BOWLING NEWS

The most exciting event of the bowling season comes from White Pigeon, Michigan, where 16-year-old LaMarr Miller rolled a 300 game in sanctioned play. He has the honor of being the youngest male to roll an ABC sanctioned 300. The oldest to receive an ABC award for a 300 game is 70-year-old Robert Watson of Los Angeles, California. From 15 to seventy, quite a span, and it pretty well tells the story of the universal appeal of tenpins.

The bowling news from Cass City is that the Rusch Team of the Merchants' League are undisputed Champions of their league. This team, five ambitious bowlers, were in there pitching all the time and deserve to win because of their fine co-operation and team spirit. As we have mentioned before, the City League winner of the third and final round will not be determined until next Monday night. Three teams are still in the running. The City Association is quite disappointed with the number of Doubles and Singles entries for the Tournament. Last season over 40 sets of doubles and singles were entered. This year only 13 sets of doubles and 16 singles were received. No where in the country can you bowl in an ABC sanctioned tournament for $2.50 per man including bowling expense. It's true this doesn't make a very great amount of prize money to be divided among the top positions; but the results received from friends competing against each other and the sportsmanship of the game is far greater in a small league or Association such as ours than the amount of money received. We just cannot understand the lack of interest. On the handicap system that we use, one bowler has the same opportunity of rolling high scores as another. Perhaps the 1954-55 season will bring more pleasing results.

Following is a report of the City League scoring activity of April 12th:

Table with columns: Team, Pts., Individual high single game, and Individual high three games. Lists names like Zmierski, Asher, Landon, Reid, Damm, Wallace, Bigham, Kritzman, Gremel, Huff, Bartz, Dillman, Coleman, Gremel, Leitch, Wallace, Damm, Bartz, Glaspie, Brooks, and others.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

Quick, tricky legislative action in final days of the 1954 session is responsible for a law designed to "prevent the milk bottle from becoming a medicine bottle". The bill, which was defeated in one session only to be passed in the next, needs only the governor's signature to become effective.

Super-fortification of milk was the issue. Milk processors, mostly from Detroit, were anxious that the present law remain unchanged. Farm groups were determined that limits should be placed on amounts of vitamins, iron, iodine and other chemicals that could be added to "nature's most perfect food".

The ensuing maneuvering taxed parliamentary talents of supporters of both sides. Basis for the battle is a practice that has developed in recent years to add more and more "fortification" to milk. The specific product sold at present contains sufficient "souping up" to cause medical authorities and nutritionists to consider it a menace on the market. The milk, usually sold in a brown bottle, is priced two cents above the standard milk grade; one cent above homogenized milk with the acceptable 400 units of vitamin D added. The argument does not concern homo-D milk. About 100,000 quarts of super-fortified milk is sold each day, according to the department of agriculture.

Super-fortification is considered by its opponents a dangerous trend in tampering with food. They contend that a normal diet supplies sufficient vitamins, minerals, etc., for a normal person. Too much concentration of some vitamins, they explain, can cause serious health difficulties. Dairies competing for sales, they point out, could easily "spike" milk more and more until the danger point is reached. If other food manufacturers began adding extra vitamins, nutrition experts say that diets could go haywire.

Higher milk consumption is claimed by processors, who favor super-fortified milk with a resulting benefit to farmers. Dairy farmers got into the fray after hearing warnings from several food experts who were concerned that "doctoring up" of milk might move it from the food category into a drug or tonic class. Both Prof. Margaret Ohlson, Michigan State College diet authority, and Dr. Harry A. Towles, pediatrician from the University of Michigan have warned against that danger. Since nutritionists are a great force in promoting milk as an excellent food, farmers do not want to see anything happen that would lessen their support.

The bill that would outlaw super-fortification of milk passed the House some time ago and came up last week in the Senate when legislators were battling budget problems and several others. It lost by one vote. Democratic senators from Detroit were anxious to bury the issue still deeper. Sen. Charles S. Blundy and Sen. Charles C. Diggs Jr. attempted this by the use of Senate rules and nearly succeeded. Frantic do-or-die thinking by representatives of the Michigan Farm Bureau and others came up with a plan within the Senate rule structure—and one that worked.

