Fire Damages Home of Floyd Kennedy Saturday

A fire Saturday at 8:30 a. m. resulted in extensive damage to the home of Floyd Kennedy of Evergreen Township. Elkland Township Fire Department, the fire started in the basement of the house. Excessive Arthur and Co. of Detroit. Ansmoke made it difficult for the firemen to find the fire, which was centered inside the walls of

The Kennedy family managed to save most of the furniture and clothing in the home. Members of the local fire department and the Shabbona Fire Department, which helped subdue the blaze, credit the assistance of neighboring farmers for helping to put out the fire. They quickly organized a water brigade and kept the firemen supplied with water carried in milk cans.

modern Short-Stroke V-8 engine?"

Ford's got the most modern short-stroke SIX too! Ford's 118-h.p. Cost Clipper Six has the shortest piston stroke of any Truck Six! It's available in this new Ford Pickup, GVW 5,000 lbs., and all Ford Trucks through "2-ton" Series.

THIS YEAR the truck industry is beginning to follow Ford's lead to modern short-stroke V-8's. They last longer—prolong ring life up to 53%! Save up to one gallon of gas in seven! But ONLY FORD has four V-8's ... one for every size truck in a full line . . . available right now!

HOW TO TELL if it's a shortstroke engine: check the specifications! The "stroke" is always as short as, or shorter than the "bore."

Modern short-stroke V-8's are beginning to take over in trucks-just as they've already done in passenger cars. Today, virtually every passenger car offers short-stroke V-8 power. Before too long, the same will be true of trucks. So, if you buy a truck with a long-stroke Six today that's not being built tomorrow, what will happen to its ultimate trade-in value? Play it safe! Don't settle for anything less than a modern short-stroke engine!

Here's an up-to-the-minute progress report:

Just what is the potential of Atoms for Peace?

Well, a three-pound rod of uranium, no larger than a small flashlight, offers a power-potential equivalent to 60 carloads (4,000 tons) of coal. Of course, it takes a great deal of special equipment to produce and deliver this power. But three pounds of uranium can furnish, for a period of eight hours, enough electric power for all of the three-and-a-half millions of people -all of the homes, stores, farms and factoriesserved by Detroit Edison in Southeastern . Michigan.

AST WEEK, in Detroit, representatives of L the 33 member companies of the Atomic Power Development Associates announced their research and development program for

The submarine U.S.S. Nautilus has recently demonstrated that atomic electric power can be produced. Commercially, however, the cost is too high. The resources of the Associates, therefore, are mobilized to discover an economically practical way to harness uranium, a source of energy that can benefit mankind for thousands of years. These 1955 plans are important forward steps toward the goal of using atomic energy to produce electric power.

• Major target in the 1955 program is to build a whole new system of pumps, piping, heat exchangers and other devices for handling liquid metals at extremely high temperatures. As the simplified diagram below shows, the problem is to bring heat energy from a reactor, or atomic furnace, to the turbine generator. Enough equipment will be installed to test the liquid metal section of the plant.

- As another key part of this program, the Associates authorized development of a special boiler, or steam generator, to operate under nuclear heat conditions.
- To accomplish these major advances in their long-range program, the Associates will spend $3,815,000 in 1955, and all are sharing the costs.

The project is a striking example of the effectiveness of industrial teamwork in doing things that have never been done before on this scale.

Member companies of the Atomic Power Development Associates hasten results by pooling the special talents of their personnel. Company-owned research and development facilities also have been made available.

All 33 Associates share the same kind of vision—the vision of a better world.

Several years of work still lie ahead, yet, thanks to this kind of cooperation, hope for atomic energy for peace is a dream that can come true in our time!

Ken kicked at the tractor, then loped through the snow to Nellie's "Nellie, let's show that smart tractor what we can do."

When he had harnessed Nellie, he hopped onto her back and off they went to the fodder field. He threw ropes around the fodder, and fastened the ropes to the harness. Pulling the fodder through the snow was not easy, but when they came into the cow barn, Nellie was pulling like a racer, and Ken was singing at the top of his voice.

