Slightly Higher Budget Set By Council For 1954

Trustees for the village set the budget for 1954 at their regular Tuesday evening meeting at the Cass City Municipal Building.

The budget this year calls for expenditures of $77,776.85-$6,-976.85 more than the $70,800 set for 1953.

The largest item on the budget is the amount set aside for paying M-81 within the village limits. Trustees have allotted $15,000 for the project. In 1953, $10,000 was set aside for the work which never materialized.

Plans for the work were formulated three years ago, but delays have kept the project from starting here. However, most observers believe that the job will be done in 1954.

Another item that has taken a big jump this year is sewer extension, which was allotted $1.000 in 1953 and jumped to $5,000 for 1954. The increase is expected to take care of a sewer to Jake Tekeili's home.

A new budget item in 1954 will be building maintenance. Money for this work was formerly taken from miscellaneous expense, but the work needed has grown so much that trustees decided to make it a budget item. One thousand dollars has been set aside for maintaining buildings in 1954.

The complete budget for 1954:

sat up in bed. "You had visitors, son?"

"Chet Randall and his boys." Johnny said.

"The cattle?"

"They're safe enough. The boys are bringing in the strays. "We'll have the whole herd bunched around the house. If he aims to get our stock he'll have to ride up here to get them. And we'll be waiting."

"There's not too many fights left in this old carcass, son, but this is one show I don't want to miss. The doc says I can be getting out of bed soon."

"You're staying right where you are. If my plan works we can use you, though."

"I reckon you're the boss now. son. I'll do what you say."

The next night Sheriff Sutton and Clay Fox heard the horses in the distance. Johnny's men were staked around the house.

Randall pulled to a stop in the dark shadow of the porch. "This is it, Sutton. You can't see them, but my boys are ready and waiting to open up if you try anything." "Drop your gun, Randall!" Old man Sutton's voice was loud and clear in the darkness of the night. A candle burned in the upstairs. window and Randall saw the man leaning on the window sill, Winchester raised to his shoulder, his night shirt gleaming in the candle light.

Chet Randall gave a sharp cry of surprise. He sat motionless, his eyes staring at the figure in the window. Johnny and Clay took that moment to spring from the porch and jump the raider. Randall's men scattered without firing a shot and the Sliding S cowpokes took out after them.

"I was gambling that you'd seen yesterdays paper." Johnny said as he pulled the folded edition of the Silver Plain's Record from the raider's pocket. "I reckon tomorrow I'll have to spend the whole day telling the town folks it was only bait to trap a coward." Howard Wooley and son, Bobby, Johnny held the paper up for Clay to read the story. "DEATH TAKES BELOVED SHERIFF, BEN S. SUTTON."

Foreman Clay Fox was shaking his head. "I reckon we're all afraid of ghosts, Johnny.

Benson Discusses Farm Program

By Ezra Taft Benson Secretary of Agriculture

Any effective solution of today's farm problem must provide methods for reducing our huge stockpile of agricultural commodities and at the same time prevent further burdensome accumulations.

Getting rid of these surpluses is only half of our problem. Even if we were able to bring them down to manageable proportions, we would soon acquire new hoards of wheat, corn, cotton and butter under the existing system of price supports.

We already have approximately $2.5 billions tied up in loans on farm commodities, in addition to an equal amount invested in goods which we own outright—$5 illions in all.

Our present program does not encourage the production shifts which are required to meet the changing market demands for various commodities.

Of course, we could destroy some of our surpluses. Remember Youth Fellowship will sponsor a the government's potato fiasco of watch night service New Year's a few years ago?

Or we might plow under every Eve at 8 o'clock. They will serve third row of cotton and kill little hot dogs and coffee and a program will follow until the New pigs. Remember the mid-1930's? Actually, we would not even Farm exports have turned upward since July 1, reflecting our emphasis upon expanding trade. Continued high employment at 30% home, with national income at record levels, means a strong demand for farm goods in the United States.
