After having nearly decided to drop the annual home-coming in the village, the Cass City Chamber of Commerce voted Monday evening to definitely hold the event again this year.

Plans were started of the meeting to improve the show for the benefit of area farmers. Receiving special attention this year will be the evening show.

Board members said that they felt that the professional acts that have furnished the bulk of the evening entertainment are no longer sufficient to please the crowds that swarm to the park each year.

In its place will be a home-talent show. In the past, about $800 has been used for the evening show. This money, used for prizes to contestants, is expected to draw some of the top amateur talent in the Thumb and provide residents and visitors with top entertainment.

Other plans for a bigger and better show this summer include a greatly enlarged parade, new rides for the kiddies and several new booths.

Last year the home-coming cost the Chamber of Commerce $855.93. The financial report shows that $1,166.78 was spent on the one-day event, while a total of $310.85 was collected from all sources.

The financial report also showed that the organization spent a total of $747.41 on the Christmas displays and pageant.

Jack Laurie, Cass City, won the trophies for the grand champion female and the best udder cow. Foster Hickey of Fairgrove won the junior champion female class and competed with Jack for the two awards. Foster Hickey won, for the third consecutive time, the trophy for the three best females bred by the exhibitor, so Foster can keep this trophy now. Also, Foster took first placing over eight entries for the senior yearling heifer class, and a first place in the cows five years and over class.

The Cass City Lions Club this week announced the results of the vision screening test recently completed at Cass City Grade School and set Saturday, April 30, as the day for local participation in White Cane Week, to be held in the state April 24-30.

White Cane Week is the drive that helps pay for the Lions' sight conservation program locally and throughout the nation.

This year the club will have canisters in stores in the village and Lion members working to raise funds for the project.

The recent program at the school cost the club more than was collected in the first drive here last year, President Harry Little said this week.

The campaign at the school proved to be of benefit in this community, according to the report received this week from Ethel C. Miller of Vassar, who conducted the tests.

A total of 75 students of the 467 who took the test failed the examination. Each of these children were given another test to eliminate the opportunity for error in the examination.

Of the 75, 50 were referred to a doctor for care. Children who failed the test and were not referred to a doctor are those who have had new glasses within a year and are at present under a doctor's care.

The tests included children wearing glasses and 16 of these pupils were found to have defective vision.

Authorities of the Lions said that the club plans to see that each child that needs corrected vision receives the proper care. They said that if the cost is too great for the family, the club would pay the expenses incurred.

The club expects to carry the sight program into adjoining townships. They are responsible for Elmwood, Elkland, Ellington and Novesta townships. They expect to conduct tests in all of the rural grade schools as soon as

From the Editor's Corner

We are happy that the Chamber of Commerce has decided to continue the home-coming in the village. We always felt that it gave residents and former residents an opportunity to become reacquainted and for that reason, if for no other, was worthwhile.

Having the home-coming with the 4-H and FFA livestock show makes the show more attractive to area youth. The fact that it is held for just one day is another advantage to the exhibitors. It is much easier on the animals exhibited than shows that last as long as a week.

If the changes proposed are carried out, we believe that this year's event will be the best since the home-coming was inaugurated six years ago.

The Kingston game and Monday's tilt with Unionville are expected to give the Hawk mentor an opportunity to iron out the kinks in the squad before the Hawks enter conference competition with Crosswell-Lex Thursday, April 28.

The Vennard A Cappella choir of Chicago Evangelistic Institute, University Park, Iowa, will present a concert of sacred music at Kingston High School auditorium, Monday, April 18, at 8:00 p. m.

Fire Department Called Four Times In Two Days

After two months without a fire alarm in the village, the Elkland Township Fire Department answered four calls in two days last week . . . three of them on Friday.

The department had not been called since Feb. 5 when they were called to extinguish four minor blazes.

Three of the first were of the grass variety. At 11:20 a. m. Friday, they quelled a blaze at the Noah Farmer farm, three miles south and a half mile west of Cass City.

Friday at 1:25 p. m. they were called to the Nick Miller home, four miles east, four miles south and a half mile east of Cass City. While burning rubbish in a container, a fire went out of control and spread to a hay stack near a barn. The fire department prevented the blaze from destroying the barn.

Friday evening the department answered a call to the Bob Neiman farm, two and a half miles west of Cass City. A tractor caught fire in a shed on the farm. Mr. Neiman pulled it out of the garage with a second tractor, saving the building.

On Saturday, the department checked burning brush and logs on a vacant lot on South Seeger Street in Cass City.

WSC Holds Annual Spring Breakfast

Mrs. Floyd Reid was hostess to the members and several guests of the Woman's Study Club at the annual spring breakfast of the group Tuesday morning at nine o'clock.

