

From the Editor's Corner

The Cass City Chamber of Commerce feels that the Homecoming belongs to the persons in the area who attend. They would like to know what you like and what you dislike about the affair as it is now held.

Members of the board of directors said that each suggestion would receive careful consideration and the wishes of the majority incorporated into the event next year if at all possible.

If you have suggestions or criticisms, write them to Fred Auten, Chamber of Commerce president, or send them to the Chronicle and we'll see that they are forwarded to the board of directors.

Many persons from out of town attended the Homecoming, according to the signatures in the register book installed at the Homecoming for the first time this year.

Included among the visitors were several from out of state.

Attending from New York state were Janet Marie Turnbull of Rochester and Magnolia and Zeke Huffman of Poughkeepsie. Mrs. A. P. Cook and Marilyn of Avon Park, Fla., and John Sanborn of Collegedale, Tenn., were also at the Homecoming.

If you happened to see several balloons floating off into space Thursday, Aug. 5, don't bother chasing them in hopes of getting a free prize.

Even though the balloons have messages in them promising gifts of money in trade at several Cass City stores, it just "ain't so". The messages are bogus, placed in the balloons by Cass City pranksters... no one knows just who.

Because this reporter was unaware of the annual county employees' picnic Wednesday, the courthouse news does not appear in this issue. When we arrived as usual, Wednesday afternoon, to record the marriage licenses, really transfers and other news, we found a sign on the door explaining that the courthouse was closed for the afternoon for the picnic.

Al Krueger, owner of Anrod Screen Cylinder Co., Cass City, will hold an open house for residents of the area Thursday and Friday, Aug. 19 and 20, from nine a. m. to 12 noon and from one to four p. m. On hand will be several members of the organization to conduct tours through the plant. Persons attending will see the complete operation of the plant. At a sample table will be screens produced by the company. Many different types of industrial screens in a variety of sizes will be displayed, Mr. Krueger said.

Because of production problems, Mr. Krueger has asked visitors to come to the plant on Main Street only at the times specified. Welding of screens is one of the jobs at Anrod. Part of the regular crew at Anrod was welding when this picture was snapped. Yedinak Signs as New Cass City Coach Michael Yedinak, Jr., has been signed to coach the Cass City High School football team for 1954, it was announced by Supt. Willis Campbell.

Mr. Yedinak comes to Cass City from Oxford. Previous to his three years at that school he coached at Millington. While at Oxford, his teams won eight games, lost 14 and tied three.

When he arrived at Oxford, the team hadn't won a game in three years and interest in football was meager. Only 35 candidates reported the first year. This fall 87 boys are expected to try for the team.

According to the letter in his application, Mr. Yedinak said that "from the record you have been putting out lately, I believe the type of boys you have is what I have been searching for." In another part of his letter he explained his football philosophy: "I eat, dream and talk football. I love the game, am a student of it, and I hate to lose. Some people say that winning isn't everything, which may be true, but I never go into a game or a season intending to lose... nor do the boys that."

At the close of the meeting, a few games were enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. Arthur Kelley, Mrs. Surtees and Mrs. Arthur Little. The door prize went to Mrs. Eva Spencer. Mrs. Frank Alward, Mrs. Wm. Anker and Mrs. Wm. McKinley served ice cream and cake.

Some sixty persons from the Thumb area of Michigan attended the annual picnic which this year was held in Tuscola County.

play for me. A loss only makes us work harder before the next game."

Mr. Yedinak received his B. S. degree from Central Michigan College and his M. S. from the University of Michigan.

He was the captain of the Central Michigan football team in 1949.

His first coaching job was at Millington where his teams won 11 games, lost six and tied one.

He graduated from Northern High School in Flint in 1942. He is married and has four children.

Home-coming Draws Crowds from Area

Lions Lose First Game of Season In Loop Play-offs

The Cass City Lions softball team suffered its first defeat of the season Tuesday when Caro Poultry Plant won a play-off game, 8-0.

The loss gave the Lions a 1-1 record in tournament play. They must remain undefeated the rest of the way to win the two-decade and out tourney.

