

Ten-inch Snow Blocks Area Roads; Closes Local School

The snow storm that swept through central Michigan and buried Cass City in 10 inches of snow Tuesday night and Wednesday forced the closing of school Wednesday afternoon and Thursday.

The annual winter concert, scheduled for Thursday evening, was postponed for the second time this year, as the weather made it impossible for spectators and many of the musicians to attend the performance.

The Tuscola County Road Commission reported Wednesday that no side roads would be plowed before Thursday and Supt. Willis Campbell, acting on this information, closed school all day Thursday.

Despite the strong wind that made drifts up to four feet in spots, main roads in the county were kept open. US-25 in Huron County was blocked early Wednesday but snowplows had opened the road in the afternoon.

It was the first heavy snow storm in Michigan this year and the first time school was dismissed because of the weather. Strangely enough, Northern Michigan received very little snow in the storm. Near Gaylord, the snow belt of the state, only an inch of snow was recorded.

In Cass City, school buses were sent home Wednesday noon and all of the children returned to their homes before drifts blocked the roads.

Deputies are First Two Candidates For County Sheriff

Two Tuscola County deputies have announced their candidacy for sheriff of Tuscola County in the primary election Aug. 3.

The two announced candidates for the position are William Tomlinson and George Baird.

Mr. Tomlinson was born in Tuscola County and lived in the county his entire life. He has farmed and spent 14 years at a garage in Caro until appointed deputy sheriff six years ago by Sheriff George Jeffrey.

Mr. Tomlinson is married and has one son, Larry, who is attending Caro public school.

Mr. Baird was born in Marion, Michigan, in 1915. He moved to Midland when three years old and lived there until 1933, when he went to Oregon.

Among the jobs he has held were night man for police and fire department from 1934-37 in the West and special civilian in.

For Water and Sewer Connections

Village Raises Service Costs

Cost to village home owners for tapping in sewer and water was raised Tuesday night by Cass City village trustees from $75 to $115—a raise of slightly more than 50 per cent.

The boost was the first in the cost to home owners for the service since 1946 and is designed to meet the cost of doing the work, according to an estimate furnished by Village Engineer Clarence Burt.

Since the time of the last adjustment, labor prices have doubled in the village and cost of pipe has also sharply increased.

Biggest jump in the service charge was tacked onto sewer connection work which raised from $40 to $75. Cost for water tapping raised from $35 to $40.

Trustees pointed out that the biggest boost was added to the sewer charge because the village received no revenue from this source, while water users pay for service.

A fee for turning water off and on in the village was under prolonged discussion by the council. The village currently turns water off and on free of charge.

Trustees are also looking for a method of charging a deposit or reverting water costs back to owners of property when rented homes or businesses are abandoned and cost for water not paid.

Several renters in the village have left owing the city a water bill.

To find the best solution for the problem, President James Bauer tabled the motion and trustees will investigate other communities to see how they handle the situation.

No U-Turn Signs. After a delay of several months, it is possible that the no U-turn signs will be installed in the near future by the village.

Permission has been granted by the Detroit Edison Company to erect the signs on their posts on Main Street. Brackets for this purpose are expected in the near future.

License Granted. The council passed a resolution granting a SDM license for the take-out selling of beer and wine by the Cass Food Locker.

Stray dogs on the street, almost an annual discussion topic for trustees, turned up again Tuesday and council members voted to publish the part of the ordinance that prohibits dogs running loose in the village limits.

Tie for League Lead

Hawks Top Marlette; Nip Saginaw Tuesday

A pair of victories boosted Cass City's cage stock to a new high this week and vaulted them into a first place tie in the "Thumb" "B" Conference title race.

An upset victory over vaunted Marlette, 58-44, gave the Hawks a share of the top spot in the league and a win over Saginaw, S. S. Peter and Paul, 54-45, Tuesday helped make the Hawks' record a little more impressive.

At Marlette, the Hawks played their finest game of the season before a capacity crowd. Over 200 fans were turned away from the door before the second team took the floor to start the game.

Despite a marked height disadvantage, Cass City held its own on rebounds from both boards and took a lead in the first quarter and held it throughout the game.

Don Simmons, who had possibly the best night in his career, led the attack in the first stanza when he netted seven points on three baskets and a free throw.

