Ackerman Traces History of Village

Dave Ackerman, teacher at Cass City High School, was the guest speaker at the Cass City Gavel Club, Tuesday evening at Parrott's Dairy Bar.

Mr. Ackerman traced the history of Cass City from the time Cooper and Wright, the first men in Cass City, established a sawmill here.

Mr. Ackerman was introduced by Glen McCullough, toastmaster for the evening.

Club members also discussed an appropriate date for Cass City's centennial celebration.

James Wallace was appointed scouting institutional representative.

John and Jerrold Perry will be presented with the "God and Country" award at the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday at 11:00 a. m. This award is a church award, in cooperation with the Boy Scouts of America, offered to Scouts or Explorers who have fulfilled specific standards involving their participation in the total program of their respective churches.

One of the standards is the requirement of specific and special services. John has run off the Sunday bulletins on the mimeograph and other assignments since April, 1954. Jerrold has served as treasurer of the Youth Budget for a similar period and operated the projector for various organizations for movies and performed other services.

John and Jerrold are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perry. They are seniors in high school and they celebrate their 18th birthdays Saturday, March 10.

Division Two Ratings for Bands At Sebewaing

Cass City's Junior and Senior bands received division two ratings at the district band and orchestra festival Friday, Mar. 2, at Sebewaing.

Bands were rated by divisions. Top award is a division one rating and bands can be judged from division one through division five.

Division one rating represents the best conceivable performance in the event for the class of participants judged (Junior or Senior High) and worthy of being recognized as a first place winner.

A division two rating indicates an unusual performance in many respects but not worth the highest rating because of minor defects in performance or ineffective interpretation. A performance of distinctive quality.

Division three represents an average performance and division four an inadequate performance. Division five shows much room for improvement. Indicates director should check his methods with those of more mature performers.

Cass City's junior band played at 10:35 a. m. and the senior band played at 3:40 p. m.

There were 20 bands participating in the festival. Judges were Edgar Kirk, Michigan State University; Stanley Shoemaker, Jackson High School; Joseph Skrynski, Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and Glenn Smith, University of Michigan.

Slate Drainage Meetings at Three Sanilac Sites

Land drainage is a very important condition that will have a major bearing on the future agricultural economy of Sanilac County. This is the opinion of County Agricultural Agent Alden E. Orr. Drainage systems are long-time investments and for that reason proper installation of them is necessary in order for the investment to pay out.

William Cutler, Michigan State University drainage engineer, will give three illustrated talks on "drainage construction" Mar. 14 and 15. The meetings are scheduled for Mar. 14, 8 p. m., IOOF Hall, Snover; Mar. 15, 1:30 p. m., Buel Township Hall and 8 p. m., the Marlette High School Vocational Agriculture Room.

These meetings are being sponsored by the Vocational Agriculture teachers of Sanilac County, Soil Conservation Service, the County Drain Commissioner and the Cooperative Extension Service.

There will be a discussion period at these meetings. Among the topics that will be discussed are: Assistance provided in laying out the drainage system by the Soil Conservation Service; Cost Sharing under the ASC program, procedure to follow in getting a drain established. Everyone is invited and welcome to attend these meetings.

Arrest Youth for Attempted Theft

Steve Orto, Cass City village constable, announced Wednesday night that a 14-year-old Cass City boy has confessed to attempting to rob Mrs. Florence Morey of Cass City.

The youth ran up to Mrs. Morey when she and Mrs. Maude Schenck were returning home from the theatre last week.

He failed to get the purse he was after when Mrs. Morey screamed.

Constable Orto said that the youth would be turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Hulen's, Freiburger's Damaged

Fire Destroys Local Ben Franklin Store

The second major fire this year in the village of Cass City, Monday at 6 p. m., completely demolished the Ben Franklin Store owned by Otto Prieskorn. No official statement of the damage to the store has been revealed but unofficial estimates place the loss at about $50,000.

Besides the total loss of the Ben Franklin Store, smoke damaged merchandise in the two stores adjoining it. Hulen's was unable to estimate the loss, but smoke filled their store for hours during the blaze.