Then he saw his dad with a smile on his face as big as that on the face of the man in the moon. "Well, well, son, you've saved me from an embarrassing moment. I never dreamed a horse could pull fodder through this

Farm Records Due Attention

Determine Items That Are Deductible

It's getting to be about the time of year when farmers begin to look over farm record books and prepare for the annual problem of settling their bill with the Internal Revenue Service. Many farmers lose out on the opportunity to save some of their hard-to-get money because they aren't sure about which items are-and which items are notdeductible.

Most overlook the endless dozens of miscellaneous small items purchased for cash. The egg or butter check is spent for bolts or other minor items and the farmer

Some farmers who plan their crops wisely and are expert farm managers are losing money by paying more taxes than necessary. Purchased breeding stock, for instance, may be put on a depreciation schedule, as explained in accompanying ar-

General.

State of Michigan, The Probate Comt for the County of Tuscola.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the Village of Caro in said County, on the 24th day of January A. 145K pense the farmer fails to mark down, it costs him at least twenty cents in the long run, regardless of his particular income bracket.

Often farmers overlook the op portunity to list purchased breeding stock on their depreciation schedule. Such depreciation is 100 per cent deductible. Here is how the depreciation on purchased breeding stock works. Suppose the farmer buys a two-year-old helfer for $240. He places the heifer on a 10-year base for depreciation. The helfer has eight years depreciation value left, so it is possible to deduct $30 each

Takes 'Know-How

When is the best time to wear

The answer depends on knowhow and equipment, says J. A. Hoefer, a Michigan State College swine nutritionist.

"If a farmer has good equipment and the know-how" Hoefer says "he can wean at three to five weeks." He also pointed out

Time of weaning depends more on the weight than the age of the pigs.

A 20-pound pig weaned on a good ration will do well, but as the farmer's know-how improves he can take pigs away from the sow when they weigh, say 15 pounds. But the ration for lighter pigs has to be chosen more carefully Clean equipment and good housing are especially important. The diet should be higher in protein, more palatable—some use FOR SALE—3 beagle pups and 8 rolled oats and sugar-and more vitamins and antibiotics. Whole oats for baby pigs are out-too much fiber for the youngsters to WANTED-Girl to work in store digest.

Early weaning has one big advantage: it gives more time to get the sow ready for another litter.

And, early weaning is the trend along with multiple litters. Hog men are becoming more specialized as they get better equipment and know-how.

Mosquitoes May Cause Diseases

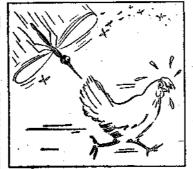

Transmit Pox From Infected Flocks

Fowl pox, or sore head, of chickens, the dreaded disease which carries with it a great loss in egg profits for the poultryman, may be transmitted by the mosquitoes.

At least, it's a logical conclusion, say poultry experts at some of the nation's leading colleges. They point out that the disease is always more prevalent during the season when mosquitoes are plentiful, making "it appear that mosquitoes may be one medium through which the fewl pox is transmitted from flock to flock."

Where laying flocks come down with fowl pox, several weeks is required for them to recover. Mortality is usually low but the losses of egg profits are tremendous. Some poultrymen report the loss of 75 cents a bird in egg profits as the result of fowl pax.

This is a great loss though not unusual, but still a loss that can be avoided. It costs approximately one cent to immunize a bird against fowl pox. It can readily be seen that farmers who are

Poultry experts say it is a logical conclusion that fowl pox may be caused by mosquitoes, since the disease is most prevalent when mosquitoes are plentiful. Early immunization of birds with standard fowl pox vears Poultry farmers should immunize their birds when they are between eight and 14 weeks of age and on range, using any standard fowl pox vaccine. The vaccine should be first checked for the expiration date.

