

Busy Three Days In Tuscola Circuit Court This Week

Circuit Court convened in Caro for three days this week with Judge Timothy C. Quinn presiding on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lawrence Howard Richard, Jr., of Caro was charged with indecent liberties Monday. He asked the court to appoint an attorney in his defense.

When brought back to trial Tuesday, the court had appointed James Epskamp to defend him and Richard pleaded not guilty to the charge.

He was reprimanded to the custody of the sheriff to await trial and a bond of $500 in cash was set.

The Richard trial was the only criminal case on the docket this week. Other cases included divorce actions and suits for damages.

Lester Chambers was found guilty of contempt for failure to pay alimony. Judge Quinn suspended his sentence on his promise to pay $40 and continue with regular weekly alimony payments. He is to pay $5 more weekly when his salary reaches $80 weekly.

Edith Brinkman was granted a divorce from Stanley Brinkman. Custody of minor children was awarded to Mrs. Brinkman.

Clarence R. Gall received a judgment for $195.72 from Leonard Armbruster. Costs were not allowed by the court.

Mrs. Dorothy M. Knowles was granted a divorce from Clayton E. Knowles. Alimony was set at $10 weekly for a minor boy and $10 weekly for a minor girl. However, alimony for the girl will be paid only until Jan. 15, 1956, or until the girl leaves school.

A divorce decree was modified for Floyd Hornby. Alimony was reduced from $25 to $20 weekly. The court ordered that he pay $5 more weekly until back alimony is paid.

Little's Funeral Home is seeking a judgment from Mrs. Lillian Hartwick of Deford for $561.48 for money due from funeral expenses incurred in the burial of Mrs. Hartwick's husband, Edwin J. Hartwick.

The dispute was taken to the court because Mr. Little alleges that Mrs. Hartwick told him that burial expenses were available from the estate, which included numerous cattle.

He told the court that Mrs. Hartwick mentioned the cattle, along with other property, at the time burial arrangements were made.

Mrs. Hartwick said that the cattle were not part of the estate and belonged to her personally and that all money would have to come from the estate, which is insufficient to pay the bill.

Mrs. Hartwick has sold the cattle she said belonged to her. Judge Quinn has taken the case under advisement.

Long Hunt Ends for Sheriff's Department

A long investigation and search ended Thursday, Jan. 20, when Deputy Clarence Schroeder arrested Laverne Wier, 30, and Robert Deeds, 28, on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

The arrest stemmed from a crime committed July 13 in Richville when the post office and grocery store building owned by George Moser was entered.

The Tuscola Sheriff's Department looked for the two accused persons all over the state. Trips were taken to Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Howell, Lowell, Lansing, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Pontiac, Toledo and Thessalon, Ont., before the pair was apprehended in Flint.

Both Wier and Deeds waived examination and were bound over Monday to circuit court for trial. Bail was set at $1,000.

Irl Baguley Explains Zoning of Townships

New License System in Effect Monday in State

Tuscola County Sheriff William Tomlinson and Vernon Everett, examiner, today issued reminders of the law governing the issuance of drivers' licenses on and after Monday, Jan. 31.

Under the new system of permanent license numbers, drivers applying for their first license will be required to submit a birth record when obtainable. If not available, records from school may be substituted, Tomlinson said.

If you are under 18 and desire a license, you must have the application signed by your father, if he has legal custody, or by such other person who has been appointed legal guardian.

However, when distance makes it impractical for the father to appear, a notarized statement can be substituted, the department said.

All first licenses issued in Michigan will cost the applicant a fee of $3.

The department also reminded drivers of the law in effect that says all licenses showing an expiration date on or after Oct. 2, 1953, and before Oct. 2, 1956, are valid until the driver's next birthday after the expiration as shown on the license.

State Aid Checks
Total $227,666.64
For Schools

Checks totaling $227,666.64 have been sent to schools in Tuscola County this week for money due districts from state aid funds.

Cass City Schools received $85,254. Other Elkland Township districts received the following amounts: number one fractional, $157; number three fractional, $88; number four, $471, and number six fractional, $301.

Ellington Township districts received the following amounts: number one, $604; number two fractional, $478; number three fractional, $557, and number four, $372.

Elmwood Township: number one fractional, $222; number three fractional (Gagetown School), $8,184; number four fractional, $98.48, and number six fractional, $96.70.

The newly organized Deford Community School received $5,989.

Council Asks for Bids for Addition

The Cass City Village Council this week is asking for sealed bids for constructing the addition to the sewage treatment works in the village.

Bids are to be submitted to the village office and will be opened and read Thursday, Feb. 24, at 2 p. m.

Complete details of the proposed addition appear in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Chronicle.

Campaign Set for Feb. 10-19

Area to Promote Dairy Foods Festival

Through the help of the Cooperative Extension offices, the Thumb area is gearing to promote the Michigan Dairy Foods Festival, officially set for Feb. 10-19.

The festival will be aimed at increased merchandising and advertising at the point of sale to stimulate the sale of dairy products.

The extension office pointed out that, on the basis of the 1950 census, 25 per cent of the total agricultural income of Tuscola County came from the sale of dairy products. The festival promotion, authorities feel, is one of the big steps in eliminating surpluses and improving the overall position of the dairy farmer.