With the little center sparkling, the Hawks jumped off into a six-point, 15-9, advantage as the first quarter ended.

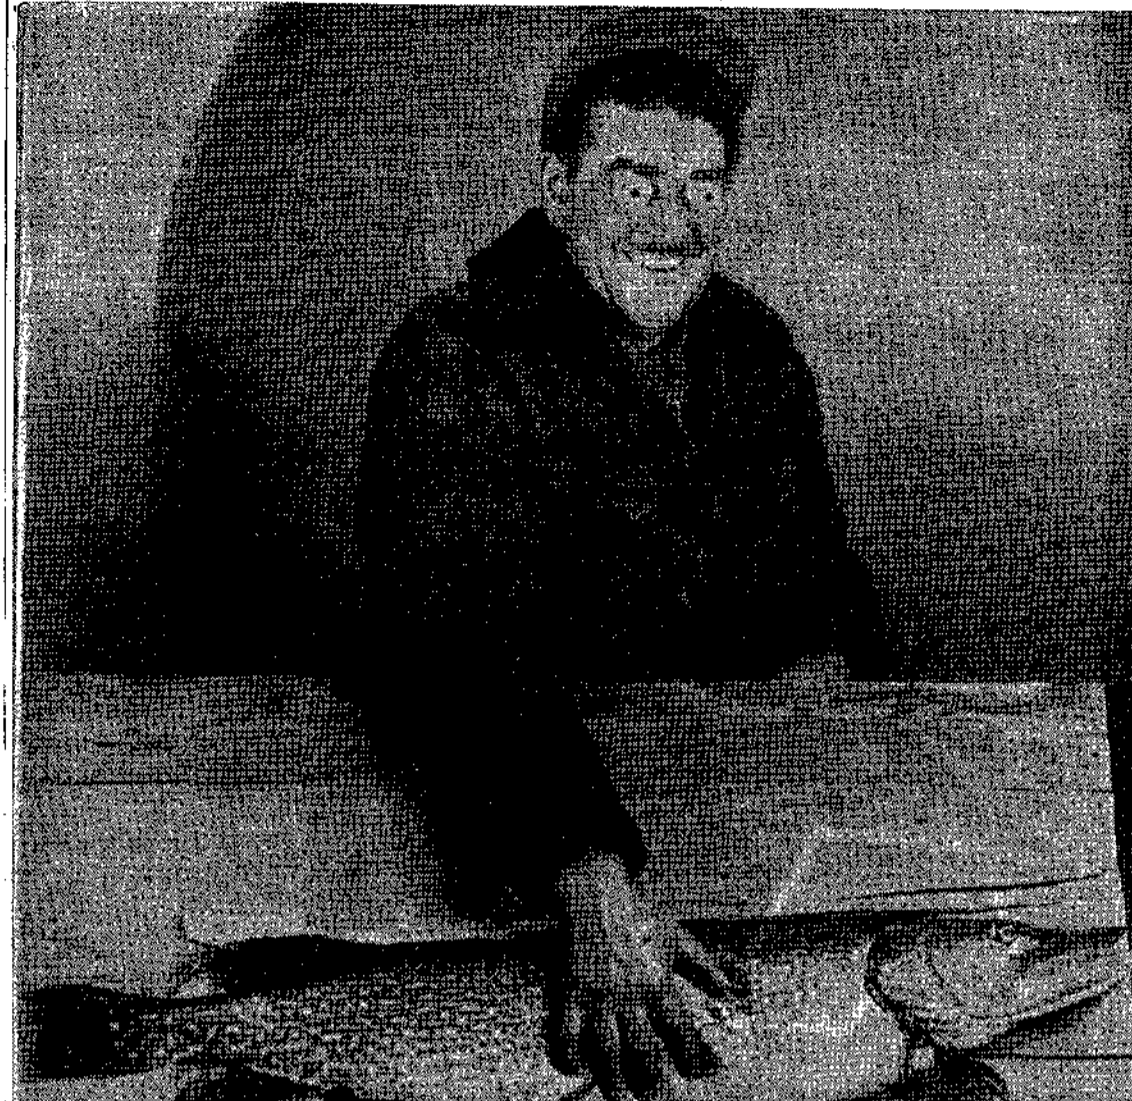

Both teams played mee horse basketball, but Friday Cass City was the fastest and most accurate passing of the two squads and the score reflected their superior play.