The proposal which failed to pass was quickly assembled as an amendment to another dairy bill. Letters in its support from the Michigan State Medical Society and from the State Department of Health were read by Republican Sen. Edward Hutchinson from Fennville. Both scientific groups opposed super-fortification. Sen. James M. Teahen Jr. (R-Owosso) stimulated debate by charging, "I have never encountered so much lobbying as I have against this bill by the big creameries—much of it is misleading lobbying." He also needed: "I can't help but be interested in the enthusiasm shown against this bill by the Democratic senators from the great dairy area—Detroit."

After dramatic debate the vote showed a clear victory for opponents of super-fortification. The final tally was by party lines: 23—8. Sen. Donald W. Gilbert from Saginaw was the only Republican who voted for super-fortification. The other votes were cast by Senate Democrats. The eighth Democrat was not present.

An $80 million bonus for Korean veterans will be decided by Michigan voters at the fall election. Both chambers of the legislature passed resolutions which will put the question on the ballot.

There was virtually no dissension in the Legislature. In the House only two voted against the proposal: Representatives Lewis G. Christman, Ann Arbor, and Eugene C. Betz, Monroe. In the Senate there were also two negative votes: by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, Holland, and Sen. Donald W. Gilbert, Saginaw. All four are Republicans.

"Where is it going to end?" asked Rep. Christman. He prefers to set some money aside for veterans who have emergency needs. Rep. Betz opposed the bill because he thought the voters should know where the money to pay the bonus is coming from. Sen. Geerlings believes that the payment of bonuses for military service can no longer be justified because present world conditions indicate that Michigan men will be serving for many years. A bonus to everyone who serves, he thinks, will be impossible. "It was the general opinion that there would be no more fighting after World War II," the Senator explains. "A bonus then didn't seem to be the permanent thing that a bonus under today's conditions does." Little inclination was shown by Legislators to debate their bonus. This is a campaign year and the general feeling exists among lawmakers that the bonus issue is nothing to wrangle about. "Let the voters decide."

This proposal pays a top of $500 to a service man. To be eligible, a veteran must have served in the armed forces from June 27, 1950, to Dec. 31, 1953. He will be paid $15 for each month of overseas duty inside the U. S. Bonuses are expected to average about $270 per veteran.

Slate Tree Pruning Tour April 20

A fruit tree pruning demonstration scheduled for the afternoon of April 20 should be of special interest to Tuscola County residents who are interested in getting more and better fruit from their backyard fruit trees, announced Quentin R. Ostrander, assistant county agricultural agent.

In addition to the pruning demonstration, there will be a discussion of insect and disease control for the home orchard, Ostrander said. Mr. Clarence Langer, horticultural specialist from Michigan State College, will be present to give the pruning demonstration and discuss disease and insect control.

The demonstration will be conducted on a tour with the first stop at Orchard Hills on M-81 at 1:30 p. m. The second stop of the tour will be at Wellemeier's Orchard, 2 1/2 miles north of Vassar on Vassar Road.

It is no burden for a social climbing wife to put all her husband's earnings on her back.

Holstein Banquet at Sandusky April 22

Clifford M. Hardin, new Dean of the School of Agriculture at Michigan State College, will be the speaker at the Annual Sanilac County Holstein Banquet to be held in the Sandusky High School Gym at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, April 22. His topic will be "Agriculture Down The Road."

Dean Hardin has been a popular speaker at events within this county on several previous occasions. The banquet, which is sponsored each year by the Sanilac County Holstein Breeders' Association and the Sandusky Lions Club, will be served by the ladies of the Peace Lutheran Church.

Arrangements have been made for a good short program which will be toastmastered by Elmer Orton. Tickets are available from the Sanilac County Holstein Breeders and some members of the Sandusky Lions Club.

The man who gets attention is the one that does something worthwhile enough to really attract it.
