by several Legislatures in spite of statements by negative voters that "it's a good law." This plan would set up standards to be met by any who wish to become a Justice; provide a "certifying board" to judge applicant's qualifications.

A second plan, offered by Saginaw Attorney John D. MacKenzie would permit a Justice to handle cases where defendants plead guilty. Not guilty pleas would be handled by a new type court, presided over by an attorney paid on a per diem basis. The Justice would act as court clerk.

Justices cannot be expected to support a third plan which would abolish their courts completely. County courts would be created instead, with judges appointed by the Governor subject to the approval of groups of local attorneys.

Better business methods follow when business is obliged to hustle for business.

If the other fellow outweighs you, it's smart to weigh your words in an argument.

Corn Field Day At Laurie Farm

A very good crop of corn awaits visitors to the first Thumb Area Corn Field Day tours Wednesday, Sept. 23, reports Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

This practical information event, second in a Lower Peninsula series of three, will be at the Grover Laurie farm, two miles south and a mile east of Gageton. Tours will start as soon after 9:30 a. m. as crowds gather and luncheon will be served on the grounds.

Corn Field Days, to spread tips on ways of getting more out of the state's most important single crop, had a successful "pilot" program last year in Ingham County. If farmers show interest, the series will be continued and expanded, points out Leyton Nelson, Michigan State College farm crops specialist in charge of the series committee.

Minimum tillage will be stressed and visitors will see how the various implements are used. Plow and spike harrow, plow and rotary hoe and plow and revolving bladed-type tiller systems will be compared with conventional seeded preparation. Research results of Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station also will be presented.

Farmers will see corn populations ranging from 8,000 to 24,000 plants per acre and fertilizer rates climbing up to a ton per acre. Weed, insect and disease control, rotation comparisons, nitrogen side-dressing and corn grades and "curiosities" will be included. Farmers will see the corn hybrid development steps: Inbreeding for four or five years with loss of vigor, crosses and finally hybrids, with accumulation of vigor. Other attractions will be wide and twin rows, with seedings of rye, sweet clover and alfalfa.

Michigan's population increased about five per cent in the two-year period between 1950 and 1952, according to figures now made available.

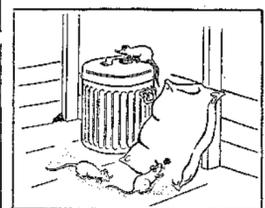

Doubtless our great grandchildren will prize heirlooms all the more if they must finish paying for them.

It Costs Plenty To Keep Rodents

One Rat's Board Bill Is $2 A Year

Rats cost the American farmer millions of dollars a year, approximately $2 per head. This includes what the rat eats, what it wastes, and the damage it does.

If you don't know whether or not you need a campaign to clean out the rats on your farm, it might be well to say that even one rat is one too many. But here is a way to estimate how badly your farm is infested:

Rats are destroying millions of dollars a year on America's farms. It has been estimated that one rat eats $2 worth of grain a year.

If rats are never seen but rat signs are visible, you have from one to 100 rats.

If rats are seen occasionally at night, you have approximately from 100 to 500.

If rats are seen every night and occasionally during the day, the total may range anywhere from 500 to 1,000.

If lots of rats are seen at night and several every day, the total number on the farm is between 1,000 and 5,000.

It seems fantastic that a farm would have 1,000 rats, but many do, experts report. And they are costing the farmer $2 a head every year.

The best time of year to conduct rat campaigns is in late October or early November, when rat damage is usually apparent around the farmstead. Next best time is in early spring, when rats begin to move out of buildings.

It's a proven fact that folks of ten do odd things to get even.

Mrs. Earl Douglas Speaks in Bay City

Mrs. Earl Douglas, promotion secretary of the Women's Society of Christian Service, North Central Jurisdiction, told 70 members of the WSCS in Bay City of "Methodist Women with a World Outlook."

Mrs. Douglas was speaking at the Bay City group's annual luncheon in the Madison Avenue Methodist Church's dining room Thursday, Sept. 10, afternoon.

The man who seeks advice is usually wiser than the fellow who offers it to others.

The man who boasts of the wonders he is going to work never amounts to much as a worker.
