

Welfare Cost in County Over $100,000

From the Editor's Corner

An ironic situation developed in Tuscola County Circuit Court this week in the divorce case and property settlement involving Hildegard and Walter Boesnecker.

The case had been in court for a considerable period of time and much difficulty had been experienced in arriving at a property settlement.

Finally, Friend of the Court John Humm divided the household goods Wednesday, Jan. 4, to the satisfaction of both parties.

The following day, Circuit Court Commissioner Bates Willis held a sale that disposed of the farm machinery. The farm has not yet been sold.

Following the sale Thursday night, Mr. Boesnecker, who suffered with diabetes, was found at his home in a coma. He was rushed to a hospital, but died Friday morning.

Although the divorce had been granted by the court, the six-month period before the decree becomes final has not expired.

Authorities predict that the case, which has been difficult to dispose of, is almost certain to land back in court for further unwinding by the court.

Sign Miss Harolyn Filson to Teach

Supt. Willis Campbell of Cass City Schools announced this week that Miss Harolyn Filson has been hired to replace the late Miss Thelma Hunt on the teaching staff at the school.

Miss Filson will teach Latin

According to the annual report of the Tuscola County Social Welfare Department to the board of supervisors, made this week, total cost of running their department was $106,695.53 in 1955.

Many of the costs of running the department were reduced but the county farm showed a net loss of $674.69 as against a profit of $448.72 in 1954.

Difference in the profit and loss was felt to reflect declining farm prices.

Net cost of running the county infirmary hospital was $82,106.17 as against $41,317.92 in 1954. Part of the reduction was due to a slightly lighter patient load.

Cost per person for meals furnished dropped from an average of 17 cents in 1954 to 15 cents in 1955.

Direct relief payments amounted to $41,847.73 as compared to $42,414.56 in 1954. Cash payments were decreased from $31,888.55 to $13,994.84 in 1955.

Welfare Director Irl Baguley said that the marked decrease in cash payments was compensated for with greatly increased orders for food, fuel, clothing and other living expenses.

Although the thinking of the department was, he said, that orders for actual necessities would assure spending of money issued for the purpose intended.

Administration Account. Administration expenses, including salaries of the board and director, amounted to $10,876.00 and expenditures outside of hospital, including travel, hospital care and medical costs, totaled $21,190.99.

Cost of food to the county was reduced by use of the federal surplus commodity program. From the period Feb. 1 to Dec. 31 food with a market value of $4943.18 was used at a cost to the county of $390.55.

Post Wins Over Pioneers-Redskins Hawks Avert Defeat With Last Half Rally

Cass City solidified its spot on top of the Thumb "B" Conference with two league victories during the week, defeating Sandusky 76-58 Friday and edging Croswell-Lex in a hair-raising battle Tuesday, 67-64.

In neither of the games did the Hawks look as good as they have in pre-holiday tilts.

Against Croswell, Cass City recorded their poorest shooting half in many seasons. They were held without a field goal until midway in the second quarter when Brent Connell came off the bench to break the ice with a bucket from the corner. After that basket, the Hawks started to find the range.

Because of Cass City's inability to score, Croswell opened up a lead that stretched to 19 points midway in the second period.

At the end of the first period the score was 24-10. Croswell was paced by Spezia, Bricker and Straffon. Straffon, a pint-sized guard, collected 10 points in the period as he ran around Bob Martus when the Hawks were using a pressing defense.

In the second period, the Hawks managed to whittle three points from the 14-point lead. Connell collected another bucket to add to the one he collected shortly after he entered the game and John Meininger and Jack Clara hit for two-pointers. The field goals and six gift shots gave Cass City 14 points for the period while the Pioneers collected 11.

The third period was a seesaw affair. Cass City, with Clara and Jim Johnson leading the attack with eight and 10 points respectively, netted 21 points while Croswell hit the hoops for 17. The Hawks trailed 52-45 going into the final period.

With the whole team finally hitting with consistency, the Hawks quickly overcame the bulge and midway in the quarter went into the lead for the first time.

Croswell stayed close for a few minutes as the lead seasawed back and forth, but a final spurt by the Hawks opened a six-point lead and Cass City remained among the undefeated.

Clara played an outstanding game for Cass City. He collected 18 points, was the leading play maker on both squads and sparked on defense. He stopped Straffon in his tracks after the Headed by Roland Brengle, chairman, and Sam Bailo, secretary, and later joined by Olin (Burt) Brennan, business agent of the Teamsters' Union, AFL, the group outlined a plan for collective bargaining between members of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association and milk distributors involving a farmer-labor committee comprised of CIO-AFL union leaders, a strategy board, a bargaining committee.