McLeellan and Mrs. A. Boag. The meal was served at small tables, which were centered by bouquets of forsythia, pussy willows and colored egg shells resembling flowers.

During the business session, a contribution to The Cross at Cairo, Ill., was voted and a miscellaneous program was the choice of the members for the coming year.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Girl Scout rooms when reports of state and county delegates will be given.

Mrs. J. Franklin Beck of Grand Island, New York, was an out-of-town guest.

Richville Lions to Hold Charter Night

The Richville Lions Club will be chartered on Wednesday evening, April 20, at St. Michael's Memorial Lutheran Hall in Richville. Robert D. Wyatt, principal of the Burroughs School in Detroit, will be the speaker.

The Richville Lions Club, according to Herbert Kern, president of the newly-organized club, is the fifth Lions Club in Tuscola County and is the third Lions Club to be organized within about a year in this county. In December, 1953, a new club was organized at Kingston, which was followed by Cass City in April 1954. Frankemuth and Birch Run, also new clubs in this same county, which now brings to a total of nine Lions Clubs in this zone serviced by Rudolph E. Todd of Caro, zone chairman.

First and Second Grades

County Students to Receive Polio Shots

Students in the first and second grades in schools in Tuscola County will receive the new Salk poliomyelitis vaccine starting April 19, when the first of three inoculations will be given. The second shot is scheduled for April 26 and the final inoculation will be administered May 24.

No child in the county will receive the vaccine without the written permission of a parent or guardian. Forms are now being distributed to the parents and each child must have the form signed and returned before the inoculation will be given. Dr. Donald E. Gilbert, of Mayville, county director of the program, said today.

After permission has been granted, the children will be transported from school by a school bus to one of the vaccination centers in the county nearest the school they attend.

All permission forms must be returned to the school children attend, Dr. Gilbert said.

The vaccine will be administered free to the children in the selected grades. The vaccine was purchased by the National Polio Foundation and has been licensed by the National Institutes of Health.

Tuesday Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., announced his conclusions of the tests taken last year and said that the vaccine was safe and about 80 to 90 per cent effective.

Some authorities believe that the new vaccine will eventually stamp out polio.

Although the grade students selected will receive three shots in a little over a month, Dr. Francis said, announced Tuesday that his vaccine will be even more effective if two shots are taken within a week and the third not administered for a period of seven or eight months. He said that taken this way, the vaccine should provide protection for many years.

Local doctors have reported that a limited amount of the vaccine will be available for children not in the first and second grades.

There will be a charge for the vaccine administered privately. The drug alone is said to cost about $6. By the end of a year, authorities expect that there will be enough of the vaccine for everyone.

One of the greatest accomplishments of the American automobile industry has been to bring ownership of a car within sight of everyone.

A lot of things have made it possible to put a car, or two cars, in every home. I have a sneaking hunch that just about the most important of all was the introduction of the self-starter in 1911.

It made the car really a family car for the first time, because a woman could handle it, and she didn't have to take along a chauffeur. That's probably something you've never thought of before, that a woman couldn't take the kids to school, or go shopping, in the family car before the self starter came on the scene.

The self starter saved a lot of broken arms, too, and made the car a friend instead of a stubborn, inhuman beast that had to be constantly battled. It helped change the world's whole attitude to the motor car.

Like a lot of things we now take for granted on every car, the self starter was introduced by General Motors. That famous milestone followed another first in 1910, when GM started making the first closed bodies in any volume.

That was really something, because even by 1919 nine out of 10 cars made were still open models.

Sometimes in the hurry-burly of living just for today, we forget the valuable lessons from the past. You can see today the value and the leadership that's been packed into Chevrolets, but that becomes a little less surprising when you remember that it's always been that way.

Spring came a little early in Michigan this year, and, IT'S WONDERFUL. This is the time to get out in a new Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, or a Good, Guaranteed OK Used Car.

Come in, we'll do our best to give you your "money's worth." As I've said before, we satisfy most of the people, as proven by the number of people who have bought through us many times. We'd like to add your name to the list. Won't you let us try?

Electricity May Be Fire Hazard

Electricity around the farm can be a big help and time-saver—or it can lead to a lot of trouble if you try to abuse it, reminds Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

He points out that surveys in some of the neighboring states show that electricity is one of the most misused farm conveniences. Half the fire hazards were due to overloaded fuses and faulty wiring in one nearby state. In another state, over 40 per cent of the farmsteads were improperly fused.

Ballweg says that April is the time to check on the electrical defects—it's Spring Cleanup Time. He passes along these hints from David Steinhilke, farm safety specialist at Michigan State College.

Clean motors, fuse boxes and switches of dust and cobwebs. Don't let shavings, bags and oily rags pile up near electrical devices.