The American Dairy Association is furnishing advertising packets to be distributed to all of Irl Baguley, director of social welfare for Tuscola County and former supervisor of Indianfields Township, told members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday the steps necessary for zoning of a township.

Speaking at the New Gordon Hotel, Mr. Baguley said that because of changing social conditions and expanding populations, zoning of townships should be started at once.

Mr. Baguley was secured as the Rotary guest speaker by Village President James Bauer who told members that he had been investigating the feasibility of zoning Elkland Township.

Major steps in zoning a township, Mr. Baguley said, were the appointing of a zoning body, the approval of the township board and a survey by an outside agency.

The zoning body, appointed by the township board, is composed of four to seven members and its duty is to study the area to be zoned and divide it into proper categories . . . residential, farm, industrial or commercial.

After this work has been done, the township board is required to okay the plan and then hold a hearing for complaints from affected residents.

After the hearing, the plan is sent to the outside agency, usually the county board of supervisors. The supervisors study the plan to see that it does not conflict with laws and property in other townships, Mr. Baguley said.

After the county board's approval, the plan can either be decided by a vote or passed by resolution of the township board.

The purpose of zoning is to protect property, Mr. Baguley said. Without zoning, it is impossible for a person who has erected a $25,000 home from stopping a business from starting next door and devaluing residential property.

Mr. Baguley also added that a township could be partially zoned to take care of areas that are considered critical.

First Traffic Death Recorded in County

Delbert E. Menzel of Unionville was the first person to be killed in Tuscola County this year in a traffic accident.

He was killed when he collided with a car driven by Sheila Gates on M-25, one and a half miles north of Unionville.

Injured in the accident were Miss Gates, Linda Ipsen, 17, and Carol Anderson, 20, all of Detroit. They will recover.

According to Miss Gates, she was headed north on M-25 when the car driven by Mr. Menzel pulled into her lane of the pavement and they collided head-on. She said that was the last she remembered about the accident.

Mr. Menzel leaves a wife, Lorene, and a small son, Randall, 8 years old.

New Lions Club
Formed at Richville

A new Lions Club was organized Friday evening, Jan. 21, at Richville and is the first service organization to be chartered in that community. This will make a total of five Lions Clubs in Tuscola County. The other clubs are Caro, Vassar, Kingston and Cass City. Cass City and Kingston were formed in 1954.

The Frankmuner Lions Club will receive credit from Lions International for this new club at Richville, for it was formed.

PROJECT COMPLETED — Many hours of enjoyment are in store for the patients at the County Farm. The project to buy a television set for the second floor of the hospital was completed when a committee of home demonstration members went shopping recently and chose a model to be installed. Mrs. Donald Colling, Mrs. Charles Witkovsky and Miss Jean Gillies, home demonstration agent, made the selection.

Money for this project came from donations made by the thirty-one home demonstration groups throughout the county. The Cass City Woman's Study Club, the Caro Versatile Club and several individuals also made contributions.

From the Editor's Corner

Nearly everyone today knows how inaccurate an eyewitness report can be, but seldom does a report cause as much trouble or be as grossly inaccurate as the report given to police Wednesday afternoon.

Sheriff William Tomlinson left Wednesday afternoon to take Don Budreau to Jackson prison to serve a term imposed by the court.

About an hour after he left, an unidentified witness drove into a gas station and said that he saw the prisoner beating up the sheriff and making his escape on M-13, about 10 miles west of Chlo.

Immediately law enforcement bodies were called into action. Police blockades were established at Flint, Lansing, Saginaw and other surrounding points. State Police from posts as far away as Bad Axe were pressed into service to apprehend the fugitive.

Phones in the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department started to ring as the United Press, Associated Press, International News Service, Bay City, Saginaw and Port Huron papers called to get the news.

It all started at about 2 p. m. and was over at 3 p. m. At that time, Sheriff Tomlinson reported at Jackson with his prisoner and told worried officials that the only part of the report of the witness that was true was that he had a temporary breakdown at the spot indicated by the witness.

Volunteers Form
February Draft
Quota for County

Four volunteers form the February draft quota from Tuscola County, it was announced this week by members of the Selective Service Board at Caro.

The men will report at the VFW Hall in Caro Wednesday, Feb. 2, where they leave for Detroit for induction into the army.

The four men are: Donald G. Messner, Frankmuner; Roland J. Wenzel, Richville; and Don M. Buchinger and Roy A. Kamm, both of Reese.

Joining the four inductees will be three men from the county who will take their pre-induction physicals, the board said.

Film Highlights
Gavel Meeting

A film, "Highway Safe Driving," was the feature of the Tuesday night meeting of the Gavel Club held at Parrott's Dairy Bar. Toastmaster Grant Ball introduced Trooper Orville Rouse of the Bad Axe State Police post, who showed the film and answered questions.

On hand for the safe driving program were Steve Orto, village constable; William Schram, Tuscola County deputy sheriff; William Tomlinson, Tuscola County sheriff; and Trooper Norman Schoonover, of the Bad Axe State Police post.

Other Gavel Club guests for the evening were Arthur Holmberg and Dick Wallace.

For Deford Area School

Building Committee Plans New School

Members of the school board of the new Deford area school and the newly appointed building committee conferred Tuesday with an architect's representative to discuss plans for the new school building for the consolidated district.

