

From the Editor's Corner

When the Detroit Free Press sends a writer to cover the Christmas program in Cass City, the lady will be familiar to many persons in the village.

She is Miss Patricia Yaroch of Kinde, who spent six weeks working at the Chronicle as part of her training in journalism at Michigan State College.

She joined the staff at the Free Press after her graduation and has been doing a fine job since. Several of her stories have received front page by-lines in the paper.

An interesting set of figures was released this week in connection with the coming "Barnyard Economics" meetings in the Thumb.

The average machinery investment on Michigan commercial farms, the experts say, has increased from $1,600 in 1940 to $7,500 in 1954. For the same period the annual cost of owning and operating the machinery has increased from $344 to about $1,600.

In view of these facts, it seems to us that most farmers in the area should be interested in the topic, "Making Profitable Use of Machinery," to be discussed at the meetings.

Unemployment Checks Again on Weekly Basis

Payment of unemployment benefits in Michigan will be returned to the weekly payment basis effective December 1, Gerald O. DeBoer, branch manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office at Caro, announced today.

For the past 14 months, they have been paid biweekly.

"Reduction in the Michigan claims load by almost 100,000 weekly claims and the Caro claims load by 200 in the past eight weeks has reduced our work to the point where claimants will not be required to wait two weeks for a check, but may receive it weekly, if they are entitled to it," DeBoer said.

"Our peak claim load was during the week of September 23, when the in-Michigan claims numbered 200,907 and the Caro office had 544 compensable claims. During the week ending Thursday, November 11, they had dropped to 107,282, a net reduction of 93,625 for Michigan and Caro had dropped to 273. They are still dropping. This does not include the interstate claims, which also have shown marked decrease," DeBoer said.

Unemployment, too, has been dropping and DeBoer added that a net reduction of approximately 102,000 from 287,000 on September 15, was indicated by preliminary figures on a state-wide basis.

Starting Monday, November 22, all claimants will be given reporting days on a seven-day basis instead of a 14-day basis.

In Tuscola County

Farm Bureau Slates Membership Drive

A concentrated one-week drive for new members to meet the 1955 goal will be held next week by the Tuscola County Farm Bureau. The roll call drive is headed by Clark Montague and the following committee: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Monte, Fairgrove; Mr. and Mrs. John Koepf, Cass City; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Keimath, Millington. The group has made plans for the drive and has selected captains and workers from the various sections of the county.

A kickoff meeting has been planned for Monday, November 29, to be held at the VFW hall in Caro. The meeting of the captains and their teams has been called for 10 a. m. Following the morning business meeting, the group will enjoy a turkey dinner served by the VFW Ladies Auxiliary. The meeting will adjourn at 3:30 and the drive will get underway.

The present membership of the county group is 2,044 and the committee will seek to bring that total to 2,300. The memberships are founded through local community club groups, meeting monthly for the purpose of the discussion of current local, state and national issues. The policy of the Bureau is to have a well informed farm group. In Michigan there are at present 1,400 such community groups. Policies and suggestions made in the community groups are forwarded to the county Bureau and are voted on at the annual county meeting and then the resolutions from all the counties are compiled and, after debate, are either approved or rejected. If the resolution is of national importance, it is handled on a national level in a like manner. At the annual state meeting each county is represented by duly elected delegates on a ratio of one to every hundred members.

Boyne to Speak At 4-H Council

Four-H club leaders of Tuscola County will have the opportunity to hear one of the best young speakers of our time, David Boyne, Marietta, on Saturday evening, December 4, reports George C. MacQueen, county 4-H club agent. At this time the annual meeting of the Tuscola County 4-H council will be held at the Wilber 4-H Memorial Building at 8:00 p. m.

Prior to this a potluck supper will be held at 6:30 p. m. All 4-H leaders are requested to come and bring a dish to pass and their own utensils. This provides for a time for getting acquainted. The business meeting starting at 8:00 p. m. will be under the direction of Bruce Ruggles, Kingston, chairman.