They kept the pace in the second period to add to their margin and at the half went out in front 29-17.

As usual, the Hawks suffered a slight letdown in the third period. Marlette slowly closed the gap in the stanza until they were within six points of Cass City.

But that was the closest the

This Fish Is No Joke

Although Photographer Fritz Neitzel made Luke Tuckey's eyes bulge out with fake eyes in this picture, the mammoth pike is no joke. Mr. Tuckey speared it at Weil Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The fish measured 41 inches and weighed 19 pounds.

Mr. Tuckey reports that the fish came very near not being caught. Before leaving, his car failed to start and he almost gave up the idea of the fishing jaunt. Mr. Tuckey was alone when he bagged his king-sized trophy.

Drive for Corporation Nears Completion

Representatives of the Industrial Development committee in Cass City reported Monday evening that money for stock in the Cass City Development Corporation is rapidly being pledged and that the drive will be concluded within a few days.

Incomplete figures show that the necessary amount for incorporation is being approached, with many persons on various lists still to be contacted.

Committee members pointed out in the meeting that as many stockholders as possible are wanted from the village.

A broad base of stockholders is expected to add more interest to the project and give the corporation flexibility in dealing with potential factories as the need arises.

Subscriptions to the stock by businessmen and individuals has ranged from one to 10 shares. The committee hopes to have $12,000 when the drive ends.

Award Sommers Medal for Polio Fund Raising Cake

Joseph Sommers, Cass City, has been awarded a March of Dimes medal for his original idea of a cake to help the polio drive in this area.

He was awarded the medal last week by a representative of the March of Dimes campaign. The medal is a shiny new dime encased in a copper circle.

One of the sides reads "March of Dimes fight for Infantile Paralysis" and the reverse side reads "Polio Fighting 1954."

Since the cake has been displayed at Sommers' Bakery, between $55 and $60 have been stuck to its sides.

Pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters, half dollars and dollar bills adorn the cake which is rapidly becoming completely covered with donations.

The cake has three tiers and is 12 inches in diameter at the base. It stands about a foot high.

On one side of the cake Mr. Sommers has written "1954 March of Dimes."

Mr. Sommers expressed the hope that the idea would spread to other bakeries in other communities in future years.

Ground Observers Look for Equipment

After operating more than two months, members of the Ground Observers' Corps in Cass City are trying to figure a way to get speakers on top of the building to hear approaching aircraft.

According to the observers, it is impossible to hear planes approach in time to properly identify them while serving at the post now.

Before the sounds are audible, the planes have gone and it is impossible to identify them. Concluded on page ten.

Coming Auction

One farm auction is listed in this week's issue of the Chronicle. Tuesday, Feb. 9, Alfred Osentoski will sell his personal property on the premises located 10 miles east and three and one-quarter miles north of Cass City. The sale will include cattle, feed, machinery and household goods.

Parsch's Store will be open Thursday afternoons

From the Editor's Corner

For a team that was figured to do well if it won half of its games this year, you've got to take your hat off to Coach Irv Claxman and his cagers for their outstanding 7-2 record this year.

Look for a supplementary financial report at the next Tuscola County supervisors' meeting, Feb. 8. The annual report was slightly inaccurate. It is expected that the new figures may reduce the deficit at the end of the year to $41,000.

First two candidates to officially throw their hats in the ring for sheriff are George Baird and William Tomlinson. You can expect two or three more before the deadline for signing comes around. Rumor has it that incumbent Sheriff George Jeffrey will not run this year—however, the sheriff has changed his mind at the last minute before. If he runs, we predict he'll get the nomination.

Other Cases. Other cases heard in circuit court included divorce proceedings for Mildred Hutchinson vs. Harvey Hutchinson. The decree was granted and the custody of the minor child awarded to Mrs. Hutchinson, alimony was set at $10 a week.

Lawrence J. Smith was found guilty of contempt of court for failing to pay alimony and was ordered to pay $50 and $15 weekly until back alimony was paid.

Clarence and Zella Kampenski stood mute on a charge of extortion and a plea of not guilty was entered by the court. No date was set for the trial.

Picture Highlights Rotary Meeting

A film shown at the regular meeting of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel depicted the intricate process of producing paint for today's market.

Starting with the basic raw materials and the reason they are needed, the film took viewers through the manufacturing of paint today.