Monday night the Lions easily defeated Booth's, 8-2, in the opening round of the tournament.

They were to have played Booth's again Thursday night. The loser will drop from competition.

Cass City lost little time salting away the Monday game. They staged a four-run fourth inning rally to take a 6-0 lead.

Elwyn Helwig pitched the first six innings and struck out 11. Jack Hool finished and whiffed two in the final frame.

The Lions collected nine hits while the losers connected for only three safeties.

Tuesday night the club fell apart. Seven walks, five errors and only one hit caused the damage in the 8-0 defeat. Caro Poultry scored five runs in the first two innings to settle the issue.

Plans Set for Tuscola County Fair

The biggest agricultural and festival show in the Thumb will open in Caro August 23 for six days of thrilling activity when the Tuscola County fair gets under way. Extensive plans have been made for the 1954 fair which is the 73rd consecutive farm exposition to be centered in the county seat. It is believed that the fair at Caro surpasses all fairs in northeastern Michigan in display of farm products and livestock by FFA, 4-H and other rural youth groups.

The Tuscola County fair offers all that is traditional in fairs and agricultural exhibits as the board members strive to keep the flavor of past expositions with improved methods of fair operations. Sparkling shows and a thrill packed midway have attracted persons in the past, but substantially, it is the pull of the farm exhibits, the crop and livestock displays, the competitive spirit of the judging that brings the interested farmers from the local and neighborhood counties.

The premium list for 1954 will top $7,000 and the policy of placing the premium money with each division head will be followed. Capable persons from all sections of the county have been drawn to head the various departments. Heading the two divisions in the department of cattle is Kenneth Parrish of Fairgrove. In this department are both dairy and beef cattle. Concluded on page 10.

For the fifth consecutive year sunny skies greeted throngs who gathered in Cass City for the Homecoming Thursday, Aug. 5, held at the Cass City Recreational Park. Visitors were entertained with a day-long series of events that started with the 4-H and FFA livestock show at 9 a. m. and was concluded with the dance that lasted until after midnight.

Jean Parish of the Fairgrove 4-H Club defeated Dick Donahue for the grand championship of the dairy division of the show, as her Jersey was judged superior to Dick's Holstein which was awarded the reserve championship.

In the junior Holstein calf division, Fred Martin, Bob Langmaid and Jim Reid received A ratings while Paul Beckett and Harland Wilson received B ratings.

In the Holstein senior calf division, Larry Merchant and Jack Laurie, of Gagetown, received A ratings while B awards went to Jack Gallagher, Dick Donahue and Delbert Law.

In the Holstein junior yearling class, Delbert Law, Larry Maharg and Janet McConkey received A ratings and Fred Martin a B rating.

Both entries in the senior yearling division, Dick Donahue and Ed McConkey, received A ratings.

In the two-year-old division, Larry Merchant and Dick Donahue received A ratings.

David Loomis received an A rating for his entry in the Holstein junior bull division.

Only two entries were in the Guernsey breed division of the show. Ed Profit and Jack Wallace each received A ratings for their entries. Ed Profit's entry was judged the grand champion of the Guernsey breed.

There were three entries in the Jersey division of the show. All were judged class A. Entered were Jean Parish and Bob Parish, both of Fairgrove, and Wilbert Goodall. Miss Parish had the grand champion Jersey and Bob the reserve champion.

Judge for the dairy division was Foster Hickey of Fairgrove. All entries are judged A, B or C and only a few exhibits were classified with a C rating.

In the Oxford class at the sheep show, Coulson Blair was the only entry. He received a B rating for one of his aged ewes. The rest of the sheep he entered were judged in the A class.

The A rating was given for his second aged ewe, two yearling ewes, two ewe lambs, aged ram, ram lamb and Oxford flock.

Annual Parade
Long before noon, when the annual parade was scheduled, cars lined both sides of Main Street to see the spectacle, always one of the most popular features of the Homecoming.

Led by the Cass City School Band, the parade included horseback riders, farm machinery, callopes, floats, new cars and a bicycle brigade.