According to Mrs. Marjorie Pringle, secretary of the board, R. S. Gerganoff of Ypsilanti has been chosen architect for the school. Mr. Gerganoff was the architect for the Kinde school. He was represented at this meeting by Mr. Ben Vandenberg, who presented plans to the group.

The building committee is composed of two members from each of the former districts. Those appointed by the board are: Roy Wood and Leroy Sefton of Leek, Elmer and Emory Vandemark of Seelbach, Claud Peasley and Russell Cook of Ferguson, Mrs. Iva Field and Archie Hicks of Crawford, George Jacoby and Arthur Schott of Deford, Robert Phillips of Quick and Arleon Retherford of Greenwood. Two more members are to be chosen, one from Quick and one from Greenwood schools.

Long-term Credit
Available for Soil Conservation

Tuscola County farmers are again reminded by O. W. Moore, FFA Supervisor of Tuscola and Huron counties, of the availability of long-term credit for irrigation, drainage and soil conservation practices. This credit is available through the Farmers Home Administration office in Caro. Loans will be made only for practices which are in keeping with recommendations of the Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service.

Soil and water conservation loans may be made from funds supplied by private lenders and insured by the Government or from funds appropriated by Congress. Loans from appropriated funds will be made only when insured funds are not available. Loans, either direct or insured, will only be made when the applicant is unable to obtain the credit he needs at reasonable rates and terms from other sources. The Farmers Home Administration is authorized to insure loans up to a total of $25,000 each fiscal year. In addition, for fiscal 1955, Congress appropriated $11,500,000 for this type of assistance.

The three-member county committee concluded on page 10.

Postmaster Says Bids
Open for New Lease

Acting Postmaster Chester V. Muntz said today that bids for a building for the post office will be accepted until Feb. 26.

To be considered, any building must have about 1,400 square feet of space and be centrally located. In addition, the building must be built to government specifications.

The post office buildings are leased for a five or ten-year period and bids are taken at the end of every lease period.

Complete details on the building are available at the post office, Mr. Muntz said.

Wanted for Caro Knifing

Find Donald Eimers In Saginaw Monday

Tuscola Deputy Clarence Schroeder picked up Donald Eimers, 25, of Caro Monday in Saginaw to end a police search that began Nov. 8 when Eimers was involved with his brother, Edward, in the knifing of Maurice Deming at the Wigwam in Caro.

In November, the two brothers had attacked Mr. Deming and stabbed him several times in a barroom scuffle. The pair will be examined Feb. 8 on a charge of felonious assault. Bond has been set at $5,000.

Deputy Schroeder also arrested Mrs. Madeline Eimers when he picked up her husband, Donald. Mrs. Eimers was wanted for issuing a check with insufficient funds. She was brought before Justice Bates Wills and was ordered to make restitution of $30, pay costs of $3.05 and spend 30 days in the county jail.

Arrest Youths

Three Caro youths were arrested Friday for vandalism after they broke windows in the home and automobile of George Anderson of Dayton Township, who recently died. Damage was estimated at approximately $30.

The three youths arrested were: Don Morrison, 18, Donald O'Kelly, 17, and Leon Graham, 17. Each of the youths was fined $10, ordered to pay costs of $8.45 and to make restitution of $10 each.

Other Cases

Louis Wenzloff, Jr., 17, of Kingston was arrested on a charge of bastardy Wednesday. He pleaded not guilty and demanded an examination. Date for the examination will be set.

A pistol-packing youth from Muskegon was arrested by Deputy Schroeder Tuesday for investigation. On a tip from two ladies who had seen two revolvers in the waistband of the youth, Berlyn Dean Williams, 18, was arrested. When searched, the police found seven revolvers on Williams.

Donna Vanitvelt, 25, of Oxford was arrested for passing a check with insufficient funds. She was ordered to make restitution and pay costs of $10.80.

Dale Mills, 27, of Cass City was arrested Monday for unlawfully driving away an automobile. He waived examination and has been bound over to circuit court for trial. Bond has been set at $1,000.

Mary Yens was arrested Wednesday on a warrant issued by Deputy William Schram for failure to answer a traffic ticket. She was fined $10, and ordered to pay costs of $6.61.

Coming Auction

Thursday, Feb. 3—Michael Pisarek will hold an auction of cattle, dairy equipment, feed and machinery at his farm, one and a half miles east and one mile north of Gagetown.

Lose Overtime Decision to Saginaw

Hawks Edge Bad Axe To Take League Lead

The Cass City Red Hawks won undisputed possession of first place in the Thumb B Conference Friday evening by edging Bad Axe 63-59 and lost their second non-conference decision of the year Tuesday when they dropped an overtime decision to Saginaw 55-53.

Although the Hawks' shooting percentage was under the percentage compiled by the Hatchets, Cass City played a heads-up game to win.

It was apparent from the start of the game that the strategy of Coach Irv Classman was to foul out towering Larry Essenmacher, the Hatchet's star center and rebound man.

By feeding the ball into the pivot to Dick Donahue and Don Simmons, Cass City succeeded in forcing Larry to the sidelines, via the foul route, midway in the third period.

When he left, Bad Axe was ahead by seven points. The Hatchets had overcome a one-point deficit at the half to take the lead, as the Hawks experienced their usual third period letdown.