Besides showing the manufacturing process, the film showed the constant research that is carried on to improve paint quality.

A series of test panels showed what happens to paint over various periods of time and what. Concluded on page ten.

Board Names Dischargees

The board also released Tuesday the names of 29 county men who have received their discharges and reported to the board.

The list includes William Zemke of Deford and Morris Sowden of Cass City.

Others are: Akron, Frank Lake, Gerald Lemox; Reese, Earl Markhart and Carl Bauer; Unionville, Don Niedrick; Caro, Myron Wysocki, Harry English, Donald Reid, Donald Smith, Allen Price, Herbert Beecher, Edward Lajoie, Douglas Rosenber-

Frank Revesz.

John H. Zinnecker, Cass City, has been appointed to the Tuscola County Selective Service Board, replacing E. B. Schwaderer, Cass City, who recently resigned.

At Circuit Court Friday

Schumacher Is Found Guilty

A Tuscola County jury found Christopher Schumacher of Millington guilty of assault and battery Friday, after deliberating for about three hours following the hearing of testimony at the trial that started Wednesday, Jan. 20.

Schumacher was found guilty for severely beating Wilburt Ward Aug. 28, after Ward had entered his restaurant in the evening.

According to Ward, he entered the restaurant in Millington and ordered a cup of coffee and a hamburger. The coffee was brought to him, but he said he failed to get the hamburger and went back into the kitchen to see what was the matter.

When he entered the kitchen, he said that he was slugged and thrown out of the restaurant and then badly beaten.

Schumacher told the jury that he and his wife were in a bedroom adjoining the kitchen when his wife woke him up and said the cook was calling for help.

When he arrived in the kitchen, he said he ejected Ward from the premises. He said that Ward came back to the screen door and started rattling it and then he went out and beat him up.

The cook at the restaurant testified that Ward was trying to get "fresh" on the night of the incident.

The jury had a choice of five verdicts. They were: assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder, felonious assault, assault and battery, simple assault and not guilty.

Judge Ed T. Kane of Port Huron presided. A pre-sentence investigation will be made by the court. The date for sentencing has not been set.

Members of the jury were: Art Carolan, Rollie Taylor, William French, Eason Gordow, Ralph Markhardt, Ray Fleenor, Eugene Krywko, Fred Schik, Ivan Heckroth, Ester Keyson and Mrs. Leah DuBois.

Other Cases. Other cases heard in circuit court included divorce proceedings for Mildred Hutchinson vs. Harvey Hutchinson. The decree was granted and the custody of the minor child awarded to Mrs. Hutchinson, alimony was set at $10 a week.

Lawrence J. Smith was found guilty of contempt of court for failing to pay alimony and was ordered to pay $50 and $15 weekly until back alimony was paid.

Monday Night

Discuss Addition At School

Many persons attended the regular meeting of the Home and School Council at the Cass City High School Monday evening and learned the facts concerning the school's need for more space.

The situation was explained by members of the school board and Supt. Willis Campbell.

Besides Mr. Campbell, members who led discussion groups were Lester Ross, Mrs. Edward Baker, Mrs. H. T. Donahue and Frederick Pinney.

The group leaders pointed out that more space was needed both in the grade and high schools. The high school needs band and vocational rooms, plus the additional grade space, the leaders pointed out.

Mrs. Grant Patterson presided at the meeting and read the minutes. Mrs. Harold McGrath, program chairman, presented the topic for discussion.

Refreshments were served under the direction of the refreshment committee, Mrs. Elmer Simmons, Mrs. John Meininger, Mrs. Leo Seuryneck, Mrs. Harry Comment, Mrs. Larry Cummings, Mrs. Alger Generous, Mrs. Charles Beckett, Mrs. Stanley Morell, Mrs. Charles Grady and Mrs. George Hendershot.

SHORT STORY

Wonderful Wife

By Denny McClung

"AND SOLD to the gentleman for thirty-five dollars. Give your name to the clerk, sir. Mentally kicking myself, I go to the clerk's desk, pay my bill, and get my perfectly adorable antique—a scarred, disreputable cobbler's bench.

I wondered what Ann would think this time. Our friends are always kidding me about my passion for auctions. I just can't resist them.

Ann never berates me when I come in with some piece of old furniture or glass. But I often wonder what she thinks about my love for auctions.

