

From the Editor's Corner

Although the Michigan Department of Conservation has received its share of criticism this year, we can testify that at least one of their officers is zealously on the job.

While smelt fishing Thursday evening, April 21, with a group of men from Cass City, we ran into one on a stream near Forest.

While we never stopped to think that a license was necessary for dipping smelt, we were lucky enough to have purchased one earlier for trout fishing.

Not so lucky were three of our companions who forgot that a license was needed. Alger Freiburger, Louis Bartz and Don Doerr were ticketed by the officer for fishing without a license and reported they were each fined a total of $12.80.

Ironically, both Mr. Bartz and Mr. Freiburger had planned to buy licenses for the coming trout season. Mr. Doerr said that Thursday was probably the only time this year he would do fishing of any kind.

Incidentally, the dipping was done about 100 yards from the lake where no license is required and where Mr. Bartz thought the group was going to dip.

Joe Tracy, employee at Walbro Corporation, has asked us to announce that another team or two is needed to complete a slow pitch women's softball league. Already signed are two teams from Walbro and one from Anrod Screen Cylinder Co. A slow pitch league is the same as regular softball except that the pitcher must throw the ball higher than the batter's head and have it fall across the plate.

Mr. Tracy pointed out that it is not necessary for a team to have uniforms... just balls, bats and gloves. At present, the three teams are playing practice games late Thursday afternoon. If one or two teams join and a regular league is formed, the teams are expected to play Thursday evenings, Mr. Tracy said.

All girls interested in playing can sign up by calling Walbro and leaving their name.

After having no program at all last year, it is possible that the village may turn out men's and women's softball leagues and a baseball team this year. Quite a change for the better, in our opinion.

Five to Leave for Army May 3

Five Tuscola County men will be inducted into the Armed Forces Tuesday, May 3, the Selective Service Board at Caro announced this week.

The five will report at the American Legion Hall in Caro at 6:30 a. m. Leaving with them will be three men who will travel to Detroit for pre-induction physical examination.

The five to be inducted are: John Belski, Jr., Unionville; Ralph A. Bernreuter, Vassar; John A. Aubert, Fairgrove; Floyd A. Thane, Caro, and Joseph J. Szagash, Jr., Vassar.

Gave Polio Shots at Evergreen School

The Evergreen Township Unit School was one of several schools in Sanilac County chosen as a center for polio vaccine shots Thursday, April 28.

Besides the Evergreen School, children from the first and second grades from the following schools were inoculated at Evergreen: Fox, Starr, Wheeler, Argyle, Laing, Tamrack, Cumber, Mosher, Greenleaf, Stone and Wickwar.

Several important business items faced the Cass City Village Council Tuesday night in their regular monthly meeting held at the Cass City Municipal Building.

The park committee reported that arrangements for running the pool this summer have been completed. Arthur Holmberg will again be in charge. Robert Baker will serve as lifeguard. Roger Parrish, who has held the post for the last several summers, indicated that he did not want the position this year.

Mr. Parrish said that he would act as instructor for the Red Cross again this year. The Red Cross was granted permission Tuesday by the council to use the pool three mornings a week during July and the first two weeks in August. Cost will remain the same at 10 cents per child.

B. F. Benkelman reported for a committee instructed to talk with Wesley Milk Co. over a charge for water. Since the company has its own well, it will be impossible for the village to assess a charge for using the village sewer based on the amount of water used. Mr. Benkelman said that the committee offered the use of facilities for a flat fee of $600 per year. The Wesley Company has taken the proposal under advisement.

Other Business.

Trustees voted to purchase a new truck. Clerk Wilma Fry was instructed to advertise for bids for the new unit.

Cliff Ryan, C. R. Hunt and C. Burt were appointed to a committee by President James Bauer to study the storm sewers on Main and Seeger streets and to report what work needs to be done before curb and gutter work can start on the streets.

Building permits were awarded to: William Simmons for a home on Leach Street; Al Kreuger, a home between Hunt and Huron Streets, and Stuart Atwell, for the addition of a porch to his home on Kennebec.

The use of the baseball diamond on Sunday for baseball was discussed by the council. No vote was taken on the measure, because the council felt that the park was open to anyone who cared to use it and no formal approval was necessary.