Work Increases In Friend of Court Office

The steady climb in the work load of the Friend of the Court's office was continued in 1955, according to the report of John Humm to the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors this week.

Total collections made by the office were $151,094.29, an increase of $36,529.02 over 1954 when $114,565.27 was handled by the office. The increase is typical of all years since 1945. Mr. Humm said, when entire collections amounted to only $19,547.15.

New Corn Growers Must Apply for Acreage Quotas

Any farmer who intends to plant corn in 1956 on a farm where no corn was planted during the years 1953, 1954 or 1955 must apply for a corn acreage allotment, if he wants price support on his farm in 1956, Chas. B. Eckfeld, county office manager of the Tuscola County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the county office manager explained. However, under the acreage allotment program, the production of corn in 1956 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make all the corn produced on such farm ineligible for price support in 1956.

Application forms for a corn acreage allotment are available at the County ASC office. February 15 is the last day such applications may be filed.

SHORT STORY

Reluctant Thief

By F. L. Rowley

WHEN STUMPY REAGAN announced the fact that he was in need of fifty bucks for Christmas shopping, his buddies cleared out of Phil's Diner as if an air-raid siren had blown. The only one who remained was Officer Nolan. No one was surprised at this, because nobody had ever been known to put the bite on Tim Nolan; besides, Tim had just ordered Phil's sixty-cent special.

3-Minute Fiction

Stumpy was surprised though when Officer Nolan leaned over to whisper: "I'll give you fifty clams if you'll do a little job for me. I want you to break into a house."

"Been in Mulligan's Place again, haven't you?" grinned Stumpy.

ical woman by the throat for five minutes."

"Lay a finger on her and I will run you in," Tim warned. "Just frighten her a bit. Here's the address. Barge in tonight at eleven o'clock. I'll be right behind you. OK?"

Stumpy reached slowly for the roll of bills in Tim's hand.

It was nearing eleven o'clock when Stumpy shuffled nervously down Rose street. His uneasy manner would have aroused the suspicion of a less casual observer than Mrs. Mattie Milliken, who lived directly across the street from the number on Stumpy's card.

Mrs. Milliken was not famous for keeping her own counsel. She frowned as an attractive young woman, obviously frightened, backed into the apartment. The door closed. Mrs. Milliken ran to her telephone.

Stumpy growled: "Get me some coffee—and no tricks!" He'd heard this in a movie somewhere.

"Yes—yes sir," replied the wide-eyed girl.

He looked impatiently at the clock while she rattled dishes in the kitchen. Soon she walked into the room carrying a small tray in her left hand, and in her right—a gleaming target pistol!

Perspiration broke out on Stumpy's brow. Where on earth was Officer Tim Nolan? His answer came in the sound of a light tap-tap on the iron gate outside.

"That's a policeman!" cried the girl excitedly. "He does that every night." Then, taking a jar of instant coffee from the tray, she hurried it dramatically through the front room window.

A groan followed the tinkle of falling glass.

"You've conked someone!" cried Stumpy. Together they peered through the broken window. Tim Nolan, smiling peacefully, was stretched full length under a street lamp.

Mrs. Milliken, throwing up her window, screamed lustily: "They've done away with Tim Nolan! Murder! Police! I saw the murderer—a sneaky little fellow!"

Stumpy watched the girl skip through the front door wringing her hands. Then he heard the sirens! He made for the back door. Traitorous yelps of dogs pursued him down a dark alley. He was rounding a corner under full steam when he hit the policeman. When they stopped rolling they were quickly surrounded by other uniformed men.

"That's him! That's the man! I told you he was a sneaky-looking one!"

One of the policemen nodded stiffly to Tim, then shoved his prisoner in front of the young woman—

"Here's your thief, m'am."

There was a twinkle in her eye as she faced Stumpy. Then, to the surprise of all present she declared: "That's not the man!"

It's easy for a man to forget his past, but the neighbors are not made that way.

Around The Farm

WITH BILL ZURAKOWSKI NUTRITIONIST RITE-WAY FEEDS

We Need More Nitrogen

Time sure does seem to fly by, doesn't it? It seems that we just got through a harvest period, and here it is time to think about our nitrogen needs for another year.

A song that was popular a short while ago said it this way, "It's Later Than You Think." We should all do our thinking caps and come up with the solution of what to use, when to use it, and why it should be used.

