If you've wondered why the conservation department has a law that a permit must be secured for starting fires, a statistic recently released should show you why. During 1956, persons burning debris caused the most fires, a total of 229.

An all-time low of 211 fires was reported started by persons using tobacco in the woods. Only one other year in the last three decades have smokers been responsible for less than at least 300 fires per year.

A strong education program is one of the reasons that Michigan established a new forest fire record during 1956. A total of 702 fires burned an all-time low of 3,420 acres.

The conservation department says that the record is particularly significant in view of the high-hazard summer and fall seasons that marked the year.

Phillip Hart, lieutenant governor of Michigan, makes a plea for a more active interest in politics, speaking at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel. Mr. Hart said that he was glad to be able to speak to the group and not be obliged to talk about the Detroit Lions football team or the Detroit Tigers baseball team. Mr. Hart is on the board of directors of the Lions and was a former board member of the Tigers.

It was voted to change the date of the annual meeting to the second Sunday in January with a dinner following the morning worship hour.

Action relative to the sponsorship of a refugee family was delayed for further information to be presented by the session at a future special meeting.

Rev. M. R. Vender was moderator of the congregational meeting for election of elders and deacons.

Donald MacLachlan, clerk of the session, was the secretary for both meetings. Annual reports were presented to each family.

Announce Two Business Changes In Village

Changes of ownership in two businesses were announced this week in Cass City.

Bernard Freiburger has purchased the interest of his brother, Alger, in Freiburger's Grocery and will operate the store.

Bernard Freiburger's former business, as operator of the ST&H oil and gas truck, has been taken over by Albert Galagher.

Alger Freiburger's future plans are indefinite.

Bernard is no stranger to the business that he is assuming. For many years he operated the store with his brother in Cass City. Although he left the store to work in Marlette and later for the ST&H Co., he retained an interest in the market.

Hawks Post Narrow Win Over Pioneers

The Cass City Red Hawks narrowly escaped their second conference defeat of the year as cellar-dwelling Croswell-Lexington made a surprising bid for an upset victory Friday, 53-48.

The game was even closer than the final score indicates. With a minute and a half to go Bob Martus converted a pair of free tosses to put Cass City ahead by one point, 49-48.

When the Pioneers were unable to score when they got the ball, Cass City went into a semi-stall that forced Croswell to start pressing.

Chuck Guinther drifted under the basket and was standing all alone when he took a quick pass for an easy dog shot to raise the Hawks' margin to three points.

When the Pioneers missed their next shot the Hawks repeated their controlled ball tactics until just before the final whistle when Guinther took a shot from the side and connected as the game ended to give Cass City its final five-point margin.

Prior to the last minute, it was anybody's game. The Hawks had a three-point margin at the end of the first period and held it at

Discuss Air Strip in Village At Gavel Club

William Hamlin, a member of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, told members of the Cass City Gavel Club of the growing importance of air strips to communities, Tuesday at the Club's regular meeting at Parrot's Dairy Bar.

He said that the Thumb area is in need of more air strips and mentioned that an attempt to have an air strip in Bad Axe is now in progress.

He said that the facilities are important to industry, to the community and to the government.

To encourage the building of air strips, the state and federal government have a plan to help pay the cost. The federal government will pay 50 per cent and the state 25 per cent of the cost of construction.

The governmental agencies do not share in the cost of the land for the strip.

Before meeting with the Gavel Club, Mr. Hamlin toured the community and visited the local factories.

The meeting is one week earlier than the usual monthly meeting that is held the last Tuesday of each month.

Her case was adjourned while the court appoints an attorney.

A domestic case was also heard Saturday. Custody of minor children of Ray and Gladys Strickland was awarded to Elta Caverly. Mr. Strickland was given the right to visit the children for three hours three days a week and on every other Sunday.

Thelma Bombard of Wisner Township asked for an attorney when she appeared before the court on a charge of neglect and abandonment of three minor children, four, three and two years old.