Freiburger's Grocery was not as badly damaged by smoke as a brisk east wind blew the smoke away from the store.

Residents in the apartments above Hulen's were forced from their homes and clothing and furniture were damaged by smoke.

Also forced temporarily out of business was Dr. W. S. Selby, optometrist, whose offices were located above the Ben Franklin store.

The fire started in the basement of the store. Mr. Prieskorn reported that Bob Johnson, an employee, was taking a package downstairs and said that there was smoke in the basement.

Mr. Prieskorn took the fire extinguisher and rushed towards the basement but was unable to get in due to smoke.

A short time after the fire started there was an explosion and the flames raged out of control. The Elkland Township Fire Department and the Caro Fire Department battled the blaze until 4 o'clock Tuesday morning before the fire was completely extinguished.

Mr. Prieskorn said that he had no idea how the fire started and said he did not know what caused the explosion.

He said that he planned to reopen his store as soon as it can be rebuilt and restocked.

RARE QUADRUPLETS—It's a rare occurrence when four lambs are born to one ewe, but rarer still do they all live. After 18 years in the sheep business, a ewe belonging to Leonard McLean of Argyle gave birth to quadruplets Feb. 22.

The lambs are all in very good health and are receiving extra special care from Mr. McLean to see that they remain that way.

Each of the lambs is partially a bottle baby. Each receives a little of the ewe's milk and the rest is supplied by bottle. Every four hours around the clock has been the feeding schedule since the lambs were born.

At the present time, there are 47 Oxford sheep at the McLean farm. It is a grade flock, but a registered ram is always used.

Mr. McLean said that he chose Oxfords because they are a large sheep and have shearing qualities that are fairly good. As a commercial feeder, he believes that Oxfords make him the most money.

The lambs will be helped with the bottle for another 10 days when Mr. McLean expects to have a lamb pen built and the lambs start to feed on hay and grain.

Supervisors Meet Monday

Hire Architect for New County Hospital

After hearing the explanation of the procedures necessary to prepare the bond issue for the Tuscola County hospital for vote in November, the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors voted Monday to hire Clark R. Ackley, architect, to make the necessary arrangements.

The cost to the county for the service will be $350. The service will include legal and financial counseling necessary.

The supervisors also heard Arthur Dehmel, state senator, tell of the Institute of Local Government meeting to be held this year at Mt. Pleasant.

Main purpose of the meeting is to discuss ways to get more money appropriated for township roads, Mr. Dehmel said. He suggested that the board send someone to the meeting.

Supervisors Conrad Mueller and Fred Henderson were appointed to represent the county at the meeting.

Rep. Allison Green also spoke briefly to the board Monday.

Road Funds
At the request of the Tuscola County Highway Commission, supervisors voted to have townships pay $400 a mile towards chip sealing of newly constructed township roads. The sealing must be done within two years, according to the agreement.

John Humm, friend of the court, appeared before the supervisors in behalf of Judge T. C. Quinn to request that $375 be transferred from the general fund to the law library. Supervisors granted the request.

Editor's Corner
In addition to letters printed in this issue, we received several calls asking where petitions could be secured asking for home delivery of mail in the village.

Petitions would have to be drawn up by interested citizens and signatures obtained and presented to the post office department.

However, we learned that several points must be settled first. Postmaster Chester Muntz pointed out that the regulations call for sidewalks in the village to be completed and in good repair before the delivery can be started.

This requirement can be waived if the village meets these two requirements: population of 2,500 and a certain minimum gross business which the Cass City post office has reached.

Cass City has not reached a population of 2,500.

When the supervisor was checking the local post office records, he said that only 2,000 was needed.

To clarify the situation, the Chronicle will get an opinion from the post office department and publish the results.

High on the list of most-wanted items for the Elkland Township Fire Department is a water tank truck for rural fires.

If the necessary funds are found, it will still be necessary to find a place to house the new equipment.

When the village trustees met two weeks ago they tried to think of a place to house the truck, but could come up with no ideas.

The building housing the library was suggested, but no one could think of a spot to move the library to.