Several items of business will be conducted about which all 4-H club leaders should be concerned.

Medical Auxiliary Names Committees

The Auxiliary to the Tuscola County Medical Society met at Murray Hall at Caro State Hospital Thursday, Nov. 18. In the business meeting of the auxiliary, new committees for the year were appointed by the president, Mrs. W. W. Dickerson. They are: nurse recruitment, Mrs. Robert Howlett of Caro; legislation, Mrs. L. L. Savage of Caro; today's health, Mrs. Donald Gilbert of Mayville, and public relations, Mrs. James Ballard of Cass City.

A Christmas workshop featured the meeting of the Cass City Home Demonstration Club Friday evening in the homemaker rooms of the high school. Miss Muriel Addison was in charge of the program and exhibited gifts, toys, ornaments and decorations for the holiday season and explained their construction. She also distributed patterns for the various articles. Miss Addison was assisted by Mrs. Mason Wilson.

After reading the Michigan Extension Women's Creed in unison, Mrs. O. Goertsen, chairman, conducted the business meeting.

Prior to the program of the evening, a luncheon was served at tables decorated with cornucopia.

Gruber Graduates From Army School

Son Cpl. Benjamin Gruber, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gruber, Route 3, Cass City, recently graduated from the 4th Infantry Division Medical Academy in Frankfurt, Germany. An aidman assigned to the medical detachment of the division's 4th

Although Donald Wurm, rear, didn't get a buck he was one of the fortunate few to bag a bear. The prize weighed about 100 pounds and was shot Friday in the upper peninsula near Paulding. Mr. Wurm reports that the bear was shot about 45 feet away and was killed with one shot. Mr. Wurm was hunting with Edward Mill of Sebewaing who is standing near his six-point, 165-pound deer he bagged Friday. Eugene Mill, front, is the only member of the hunting party that was blanked during the trip.

Erection Day is Dec. 11

Work Continues on Christmas Projects

Work on the Christmas display projects in the village has been increasing in intensity as members of both men's and women's service clubs, home owners and individuals have been spending long hours to have their work done in time for the erection date, Saturday, Dec. 11, set by the Chamber of Commerce.

Several persons have indicated that they will have their trees sprayed free of charge by the Chamber of Commerce to help brighten the town for the Yule season.

The equipment for lighting the outdoor tree and the price of the tree will cost home owners about $13 if they have no lights, wires or other equipment now. The trees must be purchased by Dec. 2 for the Chamber of Commerce to paint them.

A long step forward will be taken this Sunday if the expected cooperation from citizens in the village materializes. At that time a breakfast, followed by a work day, is expected to accomplish much of the work that remains to be done by the village at large.

Pageant Plans. Meanwhile, various directors of the Christmas Pageant report that plans are progressing nicely for the event that will be held Dec. 19 and 22.

Groups have been working steadily to prepare for a dress rehearsal when daily papers have indicated that they will be on hand for pictures and stories of this year's feature event.

Buck Luck

Editor's Note: Hunters are asked to report their success to the Chronicle so that all names can be published in this column.

Largest buck reported shot so far this year was killed near Deford. Joe Wilks, R 3, Cass City, bagged a 186-pound deer in the game area west of Deford Tuesday morning. He killed the deer at the run at a distance of 122 paces with an old single shot 12-gauge shotgun. The slug entered the head between the eyes and antlers and the deer dropped immediately.

Dan Lukasavitz shot a 150-pound spikehorn near Watrousville Monday morning.

Dick Auslander dropped an eight-pointer near Corns Monday, Nov. 15, at 8:15 a. m. The deer was Mr. Auslander's second in two years of hunting.

Farmers Home Administration

Emergency Loan Program Clarified

Tuscola County is one of 13 Michigan counties designated by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson as an area where eligible farmers, whose crops suffered serious losses because of excessive September rainfall, can obtain emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration. Details of the loan program was explained by O. W. Moore today.