I hoist the bench to my shoulder and start for the car. There's no use putting off the ordeal. She'll have to know sooner or later. I couldn't help remembering that Ann had mentioned new drapes.

"Listen, why take it home?" I ask myself. "It can only remind Ann of the drapes." Surreptitiously, I set the bench among some other furniture.

"Buddy, you couldn't force that thing on me," he says.

casually light a cigarette, and saunter toward my car. Just as I open the door, someone touches me on the shoulder.

"Pardon me, sir. I believe you forgot your cobbler's bench. You set it among some other furniture and . . ."

"Sure," I mumble. "Thanks a lot." I throw it in the back seat while the little guy trots away. Why can't people mind their own business?

So I still have the bench when a fellow with a truck moves up to load some other furniture. I lift the bench from the car and take it over.

"Look, mister," I say, "what'll you give me for a good cobbler's bench? I just bought it a few minutes ago—you can have it cheap."

He looks the bench over, then says, "Buddy, you couldn't force that thing on me."

"I'll let you have it for twenty-five dollars," I counter. "Mope. Don't waste it."

"Twenty?" "No," he yells. "Fifteen?" "No! Beat it, will you?" "How about accepting it as a gift?"

"Scram, buddy. Can't you see I got work to do?"

Driving across town I get another idea and whip into an alley. If I can't sell it or give it away, there's certainly no one to object if I throw it away.

I set the bench out in the alley and start to get back in my car. But as soon as I touch the door handle, I hear, "Hey, buddy, just a minute." I freeze. Then I hear steps coming up the alley and turn around to see a sour looking cop striding toward me.

"Say, mister," he says, "what do ye mean by blockin' the alley with your junk?"

"Officer, I was just trying to get rid of this thing." I try to explain. "I don't care what ye were tryin' to do, I should run ye in for obstructin' an alley."

"Couldn't we reach some understanding about this?" I ask. "Oh, so it's bribery ye're tryin' now, is it?" he thunders. "Now, me back, pick up your junk and get the devil out of here."

I'm beat, so I decide to go home. As soon as I walk in the door, Ann sees the bench.

"Darling," she says, "what a wonderful present. I was afraid you would forget."

"Forget? Forget what?" "What day this is." "Oh—yeah. Happy birthday." "It isn't my birthday, silly." "Anniversary?"

"Um—in a way. Now don't be so modest. You know perfectly well. We had our first date four years ago today. November nine tenth. Remember?" "Sure. Say, what was the name of that movie we saw?" "It wasn't a movie, you took me to a basketball game." "Oh, yeah . . ."

"It's just a wonderful present. Of course, all that old paint will have to be removed. You can do that in the basement. Then it will have to be filled and sanded. Then you can put a new finish on it. But it shouldn't take long, should it?"

Yes, sir, that's my wife. I must remember to buy her a present of the next anniversary of our first date.

Spend and your friends spend with you—save and they'll do their best to get it away from you.

Corrections

An error was in the story of the Woman's Study Club meeting last week. The title of the paper should have been "Is the Bible, the Best Seller, Read?" and not "real" as printed.

In the Jan. 15 issue of the Chronicle, a story concerning Anna K. Guilds and the Cass City Hospital stated that Mrs. Guilds was unconscious when she entered the hospital.

Mrs. Guilds reports that she was conscious when she entered the hospital.

GEORGE L. BAIRD CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF of TUSCOLA COUNTY As a Candidate for Sheriff of Tuscola County, on the Republican Ticket in the Primary Election on August 3, 1954, I stand for the following: First: Cooperation between Sheriff's Department, Supervisors, Prosecutor, and all officers connected with County Government, also Local, State and Federal police groups and to organize such a setup in this County for the benefit of all. Second: Regular road patrol to all parts of the County for the purpose of traffic control and protection of property. Establish regular working hours and shifts with specified periods of time off for all personnel, except in cases of emergency. This I believe could be improved by consolidation of all functions of the Department. Third: I recommend cooperation by the Sheriff's Department with Churches, Schools and Civic Clubs throughout the County to provide, properly supervised recreation for our teen-age groups, in the form of parties, dances, rifle clubs etc. Fourth: Definite and more frequent reports to the County Supervisors and Tax Payers as to what they are getting in return for the money being spent by their Sheriff's Department. Your support will be greatly appreciated. GEORGE L. BAIRD

Farmers' Week to Draw Many Visitors

"Strengthening Michigan Agriculture" is an apt theme for Michigan State College exhibits during Farmers' Week, next Monday through Friday, emphasizes Herbert R. Pettigrove, chairman of the exhibits committee.

