

From the Editor's Corner

Hats off to Coach Irv Claseman and the Cass City basketball team for a successful season. Though defeated Wednesday at Flint, the cagers were in the game all the way and almost pulled the game out of the fire in the closing seconds.

It's always a pleasure for us to see the fine support the team receives. There must have been over 350 at the game in Flint. We hope that when the school experiences learner years than they have recently, that the community will be as strong in their allegiance as they are today.

The April 4 election is now just a little over three weeks away. On the ballots will be four amendments, plus many important state offices. The time to study the various candidates is now. Too many voters cast their ballot because they like the sound of the name of the candidate.

New Market Opens for Dairy Calves

Dairymen in several northern Michigan counties are interested in purchasing surplus dairy calves from this area, announced Quentin R. Ostrander, assistant Tuscola County agricultural agent.

The big problem, according to Ostrander, is to locate a supply of calves at one time for pickup.

A meeting was held in the county agricultural agent's office Friday evening with some Tuscola County Artificial Breeding Association inseminators and Dairy Herd Improvement Association testers and Michigan State College extension dairyman, Don Murray, to set up a marketing program.

It is hoped that as the program develops that two pickups a week can be made.

The calves to be purchased must meet a few basic requirements, Ostrander stated. The up state farmers are primarily interested in grade calves bearing characteristic breed markings. The calves must be from artificial breeding service or from herds using a proven, registered sire. Production records on the dam are desirable but not necessary.

The price for these surplus calves will be considerably above the current price on the market for deacons. This will provide local dairymen a good market for their surplus dairy calves and also furnish some good calves for herd improvement in the northern counties.

The program will start with the ABA inseminators acting as contact men for local farmers who have surplus calves for sale. Farmers will contact their local ABA inseminator and list their calves with him. When the inseminator has eight or 10 calves lined up, he will contact the county agricultural agent who will in turn contact the agricultural agent in a northern county who has a list of farmers who want to buy calves. These farmers will then come here and buy the calves direct.

Farmers having good surplus calves for sale should contact any one of the following Tuscola County MABC inseminators: Richard Ross, Caro; Jack DeSimpelare, Unionville; Richard Soveren, Vassar; or Bernard Jakubik, Millington.

Hawks Win Third Straight District Class B Title Saturday

Cass City basketball fans were wondering if history was going to repeat itself Saturday evening in the final game of the District Class B basketball tournament held at the high school gym.

Four years ago, a red hot Vassar squad upset the highly favored Hawks by two points with a brilliant last half rally.

Saturday evening, the Vulcans made a determined effort to make history repeat itself, but fell short by three points, as the Hawks annexed the district title, 70-67, for the third straight year.

Both teams scored with astonishing frequency in the opening quarter. With Clare Comment hitting from outcourt and Jim Evans chipping in three field goals, the Hawks chalked up 24 points, but could only open a three-point margin as Vassar hit for 21 points, nine by Dale Heide who kept his team in contention all the way with 34 points. The clever guard hit 14 of 18 attempts from the field.

The tempo slowed in the second period as Cass City outscored the visitors, 11-8, for a six-point half time margin. With Don Simmons taking up the scoring slack, the Hawks pulled two points further ahead in the third quarter. Simmons hit 10 of his 18 points in the quarter. The Hawks totaled 18 to 16 for the Vulcans.

The Hawk margin see-sawed in the last period from two to six points. With two minutes to go the Hawks were three points in front.

With the slender lead, Coach Claseman ordered his charges to move into a controlled ball offense. The maneuver paid off with an easy lay up shot for Dick Donahue as Vassar began pressing to get the ball and Dick was all alone under the hoop.

When Vassar got the ball they immediately scored to bring the margin back to three points, but Comment drew a foul and converted both chances. With less than 45 seconds to go, the two charity leaves clinched the Hawk victory, although Vassar scored once more before the final whistle.

Comment netted 25 points. Simmons hit for 18 and Bill Tuckey collected 12 in the Hawk victory.

