Undulant Fever Contracted from Infected Cattle

One of the big reasons brucellosis must be eradicated in Michigan is that people can contract this serious malady from aniricultural agent, points out. Human brucellosis is called ındulant fever. The Michigan health department reports that over 100 cases of undulant fever were recorded in 1954. Officials believe, however, there were many more cases not reported. Rarely, if ever, the department xplains, does one person contract brucellosis from another person. Man gets the disease by handling infected animals and consuming infected animal products. A Michigan law protects most Michiganders from the milkborne infection. It requires the pasteurization of all milk and milk products sold for human consumption. So brucellosis is an occupationlal disease, principally among cattle farmers, slaughter house workers and veterinarians who come in direct contact with infected animals.

Approximately 90 per cent of he human brucellosis cases in Michigan are caused by the cattle type of brucella germ.

County Certified Seed Growers to Meet June 23

Tuscola County certified seed growers and their wives will be losts to county newspaper editors, bankers, vocational agriculture teachers, Michigan State College farm crops department specialists and other invited guests on Thursday, June 23, at 5:00 p. m. at the Harry Rohlfs farm, located one and a half miles south of Akron, according to Alfred Ballweg, Tuscola County agent.

A chicken barbecue luncheon will be provided through the courtesy of the Michigan Elevaor Exchange and the Farm Bureau Service. Program speaker will be Paul Miller, director of the Michigan State Extension Service. Seed growers in charge of arrangements are Cecil Baker, Reese; Ellis Aldrich. Fairgrove; Fritz Mantey, Fairgrove; Alan Kirk, Fairgrove; Allan Houghtaling, Reese, and Harry Rohlfs, Akron.

The number of farmers growing certified seed has steadily increased since 1940, said Ballweg. In 1940 we had 12 certified seed growers: 1944 - 21; 1946 - 33; 1948 - 40; 1954 - 54. Tuscola County also leads the state in acreage devoted to the production of certified seed with 3,475 acres grown in 1954. 57.3% or $8.-894,260,00 of the total county agricultural income, according to 1950 farm census, was from the sale of farm crops, concluded

When car owners get together the first subject is usually "What kind of mileage are you getting out of that bus of yours?"

Some cars, of course, use more gas than others, and give more spending the week end in Milpower and smoothness in return, but the way you drive can have a lot to do with the miles-per-gallon you chalk up.

Strawberries are here. And folks who love them are going wild. Those wonderful fresh, plump, rosy berries look so good that people often buy more than they can eat. But that's no problem for home freezer owners. They eat their fill, then freeze the rest for winter feasting.

There's no such thing as out-of-season delicacies when you own a freezer. You eat what you want when you want it!

Normal operation of electric stock fence can be quickly determined from any point in the field by simple testing device. It's made from 10-inch piece of dry wood with ordinary neon testing bulb mounted in center. One terminal of bulb is soldered to sheet-brass contact strip projected from the end of board, while other terminal is soldered to a 24-in. length of brass chain that trails through a hole in the board to form the ground. To test fence, allow loose end of brass chain to touch ground, place brass strip against fence. Normal operation is indicated by flashing neon bulb.