John Humm, Tuscola County Friend of the Court, reported that this office had a net expense to the county of $6,013.43.

His report also indicated a busy season. The office handled collections totaling $145,252.03, of which $134,736.03 was paid to the office for alimony.

A total of 149 divorce cases were handled. Fifty decrees were granted and 31 cases dismissed. Sixty-eight cases were pending at the close of the year.

Some Tuscola Schools To Be in Red

Superintendents of schools in Tuscola County are afraid of operating in the red if the state aid funds in the state are reduced from $190 to $175 per child, it was disclosed at a meeting of the Tuscola County Schoolmasters Association Wednesday, Jan. 9, at Reese.

Because of increased operational costs and salary schedules, most superintendents were forced to figure budgets on the anticipated $190 figure.

Cass City High School is in a more favorable position than many Tuscola County schools, which are afraid that they will not be able to pay contractual salaries of teachers for the present school year at the $175 per child rate.

The suggestion that the school year be shortened was not considered a solution as most teachers are hired on annual contracts. The superintendents at the meeting suggested the following courses if a similar situation prevails in the 1957-58 school year:

(1) Asking local school districts to vote additional taxes for operation to maintain present services.

(2) Eliminating services from the school program such as physical education, music, athletics, adult education and forensics.

(3) Reducing the number of teaching positions and increasing the size of classes.

Blanc. The Russell Cook family of Bay City spent the week end at their farm home near here. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis of Owosso visited friends in this vicinity Friday evening. The Rev. Edith Smith, much improved in health, is still confined to the Caro Community Hospital. People who admit they are all wrong usually turn out all right. Some people live for today—thoughtless of the past or future.

Mr. Webster defines a truck as "an automotive vehicle for . . . long distance hauling" and this is technically true. But to the millions of Americans whose everyday life is geared to the flow of motor transport, a truck is much more than this. It's a shipment of supplies for the corner drugstore where you buy a crate of spare parts for the auto repair garage you patronize; a load of food-stuffs for your favorite grocery; shoes for little junior, eye-glasses for Mary, paint for that bedroom you're doing over, the TV set you've been waiting for.

Life in Michigan just couldn't go on as it does today without trucks. Agriculture and industry depend on them. So do the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker. So do you!

HOW'S YOUR LIVING STANDARD?

Sometimes when we're out for a Sunday drive we think that the whole world has turned out on the road. There are 88 million motor vehicles in the world (and sometimes all of them seem to be right ahead of me on the highway) but the fact is that the whole world would find it a pretty tight fit to jam into those 88 million vehicles.

It works out to 29 people for every auto, truck and bus there is, which is a pretty good sign there's lots of business left for the auto industry, I think.

There are only three places in North and South America where everyone could pack into all the motor vehicles at once, the United States, Canada and the Canal Zone. Even in Alaska it would be a tight fit (although nice and warm) because there are eight Alaskans for every vehicle.

The number of people for every motor vehicle is often taken as a measure of the standard of living, and it's a pretty good rule of thumb: the lower the ratio, the higher the standard of living.

The United States leads the world with 2.7 people for every vehicle, but there are countries with surprisingly high levels like the Arabian state of Kuwait with 20. Poor old Afghanistan has 2,459 people for every vehicle.

Well, whatever your standard of living is now, you can improve it easily on our lot. Big luxury cars a year or so old make a wonderful buy if extras and more extras are your love. And anyone can reach into the sock for a used car from one of the popular lines.

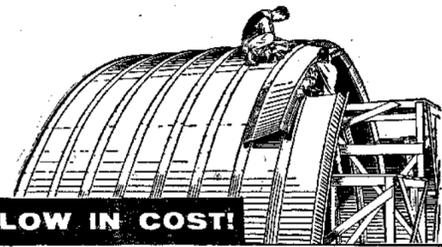

That's the beauty of trading-in often for a used car; you lose little in depreciation and you have a full range of choice for how much luxury and how much practicality you want.