Local Development Corporation to Hold Meeting

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Cass City Development Corporation will be held Tuesday, May 3, at the Cass City Municipal Building, H. J. Ludlow, secretary, announced this week.

Purpose of the meeting will be to decide whether or not to double the amount of capital stock in the corporation.

At the present time, there are 250 shares of common stock at $50 each. If the proposed increase is authorized, there will be 500 shares of capital stock at $50 each.

Baker Entertains Gavel Club Tuesday

The Cass City Gavel Club was entertained by Edward Baker at his cottage at Oak Beach Tuesday night. The group enjoyed a smelt dinner and played cards.

Members brought smelt fishing equipment, but reported that the smelt were not running.

SOLVES PROBLEM—Millard Ball, right, talks over successful sod waterway with Cyril Jacot, conservation aide of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service at Caro. Mr. Ball said that the sod waterway solved his problem of a gully down the center of a field.

Cass City CAP in Practice Mission

The Cass City Squadron of the CAP, participating with Thumb Group personnel, was alerted by radio for a practice mission Sunday, April 24, at 8:00 a. m. at the Marlette airport. The mission was designed to test alerting and mobilization effectiveness.

The mission was under the command of Lt. Col. Carl E. Nye, Thumb Group Commander, and other staff officers which included 40 cadets and 20 seniors participating from Cass City, Bad Axe, Inlay City, Marlette and Caro squadrons.

Later in the day, the base of operations was changed from the airport to Kiteley Lumber Co. to test the effectiveness of setting up a second time.

The equipment used included seven portable generators for electric power, nine mobiles to search, seven fully equipped radios, field telephones and switchboards, an ambulance and a supply bus to provide food.

Rotarians See Film Tuesday

Horace Bulen, program chairman, showed a film depicting the changes formed in small communities by the advent of the automobile, at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club held Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

The film started with the first "horseless carriages" and followed the changes in a typical small town from that time until the present.

The new Michigan 1955 official highway maps are available for free distribution at the Chronicle office.

25 Cass City Students in Soil Judging Contest

Twenty-five senior and junior agriculture students from Cass City High School competed with ag students from eight other Tuscola County schools in a soil judging contest Tuesday, Lyle Clark, Cass City agricultural teacher, announced this week.

The contest, sponsored by the Soil Conservation Service, was held at the Millard Ball farm, southwest of Caro.

Three winners from each school were selected to compete in a county contest. Representing Cass City will be Gordon Drouillard, who finished first; Wayne Whittaker, second, and Keith Mitchell, third.

Schools competing, Clark said, were: Caro, Unionville, Fairgrove, Reese, Millington, Vassar, Kingston, Mayville and Cass City.

WSCS to Meet

The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet Monday, May 2, in the Methodist Church parlors for a 6:30 supper, served by Group Four. Mrs. Clara Carpenter and Mrs. John Doerr will be the co-chairmen.

A prayer circle at 6:15 p. m. will precede the meeting.

A pledge service has been planned for the program, under the direction of Mrs. William Profit and Mrs. Harry Crandell, Jr., co-chairmen.

Slate Practices For Independent Baseball Nine

Coach Irv Clasen announced this week that two practices are scheduled for the Cass City Independent baseball team. The first will be tonight (Friday) at 6:30 p. m. and the second, Sunday at 1:30 p. m. Both workouts will be held at the Cass City Recreation Park.

Meanwhile, Coach Clasen said that working out financing for the club was a major problem. He estimated that a total of about $550 will be needed to finance the club in its first season. Entry fee in the Tuscola County League is $25. Uniforms will cost $298. Balls and bats are expected to total about $190. The $190 will buy about five dozen baseballs and about 18 bats. The standard fee set by the league for umpires for a game is $20. The club expects seven home contests, for a total cost of $140 for officiating.

Mr. Clasen said that several of the merchants have already agreed to buy a uniform to help the team get started. Uniforms will cost about $20 each.

How much money the home games will gross is the question that perplexes the team, as they attempt to figure out if the club can meet expenses in its initial year.

Ball Explains Why He Built Sod Waterway

Millard Ball, Tuscola County farmer, shows Cyril Jacot, conservation aide of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, how he solved one of his soil and water conservation problems by establishing a sod waterway on a farm just west of Caro.