Check the connections on appliances and motor-driven equipment to make sure they are clean. Tighten the connections and replace frayed cords.

Use only 15 ampere fuses in branch light circuits. Have separate power circuits for large motors and other heavy appliances.

As a final precaution, don't neglect to have a competent electrician check the farm to be sure the wiring system is adequate to carry the electrical load safely.

California Ranger Alfalfa Acceptable

Certified, recommended alfalfa varieties, grown in California, are "okay" to plant in Michigan, reports Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Farm cropmen at Michigan State College have been receiving inquiries from Michigan farmers asking whether it's advisable to sow California-grown Ranger. Farmers have been advised in the past not to purchase southern seed because it isn't winter-hardy. This does not apply in the case of California Ranger seed, however.

Alfalfa grown from such seed is winter-hardy under Michigan conditions, says Milton Erdman, Michigan State College farm cropsman. However, California common alfalfa seed is still not recommended for Michigan. It's not suited to Michigan winters.

LAWS FOR OTHERS
Objections raised by many people to enacting new laws is the impossibility of making them apply only to the other fellow.

A WinPower Rotary Cultivator will increase farm income more than any other farm implement. It will increase wheat yields up to 5 bu. per a. when used in the spring to loosen, aerate and mulch the soil. Two sections towed behind the plow backwards will pack and fit the ground 3 times behind a two bottom plow or twice behind a 3 bottom. It will do 2 to 3 times better, faster and cheaper work when used to harrow the seed bed between plowing and planting. It is a deadly weed killer. It will get more weeds, mulch the soil better, make the crop grow faster and stay greener, when used after the crop is up. It will nearly double yield of second cutting hay when used immediately after the first cutting is off, thru creating a deep mulch that prevents the hot summer sun from baking the soil. It pulls easy, takes less gas on more acres in less time, a smaller tractor can be used with less soil packing. You can count acres worked per hour instead of per day. We are waiting for the word to bring one out.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago.

An interesting article and picture tells of the early development of Cass City. It was Nov. 18, 1882, that the first locomotive of the Pontiac, Oxford and Port Austin R. R. coughed its way dramatically into town. Two years later the first elevator was built by Anson G. Burney. After several changes in ownership this became the present Frutchey Bean Co.

At the special election Saturday, voters stood 265 to 125 in favor of the proposition to bond School District No. 5, 'Elkland Township, for $125,000 to build a new early elementary school.

The Cass City Hospital is being remodeled so that there will be 18 beds and a larger waiting room. Another improvement is the remodeling and enlarging of the Prieskorn Building which was the temporary quarters of the Pinney State Bank until a few weeks ago.

Roger Parrish was one of the local musicians who participated in the festival at East Lansing Saturday, April 1, and received an "A" rating on his accompaniment.

Ten Years Ago.

Forty guests were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Schwaderer Friday evening. Among the group were the following state officials: Dr. Chas. S. Kennedy, Detroit, regent-elect of the University of Michigan; Herman Dignan, secretary of state; Chas. Figg, commissioner of agriculture; Fred C. Striffler, budget director, and Wm. Doyle, Mackinac park commissioner.

Tuscola County's quota for the seventh war loan is $1,488,000; Cass City's quota is $148,800 and Gagetown's is $59,320.

At the annual congregational meeting of the Presbyterian Church held recently, R. A. McNamee was elected to life membership, honoring his years of faithful service.

Tuscola County Red Cross payments were 122% of quota with all but one township meeting or exceeding their allotments.

Henry Mathews, Chas. H. Baker and Ernie Bradley, serving as a board of determination, decided on April 5 that the Brady drain in Wells Township was necessary and so stated in their declaration.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Miss Hazel Hower has been engaged to teach the Brown school for the coming year. It is located two miles south and two miles west of Cass City. Miss Hower's great-grandfather, William H. Brown, homesteaded that section of land years ago and the school was later named after him.

Between 950 and 1000 pupils of Tuscola County rural schools will take the regular county 7th and 8th grade examinations on May 16 and 16.

L. C. Carpenter, 82-year-old proprietor of the drug store at Silverwood, captured a burglar and kept him lying on the floor with his arms extended over his head for half an hour, until Sheriff Earl Lamphere arrived.

Miss Bernita Taylor, a sophomore in Cass City High School, won first place in declamations at the sub-district contest comprising Tuscola and Huron counties.

Adolph Nitz, 25-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nitz, was drowned late Sunday afternoon while setting nets from a motor boat in Saginaw Bay, a short distance from Sebewaing.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

The busiest corner in town this week is at the intersection of Main and West Streets where J. C. Farrell has a force of men "planting" a 15,000-gallon electric welded steel tank for his gasoline station.