Sandusky Game

Cass City had less trouble defeating Sandusky Friday night than many fans expected.

In the last previous game between the two clubs, Cass City was forced to come from far behind in the closing moments of the game to register a one-point victory after the final whistle had blown.

Friday, the Hawks opened an early lead and were never in danger as they posted a 71-57 victory.

They outscored the Redskins 13-9 in the opening quarter and added a 19-8 second period count for a 32-17 half time margin.

Sandusky rallied briefly at the start of the third period, but the Hawks rallied to come within two points of matching their output for the quarter as they scored 20 points to 22 points for Sandusky.

Comment led the attack for the Hawks with 25 points. Donahue chipped in 16 and Tuckey netted 14 for the victory.

In both games, Jim Evans, who replaced Jack Clara who was ill, came off the bench to turn in sparkling performances for the district champions.

Hawks Stopped By Large Floor And Alma, 40-37

The Cass City Red Hawks bowed to Alma and the spacious IMA basketball court in Flint Wednesday night in the opening round of regional play, 40-37.

In losing, the Hawks recorded one of their poorest shooting nights in several seasons, as the size of the court and the unfamiliar glass backboards caused the whole team to miss shot after shot.

In the first quarter, the score stood 6-5 in favor of Cass City. At the half, Alma had moved into a six-point lead.

Cass City reduced the margin to 29-26 at the end of the third period. In the first half of the last period, Alma moved further ahead. With less than four minutes left, they led by eight points.

At this point, the Hawks staged one of their last ditch rallies. With a full-court pressing defense they closed the margin. With less than 80 seconds left to play, Clare Comment was fouled and had two shots as the score stood 38-36 in favor of Alma. He sunk the first but missed the second and the Hawks still trailed by a single point.

Ten seconds later, the Hawks regained possession of the ball and Comment tried a set shot from out court that rimmed the hoop before falling out. With the shot, the Hawks chance for a regional victory faded and Alma added two unnecessary free shots to make the score 40-37.

Are you a "Do-It-Yourself" Driver?

Or would you rather be waited on hand and foot?

Rather shift for yourself . . . or let Powerglide do it?

Shifting's smooth and easy with Chevrolet's new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission. A flick of your wrist is all it takes to shift gears.

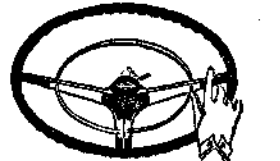

Powerglide, too, is better than ever this year. Even smoother and sturdier. It's the most popular automatic transmission* in Chevrolet's field!

Want standard steering . . . or extra-easy Power Steering?

Try this easy new Chevrolet steering. Only Chevrolet and some higher-priced cars use a ball bearing system to cut friction to a minimum.

There's nothing quite so easy as Power Steering, of course. Good news: Chevrolet's new linkage-type Power Steering* carries a reduced price!

Apply the brakes like this . . . or have power make it easier?

Improved brakes and new swing-type pedals make stopping a cinch. And Chevrolet's exclusive Anti-Dive control gives you "heads up" stops!

Chevrolet Power Brakes* are better than ever this year—let you stop by a simple pivot of your foot from accelerator to swing-type brake pedal.

Position the seat yourself . . . or let electricity do it?

Chevrolet's big, beautifully upholstered front seat moves up and forward or down and back into your most comfortable driving position.

No worry about your battery in a new Chevrolet. It's the only car in its field with the reserve power of a 12-volt electrical system!

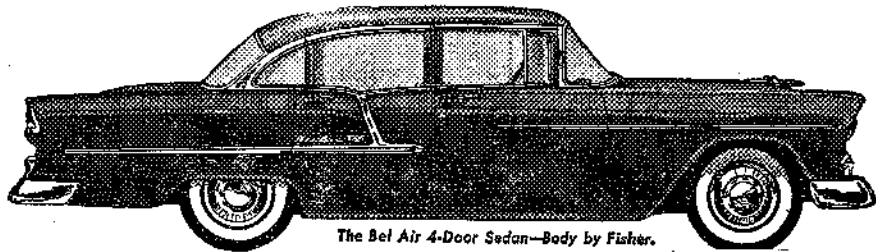

Automatically—

Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars! What's a high-priced car got that Chevrolet hasn't? Not automatic power features. Not style—just look below. Not performance—just try out Chevrolet's new V8 or one of the new 6's. Not ride —perhaps the thing that will surprise you most is Chevrolet's fine, solid feel on the road. Come put it to the test. See how Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars in every way!