With Essenmacher gone, Cass City recovered its scoring momentum and scored enough points to regain their slender one-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

It was obvious that the Hawks felt that Bad Axe would wilt under pressure with their mainstay out of the game. But the Hatchets refused to be beaten and a rally in the closing minutes pulled them from seven points behind to one point ahead with 30 seconds left to play.

Simmons drew a foul at this point and promptly converted both chances to put the Hawks a point ahead. A moment later he was fouled again and when the referee called a technical on Bad Axe, he converted all three chances to ice the game, 63-59.

Simmons converted the astonishing total of 17 of 21 free throw attempts and added seven field goals to lead both teams in scoring with 31 points. Donahue and Clarence Comment each added 11 for the Hawks. Ray Chumler collected 10 points to pace the losers.

Tuesday's Game

The Hawks were upset Tuesday by SS Peter and Paul when they posted the worst third period in the recent history of teams at Cass City. The Hawks were held to a lone field goal by Simmons, while Saginaw collected 11 points to set the stage for the rally that finally netted them a victory in overtime.

Playing deliberate ball to force Saginaw out of a tight zone defense, the Hawks piled up an 11-point lead at the half. They outscored Saginaw in the first period 18-16 and added nine more points to their margin in the second, for a 33-22 lead.

Despite their poor third quarter, the Hawks were one point ahead of Saginaw as the fourth quarter started. The lead saw-sawed back and forth several times in the period before the final gun sounded with the score 63-59.

Oatley Honored At Party Held Saturday Evening

Harold Oatley was honored by scouts and members of the community for his work in scouting at a party held Saturday evening at Cass City High School.

The former scoutmaster, who left this week for Allen Park, received gifts from five persons representing various groups with which he served.

The following persons presented gifts to Mr. Oatley: Fred Leeson, senior patrol leader for the scout troop; Douglas Gingrich, senior crew leader for the explorer post; Keith McConkey for the Rotary Club; Ray W. Fleener, committee chairman for the local scouts, and C. R. Hunt, for the community.

Oatley presented a pair of brass triple candlesticks for use in investiture ceremonies, as gifts from Hugh C. Munro of Alexandria, Virginia, the first scoutmaster of the troop.

Fred Auten was the chairman

Fifteen scouts obtained the rank of Eagle scout while Mr. Oatley was scoutmaster of the troop. The number is a record unmatched in Tuscola County.

for the event. A guest book at the party was signed by 106 persons and letters were read from many former members of the troop.

New Leaders

Several new scout leaders in the community were recently announced. Keith McConkey was named scoutmaster to replace Mr. Oatley. Lambert Althaver and Thomas Lee are new assistant scoutmasters.

Arthur Holmberg is a committeeman and David Helser, a new assistant advisor.

Family Fun Night
Slated at School

The Tuscola County 4-H Club leaders council is planning something new in the way of a recreation program, announces Quentin R. Ostrander, assistant county agricultural agent.

They have scheduled a special family fun night party to be held in the gymnasium of the Cass City High School. The party will be held Saturday night, January 29, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

The program, which will consist of get-acquainted games, folk games and square dancing, will be directed by Ostrander.

The council hopes that this program will provide wholesome recreation for the entire family.

The public is invited. No admission will be charged, however, a freewill offering will be collected to benefit the 4-H building fund.

Woman's Society
Meets Thursday

Mrs. H. Hower was the hostess and Miss Helen Hower the leader when the Woman's Society of World Service of the Evangelical United Brethren Church met in the Hower home Thursday afternoon.

"Under Three Flags" is the book which is the basis of study for the current month and the countries being considered are India, Pakistan and Ceylon. The theme of the lesson for January was "Telling Something New" and was very ably presented by Miss Hower. During her talk she used a map and a large bulletin board filled with pictures, illustrating scenes of the three countries under consideration, and her sister, Mrs. Stanley Kim, sang as a solo "Father in Heaven," a song of India based on the 23rd Psalm.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. B. A. Schwesler, and at the close of the meeting the hostesses, assisted by her three daughters, Miss Helen, Mrs. Hollis Seeley and Mrs. Kim, served tea and strawberry shortcake, topped with whipped cream.

The next meeting of the society will be held Thursday, February 17, in the home of Mrs. Schwesler and the lesson will be based on "Mountains To Be Moved."

Surviving are: two daughters, Mrs. George Ivey, Mt. Vernon, Washington, and Mrs. T. Gauthier of Burlington, Washington; three sons, Harold, Frank and Emerson, all of California, and a sister, Mrs. Milo Rathbun of Holbrook.
Funeral services were held January 20 at Burlington, Washington, where burial was made.

SHORT STORY

Crazy Fools

By D. L. Alexander

SHE boarded a bus at the corner of Main and Tiffin streets, and as she sat down the seat in the rear became occupied by a tall, well-dressed man. She only glanced at him, but the dark, moody eyes remained in her thoughts for several minutes.

At Main and Center streets she left the bus to take another to Cliftondale, a suburb. She noticed he did the same and again occupied the seat behind her. During the ride to Cliftondale she caught his reflection in a window opposite and discovered he was watching her intently.

She glanced at the window frequently but at no time could she tell he had changed his position. Nor had his steady regard of her lessened.

A feeling of anger stoke over her but was replaced moments later by a sense of uneasiness. She began to wish she was at her destination and well rid of his attention, which had become unwelcome.

