

From the Editor's Corner

At this point, the Cass City Christmas decoration project promises to be the greatest since the event started here a few years ago.

Besides an increase in home decorations, the Rotary Club will help out this year with an ambitious project and the Gavel Club is working on twice as many figures as they erected in 1952.

With the great number and variety of displays this year, it's going to be very important to have them all listed on the map to be prepared by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce.

Time is needed for preparation of the map, so don't put off until tomorrow filling the coupon on this page. The Chamber of Commerce would like to have every display listed and this will only be possible through your cooperation in filling out the desired information on the coupon.

It's easy to tell that hunting season opens Tuesday. Returning to Cass City from Caro Wednesday afternoon, two beautiful cock pheasants flew across the path directly in front of the car.

Naturally, they stopped right on the edge of the road within easy shooting distance. They always do—until 10 a. m. Oct. 20.

The parents of Roberta Mae Hempton learned Tuesday that she had been drowned in St. Louis, Missouri, where she had been making her home.

According to reports received, Miss Hempton died Tuesday, Oct. 6. Details of the drowning were unavailable Thursday morning.

Miss Hempton was born in Pontiac June 5, 1932, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hempton. She moved to a farm in Greenleaf Township with her parents in 1934.

Miss Hempton was a graduate of the class of 1950 at Cass City High School. After graduation concluded on page 12.

Charles Tuckey Leads Army Pistol Team

A/2c Charles Tuckey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Tuckey of Cass City, was a member of the winning team in the 20th Air Force Pistol Championship held recently.

Charles, a member of the 19th Air Police Squadron, won the right to participate in a championship match in Japan.

Besides being a member of the winning squad, Charles was the individual high scorer in the event when he fired a 423.

Winning the match places the team in competition with other winning squads from all over the Far East. The matches are scheduled to be held late this month.

Plans Completed for Yuletide Decorations

The Christmas street lights will be turned on in Cass City Saturday, Dec. 5, and displays are expected to be erected and ready for judging Dec. 12, it was decided by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held Monday in the Cass City Municipal Building.

To avoid confusion and to make sure everyone sees all the displays this year, a map will be printed and distributed free to persons visiting the area. The map will show a route to follow that takes in all displays and will give the name of the person responsible for erecting it.

In order to print the map in time for distribution, it will be necessary to have the names of each person who plans a display on file no later than Oct. 24.

At the bottom of page one of this issue is printed a coupon. Display builders are asked by members of the Chamber of Commerce to fill it out and return it to the Chronicle at once.

Because of the time required to draw the map and have it printed, the Commerce board said that no display can be listed that is not turned in to the Chronicle by the Oct. 24 deadline.

The Chamber of Commerce is again offering $120 worth of prizes in the home decoration contest. First prize will be $25; second place will be worth $20, and the third prize winner will receive $15.

Fourth prize is $10 and 10 fifth-place awards of $5 each will be awarded.

At the meeting, William Jolly, recently appointed to the board to replace Stanley Asher who resigned, served for the first time at a board meeting.

They sang two selections and were called back for three more numbers before their enthusiastic audience would allow them to leave.

The work of the ground observers' corps was vividly portrayed by the two members of the

Local Soldier Tells Of Unusual Job With Armed Forces

Deford soldier, Alex Salas, has one of the more unusual jobs in the army, according to a letter written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gumecindo Salas.

Alex was recently appointed crew chief of the only unit in Korea that makes oxygen for jet fighter planes in the immediate area.

In fact, the plant where the young soldier works is one of two plants in the eastern zone. He reports that there is a small plant in Pusan.

Alex reports that the outfit he is stationed with is in actuality two plants—both doing the same kind of work.

The process of making pure oxygen starts when air is gathered for fractional distillation. The air contains 21 per cent oxygen, 78 per cent nitrogen and one per cent rare gases.

A huge compressor and a freon unit refrigeration process then goes to work to take the oxygen out of the air, Salas said.

The compressor supplies pressure of 3,000 pounds and temperatures of -310 degrees are reached through the freon unit.

The process is allowed to function until a liquid oxygen is formed with a reading of at least 99.5 per cent purity.

The liquid is then pumped through a machine that Alex describes as a heat exchanger. The machine turns the liquid into a gas ready for filling cylinders.

The plant averages about 136 filled cylinders every eight hours and has produced as high as 180 when running smoothly at peak capacity.

Alex said that his job is supervisor over a four-man crew, but the shortage of personnel requires him to pitch in and help in production of the oxygen.

