Kickoff Dinner Slated Thursday

Elect New Officers For Community Chest

The kickoff dinner for the annual Elkland Township Community Chest drive, sponsored by the Cass City State Bank and Pinney State Bank, has been scheduled for Thursday evening, Oct. 11.

The date was selected at a meeting of the board Monday evening when officers were elected and a drive chairman appointed.

Willis Campbell will be in charge of collecting money in the united drive. The quota for the township has not been set yet, but is expected to be about $6,000.

Chester Muntz is the new president of the organization. Jack Esau is the vice-president. Serving as treasurer is William Ruhl, while C. M. Wallace is again the secretary. Other members of the board are Mrs. John Marshall and Mrs. Andrew Bigelow.

At the kickoff dinner all volunteer workers will receive pledge cards and be assigned districts to cover in the drive.

Cass City has always been able to collect enough money in the drive to meet the obligations of the many charitable organizations that participate in the "one drive for all".

Cobo Greet Tuscola Voters In Cass City

An estimated 75 persons gathered at the New Gordon Hotel Saturday afternoon to meet Albert E. Cobo, Republican candidate for governor.

Mr. Cobo's stop here was one in a circuit he made through the county before stopping at Caro for a banquet and speech at the Caro High School.

Mr. Cobo spoke informally during his half hour stay in the village.

In Caro, the Republican nominee accused Gov. G. Mennen Williams of being dominated by organized labor and said that there were still many Republicans in labor.

He said that if he were elected he would run the government as a business and forget politics and outlined a highway program which he would support as the chief executive of the state.

Besides Mr. Cobo, all county officers were at the rally and banquet.

An estimated 200 persons attended the $5-a-plate dinner that will be used for Republican party campaign funds.

PROPOSED COUNTY INFIRMARY—If this proposed county nursing home is approved by voters in the Nov. 6 election, a total of 125 beds will be available in the new structure for county patients.

Because of the design of the building, expansion is possible in several directions if it should become necessary. The hospital will provide economical treatment for the aged and chronically ill, many of which are now in private nursing homes or hospitals at an increased cost to the county. Service facilities will be installed to service an additional number of beds if it becomes necessary. The day rooms, kitchen, dining rooms, laundry, central supply, therapy and treatment rooms all allow for expansion. There are also ample storage and nursing work areas in the proposed building.

The building is designed with all fireproof materials, with a brick exterior and lightweight blocks behind the brick. Concrete foundations, pre-cast concrete floor and roof, metal windows and doors will create a rigid sound-resistant, economical type construction, designers pointed out. Acoustical treatment will be installed throughout the building except in baths and utility rooms where terrazzo is planned.

As presently planned, the building will have three basic nursing units. One for the bedridden and critically ill patients, the second for mentally confused or contagious patients and the third for ambulatory patients.

The entire structure has been planned to meet the most modern techniques for the care of aged patients and provide a home-like atmosphere considered essential to the well being of patients and staff. Present facilities at the county hospital in Caro have been condemned by the state fire marshal and state health authorities.

From the Editor's Corner

Interest is high in the coming election, both on the national and local levels. With the presidential and state ballot, the vote on Sunday sale of beer and wine, the amendment ballot and the bond issue for the proposed Tuscola County Nursing Home, most citizens are planning to vote.

However, if they failed to vote in the last presidential election or have moved to a new voting area, voters have only until Monday night to register with township clerks.

No matter how well informed or how interested, you'll be disfranchised if you're not registered. So do it now.

Hear Criminal Cases Monday

Clyde Presley, who pleaded guilty of breaking and entering the George Mosher store in Richville, was sentenced to three years' probation by Judge T. C. Quinn Monday in Tuscola Circuit Court.

In addition he was fined $250 and costs of $500, payable at $20 per month.

Charles Kowtak of Mayville, who appealed a conviction of reckless driving in Vassar from Justice Court, was fined $100 and costs of $50 when he changed his plea to guilty. He had received a similar fine, plus 60 days in jail before Justice Ruth Tennant in Caro.

Several civil cases were heard Monday. Barbara Joar Friday was granted temporary alimony from Del Junior Friday of $15 a week. Mr. Friday was ordered to pay $100 attorney fees.

