Area Hunters Bag Pheasants Without Guns

There is more than one way to bag a pheasant, D. A. Krug, Cass City, reports after an unusual hunting experience this season.

While hunting in a corn field Mr. Krug's dog started a pheasant running. The bird stayed on the ground and started straight towards Mr. Krug.

Unable to shoot because the bird was directly in front of his dog, Mr. Krug discarded his gun and crouched down. The frightened bird ran directly into his arms and a beautiful bird was taken without benefit of a shot.

Another pheasant was taken without a shot at the Nelson Gremel home. Bob and Roy Tuckey, walking down the road, flushed four birds but were unable to shoot because of the nearby buildings.

One of the birds flew straight through a masonite board on the Gremels' chicken coop and broke its neck.

Ironically, Mr. Gremel, who hunted opening day, returned without a pheasant. The incident was duplicated six years ago, Mrs. Gremel reported, when a pheasant crashed into her windshield while driving and Mr. Gremel again returned home without a bird.

Meanwhile, the Michigan Department of Conservation reported fewer birds, less success and about the same number of hunters on opening day.

An interview with 3,658 hunters revealed a bag of 1,225 pheasants. An estimated 350,000 to 400,000 hunters were afield for the opener.

Collections Up In Chest Drive

Chairman Willis Campbell said this week that collections for the annual Elkland Township Community Chest drive were averaging slightly higher than they were in 1955.

However, he cautioned, there have not been enough volunteer workers who have returned their envelopes to establish a definite trend.

Through Wednesday evening about 10 per cent of the area to be covered had reported. Mr. Campbell said that he hopes to have the drive completed by the end of the month.

He said for residents to remember that the drive is for all charities and to give generously when the worker in your area calls.

Fine Several for Hunting Infractions

John Lebiada, Cass City, was fined $54.50 in Justice Court in Caro after admitting starting a fire without a permit.

Mr. Lebiada was arrested by a conservation officer from Caro.

Three men, in the same hunting party, were found guilty of possessing three hen pheasants the day before the season opened.

Ernie Houghtelling and James T. Meek, both of Akron, each paid fines and costs of $108, while Nick Mihaesque Jr. of Detroit paid $38.

Robert Dade and Bennie Malcom, both of Ferndale, paid $23 each and Antonio Vitale, Lincoln Park, paid $38. The men pleaded guilty to having loaded guns in their car.

All of the arrests were made by conservation officers from Caro.

"The House That Hais Built," skit by Mrs. Audra Francis of Saginaw, Nov. 8 p.m. Methodist Church, 506 1/2. Public invited.—Adv. 10-19-2

A last quarter field goal by Ed McConkey from the five-yard line, provided the margin of victory over an inspired Bad Axe eleven Friday at the Cass City Recreational Park. The score was 9-6.

The Hatchets showed Cass City a tough goal line defense and versatile offense. Cass City was helped in a hectic second half by four Bad Axe fumbles.

One of the fumbles set up the touchdown for Cass City. Cass City recovered on the Bad Axe 18-yard line.

The Hawks picked up a crucial first down with fourth and four yards to go on a beautiful quick pass over the center from Jim Johnson to Bob Martus for a first down on the three-yard line.

Bad Axe then put on one of the best goal line stands seen in recent years as three plays lost three yards.

With fourth and five, McConkey stepped back and split the uprights for the game winning three points.

The Hatchets staged one more drive before the game was over. They recovered a Hawk fumble on the Cass City 33 in the waning moments of the game and took to the air to threaten.

A screen pass was good for 12 and a first down on the 28. Two more short passes picked up 16 more yards and Bad Axe had the ball on the Cass City eight-yard line.

A pass was stopped for a two-yard loss and another Hatchet heave fell incomplete. With third and 10, the visitors fumbled and Cass City recovered in time to make one line play before the final whistle blew.

Both teams scored on sustained drives in the first half.

Bad Axe started a scoring drive from the Cass City 36. Two passes were good for 13 yards and a first down on the Hawk 24.

The Hatchets then worked the draw play on a fake pass and Dave Laidlaw crashed through the center for 23 yards to the Hawk one. On the next play Laidlaw smashed through the line for the score.

Cass City scored on the first play of the second quarter on a drive that started from the Bad Axe 47. The Hawks drove on the ground for the marker, using 10 plays to score. Biggest gain of the march was 12 yards by Dick Hanby. Bob Hunter crashed over for the touchdown from the one.

McConkey booted the extra point, but Cass City was off side and he missed the second try.

With the victory, the Hawks protected their lead with a half game lead over Caro. They will be heavily favored to top Sandusky tonight (Friday) at the Redskins' home field.

Tuscola County First In 1955 Beet Production

Tuscola County ranked first in sugar beet production in 1955, according to the 1955 census of agriculture released this week by the Cooperative Extension office in Caro.

The county produced 158,794 tons of beets. The county ranked second in beans, producing 571,995 hundredweights.

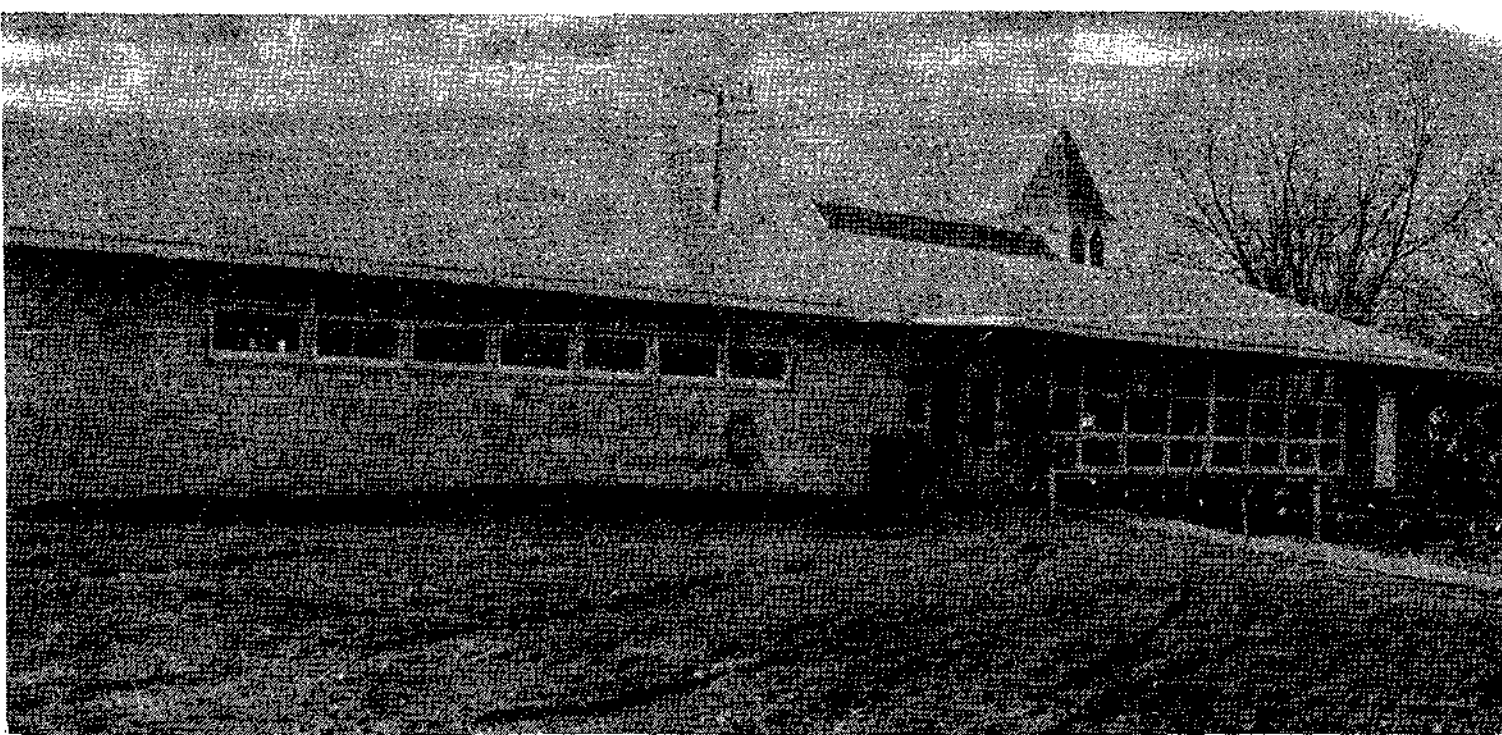

In all farm products, Tuscola is fifth with a total cash value of $19,049,846. It ranked third in all field crops with $12,060,861 produced.