One of the results of Cass City's continued growth is the placing of available buildings at a premium.

Hawks Lose Tourney Opener To Vassar, 86-70

In the last five years Cass City has lost the district tournament twice and both times it was an underdog Vassar quintet that ruined the Hawks' championship hopes.

Wednesday night the sharp shooting Vulcans rolled up the highest point total of the season against Cass City to win going away, 86-70.

Vassar was paced by three boys who were dead shots Wednesday. Jim Harpham netted 23 points on jump shots from around the foul circle and George Davidson netted 21. Bill Main counted 19 points, mostly on set shots from outcourt, where he hit around 75 per cent of his tries.

In the opening quarter, Vassar jumped off to a six-point lead before the Hawks could score. Once Cass City found the range they scored eight points to take a temporary lead.

During the remainder of the first half, the lead seasawed back and forth and the half ended with the two teams tied, 34-34.

In the third quarter, Cass City lost the game. Vassar, who had been having trouble with rebounds in the first half, came alive and started getting more rebounds off both boards in the last half.

They moved into a 57-45 lead at the end of the third period. Cass City threatened briefly in the final quarter when they moved to within six points of the visitors, but Vassar stalled the threat and moved back into a comfortable 10-point lead.

Bob Martus played one of his best games of the season. Before he fouled out he was good on the boards and carried the offensive load. He netted 25 points. John Meininger netted 14 points for second place scoring honors for the Hawks. John, a usually reliable set shot from the side, rimmed the hoop on innumerable shots which failed to register.

Jack Clara was also unable to find the hoop on his favorite jump shot from outside the foul circle.

The team was guilty of numerous passing errors that set up scoring opportunities for Vassar. The loss was the first for an Irv Classman coached team in district play.

CARS Line

By H. M. Bulen

One of the greatest fads since stamp collecting is sweeping America. To some, it seems like a passion for beat-up cars that are nothing but old clunkers and ought to be on the scrap heap.

To the addicts, it's the new craze for classic and antique cars.

At least three national organizations are devoted to the love and adoration of old cars, the Horseless Carriage Club, the Antique Automobile Club and the Veteran Motor Car Club.

The craze has overflowed and now you can find pictures of old autos imprinted on glasses, beer mugs, wall plaques and on men's shirts.

There's a big difference between the antique car and the classic. The antique-lover wants an old and well-preserved auto, usually from before the First World War.

But the classic is something special, it must be a rare and luxurious specimen which the classic-lover will shine and polish and rebuild and—sometimes—pay a fabulous price for.

For some, the classic car hobby can be profitable. A man in New York found an old car in a junkyard a few years ago and paid $350 for it. He had found one of the few remaining examples of the Bugatti Royale, a car that cost $40,000 when new, is the classic car of all classics and is just about priceless today.

But let's come down out of the clouds. When you're looking for a car that is no more than sound transportation, a source of pride and a means to make life easier and more fun—that's when you want to come up and see us. Those are the needs a good used car will fill, and good used cars, thoroughly tested, are the only kind we handle.

No it isn't the "Dog House" my wife advertised for, not a Hamburger Drive-In.

Our Used Car Operation has gotten so big that we are building offices on the lot, and quite nice ones too. Now the Messrs. Kelley, Greenlee and Kneblott can make you comfortable. We invite your inspection. It is much nicer than mine (should trade). You can also look over the nicest selection of Guaranteed "OK USED CARS" in the Thumb Area.

where else at any price! The way it whisks you past awkward situations and slower-moving traffic will have you holding your breath. You're the master of everything on the road.

Why not come in today or tomorrow and sample this tremendous go?

And while you're here, you'll find that performance is only half of this fabulous '56 Pontiac's wonderful story. The other part is price—and it's every bit as exciting!

Michigan Mirror News In Brief

Vast changes in the legislative lineup already have been promised for next year, mainly in the Senate.

Retirements and quests for higher offices will make the major changes in the physical—but probably not the political—face of the Senate.

Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), majority caucus chairman, will run for Congress from the third district, Senator Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) will seek the first district seat.