All teachers for the coming year have already been hired. L. O. Hoxie will again be superintendent of schools and his salary will be $2200.

S. W. Striffler, who has been in the general mercantile business at Argyle for over 28 years, has sold his store building and stock to James Perkins of that town.

The farmers surrounding Gagetown and immediate vicinity are organizing a stock shipping association to be operated from Gagetown. About 100 members have already subscribed and it is planned to start shipping stock in about two weeks.

The Dan Schneider residence property on West St. has been sold to Mrs. Elizabeth Carolan. T. J. Auten & Son have dissolved partnership in the grocery business. Delbert, the son, has purchased the 80-acre farm of L. L. Wheeler in Novesta Township and will devote his entire time to farming. L. J. Auten will continue the grocery under his own name.

A scientist says people who eat meat are savages—and we say that at present prices they have to be either rich or lucky.

Rev. C. A. Parker Dies at Bay City

The Rev. Cletus A. Parker, superintendent of the Bay City district of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, died Friday morning at 10 o'clock in General Hospital, Bay City.

He was born in Huron County Aug. 6, 1901, the son of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Parker, of Cass City and was married to the former Edna Wolf in Owendale July 27, 1927.

Rev. Parker had been pastor of the Mack Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church of Detroit, had served seven years on the Ida circuit of the denomination, and had been pastor of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church of Pontiac for 12 years, before moving to Bay City.

He leaves besides his widow and parents, two daughters, Mrs. Audrey Flachsmann, of Ewart, and Mrs. Phyllis Silvernail of Naperville, Illinois; and a sister, Mrs. Freida Maxwell, of Pontiac.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church, with the Rev. A. M. Bailey officiating. Burial was in Huron County Grant Township Cemetery, Gagetown.

Use Care When Planting Oats

Don't plant oats more than one and a half inches deep, reminds Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Milton Erdmann, an extension farm cropsman at Michigan State, points out that the oat seed furnishes the food to get the plant to the surface. If the seed is too deep, the plant may never see daylight. That's especially true in heavy soils, he emphasizes.

Money talks—but never loud enough to give itself away.

Fertilizer Important For Good Gardens

Here are some garden tips to help you make your "green thumb" greener.

If you think your garden had a sparse look last year, maybe it's because you haven't handled your soil right, suggests Alfred P. Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Too many gardeners apply lime to their plots when it isn't necessary—in fact, it may be harmful, points out John Shickluna, head of Michigan State College's soil testing laboratory.

Gardens, he adds, usually get enough calcium and magnesium from waterings without adding lime. Shickluna says that another common mistake is to apply nitrogen fertilizer alone on a garden when the soil needs phosphorus and potash, too.

If you want to make sure what your soil needs in the way of lime and fertilizers, get a soil test, he advises. You can take samples of your soil to the county soil testing laboratory or send them to the soil testing laboratory at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Let people know you as you are—not as you imagine you are.

How's Your Budget?

THESE ARE TRYING TIMES for the family paycheck, and the lady of the house has a man's job when it comes to balancing her budget.

She has a friend and helper in the truck, however, for, although she may not realize it, motor transport helps keep the cost of living down by cutting transportation costs.

The average family spends more for transportation than for any other item save food. So it is clear that the ability of trucks to increase the efficiency of moving goods of all kinds results in substantial savings to the consumer.

The thing we have to guard against is allowing politicians to increase taxes on trucks beyond the more than fair share they're already paying, for, you see, every tax increase on trucks actually comes right out of the people's pocketbooks in increased prices for everything they buy.

Milk House Meets Several Needs

One-Room Unit Easy To Build, Cost Low

Higher standards usually bring about better products, for which the consumer is willing to pay a better price. A case in point is the modern milk house, which helps the dairy farmer produce a Grade A product for the best available price.

A properly designed and constructed milk house with cooling tank performs several important functions for the farmer. It supplies a place in which milk can be handled without contamination or absorption of odors. Multiplication of bacteria is discouraged. There are efficient facilities for cleaning equipment and a sanitary storage place for buckets, milking equipment, strainers and other utensils.

Milk house such as the one shown above can be economically and easily constructed, will serve many uses. House shown is 12 x 12, plans for which are made available by manufacturer.

The one-room milk house shown in the accompanying sketch meets these basic requirements. It is of simple frame construction on a concrete foundation. Outside walls are Masonite 1/4" Preswood and the inside lining is of the same material, 3/16-inch thick. Cut to size, the panels go on rapidly and hold paint well.

White paint is used inside, making a sparkling, easily cleaned interior which can be hosed down. The walls and ceiling are insulated.

An efficient but inexpensive milk house like the one shown (12x12 foot) can be constructed from plans made available by most local dealers. The farmer unsuccessfully trying to produce Grade

A milk with inadequate facilities would be wise to investigate.