At Cliftondale she left the bus and started walking up a dark side street. Her momentary relief on leaving the bus changed to alarm when she saw the strange man had also alighted and was walking directly behind her.

An apartment house midway of the block showed lights and without hesitation she mounted the steps of the veranda swiftly and knocked on the door.

The veranda was divided at the center by a railing and as she waited the other mounted the steps at the other end and knocked on a door there.

The bulk of a big man appeared in the doorway in answer to her summons. "Well?" he growled. "Please, Mister," she began, "that man over there has followed me all the way from the city. I am frightened. Could you help me to send him about his business?"

The big man stepped from the doorway and peered through the darkness at the other one. "Here you, what're you following the young lady for?" he asked. "I'm sorry," the other replied. "I wasn't following her, and had no thoughts of doing so."

"Well, then, get along about your business and leave her alone."

The other stepped nearer the railing and answered with some heat. "Now see here. I don't take orders from anyone unless I'm working for them. It so happens my business right now is with the man who I think lives in the building."

"Oh, yeah? Then tell me his name."

"His name is Ralph Woods."

"A man by that name lives here but he ain't home."

"Can you tell me where to find him?"

"At the fire company's house on the corner."

"Thank you. I'll go there."

"Will you tell me what your business with my brother is?" There was more than just a question in the girl's tone.

"The business transactions of our firm are very confidential—you say your brother?"

"Yes, my brother. My name is Marjorie Wood."

"Why—uh—something seems screwy here. Our firm has been employed by a Marjorie Wood to locate her brother, Ralph, who disappeared a year ago."

"Then you must be—"

"Richard Layne, private investigator."

"And I am Marjorie Wood who employed you. Isn't it funny?"

"That you and I should find him at the same time."

He was thoughtful for a moment, then: "Will you tell me why you hired me when you already knew where he was?"

"Oh, but I didn't know. I found out today and telephoned you but you were out."

"I see," he mused. "Well, I must finish the case. I'm going to the fire company house."

"I am too."

They left the veranda, laughing. "I rather like this case," he commented as he joined her.

"Crazy fools," the apartment dweller growled as he closed his door.

Many things are fixed—but very few are fixed right.

Egotists are people who just can't hide the interest they feel in themselves.

People who try to get even with the world feel that they must have some kind of a pull.

Good News For Careful Drivers in Michigan

STATE FARM CUTS RATE ON COMPREHENSIVE, COLLISION INSURANCE!

Members cash in on the savings their own careful driving makes possible

State Farm Mutual—"the careful driver insurance company"—has just finished the regular review of its rates in Michigan.

Throughout the state, it is reducing rates on many coverages to reflect the reduced cost of insuring its members.

These coverages include:

"Comprehensive"—the insurance that helps pay for loss of or damage to the insured vehicle from almost any cause except collision or upset. It covers fire, windstorm, theft and many other perils.

"Collision"—the insurance (80% or "Deductible") that helps pay for damage to the insured car resulting from an accident.

Now you can save even more money with State Farm's "careful driver insurance"

State Farm auto insurance has always been priced below the cost of ordinary auto insurance. These new rate cuts make it an even better buy.

The cost is low because State Farm deliberately aims to insure careful drivers only. Careful driving holds down accident costs.

With State Farm auto insurance you also get fast, fair, friendly claim service... the convenience of semi-annual payments at no extra cost... the peace of mind that comes from dependable protection. State Farm insures more than 3 million cars—more by far than any other company in the world.

So if you're a careful driver—if you want topnotch protection at rockbottom rates—talk to your State Farm agent now. You'll find his name listed under "State Farm Insurance" in the yellow pages of your phone book.

Safe Hand Torch Does Many Chores

New, Compact Unit Weighs Three Pounds

A safe, handy torch which operates on a disposable cylinder of propane gas is a versatile tool for the farmer to use in winter repairs on his buildings and equipment.

Suitable for any job requiring the application of heat or flame, the Bernz-O-Matic torch was designed especially for amateur repair work. It lights instantly in the coldest weather with no pumping, priming or preheating and burns in any position at 2300 degrees F.

Compact and portable, it weighs less than three pounds fully loaded and is small enough to fit into a pocket or tool chest.

The hazards of filling and spilling fuel are eliminated. When the fuel is exhausted, the non-leaking cylinder is thrown away and replaced with a new one.

Some of the specific farm applications of the torch include soldering milking machines, repairing plumbing and machinery, burning paint, brazing, soldering milk pails and cans, disinfecting the brooder house, singeing fowl and lighting smudge pots to protect against frost.

On cars, tractors and other rolling stock, it is useful in leading fenders, freeing frozen fittings, loosening joint pins, mufflers, tail pipes and springs.

Dehydrated Steaks Keep for Two Years

Dehydrated steak that can be stored on open shelves for two years has been developed at the University of California.

The new dehydrated products—which include roasts, chops and ground meat—are of principal interest to the armed forces, which are looking for meats that can be stored and shipped without refrigeration, and still taste good.