Let's see if we can find some logical reason as to why we should use nitrogen this Spring. It seems to me that it is good business to spend money in order to make money. Top-dressing winter wheat with nitrogen is one of the most profitable returns that you can expect from the application of fertilizers. The response to supplemental nitrogen can be seen by a series of tests that were run by Michigan State University. These tests were conducted over a ten year period covering 22 counties under widely varying soil fertility levels. The results of these tests showed that 20 pounds of actual nitrogen increased the yield of wheat by 6 1/2 bushels per acre. Is this a profitable venture? If you were to use liquid nitrogen on your wheat as a top-dressing and have the material custom applied by your Wallace & Morley Elevator, the total cost would be $4.18 cash per acre. 6 1/2 bushels of wheat at $2.00 per bushel would bring $13.00. This is a profit of $8.82 for an investment of $4.18. That's not bad business, do you think?

When should nitrogen be applied? The best time to apply nitrogen, for wheat is in the Spring just as soon as growth starts. The ideal time to apply this nitrogen is just after the snow leaves and before growth starts if you can get on your ground.

Liquid nitrogen has been proving to be a very popular low cost form of nitrogen to use. Your Wallace & Morley Elevator handles this type of nitrogen, and has available a "Custom Application" or "Do-It-Yourself" service. If you are not sure as to the kind of nitrogen to use for top-dressing your wheat this Spring, we would like to suggest that you contact your Gagetown, Bach and North Branch Elevators or Elevator Managers for more details. He can give you the complete picture as to the cost and kind of nitrogen to use that will best fit your farming conditions.

January WCTU—
Eight members and three guests were present Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edna Warner, when the Deford Women's Christian Temperance Union met.

The president of Tuscola and Huron counties, Mrs. Lucile Leckenby of Elkton, was present and outlined the spiritual life department work. Because man has been given the power to choose what he wants to do with his own life, the liquor traffic has become so prevalent that few families are not burdened because of it. Mrs. Leckenby challenged Christians in their several denominations to take more time to read their Bibles, that they may know better how to pray; to be concerned about loved ones who are a part of the liquor traffic, whose health and homes are ruined, because the church could kill the liquor traffic if it would.

At the close of her address, pictures were shown of Rest Haven, the literature department and the library of the WCTU at Evanston, Ill., which is the largest of its kind in North America. Mrs. Ackerman showed the pictures as Mrs. Leckenby explained them. Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Knechtel of Elkton accompanied Mrs. Leckenby to this meeting.

The hostess served ice cream and cake, cookies and coffee for refreshments. A tea is anticipated for the February meeting, which is scheduled to meet with Mrs. Elsie Hicks Feb. 2.

C. R. Juniors' Party—
The juniors of the Novesta Conservative Baptist Sunday School held a party on Jan. 6 from 7 to 10 p. m. at the home of their pastor.

Thirteen members, two guests, their Sunday School superintendent, Harold Rayl, and their teacher, Mrs. Harriet Rayl, were present. Mrs. Shattuck conducted the recreation hour. Pastor Shattuck brought the devotions using a flannel graph, and Supt. Harold Rayl offered the prayer. Then their teacher, with Mrs. Shattuck at the piano, taught them a new chorus which they will sing during chorus time on Sunday.

Refreshments were enjoyed under the supervision of Mrs. Shattuck and Mrs. Rayl.

A valentine exchange is looked forward to, for the February party which is planned to be held at the parsonage.

If you are of junior age and live in the Novesta Baptist area, the pastor, the superintendent, and members of the class would be glad to have you join us Sundays at 10 a. m.

Keep Brood Sows in Draft Proof Shelters

Don't let your bred sows sleep in a draft! Giving your sows draft-proof shelters is a big step in cutting baby pig losses, says Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Feverish conditions, flu and other respiratory troubles brought on by drafts often result in small litters. The house should be tight on three sides to cut drafts but yet provide plenty of ventilation.

Houses that are too tight may cause as many respiratory troubles as drafts. Sows kept in tight quarters become steamy and are susceptible to colds when they come out into the cold weather.

Ed Miller, extension swine specialist at Michigan State University, suggests that the front of the house be open as well as the space between the rafters in front. These two openings provide good circulation. Just be sure the spaces between the rafters at the rear are closed.

Miller also offers this tip to keep the sows' beds clean and dry: Spread a load of corn cobs in front of the house. The cobs serve to dry off the sows' feet before they enter the house.