"When this field was in oats three years ago, a gully down through the center was so deep that we had to cut the oats in several pieces," Ball explained.

"This gully was causing so much trouble that we had to do something about it. I was enrolled in the GI training program, so I asked for help from the Tuscola Soil Conservation District through Wm. Mueller, my GI instructor," Ball went on.

Technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Tuscola District, helped Mr. Ball work out a plan to solve some of his problems.

Name Officers for County Tax Board

The Tuscola County Tax Allocation Board met Monday, April 25, at 10 a. m. in the supervisors' room at the courthouse in Caro. This being an organization meeting, the following officers were elected: Joseph E. Liddicoat, chairman; Arthur M. Willets, vice-chairman, and Fred Mathews, secretary. Other members of the board are James R. Gross, Cass City; Milford Culbert, Fairgrove; Kenneth Priestly, Vassar, and Shuford Kirk, Caro.

The next meeting will be on Monday, May 16, at 10 a. m. when the preliminary order will be issued.

Nominations By Petitions Now

School Board Alters Election Procedure

A recent action by the Cass City Board of Education will result in a change in the method of election of members of the board, starting with the annual election this summer.

In previous years, candidates were nominated and elected at the annual meeting. The change authorized by the board will make Cass City a registered district. Candidates will be nominated by petition. Each petition must be filed at least 30 days prior to the election and have the signatures of not less than 50 and not more than 75 registered voters of the district.

Members of the board pointed out that the change in the method of electing board members does not change the qualifications of persons eligible to vote. All citizens eligible to vote in previous elections will be eligible to vote this year.

This year there will be two vacancies on the board to be filled. Mrs. Edward Baker and Grant Hutchinson's terms are ending.

A notice of when and where to secure petitions will be announced at a later date, members of the board said.

Name Winners In Talent Show

The fifth annual 4-H Club talent show was held Tuesday evening, April 26, at the Fairgrove High School and approximately 150 persons saw 22 acts, reports Bill Muller, county 4-H club agent.

Three judges, Mrs. Bernard Fitzstephens and Wes Raven of Caro and Mr. Fred Sharpe, music teacher from Fairgrove, selected the winning contestants in the following order: Betty Jo Prime, baton twirling, from Fairgrove; Linda Starkey, acrobatic, from Akron; Lorraine Higgins, vocal solo, from Akron; Gary Kramer, piano solo, from Akron; Bill and Tom Zimmer, Lee and Dean Bush, Duane Ackerman and Don Lindenburg, all from the Unionville area, a German band, and Sue Black and Alice Bradley, piano duet, from Wismer.

The winning contestants were given loving cups as awards. Betty Jo Prime and Linda Starkey will represent Tuscola County at the 4-H Talent eliminations to be held at East Lansing in August.

Other contestants participating in the talent show were: Janice and Emily Nagy, Janice Hutchinson, Veronica Stoick, Anna May Kilmer, Norma Moderow, Delores Trisch, Bruce Field, Janet Albrecht, Rosemary Tooney, Charlene and Catherine Beckett, Annette Causley, Maeona Kramer, Dale Johnson and Tamara Tomkin, Muriel Edwards, Joyce Prime, Nancy Povel, Keith Krull and Darlene Clement.

Franklin Turner from Akron acted as master of ceremonies for the show.

Theaker Pleads Guilty of Forgery

Hear Many Cases In Circuit Court

Two criminal cases and several chancery cases were heard in Tuscola County Circuit Court before Judge T. C. Quinn Wednesday.

Louis Wenzloff pleaded not guilty to a charge of bastardy. Judge Quinn continued his bond and trial will be set at a later date.

Ivan Theaker pleaded guilty on the advice of council to a charge of uttering and publishing. He was arrested for altering a forged check from $10 to $50 and helping cash it with Wayne Boyne at the Playhouse in Caro. Boyne pleaded guilty previously, while Theaker had asked the court for council.

Theaker will be sentenced May 4 after a pre-sentence investigation.

Annual Junior Prom Scheduled At High School

The Cass City High School Junior Class will be hosts at the annual banquet and prom scheduled for Friday, May 6, at the high school.

Honored will be the seniors at the school. Special guests will include the school faculty and board of education.