Not Guilty of Embezzlement

Rocheleau Freed by County Jury Tuesday

Frank Rocheleau, former Gagetown village clerk, was found not guilty Tuesday in the Tuscola County Circuit Court of charges of embezzling funds paid to him for water service in the village.

In the two-day trial, 48 witnesses were called to the stand who testified that they had paid for service. The majority of the witnesses showed receipts for their payments.

Roland O. Kern, defense lawyer, based his defense on the fact that no bank book was issued to Mr. Rocheleau and he had no record of the money that he claimed to have deposited when it was brought to him. Yet, Mr. Kern said, he issued receipts in good faith for the money turned in to him.

The jury deliberated from 5:25 p. m. to 9 p. m. before returning the not guilty verdict.

In a case before the court Wednesday, Neil D. Farvor of Caro pled guilty to a misdemeanor for destruction of property and was ordered to pay a $50 fine and $50 costs or spend 60 days in jail.

By agreement of both councils, the original charge of malicious destruction of property was reduced to a misdemeanor and when the charge was reduced, Farvor pled guilty.

Mr. Farvor was brought to trial for cutting to pieces the clothes of Helen Pike after she had stopped seeing him.

Flying Saucer

Spotted by Two Cass City Men

Two Cass City men joined with hundreds of other citizens throughout the nation who report having seen a "flying saucer."

H. E. Crowther and Glen Force reported that they sighted a donut-like shape high in the air, flying extremely fast, directly over their heads.

The Cass City men's report differs from the usual report of witnesses to the objects in that they saw a hole in the middle of the saucer.

The pair are positive of the fact because the object flew directly over their heads and they saw the sky through the middle of the saucer.

They said that it came over their heads from the southeast and was traveling so fast that it disappeared in approximately one-half minute after they first sighted it.

The saucer was flying so high, they said, that it looked to be no larger than a dinner plate from the ground.

The saucer was sighted Tuesday afternoon between 3:15 and 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Crowther and Mr. Force were near the Elkland Cemetery, east of Cass City, when the saucer was noted.

Cass City Meets Vassar Tonight

Sandusky Overpowers Hawks For 12-6 Decision Friday

A last half rally by Sandusky ruined Cass City's hopes for their second Thumb B Conference victory Friday evening as the Redskins found a weakness in the center of the Hawk line to score a game-winning marker in the third quarter to win a close decision, 12-6.

Cass City went in front in the second quarter but was unable to hold its margin. Russell Foy scored the marker on a 65-yard punt return.

The touchdown play was one of the Hawks' old favorites. Foy received the punt and faked a hand-off to Jack Clara playing in double safety with Foy.

A pair of key blocks helped Foy get started and then the little back raced down the sidelines untouched to score.

Foy's attempted kick for the point was blocked after the pass from center was fumbled.

Sandusky smashed back with a sustained drive for the tying touchdown. Most of the yardage was picked up on smashes through the center of the line on "T" formation plays.

Halfback Jim Bennett received credit for the score on a five-yard smash through the line. A pass for the extra point failed and the two teams left the field deadlocked at the half.

In the third period, Sandusky salted away the game with a 48-yard drive. Capitalizing on the weakness they found in the Hawk defense in the second period, they rammed the center of the line for gains of five, seven, eight and ten yards at a crack to move into the end zone.

The kick for the extra point was missed, but the touchdown proved to be all Sandusky needed, as the game ended without further scoring.

In the opening period, it appeared as if the Hawks might duplicate their sterling game of the week before against Bad Axe. They took the opening kickoff and moved to the Redskins 30-yard line before a penalty stopped the drive and forced them to kick.

Cass City was hampered by the loss of their two regular halfbacks for the Sandusky game. LeRoy and Dean Hoag were forced to the sidelines by injuries suffered in the brawl with Bad Axe.

The Hawks will try to improve their conference record tonight when they play at Vassar. The Cass City squad will reign as slight favorites to defeat the Vulcans for their second Thumb B victory.

Exhaust Fans Give Top Comfort Models Are Available To Fill Every Need

The exhaust fan is familiar to many modern farmers for its usefulness in ventilating dairy barns and poultry houses. The same principle of exhaust ventilation can be applied to the farm home for heat relief through the use of the residential window fan.
Low in initial cost, the window fan is also economical to run. Its operating cost amounts to only a few cents a day. Despite its economy, the window fan is a highly efficient cooling appliance. It exhausts the hot, stale air that accumulates in the house, at the same time drawing in fresh, cool ing outdoor breezes through the opened windows.