Immediately following the parade, the band presented a concert and judges awarded prizes to children in the parade.

Every child entered received at least 25 cents. First prize of $5 went to the "Ma and Pa Kettle" float of Louie Horner, Sue Greenleaf, Geraldine Horner, Roberta Horner, Ronee Rabideau, Bobby Rabideau and Linda Brown.

Deemed second best by the judges was the "Snow White and Seven Dwarfs" float presented by Connie Muntz, Kay McCarthy, Sharon Monroe, Ellen McCarthy, Bobby Hartwick, Dave Smith, Chuck Hughes, Sally Geiger, Jim Golding, John Golding and Joe Hillaker. The group received $4 for its entry.

Awarded $3 and third place was the "Covered Wagon" float of Bernadine Zawilinski, Peter Zawilinski and Charlotte Pawlowski.

Vera and Earl Wright's portrayal of the "Gardeners" won fourth place in the opinion of the judges and a $2 prize.

Mark Abraham's "Clown and Dog" won fifth place and a $1. Concluded on page ten

Moore Tells of FHA Loans in County

Farm families in Tuscola and Huron counties have made good use of Farmers Home Administration credit and services this past year and have stepped up the efficiency of their farming operations. O. W. Moore, the agency's county supervisor headquartered at Caro, said this week.

Additional funds have been made available, he said, to lend through the next year to farmers to operate, buy, enlarge, or improve farms.

A large portion of the money loaned in these two counties during the past 12 months has been to veterans and other young farm families who are establishing better farm setups. Their greatest needs were for adequate credit and some help in developing sound systems of farming and adopting efficient farm management practices. No loans were made to farmers who were able to obtain the financing they needed from other local lenders.

A total of $62,875.00 was loaned in Tuscola County and $28,660.00 in Huron County for equipment, livestock, fertilizer, feed and seed, that farm families needed to make better use of their land and labor resources.

Farm Ownership and Housing loans amounted to $37,845.00, including direct loans from appropriated funds.

The county office of the Farmers Home Administration serving Tuscola and Huron Counties is located on the second floor of the State Savings Bank in Caro.

ALL IN THE FAMILY—Leslie Severance, right, showed the grand champion sheep at the Cass City FFA and 4-H Livestock Show at the Cass City Homecoming Thursday, Aug. 5. But Leslie didn't win without stiff competition from his brother, Arthur, left. Arthur's ram and Leslie's ewe went to the end of the judging before Leslie's entry was declared the grand champion.

My recipe for SEVEN-YOLK CHERRY CAKE ...

always successful in my

ELECTRIC RANGE

SEVEN-YOLK CHERRY CAKE

Time: 1 1/4 hours

Temp: 325° F.
3/4 cup shortening
3 cups cake flour, sifted
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups salt
1 cup shortening until soft. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Add to shortening. Add egg yolks, vanilla extract and one-half of the milk. Beat with electric mixer until flour is blended. Beat one minute. Add remaining milk. Blend in. Scrape down bowl and beaters. Beat two minutes. Add nuts and cherries. Blend in. Bake in 10-inch greased tube pan. Cool cake 10 minutes before removing from pan.

EVAPORATED-MILK FROSTING

1 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
Bring evaporated milk to a slight boil; cool thoroughly (about 15 minutes). Beat shortening and sugar until creamy. Add cooled milk gradually to creamed mixture, beating constantly. Beat until light and fluffy. Add flavoring and coloring. Frosting will be similar to recipes at your Editor's Office. Ask for other interesting recipes at your Editor's Office.

A little extra time means a lot to Mrs. Joseph Wilhelm. With her activities in local clubs ... making a home for her husband and their son Kenneth ... her day is full, but not too full for baking in her modern electric range. And do her friends love this cherry cake topped with creamy evaporated-milk frosting!

You have extra time when you cook with a modern electric range. That's because you don't have to be a "kitchen-sitter," at the beck-and-call of an old-fashioned range. Surface-unit and oven temperatures are scientifically controlled. There's no guesswork ... simply snap a switch to the exact heat needed and walk away. Good reason why you should change to electric cooking, now.