The counties designated are Arenac, Bay, Gratiot, Huron, Isabella, Macomb, Midland, Montcalm, Saginaw, Sanilac, Shiawassee, St. Clair and Tuscola.

Any established farm owner or farm operator in a designated county, whose beans, sugar beets or other crops were damaged by the excessive rains, and who is unable to obtain from other lenders the credit needed to continue normal operations may be eligible for a loan.

Applications are made at the county office of the Farmers Home Administration serving the county. The office for Tuscola County is located on the second floor of the State Savings Bank Building, Caro, over the Abstract Office. Eligibility of applicants is determined by the local county committee of the Farmers Home Administration. This committee is composed of men familiar with local conditions. Committeemen for Tuscola County are Gustave Haas of Mayville and Harry Russell of Gageton.

These loans may be used for the purchase of seed, fertilizer and for other essential farm and home operating expenses, but may not be used to pay existing debts. Ordinarily emergency loans to meet current operating and living expenses are expected to be repaid out of the year's income. Amounts advanced for crop production purposes are repayable when the income from the crops produced with the loans is received. No loan is made unless it appears that the applicant has reasonable prospects for success.

For each loan made, the Government obtains the best security available including a first lien on all crops to be produced with the loan.

While emergency loans cannot be used to refinance existing debts, the loans can include funds to pay for the annual depreciation on chattels serving as security for prior loans.

Chris Krug, 63, Severely Injured In Fall Tuesday

Chris Krug, 63, Cass City area farmer, was severely injured Tuesday night when he fell down the cellar steps of his farm home.

Mr. Krug suffered a fractured dislocation of the neck and cuts and bruises on the face and neck. Wednesday morning he seemed to be recovering. Dr. J. H. Ballard, who treated Mr. Krug, said that he believes that the neck has been put in place.

X-rays were to be taken Wednesday to determine if the efforts were successful. The physician said that the injury places a severe strain on the spinal cord. Mr. Krug was placed in a cast from the head to the hips to keep from aggravating the injury.

The accident occurred when Mr. Krug was entering his home after dark, about 9 p. m. The house is constructed so that the cellar steps are on a direct line with the door leading to the outside. To enter the kitchen persons must turn. Evidently, when Mr. Krug entered the house, he went too far and fell down the steps.

The accident was the second major catastrophe for the family. It was just a little over a year ago that the Krug home was completely demolished by fire.

Hear Four Cases in Tuscola Circuit Court

Four cases were heard Tuesday in circuit court in Caro before Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

Mrs. Alice Schwalm was granted temporary alimony of $60 weekly and $100 attorney's fees was ordered paid by Fred I. Schwalm.

The court ruled that Patrick Langley had no cause for action in his suit against Everett Bone for damages for personal injury. Mr. Langley lost two fingers in an accident with a corn chopper while working on the Bone farm.

Dorothy Stranel was granted temporary alimony of $20 weekly from Donald Stranel. Mr. Stranel was ordered to pay $30 for witnesses in the case and to turn over a postal savings bond, in Mrs. Stranel's name, to Mrs. Stranel.

Mrs. Leona Stacks Bolzman was granted a divorce from Clarence Bolzman. One dollar was granted in lieu of dower.

Clara Named to League All-star Football Squad

Jack Clara was named to the official Thumb "B" League all-star team Monday when league coaches met at Marietta to pick the mythical honor team.

Clara was the only member of the Cass City squad to be honored on the first team. However, Jerry Little was named to a line position on the second team and Jim Ellis received honorable mention for his work at end.

The coaches were unable to bring the first team down to 11 players. Balloting was so close that the prexy chose a 12-man team.

The squad includes the standard number of linemen and five backs.

Bad Axe, the league champions, dominated the selections with three men on the first team, followed by Crosswell-Lexington, Sandusky and Caro with two men each on the team. Only Marlette failed to place a man on the all-star squad.