BIGGEST OF THE BIG 3
-and mighty proud of it!

You certainly should look at the '56 Buick SPECIAL!

WE'VE said it before, and we'll say it again:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and the sales figures make the proof of that stronger and stronger.

Just ask yourself: which cars would normally be in the top 3 of America's best sellers? The well-known smaller cars—naturally.

But which cars are in that Big 3? Two of the well-known smaller cars, and Buick—for over two years running now.

That means Buick prices are well within reach of more and more people—thanks primarily to the budget-tagged Buick SPECIAL, like

And that's the whole point of the matter.

For this low-priced Buick SPECIAL—so close in cost to the smaller cars—is so much more automobile for the money, it's the stand-out buy of its field.

It's the biggest of the Big 3 in power, thrill, in comfort, in size and breadth and luxury and sheer roadability.

It's the biggest of the Big 3 in the solidity and softness of its all-coil-spring ride—in the sweep of its styling—and in the pure thrill of its performance.

For where else but in Buick can you get the nimble getaway, the gas-saving mileage, the electrifying switch-pitch action and the absolute smoothness of the new Variable Pitch Dynaflo?*

Come in to see and drive the biggest bundle of high-powered beauty and energy ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

It's proud we certainly are to be able to offer so much car for the money—but nothing to how proud you'll be when you boss a new SPECIAL. Can you come in tomorrow?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Extension Board Elects New Officers

Members of the Tuscola County Extension Advisory Board met for the annual meeting of the group on January 5. Members of the board, representing all phases of agricultural production in the county, as well as 4-H and home demonstration work, advised with Extension staff workers on matters of policy and carrying on the work of the Co-operative Extension Service in Tuscola County, according to Jesse Treiber, Unionville, board chairman. The group were guests of the Detroit Edison Company for a noon luncheon.

Officers and members of the executive committee elected to serve for 1956 are as follows: Chairman, Jesse Treiber, Unionville; vice-chairman, Clarence Keinath, Caro; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bertha Achenbach, Akron; members, Bruce Ruggles, Kingston; Mrs. William Tonkin, Fairgrove; Mrs. Joe Young, Reese, and the chairman of the agricultural committee of the board of supervisors.

Whether or not the average man accomplishes his aim in life depends on the size of the target.

Those who try to make it hot for others usually succeed only in burning their own fingers.

Large and Varied County 4-H Program

Five-hundred five boys and 556 girls participated in 4-H Club work in Tuscola County during the 1955 project year with a total enrollment of 2,477 projects, according to William Muller, 4-H Club agent.

Thirty-one different projects were offered and ranged from bird study to junior leadership. Food preparation was the largest project with an enrollment of 383 girls and boys. The girls' clothing project was second with 332 girls completing 1,015 articles and 475 garments.

Highlights of the year for the county 4-H program were the spring achievement days when winter projects are exhibited; 4-H Club Week at Michigan State University; 4-H summer camp at Sleeper Park; the county fair with its 1500 4-H exhibits; 4-H State Show and the Detroit Junior Livestock Show held this past December.

Our county was well represented at the 4-H State Show when Betty Lou King of Caro won a 10-day award trip to New Orleans for vegetable judging. Gail Wallace of Kingston won an award trip to Washington, D. C. for clothing judging as did Carol Hickey of Fairgrove for her grain demonstration. Janice Severance and Gloria Volk of Akron both won wrist watches for the winning dairy foods demonstration.

Recognition was given to Sue Black of Akron for her grand champion Oxford Down ram at East Lansing, and Jack Perry of Cass City took the Fat Lamb Class at Detroit where ten-year-old Linda Severance of Cass City exhibited the grand champion pen of fat lambs.

Not to be forgotten were the Spring Hog and Fall Fat Stock shows and sales for 4-H and FFA exhibitors where close to $16,000 worth of market hogs and beef cattle were sold.

Many other activities on the club, county and state level made this a good year for Tuscola County 4-Hers, according to Bill Muller, county 4-H club agent. All of the credit goes mainly to the 146 volunteer 4-H leaders who guide our 58 4-H clubs.

Men's City League.

As the year 1955 faded triumphantly into the past, the City League was rolling into the 6th week of the second round of their 1955-56 season.

The Kettlewell team was crowned winners of the first round by virtue of a win over the Gagetown Keglers in a roll-off of a tie for first position. The Gagetown team was tough to beat. After rolling three games to determine a winner, the teams were still deadlocked which caused another game to be rolled. The Kettlewell team was victorious by a total of nine pins.