CARS ARE MY Life

By H. M. Bulen

It's sometimes a good idea, before you start shopping around, to figure out in a general way what kind of a car would suit you best, a big car, a small car, a 6 or 8-cylinder, a sedan, coupe or two-door.

Coupes are ideal for young married people with no family to load up. They're good for the young fellow who does a lot of weekend driving. They have lots of room for packing things around, if that's one of the reasons you want a car.

A two-door sedan is a good idea for a family with children. There are no door handles in the back seat for inquisitive hands to tinker with. Some police departments buy nothing but two-door sedans with the same thing in mind. The prisoner can't suddenly drop out of sight.

Then you have to make the decision between a 6 or 8-cylinder car. The more power and weight, the less economy. The more economy, the less power and weight.

In long drives, it's actually the steady, tiny vibrations from engine and road that tire you out, not big jolts and bumps. Eight-cylinder engines vibrate less than sixes, so if you make a lot of long trips, you should seriously consider a big car.

Besides showing you the tried and tested used cars we have on our lot, our men are ready to help you find out what kind of car you need most. They know their cars, and they know what their cars are made for. Even if you're not in the market yet, drop around and you can soak up a lot of free advice.

Remember too, when you are looking for a Used Car or Truck to check the reputation of the Dealer. We have been doing business at the "Same Old Stand" since 1937. Hope to continue till David (now six) can take over. We can only do that by giving satisfaction. Every car or truck over $300.00 guaranteed in writing. We'll do our best to satisfy you. As I've said we don't have many "Screamers."

Free classes in work-simplification techniques, to teach Tuscola County homemakers to do their daily housework simpler and easier with less strain on their hearts, will be offered in Caro starting April 4. The series will be sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association in cooperation with the Michigan State College Extension Service, according to Frank Van Schoick, M. D., Jackson, president of the association.

The announcement is of special importance to all women who are incapacitated or disabled by heart disease.

"Most people can enjoy the luxury of extra time and energy that results from finding better and easier ways of doing things," Dr. Van Schoick stated, "but for the homemaker with heart disease, the saving of time and energy is an absolute necessity."

The work-simplification classes, which are free community services of the Michigan Heart Association, are designed to fill the doctor's prescription of "take it easy" by showing the homemaker how to save as much as 75% of her walking, 75% of her movements and 60% of her reaching. This tremendous saving of time and energy means lessening the strain placed on the heart by reducing the physical effort expended by the homemaker.

Mrs. Ruth C. Kettunen of the Michigan State College home management staff conducts the classes. She emphasized that the classes are designed to benefit any economic level and that it is not necessary to remodel a home in order to conserve the homemaker's time and energy.

"Any homemaker can learn to 'take it easy' while doing her various household tasks," Mrs.

Kettunen said, "by merely following the work-simplification techniques, principles and ideas taught in the cardiac homemaker classes."

The course is available to every woman in the county, although heart patients will be given first listing. Homemakers in this area may register for the free classes by writing to Jean E. Gillies, county home demonstration agent, courthouse, Caro, or by calling Caro 330.

Each homemaker attends four (two-hour) lecture-demonstration classes which will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays, April 4, 6, 11 and 13. The classes will be held in the VFW Hall, Caro. The meetings will begin promptly at 9:30 a. m. and end at 11:30 a. m.