Dressed in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace, taffeta and nylon net, Barbara Jean Howarth became the bride of Jack R. Bird Saturday evening, August 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Cass City Methodist Church.

The Rev. Russell C. Striffler, Des Moines, Iowa, uncle of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Floyd Porter, pastor of the Cass City Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll C. Howarth of Cass City and the groom is the son of Mrs. Ethel Bird, also of Cass City.

The bodice of the bridal gown was lace over taffeta and featured wrist point lace sleeves and a high stand-up collar. The bride's finger-tip veil was held in place by a lace cap. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and ivy.

The church was decorated with lighted candelabra, palms and baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Floyd Porter of Cass City was organist and Miss Joan Pierce of North Adams sang "The Greatest of These is Love", "Calm As the Night" and "O Perfect Love".

Miss Carol Howarth, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, wearing a floor length bouffant, strapless gown of white nylon net over ice blue taffeta with a matching sweetheart headpiece. Her arm bouquet was of white daisies.

Wearing gowns identical in style and color to that of the maid of honor were Nancy Heron, Millersburg, and Beverly Bird, Cass City, sister of the groom, who acted as bridesmaids. Their headpieces and arm bouquets also matched those of the maid of honor.

The flower girls, Carol Jean Gorton, Grand Rapids, and June Ann Striffler, Des Moines, Iowa, both cousins of the bride, were dressed in white organdy over pink and yellow taffeta, respectively. They carried miniature cascade bouquets of pink and yellow carnations.

Douglas Bird, Cass City, brother of the groom, was the best man. Groomsmen were Ferris Ware of Cass City and James Schad of Caro. Lee Wittse of Lake Orion and Robert McEachern of Cass City, cousins of the bride and groom, respectively, seated the guests.

Mrs. Howarth chose a gray over pink taffeta dress with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Gilbert, Auburn Heights, wore a rose-colored suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Bird, the groom's mother, wore a teal blue jersey dress and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony.

The bride's going away dress was a navy fault suit with light blue accessories and a white corsage from the bridal bouquet. Their honeymoon will be a trip through northern Michigan. The newlyweds will reside at Alma.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Lake Orion, Pontiac, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Flint, Midland, North Adams, Milford, Auburn Heights, Sandusky, Caro, Tyre, Uby, Millersburg, Michigan, and Des Moines, Iowa.

Pre-nuptial showers were given for the bride by her college friends in East Lansing, her aunt, Mrs. Helen Fieblekorn, Lake Orion, and the groom's aunt, Mrs. Irwin Wehl, Essexville.

Tasks performed from a sense of duty are seldom done well.

State Crops Tour Friday, August 20

The annual Tuscola county crops tour has been scheduled for Friday, August 20, announced Quentin R. Ostrander, assistant county agricultural agent.

The tour will start at 10:00 o'clock on August 20 at the Gustave Petzold farm in Arbela township. The Petzold farm is located on Buell Road, one and one quarter miles north of Millington Road. Mr. Petzold has a field of sugar beets that were put in with once over tillage. Then part of the field was thinned by hand and part of it with a mechanical thinner. Mr. Petzold will have some interesting cost figures to give on his experiences for this year.

The second stop will be at the Wilmer Keinath farm on Barkley Road, one quarter mile north of Millington Road. This stop will show field plots comparing the new Palsgrove beet drill with the conventional drill.

The third stop will be at the Robert Kreuger farm, one half mile south and one mile west of Richville on Kreuger Road. This stop will show the use of a subsoiler in breaking up hard pan and hard plow-sole soil.

The noon stop will be at the Richville Park. Farmers attending the tour should bring their own lunch or plan to eat at one of the restaurants in Richville.

The first stop after lunch will be at 1:30 at the William Rogner farm, one mile west and one quarter mile north of Reese on Quanicasse Road. This stop will feature a field of beans showing extreme manganese deficiency.

The final stop will be at the Robert Aldrich farm on Vassar Road, one and one half miles south of M-81. This stop will show the results of once-over tillage on beets and corn.

