An injunction was granted by Judge T. C. Quinn in Tuscola County Circuit Court Friday restraining the village of Kingston from using land they own as a village dump.

Eber Wallace asked for the injunction on behalf of himself and a neighboring farmer, Stephen Bajza.

Mr. Wallace charged that the dump ground was not properly administered and that parts of the refuse were being scattered on his land.

The injunction stipulates that the village of Kingston must clean the site used for the dump, described in the bill of complaint as having refuse piled from 10 to 15 feet high with no burial attendant.

The injunction restrains the village from further use of the dump and stipulates that signs be posted and the area blocked from access to the public.

Wednesday Cases

Dave W. Stanley, who pleaded guilty of stealing a saw in Vassar Township Tuesday, Jan. 24, was sentenced to a year's probation Wednesday. In addition, Mr. Stanley was ordered to pay $100 fine, $100 costs and $100 restitution at $25 a month.

William G. Heckroth was granted custody of a minor 14-year-old boy from the former Clair B. Heckroth. In the original divorce proceedings, Mrs. Heckroth was given custody of the child.

After testimony by Friend of the Court John Humm, the divorce decree was amended to place the child under the father's care.

Bette L. Cowles was granted temporary alimony of $30 from George Cowles. Mr. Cowles was ordered to pay $100 attorney's fees.

Yolanda Sampson of Mayville received a judgment of $1,954.15 from Louis J. Nagy, Sr. Mrs. Sampson was suing to collect funds she had spent for the care of her mother during her illness and death.

She asked for damages against her father, brothers, one sister and a "ter-in-law." The court returned a no-cause-for-action verdict against all but Mr. Nagy who was ordered to pay the damages allotted to Mrs. Sampson.

4-H Service Club Plans Family Night

The election of new 4-H service club officers preceded the big January planning meeting, reports service club sponsor, Don Kiebler.

Officers elected are: president, James White, Silverwood; vice-president, Jack Perry, Cass City; secretary, Ann McKenzie, Mayville; treasurer, Mary Jane Young, Reese.

Ann McKenzie reports the following minutes of this meeting: The service club voted to sponsor the leaders' awards banquet held January 30. This is an annual affair for the club. A committee was appointed to contact inactive members so as to reactivate the club to its former member participation.

All members were in favor of holding a "family night" program, where the entire family can participate together in an evening of happy entertainment. Quentin Ostrander, associate agent in Denmark Township, has conducted several such programs and the enthusiasm for this type of entertainment has run high. The entertainment will be square dancing with Quent calling.

Slight Damage in Furness Home Fire

Slight damage was done in the fire at the Bernard Furness home Friday morning at 10:15 o'clock. The blaze started when a fire from a blowtorch, used to thaw pipes, got out of control.

The area near the kitchen sink was scorched by the fire. Members of the fire department said that Mrs. Furness gave wrong directions when she first called and the fire truck went three miles in the wrong direction before being overtaken and halted.

The Kettlewells expressed appreciation for the help rendered during the fire and said that they would conduct business from the home of Arthur Kettlewell at 4222 S. Seeger Street.

The Kettlewells were unable to say how long it would be before they will be able to resume business again as usual.

NEW PLANT—Nelson Willy looks at the ultra modern furnace that uses escaping gases for part of its fuel as part of the operation of the recently completed sewage disposal plant. Because of the numerous tests required each week, operating the plant is a full-time job for Mr. Willy.

New Sewer Plant Has Large Capacity

The new sewage disposal plant in Cass City will handle a greatly increased population. Despite the increase in growth in the community in recent years that has taken the community to over the 2,000 population mark, only one of two 300-gallon capacity pumps are now in use.

With the increased capacity and better cleaning of the sewer has come added expense and a full-time position for Nelson Willy who handles the plant under the direction of a licensed operator.

To see that the complicated process runs properly, Mr. Willy takes six separate tests. Each requires the use of special equipment purchased by the village.

The tests are:

- Suspended solids test—to find out how much solids are going through the tanks.
- Biochemical oxygen demand—This BOD test is run twice weekly. Its purpose is to find out if enough oxygen is present to allow the bacteria to do their best decomposing work. The test requires four samples taken in a six-hour period.
- Dissolved oxygen test—used to find out how much oxygen is used in the decomposing process.
- Organic solids—taken periodically to find the amount of organic solids in the sewage.
- Added to these are the chlorine tests taken in the summer and the equitable solids tests taken occasionally.

It is hard to imagine how any of the sewage can pollute the Cass River after it leaves the present plant. When sewage arrives at the plant it goes to two big tanks. Here the solids settle and are pumped to the digester. It's here that the bacteria go to work.