Cardiac homemakers are urged to obtain their application blanks this week from the Home Demonstration Agent in order that they may attend the first class on April 4. There is a brief section of the application blank, for housewives with heart disease, which must be completed by the attending Doctor of Medicine, indicating the physical restrictions recommended for the patient. This information is for the guidance of the work-simplification consultant only. No medical advice, diagnosis, treatment or examination is given in the cardiac homemakers classes.

The Tuscola County Medical Society has endorsed the entire program and Doctors of Medicine are urged to refer their patients to the classes.

All application blanks must be returned to Miss Gillies no later than Monday, March 28, in order for the homemaker to be enrolled in the first class.

Frederick Martin Among MSC Short Course Graduates

The following students from Tuscola County were among 230 graduates from the Michigan

Frederick Martin.

Vassar; Wallace Hecht, Vassar; Frederick Martin, Cass City; Ray Schlattman, Mayville; and Bernard Thurston, Vassar.

Alfred P. Ballweg, Tuscola County agricultural agent, points out Frederick Martin has completed the winter term of the dairy production short course and Bernard Thurston completed the agricultural engineering short course. The remainder of the students listed above have completed the winter term of general agricultural short course for the past eight weeks.

Charles Feenstra, state senator from Kent County and a graduate of the MSC short course in 1914, was the speaker for the commencement program. Dean of Agriculture T. K. Cowden awarded the graduating certificates.

Cowden also presented citations from the MSC short course department to Senator Feenstra and Garfield Farley, 1904 short course student.

The short course department has held classes in three terms of agricultural short courses this winter and three specializing courses—in agricultural engineering, fruit production and dairy, agent Ballweg adds.

MORE PEOPLE BOUGHT FORD CARS IN 1954 than any other make!

Ford passenger-car sales to customers outnumbered those of any other make by thousands*

AND IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY!

Ford is the leader in styling

Motorists know that Ford has set the style trend in the industry for years. And now, with styling inspired by the fabulous Thunderbird, Ford is farther out front than ever!

Ford is the leader in V-8 power

Ford was first in its field (by 23 years) to provide the advantages of V-8 power. Since that time, Ford has built over 14,000,000 V-8 engines—more than all other makers combined! For 1955, Ford offers two new and mighty V-8's, as well as a most modern Six—all with the split-second response of Trigger-Torque power!

Ford is the leader in ride

Ford was first in its field to introduce Ball-Joint Front Suspension—the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years. And, for '55, it's even better. Springs are set at an angle to smooth out even the tiniest bumps. It's the new Ford Angle-Poised Ride.

FORD IS THE LEADER IN ALL THE FEATURES THAT MAKE YOUR CAR WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT - WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT

Fertilizer Needs For Corn Varies

Farmers who have had their soil tested by the county testing laboratory will be in good shape for ordering wisely, comments Quentin R. Ostrander, Tuscola County assistant agricultural agent. For those who haven't had a chance to get the tests, agent Ostrander passes along these suggestions.

The amount of nitrogen fertilizer may be less if a good legume is plowed down. If a good manure covering went into the corn land, the amount of fertilizer may be cut still more.

Farmers are reminded that the nitrogen amount is dependent upon the plowed down legume and manure and the number of plants per acre. The Michigan State College farm cropland recommends 12 to 16,000 plants per acre, depending on soil fertility. They've found that the more plants—up to these numbers—the more profitable the crop will be. Nitrogen will pay back two to five times its cost if put on the right time in the right way, but there must be enough of the other plant foods. Planting time fertilizers should be applied at 150-200 pounds per acre of such grades as 5-20-20, 4-24-12, or their equivalents.

The best time to put on nitrogen alone is after planting. Any of the generally used nitrogen fertilizers are equally effective. The important considerations are cost of nitrogen, convenience and supply.

LIVE IT UP

Vacationers often spend a few weeks on resort sands and the rest of the year on the rocks.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Michigan's top educators are fanning out over the state to find at the grass roots level what the federal government can do for the school system.

Booming enrollments have jammed classrooms. School districts are faced with the task of providing more space.

The dilemma has reached from the country school district which needs another building to Washington, where President Eisenhower has drafted tentative plans for a gigantic school aid program.