Robert Walker appeared in court for failure to pay alimony. He was released when he agreed to pay $50 Saturday and a half of his weekly paychecks until alimony money arrears are paid.

Lester Bosley's alimony was reduced from $50 a week to $35 a week, effective from the original date of the order, dated Sept. 12.

Three other cases were heard Monday. A judgment was granted the Roberts, Johnson and Rand Shoe Co. against Florence Cardingly, owner of the Wesley Department Store in Vassar, for $590.07 and costs of $29.24.

David Lee McQueen of Vassar was granted a divorce from Rose Mae McQueen of Vassar. Custody of minor children was given to Mr. McQueen.

Pauline E. Phelps of Vassar was divorced from Robert V. Phelps of Mayville. Custody of a minor girl was awarded Mrs. Phelps and custody of a minor boy awarded Mr. Phelps. Mr. Phelps will pay $10 weekly alimony for the minor girl and attorney fees.

Thursday Cases

A Tuscola County jury found Edward Raye Colston guilty of assault and breaking and entering in the Bennett Store as charged.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and sentence will be set at a later date. Members of the jury were: Oscar Stang, A. J. Geib, Albert Gruber, Charles Dennis, Harold Lewis, Roy Jackson, Ward Parsell, Grover Russell, Norman McNeal, Ray Putman, Mrs. Blenford Campbell and Mrs. Lou Deming.

Donald Stuart and Elwin Stuart, who had pleaded not guilty, were found guilty.

It is your duty: Register by October 8 so you can vote November 6.—Adv. 9-14-4

Hawks Rally to Nip Caro in 26-25 Thriller

The Cass City Red Hawks fought their way back to a 26-25 victory over arch-rival Caro Friday night after trailing by two touchdowns in the third quarter.

The victory was the first for the Hawks this season and marked the first game in which they were able to score after a 6-0 loss to Clio and a 0-0 tie with Marietta. They still have hopes of a conference championship.

Despite one of the largest point totals in a close game in recent years, the first quarter was scoreless.

Cass City used its two speed merchants, Forrest and Bob Walpole, to cut outside tackle for most of the Hawks' yardage while Caro countered with bruising single wing power plays and a strong aerial game.

Cass City started its first touchdown march on its own 13-yard line. Forrest Walpole sprinted for 17 yards and Dick Hanby smashed for nine. Bob Walpole picked up the first down and Forrest came back for 11 more yards on the next play.

Then with a third and eight situation on the Caro 48, Forrest dashed inside tackle for a touchdown.

Ed McConkey booted the extra point, which proved vital as the game progressed.

The Hawks' lead was short-lived. The Tigers scored a touchdown in just two plays after receiving Cass City's punt. Dick Allen gained two yards on a line play and then shot through the Hawks' left side and scampered 60 yards to pay dirt. The kick was missed.

On the first play from scrimmage following the Tigers' kickoff, Cass City fumbled and Caro recovered on the Hawk 30. Mixing passes and running plays, Caro moved to the nine. James DeNovelles faded back to pass and when he failed to find an open receiver, tucked the ball under his arm and dashed through Cass City's spread defense for the second Caro score. The point was missed and Caro led 12-7 at the half.

Plan for Youth To Collect for UNICEF Oct. 31

At a meeting of representatives from churches in the Cass City area at Cass City School Wednesday evening, Sept. 26, it was decided to sponsor UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund which provides milk and medicine for children in underdeveloped countries on Halloween.

Children living in Cass City between eight and 12 years old inclusive, are asked to come to the school at 6:45 p. m. dressed in Halloween costumes. They will be given identification tags and containers. Divided into groups under an adult leader, they will canvass the community. "The trick is to treat," say sponsors.

A party will follow the work of the children, sponsored by the Cass City Chamber of Commerce. Complete party details will be announced.

The idea of "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" was started in 1950 by one lone church group and last year children in 6,000 communities raised over $500,000. As a service to over 82 million sick and hungry children, UNICEF provides penicillin, sulfones to treat leprosy, DDT to prevent malaria, and milk for undernourished children. It is a self-help program, countries receiving the help usually putting in two dollars for each dollar received.

Local Republicans To Meet Tuesday

A special meeting of the Republicans of Elkland Township will be held Tuesday, Oct. 9, at the township hall at 8:30 p. m. It was announced this week by the Tuscola County Republican Committee.