"Anchors Aweigh" has been selected as the theme for the evening's festivities, which will start at 6:30 o'clock with a banquet for an estimated 260 students and guests. Patsy McConnell will give the invocation. The dinner will be prepared and served by a group of Junior mothers.

As per custom, sophomore girls under the direction of Miss Kathie Flynn, will serve.

Music for the banquet will be furnished by students. Ralph Powell, band director, will be in charge of the Junior Boys' Chorus and their swing band, while Isabelle Brady is training the Junior Girls' Chorus for their parts in the program. Janet Caister, Janice Bartle, Sharon Ackerman and Norma Decker will play piano accompaniments.

Robert Langmaid will be the toastmaster for the after-dinner program. He will introduce Junior President Jerry Perry, Senior President Edward Fox and Faculty Representative Lyle Clark, who are scheduled to address the group.

The Junior committees, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Orion Cardew, have been at work for three weeks decorating the gym and banquet tables, planning the dinner and preparing the program.

Leo Perry's dance band from Saginaw will furnish the music for the prom from 9:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. The officers of the Junior and Senior classes will lead the grand march at 11:15 p. m.

Cancer Society Concluding Drive

The American Cancer Society has been conducting an educational campaign this month to reach as many persons as possible with the lifesaving facts about cancer. Mrs. Harry Crandell, Jr., local volunteer, announced this week.

Stressed in the campaign has been the importance of regular cancer check-up, alertness to cancer's seven danger signals and other important data needed for early detection of the disease.

The service, Mrs. Crandell said, is available to residents locally through the Tuscola County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Surgical dressings are available to any cancer patient free of charge. Patients who lack means of reaching clinics or hospitals for treatments may obtain free transportation. There is a hospital bed available in Cass City for a cancer patient who is cared for in his own or a private home.

Another service available to local residents is examination at the Saginaw County Detection Center, which can be paid for by the local unit.

There are several interesting films concerning cancer available to civic organizations, church and school groups, women's clubs and others.

Gardening Award To Caro 4-H Girl

Betty Lou King of Caro today received an award of Ammophos high analysis fertilizer as a Michigan winner in the production and marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association. The award was presented by Mr. George Rhoades, representative of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, which provides similar awards for state and national winners of the contest throughout the nation.

Miss King, the 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles King of Caro, route one, won the award on the basis of a report submitted to the NJVGA last fall on a gardening project carried out last summer. The prize was presented at the offices of Smith Supply Company, Akron.

NJVGA is a national organization of youths who have an interest in making a career of growing and marketing commercial vegetable crops. It is operated by agricultural colleges and extension personnel, with the cooperation of commercial firms and trade associations. More than 10,000 boys and girls throughout the United States carried out gardening projects under its sponsorship last year.

MEREDITH AUTEN

ADMINISTRATOR

CASS CITY STATE BANK, Clerk

By H. M. Bulen

Someone has estimated the average driver wastes, just throws away uselessly, 34 gallons of gasoline a year, enough to keep a car on the road for a month or six weeks.

Studies over a number of years have shown that motorists are averaging 18 miles to the gallon when they should be getting 19. Silly driving habits, we might as well be blunt about it, are mainly to blame.

There are so many "rules for drivers" that one person can't possibly keep them all in his head. But these six rules come from the head of a big fleet of company cars; he found these rules cut their costs-per-mile way down and brought that extra month of free driving.

Don't make jackrabbit starts. Get away smoothly and shift into high gear as soon as possible.

Slow down gradually when you know you're going to have to stop. Your car runs on the power from gasoline already burned, so there's no sense wasting all that momentum by coming to quick stops.

Don't race your motor while waiting for lights to change or while warming up.

Moderate speeds save gas and save the brakes.

Don't ride the clutch or brakes.

And finally, get regular checkups and servicing.

So many of the cars we've sold new, and have serviced right along, come back to us to be traded in. And these cars, that our servicemen know so well, are displayed on our used car lot. Then many buyers keep on having their used car serviced here. It's a wise way to look after a car.

SHORT STORY

Cozy Chowder

By Hal Borden

MARK LOWRY knew the taxi would be a luxury but if he tried walking to the station with his bundle of oil paintings and suitcase he'd miss his train.