The digester is kept at a constant temperature of 90 degrees... the climate in which the bacteria work the best. This is

Hawks Rally to Defeat Vassar, 72-61

The Cass City Red Hawks came from behind with a last half rally to turn back a stubborn Vassar quintet Friday evening at Cass City High School gym, 72-61.

The victory left the Hawks in undisputed possession of first place in the Thumb "B" Conference with a 9-1 record with four league tilts left to play.

First of the four games will be played with Sandusky tonight when the Redskins will try to be the second team to upset the Hawks.

Following tonight's game will be what promises to be a bitter battle against Crosswilexington on Tuesday. The season will be concluded with games against Yale, Feb. 17 and Caro, Feb. 24.

The Hawks played another of their poor first quarters Friday against Vassar. They netted only nine points to Vassar's 16. The early part of the second quarter was a repetition of the first away from the surprised Hawks.

At one time, midway in the period, Cass City trailed by 19 points. At this time, the team started a full court press and the tide changed.

At half-time the Hawks had reduced the margin to 30-27. Following the intermission, Cass City salted the game away with 28 points. Spark of the attack was Gordon Drouillard who netted six points and Jack Clara who burned the meshes in the period with 11.

With these boys carrying the load, the Hawks forged in front 53-42 as the third quarter ended. Both teams played on even terms in the final quarter, scoring 19 points each.

Clara led the scoring for both teams with 25 points. Bob Martin collected 16 to help the attack. J. Harpham netted 20 points to lead the Vassar scorers.

From the Editor's Corner

Clare Schwaderer of Cass City, who works in the styling division at General Motors Technical Center, is pictured in the Feb. 3 edition of Colliers.

The national magazine took pictures in the technical center of GM "dream cars" and Mr. Schwaderer was one of the persons working on the cars.

You'll have to look closely to recognize Mr. Schwaderer, because the picture was snapped at very long range.

Snafu department—We shot what our developer in Bad Axe calls the thinnest negative he has ever seen, Tuesday at the village caucus. Taken to show the record crowd attending, John Hewens called and said about all that showed was a few of the fixtures in the building. Mr. Hewens said something about replacing batteries in the flash gun before shooting more pictures.

We were about as far off as we could get in our recent article about Don McLellan when we said he lives in Florida. Mrs. McLellan writes, "We are in the other corner of the United States. It is Lynden, Washington, and also Everson, Washington. We are only about six miles from the Canadian border in the northwest corner of the State of Washington."

Holmberg Speaks At WSCS Monday

A speech by Arthur Holmberg, who told of the magnitude of the universe, was the feature of a meeting of the WSCS of the Methodist Church Monday evening, Feb. 6.

Another highlight of the program was two solo vocal selections by Mrs. Arlington Hoffman. She was presented by Mrs. Edward Baker, program chairman.

The meeting opened with a prayer circle, followed by a dinner. The men of the church were special guests for the evening. The dinner was served by groups five and one. Mrs. Harold McGrath, Mrs. Charles Bigelow, Mrs. Robert Keating and Mrs. Howard Rexin were co-chairmen.

A short business meeting followed the program and the meeting was closed with a hymn sung by the entire group.

All of the contests will be held simultaneously. Winners of the district contest will advance to regional competition at Mayville in two weeks. Winning chapters in each division of the contest will receive plaques with the names of members of the team engraved on it.

A total of 16 Cass City boys will be in three events, Mr. Clark said. The district contest will include all schools in Tuscola County with agricultural courses.

Carl Buehrly Wins Trophy for 2nd Time

Carl Buehrly, McKone Farms, Inc., of Clarklake, herdsman, showed the grand champion Hereford at the annual fat steer show held during Farmers' Week at Michigan State University.

For the second time, Mr. Buehrly won the trophy awarded by the Michigan Livestock Improvement Association. He needs one more win to gain permanent possession of the trophy which has been in existence for many years, but never has been won three times by any exhibitor.

The trophy is based on the animal's placing in the show and the rate of gain in 200 days of feeding. At its show weight of 930 pounds, the McKone Hereford showed a 2.34 pounds per day gain for the prescribed period.

The second McKone entry, which was the reserve champion of the show in the Hereford class, was also among the top three contenders for the trophy.

Steers from the McKone Farms, under the direction of Mr. Buehrly, won the grand championship and the championship and reserve championship of the Hereford class.

Following the trend in recent shows, the price paid for the champion was comparatively low. The champion steer sold for 38 cents a pound.

Robert Stickle Completes MSU Drivers' Course

Robert Stickle, Cass City High School teacher, was one of 98 Michigan high school teachers to complete a week's course in instruction at Michigan State University to teach driver education.

The course was held at Gull Lake. The unique project was a one-week workshop and is designed to help schools inaugurate or expand driver-education classes.