Other rankings for the county were: all dairy products, eighth, $4,131,996; all poultry and products, 12th, $889,955; all livestock and products, 16th, $6,704,410; all other livestock and products, 27th, $1,672,459, and all truck crops, 38rd, $116,271.

Besides ranking first and second in the production of beets and beans, the county was third in both spring wheat (9,175 bushels) and winter wheat (1,570,486 bushels).

Tuscola also ranked 10th in barley, 11th in alfalfa and 36th in potato production. The county ranked sixth in pounds of milk sold (122,880,344 pounds) and eighth in eggs sold (1,888,229 dozen).

Methodist Church Buffet Turkey Dinner and Bazaar Wednesday, Nov. 7, at high school; serving from 5:30-8:00. Adults, $1.50; children under 12, 75c.—Adv. 11.

DEDICATE SUNDAY—This modern Church of the Nazarene building will be dedicated at a special ceremony Sunday afternoon when Dr. W. M. McGuire, district superintendent, will officiate. The 32-foot by 106-foot building has a sanctuary seating 150. The building's cornerstone will be laid after the ceremony.

Final Rites for Accident Victim Held Saturday

Funeral services for Archibald Thomas Hoagg, 66, who was accidentally shot by his nephew, Leroy Hoagg, Wednesday, Oct. 17, were held Saturday at Douglas Funeral Home.

Mr. Hoagg was found lying beside his pitchfork in a bean field on his farm in Evergreen Township where the accident occurred. Leroy Hoagg had been trying out a new 30.06 caliber deer rifle, shooting at a target.

The slug hit Archie Hoagg in the head and death was instantaneous.

A coroner's jury was to have been convened Thursday, Oct. 25, to determine whether charges should be filed against Leroy. The 21-year-old had told police that he was not aware that his uncle was working in a bean field beyond a knoll in the direct line of fire.

He fired the shot from his father's nearby farmyard. Mr. Hoagg was not missed at the supper table by his brother, William, and sister, Elizabeth, with whom he lived. It was common for Archie to stop and visit at the home of Leroy's father, Charles. It was not until Andy Hoagg, Decker, drove to the Charles Hoagg farm that Archie was missed.

Archie was the son of the late Thomas and Mary Hoagg. He was born in Lampton County, Ont., Feb. 11, 1890. He had never married.

Surviving are: two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Hoagg of Snover, and Mrs. Agnes Walker of Marlette, and three brothers, William and Charles of Snover and Andrew of Decker.

Rev. George Marshall of the Shabbona Methodist Church officiated at the final ceremony. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Rotarians Hear From Korean Orphan

Rotarians saw the second half of a film explaining the customs, products and people in South America at their regular luncheon meeting at the New Gordon Hotel Tuesday.

The film was presented by C. R. Hunt, program chairman.

In the business meeting, Horace Bulen read two letters from the Korean war orphan that the Rotary Club supports and dates were set for the annual spring dance and pancake supper.

A request for funds to send 4-H members on a trip was referred to the board of directors for recommendation.

Group Returns from FFA Convention

A group of Tuscola County FFA members, including four boys from the Cass City chapter, attended the 29th annual FFA convention at Kansas City, Mo., last week.

FFA members from Reese, Fairgrove, Mayville, Caro, Kingston and Cass City attended. From the Cass City chapter delegates were Raymond Irer, Bill Cresson, Jack Laurie and David Leomis.

These boys were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knoblet, all of Cass City, and Mr. and Mrs. Concluded on page ten.

Special Service To Dedicate Church

The Cass City Church of the Nazarene will dedicate its new church building at a special ceremony at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 28, Rev. Earl Crane, pastor, announced this week.

The dedication will mark the completion of a year's work for the congregation whose members donated much of the labor for the church in their spare time.

In November, 1955, plans were drawn and accepted by the congregation. Final plans were completed and April 9 the pastor lifted the first shovel of dirt for the new building.

The building was erected without any professional help except for heating, plumbing and electrical work.

The building is the first of a three-unit structure, Rev. Crane explained. To be added on the spacious church site will be a parsonage and sanctuary and the present building will be converted into an educational unit.

Dr. W. M. McGuire, district superintendent from Detroit, will officiate at the ceremony to dedicate the completed unit which has a total area of 32 feet by 106 feet.

It provides for a sanctuary seating 150 persons. A nursery and beginners' department, a primary department, with an additional classroom, a junior department with an additional classroom, an office, rest rooms, furnace, facilities and a foyer and connecting halls are included in the modernly designed building.

The Church of the Nazarene in Cass City and in the United States is comparatively a recent organization. Eleven charter members organized the church here July 24, 1924, under the direction of Rev. C. E. Ling.

Other members were Mrs. Ling, Mr. and Mrs. John Wentworth, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hayes, Edith Mitchell, Mrs. L. E. Wright, Mary Wright, Faustina Brown and Ethlyn Guinther.

These pioneer members held their first meeting in the apartment above the building on East Main Street that houses the present Russ Fruit Market.

The present site on Oak Street was purchased in Sept. 1924 and the dwelling near the northeast corner of the site was converted into a place of worship.

The expanding church first started a building project by erecting a basement in 1942. The

Cass City Club Hears Mrs. Douglas

A Halloween motif, including pumpkins filled with bittersweet and miniature cattails encircled with tiny peppers and tomatoes, decorated the tables for the October meeting of the Cass City Home Demonstration group, Monday night at the high school. The October committee with Mrs. Guy Landon, hostess, was in charge.

Because it is United Nations month, the group repeated the Samiti creed, originated by the women of Ceylon, and answered roll call by naming their favorite program on TV. The program most enjoyed was "This Is Your Life."

Miss Muriel Addison reported a visit to the Veterans Hospital Sunday when she and Chairman Mrs. John Zinnecker distributed 15 dozen cookies furnished by the club.

During the business meeting, the group voted $5 to the Elkland Township Community Chest and $5 to CROP.

Mrs. Earl Douglas lectured on the United Nations and some of its various service branches. Guests of the club were Mrs. Francis Clark, Tuscola Home Demonstration agent; Mrs. Lester Jersey; Mrs. Dwight Goodrich, sister of Mrs. Merle Young, Traverse City; and Mrs. Leslie Townsend Jr.

From the Editor's Corner

One of the most aggressive campaigns in Tuscola County will reach its climax in the next 10 days when voters will decide the important national and state offices and two local propositions.

The first local measure is the Sunday sale of beer and wine and the second the money for the proposed Tuscola County Infirmary.

These issues are expected to turn out a record vote. Registrations are at an all-time high.

Qualified observers are predicting a vote as high as 95 per cent.

The vast majority of Tuscola voters will have decided how to vote on local issues before they go to the polls.

However, many will have only hazy knowledge of candidates other than for president and governor.

The remainder of the state ticket and the office of United States Representative will receive little consideration. Yet, these officers are vital to the state and the nation. Every voter should make a decision on the basis of thoughtful study before he enters the polls.

A record vote in Tuscola County is good, but a record intelligent vote is far better.

Bonnie Benkelman Passes OTR Exam

Miss Bonnie Benkelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Benkelman, 4581 West Street, Cass City, has successfully completed her national examination for registration by the American Occupational Therapy Association.

A graduate of Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo, one of 29 colleges in the United States offering OT programs approved by the American Medical Association, Miss Benkelman joins the ranks of 5,000 OTR's working in hospitals and schools across the nation.

Occupational therapists give treatment on the doctor's prescription in the form of supervised activity to people injured physically or mentally by accident or disease.

The accident occurred when the two buses locked sideview mirrors at the bottom of a gully in a 15-foot wide roadway.