He was tall and broad shouldered with hair that was sun-bleached from hours spent sketching on the sand dunes. He felt a sense of freedom over the fact that he was giving up trying to earn a living painting. Eight productive but unrewarding months were behind him. Now he was getting out.

He tossed the last shirt into his suitcase just as the taxi horn sounded. He heard it's wheels grating on the driveway.

"Goodbye," he said softly. But he knew he was saying it as much to himself as to the room.

"Stow the gear in back," the caddy's voice was high and soft. She was one of the most gorgeous girls Mark had ever seen.

"Headed home?" she asked when Mark was seated beside her.

"Yeh," Mark grunted. "Didn't stick it out very long did you?"

Mark lit a cigarette before answering. "How would you know?" he asked.

"I live here, mister. I see them come and go!"

Mark reddened. "I'm not run-

"Goodbye," he said softly. But he knew he was saying it as much to himself as to the room.

ning away," he said quickly. "I'm just moving on."

"Toward what?"

"Something with a future. A paycheck maybe." His frown deepened. "You enjoy the money from your taxi business don't you?" he asked.

"With no extra charge for analyzing customers," she replied.

She turned into a parking stall and got out Mark glanced quickly at his wristwatch. "Hey, I've got to meet a train, remember?"

"Plenty of time," she said. "I missed lunch."

Mark contemplated the train ride ahead of him. "So'd I," he said.

Moustachioed 'Frenchy,' owner, chef and waiter greeted them. He called Mark's caddy, Lois. Mark liked the name.

"It has to be fish chowder," she told him and Mark noticed her amused smile. "That's all Frenchy serves."

She turned to the owner and spoke softly. "A going away chowder for the gentleman. He's number twenty thousand and eighteen to depart defeated."

Frenchy's head jerked up sharply. "What's this foolishness about leaving? A joke?"

Frenchy's bow tie waggled as he shook his head in dismay.

"But no one just tries to paint, monsieur Lowry," he said. "One either paints or one doesn't paint. Agreed?"

Mark toyed with a cracker, then crushed it to bits. "But I'm not able to make a living," he repeated. Then he looked up. "But you know my name."

"But of course. You were in the summer exhibit. 'And good too.'"

"Oh that," Mark said.

"Yes, that!" Frenchy exclaimed. "The impudence of youth," he spoke leaning across the table.

"Do you think Lois was always the promising illustrator she is today. Coming up fast?" His eyes narrowed in reminiscence. "I remember her days of 'No sales' and no credit anywhere. 'She was living on one bowl of my chowder a day until I found her out.'"

Mark looked across at Lois but she was staring at the napkin in front of her.

Frenchy was emphatic. "Then the taxi idea hit her. The genius in her was beginning to come out." The restaurateur's voice softened with meaning as he straightened up. "It would hurt some people's pride to work and paint at the same time."

"That's what I needed," Mark said, taking a whiff of the delectable chowder, but his eyes were on Lois.

"I could use a reliable and patient busboy," he heard Frenchy say. That's when he thought he saw the bare resemblance of a wink pass between the beautiful caddy and the philosophical chef.

GREENLEAF

Twelve children from Greenleaf School District 2, attended the music festival held at Sandusky April 20. The leader, Miss Marie Adler, was from Michigan State University.

The Ladies' Aid of Fraser Church met Wednesday for dinner and quilting. Two baby quilts for a hospital in Brazil and one large quilt were finished. The next meeting will be May 4. The committee in charge of the dinner will be Mrs. Archie McLaughlin, Mrs. John Battel and Mrs. Rayford Thorpe.

Mrs. Kenneth MacRae was taken to Mercy Hospital, Bay City, on Tuesday, April 19, for observation and treatment. At last report she was resting comfortably.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sowden returned from their wedding trip Tuesday of last week. They are making their home in Saginaw.

Miss Hila Wills of Detroit visited relatives here over the week end.

Angus Campbell was called to Port Huron on Wednesday by illness in the family of his brother, James Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rienstra and Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Thorpe visited friends in Flint Sunday.

Fraser church choir met Friday night for practice with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin MacRae in their new farm home west of New Greenleaf. After practice, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

Patty Hoadley visited her grandmother, Mrs. Tom Flint, in Cass City Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Romig of Uby was a week-end guest at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Stine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fox were shopping in Saginaw on Monday.