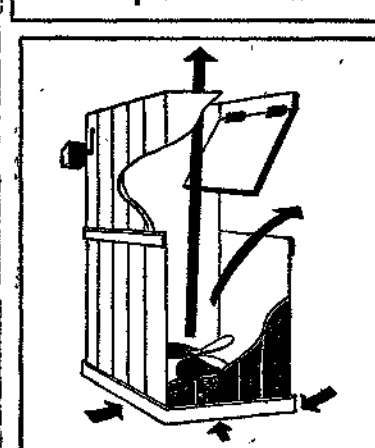

The dehydrating process consists of putting frozen meat under a high vacuum, which removes practically all of the water, leaving a product that weighs from one fourth to one half as much as fresh meat.

As long as the dehydrated meat is stored in plastic, glass or metal containers that keep out air, it will keep at room temperatures for two years.

The dehydrated meat is readily prepared for cooking by soaking it in water for a few minutes.

Hikers and campers would also find the dehydrated meats useful in supplying high-protein foods to the menu, said a university spokesman. Dehydrated eggs, milk, vegetables, and fruit are already commercially available.

Simple Ventilator

Keeping laying house for hens dry is no problem with this homemade ventilator. A thermostat set at 42 degree controls hinged door at top in the side of a ventilating duct near the insulated ceiling. As long as the inside air remains above 42 degrees, it is expelled to the outside by the fan installed at the bottom of the duct. When temperature in house drops below 42 degrees, thermostat opens the door and air is circulated inside the house, picking up moisture and heat until it again reaches 42. Door then closes and air is blown outside.

The man who struggles to keep his troubles to himself is called an optimist.

Even with the high cost of living two can live as cheaply as twice one.

SHORT STORY

Patrick's Word

By F. L. Rowley

PATRICK BURKE had two loves. The first was a deep and understandable affection for his dark-haired daughter Polly; the second, an inordinate fondness for strong liquor.

These two loves had long vied with one another for first place in the old man's heart, and he looked much the worse for the struggle. This morning as he sat on the edge of his bed rubbing bloodshot eyes Patrick made a sudden decision: he would drink no more. May the devil take him if he did. Polly would be proud of her father yet—just wait!

Polly bounded into the room now as Patrick was picking his shiny serge coat from the floor. "Oh daddy," she cried breathlessly, "we've been invited to the outdoor premiere of Johnny's play! Isn't that wonderful?" "It'll probably be a flop!"

Patrick chuckled. "Johnny's play? What play?" "Johnny's play," she said, "the one about the old man who won't stop drinking. It's called 'The Old Man Who Won't Stop Drinking'."

Patrick chuckled. "Johnny's play? What play?" "Johnny's play," she said, "the one about the old man who won't stop drinking. It's called 'The Old Man Who Won't Stop Drinking'."

Missionary Circle Still Carries on

Reprinted from the Bay City Times:

Although the Elmwood Baptist Church near Cass City was dissolved more than a quarter of a century ago, the Elmwood Missionary Circle still carries on its traditional program.

However over the years, the Circle has become an interdenominational unit with no church sponsorship.

At their monthly meetings the members continue a program of aid for the needy. They have held quilting bees to make quilts for neighbors who have burned out, have made towels for the Tuscola County Hospital and layettes for local hospitals. During World War II, the group worked for the Red Cross. After the Korean conflict, the Circle sent a cash donation to CARE to help homeless Koreans. They also sent a CARE package to Germany.

One of their quilts went to aid a victim of the Flint tornado disaster. They have also sent clothing to orphanages.

Since quilting is one of the most popular projects of the unit, the members have made some quilts for themselves, and have given others as wedding presents to daughters of members.

The Elmwood Baptist Church, which was located seven miles northwest of Cass City, was disbanded during World War I. Later even the church building was torn down.

Most of the present 18 members never saw the church under which the Circle was organized. Only three of the present membership belonged to the unit when it was affiliated with the church. The others have joined since the Circle began operating as an independent unit.

The membership now includes Methodists, Presbyterians, Catholics, Free Methodists and Church of Christ members as well as Baptists.

At the time the church was discontinued, it was predicted that the Missionary Circle would not last a year. That prediction has been already proved wrong by at least 30 years.

The current list of officers includes: President, Mrs. William Anker; vice-president, Mrs. William Cook; secretary, Mrs. Aaron Turner, and treasurer, Mrs. William Jackson.

Meetings are held each month at homes of members. Each meeting starts in the morning and members come prepared for a noon potluck dinner.

At each session the Circle remembers shut-in friends in the neighborhood by sending out get well cards signed by all members present.

The most recent meeting of the Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Mack Little. The next meeting will be the second Friday in February at the home of Mrs. Charles Seekings.

Don't waste your time dreaming about filling your pockets with money—you may wake up and find them empty.

Go Slow on Bulk Tanks for Milk

Don't plunge blindly into changing to bulk handling of milk before you look at all sides of the question. That's the word of caution from Quentin R. Ostrander, Tuscola County assistant agricultural agent.

More and more dairy farmers are converting to bulk milk handling, but actually, only a few farm tanks are in operation in Michigan, Ostrander says. Recent counts show that the total number may be only 500.

Dale Butz, Michigan State College farm economist, points out, however, that their increase in the past couple of years has been rapid. The new system of handling milk is more efficient and more sanitary and most folks expect a great expansion in the next few years, according to Butz. Butz gives the "go slow" sign to farmers who are thinking of converting to this type of milk handling. Although there are increased profits to farmers with this type of equipment, there are also increased costs.

Experience has shown that a 10-cow herd is about the lowest limit in herd size that will permit a bulk tank to pay its own way, contends Butz.