Exhaust fans like the one pictured above are being used in more and more farm homes through the country. They make for more comfortable living.

So long as the window fan is operating, the air in the house will be changed completely every 60 to 90 seconds. This quick, positive ventilation prevents an overheated muggy atmosphere from building up.

In general, it is best to locate a window fan at one end of the house, so that a long air pattern develops, and the maximum number of rooms is cooled. Properly located, a window fan will serve four or five rooms.

Window fans come in a large variety of models, sizes, and price ranges. Spacer panels on the sides makes it easy to adjust them to fit nearly any window, and because the window fan is easily secured in the window, the owner can move it from room to room as he wishes.

Dubbing Pullets

According to Wyoming tests White Leghorn pullets can be dubbed when 10 or 12 weeks old. The experts say it is painless to remove the wattles and combs with ordinary shears. And they add it resulted in more egg production in a number of tests.

Stored Grain May Be Damaged By Saw-toothed Beetle

Granary insects, especially the saw-toothed grain beetles, are damaging stored grain in Michigan, reports Alfred P. Ballweg, Tuscola County agricultural agent. Reports of infestations in Tuscola County grain bins have come to the attention of the County Extension Office, said Ballweg. All farmers having stored grain are encouraged to inspect their grain carefully for insect damage. At this time of year, according to Ballweg, the insects are found usually at the top and bottom of the stored grain. However, inspection of center of piled grain is also advisable.

If insects are found, fumigation should be done immediately. Follow the directions on the label for use of the grain fumigants other than ethylene dichloride-carbon tetrachloride mixture. Grain fumigants are heavier than air and in order to be effective, they should be applied uniformly to the top of the piled grain, concluded Ballweg.

Avert Hog Cholera With Vaccination

County Agricultural Agent Alfred P. Ballweg is advising all Tuscola County farmers to have their pigs vaccinated against cholera this fall.

But, Ballweg points out, the choice of the proper type of vaccine is important and the farmer should leave its selection and the proper time to vaccinate to his veterinarian.

Dr. Glenn W. Reed, extension veterinarian at Michigan State College, says that a number of new vaccines now on the market are not time-tested for effectiveness. The vaccines, he cautions, have been tested well in the laboratory, but conditions often are different on the farm.

The choice of the proper vaccine depends upon many things, Dr. Reed emphasizes. For example, a vaccine used on thrifty pigs may not be effective on those that have been held back by parasites or are not healthy generally. If the farmer's herd has had cholera in the past, that's another factor to consider in vaccine selection. "Every farm and every herd is a different problem," Dr. Reed stresses. "That's why a farmer should consult his veterinarian for advice."

Soil Most Important 'Crop' in Michigan

The soil that grows Michigan's most important crop—corn—is worth saving. Cornstalks left on fields over winter will help, advises Frank W. Trull, Michigan State College extension soil conservationist.

Crop residues—broken cornstalks spread-out soybean straw, or similar mulches—help the soil to absorb the pounding of rain just as growing crops do, he explains. One inch of falling rain has the potential to plow 10 times the area on which it falls if its force is not broken, says Trull, and this starts the washing-away of soil. Trull cites an experiment with two plots on a four per cent slope at Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station. A rainfall of nearly two inches in an hour took 198 pounds of soil off an acre where cornstalks were broken down across the slope. In an adjoining bare plot, the rain took 4,148 pounds of soil—or 20 times as much—from one acre. In a soybean straw test, the covered acre lost 715 pounds and the bare acre 3,362 pounds of soil. Break cornstalks down close to the ground to get best results, says Trull, or—for better job—run a stalk shredder over the field or knock stalks down across a slope with a heavy drag.

Michigan Mirror News Briefs

Lower prices for gasoline soon were predicted by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) as he added finishing touches to a report to be submitted to the January session of the Legislature.

Among reasons for this belief he lists the "tremendous" effect of Justice Department investigations; the large petroleum stock on hand; the present tendency of everyday motorists to reduce pleasure driving because of high car-operating costs.

"An oversupply of gasoline is likely to result in a downward price revision," agreed William Palmer, executive secretary of the Oil and Gas Association of Michigan. "A price reduction, if it occurs, can be attributed to this fact, more than any other," he stated. Palmer added that petroleum production is high because facilities were rushed to completion as part of a national defense program. He pointed to the situation in Iran where the biggest refinery in the world may resume production at any time and increase world supply even more.

