Some years ago a truck broke down-apparently-in the middle of the Place de l'Opera in Paris and the driver, as the old song goes, had to get out and get under.

For half an hour his toes protruded from under the old hack as he worked away at the failure. Several policemen were called and feverishly directed traffic around the stalled truck.

Finally the driver emerged, thanked the policemen, and drove with a quiet smile on his face.

That same day he collected several thousand dollars from his friends. They had bet him that he couldn't go to the busiest intersection in Paris in the middle of the rush hour and lie on his back for

His name was Horace DeVere Cole, now dead, who was one of England's most famous practical jokers.

The story reminded me that it wasn't so long ago that the constant necessity "to get out and get under" was an accepted part of owning a car. These days cars are built sturdily and tightly and they don't suffer as often from major mechanical breakdowns.

It still pays to hire an experienced serviceman though, like the factory-trained experts at our place, to get under once in a while for a thorough inspection.

Maintenance on a car isn't a major expense, but it can save real money on the major costs of a car, fuel and depreciation. The failure to get a simple lube job makes the engine work harder, using more fuel and increasing engine wear. And the shape your car is in can affect its resale price by as much as 20 per cent.

Unbelievable Shortage of Used Trucks. We have none on hand. If you're thinking of a new truck, now is the time. We need your old one and will pay you well for it. As for new Chevrolet Trucks, we needn't mention they have been No. 1 for many years, with over 600,000 more Trucks operating today than nearest competitor. Let's talk, deal?

No shortage of Used Cars. We have them (too many) from '32 through '54. If you need good transportation, we need to sell. Let's see if we can't get together? We'll try hard.

superior BEAUTY-Here's one advantage you can spot as far as you can see! Pontiac's smart combination of Twin-Streaked hood and Vogue Two-Toning is generally acknowledged to be the major style advance of the year.

SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE-The Strato-Streak V-8, too, sets this car apart from any other. It is the industry's most modern engine-filled with "firsts" that pay off in 200-horsepower * action and the greatest thrift in Pontiac history.

superior size-There's 124 or 122 inches of road-leveling wheelbase under Pontiac's spacious Body by Fisher. And that means a solid sense of security not surpassed by any car.

SUPERIOR HANDLING EASE—There's extra security, too, in the lightning response of Pontiac's brakes, steering and acceleration. Even parking is a pleasure with action like this.

SUPERIOR COMFORT-What's your idea on this score? Big, soft seats? Ample shoulder and leg room? A cushioned ride? Regal luxury? That's Pontiac comfort and it won't be topped by anything on the road.

Yet a Pontiac fits any new-car budget! Find out how little it takes to join the swing to Pontiac.

Water Wonderland may be junked as the license plate slogan in 1956

It became a hot weather issue for Secretary of State James M. Hare, with touches of legal trouble and with visual acuity of motorists.

Hare said that dozens of motorists had written, complaining that the "Water Wonderland" slogan at the bottom of the plates squeezed the numbers into hard-to-identify proportions. So, Hare asked a special com-

Hare is still checking with Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh. The law plainly states that there shall be no -advertising of any kind on a license plate.

Hare, mourning the state of affairs which has the 1956 plates rolling off the lines 30,000 a day at Jackson state prison, figured the question would be answered before production of 1957 plates.

"I expect the committee to recommend that the slogan be dropped for 1957 and thereafter," he said.

Your dairy farmer knows this, among other scientific facts, and he knows that the high quality of the milk he produces today makes it possible for physicians to recommend three glasses every day as an almost indispensible health formula. For growing children, the rate of consumption is higher.

Scientific methods in dairy farming, stemming from cooperative programs in the classrooms, laboratories and experimental procedures of our great colleges, and by progressive farmers, have brought the quality of milk production to the highest standards in history. Michigan State University has worked unceasingly for a century for technical improvement in all phases of milk production and marketing.

Michigan's dairy farmers recognize this valuable, continuing contribution. In saluting Michigan State University's 100 years of cooperation the 17,500 members of this organization agree that you never outgrow your need to progress.

PROGRESS PROVIDES PROTECTION

One of the outstanding progressive steps taken by the Michigan Milk Producers Association was the adoption and perfection of its plan for leveling production and minimizing seasonal variations in the milk supply in the Detroit Metropolitan market Known as the "base and excess plan", it assures consumers of adequate supplies of pure, fresh milk throughout the entire year. For the dairy farmer, it provides a real incentive for adopting modern methods of management and production, resulting in more profitable disposition of his milk supply. Just how this progressive step reacts to the public benefit is well shown in the box score at right. The figures compiled by the U.S. Department of Agriculture represent the percentage of fluctuation between the seasons of high and low milk production in the major marketing areas listed. Detroit's exceptionally low percentage of seasonal variation guarantees an ample supply of pure, fresh milk during the winter months when many cities suffer shortages-it safeguards the public health and Milk is one of life's essentials. Like water, it is needed every day of the year and a constant, dependsable supply of milk flowing into a big city is as important as a constant flow of water through its mains. Members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, by means of their progressive thinking and action have made that constant flow of milk available in Detroit as well as many other Michigan markets.