The complete team: Bill Spezia, Crosswell-Lexington, and Al Downing, Caro, ends; Ken Franzel, Sandusky, Jack Gage, Bad Axe, Dwayne Farnham, Vassar, Gary Macklem, Crosswell-Lexington, and Larry Essenmacher, Bad Axe, linemen; and Bob Case, Bad Axe, Jack Clara, Cass City, Bruce Wieland, Caro, Paul Gear, Yale, and Jim Bennett, Sandusky, backs.

I WILL be at the Pinney Bank Wednesdays; at the Cass City Bank Fridays, beginning Dec. 3. If taxes are paid by check, include stamped envelope for return receipt. E. I. Croft, treas., Elkland Township.—Adv. 11.

Charge Vassarite With Manslaughter

Wayne Stevens, 23, of Vassar will face a charge of manslaughter in a fatal automobile accident in Vassar, when a young girl was killed in a car he was driving.

According to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department, Stevens has been released on a $500 bond. He will be arraigned at a later date.

In a justice court case this week, Max L. Bradford, 26, of Pontiac was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay costs of $10.15 by Justice Ruth Tennant.

Feed 60 Per Cent Of All Egg Costs

Know how much it costs for feed to produce a dozen of eggs? You should, if you're a poultryman, contends Alfred P. Ballweg, Tuscola County agricultural agent. He notes that 60 per cent of the cost of egg production comes from feed.
 J. M. (Mac) Moore, Michigan State College extension poultryman, says that not knowing the cost of production is the weakest link in Michigan's poultry business.
 If poultrymen would watch their cost per dozen of eggs, he asserts, they would be in position to do something to better their flocks.
 Feed cost records would show whether he has good conversion of feed into eggs. Moore says the present squeeze on egg producers was caused by increased egg production this year. Last year the hens in the U. S. produced 400 eggs for every man, woman and child. This year the same people will have 412 to eat.
 The Institute of American Poultry Industries estimates this slight production increase has cut prices of eggs more than 12 cents a dozen this year.
 Poultrymen who aren't making profits this year will plan on replacing their flock next year, Moore adds. They will look for hens that give good feed conversion, that produce eggs without blood and meat spots and have high laying house livability.

SHORT STORY

Sweet Tooth

By Ona F. Lathrop

I HAD noticed him from the very first day he came in as he guided his tray down the chromium slide at the cafeteria. He was a funny little old guy in a too-long coat and pants that didn't match, and he had a queer shuffling gait which was caused by his feet being encased in a pair of rubbers but no shoes or socks. I checked off his items each day with growing curiosity. Always he had two or three kinds of dessert and not much else. "You must have a sweet tooth," I joshed him once.

"Yeah, I get hungry for the pies and cakes my wife used to make," he grinned. We called him Dinty because he looked like a comic character. Then he began picking up the tickets. Our cafeteria has a bakery up front and with every purchase they give you an orange ticket. When you get fifty, you can get a free cake. (Dinty walked around picking up all the ones that people didn't take or dropped accidentally.) He even scoured the restrooms and picked up the ones people left on the tables. Al Jordan, the manager, didn't like that.

"Dinty, I'll give you a free cake if you'll let people alone. I don't like you bothering my customers."

Dinty grinned his impish little grin as he thanked Al for the cake and went scurrying out. But the next day he was back again, picking up the tickets. He didn't ask people for theirs any more, so there wasn't much Al could do about it, but he watched like a bright-eye bird of prey and pounced on each ticket any one dropped. And at last he had the necessary fifty.

"I get me a free cake today," he told me, proudly waving his sheaf of tickets as he came down the line with pie, ice cream, and a french pastry on his tray. But the next day Dinty didn't show up. Nor the next, nor the next. We began to worry. "Anybody know what Dinty's right name is, or where he lives?" Al asked one day. Nobody did.