A member of the committee will be present to address the group. Authorities said that the meeting was important and urged all township Republicans to be present.

At Community Club Tuesday

Smith to Describe Life With Eskimos

Jim Smith of Vassar, an outstanding example of how a handicap can be overcome, will be the featured speaker at the first fall meeting of the Cass City Community Club Tuesday, Oct. 9, at Cass City High School.

Mr. Smith lost his arm when six years old. Despite this handicap he became an outstanding football player in high school. After graduation, he played football for Ohio Wesleyan and Michigan State University.

Mr. Smith is a professional swimmer. He holds many swimming records and swam the Straits of Mackinac and Grand Traverse Bay.

Despite his athletic prowess, Mr. Smith will speak and talk on an entirely different subject Tuesday.

He spent a full year at Huslia, Alaska, where he lived with and taught the Eskimos at the source of the Koyukuk River at the Arctic Circle.

Temperatures in winter often ranged at 62 degrees below zero and Mr. Smith arrived and left by air.

In addition to his year there, the guest speaker also spent three summers in Alaska.

He will show slides and describe his experiences and the living conditions of the Eskimos for the benefit of Community Club members Tuesday.

Junior Hawks Post Win Over Vassar

The Cass City Junior High football team turned in its second win in as many starts with an easy 33-0 victory over Vassar.

In the two games played this year the Junior Hawks have rolled for 69 points while holding their opponents scoreless.

The team is highly regarded by the Cass City coaching staff and great things are expected of the talent on the squad when they move into high school and onto the varsity squad.

Cass City moved into an early lead and the only question that remained at half time was how big the final score was going to be.

Quarterback Tim Anthes capped a 65-yard scoring thrust in the first quarter when he dove over from the two-yard line.

In the second quarter Cass City scored twice. Fullback Bob Wright slanted off tackle to climax a 40-yard drive and then ran the extra point. Anthes took the ball on a quarterback roll out and scooted 55 yards for a touchdown.

In the third quarter, the Junior Hawks proved that they had a passing attack. Anthes tossed to Bob MacAlpine in a strong play that covered 37 yards. Paul Holmberg plunged to register the extra point.

Cass City also struck through the air in the final period. Anthes tossed to Holmberg and the pass and run covered 57 yards. MacAlpine ran for the extra point to make the final score 33-0.

Vassar did not threaten to score and never was inside the Cass City 35-yard line.

The next Junior High game will be at Millington, Wednesday, Oct. 10.

Mrs. Bauer to Speak in Saginaw

Mrs. James Bauer will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Plumbing Inspectors of Michigan Friday night at the Bancroft Hotel in Saginaw.

He said that all persons are invited to attend the meeting. Delegates from all area churches are expected to be at the meeting.

If the church representatives vote in favor of the pageant a board of directors will be formed from church representatives.

This board will appoint committees to take charge of the various phases of the pageant, Mr. McConkey said.

Macomb County Builds Hospital By Subscriptions

While the funds for a new hospital in Cass City are continually growing, the actual construction of the hospital here is not on the immediate horizon.

While the problem of finances are solved in different ways, thickly populated southern Macomb County solved theirs by subscriptions. According to a story in the Detroit Free Press, townsfolk said, "You just make up your mind... and do it."

The Free Press story continued, "Two years ago the hospital's board of directors was disheartened to learn more than a million and a half dollars.

"But a new one was desperately needed. We asked for public help and were amazed," Supt. John C. Zemke said. "An army of volunteers..."

Concluded on page 10.

Hunters Urged to "Ask Farmer First"
"Ask the farmer first," are words of caution directed at farm game nimrods by Alfred Ballweg, Tuscola county agricultural agent. Farmers have a right to grant or refuse hunting privileges on their lands, he points out. This right is guaranteed under Michigan's Horton Trespass Law. It states that no person can hunt lawfully on farmlands and connected wood-lots without consent of the owner or lessee. In agricultural areas the law also includes roads and highways. The agent says it applies to farms even though they may not be posted against hunting. Ballweg offers these tips to farm game hunters: "Ask the farmer first. . . Do not hunt with a large group. . . Learn where the farm boundaries are. . . Close gates. . . Protect the farmer's property. . . Observe rules of gun safety. . . Keep dog under control. . . Don't be a nuisance. All these add up to using common sense and observing the golden rule." The only signs of the times some people see are the evil ones.