The Carsonville bus, driven by David J. Cook, lurched off the road after the sideswipe, went 60 feet along a four-foot deep ditch, hit a tree and overturned. The Deckerville bus remained on the road.

Fire broke out in the motor of the overturned bus but was put out by Ernest Reid, driver of the other bus, who used a fire extinguisher from his bus. He freed Cook, trapped in the driver's seat, and the 16 children were taken out through the rear emergency door.

Sanilac Sheriff Quincy Hoffman said both buses were proceeding cautiously at about 20 miles per hour at the time of the accident.

Benson Slated in County Friday

Ezra T. Benson, secretary of Agriculture, will be in Tuscola County today (Friday) it was announced this week by Republican authorities.

A free lunch at 5 o'clock is planned at the Cecil Baker farm, four miles east of Reese on M-81. Mr. Benson will speak at 5:45, giving farmers time to return home for chores.

All farmers and other interested persons are urged to attend and hear the man in charge of the Federal farm program.

At the meeting eight resolutions were adopted by the group. The county organization went on record as favoring a "further and continued study of township and county zoning by the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors."

The bureau's women's committee went on record as favoring capital punishment for convicted sex criminals who murder their victims and recommended a parole clinic for known sex dev-

Damages Awarded in Two Court Cases

Jennie Schell was awarded damages of $600 and Ward Schell damages of $150 from Shelvie St. Clair and Thylus Pugh, both of Deford, Wednesday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

The damages were awarded as the result of an auto accident June 7, 1953. A car driven by Mr. St. Clair failed to yield the right of way as it turned from a private lane onto Dodge Road and an accident occurred.

Mrs. Schell was asking for $15,000 damages.

The State of Michigan was successful in its claim against the estate of Henry Heinitz, collecting $12,340.83.

The money was awarded for care of Mr. Heinitz from Feb. 22, 1917, to his death, Dec. 12, 1955, in the state hospital at Pontiac.

Alice Atchinson of Millington Township received a default judgment from William Fellers for $565 and costs of $27 for money due in alimony for three minor children.

Cecil M. Evans was brought into court for failure to pay alimony. He claimed a heart ailment made it impossible for him to work. The court remanded him to the custody of the sheriff while his case was taken under consideration and a physical examination conducted.

Following a potluck dinner at noon, the program will begin with a film, "With Thankful Hearts," at 12:45 p. m.

At 1 p. m. the congregational meeting will be held to consider the budget for 1957 as proposed by the budget and canvass committee.

A color film, "This High Calling," showing the church at work at home and abroad will be shown. Concluded on page ten.

Pass Eight Resolutions

The group urged a change in the law that permits the transportation of up to six Christmas trees without a bill of sale from the land owner. Because the group believes that this law tends to encourage theft which law enforcement agencies are powerless to stop, it advocates a change in the state law to make it necessary to have documentary evidence proving ownership of any Christmas tree being transported.

The Farm Bureau urged action to force roadside markets back a reasonable distance from the road for safety on the highways.

The banquet was served by the Tuscola County Farm Bureau women under the supervision of Mrs. Elmer Goetz of Reese. Program chairman and toastmaster was Clifton Lotter of Silverwood.

Musical entertainment was furnished by the Urbanski brothers, Lois Ford and Dale Wingert. The resolutions committee was: Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gohs and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Treiber.

Among the guests introduced by President Henderson Graham were State Representative Allison Green and State Senator Arthur Dehmel.

Directors Set December 16 for Area Pageant

The Board of Directors of the Cass City Area Pageant Association set Sunday evening, Dec. 16, at 8 o'clock as the date for the pageant in the village, Monday night in a meeting at the Cass City High School.

In addition, a site on the Mort Orr property, just north of the baseball diamond at the Cass City Recreational Park, was approved by the directors.

Chairman Al Krueger told the group that all plans for the pageant should be completed by Nov. 14. Work on the erection of the scenery is expected to be started in the near future.

Rehearsals and other projects are expected to get under way Dec. 1, if present plans are followed.

The association decided to have stickers printed with "All roads lead to Cass City Christmas . . . Pageant December 16."

The stickers will be small enough to conveniently place on letters and cards and the association hopes that every resident of the community will use them to advertise the village when they become ready for distribution.

Junior Hawks End Undefeated Year With 41-0 Win

The Cass City Junior High football team closed out an undefeated season Tuesday when the junior gridlers rolled over Vassar 41-0 behind the brilliant running of Bob MacAlpine who scored five touchdowns.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the powerful Junior Hawks who racked up a total of 153 points to seven for their five opponents.

As the score indicates, Cass City scored nearly every time it got the ball. They started the point deluge midway in the first quarter when MacAlpine went 25 yards to cross the last white marker.

Bob Wright alertly intercepted a Vassar pass and scored from 52 yards out and moments later plunged for the extra point to make the score 13-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Junior Hawks scored once in the second period on a six-yard scamper that climaxed a 64-yard drive. Wright plunged for the extra point. Cass City led at the half 20-0.

MacAlpine went 17 yards for a touchdown and Wright again converted in the third period.

MacAlpine's next scoring jaunt was for 77 yards on a hand-off in the final period. Tim Anthes added the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

The Junior Hawks went into the air for their final marker. Anthes tossed a 22-yard pass to MacAlpine for the score. Wright added the point to end the scoring at 41-0 in favor of Cass City.

Coaches singled out the efforts of Ed Greybeil as outstanding on defense for Cass

Profits For Beer-Wine Merchants

OR

Safety For Tuscola Citizens?

You Decide Mr. Voter — For Safety Vote Yes

The "Tabletoppers" Advocate "Better Business" for a few (self-interest) through the sale of Beer and Wine on Sundays.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE FOR HIGHWAY SAFETY Advocates "Safety for All" by urging citizens to VOTE YES for the referendum that will keep Beer-Wine Outlets closed on Sundays (Majority Interest).

Some of the convincing reasons for voting yes are presented by Rudolph F. King, chairman of Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee.

(We offer facts, not generalizations)

- "Driving while under the influence of an intoxicant is much more hazardous than the American Public realizes. The drinking driver, not drunk, has his driving ability measurably impaired."
- "The drinking Driver's Accident Rate is 55 times higher than the Non-Drinker's."
- Superior Court Judge Daniel D. Obrian was reported Jan 26, 1956, as saying: "A Drinking Driver is A Potential Killer. The Highway is worse Than the Battlefield of Korea."
- "In cultured America Automobiles killed approximately 37,000 people in 1955."
- "Experts tell us that in the United States there is an injury caused by a motor vehicle every twenty five seconds, a death every eighteen minutes, at a cost of $170,000 every hour, twenty four hours a day."
- "A screwball with a gun can kill only one person at a time." "Drinking Drivers are mass HIGHWAY KILLERS."
- "There are plenty of less messy ways of committing suicide than via a drinking Driver."

The Tuscola TableToppers tell us of their concern for loss of profit. They express no concern about LOSS OF LIFE on the Highways due to their "Hospitality" to the Traveling people on "Sunday." Neither do they express any concern or willingness to assume the financial responsibility for the drinking driver's accidents.

In the light of these facts, your VOTE YES will aid in insuring Highway Safety on Sundays in Tuscola County. The Life you save may be your own.

Also here for the funeral on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thorley of Detroit.

On Tuesday afternoon at the Girl Scout rooms, 24 Brownie girls, who had attended four meetings and qualified to become Brownies, appeared in their Brownie costumes for the first time and were invested with their Brownie pins. They are second grade girls who meet weekly under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Auten, Mrs. Harold Paul Jr., Mrs. Robert Ryland and Mrs. Cliff Ryan. Mothers of the girls were invited guests. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. James Champion, Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Alfred Sealey and Mrs. Basil Bigham, four of the six committee members of the two troops.

Thirteen new books were made available to patrons of the public library on Oct. 19. The list included two mysteries, "The Case of the Gilded Lily" by E. Stanley Gardner and "Murder, First Edition" for the young readers, "The Reindeer Twins" by Jane Tompkins, "The Real Thing" by Rosamond Dujardin, "The Black Stallion's Courage" by Walter Farley and "Hospital Zone" by Mary Stolz. Also included were two light fiction, "The Library of Love" by Joan Garrison and "Love for Tomorrow" by Emily Noble. Five novels complete the group and include "Speak to the Winds" by Ruth Moore, "A Call for Dr. Barton" by Elizabeth Seifert, "Life Without Father" by Muriel Resnik, "The Wonderful Way" by Frank A. Clarvoe and "Never too Late" by Angela Thirkell.