Miss Brown summed it up for herself, Coleman and others making the try for Washington: "There's so much more that can be done for the people on the Federal level."

If Miss Brown and Coleman both arrive in the House of Representatives together, they will be in position to re-enact many legislative battles on the Lansing scene.

Resignations have been decided upon by Senators Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) and Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland).

Geerlings said he was quitting after two terms because he is "tired of being a champion of lost causes" and Faulkner, chairman of the labor committee, said his variety store business required his attention.

Gasoline prices, an issue for years, have escaped state controls proposed by Governor Williams.

The plan for a "watchdog" committee with powers only to call in manufacturers and wholesalers to explain price changes increasing has been killed in committee.

Death came to the plan just 23 days after Williams made the proposal, based on an investigation conducted by Atty. General Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Kavanagh urged that gasoline stations, refiners and blenders be licensed and the entire business be defined as a public utility and placed under the public service commission.

Look for more action next year on this idea, from both Republicans and Democrats.

Stronger penalties for distributors of obscene literature have been passed by the 1956 legislature, and will become effective in the spring.

They will be liable for fines of up to $1,000 and jail terms of up to a year.

The stiffer penalties were a direct outgrowth of an investigation which turned up sales of obscene literature being peddled among Detroit high school students.

"But we know that the problem is statewide," said one legislator.

Dissatisfaction with the record of Rep. Donald Hayworth in Washington has created a near-crisis in the sixth congressional district—Ingham, Livingston and Genesee counties.

Hayworth, a Democrat, voted with Republicans on the farm price support issue and at a dinner meeting pledged support to President Eisenhower's foreign policy "regardless of the Democratic candidate in 1956."

Democrats and union leaders who supported Hayworth in 1954 challenged his stand.

Hayworth said he voted the way farmers of his district wanted him to vote on the price support issue and that he resented anyone dictating his vote on any bill.

After a flurry when reports came that Hayworth would be abandoned as the candidate in 1956, the party and labor leaders made peace with him.

A meeting to choose a new candidate in Flint was called off and Raymond H. Rapaport, of Lansing, Ingham County party chairman, said:

"There are no issues which cannot or will not be resolved with Rep. Hayworth."

Cramped for space, the legislature has passed a resolution reserving for itself the top two floors of the capitol when they are vacated.

Plans are already in the making to build a new building for the Michigan Supreme Court, now occupying the third floor.

Divisions of the Secretary of State's office, which had the fourth floor, already are moving into new quarters in other buildings.

The plan is to remodel the two floors for legislative offices, hearing rooms and other functions which have been crowded into cubbyholes on the second floor.

easy loading, large capacity,

with LS 300 SPREADERS

Low loading height, 75-80 bushel capacity... just two of the many features that make the LS 300 a leader in its field. Rugged steel angle frame construction allows box to set low, still have large capacity. Weight on 2-wheel models is balanced for easy handling. Auto-turn front axle on 4 wheel models allows short turns. Spreader can be backed into barn with ease.

High grade, clear wood box is specially treated to lengthen life. Wide, tapered bottom helps move manure to rear. Two beaters driven by single heavy-duty steel chain shred manure evenly. Carbon steel distributor blades pulverize the manure, spread it over ground in a wide, even pattern. Distributor is specially designed to eliminate possibility of blank spots in the row. Balanced 3-lobe feed cam lets you spread 3, 6, 9, 12, or 15 loads per acre.

Handy hitch screw jack serves as stand for loading, folds out of way when spreader is in use. Eight models to choose from: 2 or 4 wheel tractor-drawn, 4-wheel horse-drawn.

Patented distributor shreds and spreads manure in wide, even pattern. Extra large feed racket gives 5 accurate feeding ranges for controller spreading.

FORD
World's largest-selling
V-8 Test Drive the V-8 Champion!

The Ford V-8 again showed its tailight to all competitors in the "Olympics" of stock car racing at Daytona Beach, Florida.