And then one day we ran an ad on the new sugar-free desserts we were making in the baked-goods department, using this new sugar substitute. And a little old grey-haired lady came in. She was beautifully dressed and you could tell she had wealth. I was up front that day, helping wait on the rush of customers, and she fell to me.

"Are you sure this wouldn't hurt people not supposed to have real sugar?" she asked. "Because my husband is craving dessert, but he's been very sick and the doctor wouldn't let him have any." I peered at her, putting two and two together. "Is your husband a little man with— with—" She smiled and finished the sentence for me. "With a funny little shuffle because he always wore only rubbers on his feet? Did he used to come here to get all these desserts which made him sick? So that's where he got them! I wouldn't make another pie or cake after the doctor said he had diabetes, but he sneaked out in old clothes and just his rubbers so I wouldn't hear him, and got them some place until he had to go to the hospital."

I eyed her good mink fur-piece and her well-tailored suit and I wanted to ask another question, but she forestalled it. "Yes, I know. I only let him have a very small amount of change each day, for fear he would buy sweets with it. But he fooled me. He even got a couple of free cakes some place, he confessed, and ate them all by himself before he came home. He said if they didn't give him a stomach-ache, what else could it hurt? But he found out. And now that he's home again, I'll watch him more closely. We'll be going to Florida next week for the winter. I hope this will satisfy his sweet tooth for a while." And she smiled and hurried out.

The man who expects to win in the long run often runs out of breath before he reaches his goal.

CARS ARE MY Line

By H. M. Bulen

Most of us let the garageman take out the dip stick from the engine block, wipe it off and put it back in again to check the oil level. It's a messy job and an easy way to mark up a clean white shirt.

I usually "leave it to George" too, but in looking over a used car, the oil on the dip stick and the dip stick itself can tell you a lot about what the car looks like inside.

Here's one simple test that's effective; wipe the oil off the dip stick (after getting your shirt sleeves out of the way) and notice if the surface of the stick is pock-marked or etched on the part that is normally below the surface of the oil.

If it is, that's a sign of acid. Most fuels contain a trace of acid and if the engine is running cold, or a cylinder is missing, unburned fuel, with this acid, makes its way into the crankcase and will eventually attack polished steel surfaces, such as the crankshaft journals, the cams, the links and pins in the timing chain—and, of course, the dip stick.

And while we're about it, this is the time to point out the importance of changing oil frequently. This acid action against the car's vital insides is the penalty of letting old oil work its worst against your engine.

I've already mentioned the trick of watching for blue smoke from the exhaust (blue, not black or gray) that is another easy trick for sizing up a car.

These are some of the simple tests anyone can perform when shopping around for a used car. Before a car comes to our lot, of course, trained people make sure that it's a good buy for the owner to whom we'll pass it on.

But while you're shopping around, we want you to satisfy yourself about the car you're looking at. Look it over, have the kids jump up and down on the seats if you want, then take it out for a test drive.

McAleer Speaks to Rotarians Tuesday

Donald McAleer, Cass City, told members of the Cass City Rotary Club of the juvenile delinquency problem in this country in an address Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Mr. McAleer spent 30 years in the Detroit school system dealing with the delinquency problem. He related some of his experiences and said that Cass City had no juvenile delinquency problem as the term is known in the city.

In the business meeting, M. B. Auten was appointed to a committee to secure singers from the club to help in the Christmas pageant.

James Bauer asked the members to cooperate on the Sunday work day by attending the breakfast and helping with the various projects scheduled for the day.

Thanksgiving 1954

Thanksgiving means many things to many people. To some, it simply means a holiday with a big meal that breaks a little from a monotonous week.

Others regard it as an occasion for prayer and thanksgiving. Those who solemnize the occasion are following in the footsteps of our forefathers who used the day to count their blessings 333 years ago when the Plymouth colonists set aside the day for "feasting and prayer."