Bromfield Conducts European Farm Tour

How farming is done in other parts of the world will be seen by a number of American farmers accompanying Louis Bromfield, author and farmer, on Friendly Farmers Tour to Europe March 6 to April 13.

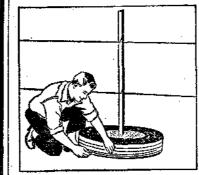

Scandanavian Airlines System Inc., announced recently that Mr. Bromfield will conduct the tour for two groups of farmers and their friends. One group will leave from Los Angeles, the other from New York, with the two groups meeting in Copenhagen.

Utilizing the facilities of private motor coach, plane, train and special travel counsel, the tour will cover the richest farming sections of Denmark, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, England and Scotland and will include visits to famous agricultural accomplishments as well as the original stock farms of today's Only Car at its Price*...

So Smart! So Big! So Powerful!

*You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars!

Whatever you want most in a car beauty, size or performance-you get it in extra measure in a Pontiac. In fact, when you choose Pontiac the decision comes very easily - because Pontiac alone, at its price, gives you everything!

For example, take Pontiac's distinctive smartness. Certainly there is no question on this point. Pontiac is the one car that stands apart from all the others.

If it's size and big-car sure-footedness you want—Pontiac's your car! Pontiac's long wheelbase—124 inches in the Star

Chief, shown here, and 122 inches in the 860 and 870 series—is the plus wheelbase that provides the roominess, the comfort, the satisfying road-hugging security that only a big car can supply.

As for performance—once you get behind the wheel you have all the proof you need that Pontiac is way ahead in this department, too. Pontiac's spectacular performance starts with the most modern engine of all—the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8—specifically designed for Pontiac's all-new chassis to give you balanced performance. That means smooth, eager getaway in traffic; power to spare on the open road; and even more of Pontiac's traditional economy, dependability and long life.

All this adds up to a wonderful car and —with Pontiac's remarkably low price tag—a very wonderful buy. Come in soon and talk dollars and cents. If you're in the market for any new car, you'll discover you can easily afford all the pride and pleasure of a big, powerful, luxuryloaded Pontiac.

"Too bad you can't stay," came a deep voice from the baggage

Tom spun around to see a wirylooking old gentleman with a badge on his vest.

"Sorry, sheriff, but I'm staying," said the young man as he stooped over to beat the dust from his trousers. "I have a job to do."

"The last feller that had a job to do stayed just a mite too long," said the sheriff. "The door blew off the bank-vault one night and put him to sleep for good. You don't happen to be interested in banks, do you stranger?"

Tom grinned. "No sheriff-I'm here because of a promise I made to a buddy. You wouldn't know where I might get a job, would

Science Is Learning More About Irrigation

Science is beginning to take the hit or miss methods out of irriga-

For example, studies have shown that corn has great recovery power from drought except at silking time when its need for water is critical. And potatoes need an uninterrupted supply of water from early season until about three weeks before harvest.

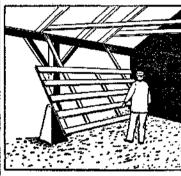

Further research in establishing the critical times for other crops is now in progress in various parts of the country.

Experienced farmers and scientists can tell much about the needs of crops by appearance and feel of soil 6 to 8 inches deep. Instruments are now being developed to measure available water, but readings are not easy to interpret and researchers are herefore evaluating these gadgets

Yet researchers say one thing is sure. Plant usage of water is low in spring, but farmers' energy is high, and so much irrigation water is applied needlessly.

The farmer who thinks he might be wasting time and energy by over-irrigating in the spring, might be wise to discuss his particular rrigation problems with his coun-

This offer expires February 28th.

EACH PILLOW SANITIZED INDIVIDUALLY

Don't confuse Sanitizing with ordinary pillow washing. Under the direction of trained experts we remove each and every feather from the tick. The feathers and the tick are sanitized separately.

Human hair and irritating feather dust are removed and the feathers are fluffed in hot tumbling air. Your pillow is returned downy soft and sanitary because, your feathers have touched no others.