Mrs. Arlington Hoffman entered Pleasant Home Hospital Thursday, Oct. 18, with a severe chest cold. Her condition is improving, according to latest reports.

Here to spend Saturday with Mrs. John Bohnsack were her sister, Mrs. Beulah Calley of Detroit, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. John Wright, and her daughter of Bay City.

The Nellie M. Young Past Matrons' Club of Echo Chapter OES will meet Wednesday evening, Oct. 31, with Mrs. Don Seeger. Other members of the committee on arrangements are Mrs. Harold Murphy, Mrs. Robert Hoadley and Mrs. Stuart Merchant.

Myron A. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher Sr. of Uby, was recently promoted to Private First Class. The promotion came on his 19th birthday. Pfc. Fisher's address is: Pfc. Myron A. Fisher US5554910, 2nd Quartermaster Co., 2nd Inf. Div., Fort Richardson, Alaska, APO 949, Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. P. A. Schenck and her sister, Mrs. Florence Morey, received word this week of the unexpected death of their brother-in-law, J. C. Brenza, 64, of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Brenza had left Chicago Oct. 15 on a month's trip to Hawaii and death occurred on the boat two days out of Hawaii. Mrs. Morey left today (Friday) for Chicago to be with her sister, Mrs. Brenza.

The following relatives hunted over the week end at the Leonard Copeland home: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Dazue Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Antcliff and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, all of West Branch; Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Copeland of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Surbrook of Decker.

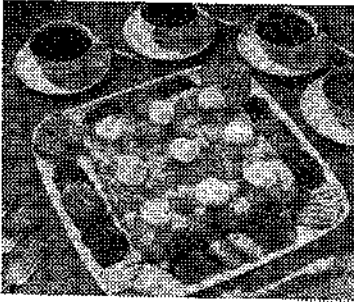

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Severn and their families visited their parents over the week end and brought gifts to Mrs. Severn who was observing a birthday. Here from Friday until Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gildner and children, Christine, Vickie, Lynne, Bobby, Michael and Jerry; Mr. and Mrs. Grayling; for Saturday only, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashmore and children, Carol Jean and Donald of Tawas, and for Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Don Clary and sons, Johnny, David and Mark, all of Midland.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Fruit Dessert Has Eye Appeal, Will Satisfy Appetites

MEN like jellied desserts which have substance to them while women like those glistening with beauty. A Tutti Frutti dessert will satisfy them both equally well.

As for the hostess who is responsible for making the dessert, she will like its ease of preparation

Amber-colored gelatin is used for this fruit dessert to make it sparkling. The amber comes from tangy apple juice which is combined with harmonious citrus fruits and white grapes that are halved for easier eating. Use a square pan which cuts into nine servings.

since it is a made-ahead type of dish. For serving, it can be cut in squares, placed on the platter with the fluffs of whipped cream so guests will find it easy to lift onto their plates.

Tutti Frutti Dessert

- (Serves 9)
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
  - 4 cups apple juice
  - 1/2 cup sugar
  - 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
  - 1 cup orange sections
  - 1 cup grapefruit sections
  - 1 cup pineapple tidbits
  - 1 cup halved seedless grapes

Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup of apple juice. Heat remaining 3 1/2 cups of apple juice. Add sugar and dissolved gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Cool until syrupy. Stir in orange rind, orange and grapefruit sections, pineapple tidbits and grapes. Pour into a 9"x9"x2" pan which has been rinsed with cold water.

Chill until set. Remove from pan; cut into 9 pieces. Garnish each section with whipped cream. If desired, this may be served with an assortment of cookies placed around the serving plate.

Another dessert which can be served as a favorite may be treated like the one above. Bake gingerbread, then cool it slightly. Cut in squares and top these with spoonfuls of heated apple sauce. Pass with a pitcher of cream, if desired.

Both desserts are ideal fare for evening snacks. Everything except for the final topping can be done in advance.

Let Your Floors Shine in Beauty

There is a growing trend toward the use of smaller rugs. That means that your floors should be beautiful so the rugs are displayed at their best.

Fluffy, interesting textures on the rugs as well as many of the new textured treatments which are being favored show up best on either light or dark floors which have beautiful shine.

The shine may be achieved either through shellac and varnish. Frequently wax is then used on top of these to keep the floors in good condition.

Floor Finish

When floors have been badly marred, the best thing to do is to refinish them either yourself or professionally. This means that the old finish is sanded off and gaping cracks patched with filler that is specially designed for floor use.

When the floor has been thus prepared, it is then shellacked. White shellac is being recommended if the floor is to be finished light to match modern furniture. It should be properly thinned to spread easily with a good grade denatured alcohol.

Once applied on bare clean wood, the shellac will dry very quickly because of the rapid evaporation of the denatured alcohol in which it's thinned. Additional coats can be applied on the same day or overnight.

If the floor has been covered only with shellac, the areas which have received the most traffic can be touched up without re-doing the entire floor.

Waxed Floors

Floors which have been waxed need to be cleaned thoroughly before new wax is applied. There are a number of good dirt and wax removers on the market. They are usually mixed with warm water, applied and allowed to stand on the floor for a short period, rinsed off and the new wax applied.

Wax and dirt removers are particularly important where dirt has been ground into the flooring, especially in the heavily travelled areas.

Self-polishing waxes are popular and any liquid wax is easily applied with a handled applicator.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skripick

At a double-ring ceremony at the Wisner Methodist Church Saturday, Oct. 13, Miss Geraldine Myers of Wisner and Frank Skripick of Deford were married. The Rev. Harold Dakin performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with palms and baskets of white mums and gladioli. Mrs. Joseph Bell was the organist and Mrs. Edward Nellett sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morten Myers of Akron. Parents of the bridegroom were the late Mr. and Mrs. Alex Skripick of Deford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length colonial style gown of nylon tulle and imported hand-clipped lace over ice blue satin with wrist-point sleeves. The fitted lace bodice was accented with imported iridescent and seed pearls and was completed by a mandarin collar. Her bridal veil of ice blue silk illusion in finger-tip length was secured to a regal type tiara composed of iridescent and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of pink and white carnations.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Walter Maciag. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Henry Foss, Mrs. Joseph Zerod Jr., sisters of the bride, and Miss Shirley Skripick, niece of the bridegroom. They wore identical floor-length colonial style strapless gowns of cotton blue net over taffeta with taffeta boleros. Matching iridescent headresses completed their ensembles and they carried bouquets of white mums. Flower girl was Sheila Foss, niece of the bride, who wore

Best man was George Bunick, friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Henry Foss, Joseph Zerod Jr., brother-in-law of the bride, and Raldisse Pelham, nephew of the bride. Ring bearer was Steve Skripick, nephew of the bridegroom, who carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for 600 guests at the VFW Hall in Unionville. The couple will reside near Deford.

Willard Leads WSU Football Eleven

Senior Hal Willard, who guided Wayne State University's football team through the 1955 season, is back as quarterback for the Tartars this year.

Now a Detroit resident, Willard completed 16 of 40 passes in 1955 for a gain of 217 yards. This season he has attempted eight aerials and completed four. Willard also handled the punting on a number of occasions this year.

In high school at Cass City, Willard lettered in football, baseball and basketball. His football experience under Coach Arthur Paddy, however, was confined to playing end. Willard got his first taste of quarterbacking at Wayne State in 1955. A two-year Air Force veteran, Willard is enrolled in Wayne State's College of Education.

So live that you return more to the world than you take from it.

TEAMWORK is the cornerstone and chief characteristic of the Eisenhower Administration. It has given to America its greatest security, its greatest period of prosperity and its brightest future. BACK THE IKE TEAM ON NOV. 6th.