Mrs. Eleanor Morris left Tuesday for Detroit. From there she expects to visit friends in Baltimore, Maryland, see the sights in New York City and then go to Coe Hill in Ontario.

Miss Catherine MacGillvary of Cass City spent Thursday at her home in Old Greenleaf.

Any one of us can think up unbearable personal troubles if we devote our full attention to it.

SHORT STORY

Occupational Housewife

By Hal Borden

WHEN Joan Clark's boss, young Ted Emery told her she could have the following day off, she smiled up at him in thanks and happiness. But the feeling sagged like a rank comedian's Hooper rating when he told her.

"I want you to go shopping for house furnishings with me." She put down her dictation pad and waited for the explanation that had to come. House furnishings and a handsome TV studio executive bachelor who lived in an apartment just didn't go together.

"I've bought a home in the country as a surprise wedding present for Vicki Ransom," he said.

"Our star, Vicki Ransom is getting married and you're buying a home in the country for her?" she asked incredulously. Joan watched him rise and stand, tall and smiling mysteriously before her.

"Very simple," he laughed lightly.

She put down her dictation pad and waited for the explanation that had to come.

ly. "Vicki Ransom is marrying me."

A tremble ran through Joan and with effort she melted back onto the chair behind her.

She had always thought of Ted Emery as impervious to the wiles of glamorous women. Leading ladies, models, he saw so many in the course of one days work. But she realized that somehow, Vicki Ransom had broken through his case hardened wall of business indifference. She'd managed to grab the ring.

"All the gossip columns will have it soon," he was saying. But she hardly heard him.

Somehow she managed to struggle through that first day of shopping. Buying things Vicki would use. During the shopping days with Ted that followed it seemed to come easier.

The house looked wonderful. Neat. Cozy. Joan had to admit that when Ted and she would be fixing it up she'd imagine it was her home and there was no such person as Vicki Ransom.

But there was such a person and how could she help but love such a country house.

The day they had finished arranging things around the big fireplace, Ted had taken Joan in his arms and had kissed her.

"Thanks for everything," he said. "How can I really thank you? What would you like as a gift?" he asked.

In a week they were putting the finishing touches to the house and had stopped for sandwiches and coffee in front of the fireplace. They both looked up sharply when the front door opened with a hard push. Vicki Ransom stood there with hands on hips, and wrapped in her mink coat and angry frown.

Her otherwise beautiful face was distorted with rage.

"So it is true," she nearly shouted. "This is what's been going on behind my back." Her words became venomous. "Sneaking off to this—this hideaway with your cute, indispendible girl Friday while I'm playing out of town."

Ted had jumped to his feet when she started. "But Vicki you're wrong—I—we—" but he got no further.

"Never mind the explanations," she continued. "Everything is quite glaringly obvious." She twisted at her finger and threw the engagement ring at Ted. He watched it bounce and roll under the table.

"Get out," he said in a low voice.

For seconds after the door had slammed behind Vicki, no one spoke. The car roared off down the country road.

She had to turn and face him. To listen.

"I haven't felt right since that day I kissed you right on this very spot," he said tenderly. "That's when I knew I was fixing a home for the girl I loved, but I couldn't find the words to tell you."

His laugh was contagious this time, because some of it rubbed off on Joan's face when he kissed her. And through the mixed up tears and happiness she was smiling.

The man who borrows and never repays is usually broke anyway.

Children sometimes tear a house up, but seldom cause a home to be broken up.

The man who has a good temper is bound to have many other good things added.

Treated Seed Will Poison Livestock

The question often arises as to what to do about your left-over treated seed after planting.

Don't mix it with your other grain as it is poisonous to livestock, says Don R. Kebler, assistant county agricultural agent at large. He also points out that a federal law prohibits the sale of treated seed grain for anything other than seed.

Some county elevators have lost a great deal of money by unknowingly accepting treated grain and shipping it with carlots of feed grain. Edward J. Klos, extension plant pathologist at Michigan State, emphasizes that a government inspector will rule an entire carload of grain unfit for food if he finds even one sample of treated seed in it. Klos advises storing left-over treated seed carefully until the next planting season.

Often the man who does the most knocking is most willing to let the other fellow do the work.

What we have built up in character during life is the only thing we can take away with us.