Repshinska—Miller Vows Exchanged

Joann Jane Miller and Paul Repshinska spoke their wedding vows in St. Francis Borgia Church in Pigeon Saturday morning, January 12, with Rev. Fr. Kirshman officiating at the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Miller of Pigeon and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Repshinska of Gageton.

The bride wore an aqua suit with white accessories. Her flowers were white carnations. The bride's attendant was Miss Marie Sontag of Gageton, cousin of the groom. She wore a gray sheath dress with matching bolero and white accessories. Her flowers were also white carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was James Sontag of Gageton, also a cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a charcoal gray dress with a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a navy dress with white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents in Pigeon, after which the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip.

The groom is employed in Flint, where they expect to make their home.

Former Resident Writes of Pageant In Weekly Column

Mrs. Shirley Beck (the former Shirley Lenzer) and her husband, Rev. Franklin Beck, write a weekly column for "The Island Dispatch," a newspaper in Grand Island, N. Y.

One of the columns written by Mrs. Beck was devoted to Cass City's Christmas. She reviewed the entire history of Cass City's Christmas and described the pageant.

Her reactions to this year's pageant are probably experienced by many former residents. She writes in her column: "Even though I had nothing whatsoever to do with establishing Cass City's reputation as the Christmas Town of Michigan, I can't help sharing the pride of the community."

NEW OFFICERS

James Seals was elected to succeed Donald Reid on the board of deacons.

Mrs. Edward Golding Sr. presented a booklet of appreciation to Mrs. Donald MacLachlan who served as superintendent of the grade roll for 11 years. Mrs. Frederick Auten has been named to take her place.

Put A Wide-Awake Want Ad To Work For You

BIG EAR—University of Michigan astronomers and electrical engineers have set up this 28-foot-wide radiotelescope near Ann Arbor to receive radio signals from the sun. The sensitive device is expected to be in operation in February, providing information about the sun's outer atmosphere. The work is being supported by the Office of Naval Research through the University's Engineering Research Institute.

Three Supervisors At First Meeting

When the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors convened for their January session, three new supervisors were serving at their initial meeting. From Dayton Township, Hugh Marr was appointed to replace Clarence Harman. Alton Reavey replaced Henderson Graham, the new Probate Judge, from Almer Township and Laverne Draper replaced Fred Huston from Millington Township.

Name 4-H Club Council Officers

At a recent meeting of the 4-H Club Council, Bruce Ruggles of Kingston was re-elected chairman and Bertha Achenbach of Akron re-elected secretary. Other officers installed at the annual meeting were Vice-Chairman James Milligan of Cass City, and Treasurer Franklin Turner of Akron.

Bill Muller, County 4-H Club Agent, reports that 50 persons attended the annual potluck business meeting of the council.

Five leaders were elected to serve for three years on the council, they were: Bertha Achenbach of Akron, Clarence McMullen of Mayville, Loren Brady of Unionville, Fred Janks of Ellington and Alfred Goodall of Cass City. Mrs. Max Wilcox of Kingston was elected to serve the unexpired term vacated by Ed Goodchild of Fairgrove.

Two committees were named to function during the year, they are Finance, headed by Franklin Turner, the treasurer, and Building and Grounds, headed by Chairman Ruggles.

Tell Activities of Extension Agents At Caro Meeting

Members of the Tuscola County Extension Advisory Board at their annual meeting Tuesday, January 8, were given a report of the program activities carried on in the county during the past year by County Extension Agents in the fields of agriculture, home economics and 4-H club work, according to Jesse Treiber of Unionville, chairman of the committee during the past year. The activities of the Extension office, including that of Denmark Township, were many and varied. Work of all agents during the year was full-time with the exception of the Home Extension Agent who came to the county May 1, 1956.

Farm and home visits, office and telephone calls were all above those of 1955, reported Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent. Extension agents participated in over 400 different meetings during the year, while adult and 4-H volunteer leaders participated in over 1,100 meetings at which Extension agents were not present.