Specialists from Michigan State College scheduled to attend the tour are Milton Erdmann, farm crops specialist, and Paul Rood, soils specialist.

The reformer often needs a change of people as much as the people need a change of reformer.

The truth which makes an intelligent man free is almost sure to make the four-flusher mad.

Here is a sample of a building constructed from plans developed by the Midwest Planning Service. The organization is made up of representatives from midwest agricultural colleges and it incorporates all of the newest practical ideas and research into its building plans. The plans are available at your county agricultural agent's office. This double corn crib has a total width of 16 feet with two six-foot cribs and a four-foot alleyway. A six-foot-wide crib is the maximum size recommended for Michigan. The building has 12-foot studs and is filled through the roof hatch. It is adapted for artificial drying of corn. Another similar plan available calls for an 11-foot driveway. Many other plans for corn cribs are available.

Green Pastures for Green Dollars

By Quentin R. Ostrander
Assistant County Agricultural Agent

Now is a good time to be getting those soil samples for this fall's wheat plantings or for fall pasture seedings.

There's an "if" to the value of soil samples for pasture cropland, points out Soil Scientist Paul J. Rood of Michigan State College. Samples must represent the field—or each different part, to be valuable. Reliable samples are taken from several locations and should represent the plow furrow area. Several samples are mixed well in a clean pail. A cupful of this mixture is enough for testing.

Farmers can use a 50-cent Soiltest kit developed at M. S. C. to test for lime needs, but the best bet is to take the soil sample to the county testing laboratory in the Farm Bureau office at the Farmers' Cooperative Elevator in Caro, where a complete test will be made for lime and fertilizer needs.

Soil sampling and testing pays off when hay or pasture seedings are made with wheat, oat or barley plantings. Tests show the amount and kind of fertilizer to provide for high grain yields and also feed the forages. Sampling again, in a year or two, will show if the sod crop is well-fed or undernourished. Again, the sample must be a true "cross-section" for value in getting vigorous, thrifty growth and high yields.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has some new evidence that close grazing or mowing of grass hurts the stand. The grass stand is especially apt to be hurt during drought or in late fall.

Experiments at the USDA's research center at Beltsville, Md., showed that taking off one half or more of the foliage during the growing season caused grass roots to stop growing for a time after each clipping. Warm season grasses were affected the same as cool season species.

When 40 per cent or less of the foliage was removed, however, root growth wasn't halted at all.

A single cutting that removed more than a half of the foliage stopped root growth from 6 to 18 days. Repeating these severe clippings periodically, as in a system of rotation grazing, prevented root growth of all grasses 26 to 45 days.

These experiments show that when roots of grasses stop growing, the plant is weakened and it's unable to stand up under erosion and grazing. And it's apt to be killed by drought, cold or disease.

The hit that's changing the sales standings puts you way ahead 3 ways

THIS year Buick has done what no other car has done in more than a generation.

This year Buick has moved into the lofty circle of America's three top sales leaders—a circle once dominated only by the so-called "low-price three." For today, Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation except two of these "low-price three." And each new month's sales figures strengthen Buick's new sales leadership.

You can't do better—if you want the best buy for your new-car money—than to look into the soaring success that is Buick today. You'll find this glamorous new-day beauty puts you way ahead in three important ways—that's for sure. So drop in on us—tomorrow at the latest—and see for yourself that Buick is the buy of the year, hands down.

1. More new car for your money

Buick prices start close to the lowest—just a few dollars above those of the traditional "low-price three." But those few more dollars for a Buick get you a lot more automobile—more room, more comfort, more V8 power, more ride steadiness, more solid durability—plus the advanced "tomorrow" styling that has taken the country by storm.

2. More money for your present car

With our great and growing sales volume, we can offer you a bigger trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. After all, the more new cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So you get the benefit of our great success in the form of a higher trade-in allowance.

3. More dollars when you trade

Because Buick's broad panoramic windshield has started a whole new styling trend, you can be sure that today's Buick will keep its modern look for years to come. So you are assured of a higher resale figure when you trade it in later on.

Come see for yourself why—

Buick Sales are Soaring!