The Dillman team, defending champions of the past two seasons, found themselves at the bottom in the standings at the end of the first round and are not much better off at this point in the second round. Unless they make a terrific comeback in the third round, a new champion will be named for the 55-56 season.

At this date, the records show the Gremel team posting high team single game of 921, also high three-game total of 2613. Harvey Bartle of the Dillman squad has the high single game of the City League with 228. Dillman still hangs on to his three-game total of 628 which has been threatened several times by fellow bowlers. Alden Asher still leads the League with an average to date of 183.

The Kettlewell team has a record to date, which no team can top. Not a member has been absent since the start of the bowling season, 15 weeks without a member absent. That's what makes winning teams. Standings of the 12-team league as of Jan. 2 are as follows:

Heavy Fertilized Alfalfa Is Costly

Proper Application Best Bet for Profit

Applying too much fertilizer at one time to alfalfa fields doesn't pay.

University of Minnesota soil scientists have concluded that: Heavy application of phosphate alone produces a yield increase. However, top yields were necessary and reduce wintering. Fall or spring fertilization are equally successful.

Second cutting alfalfa is highest in crude protein, phosphorus and potassium.

Phosphate fertilization alone increases protein and phosphorus in Applying too much fertilizer to alfalfa may turn out to be unprofitable, when a like yield could have been obtained with smaller applications.

alfalfa plants. However, when potash is included with the phosphate there is less protein and phosphorus but more potassium in the plants.

The effect of nitrogen fertilizer on alfalfa is small and unworthwhile.

The soils researchers applied phosphate (1-20-0) and phosphate-potash (0-20-20) before seeding alfalfa. They followed this with top-dressing annually and biennially.

Highest yield for the three-year period was 13.50 tons of alfalfa where 1000 pounds of 0-20-20 was applied before seeding and later top-dressed annually with 200 pounds of 5-20-20. This extra heavy application did not pay even with high yields.

Almost as large yields, 13.44 tons per acre, were obtained when the nitrogen was eliminated in the top dressing.

In preliminary discussions of the plan, Brengle said that the Fair Share committee had conducted several meetings in Salem and South Lyon and had evolved the plan with the help of Homer Martin, former union organizer identified with the formative stages of the United Auto Workers. Young Couple Wed In Caro Church

Miss Judith Ogden, daughter of Mrs. James L. Ogden and the late Mr. Ogden, spoke her wedding vows with Mr. William B. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, Thursday night, Jan. 5, in the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Caro, before an altar banked with palms, candelabra, red and white gladioli and mums. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Donald Thomson, pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dewey Ogden, the bride chose a gown of floor-length Chantilly lace. The molded bodice was tipped with a Peter Pan collar, and tiny lace ruffles encircled the bouffant net-over-satin skirt. A pearl and sequin tiara secured her full-length illusion veil. She carried a white Bible with red roses, lilies of the valley and long white streamers. For something old, the bride carried concealed in her flowers, her grandmother Culbert's engagement ring, which was over 50 years old.

Rev. A. L. Spafford, Jr., of Grand Rapids, former pastor of the church, was the vocalist singing "Because," "O Perfect Love" and the "Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Thane Campbell was organist.

Miss Janice E. Meredith of Kentucky was maid of honor, and was gowned in emerald green net over satin with a green velvet shoulder jacket. She carried white mums and red gladioli with a matching flower head band.

Miss Marilyn McConkey of Cass City, Miss Arlene Craig and Miss Ann Culbert, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids. Each wore bright red lace and net over taffeta with white transparent velvet shoulder jacket. They carried white and red mums and wore matching flower head bands.

Robert Dykes was best man, while the ushers were Frederick McConkey of Cass City, Wayne Ostrander of Chicago and Norman Avery of Nassau.

The bride's mother wore ice blue silk with white and black accessories and the bridegroom's mother's dress was aqua with white and black accessories. Both had corsages of red roses and mums.

A reception for 200 guests in the church parlors followed the ceremony with Mrs. Keith McConkey and Mrs. Raymond Meredith of Saginaw presiding at the tea table. Mrs. E. J. Terrell, assisted by Mrs. Dewey Ogden of Gladwin, cut and served the bride's cake.

The brides and groom are both graduates of Caro High School. The former has been employed as secretary of the Russell Manufacturing Company while the bridegroom is attending Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill., while preparing for the ministry. Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers will make their home

Sanilac Groups Study Problems

A study of problems or situations in Sanilac County got off to a good start Monday, Jan. 9, reports Alden E. Orr, Sanilac County agricultural agent. Two groups met and outlined various situations deserving of special attention.