Americans today have a great deal more to give thanks for than those early colonists who were thankful to be alive and have enough to eat.

We hope that you have observed this Thanksgiving in the spirit for which the day was intended when it was originated in early colonial times.

Jane Agnes Goslin Wed Saturday

Jane Agnes Goslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Goslin, was married Saturday morning at 11 a. m. in St. Agatha Church to Achin Pozolescu, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Achin Pozolescu, Sr., of Detroit. Rev. Glenn Cronkite officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace over white satin with a fitted bodice, round neckline and long sleeves. A small cap of seed pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid.

Mrs. Harold Goslin of Unionville, her sister-in-law, was bridesmaid and wore a floor-length coral lace dress with matching headband and carried a bouquet of white mums.

Harold Goslin, brother of the bride, was best man.

A wedding dinner for fifty was served in St. Agatha parish hall. A reception in the late afternoon was held in the Veteran's Hall in Unionville, where 200 persons were in attendance.

The newlyweds went to Chicago on a wedding trip. For the trip the new Mrs. Pozolescu wore a blue-gray suit with dark accessories. They will make their home in Detroit.

Guests came from Detroit, Bay City, Wayne, Bad Axe, Port Austin and Pigeon.

Lois Little Wed In Local Church

Salem Evangelical U. B. Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding Saturday evening, when, at seven o'clock, Rev. S. R. Wurtz, the pastor, officiated at the double-ring candlelight service which united in marriage Miss Lois Eleanor Little and Mr. Donald E. Roberts. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Little and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roberts of Snover are the parents of the groom.

Potted palms, tall baskets of white chrysanthemums and candelabra decorated the church for the rites.

The bride invited to be her attendants, Mrs. Harold Lawson of Dearborn, sister of the bridegroom, who was matron of honor and Miss Patricia McGarry, Bruce A. Little, brother of the bride, performed the duties of best man and Richard Rinlet of Argyle was the other groomsmen.

Mrs. Paul Craig of Caro, aunt of the bride, registered the 160 guests who were seated by Dale Damm and Mr. Rinlet.

Vocalist for the affair was Robert M. Milner of Adrian, uncle of the bride, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." His accompanist was his daughter, Miss Mary Jane Milner. A prelude of wedding music and the wedding marches were played by Mrs. Stanley Kirn.

The bride who approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, chose a ballerina-length white gown of Chantilly lace over satin. It featured a portrait neckline with a tulle yoke and lace Queen Anne collar. The bouffant skirt of lace was scalloped down the front with a pleated tulle insert to form a redingote. A tiara of pearls and sequins held in place her lace edged fingertip veil of silk illusion. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

For "something old and something blue," she carried a handkerchief which had been in the family for 36 years. Of blue silk and lace edged, it was sent home from France by her father in 1918. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet. Garnet red roses centered the arrangement, the rest of which were white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lawson and Miss McGarry wore net and taffeta gowns of pink and blue, respectively. Their headpieces of shattered carnations matched their dresses and their colonial bouquets were of carnations in colors to match their dresses.

The bride's mother chose a teal blue dress with winter white accessories. Mrs. Roberts wore a blue dress with white accents and navy blue accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink carnations.

A reception in the social rooms of the church followed the ceremony. Refreshments were served, including a beautiful wedding cake which was served by Mrs. Alva McNeil of Caro, aunt of the bride.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The newlyweds returned to Cass City this week from a trip to Niagara Falls and are making their home at 23765 Lawrence Ave., Vanddyke, Michigan.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

When politicians took a fresh look at Michigan's new state government this week they wondered when the rolling pins would start to fly.

For the first time since 1937, the administration will be Democratic from top to bottom, giving Gov. Williams his long-sought "team" on the State Administrative Board.

Williams was overjoyed at the thought. Republicans were disappointed, but thoughtful.

Republican leaders in the legislature already are planning to expand their House and Senate staffs to do work they previously could count on from state officers.