Poor Quality Tile Is Bad Investment

Protect your investment in tile by buying tile only from approved tile manufacturers, advises Quentin R. Ostrander, Tuscola County assistant agricultural agent.

Poorly made concrete or clay tile soon crumbles and breaks after it has been put under ground.

To be listed as an approved tile manufacturer, the tile company must make tile which meets A. S. T. M. (American Standard Tests and Measurements) specifications.

Farmers installing tile for which they plan to receive cost-sharing payments from A. S. C. are required to use tile from approved manufacturers.

An up to date list of approved tile manufacturers is available at the county extension office, the S. C. S. office and the A. S. C. office.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

One of the world's most elaborate birthday parties is being planned to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Michigan State College.

"Centennial fever" is a common disease affecting faculty, students and staff. For nearly a year a special office has been laying groundwork for the impressive program which will last from February to December in 1955.

"If the education world doesn't become more conscious of Michigan State as an outstanding university, it will be because they are unable to observe the quality of work being done here in teaching, research and extension," says James H. Denison, chairman of the Centennial Committee.

And if everyone in the state doesn't hear about Michigan State College next year, it will be because reams of newspapers, hours of radio time, stacks of letters, and millions of words never reached an audience. "We expect about a half-million people more than usual to visit the campus during the celebration," states Alvie Smith, Centennial director.

There will be ample opportunity for both public and academic figures to become more familiar with the college. Nationally prominent people will be on hand to take part in various programs and conferences.

There is reason to believe that President Eisenhower will be the speaker at one of the most impressive attractions of the year. He is expected to be the honored guest at the October Convocation when college authorities are planning for 50,000 visitors.

President Theodore Roosevelt visited MSC back in 1905, when the institution was celebrating its 50th birthday, and college authorities would like to see the President come for the 100th birthday.

Along cultural lines, 10 symposiums are scheduled: one for each branch of the college. "Symposium" is a formal name for an organized ball session.

Special efforts have been made to attract leaders in each field so that significant discussions can take place. Subjects for the symposiums are: Agriculture, Engineering, Business and Public Service, Home Economics, Science and Arts, Veterinary Medicine and Experiments, Education, Communications, Continuing Education and Basic College.

Biggest attraction will be the Centennial Farm Mechanization. This event, which takes place in August, is expected to bring more than 200,000 people to the East Lansing campus.

Basic ingredients for the show are a gigantic display of modern farm machinery; demonstrations of important farm operations; exhibits, pageants and tours showing progress of the century in the farm world.

Immense plans for the program include specially constructed grandstands to seat 6,000; much cooperation with many state and national farm organizations.

An industrial exposition of significant scale will be held in May. Major manufacturers in many fields plan to exhibit their products.

Included will be automobiles of the future and the latest railroad trains. Chemical companies will demonstrate the newest wonders they have developed.

Numerous other programs in arts and sciences are scheduled during the year.

Six home football games in 1955 took several years' arranging. In 1954 only four games will be played in East Lansing. The Centennial year will see games with Notre Dame, Stanford, Illinois, Purdue, Minnesota and one opponent yet to be arranged.

A concentrated effort was made to secure the U of M game for East Lansing by MSC representatives but they report that university officials did not approve the idea, that the game will be played in Ann Arbor.

Official beginning of the Centennial observance will be Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday. This is considered appropriate because it was Lincoln who signed the Morrill Act which provided for the establishment of land-grant education institutions.

The opening ceremony will be called Founders' Day. It will be a "cap and gown" affair to which many of the outstanding educators of the world will be invited. A distinguished leader in education will be announced as speaker.

The entire program is controlled by a Centennial Committee made up of MSC administration people, students, alumni and citizens.

It is headed up by Jim Denison, executive assistant to President John A. Hannah.

There are special sub-committees to plan for the anticipated crowds. One for invitations, housing and food, awards and citations; even traffic.

When the celebration is complete, MSC officials hope they have demonstrated that the first 100 years were very productive; that the next century can bring even greater accomplishment.

POST-VACATION BLUES

It may be true that time is money—but usually a vacation is a little change.