Persons meeting in the afternoon in the supervisors' room, courthouse, discussed agronomy phases. They decided to divide the field into four areas: drainage, weed control, old orchards (disease and insect incidence) and soil fertility and management. Membership on each of these subcommittees is not fixed. Interested persons are urged to contact the County Extension office and let their interests be known. Each of these four fields will be studied and the result therefrom will become a part of the agronomy committee report.

Russell Wilson, Yale, is chairman and Axel Wheeler, Argyle, secretary of the agronomy group. Several persons indicated their study area choice and as a result the preliminary membership of each subcommittee has been organized.

The Community Planning group chose Ed Regentin, Palms, chairman; Glen Wallace, Carsonville, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Russell Wilson, Yale, secretary. After considerable discussion Monday evening, the group decided their immediate efforts ought to be confined to three divisions: schools, zoning and community services. It was decided to hold another Community Planning meeting January 19 at 8 p. m. in the supervisors' room, courthouse, Sandusky.

Check Eligibility For Social Security

Tuscola County farmers can become eligible for insurance benefits under the social security law as early as April next year if they have earned as much as $400 from farming in both calendar years 1955 and 1956. This reminder comes from Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Farmers must also report their earnings from farming and pay the 3 per cent social security tax not later than April 15, 1956.

The form for making a report and sending in the required tax for social security insurance comes with the federal income tax return, form 1040. If net earnings from farming were as much as $400 in 1955, farmers must fill out and file this return and pay social security tax even if no income tax is due for 1955, says Agent Ballweg.

Farmers who are 65 or over can retire after March 1956 and start getting old-age insurance payments if they have met the earnings requirements and paid their tax. Other farmers, regardless of age, will get the same family protection in the form of monthly payments to surviving dependents in case of death, if they have met the same requirements.

In either case, the payment of social security tax must accompany the income tax declaration.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Discusses Activities

The January meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Society was held Wednesday at the church.

Following a potluck luncheon, a business meeting was conducted and Rev. M. R. Vender gave the devotion.

The 32 attending then divided into three groups. In a 20-minute session they discussed the type of program they preferred. Chairmen reported the preferences of each group.

Michigan Mirror News Briets

Educators and legislators are looking for space and money for college students who have not yet enrolled in kindergarten.

They are the 100,000 students expected to flood college campuses by 1970, doubling enrollments and throwing extra strains on already crowded buildings and programs.

That is the sobering fact behind an 18-month study planned by a special legislative committee, expected to cost $150,000.

"It will be the most complete study of higher education ever made in Michigan," said Senator Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont).

Enthusiasm generated behind the proposal interested prominent labor leaders, businessmen, industrial executives and educators who will serve as a special advisory committee.

There is still some doubt where the money will come from to finance the study, though everything else is ready. Vander Werp's committee is prepared to hire an outside expert to direct the inquiry.

Vander Werp was allowed

$5,000 by the legislature to conduct a study. This is partially spent.

He said the rest would come: $75,000 from a private foundation, probably the W. K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, and the same from the state.

After the announcement, Kellogg executives said they knew of the study plan planned but were not yet committed to make the grant. Legislators are shy about such things, too.

While the committee figures the cost will be $150,000, a budget for the first year calls for something over $94,000.

An item for $10,000 is earmarked to pay for part-time work by Dr. John B. Ivey of Atlanta, Ga., an educational expert who has directed similar studies in a number of southern states.

Next is a $15,000 item for an assistant who will be on the job full time and direct operations. He will have a staff, two of whom will get $10,000 a year.

"That may be all right if we're going to set up something permanent, but how about this other stuff?" asked another lawmaker.

Some of the other items call for cash to pay consultants—all experts in their fields—$100 a day, plus transportation and other expenses.

Vander Werp and others on his committee admitted this might be a tough one to sell to the legislature, despite the justification of the expenditures that he hopes to make.

For the investment, Vander Werp hopes to get a complete analysis of the present effectiveness and cost of higher education in Michigan with a superimposed picture of what is to come.

Ivey has prepared a plan for the study.

It will consider operations of all state colleges and universities; their potential for expansion and financing; the prospects for enrollment and how the flood of new students can be accommodated.

Vander Werp already thinks he has the answer in "decentralization."

He figures to expand smaller junior and community colleges to handle the first two years, turning the four-year colleges and universities into advanced schools.