"It's too tempting for a Democrat in state office to do what Williams wants and forget the legislature," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

Best bet is that the auditing staff of Comptroller C. J. McNeil will be increased and an informal "watchdog" committee will be created for the legislature.

At the same time, Republicans are leaning toward giving Williams what he wants in the way of legislation this winter and letting him live with the record.

He has earned the right to have to explain himself, said one GOP leader. He will have no one to criticize but himself.

The Senate also is ready to confirm 38 holdover appointments they ignored last year in the hope of putting the posts at the disposal of a Republican governor.

Helmsmen in the Senate predict that the 38 will be brought out on the floor and confirmed quickly in the 1955 session and 32 others appointed since last spring will also get the nod.

Republicans are itching to see what Williams does with his "cabinet," a handful of comparative unknowns who have only limited experience in government.

"Now instead of blasting a Republican every time things don't go as he wants, Williams will have to be a leader," said one Republican.

Law enforcement officers over the state are jumping at what they consider a mandate to chase charitable bingo out of their counties.

The Nov. 2 election turned down a proposed constitutional amendment which would permit the legislature to legalize lotteries for non-profit charitable organizations. The vote was close, however.

In Oakland County, Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem has ordered a stop to bingo games, which have been running openly in defiance of an unenforced state law for years.

It's the same in many other parts of the state and more crackdowns are expected every day.

Now that election day is history, Senator Clyde W. Geerlings (R-Holland) is going to move along with reconfiguration of the election code and proposals for some major changes.

"I didn't want to get started before the election on anything that would confuse the voters," he said.

Working with Geerlings are several of the top elections experts in the state. The changes, however, will have to clear the legislature before they go on the books as laws.

Republicans in state offices still are snipping at Democrats and probably will until Dec. 31 when they clean out their desks and bid adieu to state government.

Aud. Gen. John E. Martin, who spent the fall digging into the insurance department with embarrassing results, has taken off on the Democratic-controlled Liquor Control Commission.

He said that up to 3,000 cases of liquor are turned loose as gifts every year by the commission. This figures out to 60,000 bottles. "This is too good a thing to call samples," he said.

Commission executives say that Martin is exaggerating the situation, that liquor salesmen and vendors are permitted only a restricted amount to distribute each year.

Martin asked one embarrassing question, however: How many of the "samples" are going to politicians?

Latest attempts to relieve the overcrowding in Michigan prisons came when the corrections commission decided to take over the abandoned tuberculosis hospital at Pinecrest, near Kalamazoo.

The hospital, when fitted out like a prison, will house another 100-inmates—joining a long list of make-do installations that have been built or remodeled in the past year.

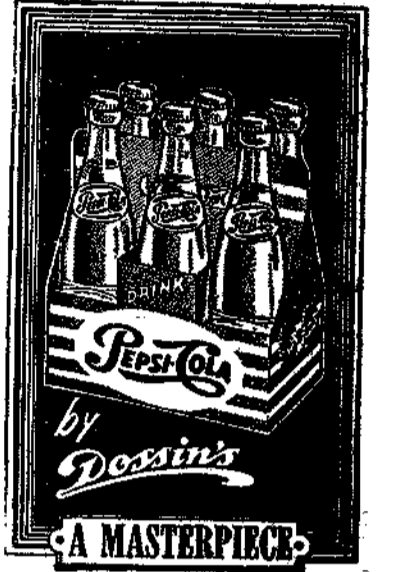

Corrections Director Gus Harrison, with commission approval, has rebuilt and expanded one prison work camp, built six more cottages for youthful offenders at Cassidy Lake Training School, a new 100-man barracks at Jackson State Prison, started work on a 150-man dormitory at Ionia State Reformatory. But to keep the prisons from overflowing, he has juggled inmates from here to there, taking advantage of every possible cell.