FROM A NEW 'INNER CAR' PROVED IN ACTION

came the magic that made possible so wonderfully different a Ford. In the toughest on-the-road tests ever given to a car, this "Inner Ford" demonstrated that a '57 Ford rides you sweet and low. . . that it takes the bumps without a bobble, the curves without the pitch. . . and, that in power, it "takes nothing from nobody!" Nothing on wheels hurries, handles or holds up like a Ford!

Here Today!

A new kind of FORD with the mark of tomorrow

Lowest family car on the road

Only four feet eight inches tall

Everywhere you look it has the "Touch of Tomorrow"

Six or 8 the going is great!

The Fairlane 500, finest Ford series, features five of the 19 longer, lower, beefier Fords for '57.

You're in for a thrill when you see this new knock-out named Ford! But save your superlatives till you drive it! That's where the fun really starts. It's fun just knowing that others who see you wish they were you. For you're commanding the longest, lowest, heaviest, biggest car ever to sport such a low price tag. There's head room to spare for a new fall bonnet. . . stretch-out space for a "Daddy Longlegs."

You'll find that the tough and ready new "Inner Ford" is built to take the roughest road you'll care to travel. New outboard rear springs and ball-joint front suspension let Ford take the turns without the tilt. New swept-back control arms help take bounce out of bumps.

Best of all, Fords library-like quiet is built in. And the new "Inner Ford" is why. For never before in Ford's field has there been a body with so much extra bracing so firmly anchored to its foundation. And you can choose from three big Silver Anniversary V-8's with up to 245 horsepower. There's also a new Mileage Maker Six with 144 horsepower, the most modern Six in the industry.

You can pick your Ford tailored to your desires and your budget, too! Choose from nine Fairlane or Fairlane 500 models or from five Custom or Custom 300 models. Or take your pick from Ford's five longer, lower, new station wagons. Whichever model you select, you'll get a car that's been re-invented from the wheels up!

I was showing a lady a new car the other day and after we had run it around town a bit I asked if she'd like to see how easily it swung in for parking. She did, and parked it very nicely too (I never have believed most of those women drivers stories). But I noticed that after she had crammed it into a tiny little space she pulled the wheels around to straight ahead again. Just one of those little habits of neatness that women usually have, I guess, but I've noticed that's the way a lot of people park, and I've often wondered why. It's much easier to leave the wheels the way they were when you came in, then the car is sure to pull out easily along the same route when you leave.

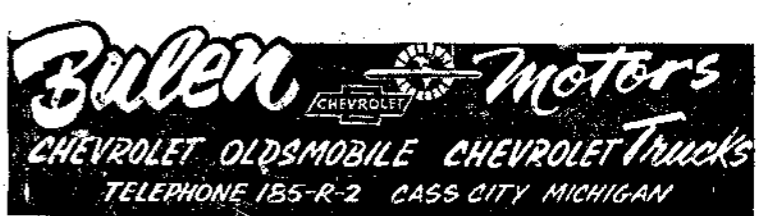

This wouldn't apply to hills of course. But another place it would apply would be in the garage at home. I've seen lots of friends struggle into a tight garage that needs a tricky turn to get into, then they straighten out the wheels. If they'd leave them the way they were the car would practically back itself out in the morning.

If you've got power steering you can ignore all this, or remember it to remind your less fortunate friends. And, surprisingly enough, power steering is not for the lazy rich. Lazy poor people can have it too, as an option on new cars that's not as much as you'd think, or on many of the newer cars we've got on the lot.

This point illustrates one of the great advantages of used car buying at a place like ours. We handle a large number of cars from recent years with many of the luxury features that you might find too expensive to add to a new car. So, in a sense, when you buy a high-class used car you CAN have your cake and eat it too.

10 Down and 4 to go. Meaning, of course, we have 4 1966 Chevrolet left, 1 Oldsmobile Super 88 4 Door Sedan. Five lucky people will get very good deals on the above, for we want to clean them out to be ready for the 1967 Models. CHEVROLET comes out October 19th. Oldsmobile, November 9th.

Come in, drive them, listen to our offer. You can always say "No", but we think it will be hard.