Three 4-H Boys To Visit Detroit

Three boys enrolled in the 4-H club dairy project have been selected by the 4-H awards committee to represent Tuscola County as guests of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association two-day trip to Detroit on April 28 and 29.

Albert Ruggles of Kingston, James White of Silverwood and Robert Schnettler from Millington will visit and become acquainted with the functions of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association at their main office in Detroit on Thursday.

At 6:15 a. m. on Friday they will visit the WFR radio studio and follow that up with a visit and tour of "Twin Pines Dairy Farm Plant."

According to Bill Muller, county 4-H club agent, the culmination of the Detroit trip will be as spectators to a Detroit Tiger baseball game.

People who think of their past usually have grave doubt concerning the future.

The testimony of a clear conscience is worth more than all the proof in the world.

WORLD'S LARGEST HOME TREATMENT FIRM TELLS TRUTH ABOUT HAIR AND SCALP

"Some Older Methods Are Good

But Ours Will Do What We Say"—Ochs

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Caro, Mich., Saturday only, April 30, 1955.

The private individual demonstrations will be held at the Montague Hotel on Saturday only, April 30, 2 p. m. till 9 p. m.

OKLAHOMA CITY—April 27: In an interview here today R. W. Ochs, internationally famous Hair and Scalp Consultant and director of The House of Winston, said: "There are 23 common hair and scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

DOUBLE GUARANTEE "The Winston firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offers this guarantee," Ochs said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Winston treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, Winston offers two guarantees. "First, if you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress in the very first 30 days after enrollment your money will be returned. Second, The House of Winston also guarantees complete satisfaction at the end of treatment, regardless of conditions," Ochs emphasized.

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED First the Winston consultants are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Winston firm can perform wonders. Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Winston firm in Oklahoma City, and a consultant will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Winston firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL "We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Ochs emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to me a miracle.

There is one thing Ochs wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME "If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Ochs said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, and offers a lifetime guarantee, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR? If it worries you call Consultant M. C. Stanley at the Montague Hotel in Caro, Mich., on Saturday only, April 30, 2 p. m. till 9 p. m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

IGA Chicken

IN A BASKET

DID YOU EVER EAT A $50,000 FRYING CHICKEN?

Grandma went no farther than her backyard for her frying chicken every spring, but times do change. To bring you tender, delicious flavored chickens every week by the most scientific methods requires an investment of many thousands of dollars.

Frying chickens are more carefully raised. Killing methods are more sanitary as well as storing and transportation. Your IGA Market receives freshly dressed frying chickens several times each week—every week in the year.

We invite you to notice the difference in the fine texture of not only the white meat but the dark meat as well.

There is a difference. See for yourself this week end.
Guaranteed to fry golden brown every time.

PROCLAMATION CIVIL AIR PATROL WEEK

American national security and general safety have been substantially benefited by the efforts of the Civil Air Patrol. This year marks the fourteenth anniversary of this exemplary volunteer organization.

During the war, the Civil Air Patrol patrolled our shores, and even though their planes were unarmed, their vigilance resulted in the destruction of enemy shipping. In peace time, they have guarded the borders of the United States and performed many errands of mercy.

In recognition of their services during the war, the United States Government has awarded eight hundred twenty-four air medals to members of the Civil Air Patrol.

It is more than fitting that the citizens of Michigan pay tribute to the work of this dedicated group.

THEREFORE, I, G. Mennen Williams, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of May 1 to the 8, 1955, as

CIVIL AIR PATROL WEEK

in Michigan, and urge all our citizens to recognize the great contributions to our nation's welfare that have been made by the Civil Air Patrol, and join in honoring the Civil Air Patrol.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, this eleventh day of April, in the Year of Our Lord,
One Thousand Nine Hundred Fifty-five, and of the Commonwealth the One Hundred Nineteenth.

Let Pasture Keep Ahead of Cows

Dairymen will have better luck if they wait until their pasture mixture is six to eight inches high before turning out the cows. Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent, claims. There is less danger of bloat then and the pasture will have a chance to keep ahead of the cows.
Extension dairyman J. A. Hays at Michigan State recommends turning the cows out for a few hours at a time for the first few days. And, he suggests, be sure to turn them out the first