Laws Cover Sale Of Yule Trees

Movement and sale of Christmas trees and evergreen boughs, estimated to be a $5 million annual business in Michigan, will soon start, and the Michigan Department of Agriculture will establish road blocks on various highways in the state to assure that plant industry laws are complied with.

A person, buying trees or boughs from the original owner, must obtain a legal bill of sale made on triplicate forms available from Conservation officers, State Police, sheriff's offices, county agricultural agents or from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Purchases of trees or boughs from a person who is not the original owner must be accompanied by a bill of sale giving only the names and addresses of the buyer and seller and the number and kinds of trees or boughs.

Persons not the original owners such as brokers, truckers, sales lot operators or anyone buying or selling trees must keep for two years the bills of sale, which must be shown upon the request of any enforcement officer.

Property owners may transport Christmas trees or evergreen boughs from their own property without a bill of sale providing they can prove ownership of such property. Persons transporting less than six trees are exempt.

Be sure to test out the phenomenal effect of "variable pitch propellers" in Dynaflo Drive!

So Buick engineers asked themselves—"If you can do it with air, why can't you do it with oil—the oil inside a Dynaflo Drive?"

And to make a long story short—they could, and they did.

They designed and engineered the propeller-like blades inside the "stator" of a Dynaflo Drive so they can change their pitch as much as 75 degrees.

That provides one setting for more miles-per-gallon, and another for an instant safety-surge of power when it's needed.

Allyou have to do is push the accelerator pedal down to the last half-inch beyond the full throttle position—and a-way you go!

Of course, there's a lot more to make a visit to our showrooms the "must" of the new-car year.

There's a step-up in styling as sensational as the step-up in power.

And the step-up in horsepower is this: 236 in the ROADMASTER, SUPER and CENTURY—188 in the low-priced SPECIAL.

But the thrill of the year is Buick's latest engineering "first"—and what it does for the man or woman who drives the latest and greatest Dynaflo Drive.

Pay-off on progress!
Buicks today go a lot farther on a gallon of gas, thanks to constant improvement in Dynaflo and in engine design. Even the new 236-hp ROADMASTER averages 4.8 more miles per gallon than Buicks of six years ago.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Barnyard Economics Meeting Scheduled In Caro Dec. 10

"More profit from farm machinery and home equipment" is the general theme of one of the more outstanding meetings to be held in Tuscola County this winter. But, this is only a part of what is in store for you. The income tax law has 14 new changes which apply to farm people and these will be reviewed. Social Security for the first time is reaching into just about every farm home in the county and this will be discussed. Keeping farm earnings up during 1955 is also on the special menu.

This outstanding program of interest to every farmer and farm wife is scheduled for December 10 at 1:30 p. m. in the courthouse in Caro, according to assistant county agricultural agent, Quentin R. Ostrander, and home demonstration agent, Jean E. Gillies. Farm management specialist James Nielson of Michigan State College is working with the county extension office on this event and will be present to participate in the program. Much local flavor will be added because two successful Tuscola County farmers and two successful homemakers will be on the program to round out the meeting.

Farmers and farm wives who have attended this meeting in previous years have reported it to be one of the best. A completely new program is in store for you. It will be presented in a most interesting manner. Motion picture film will be shown. A display board showing farm facts illuminated with flood lights will be used. A panel discussion featuring farmers and a farm wife will be presented as a special treat. There will be an opportunity for questions from the audience.

The entire program has been built around items of greatest interest to farmers and their wives today. Farm machinery is one of the largest expense items on many of our farms now so it is an especially worthy subject to discuss in view of what appears to be ahead for farmers. A similar situation occurs in the home where we have had a tremendous increase in all types of home equipment.

This meeting should be a must for everyone. Bring the whole family. Bring your neighbor and his wife. Just in case you don't remember everything presented, there will be a number of handouts so that you can take them home and review what was said.

Self-preservation is the first law of nature, but many folks act as if it were the only one.

Laugh a little every day—it is the straight road to the best there is in life.