The plan to take over Wayne University as a state institution also is in the picture.

The whole issue developed last year when college presidents told Governor Williams of the enrollment expectations and said it would cost $200 million in new buildings.

Legislators, who abhor new taxes and deficits, are really working on this one. Vander Werp said his decentralization plan could save the state "at least $50 million" of the figure. Michigan will probably have the answers in 1957 when the study is completed.

Motorists will see Michigan's new speed limit signs along the highway before the new laws become effective.

Highway department crews already are posting the roads with speed limit signs, reading 65 in the daytime and 55 when the headlights strike the same sign at night.

It is a money-saving and confusion-saving device, putting both speed limits on one sign.

Roscoe Hefron, of the state highway department's traffic analysis staff, said the signs will be in place "as a reminder" weeks before the law becomes effective next Feb. 2.

Already Gov. Williams has asked motorists to observe the speed limits on a voluntary basis—an attempt to cut down on the holiday traffic slaughter.

On Feb. 2, it will stop being a voluntary thing, and speeders will get tickets for speeding.

It's no trouble for some men to reform—they do it every week.

One-half the world gets along because the other half is short.

Work may be a tonic, but it contains no habit-forming drug.

THE FORD THUNDERBIRD

This low-slung beauty combines all the dash and daring of a sports car with the luxury and comfort of a passenger car. It won America's heart from the start... and is winning even greater praise from fine-car enthusiasts this year.

THE '56 FORD

From any angle, you can see that the Thunderbird inspired the beauty of the '56 Ford. Both have that sleek-as-an-arrow look and massive grille styling. And under the broad flat hoods of both, you find the same brand of "lightning!"

Look alike... act alike...

The Fairlane Victoria is a family car with Thunderbird flair

In Ford you get long, low Thunderbird lines... the lightning of the Thunderbird V-8 engine... and in addition you get exclusive new Lifeguard Design!

No matter how you look at it, you see the new Ford's kinship to the Thunderbird. For the Thunderbird and its kinsman, the '56 Ford, both have the long, low lines of leadership.

And the new '56 Ford offers the Thunderbird's own engine—the Thunderbird V-8. You get all the famous Thunderbird "git"... plus the assurance of this obedient engine's passing and climbing power. The Thunderbird V-8 is the standard eight for all '56 Ford Fairlane and Station Wagon models — so it comes to you at no extra cost.

Besides the Thunderbird's spark and sparkle, you get Ford's exclusive Lifeguard Design, for extra protection against the major causes of accident injuries. And Ford Lifeguard Design is just one among many fine-car advances that make Ford truly a worth-more car!

So Nice In Blue

By Janet Hall

FIRST Julia counted the weeks; then the days; now the hours. She could almost hear the train churning into the station, see Keith in his train-rumpled uniform.

Now that time was short, she was scared. A year changes people and maybe the year of waiting would be wasted.

Her mother came out on the porch and sat on the lounge, handing a cool glass of lemonade to Julia and sipping one herself.

"I'm glad Keith's coming home during the summer," Julia said. "We'll have some time before college and there's so much to do in the summer."

You two did used to like the out doors," her mother said with a smile. Julia knew she was remembering how they had romped into the house after a swim, sometimes annoyingly dripping water.

"Mother, I'm nervous," Julia blurted out and then wished she hadn't. So far all her fears and most of her hopes had been secret.

"I'm glad Keith's coming home this summer," Julia said.

"Do you regret waiting?"

"No, but I'm afraid things will be different."

"You might discover it isn't the same between you and Keith. You're only eighteen and you'll each be able to start a new life without the other. There are no ties."

"The Wards are picking me up around six-thirty," Julia said, changing the subject. Talking about her doubt might make it worse.

"It was nice of them to take you. Some parents are funny about their children."

"I'd like to see Keith alone first."

"Of course, but that's the way things are."

Dinner was slow. Julia felt hungry, but the food was mealy in her mouth and she didn't eat much. Forty-five minutes, she told herself. A year had passed and now it was whittled down to forty-five minutes by patient waiting, letters and hopes.

When Julia heard the chimes, she hurried to the door.

"All ready?" Mr. Ward greeted heartily.

"It hardly seems possible he's home," Mrs. Ward said. "You look so pretty. Blue certainly is your color."

"Keith always liked me in blue," she said as they headed for the car.

They arrived at the station just as the train ground to a stop and a twenty-one year old man in khaki got off.

Mrs. Ward ran toward him and he flung his arms around her affectionately. Mr. Ward patted them both heartily while Julia watched.