In blazing across the finish line Ford demonstrated once more the sizzling performance that keeps it the largest-selling V-8 in the world. No other car in the field could match Ford for getaway "git" for straight-away acceleration... for all-around roadability. To see exactly how the other cars trailed behind Ford, see the chart at the top of this page.

One of the secrets of Ford's performance is the tremendous torque (wheel turning power) developed by Ford engines. For example, Ford's new 225-h.p. Thunderbird engine develops more torque than any other engine in the low-price field. This means quicker response, smoother running in the kind of driving you do! Just nudge Ford's accelerator and whoosh! You pass in instants when instants count!

Ford now offers this mighty 225-h.p. engine with any Ford Fairlane or Station Wagon model with Fordomatic. What's more, these engines are coming off the assembly lines right now! So why wait? Come in today for a Test Drive. Find out for yourself about Ford performance. Find out why Ford is the V-8 with the biggest following!

New Control for Swine Erysipelas

New Factor Also for Internal Parasites

New developments in vaccination for swine erysipelas and control of internal parasites in livestock is always good news for farmers.

One of the newer vaccines for swine erysipelas produces immunity on a par with older methods of immunization and apparently has two distinct advantages: It breaks the chain of propagation of the disease via infected premises, and it does not seem to cause any ill effects, such as enlarged joints in vaccinated pigs.

A new factor in internal parasite control is the successful use of three compounds, all very similar, called piperazines. Used for years in treating humans, piperazines only recently have been tested on animals and chickens.

Piperazines are effective against certain types of worms, but they also have a low toxicity. Piperazines may be fed in mash or placed in drinking water. For hogs, they may be mixed with feed in a self-feeder, but to assure a more uniform intake it's best to hand-feed them on the day of treatment.

Dr. Roger Link of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine notes that phenothiazine has been used for years to fight internal parasites in cattle. He adds that, when a drug is used for many years, it sometimes seems to lose its effectiveness. Veterinarians are hoping that piperazines will serve as a backstop in fighting worms in cattle in phenothiazine should start to fail.

The snowshoe hare is as much a part of northern Michigan as the jackpine. He likes to camp under brushpiles, like this fellow, to avoid hounds and hunters. But white in winter and dark brown in summer, this northerner is no "dumb bunny," and hunters find him game and elusive and tasty in the pot. ## SHORT STORY

Strange Caller

By William L. Roper

A LICE BELL was putting an apple pie in the oven when the doorbell rang. She set the automatic timer on the range and hurried to open the door. There on the front steps stood a thin little man in a wrinkled blue suit. His bright eyes blinked nervously.

"Are you Mrs. A. G. Bell?" he inquired, lifting his hat.

Mrs. Bell frowned. "Yes," she said. "Are you an agent?"

"Oh, no, Mrs. Bell." The little man shook his head solemnly. "But I would like to have a word with you. May I come in?"

She hesitated a moment, but her good breeding and curiosity triumphed over her caution. "Yes, please come in," she said, stepping back.

"I found your name in the telephone book and decided to come out for a little chat," he began.

Mrs. Bell nodded. She wished he would get to the point. Stud-ing him closely, she decided he was a bit on the queer side. His tie, a brightly colored floral design, was knotted carelessly. And he clearly needed a shave and a haircut.

"You see, Mrs. Bell, I'm an inventor and I need a million dollars to get a patent and promote my latest invention," the little man went on.

Mrs. Bell drew a quick breath and her heart jumped. Obviously the fellow was a mental case.

"You see," he continued, "I knew when I saw your name in the phone book that you must be a relative."

Mrs. Bell bit her lip to keep from screaming. The man seemed to sense her fright, for he said soothingly: "You don't need to fear me, Mrs. Bell. I am really an inventor. I know some of the guards out at the sanitarium think I'm crazy, but you see that is because they think I am Frank Lundy. They don't know a mysterious transition has taken place."

Mrs. Bell forced herself to smile sympathetically. "Yes," she said, "I'm sure those stupid guards must be exasperating."

"Terribly exasperating," the man said. "Just imagine. They won't even let me have sharp tools to work with. By the way, Mrs. Bell, wouldn't you like to have me sharpen your scissors and kitchen knives for you while I'm here?"