"We've got to find out exactly what is needed in Michigan," said Dr. Clair L. Taylor, superintendent of public instruction.

Taylor and school superintendents of the state have combined with other government experts on all levels to prepare the information for the 1955 White House Conference on Education.

The Conference Program, was organized in January and local schoolmen begin to collect data on their own needs, preparing to funnel it through regional meetings and a later state meeting.

Michigan will send 26 delegates to the White House Conference next November, one for each $1,000 turned over by the federal government for expenses.

The plight of Michigan's schools will be a reflection from the local districts of the predictions voiced by Taylor for the past two years.

Taylor said Michigan will need 2,000 more classrooms annually for the next four years and qualified teachers to man them.

"Michigan's problems include the need for classrooms, the training of teachers, higher salaries to attract new talent to the profession and an understanding of the needs by the public," he said.

At the same time, Michigan's legislature is shaping the state's educational finance program to fit whatever federal aid that is forthcoming after the White House Conference.

Committees of both chambers are working on higher education problems of overcrowded campuses. One expert said $150,000,000 would be needed within 15 years to provide just the needed buildings.

"We have a crisis in education in Michigan and we must take the leadership and responsibility in providing an answer to it," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

Great Lakes resort areas will be under investigation in the next few weeks in a fight over state-owned land.

Michigan was given ownership of all submerged lands when it was admitted to the union and an 1899 law passed by the legislature dedicated everything underwater to hunting and fishing.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh assigned an assistant, Nicholas V. Olds, to find out why the law had been ignored and cities and private interests were filling in shoreland to extend their holdings.

"They're trespassing, and that's the only definition under the law," Olds said.

The first blow was struck at St. Clair Shores where Olds took developers of the offshore land into court to restrain them from filling in more lake bottom.

Later, reports began filtering in from Saginaw Bay, Tawas City, Alpena, Traverse City and Benton Harbor.

"There may be a lot more places we don't know about yet, but we'll find them," Olds said.

Plans are underway to permit those who already have developed the filled-in land to purchase it from the state and obtain clear titles. Another phase of the proposal would enable the conservation department to issue permits for future fill-ins.

Michigan insurance experts devastated the male ego with a few nice words about women drivers.

They said that women drivers under 25 were better insurance risks when behind the wheel than either men or women over 25.

Adding weight to the statement, the National Bureau of Underwriters ordered liability insurance rate cuts for policies covering cars driven by ladies under 25.

Another major factor in the announcement of the deductions was the rate cut for those drivers who had completed recognized driver-training courses in schools or colleges.

Legislators can park near their work these days without searching for a commercial lot near the capitol or challenging the efficiency of nearby parking meters.

Cutting through the carpet-like lawn behind the capitol, workmen have created another 150 parking spaces which add to the 110 already in use closer in.

The new lot was opened the first day of the 1955 legislative session, rushed to partial completion the day before. It still needs some work. Said Controller James W. Miller: "It will be blacktopped after the spring thaws."

Elmwood Group Meets Wednesday

The Elmwood Home Demonstration group met March 9 with Mrs. James Milligan for an all day meeting. Mrs. Wm. Anker conducted the business meeting in the forenoon. Fourteen members and one guest, Miss Florence Smith, answered roll call by telling "What I Learned About My Country" at the last meeting.

Council member, Mrs. Theo Hendrick, gave her report.

Mrs. Anker, in behalf of the Gagetown Women's Study Club, invited members to a meeting of the Club, May 16.

Purchase of a memorial plaque for servicemen of Elmwood Township was discussed. Several groups are working on this project.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Grover Laurie, Mrs. John Anker and Mrs. Garfield Leishman, served the noon meal.

Mrs. Donald Wurm and Mrs. Stanley Walters gave the lesson on "Quickie or Thrifty Meals" and demonstrated a quick-made pumpkin pie. An interesting discussion as to cost and time-saving ideas followed the lesson.

The next meeting will be April 20 with Mrs. Theo Hendrick.