Animal Medicine Made Progress Last Year

America now has nearly 17,000 veterinarians, 65 per cent in private practice and 17 per cent in government service, including military, according to a report by the AVMA.

The association reported continued forward strides in animal medicine during the past year, including:

Use of hormone drugs, ACTH or cortisone to treat common intoxication of dairy cows, due to faulty metabolism.

A continued effort was made against rabies . . . and increased attention was focused on rabies among wild animals. In one group of seven central states 226 cases of rabies were among skunks, 56 among other wild animals, 141 cattle, 87 cats and 88 dogs.

Re-inoculation of a cow's paunch by transferring part of the "cud" from a healthy cow.

A fatal neurosis of sheep, known as "scrapie" continued to spread, entering three more states during the year.

In combating hog cholera, only 36 per cent as much virulent virus was used in the last year as in the past.

The swine maldy, vesicular exanthema, seems to have been eradicated from all but six states, California, New Jersey, New York and 3 New England states. Garbage cooking has helped combat this, as well as combating hog cholera and trichinosis.

J. Wayne Green Demonstrates Some Causes of Baldness

What is Your Reason for BALDNESS

Demonstration To Be Held In Cass City, Michigan

Offers Written Guarantee

WICHITA (Special — J. Wayne Green, Director of Rogers, Hair Experts, exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

In some cases "Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Green. Not every man need be bald and suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair.

C. T. Matlock, a valuable member of the staff of Rogers, will make a personal appearance to counsel with hair worried men and women in an effort to do constructive work in restoring their hair to full length and density.

Demonstration To Be Held In Cass City, Michigan

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Cass City, Michigan, Sunday Only, April 24, at the New Gordon Hotel.

C. T. Matlock will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9:00 p. m. on Sunday ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason for Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," he continued. "Members of Rogers' Hair Experts agree hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair." Men, and yes, women, too, walk the streets today completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair, simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," he emphasized, "is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case, they feel baldness would be a rarity today!"

Heredity Not Involved

Green dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is hereditary stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an under-nourished scalp." The purpose of the Rogers Hair Experts is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp, and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. "A healthy scalp will grow hair if it is not already completely bald," assures Green.

Is There Hope For The Completely Bald

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Green has collected hundreds of testimonials of his ability to help hair worried individuals with this revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp. All of his clients have started with a private consultation, hair and scalp analysis, and his stated reasons for the disorder. Green is quick however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise," says Green, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair."

Offers A Guarantee

"Rogers, America's Foremost Hair and Scalp Consultants, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Green. "We must have satisfied clients. After all, they are the basis of making our work worthwhile."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call C. T. Matlock at the New Gordon Hotel in Cass City, Michigan, Sunday ONLY, from 12 noon to 9:00 p. m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Profit-making business again will be asked to pick up the check for state government.

Just how much will be needed for 1955-56 is still in doubt and the qualified guesses range all the way from $14 million to $46 million a year.

"We're going to ask business to help us find the new revenue," said Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo).

Morris, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, named the first 41 of a possible 60 members of a new citizen group, heavily laden with business and industrial executives from Detroit.

In the wind is some tinkering with Michigan's $30 million a year business activities tax, adopted two years ago in a flurry of political name-calling and confusion.

Co-authors of the tax were Alan L. Gormick, of the Ford Motor Co., and S. M. DuBrul, of General Motors Corp., who were members of the former citizen group and now prominent figures on Morris' new advisory panel.

Ex-Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) is also listed. He was chairman of the tax committee before Morris and is considered the legislative father of the business activities tax.

Democrats still are insisting, though not so vehemently, on Gov. Williams' $101 million corporations profits tax, a goal for the last seven years.

Another possibility is the revival of the "Princeton Plan" of two years ago, a survey report which proposed such things as increased taxes on beer, pop and several other "nuisance" levies.

Over in the House, Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), is thinking along the same line as chairman of the house tax committee.

Whatever happens, business is going to be asked to make up the difference between the $292 million budget offered by Williams and the existing revenue.

Insurance breaks continue to come for cars driven by milady.

A few weeks ago, the National Bureau of Underwriters slashed premiums for liability coverage on cars driven by the wife of the insured—and perhaps his daughter under 25.

Going a step farther, the bureau last week decreed that the wife or husband of the policy-holder could have the same rights under liability coverage as the insured.

The bureau handles policies covering "the majority of cars in Michigan," said Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre.

"When the bureau moves, the independents generally move in the same direction," he said.

Within a year, insurance experts expect the independents to make the same decision and "eventually all cars in Michigan will probably get the extended benefits," said Navarre.

Weeks will pass before the House will make a decision on Michigan's 306-page school code, a streamlined set of laws which are certain to start fresh controversies.