At mention of knives, Mrs. Bell experienced another tremor. Desperately she tried to smile. She considered running outside and screaming for help, but her house was separated from others in the block by three vacant lots. Besides her nearest neighbor was away from home. Then she thought of running to her telephone and calling police. But that, too, was dangerous. It might trigger the man into maniacal action.

A shrill buzzing noise broke the silence. Mrs. Bell jumped nervously, although she knew it was the automatic timer on the range.

The little man's wide, blinking eyes showed that he was startled. "What's that?" he demanded.

Mrs. Bell thought fast. "My phone's out of order," she cried, emboldened by a sudden inspiration. "And you should be just the man to fix it."

Smilingly ingratiatingly, she added: "Here it is over here, Mr. Bell." She got up and walked toward the phone. The man followed meekly.

She dialed a number and lifted the receiver. "You see when I pick up the receiver and say I want the police at 2124 West Grove avenue, I get a busy signal. Now, I'll repeat that just to show you how it works. I want police at 2124 West Grove avenue. There, Mr. Lundy, I mean, Mr. Bell, see what you can do."

The little man took the receiver from her and examined it with fascinated interest. Then he started tinkering with the telephone. He was still engrossed with it when two police officers arrived to take him into custody.

Letters to Editor

March 5, 1956

To the editor:

To clarify a statement, "The village was left without fire protection," in the last issue of the Chronicle:

The Elkland Township Fire Dept. has an agreement with the Village of Cass City that only in the case of extreme emergency will the department take both fire trucks out of the village limits at one time. We, the members of the Elkland Township Fire Dept., feel this was a case of extreme emergency.

Also in regard to this issue, there were three firemen left in town on that date, who had the understanding that through the agreement with the Tuscola County Firemen's Association, if another call came in they were to call Gagetown or Caro who were standing by for us.

Elkland Township Fire Dept. Howard Ellis, Chief

Cass City, Mich.

March 4th, 1956

To the editor:

In answer to your request for opinions for home delivery of mail, I sure think it would be wonderful and would make Cass City look like a real progressive city, like other big cities. We are in favor of it.

I think mail delivery would be fine. I am for it. My house number is 6316 Pine St.

In Deckerville, Nov. 10, 1920, he married Miss Ida Clark of Argyle. Following their marriage they made their home on the homestead.

Rev. Starr entered the ministry in 1944 and has served the Corland Brethren in Christ Church near Owosso since that time, but has been on leave of absence from his duties since June. He was a member of the Snover Brethren in Christ Church which he joined in 1939.

Frosty Recreation

An upended tip-up is the signal thousands of ice fishermen watch for on lakes throughout Michigan these days. This angler, busy on a northern lake, had a medium-sized bluegill when he reeled in his line. The popular tip-up, as shown in this Conservation Department photo, helps bring angling enjoyment and tasty game fish dinners to countless Michiganders each winter.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago.

Horace M. Bolen has been appointed a director in the Pinney State Bank to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. P. A. Schenck.

Cass City High School walked off with the 1951 State District Class B basketball championship last Saturday night, when they defeated Bad Axe 72-57, at the high school gymnasium.

The farm home 9 1/2 miles north of town of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor, patients in the Stevens Nursing Home, burned to the ground early Sunday morning.

Ten Cass City business men have banded together and purchased nearly 21 acres of land in the southwest corner of the village as a potential factory site for any interested industry.

The Cass City Civil Defense authorities held their first meeting Tuesday night at the municipal building to prepare for atomic attack in the village, or in surrounding large cities. A control group was appointed under the direction of Bob Hunter, civil defense leader of Cass City.

Ten Years Ago.

Gagetown was the winner of the Class D district tournament held in the Cass City high school gym March 7, 8 and 9. Members of the team were: Wm. Johnson, Donald Schwartz, John Wood, Ronald Russell and Gerald Proulx.

Comparatively little interest was taken in the proposition to bond the village for $20,000 to construct and add to the village water supply system, water softening equipment and a deep well pump. Only 88 voters cast ballots on the proposition. Sixty-six were in favor of the project and 22 were opposed.