Elmwood Resident Dies At Davisburg

Wallace C. Morse, 84, lifelong resident of Elmwood Township, died Tuesday morning in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dean Tuckey, at Davisburg. Mr. Morse went there to visit Oct. 14 and suffered a stroke the next day. Funeral services were held Thursday at two p. m. in the Sunshine Church, of which he had been a member the past 48 years. Rev. Ralph Davidson, pastor of the Andersonville Community Church, officiated and burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Asa Morse, he was born in Elmwood Township Dec. 23, 1871. He married Miss Eliza Evans at Caro on Feb. 20, 1917. Survivors include his widow and four daughters, Mrs. Lyle Lounsbury (Margaret) of Clarkston, Mrs. Floyd Wiles (Ida) of Cass City, Mrs. Charles Cutler (Ruth) of Sebawaing and Mrs. Dean Tuckey (Lena) of Davisburg, and 14 grandchildren.

A son, Charles Leslie, preceded him in death.

Michigan Mirror News in Brief

A look at the record, as politicians like to say, enables anyone to distinguish the smoke from the fire in the hot spot occupied by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

Ziegler has been under constant attack by Governor G. Mennen Williams and other Democrats for some five years. Since criticism seemed to increase before every election, many voters thought Ziegler was running for re-election. The fact is that he was not. His term lasts for four years; next contest is in the spring.

Despite attentions of both gubernatorial candidates to highway matters, there is little a governor has to do with the road situation. Apparently, it makes good campaign material.

Behind the smoke screen of charges laid down by Democrats to confuse the issue, there are many facts that play important roles in determining Michigan's highway program.

Here's the background: A depression and World War II established a 15 year period when it was impossible to build new highways. In fact it was difficult to maintain the existing road system. In the early post-war years, only limited funds were made available to the State Highway Department by the Michigan Legislature.

Experts estimate that $3.5 billion backlog of needed modern highways developed during the war years.

Little co-operation was given the Highway Department to meet this $3.5 billion need. In the early years after the war the Highway Commission usually received an annual $23 million appropriation from the Legislature for new construction.

But the Legislature began to awaken to the need in 1951 when they passed a "good roads" bill. This became law over the determined opposition and veto of Governor Williams.

Much talk of "patchwork" road system was heard. Anything other than this would have been impossible under terms of the law which existed until 1951. It was required by the Legislature that 25% of highway money be spent in the northern peninsula; 25% in the lower peninsula above the Muskegon-Bay City line.

The remaining 50% was left to build roads in the southern part of the state where 87% of the people and 87.8% of the vehicles are located.

How was the money used by the Highway Department? During the past 10 years a total of $659 million was allocated by the Legislature to the department for all types of work.

Some $359,600,000 went for new road construction. Another $60 million was spent for right-of-way purchases. Nearly $165 million had to go for maintenance of old roads. Bonding and miscellaneous expenses cost $34 million and administration accounted for $10-million.

What was accomplished with these funds? Some 2,144 miles of new highways are already on the record to Ziegler's credit. An additional 2,812 miles of roads were resurfaced, widened or improved during the last decade.

And to the Commissioner's credit is a bureau study showing that the State Highway Department constructed roads at a cost of 15% less than comparable neighboring states.

"We've always spent every penny we could for construction," says Ziegler. "If we didn't build fast enough the answer was simple—we didn't have the money."

Things are looking better now. The new federal interstate highway program, plus a second Michigan "good roads" law passed in 1955 will open a new era of construction. The Highway Department will have the resources to do a bigger job.

"For the first time, the backlog of highway needs is being reduced, not increased," says Ziegler. "We're going places. And we're just as glad about it as Michigan drivers will be when the new roads are completed."

The trading stamp craze goes in cycles—and right now Michigan is near the top or just past the peak of such a cycle, says Richard O. Cook, of the Michigan Retailers' Association.

"Trading stamps are blessed by some, cursed by others and noticed by nearly everyone," Cook comments.

Behind these varied opinions certain economic facts are apparent! Trading stamps add approximately two per-cent to the cost of doing business. In other words, for every dollar a merchant takes in, two cents of it pays for the trading stamps.

Someone must pay the two per cent cost. It can be the consumer in the form of higher prices. Again, it may be the retailer who absorbs the cost and hopes to make up for it with increased volume. Finally, other means of advertising may be omitted or reduced to pay the bill.

Trading stamp companies make their biggest profits from the stamps that are given out but never redeemed for premiums. The biggest loser is the person that throws stamps away, says Cook. This provides the margin of profit which allows stamp companies to continue in business.

The biggest benefit with trading stamps usually goes to the merchant who puts them in first. As the "band-wagon" gets rolling and all merchants provide some brand of the green, gold, blue, yellow and pink labels, stamp competition replaces merchandise competition. This is the point, according to Cook, that someone is most likely to lose.

The consumer most often pays for the cost of stamps when price increases can be passed on unnoticed says Cook. For example, a grocery store can raise prices on many articles without scaring customers away. On the other hand, a gasoline station must keep prices in line with all competitors and even a penny increase is quickly noted by customers.

In any event—someone always pays.

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

...less to own...less to run...last longer, too!

• Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. You'll like what you see.

Look at costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more for your money in a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern, gas-saving Short Stroke power in every truck, V-8 or Six. More comfort with a Driverized Cab. More safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully...consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

The big fleets buy more Ford trucks than any other make.

FORD TRUCKS LAST LONGER

Using latest registration data on 10,502,351 trucks, insurance experts prove Ford trucks last longer.

Fresh Prune Crunch

"A tisket, a tasket! Buy 'em by the basket!" Fresh Italian Prunes, sometimes called "purple plums," are coming into our markets from Idaho's world-famous orchards for an all-too-brief appearance on our tables unless, while enjoying them fresh, you also are canning, preserving, pickling, freezing these delicious beauties.

This Fresh Prune Crunch may be made with either fresh or home-frozen fruit. It's a sort of combination Cobbler and Deep Dish Pie, but with a most unusual crust.

Serve it with a Take-Your-Choice-of-Toppings tray—a pitcher of pour-on cream, a bowl of slightly-sweetened whipped cream with a flick of cinnamon atop or grated orange rind. Or some cream cheese whipped to a fluff with a bit of milk, topped with bits of candied orange peel or with toasted slivered almonds.

Fresh Prune Crunch, Idaho

Place in baking dish—oblong 7 x 10 x 2-inches or square 8 x 8 x 2-inches—about 4 cups pitted and quartered Idaho Fresh Italian Prunes or enough to fill dish to within 1/2-inch of top. Sprinkle with mixture of 4 tablespoons brown sugar, 8 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, stirring in a bit with a fork.

Topping

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup granulated sugar 1/4 teaspoon mace
1 teaspoon baking powder 1 egg well-beaten
1/2 cup (1 stick) melted butter

Combine all dry ingredients in flour sifter and sift into beaten egg. Using a table fork, mix together until very crumbly. Sprinkle crumbly mixture over top of prunes. Do not mix in. Drizzle the melted butter all over top of crumbly mixture. Bake in 375-degree F. (moderate) oven for 45 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 6 to 8 servings, depending on appetites.

Bicycle Safety Codes

BICYCLES ARE TRAFFIC

Observe all traffic regulations—traffic signals, stop signs, one-way streets, right-of-way rules.

Keep to the right and ride in a straight line with the flow of traffic. Always ride single file on busy streets, and never more than two abreast on any street.

Give pedestrians the right-of-way.

Avoid riding on the sidewalk.

Use arm-hand signals far enough in advance to return your hand to the handle bars for proper control.

WHEN YOU RIDE DOWNTOWN

When riding past parked cars, watch for doors to open on the street side, and for pedestrians coming from between parked cars.

Ride at a safe distance from trucks, buses and other vehicles the drivers of which cannot see you easily.

Keep out of narrow places between vehicles.

Beware of cars traveling in the same direction which may make right turns or swing into parking places.

Walk, do not ride, across busy intersections.

THE BICYCLE YOU RIDE

For night riding have a white light on front visible at 500 ft. and a red light or large reflector on rear visible at 300 ft.

ALWAYS

Park your bicycle in places provided, or at the edge of the sidewalks where permitted.

Some Special Deer Permits Available

Heavy demand for special season deer hunting permits will necessitate drawings to determine distribution of permits in nine of the 22 areas opened to "any deer" hunting this year.