First-hand information and demonstrations will help thousands of visitors improve their own farming operations, he explains. The football stadium concourses alone will have exhibits of 26 departments.

Visitors can see the home of yesterday—set up by the museum, with home furnishing and weaving equipment of early days. "Do it yourself" will be the subject of wood-working displays, including boat-building. Landscapers will show how flowers, shrubs and trees can help strengthen agricultural home life with beauty and relaxation.

Crops-drying equipment, ventilation fans, garden tools, seed displays, a grain and potato show and special crop exhibits will be among the farm features. There will be exhibits on corn hybrids, use of specific gravity in separating potatoes for boiling and baking, weed control and pasture improvement.

Management, use of water resources, care of shade trees and detail on the life of our gaudy Oriental import—the pheasant—all will be shown. Insecticides, eight ways to get more dollars from livestock, bulk handling of milk and ways to poultry profits will be other features.

Animal exhibits will include small animals like mink and rabbits and there will be a machine that sorts eggs by color.

The WKAR farm and home hour will originate in the east football bleachers from 12 noon to 1 p. m., Tuesday through Thursday, and visitors will be able to see the college television shows on receiving sets.

Horse Pulling Slated At Farmers' Week

Farmers' Week will again feature a Heavyweight Horse Pulling Contest. Four of the most select teams in the field will meet in the Livestock Pavilion at the Michigan State College, Tuesday, February 2, on Horse Day.

Heading the field will be the National Champions, a 4500 pound pair of roans owned by Fowler Brothers, Reading, Michigan. Fowler Bros. have on three different occasions had the Heavyweight National Champions and on two occasions driven Heavyweight teams to new World Records.

A chestnut pair owned by John Drake, Pioneer, Ohio, winners at the 1953 Farmers' Week Contest, will be back to defend their crown. This 4400 pound pair, at the last major contest of the 1953 fair season, defeated the National Champions.

The most feared pair in the contest is a 4600 pound pair owned by Chas. Roehl and Sons, of Smiths Creek, Michigan. This experienced pair, improved by the purchase of an Illinois horse, could be the "uncrowned champions." During the 1953 season, the Roehl pair won many major contests and when defeated at the National, it was by only a few inches. Harry Roehl, driver and trainer, has driven more teams to World's Records than any man in the field today.

The most improved team in the field will be a 4300 pound pair of roans owned by John Huivenga of Grandville, Mich. Pulling with an experienced logging horse from the Upper Peninsula, is one of the most promising and experienced horses to come from the State of Iowa.

Other Horse Events will be a parade of champion project draft colts, quarter horses and Arabians.

An attractive addition to the Horse Day Program will be the "Little International" staged by students in the Block and Bridle Club.

Horse Day opens with the "Little International" at 8:30 a. m. and finishes with the Horse Pulling Contest at 1:00 p. m.

Farmers from all sections of the State, and surrounding states always pack the Pavilion to witness Michigan's popular Horse Day Events.

Advertise it in the Chronicle.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

New protection for Michigan citizens is the aim of several bills concerning driver responsibility now under consideration by the Legislature. Important among these are several proposals to set a state speed limit. Senator Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) claims 18 co-sponsors for his bill to limit vehicle speed at night to 55; during the day to 65 miles per hour. Since only 17 votes are required to pass a bill in the Senate, the proposal should have little trouble in securing approval there.

"Slowpokes" on the highway are also receiving attention. A bill proposed by Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) calls for a 50 mile an hour minimum speed during the day; 40 at night. Sen. Morris expects difficulty in passing this bill. But he believes public sentiment favors some action to keep slow drivers off main highways. "I've received more popular support for this than any other proposal I've ever made," he reports.

or damage of more than $50 if a proposal of Rep. Willard I. Bowerman, Lansing attorney, becomes law. This bill requires all drivers to carry a "financial responsibility" card issued by the Secretary of State's office. A driver involved in a serious accident who cannot produce such a card will have his auto impounded until the case is settled or he can demonstrate his ability to pay damages.