Part of the battle is an attempt to bypass state equalized valuation of property for computing school taxes and a complicated system for collecting them and appealing the assessments.

The Senate defeated a proposal to permit counties whose boundaries bisect school districts to ignore state equalized valuation. It is certain to be revived in the house.

Another battle is expected over the ban on high school fraternities and sororities, written into the code in the Senate at the request of Detroit teachers, Parent-

Teacher groups and others. Teachers for years have fought secret societies, claiming they create cliques among students.

Decentralization of education to meet growing demands of increasing numbers of students has become the goal of Senator Don VanderWerp (R-Fremont).

He will direct a study of the feasibility of state aid to parochial colleges, junior and community colleges this summer.

The idea was born of crisis, the plight of four-year colleges which expect to be overwhelmed by doubled enrollments by 1970. Instead of building the big colleges, VanderWerp figures the smaller schools could take over the first two years of higher education.

"That would make the present four-year schools available for the advanced work," he said.

Toward that end, VanderWerp is getting started on a committee to study the problem this summer. He already has conferred with church-supported colleges, teachers' colleges and businessmen whom he hopes will offer ideas.

Food Consumption Survey Scheduled

A national survey to learn what foods families are eating in 1955 is to be made this spring, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today. Tuscola County has been selected as one of the places in which a cross section of households will be visited. The survey, to include approximately 6,000 households in 42 states, will be made for the Department by National Analysts, Inc., a private marketing research firm working under contract with the Department.

This new survey, dealing with home consumption of specific foods, is the first to include both city and rural households on a nationwide scale since the war year 1942, says Dr. Hazel K. Stiebeling, director of Human Nutrition and Home Economics

Research in the Department's Agricultural Research Service. The survey, Dr. Stiebeling explains, will provide current facts and figures needed by nutritionists, home economists, and market analysts. Such data provide a basis for educational programs to improve food use from a nutritional point of view and for finding out whether large groups of families have low consumption of important foods.

In each city or rural area selected in the sample, a representative of National Analysts will gather the facts on home consumption of specific foods between about April 1 and the end of June.

23 Tuscola Women In Cardiac Classes

Twenty-three Tuscola women met with Mrs. Ruth Kettunen of the home management department of Michigan State College last Monday to learn about taking it easy in the home. Mrs. Kettunen is presenting a series of four meetings designed to help cardiac patients learn ways to conserve their energy. The first meeting dealt with body mechanics. Work levels in the kitchen, chairs and stools and movable tables and carts were discussed. Other meetings will be concerned with work simplification in the kitchen, in cleaning and in laundry.

The Caro VFW post has donated the use of its building for these cardiac classes. The series is sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association in cooperation with the Michigan State College Extension Service.

She had come up with a solution: she would sell her old home, give George and Mary enough to put down on a fine new house—and move in with them. It never occurred to her to ask whether or not she would be welcome. She loved the Bassetts; they must also love her. It was that simple.

Today was the big day. Mrs. Milliken hummed contentedly as she combed her white hair. Suddenly a cry from downstairs put an end to her pleasant daydreams. She went to the door.

"Yoo — hoo, Mrs. Milliken!" Mary Bassett called excitedly from the lower porch.

"What is it, Mary?"

"Can you come down for a minute? The most wonderful thing has happened! George has just bought a new house!"

Mrs. Milliken's heart almost stopped beating. She grasped the porch rail to steady herself. Trying not to think, she made her way down the stairs.

A large blue-print covered the kitchen table. Drawing out a chair for the bewildered old lady, George began:

"See this square here?—that's our bedroom. Up in that corner is the parlor. And over here, across from the parlor, is the girls' bedroom; next to that is their fairy-godmother's room, and—"

"Their what?" interrupted Mrs. Milliken.

"Their fairy — oh, I'm sorry. That's what we call you in your absence. Hope you don't mind. Annie and Cathie always refer to you as 'fairy-godmother.'"

"Please say you'll go with us, mother Milliken," begged Mary. "We just couldn't think of breaking up a fine family like this. Rent this old house of yours, or sell it—or give it away; but do come with us. Our little girls need you."

"They need me?" asked Mrs. Milliken incredulously.

"Yes," George insisted, "they do. In fact they refuse to go without you, Mary and I feel the same way. How about it? Will you come with us?"

And, unrealistic though it may be, that's how Mrs. Milliken's dream came true.

SHORT STORY

Fairy Godmother

By F. L. Rowley

"THERE — it's done!" exclaimed the lawyer as his pen swept across the last of the papers. "You have sold your house, Mrs. Milliken. I hope you don't live to regret it."

"You think I'm a foolish old woman, don't you, Mr. Peters?"