A limited number of permits will be available for eight other areas where quotas were not filled. These surplus permits will be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis beginning Nov. 2 at the Conservation Department district office most convenient to the designated area.

Quotas were filled, but not exceeded, in the remaining five areas.

Of the eight areas where quotas were not filled, four are in the lower peninsula and four in the Upper Peninsula. The area, number of permits to be distributed and corresponding district office are as follows:

Area 5 (Arenac) 885 permits at Gladwin district office; Area 11 (Fruit country) 1400 permits at Traverse City; Area 12 (Torch Lake) 500 permits also at Traverse City; Area 16 (Alpena-Presque Isle) 2375 permits at Gaylord; Area 19 (Seney) 225 permits at Newberry; Area 20 (Black Creek-Stonington) 275 permits at Escanaba; Area 21 (Dickinson County) 125 permits at Crystal Falls; and Area 22 (Military Hill) 450 permits at Crystal Falls and Baraga.

A FINE GIFT FOR SOME ONE

SHORT STORY

Home For Mona

By Fran Pachter

MONA watched the 8:10 pull out before glancing around the station. No one expected her and she had chosen that particular train for that very reason because it was seldom used and she wanted to acclimate herself to the place of her birth. It hadn't changed a bit, at least not the depot. It still needed paint and the sight of the timeworn benches and old stove warmed her as she peered into the dimly lit waiting room. She missed old Ben. He had always been so much a part of the depot and as a small child she had always received candy from him.

Get a grip on yourself, Mona. Its been ten years and Ben probably is at rest atop the hill.

She had left Peaceful Valley and its small confines to savor the thrill of big city living. Her reason for return now was a mystery to her. Success had been hers easily guaranteed and it had been success that had kept her away. It had been a sudden desire for small and demanding that had made up her mind. With a desk lined with travel folders it had been Peaceful Valley that had won out. Good natured kidding among her office personnel had cemented her notion as sound.

"Are you going to give the hicks a treat? Better buy some jeans, gal. Your fancy duds will make the chicks stop laying and the cows quit giving milk." Their tea sing gave Mona her first taste of homesickness. She felt a tinge of pity for her city friends who'd never known the fun of a farm.

She trudged the country road, her heavy suitcase banging against her legs. A shiver of fear took hold of her as she heard the mournful howl of a dog and she felt again the childish sensation of fear that had always held her walking this very road. She longed suddenly for the strong arm of her old beau, Jimmy. She had never been afraid with him beside her.

Jimmy! He would now be Dr. James. She could have shared his life. It had been offered once but she had turned him down. The sick realization that she had lost a lot leaving here filled her.

Ahead she saw the porch light and at the same moment felt a warm wet nose touch her hand. She let out a shriek realizing as she did that it was only Lady her collie. His welcome touched her. Good old faithful Lady. She laughed at recall of her insistence that the collie be called Lady even if he was a boy dog. Lady it had been and the need for explanation plentiful.

Sudden headlights startled her as they shone from a car parked up by the house. A voice called out. "Hey, who is it?" Mona recognized it immediately. It was Jimmy! He was still around then. He came toward her. "Mona, Mona Gibson! What are you doing back home?"

Noting his bag and remembering his profession, Mona asked in a panic stricken voice, "Jimmy, is someone sick?"

"A lot you'd care. You haven't been home in years. Its your dad. He had a bad fall and has to stay abed a bit."

At that moment, Mona saw her mother step out on the porch and heard her say, "Jimmy, are you having car trouble?" A sob reached Mona and tore at her heart.

"Mona. You've come home." Silence was unpenetrable as the two embraced. Mona spoke first. "See Jimmy, I told you my girl would come home." Turning to Mona she said, "They all laughed at me for keeping that light burning but I put it on every night regardless. I just knew someday you'd be back."

Mona spoke in a low voice, "I wish I'd never left."

Jimmy in a voice full of tenderness said, "You're back and maybe we can make up for lost years."

"Do you think we can?" asked Mona.

"I haven't stayed a bachelor all these years for nothing. I guess I absorbed some of your Mom's faith."

Extension Agents Attend Conference

The Tuscola County extension staff will attend the annual conference of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University next week, according to county agricultural agent Alfred Ballweg.

Attending from the county will be Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent; William F. Muller, county 4-H club agent; Don R. Kehler, assistant county agricultural agent; Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent; and Quentin Ostrander, associate county agent in Denmark Township. The conference is to be held at Kellogg Center, October 29 through November 1.

Out-of-state speakers scheduled for the meeting include Dr. George Beal and Dr. Joe Bohlen, Iowa State College rural sociologists who'll relate information on how farm people accept new ideas; and G. Herbert True, University of Notre Dame professor who is widely-known for helping people develop their creative ability.

In-state and campus speakers include Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University; Brendan Sexton, educational director of the UAW-CIO; Detroit; D. B. Varner, MSU vice-president; Dr. Paul A. Miller, director of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service; Dr. Thomas K. Cowden, dean of agriculture at MSU, and Dr. Thelma Porter, MSU dean of home economics.

Also at the conference, extension workers from all over the state will work in small groups to discuss ways of improving their services to farmers, homemakers and youth.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago.

This week was one of the worst on record accident-wise for this area. Two persons were killed and five injured in automobile accidents in Caro, Gaylord and the Cass City area. Saturday afternoon David Richmond of Fernside and Joseph Speight of Hazel Park collided with Thomas Burgess of Brown City six and a half miles west of Cass City. Richmond died a few hours later in Cass City Hospital and Burgess was hospitalized. Ronald Vyse of Cass City and Harold Crawford of Deford escaped with minor injuries when they collided with a Grand Trunk locomotive in Gaylord Thursday. The third accident occurred in Caro Sunday when Ben B. Reavy was instantly killed in a crash with a car driven by John G. MacDonald of Port Huron.

A new Hammond organ has been installed in the Salem Evangelical UB Church. The purchase of the organ was a project of the Golden Rule Sunday School Class.

Clare J. Carpenter topped the sixth annual Huron Sale at Bad Axe Thursday when his Holstein, Betheldale Canary Pietertje Lass, and calf brought a combined total of $735.

Ten Years Ago.

The Be-Lov-Lee Beauty Studio and Krug's Flower Shop were considerably damaged, mostly by smoke, when a fire broke out Saturday in the basement of the building which houses the two concerns.

Grading of the playgrounds at the Cass City Park was begun Friday and is expected to be completed this week end.

McConkey Jewelry and Gift Shop opened for business Tuesday.

Visitors at the open house of the Cass Frozen Food Locker Saturday were shown through the room where the 700 lockers are located and where the temperature is 15 degrees below zero. They were also shown through the retail department to pre-chill and aging rooms, processing section and other parts of the plant.

Over 500 items have been donated by area farmers and townspeople for the auction to be held Nov. 7 for the benefit of the Cass City Community Hospital fund.

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Six farm buildings on the David Pine farm, one and a half miles north of Colwood, were destroyed by fire Monday evening. Also lost in the blaze were three horses, a cow, a bean threshing machine and about 450 bushels of unthreshed beans.

John Parrott, who lacked two months of being 100 years old, died Saturday at the home of his son, George Parrott, at Shabbona.

All taxes, state, county, township, school, etc. will total $135,781.60 less in 1931 in Tuscola County than in 1930. In only three townships Ellington, Elmwood and Tuscola, will the total tax be greater for this year.

Andrew Muntz found a cluster of apple blossoms on the same tree from which he was picking Snow apples Friday.

Thirty-five Years Ago.

H. T. Crandell returned last week from a successful trip, showing his exhibition herd of OIC swine at big fairs in Michigan, Ohio, Virginia and Maryland, at which he won all the big prizes.

Clarence Adams, held for the murder of Howard K. Long in a swamp near Cat Lake, Tuscola County, pleaded guilty in circuit court at Caro Monday. Upon questioning, Adams said that he wanted to get Long, his brother-in-law, out of the way.

A bull weighing over a ton attacked and fatally injured John Simmons at the Simmons farm Tuesday evening when Mr. Simmons attempted to tie the animal up.