"Julie," he said and all she could think of was that he was the only one in the world who called her "Julie." They went toward the car, chattering. Only Julia was silent. When they reached the house, Mrs. Ward began putting things on the table, for Keith hadn't eaten.

They talked. Julia talked. But underneath her talk ran a current of thoughts which at times bubbled close to panic.

"You're only eighteen and you'll each be able to start a new life without the other. There are no ties." That was the escape clause in the year's contract of waiting. Her mother was right. There were no ties. After that her thoughts settled down.

I guess I'd better be taking Julia home," Keith said finally.

"It was awful, wasn't it?" he said as they walked up the street. She turned toward him quickly.

"We've both changed, Keith. It's right that we should have."

"I suppose it is. If we both hadn't changed a little, one of us would have been left behind."

"I was so frightened, but you were, too, so it wasn't foolish. And our feelings haven't changed."

"I guess that's the important thing. And you still look nice in blue. Oh, Julie, you'll always look nice in blue."

Julia mentally crumpled the escape clause. "There are no ties." That was so wrong. There were so many ties.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago.

Three hundred and seven babies were born in Cass City during the past year. That number is nine more than the previous year's high of 298.

Stockholders of the Pinney State Bank chose the following officers at their meeting Tuesday: directors, Elizabeth E. Pinney, Frederick H. Pinney, P. A. Schenk, D. W. Benkelman and H. F. Lenzner; president, Frederick H. Pinney; vice-president, H. F. Lenzner; cashier, D. W. Benkelman.

Stockholders of the Cass City State Bank chose the following officers at their meeting Tuesday: directors, M. B. Auten, J. A. Sandham, C. R. Hunt, C. M. Wallace and F. B. Auten; president, M. B. Auten; vice-president and cashier, Frederick B. Auten; assistant cashiers, Irene Stafford and Gertrude Gray.

The following officers of the Gagetown bank were elected Jan. 9: president, Mrs. Cora Purdy; vice-president and cashier, Donald G. Wilson; chairman of the board, F. D. Hemerick; assistant cashier, Anna Kehoe.

Eleven rural bus drivers from the Cass City school system travel over a total of 700 miles a day, according to Mrs. Florence Brown, school secretary. The eleven men bring approximately 540 children into Cass City every week day.

Ten Years Ago.

Mrs. Ira R. Reagh of Branch, Mich., and formerly of Cass City, has recently received a letter from Major General Edward F. Witsell of the Adjutant General's office at Washington, D. C., regarding her son, Second Lieutenant Grant L. Reagh, who has been missing in action since Feb. 25, 1944. The officer states that no further information concerning him has been found, so he is presumed to have died when forced to bail out of his plane on a mission in the Solomon Islands. Twenty-three students are enrolled at the University of Michigan from Tuscola County. Robert N. McLarty, a graduate student, is the only one enrolled from Cass City.

Mrs. Helen Howell of Caro, chairman of the March of Dimes in Tuscola County, has appointed Mrs. Grant Patterson and Mrs. Ernest Croft to head the drive in Cass City. For the Gagetown area, she has named Mrs. Harry Densmore.

Invest in Dependability... get a Bonus in Go!

You can buy it on its name alone—this big, high-powered '56 Pontiac—and be safe in the knowledge that you couldn't have made a better investment in years of dependable, carefree motoring.

The good things you've been hearing about Pontiac for years assure you that.

But "go" is the word for '56! Performance so new and dramatic it must be experienced to be believed!

A short spell behind the wheel will nail that statement down as a fact. Come along for a drive and see.

Waiting for the light to change, you can't hear the engine. But touch your toe to the accelerator and in a split second there's a torrent of power, sparked by the most advanced engine of them all—the blazing 227-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8.

Team this terrific power plant with Pontiac's all-new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* and you've got the smoothest take-off that ever brightened a highway.

And remember—this easy handling dream is actually among the biggest, huskiest cars built!

Now for the final test—head for the open road and some landmarks you can challenge. Wipe out a hill. Straighten a curve. Smooth out a stretch of rough road that's bothered you for years.

Now see why they're calling this the greatest "go" on wheels?

More than that—it's the greatest buy on wheels! And that too, is easy to prove.

Then take a look at the price tag—a check on our deal.

Nothing will stop this powerful beauty from being yours!

*An extra-cost option.

You can actually have a big, glamorous Pontiac 360 for less than you would pay for 44 models of the low-priced three!