WOMAN'S WORLD
Much Femininity, Expressive Colors Seen in Fashions

YOU'LL look more feminine and pretty in the new fashions than in quite some time past. "The Look" has faded into favor of great "Good Looks" and individuality and elaboration will be part of the new picture in fashions.

Last year we heard much about the cut of the silhouette but now we'll be hearing about draping. The Empire sheath has been softened, while thin supple fabrics are used to enhance the slender and soft look.

Waistlines are being shaped, too, by wide sashes, elevated belts or draped bands caught with flowers or bows. Folds rather than pleats are used to arrange full skirts while wrapped and tied effects are important in the construction and trimming of clothes.

Expanse of Material
Lots of materials are used, but they're employed to look like a little bit. Shallow drapery, tiers and filmy layers of different materials or even of colors are popular.

Bloused backs and back dipping collars are much in evidence to give a decorative, languid feeling to the profile. Panels, tunics and overskirts add their graceful flutters to the pictures as do the flat, free-standing panel backs on jackets and skirts.

Slim tunics drop to within an inch or two of the ever more slender underskirts or they may billow in double or triple layers of tinted chiffon and lace on stately evening gowns.

Fabulous Fabrics
This is an important year in fabrics with velvety-surfaced woolsens, tweeds reduced to featherweightness and small elegant patterns, pure cashmeres, new vicunas cloth and chiffon broadcloth.

Old but elegant materials have been revived. These include charmeuse satin, silk georgette, flat crepe, double and triple chiffon, metal thread lace, French lace, point d'esprit and silk tulle. Velvet and knits are generously used.

Bernethy—Martin Vows Exchanged

White gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms banked the chancel of the Redeemer Lutheran Church for the candle-light, double-ring ceremony in which Miss Carolyn M. Bernethy became the bride of Kenneth J. Martin. Rev. Raymond Pollatz performed the rites.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Bryant, 4228 Hess St., Saginaw, chose a princess style gown of dupioni silk, fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with Alencon lace. Sleeves tapered to points over her wrists. The flared chapel-length skirt had an applied panel of lace in front. A lace band embroidered with pearls and sequins held a fingertip veil of illusion. The bride carried a white satin prayer book centered with a white orchid and ivy.

Miss Marion Mossner was maid of honor and Mrs. Albert Bernethy, Mrs. William Bernethy and Mrs. Gerald Congor were bridesmaids. Miss Mossner wore a bronze crystal-ette gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and Johanna Hill roses.

Bridesmaids wore crystal-ette gowns in shades of bittersweet, mint and gold. The attendants' frocks were fashioned with empire waist-lines and draped necklines of fan-shaped pleating. Skirts had front inserts of pleating. Matching hats of braid and ribbon with circular veils completed the ensembles. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums in contrasting colors. Flower girl Michele Bernethy

John Pickelmann was vocalist singing "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Edwin Pietsch, was organist.

The mother of the bride was dressed in orchid complemented with pink accessories and Mrs. Martin, groom's mother, wore gray with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink rosebuds. Grandmother Martin and Grandmother Bernethy wore corsages of yellow roses.

Assistant hostesses at the reception and buffet supper, which followed the ceremony at Carrollton VFW Hall, were Mrs. Raymond Bierlein and Mrs. John McCrea.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 4763 Strathmore, Saginaw.

Speakers Available To Local Groups From MSU Bureau

A. A. (Bert) Applegate, former head of the journalism department at Michigan State University, will rejoin the staff to direct the newly-formed MSU Speakers Bureau.

Returning after a year of retirement, this new position correlates Mr. Applegate's desire to serve the people of Michigan with his extensive knowledge of Michigan communities and organizations.

He will direct this expanding MSU educational and cultural service designed to provide organizations throughout the state with campus personalities who can talk interestingly and authoritatively on a wide variety of subjects.

Last year, during the univer-city's centennial celebration, MSU personnel filled hundreds of speaking engagements in Michigan communities. The continuing demand for speakers convinced officials to expand this service to a full-time basis.

Mr. Applegate, officials point out, was a logical choice because of his outstanding record of service during his 20 years on the Michigan State staff. He has also worked very closely for many years with Michigan newspaper people on personnel and management problems.