Responsibility cards could be issued by auto insurance companies, with the approval of the Secretary of State, under a specification of the measure.

Drivers under 21 would be required to produce evidence that they are covered by public liability insurance under another of Rep. Bowerman's proposals.

"I think both of these bills stand excellent chance to become law," said the representative. "Both will make a driver more conscious of his responsibility and both provide means of paying for damage should an accident occur."

About 650 separate bills are expected to be introduced by the Feb. 10 deadline.

This is a far cry from predictions made last fall when this session was described as a "short" one. Many of the measures introduced are worthy of careful consideration. Others are controversial and require "delicate treatment."

Matters like a large state police force, increases in unemployment and workman's compensation, new prison facilities, a fair employment practice law, etc. takes time.

In an election year when every lawmaker is anxious that his actions be understood and approved by the voters, lawmakers are especially careful.

This is particularly true at this session because of redistricting which takes place before the next election. Reapportionment means that many people will be voting in different districts than previously. They are likely to be less familiar with candidates. Incumbents are anxious to gain as much advantage as possible during the legislative term.

Reapportionment is expected to benefit the Republican party according to Senator Charles S. Blundy, Detroit Democrat. Districts in Wayne County were arranged in such a manner, he claims, as to reduce the number of Democrats than can be elected, he points out, while other traditionally Republican sections were joined to borderline Democratic areas.

Official figures from the Auditor General's office show that Michigan's income for the fiscal year ending June 30 was $736,992,517. Expenditures amounted to $710,865,595. Surplus in the general fund was $34,003,691. Applied against the previous deficit of $65,341,209, the state is left owing $31,337,518. This is expected to be paid off by the end of this year from returns from the business receipts tax.

Biggest portions of the budget were spent for education: 34% or $244.5 million; for highways: 22% or $152.8 million; for welfare: 15% or $107 million. Only 2% was required to operate the state government; 8% was returned to local units of government. Expenditures for mental health took 7% or $49.8 million.

Safety and corrections with 4%, public health with 2%, conservation and agriculture with 2%, took up most of the remaining portion of the budget. Disaster plans to care for thousands who would be left homeless should Detroit ever suffer enemy air attack are now being made in Livonia, a suburb of the metropolis. All Livonia homes and commercial buildings have been surveyed as to suitability for emergency shelters, and plans have been made to convert a new high school into an emergency hospital.

The Michigan Office of Civil Defense reports that 700 Livonians have been trained as auxiliary police, fire and medical assistants, and that Livonia air raid alarm instruments will soon be connected directly with those of Detroit.

"Unprecedented success of Michigan's tourist business in 1953 means an even greater selling effort will be necessary in 1954 if the state's vacation business is to continue to prosper," said Robert W. Budd, chairman of the Michigan Tourist Council. "The trend toward a buyers' market, with increased competition from other states, makes it imperative that we re-examine our advertising and promotion program," he continued.

Plans for 1954's promotion are already laid out and include a series of movies featuring Michigan's spring, summer, fall and winter attractions. Films will be made available to television stations, service clubs, etc., according to Robert Furlong, executive secretary of the Council.

Reformers say fewer people would get off the straight and narrow if they could tell the difference between vice and advice.

It is next to impossible for an honest man to get a public office where his honesty can be put to good use.

If you think enough of a job to accept it—think enough of yourself to do your best work.

It's probably true that hard work is a tonic—but many people never get sick enough to try the medicine.

Gutter Cleaner Will Cut Farm Costs

Dairy farmers shifting from a low-profit hand-labor small herd to a big "mechanized" herd can add profits and pleasure with a gutter cleaner, suggests Quentin R. Ostrander, Tuscola County assistant agricultural agent.

Labor shortages and physical handicaps can be offset by a gutter cleaner for farmers who can finance the installation, he explains, and the operating cost is low.

Records kept on several Michigan farms showed operation costs averaged 2 to 4 cents per cow for the winter season, reports Robert L. Maddex, Michigan State College agricultural engineer.

Maddex notes that cleaners fall into two categories—the endless chain type circulating around the entire barn area and up an elevator to the manure spreader and the single gutter type which shuttles between two motors to clean manure out to the spreader and return. Many farmers have built their own gutter cleaners along one line or the other.