Cass City High School will take a survey to determine how many students desire to take the course. It is possible that a program may be started in Cass City this summer.

Supt. Willis Campbell said that it is possible that the course will become part of the regular curriculum next fall.

To augment the special training received at the MSU workshop, Mr. Stickle will spend a night a week for 12 consecutive weeks at a special school in Saginaw.

Aiding in the effort is the All-state Foundation which granted scholarships to each teacher to cover costs of the workshop and follow-up courses.

The meetings will last from 7 to 11 p.m. At the end of the 88 hours of study, Mr. Stickle will qualify for five hours of graduate credit from MSU.

The "school day" at Gull Lake consisted of lectures, discussions and development of units of study, along with three hours each afternoon of on-the-road training.

Students from high schools in that area were used for the road instruction. The evenings were filled with films, library work and research.

Al Krueger Speaks At Rotary Club

Al Krueger, owner of Anrod Screen Cylinder Co., was the guest speaker at the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Mr. Krueger explained how he looked at several possible sites to relocate his business before selecting Cass City. One of the reasons he selected this community, Mr. Krueger said, was because it is a friendly town.

The owner-operator of the manufacturing concern in Cass City then described the manufacturing and sale of industrial screens.

Mr. Krueger conducted a guessing game among Rotarians to see who could come the closest to the actual number of screens produced in a year by the company.

Dr. D. E. Rawson's guess of three million screens was the closest among a wide variety of answers that ranged from the low thousands into many millions.

CARS

By H. M. Buleen

The world's largest fire engine factory, as you might imagine, uses a lot of red paint. About 6,000 gallons of it are delivered every year to the American LaFrance Co. at Elmira, N. Y., which must be a wonderful place for goggle-eyed boys. It's the factory that turns out almost half the 1,200 fire engines made in the United States every year.

Red is the most popular color for fire engines, of course, but a lot of other shades are used too, for cities that want something different. White is the second most popular color, then green. LaFrance has also made fire trucks in black, blue, chocolate and elegant gold. And there was one famous truck, they tell me that was a shocking shade of lilac.

How fast can a fire engine go? Well, the big 275 horse-power, 12 cylinder LaFrance aerial ladder truck will pull its tremendous load at 92 miles an hour. Most newer models, however, have a governor on them limiting speed to 65.

Fire engines, as you can see from almost any fire department, are durable pieces of machinery. LaFrance estimates that at least 15,000 of its 20,000 motor-driven fire trucks are still in use. It made its first gasoline fire truck in 1910 and it's still in service.

They are hardy machines, fire engines, and the most important reason is the constant and careful servicing they receive. That gives a clue to used car buying, for the best used cars around here, bar none, are the well-groomed cars that were bought from us new, serviced by our factory-trained mechanics and now are displayed on our used car lot.

Come in and meet our new Used Car Manager, Jim Neblett. He has only been here a week, and has sold fifteen cars for us. He's a good man to know for sometimes he makes deals that I wouldn't, then sells me on the idea. We have one thing in common, we both want to sell cars. Try us?

FREE LICENSE with every OK Used Car sold for $300.00 or above. Let us pay Mr. Jackson for you this year.

News from Gagetown

James LaFave, son of Roy LaFave, arrived home Wednesday evening after two years' service in the signal corps. He received his basic training at Fort Smith, Arkansas, and was stationed at Camp Gordon, Georgia, and in Pennsylvania. In May 1955, he was sent to Hawaii where he was stationed until his discharge at Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

Thirty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy LaFave Wednesday evening to congratulate them on their recent marriage. Cards were played and refreshments served. The guests presented them with a gift.

Balanced Rations For Best Steers

Be sure your steer is eating enough properly-balanced feed if you want to do well in the show ring next summer. That's the advice Bill Muller, Tuscola County 4-H club agent, gives to 4-H members with steer projects.

It takes seven to 10 months of full feeding for the average feeder calf to get enough finish to qualify as a prime market animal. And if the ration isn't well balanced, the steer won't be as fat and show the quality needed to win in the show ring, says Agent Muller.

Project steers should be eating about two to two and one-quarter pounds of feed daily for each 100 pounds of body weight.

Bill Finley, extension animal husbandman at Michigan State University, recommends this ration: Six pounds of ground shelled corn, one pound of ground oats and one pound of 32 percent or higher protein supplement. Trace mineralized salt should be provided, too.

Agent Muller adds that project steers could be switched to a protein supplement containing silbesterol during the last four or five months of feeding.

But merely feeding the correct ration won't result in a top-notch steer. If you don't follow good management by controlling parasites, providing dry, well-ventilated pens and enough fresh, clear water, you'll lose the benefits of a well-planned feeding program.