Bulk handling of milk will be a feature of the dairy department's open house during the Tuesday afternoon session of Farmers' Week at MSC, February 7-11.

Tuscola Farmer to Be Honored at MSC

A Tuscola County farmer from Unionville will be honored during the forthcoming Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, according to Agricultural Agent Alfred P. Ballweg.

The farmer to be honored is Jesse Treiber. Mr. Treiber will be among 85 farmers who have kept the farm business analysis farm account book in the agricultural economics farm account project continuously for the past 20 years or more.

These 85 cooperators come from 39 counties in all areas of the state. They will receive certificates for their cooperation and will be recognized along with 236 other farmers who have been in the project from 10 to 19 years. Former director of the Michigan State College Cooperative Extension, C. V. Ballard, will make the presentations.

Governor G. Mennen Williams will be the main speaker. His topic is "Meeting the Challenge on Our Farms." He will speak to an estimated 600 cooperators at the banquet, Ballweg adds.

The MSC Girls' Glee Club and Miss Janice Somers, runner-up in the Miss America contest, will be on hand for the entertainment.

STATE MUTUAL CYCLONE INSURANCE CO.

LAPEER, MICHIGAN

January 28, 1955

Dear Friend:

Does a horse pull your plow?

Those days are gone forever on Michigan farms. Yet while everyone has modernized their farm machinery, lots of people have insurance policies that are still in the horse-drawn days.

Many farmers don't realize their fire insurance may exclude dozens of causes of fire. That means your insurance doesn't cover in all these cases--and the list may be as long as your arm.

1. Does your policy limit your recovery to three-fourths of the actual value no matter how much insurance you have?
2. Does your policy insure your personal property only on your farm?
3. Does your policy cover standing hay and grain?
4. Does your policy cover you if you have left a tractor motor running while it's in the barn?

Those are just a few questions for you. Before another day goes by, better get out your insurance policy and look it over. You may be surprised to find there are lots of fires you aren't insured against.

Remember, no matter how much insurance you have, your policy has no value unless it protects you when you have a loss.

The modern fire policies of the State Mutual Cyclone Insurance Co. of Lapeer cover risks that many behind-the-times companies don't. Call an agent of this 59-year-old company and let him show you all the protection you can get with a State Mutual Cyclone policy.

State Mutual Cyclone agents have had many years of experience in farm insurance. They'll be glad to help you get complete fire protection--and at the low mutual rate.

Sincerely yours,

Robert L. Taylor

WCSA Meets—

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grant Methodist Church met last Thursday, January 20, at the home of Mrs. Oscar Nixon for dinner. Twenty-six adults and children were present for the chicken dinner. Proceeds of the dinner amounted to $14.10.

Mrs. Martin Moore led the devotions and the group sang with Mrs. Clara Profit at the piano. The study, "Crowded Ways," was given by Mrs. Haskett Blair.

It was decided in the business meeting to send a gift of $5 to the Holden Institute and they also voted that the society sponsor a calendar party this spring at the church.

Because of the illness of Mrs. Twilton J. Heron, the annual oyster dinner will be held at the church this year. The next meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be held next Thursday, February 3, at the home of Mrs. Clara Profit. She will also give the next two chapters of our study, "Crowded Ways." Mrs. Haskett Blair is the secretary.

Mrs. Barbara Dore, mother of Mrs. Richard McDonald of Grant, is recovering from a serious operation at Saginaw General Hospital.

Pvt. Maynard Helwig and Daniel Aleksink of Cass City were callers Tuesday forenoon at the homes of Maynard's aunt, Mrs. Norris E. Mellendorf, and his grandmother, Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leitch and children, Shirley Ann, Richard and Twila Lou, of Detroit spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Twilton J. Heron.

SPILLED MILK TO REALLY CRY OVER...

$225,000,000 PREVENTABLE YEARLY LOSS FROM THREE IN TEN COWS WHICH SUFFER MASTITIS.

The high cost of disease in farm animals is dramatically pointed up by the widespread incidence of mastitis in dairy cows. Mastitis sharply reduces milk production, and in many instances is fatal to the animal. The disease can be controlled, say dairy husbandry authorities, by preventive measures which means accurate diagnosis, adequate sanitary and herd management practices and close cooperation between the dairyman and his veterinarian. Also vital to a control program, they add, is proper treatment with the weapons provided by medical science, such as Targot, a mastitis ointment made from a combination of several antibiotics.

JUST A LITTLE BACKSLIDER

This Reno, Nevada housewife doesn't hire a baby sitter when good skiing weather arrives. Taking a tip from her Indian friends she straps skis on her feet and Junior on her back then heads for the hills. Snuggled in a warm blanket and protected by a sturdy headshield (in case Mama does a little accidental baby sitting herself) the tyke is all set for a bracing run. Nevada snowlands are among the nation's finest winter sports areas served by Greyhound tours.

Mrs. J. E. Wallace Dies Wednesday

Mrs. Jessie E. Wallace, 67, of Greenleaf Township died Wednesday afternoon in Stevens Nursing Home where she had been a patient for the last three years.

Mrs. Wallace was born May 13, 1887, in Sanilac County, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gillis.

She married James J. Wallace Sept. 22, 1903. Mr. Wallace died Mar. 2, 1939.