The fifth meeting of the Thumb Embalmers and Funeral Directors' Association was held at Cass City Thursday evening. Thirty-five were present for the banquet and meeting.

WOMAN'S WORLD

New Fall Cottons Are Designed for Sturdiness, Warmth

WHETHER you want rugged clothes full of warmth for sports and outside wear or dinner skirts, sleek pants or warm tops for indoors, you would do well to check some of the new cottons available.

There are several kinds of new clothing available which will be welcomed by women who want to be smart but need warmth for cold weather. The first of these is a car coat which is three-quarter length and slender, so called because it does not bunch when you slide into a car seat.

This pastel pretty robe styled in Sanforlan wool with a softly draped collar and dolman sleeves opens flat for easy ironing. It can be worn belted or not. The robe is proportioned to fit the figure and comes in light blue, peach and maize.

You'll find pants to match these car coats, too. Some of the outfits also have a matching hood which is a fine windbreaker, whether you're walking or driving.

New Fabrics

Car coats and their matching pants and hoods come in a variety of materials all of which are rugged and many which are treated for wind, snow and rain resistance. Tarpon cloth, calvary twill and denim are frequently employed.

Corduroy which is now made to wash nicely is another favorite. You'll find it used in combination with the above materials for lining and soft, comfortable warmth.

There's another three-piece costume which should prove popular. This uses corduroy in car coat and tapered slacks and comes teamed with a hooded shirt in striped cotton jersey.

Straight sheath coats are numerous, too, and you'll find them in such sturdy fabrics as cotton chino and polished twill.

At Home Wear

Corduroy and velveteen are the favored fabrics for wear in the home. Most women will like that as they are both luxurious yet durable. Colors take beautifully on these materials, too, and tend to look jewel-like.

Tapered pants and Western style pants are much in vogue for the younger set for lounging and these may be combined with jersey blouses or sweaters. Many of the jackets to match or contrast are popular because they're loose and comfortable for lounging or study. You'll find them warm, too, if it's chilly in the house.

Angel Melba Pie Melts in Mouth

If you're looking for a really luscious dessert, then nothing could be better than an Angel Pie. There are many different kinds, of course, but one that's guaranteed to be a hit is this one with peach slices, glazed with raspberries in the famous meringue crust.

Angel pies are made in advance. Since the meringue is crusty and dry, it needs to be softened with the filling by standing overnight in the refrigerator.

Angel Melba Pie
(Serves 8-6)

Crust:

- 3 egg whites
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/2 cup sugar

Filling:

- 2 cups canned cling peaches
- 1/2 cup fresh-frozen raspberries (with syrup)
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch

To make the crust, beat egg whites with salt and cream of tartar until stiff but not dry. Beat sugar in gradually. Pile lightly into well-greased 8-inch pie pan. Bake in a slow (275°F.) oven about one hour and 15 minutes. Cool, then chill overnight in refrigerator.

Drain peaches thoroughly, then arrange in the meringue shell so the pie will slice easily and neatly. A petal pattern is good.

For making the glaze, heat the raspberries. Add sugar and cornstarch, blended together, cook and stir until clear and thickened. Cool slightly, then pour over peaches in the meringue shell. Chill thoroughly before serving.

The man who travels fast finds it hard to pay as he goes.

Corn Field Day Slated Oct. 30

Tuscola County farmers will have an opportunity on October 30 to view results from the testing of 90 different corn hybrids.

County agricultural agent Alfred Ballweg said corn growers will be able to compare the hybrids for yielding ability, maturity and lodging resistance to determine which varieties are best suited to their needs.

The meeting will be held on the Walter Reinhold farm near Frankenmuth at 1:30 p. m.

Twenty-one seed companies and agencies cooperate with Michigan State University each year for this testing of hybrids. The information is valuable to farmers and seedmen because the large group of hybrids are all tested under the same conditions, Ballweg pointed out.

Elmer C. Rossman, MSU farm crops researcher, insists that a farmer who is not growing the best hybrid available for his locality would be able to increase his yield by 10 bushels or more per acre just by choosing the right one.

Swine Feeding Program Offered

This year as in the past the Animal Husbandry Department of Michigan State University is accepting entries for its swine feeding program.

Who can enter into this program? Any hog raiser, regardless of breed, is eligible to enter a pen of pigs, remarks assistant county agricultural agent Don R. Kehler. It is not necessary to feed the project hogs separately and feed records are optional.

Four or more hogs can be weighed into this project, but only four can be selected for the show early in 1957. If accurate feed records are kept, the entire group of more than four animals can be entered.

Only one exhibit can be entered per farm and pigs must have been farrowed August 1 or later.

Any swine breeder interested in this program is urged to visit the county agricultural agent's office for full information.

All entries and initial weights must reach the county agent's office on or before November 15.

Initial weights must be witnessed by any member of the county agricultural agent's office, Vo-Ag instructor or anyone appointed by one of the above mentioned.

Hanby Receives Good Conduct Medal

Army Pfc. Donald W. Hanby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Hanby, Cass City, recently was awarded the Good Conduct Medal at Trois Fontaines, France, Ordnance Depot, where he is a carpenter in Storage Company.

Hanby received the decoration for his exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity.

A 1952 graduate of Cass City High School, he entered the Army in November 1954 and has been in Europe since March 1955.

Never before in history has anything

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '37 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '37 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run... Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '37 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah... it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '37 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '37 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '37 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world... a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy... and when you sell!

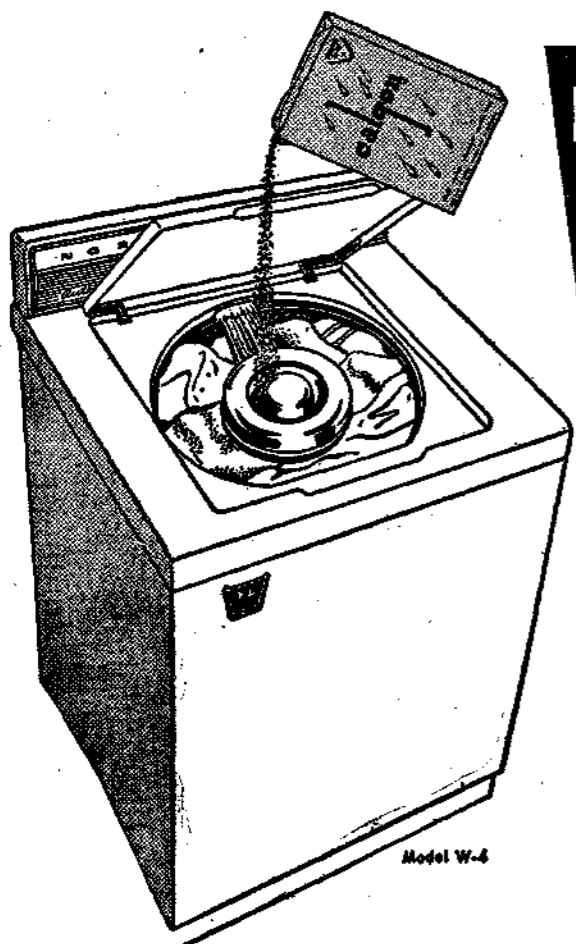

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car—buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Mrs. Lovina Reader Dies at Port Huron

Mrs. Lovina M. Reader died Friday, Oct. 19, at the Leet Nursing Home, Port Huron, where she had been a patient for six years. She had been ill for the last 10 years.

She was born in Canada Sept. 30, 1876, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Levi Locke. She came to Michigan with her parents when a child. They made their home near Roseburg.

In 1898 she was married to J. Albert Reader in Sanilac County, settling in this community. They moved to Roseburg in 1915, later moving to Brown City. Mr. Reader died in 1949.

Mrs. Reader was a member of the Brown City United Missionary Church.

She leaves one son, Earl Reader of Port Huron; one daughter, Mrs. Leon (Vera) Thorley of Detroit; one brother, Henry Locke of Crosswell; two grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. One brother, seven sisters and one daughter preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Little's Funeral Home. Rev. Leland Sherrard, pastor of the Mizpah United Missionary Church, officiated and burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

SHORT STORY

Forever Fighter

By Lyle Pace

MARTY DENNISON was in his early thirties. Some said he was a great welterweight. Others would argue differently. But nobody knew any better than Marty himself, that he was getting too old for this fight game. Maybe not in years, exactly, but he'd been at it ever since he could remember, almost. First the fights in clubs, then the golden gloves, and finally breaking into the professional class, the big time.