"Let's say rather that I consider your plan to be most unrealistic. Your husband would turn over in his grave if he knew you were selling the house to play fairy godmother to a band of strangers."

"The Bassetts are not strangers," said the old lady softly. "They are my friends. Some-times I look upon them as my own family. George and Mary have never made a secret of wanting their own home. Now that I can provide the down payment I can hardly wait to break the news to them. Do you think they'll accept?"

"Of course they'll accept," said the lawyer wryly.

"I'll think it over," promised Mrs. Milliken as she reached for Mr. Peters' hat.

Peering through the small window that overlooked the street she watched the lawyer's car pull away. Then her eyes ran wistfully across the picture-dotted walls of the attic apartment.) All this would soon be nothing more than a pleasant memory.

"Of course he's right," she sighed. "He must think I'm childish. I only hope that George and Mary don't think so."

Although Mrs. Milliken would never have admitted it, she was afraid. The thought of being separated from her young tenants had haunted her for months. She had been dreadfully lonely in the big house before their arrival, and their talk of late had intimated that she was soon to be lonely again. The Bassetts, she knew, would soon be able to buy a home of their own. This alarming knowledge had forced the old lady to don her thinking cap.

She had come up with a solution: she would sell her old home, give George and Mary enough to put down on a fine new house—and move in with them. It never occurred to her to ask whether or not she would be welcome. She loved the Bassetts; they must also love her. It was that simple.

Mosquitoes Test Insecticides

Chemicals Used in Soil Being Tested

Ever think that mosquitoes, possibly the world's most universally hated insect, could be used to benefit mankind? Possibly not, but scientists at Oregon State college have found that mosquitoes are the key to a project designed to protect people.

The project is a testing program of various insecticides used to kill insects in the soil. Program objectives are to determine how much toxic, or poisonous residue, is still in the soil after the chemicals have done their work, and whether this will result in harmful effects or undesirable taste of crops planted in that soil. Such testing programs have been necessary for 30 years under the federal food and drug act.

Where do the mosquitoes come in? Because they are easily killed by modern insecticides, they are used to play an important role in detecting the amount of toxicity that has been transferred from the chemically-treated soil to vegetables or fruit grown in it.

This is the technique: Ten 5-day old mosquito larvae are put in a vial, 2 inches tall and about the size of a half-dollar, along with a portion of the vegetable or fruit being analyzed for toxicity. The larvae are fed on this for 24 hours. The number dead are then counted and compared with a standard—the amount of DDT necessary to kill the insect. The same process is repeated with increasing amounts of the material being tested.

Corn Belt May Face Corn Borer Infestation

Corn Belt farmers may be faced with a serious infestation of European corn borers if spring weather is favorable for this insect's development, say U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists.

This outlook is based on field surveys conducted last fall by 25 states infested by the corn borer, including those in the main Corn Belt.

Nationally, the infestation ranges westward from the Atlantic ocean to eastern Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, and from the Canadian border southward to northern South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

For 13 North Central States, corn borer populations last fall averaged 223 for every 100 corn stalks. This compares with an average of 114 per 100 stalks that were found in a similar survey made in the fall of 1953.

Somewhat offsetting this heavy infestation is a sharp drop in corn borer numbers in 12 Eastern states—from an average of 65 per 100 plants in 1953 to 33 last fall.

The insect was not reported from any new states (it is now known to occur in 37) but was reported from 18 counties not previously known to be infested.

Biggest problem areas are likely to occur in central Iowa, northeastern Nebraska, southeastern South Dakota and central Illinois. Sharp increases were recorded in smaller areas of Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, and South Dakota.

Buck Tamer

A buck which has lost its fear of man often becomes very hard to handle. But, he's easily tamed by using a piece of 2 x 6 and length of rope as shown. Rope should be long enough to allow board to rest on ground.

INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS
There is a right way to settle all international problems—the trouble is that too many nations are trying to avoid that way.

Women may be taking the place of newsmen in some cities—but that is nothing new in certain social circles.

Carelessness Cause Of Animal Disease

Hardware Disease Can Be Avoided

Some untidy farmers are actually responsible for diseases which affect their livestock. One such disease, known as "hardware disease" is on the increase, says the AVMA, and carelessness is the cause.

In 1953, clinics at twelve veterinary colleges reported an average of over 50 cases of hardware disease in cattle, while only two years earlier, reporting clinics averaged only 33 cases.

Hardware disease is a condition of cattle caused by the animal swallowing foreign bodies, especially sharp metal objects. A survey revealed that hardware disease is mainly a problem in full grown cattle since 93 per cent of the cases were over two years of age.

Cattle grazing open lands, as shown above, are often less exposed to "hardware disease" than animals which feed along littered and worn down fences where they pick up various types of foreign objects along with their food.