Maddex does not advise gutter cleaners for small or medium-size herds, however, unless the farmer has a peculiar situation to warrant it.

As a rule the man who has the best credit uses it the least.

Test Drive
a FORD... and you'll want to drive it home

Feel how Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension cushions the bumps.
You'll find a new kind of ride... level and smooth... even on rough, rutted roads. And, because Ford's new ball-joint front suspension is simpler than the conventional type... with 12 points of wear eliminated... that "new car" feel lasts longer.

Look at your beautiful surroundings.
You'll see why Ford interiors for '54 set a new high in beauty. For here is a matchless blending of fabric, color and styling. Every detail says "fine car" quality from the new upholstery and trim to the unique new Astra-Dial Control Panel. And you'll find there's all the "living room" you'll ever want or need.

Your fun really begins when you own a Ford
Of course, you can't fully appreciate the many, many "worth more" advantages that are yours in a '54 Ford until you actually own one. You'll find that your Ford provides the careful craftsmanship of a hull-tight Crestmark Body, the added safety of Full-Circle

Try the Y or the II. You'll thrill to Ford's greater responsiveness the first time you take a Test Drive. And you'll discover that this new "Go" is yours through the full range of driving speeds! Both of Ford's new engines have an extra-deep block extending well below the crankshaft, giving the V-8 a "Y" shape, the Six an "II" shape—and you a more rigid, smoother, quieter engine. Both are short-stroke engines, too, which means less internal friction, more usable energy, greater gas savings and long engine life.

See how Ford's optional power assists* make your driving easier.
Unlike other low-priced cars, Ford offers a power-lift system that operates on all four windows. And Ford's power-operated front seat moves up and down as well as back and forth. Ford also offers you power brakes, power steering and Fordomatic.

Great TV! FORD THEATRE.

Looking Pretty For Evening Dates

WHEN THE AIR is frosty and darkness falls early, as it does during this season, the important social get-togethers are planned for evening. There's a call for you to have something more than daytime charm, but do you know just what to do to achieve it?

shots from the corners and around the foul circle.

The teams scored only seven points each in the period.

The Hawks' shooting percentage was very good in the final quarter. They hit five of eight tries and added eight free throws for 18 points.

With a lead in the final quarter that had dwindled to only four points, the Hawks held the ball in the back court and forced Saginaw to come out of their zone to break it up.

The result was several "dog" shots that sewed up the game.

The second team fell behind the varsity in victories when they dropped a thriller to the St. Pete's reserves, 46-45.

The county has a new project, "Kits for Korea." The kits are to be completed before the February leaders' meeting in Cass City.

The program chairman announced that "International Friendship" would be the topic for discussion at that meeting.

Slate Religious Film At Cass Theatre

A film, "Martin Luther," described as impressive by authorities of the theater, will be shown at the Cass Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 31 through Feb. 2.

The film depicts the life of Luther and tells with dramatic power the story of his spiritual struggle that made him a leader of the Reformation.

Originally designed to be shown only in churches, the film made such an impression on preview audiences that it was decided to have the film shown exclusively in theaters across the nation for 12 to 18 months.

Special church discount coupons have been distributed to all Protestant churches in the area and are available from ministers on request.

Nestle's Letter

Editor's note: This letter was received in answer to a letter asking about the future of the company and its plans for the building here:

Mr. H. J. Ludlow, Director Chamber of Commerce Cass City, Michigan Dear Mr. Ludlow:

Your letter to us under date of January 2, 1954, commenting on our closing the Cass City plant, has been received and we greatly appreciate your interest which we hope reflects the sentiment of your community.

We, too, regret moving away from your charming little city, and we can assure you that business conditions were solely responsible for our move rather than any other reason, since our relationship with everyone in the community has been extremely pleasant over the years.

You mentioned our being engaged in the manufacture of other products. Yes, The Nestle' Company, Inc., manufactures a wide variety of foods and beverages, such as Nescafe, Nestea, chocolate, soups, seasonings and cookie mix, and we appreciate your invitation to consider moving some of these operations to Cass City. The facilities and the geographical location of Cass City do not completely fit in with our plans for future expansion, however, one can never be sure as to just what the future may bring. Should unforeseen developments occur so as to make it feasible and practicable, we would look forward with pleasure to again becoming an active part of your industrial community.

Sincerely,
The Nestle' Co., Inc.