The Elmwood store, owned and operated since September 1944, by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Finkbeiner, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. John McPhail and daughter, Miss Mildred McPhail.

The gross receipts at the district tournament here last week end were around $1300 for the three nights.

The Cass City high school basketball team, at a recent meeting, elected Dean Leitch, six-foot, one-inch senior guard as honorary captain for the past season. Dean is the son of Mrs. Laura Leitch of Cass City.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Three hundred seventy-two attended the township caucus in Elkland township Wednesday afternoon and placed candidates in the field for the April 6 election. Nominated were: supervisor, Audley Rawson; township clerk,

Charles E. Patterson; treasurer, Mrs. Bertha Brown, and member of board of review, Wm. J. Schwegler.

Two farm homes were destroyed by fire Saturday. One was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McQueen, 9 miles east and 3 1/2 miles south of Cass City, and the other was the house on the farm known as the John McCallum farm in Novesta Township. The farm is rented by Mike Wrobel.

Local teachers were all offered contracts Monday. L. D. Randall, superintendent, was given a two-year contract last spring.

Only 30 citizens took the trouble to vote at the village election Monday.

Robert Warner was elected president of the Tuscola County Federation of Farmers' Clubs at the meeting held at the Caro ME church Thursday, March 5.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

S. F. Bigelow of Cass City was elected president of an organization of Hereford cattle breeders at a meeting held at Bad Axe last week. J. G. Neuber of Elkton, Geo. Peddie of Cass City and Cyrus Wells of Wilmet were made executive committee members.

Many depositors and friends visited the Pinney State Bank when its formal opening was observed Thursday, March 3. President Pinney and the force of cashiers and assistants, numbering six, were kept busy in waiting upon depositors. Carnations were given to the ladies, cigars to the men, and oranges to children and young folks.

The quaint little one-story cottage, west of the park, in Gagetown has been sold to Joseph Bildstein. Mrs. Margaret Spitzer, 80, who owned the cottage, had lived there for 45 or 50 years. She expects now to live with her daughter in Bay City.

Edwin Hartwick and family and Nelson and wife have left Detroit and have rented a farm two miles east and three miles north of Almont.

Back in 1921, the correspondent from Deford described an incident as follows, "The equines of Slim Thick, took umbrage at the noise and smoke of a passing train, fled for a distance on the street, then monopolized the walk, interviewing one of Bro. Malcolm's trees and halted without doing much damage." Today, the incident would be reported thus, "The team was frightened by a train and ran away."

Evidently the greatest labor saving device of today is to-morrow.

A short talk was given by Mrs. Clarence Schadd of Bad Axe, president of the Huron County PTA Council, and letters were read from Mrs. Charles Wallace of Mio and Mrs. Leslie Proudfoot of Davison.

The history of PTA was presented by Mrs. Avis Melhargie; a solo, "I Believe," was sung by Sharon Kretschmer, accompanied by Ann McDonald, and a candlelight theme of soft music was given while Mrs. Schadd cut the Founders' Day cake which centered the lunch table.

In charge of the program were Mrs. Hebert Fluegge, Mrs. Matt Kling and Mrs. Donald Glann. The reception committee was composed by Mrs. Robert McAnary and Mrs. Kling.

Members designated their choice of programs for the coming year.

The group will make cookies for the Tuscola County Infirmary for the second week in April.

The next meeting will be May 2 with Mrs. Howard Rexin.

Shabbona Group at Evergreen School

The Shabbona Home Demonstration Group met February 22 at Evergreen Township Unit School. The business meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. Wilfred Turner.

Roll call was answered by "experience had with water." An interesting lesson was presented on "Water Resource," given by Mrs. Maxine Salesman, County Sanitarian from Sandusky, Mrs. Wilfred Turner and Mrs. Bruce Kritzman. It was brought out in the lesson, the importance of having safe drinking water, how we could be sure our water is safe, and what causes water to be contaminated.

The next lesson on "Civil Defense" will be Monday, March 26.

The want ads are newsy too.