Wallace, Evergreen Township; two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Brown, Grant Township, and Mrs. Catherine Boomhower, Bad Axe, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Douglas Funeral Home, Rev. Melvin R. Vender, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Elkland Cemetery.

Girl Scout Council To Meet Feb. 2

The Tuscola County Girl Scout Council will meet Wednesday, Feb. 2, at 8 p. m. at the Caro High School.

Authorities have asked that all leaders, assistant leaders and troop committee members be present.

At the meeting, officers will be elected and a report of the Grand Rapids conference given.

CONSERVATION LOANS

mittee of the Farmers Home Administration will certify the eligibility of applicants. Applications from veterans will receive preference in processing.

Soil and water conservation loans will not be available for annually recurring costs that are generally considered as farm operating expense.

To be eligible for a soil and water conservation loan, a farmer must have sufficient experience or training to indicate that he has reasonable prospects of conducting successful farming operations and be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms and conditions from private and cooperative sources.

Area Presbyterians Attend Meeting

Men from Fraser Presbyterian Church attended a meeting of the National Council of Presbyterian Men at Flint Sunday, Jan. 23.

Attending were: Calvin MacRae, retiring secretary of district three of Flint Presbytery; Raymond Thorpe, secretary for the coming year, and Harry Stine.

Also attending were: Dr. Ivan MacKae, area vice-president of district three, and Arnold Fischer, retiring treasurer.

Harry Little of the Cass City Presbyterian Church attended the meeting with the group.

Future May Bring Musical Farming

Ultrasonic Sound Waves May Do Work

Within the next 25 years the typical American farmer may walk into his barn, sit down at a keyboard instrument and with the help of an ultrasonic device, pollinate the crops in his field.

This revolutionary approach to scientific farming was predicted by George Hadden, vice-president in charge of engineering at the Minshall Organ Company of Brattleboro, Vermont.

Pollination by sound? It's possible, says Mr. Hadden, who recently developed a new electronic chord organ for the home. Vast strides are being made in the field of electronic sounds, he says and "each day we are discovering new ways to use sound . . . It is now quite possible to transmit an ultrasonic sound wave into a field and actually accelerate pollination."

The reason, this can be done, he points out, is that the waves, which are more sensory than audible, can actually shake the pollen from the bloom.

"By varying the frequency of the sound waves, it is conceivable to pollinate different types of plants at the same time," he explains.

There'll be good sound help for the lady of the house, too, he adds, since laboratory tests have shown "that by transmitting ultrasonic waves through soiled clothes, we can actually shake the dirt out without any detergents."

HAWKS SPLIT GAMES

In the overtime each team collected two field goals, but Saginaw netted six charity tosses to three for Cass City for the margin of victory.

The Hawks, in the second half of the game, were not getting their share of rebounds as the Saginaw quintet became more aggressive and controlled both backboards for the final two periods of the game.

Reserves Win

The Cass City reserve squad continued their winning way by posting a 54-27 decision over Bad Axe and a 52-43 win over Saginaw. The reserve squad has lost only one game this season.

Youths to Share In Worship Service

The National Westminster Fellowship Day will be observed on Sunday, Jan. 30, at the Presbyterian Church at 11:00 a. m.

Young people will share in the Order of Worship. Sharon Ackerman, Judy Huff and Richard Donahue will represent the senior society, while Dian Cardew and Susan Tyo have been chosen from the junior high group.

There will be a solo by Miss Joan Holmberg and the pastor will speak on an appropriate theme for youth.

NEW LIONS CLUB

largely through the efforts of Emil Rummel of the Frankenth Club, Gordon Smith, Michigan State Lions secretary from Lansing, assisted in the organizational meeting with the help of Rudolph Todd of Caro. This will bring to five the total of new Lions Clubs formed this year in the district under the direction of Clarence Ball, district governor from Sandusky.

The Charter Night program for the Richville Club has been set for April 20. The Charter will be held open for awhile at Richville Club to accept Charter members.

Herbert S. Kern of Richville, who was president of the Vassar Lions Club last year, has been elected president of this new club. Elmer Weber and E. George Buchinger, also formerly of the Vassar Lions Club, have been elected officers. The other officers elected were: Carl Hoerlein, first vice-president; Don Diedrich, second vice-president; Roland Bode, third vice-president; Roland Sigelk, treasurer; Bob Schaberg, Lion tamer; Elmer Weber, tail twister; E. George Buchinger, secretary, and Edward Schluckebier, director for two years. There are still three more officers to be elected, another director for two years and two directors for a one-year term. The club selected the first and third Monday of each month for their meetings.

Some men's only boast is that they are liberal in religion.

The person who is right never has to resort to a game of bluff.

Some men realize they should reform, but the only argument they will listen to is a splitting headache.

Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Elects Officers

About 80 attended the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid at the church Wednesday evening of last week. Officers elected for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Harold Perry; vice-president, Mrs. Don McLachlan; secretary, Mrs. Ivan MacRae; and treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Schwaderer. In the business meeting, members voted a $500.00 contribution to the church building fund and to buy 100 chairs for the church basement. Mrs. Edward Pinney, who served the organization as treasurer for many years, was presented with a gift. At the close of the meeting cake and coffee were served under the direction of Mrs. Clifford Martin and Mrs. Ivan MacRae.