Conclusions of the committee investigation cannot be announced until the report is filed with the Legislature, but Broomfield indicated that several important questions about gas prices still need answers. "We are not saying at this time that prices are too high," said Chairman Broomfield, "we are attempting to be sure that increases are justified."

He referred to 13 separate increases since OPA ended in 1946, saying, "Michigan citizens are alarmed at ever increasing prices of gas."

Answers are sought for these questions. Why is gasoline higher priced in Michigan than other states when:

Michigan gas taxes are lower than other states.

Michigan has ideal pipe-line, tanker, rail, truck and natural production facilities. Michigan drivers consume more gas than most other states.

Other questions under consideration are:

Why do gas prices of competing companies increase at the same time?

How are "fringe" companies, who sell for less than "name" brands, able to expand their businesses and at the same time under-sell the name brands?

Are unfair and illegal pressures used to force up the prices of "price cutting" retailers?

"It's wide open," said Palmer referring to the gasoline field. He pointed to the fact that "fringe" operators had prospered as proof that restraint does not exist.

He also made reference to his figures showing a cost of living increase of 87% as compared with a 66% increase in the cost of gas.

He said further, that of the 13 increases, two in state and one in federal taxes had to be passed on to consumers. "There were also four price decreases since OPA," he added.

Investigations by the committee began the middle of June and included a trip to Washington to compare notes with a federal committee also checking gas pricing. "We felt that it would be a duplication of effort if we questioned all oil companies," Broomfield explained. "About 80% of the wholesale business in the state is involved in interstate commerce and the Justice Department has about 30% of its staff investigating this problem at a national level," he continued.

"Oil companies charge all that the traffic will bear," claimed Joseph P. Hadley during committee hearings. Hadley is general counsel and secretary of the Michigan Petroleum Association, an organization of 400 gasoline jobbers. He claimed this practice to be an established oil industry policy.

Palmer said that Hadley's statement could be stated a different way which would "have a more acceptable tone." Oil companies charge all competition will permit them to charge.

Another hearing highlight came when M. E. Greenspon, gas station owner in Dearborn, claimed that many kinds of pressure were directed at him when he reduced the retail price of gas to 26.9 cents per gallon when "name" brands were selling for 30 cents. Among these were closing off his local supply, which meant he had to haul gas more than 100 miles, and a city ordinance which prevented his station from operating 24 hours per day.

Big companies do less business now than previously, claims Palmer. He produced a statement by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board for Standard Oil of Indiana which read: "At the time of the dissolution of the Standard Oil Trust in 1911, Standard of Indiana was the only large oil company in the middle west, doing about 80% of the business. Over the years we have seen one company after another, both new and old, grow and prosper. Today 22 of the companies which compete in this area have assets of over $100,000,000, and Standard does less than 20% of the business."

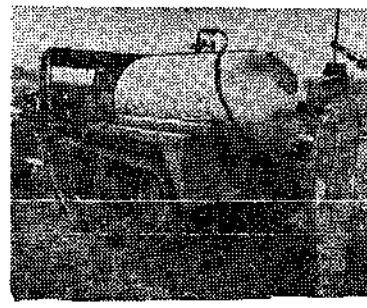

"Tankwagon" prices will have to be reduced if retail prices are to drop, said John W. Nerlinger, Jr., secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Association of Detroit.

He said dealers pay 16.8 cents per gallon, plus 5.3 in federal and state taxes. "Profit per gallon in Detroit ranges between 5.7 and 5.97 cents per gallon," the secretary stated.

Retail margin in Duluth, Minn. is 5.9; in Green Bay, Wis., it's five cents.

Cost of investigation proceedings was about $1,200 said Rep. Broomfield, who added that the committee was allowed $1,500. "We are sure that this amount will be saved many, many times over by the people of Michigan in holding down unjustified price increases in the cost of gasoline as well as other commodities," the young Representative concluded.

Refueling Tractors

To simplify re-fueling of gas-powered combines and tractors used in his rice field, Clarence Lilly, Lonoke, Arkansas, mounted this 500-gallon tank on a former Army half truck. Lilly and his four sons farm 1700 acres of rice land and have another 600 acres in lakes for hunting and fishing.

Most-liked low-priced car

... among people who want more for their money when they buy ... and more money when they sell!

There's a big reason why more folks are buying more Fords than ever before. No other low-priced car offers so many of the things people want and need for today's driving. In fact, to get such "Worth More" Ford features as a V-8 engine, completely automatic transmission and fine-car power steering in any other car, you'd have to step well up from the low-price field.