Interested groups and organizations may obtain additional information on speakers and topics by contacting A. A. Applegate, Speakers Bureau, Continuing Education Service, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

The "Little" voter is a mighty big man in the coming election. Both parties believe their best chance lies in getting a big turnout for the Nov. 6 election. This is less strange than it seems when the situation is analyzed.

Key politicians keep continuing tab on the political atmosphere. Results from surveys are evaluated almost daily. Leaders in both parties are convinced that they have a chance to win at the polls. Republicans, who hope to hold outstate Michigan by as large a majority as last time, figure that a bigger GOP vote in Wayne County will swing the state solidly their way.

Democrats, who hope to gain outstate, are anxious to get a higher percentage of their people to the voting booths.

If a million new voters can be registered by Oct. 8, the Republicans think they would half support their ticket. They are working hardest in traditionally favorable areas where the vote fell off last election.

Democrats think there are more like 1,700,000 to be registered; hope to overwhelm the GOP with the million votes they think would result if all of these people voted. They count particularly heavy on industrial areas, where labor leaders are pumping openly for the Democratic party.

General result is that Mr. Citizen may hear from anyone and nearly everyone that he should be registered. Labor groups, trade associations, churches, service clubs and even Cub Scouts are telling him that he is mighty important in this election.

And the fact is that he is. A Michigan minority group is embarking on a program to better its situation. Almost overlooked in the battles of racial segregation and campaigns for racial tolerance is the plight of the state's Indian citizens.

Within the last 30 days steps were taken to remedy this situation. In a meeting at the Capitol the Michigan Indian Study Affairs Commission was established. It is a group of men, most of them of Indian blood, who are dedicated to improving the lot of the Indian and helping him become a greater economic and social asset to his community.

For this huge task only limited means are now available but the study committee is anxious to make its efforts effective. Starting with $200 furnished by funds available for "minor" commissions, the group hopes to begin a foundation for expanded operations.

Listing their major problems as economic security, welfare, education and unsettled legal claims against the government, the commission decided to work first in the realm of education.

According to chairman Francis Wakefield of Grand Rapids, a program within the Indian population is the first essential. Members believe that Indians have little chance for more than minimum schooling so they are looking for ways to provide training in trades, business methods and advanced study for the country's "original citizens."

"Scholarships offered by Michigan universities solely to persons of Indian heritage are rarely used," Wakefield comments. "Education itself will help solve some of the other more pressing problems."

Optimism prevailed at the first commission meeting. Committees were named to deal with separate portions of the over-all objective. Hopes are high that additional money may be obtained from a philanthropic foundation.

In the meantime, Indian Affairs Study Commission members hope their cause will not be lost in the shuffle as other minority groups push their causes to the forefront.

Better coverage of Michigan football games should result from newly constructed press box at the University of Michigan stadium, athletic officials predict. The new $700,000 maize and blue structure was put into use for the first time this fall. Complete with every facility for moving news rapidly, the press box is a tribute to the public need for accurate, speedy news coverage.

Back in 1927 when Michigan built the press box replaced by the new structure, communications were less complex. Radio was in its infancy, motion pictures of football games were rare, and television unheard of.

Developments in these areas outmoded the old press box. Now the new one contains 202 seats for working newsmen on the lower level, 38 locations for photographers in the middle tier and 17 radio and television booths on the top deck. Modern facilities for quick processing of news and photographs are provided.

The new athletic "communications center" is another milestone in athletic progress at U-M.

Don't Stop Cutting Lawns in Fall

Don't put your lawnmower away for the winter yet.

Your lawn needs mowing just as long as it continues to grow in the fall, points out Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Ballweg terms "old fashioned" the idea of letting lawn grass grow long in the fall to stay that way for the winter. The best idea, he insists, is to keep a lawn in such a condition that no more than an inch of top growth is ever cut off at a time.

Recent research at Michigan State University and at other experiment stations has shown that it harms grass to cut off too much of it at a time.

Another good reason for keeping the lawn mowed in the fall, Agent Ballweg says, is that insects and plant diseases can hibernate over winter easier in tall grass. Still another big reason is that tall matted grass isn't pleasant to clean up in the spring.

"With this in mind, I urge all citizens of Cass City to join me in this national celebration. Let's make National Letter Writing Week for 1956 the greatest ever," Muntz said.