The penetrating foreign body was identified as wire in about 58 per cent of the cases, while some kind of nail was the cause in 38 per cent.

Magnet attachments are being used by feed manufacturers to remove metal particles from processed feed. They appear to be successful, the veterinary authorities report, but the magnets will not protect against the bits of wire strewn along farm fences or bits of metal straw around the barnyard or feedlot.

Periodic inspection and clean-up campaigns by the farmer will help keep down the incidence of hardware disease and such clean-ups should be made a regular feature in farm operations.

Crossbreeding Program For Hogs Supported

Swine growers will get better market hogs if they follow a crossbreeding program. S. W. Terrill, head of the swine division at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says results of nearly all experiments have consistently favored cross-breeds over non-crossbreeds.

One of the simplest ways to cross for market hogs is a rotation of three or four breeds or lines of boars. Use each boar until the gilts from his litters go into the breeding herd.

Then breed these gilts to a boar of the next breed or line in the rotation. You can still keep the older boar for breeding the dams of the gilts as long as you keep them in the herd.

Use purebred, topcross or "hybrid" (crosses and linecross) boars and buy breeding stock only from individuals or firms you consider reliable and that have healthy herds.

Buy also from firms or breeders who are making an effective selection for high quality, meaty hogs with good carcass quality. The blood lines should have the ability to produce rapid and efficient gains and the brood sows should fatten, wean and raise to market weight large numbers of pigs.

Look at production records and results of tests giving live backfat probes, slaughter feed and gain data.

Tractor Seat

Comfortable tractor seat made of suitable metal welded to pipe which telescopes into second piece of pipe, the latter welded to a plate for attachment to tractor frame. Coil is slipped over pipe assembly below the seat inches above the lower pipe and weight is then carried entirely on the spring.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that the person who doesn't say much has nothing to say.

BOWLING NEWS

Men's City League.

The Gremel Team topped the Asher squad from 1st place as they pounded out a three-game victory over the Copeland Team while Asher was dropping three games to Knoblet, who vaulted into 1st place by one point margin over the Gremel Crew. Gremel showed championship form as they put together games of 927-821-838 for a three-game total of 2586, with Hubbard shooting 559 on games of 231-156-172 for 559, Gregory 205-235-201 for a total of 641, while Captain Gremel produced a score of 585 on games of 197-178-210. Murray and H. Copeland hit 518 and 520 respectively for the losers. Knoblet and his pin spillers came up with three good games as they hit 2579 on games of 886, 881, 812. Smithson rolled 505, Kilbourn 561 with a 203 game, Zawilinski (137 average) hit 519 with a 219 high single game and Knoblet threw a 534 with his high game being 213. The Krueger team served notice that they are not to be counted out of this last round race as they whipped the Farmer team three games for four points, placing them in fourth position only three points out of first place. Juhasz tripped Wallace as they won three games with Benkelman rolling 513 with a high single of 223; Guinther hit 536 and also rolled a 221 single game for his best effort. Juhasz hit 500 on the nose. Parsch of the Wallace squad rolled 591 on games of 203, 215 and 173. Kolb took the measure of Gagetown by winning two games and totals with Tracey rolling 505. Wurm of the Gagetown team hit 520. Bartz and Dillman fought a close battle all the way. Bartz took the first game by two pins, tied the second, and then went on to win the third game by 27 pins.

The minor events of the Association Tournament were rolled last Friday and Saturday and from the competition came new champions in the doubles and singles events. Musall and Smithson, average bowlers in the 150's, emerged as doubles champions for 1955 with a total handicap pin fall of 1300, 46 pins above their 2nd place rivals, Joos and Hampshire, who fired 1253. Dick Dillman, whose present League average is 122, came through with a handicap total pin fall of 663 to top all bowlers in this division and will proudly wear the ABC Singles Champion Emblem, 1955. All-events champion of the tournament, Ike Parsch, gathered 1943 pins as he rolled 626 in the team event, 673 in the doubles and 649 in the singles.

The City League banquet will be held Thursday, May 12, at 7:00 in the gym of the Cass City High School. Various awards will be made and a program will follow the dinner. Place cards will be placed on the banquet tables and you will want to arrive early to locate your place at the table.

As in the past, those who bowled part of the season and left the league for various reasons, forfeit their eligibility for awards and banquet to the member who filled the vacancy. Men, who have substituted for absent members of the league in 21 games or more, will receive tickets to attend the banquet. It is hoped that 100 per cent attendance will be achieved. Your dues have made this banquet possible, so let's make it a big affair. Remember, this banquet is for League members and their wives. You members who are single, bring your "girl friend," your mother, aunt or cousin. Don't come alone. Make good use of your extra ticket. You paid for it so use it.