Of course, Ford owners will discover that Ford's worth more when they sell it, too. Surveys of used car prices show year-old Fords returning a higher proportion of their original cost than any other car.

because it's most like high-priced cars

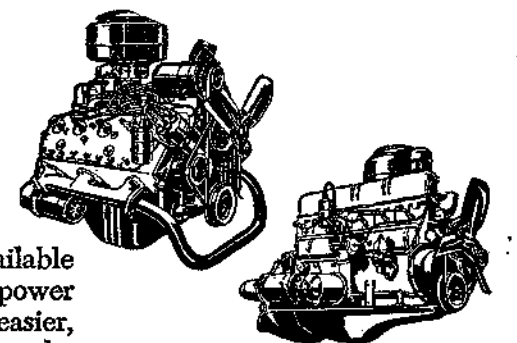

... more and more people are considering Ford as the one fine car in the low-price field!

It's hard to believe that a car which is built like the finest still sells in the low-price field. Yet a Ford with its huiltight Crestmark body, its Full-Circle Visibility (most in its field), its new fine car ride and roomy luggage locker (roomiest in its field) delivers at a figure that keeps it right down in its price class.

Ford's the only low-priced car which offers you a choice of a completely automatic transmission (Fordomatic), Overdrive or Conventional Drive. And Ford Master-Guide, available on all V-8 models, is the last word in power steering ... makes turning up to 75% easier, yet retains the natural feel of the wheel on the straightaway.

See ... Value Check ... Test Drive the Ford of your choice at your Ford Dealer's. Find out why Ford is America's "Worth More" car.

Ford's V-8 is the same type of engine powering America's finest (and costliest) cars. And Ford's Mileage Maker Six is the most modern Six in the industry.

Increase Milk Sales With Better Product

If dairy farmers expect to increase milk sales, they must do more than just meet minimum requirements, says Alfred P. Ballweg, Tuscola County agricultural agent.

Quality milk begins on the farm, he reminds, and it must be produced under good sanitary conditions.

W. W. Snyder of the Michigan State College dairy department advises producers to boost their milk quality by "paying attention to the little things." He suggests keeping cows clipped and washing udders before each milking. Use the strip cup regularly to avoid bad milk getting into the can or bulk tank. Keep all equipment clean and sanitary. Prevent milkstone in pails, cans and milkers. Don't handle milk unless your hands and clothing are clean, Snyder cautions.

To produce quality milk, points out Snyder, the bacterial count must be at a minimum. The milk must be cooled promptly and kept cold until delivered at the plant. The temperature should be below 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

Snyder also stresses that cows should not be fed hay or silage before or during milking. Hay, especially, produces dust in the barn and gets in milk. Silage may produce off-flavor.

A/1c Earl R. Kirkpatrick told members that the danger of attack from Russia is great. With our present system of defense, he said, 70 per cent of the planes launched would probably reach their target.

He explained that a modern bomber now in the hands of the Russians could leave its home base and bomb Detroit in 10 1/2 hours.

The two soldiers illustrated the speech with a pair of films. One showed a mock bomb attack on New York and the other viewed the ruins in Japan from the two famous American atomic bomb attacks in World War II.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church served the meal for the first session of the club and were given a round of applause by the appreciative men.

FARM BUREAU

Leona Tobias Wed In Bay City Church

St. Joseph's Church, Bay City, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Leona Tobias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tobias of Munger, and Harlan Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wood of Gagetown.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. George Vincent at 10 o'clock Saturday, in the presence of 100 guests.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon over satin, fashioned with a pleated nylon yoke, Johnny collar and a lace peplum on the bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl trimmed lace cloche and she carried a bouquet of mums, Stephanotis and ivy centered with an orchid.

Miss Theresa Tobias, maid of honor for her sister, wore a frock of gold nylon net featuring a velvet fitted bodice and short jacket.

The bridesmaids, Misses Audrey DuRussell and Rose Marie Tobias, sister of the bride, wore periwinkle blue gowns, styled like that of the maid of honor. The attendants all carried cascade bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Joyce Wood was his brother's best man and ushers were Harlan Bedore of Unionville and Larry Hool of Ruth.

Mrs. Tobias chose a navy dress with red accessories and Mrs. Wood wore a pink shade dress with green accessories. They both wore similar corsages.

Breakfast was served for the immediate families at the Hampton Township Hall.

After their return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will live in Bay City.