And if there was one thing Marty wanted most, it was to take the championship away from Rusty Duggan, and then retire undefeated. As he sat on his bench in the locker room of the ancient gym, rubbing down after a workout, he took a picture of a woman out of his locker and studied it again, almost as if it had become a ritual to him.

She had plain, tired eyes, and yet a tenderness in them that Marty could never forget. He'd hardly remembered this woman, his mother, and yet it was for her that he'd worked so hard getting to the top.

First the fights in clubs, then the Golden Gloves, and finally, the big time.

He dressed and went out into the street. The morning air was crisp, like it should be in October. He walked rapidly toward the center of the city, feeling alive, and wondering how he'd feel tomorrow night at this time. Because that was when he was going to take the championship away from Rusty Duggan. He wondered if he'd be just a little shaky. After all, this was his real big chance. He might not get another.

He stopped in front of a large apartment house, went in and pressed the buzzer under the name Gertrude Hamilton. When he heard the door click, he let himself in and took the elevator to the 7th floor. The girl was waiting at the door for him as he walked down the hall.

"Hi, darling," she said brightly as he approached. "I thought you'd never get here. Didn't you get my call?"

"Sure," Marty said, entering the apartment. "Sure, I got it. But I was right in the middle of a workout."

"But I don't know why you have to keep working in that old gym," she said. "I never get to see you any more."

Marty paced the room, smacking his fist into the palm of his hand. "But you don't understand, baby," he said. "I have to keep at it. You know what this means to me. I have to keep in shape."

"Oh, I know," she said. "All you think of is fighting. There's other things in life you know. We could get married, Marty, you know that, too."

"But, baby," he said, going to her. "You know how I've worked for this. I can't throw over my big chance now. If I don't keep in shape I'll get my brains knocked out. You know how this guy Duggan can punch. I want that championship."

"Please, Marty," she said quietly. "Let's not go through this again." Her eyes were a little sad now, as a little of the fire went out of her voice. "You'd better go home and rest," she said softly. "We'll talk about this some other time."

"But, honey—" "Please, Marty," she said. "I'm—I just don't feel like talking about it now."

"But you know how much I want that championship," Marty said. "You know how hard I've worked."

"I know, Marty," she said, turning away.

Without a word, Marty left the apartment. He couldn't know that after Gertrude Hamilton had closed the door she had begun to cry softly and silently, watching him on the street from her window.

How could she get through to him? How could she ever make him realize that he was the champion?

Marty had knocked out Rusty Duggan in the last round of their grueling fight over a year ago!

Quarter Million Paychecks!

Besides performing its basic job of serving the transportation needs of Michigan's farmers, industrialists, businessmen and general consumers, our Motor Transport Industry plays a most important part in providing employment for a major percentage of Michigan's breadwinners — a quarter of a million, as a matter of fact.

Yes, Michigan's trucks are responsible for one out of every ten Wolverine paychecks — and the total of all these paychecks amounts to well over one billion dollars annually!

That's a lot of money — and it provides those on trucking's payroll with an enormous purchasing power that benefits every phase of Michigan's economy.

Motor transport's paychecks are substantial and they buy lots of food, clothing, appliances, cars and other products whose sales mean paychecks for others.

So, you see... Michigan's motor transport industry not only serves all other business activities — it is one of the most important customers for the products of all these other businesses.

George Sontag Dies Of Heart Attack

Word was received by Elery Sontag of Gagetown Sunday evening of the death of his father, George Sontag of Yale, who died of a heart attack. He was born at Kilmanagh July 29, 1876, and was a former resident of the Gagetown area for many years before moving to Yale.

He married the former Mary Adams, who survives, at Sebewaing Nov. 27, 1899. Besides his wife he leaves: two daughters, Mrs. Earl Stock (Velva) of Colwood and Mrs. Frank Ludwig (Neta) of Sebewaing, five sons, Herbert and Otis of Lapeer, Ora of Peck, Ralph of Yale and Elery of Gagetown; 32 grandchildren; 27 great-grandchildren; three brothers, and one sister.

Funeral services were held at the Peters Funeral Home in Yale Wednesday, Oct. 24, at two p. m. and burial was in the Yale Cemetery.

Stop Fruit-Drop By Spraying

Four Compounds Are Most Commonly Used

Chemical sprays that retard fruit-drop are reducing pre-harvest losses of apples and pears from about 20 per cent to less than 6 per cent in many orchards, according to a report by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

After one of these sprays—known as stop-drop sprays—is applied, the fruit crop is not likely to drop when shaken by wind or jolted by ladders.

Trees sprayed with 2,4-D won't drop their fruit for 10 days.

The chemicals in these stop-drop sprays are plant-growth regulators that retard the normal formation of the abscission layer, which separates the stem of the fruit from the branch and causes the fruit to fall. Stop-drop sprays hold the fruit fast from 10 days to four weeks, depending on the compound used.

At present four plant-growth regulating compounds are commonly used by fruit growers, NAA (naphthaleneacetic acid), 2, 4-D (2, 4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid), 2, 4, 5-T (2, 4, 5-trichlorophenoxyacetic acid), and 2, 4, 6-TP (2, 4, 6-trichlorophenoxypropionic acid).

NAA will retard the drop of any commercial varieties of apples and pears, (fruits extensively damaged by drop). NAA's effectiveness usually does not last longer than 10 days or two weeks, therefore the grower must accurately time his application of the spray to take effect just before fruit-drop is expected to begin. NAA is the only compound suitable for airplane spraying.

The three other stop-drop compounds will hold fruit fast three to four weeks after application, experiments by horticulturists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service show 2, 4-D will effectively control a drop of two varieties of apples—Winesap and Stayman—and Bartlett pears. The other two compounds prevent drop of all commercial varieties of apples, but may damage pears or pear foliage.

Chute Is Important In Shipping Livestock

The most important point to consider when shipping livestock... whether you ship a few head or a few carloads... is that your animals have probably never been off the ground before.

At loading time the animals are likely to be frightened at the prospect of leaving solid, familiar ground to enter a strange and perhaps unsteady vehicle. At such a time the assurance of a strong chute, preferably with steps and tight sides, or a firm bank at which the truck can be backed, will give the animals assurance and avoid the necessity of prodding or hurrying, and prevent excessive shrink.

Most ranchers or farmers have sufficient material on hand to build a satisfactory chute or, in rolling country, a retaining wall for an earthen ramp. Preventing excessive shrink gives the animals more market appeal and often more than pays for the cost of a chute.

National 4-H Achievement Day Slated Nov. 10

Saturdays are usually looked forward to by most youngsters and Saturday, November 10, is no exception for Tuscola County's 1,100 4-H club boys and girls.

It is then that they will observe National 4-H Achievement Day, proclaimed Bill Muller, county 4-H club agent. Plans for the day include the 4-H Crops Show and Fall Achievement program at the Reese High School. Crop judging will begin at 1 p. m., with the evening program at 8 p. m.

Michigan's 4-H record for completed projects was highest in the midwestern area last year, the agent said. In Michigan, 89 per cent of the projects were finished. Here in Tuscola County there were 2,700 completed projects last year.

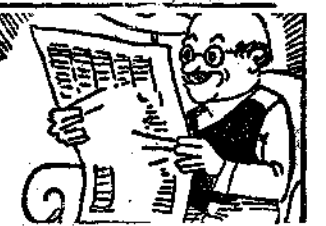

Interesting to both city and rural youngsters, the 4-H program covers home economics, livestock and crop production, conservation, electrical work, tractor maintenance, landscaping, forestry and many others. Many county boys and girls compete on a local level and later on a state level at the annual State 4-H Club Show at Michigan State University in August.

Scholarships, expense-paid trips to national meetings and many prizes are available to youths enrolled in the 4-H Club program.

Any young person interested in joining a 4-H club is urged to call the county extension service office in Caro or contact a local leader of a 4-H Club.