There were 640 members enrolled in 36 home extension groups with an increase of four new groups during the year.

William Muller, county 4-H club agent, reported the past year to have been a year crowded with club activities. With 58 active clubs and the help of 140 adult and 104 junior leaders, 4-H boys and girls enrolled in 2,556 projects. With a total enrollment of 1,069, 485 were boys and 584 were girls. The outlook is for an even bigger enrollment in 4-H work during the next year and with the fine help of volunteer local leaders and other friends of 4-H this will be possible, said Muller.

District 4-H Club Meets in Lapeer

Representatives of four county 4-H service clubs met at Lapeer January 9 and developed a district 4-H service club program.

Prior to last fall, each county 4-H service club had its own service program, but the members felt they would like to have a district service club to greater expand their program. They believed a better service could be given to their community if an exchange of ideas was given. So the first district 4-H service club in Michigan was organized late in 1956.

Once a 4-H club member becomes a member of a 4-H service club, he or she takes on the responsibility of assisting in the community service programs. They desire to return in part the assistance given to them by these organizations prior to the time they became county 4-H service club members.

This program is to be expanded by having this district club. By working together, comparing methods and ideas, the clubs can develop a better county and district service organization. This inter-relationship of members and clubs will help to develop better leaders and give them a broader concept of their neighboring counties' problems and achievements.

Two parties are scheduled for each year and the members feel they are a must in helping to develop friendship, poise and confidence among themselves.

Much planning needs to be done to develop this district 4-H service club, remarks assistant county agricultural agent Don Kehler, but great progress has been made already.

If you don't want to take the other fellow's advice refrain from telling him your troubles.

It may be true that experience is a good teacher, but her pupils seldom complete their education.

Michigan Mirror News in Brief

by Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
You can influence legislation in Michigan more than you realize. Your State Senator and Representative want to hear from you. He is acutely interested in the views of those he represents.

State lawmakers must vote on hundreds of bills during each session. They cannot know everything contained in all of them.

This gives your views real meaning. Legislators want to know what you think about proposed bills. An explanation of facts and your sincere opinion are therefore welcome.

Legislators can be contacted several ways. A common but efficient method is a letter. Literary eloquence is not important. He values your message most if it weighs pros and cons of a matter under consideration; gives him facts and your thinking.

Short telephone calls and telegrams are also effective. Least important are the signed form letters that are distributed for your signature. Even these have some effect, particularly if he receives large numbers of such messages.

One important "Don't." Do not demand that the legislator vote a certain way or threaten him. Lawmakers are human and it is human nature to react negatively when someone tries to say "you must vote this way or else."

Lawmakers like to speak with authority. A single fact from you can give him that authority. A letter is often expanded by the legislator into the impersonal, but larger "they say."

Letters to your legislator will reach him addressed to the State House of Representatives or the State Senate at the Capitol. Direct telephone calls can be made through special legislative switchboards. To reach your Senator call Lansing, IVanhoe 4-5464. The House number is IVanhoe 4-1461.

Biggest atomic battle since the blast that rocked Hiroshima is now shaping up in Washington hearing rooms of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The fight involves a $40 million public atomic power plant now under construction near Monroe.

The question: Can this power plant operate safely or will it endanger millions of lives in the Detroit-Toledo area?

Michigan has a large stake in the answer. The Power Reactor Development Co., a non-profit corporation made up of 26 companies to build the plant insists operation will be safe. Six are Michigan corporations.

Opposing PRDC are three national unions in the AFL-CIO. All are strong in the Detroit area.

A conditional construction permit was issued by AEC to PRDC in Aug. 1955. It is limited to construction only. AEC officials are withholding a license to operate the plant until construction is completed some time in 1960 and proven safe to the satisfaction of the commission.

The bone of contention centers around a report of the Atomic Energy Commission's Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards. This report stated, in effect, that not enough is known about the type of reactor now under construction at Monroe to operate one safely.

This reactor, called a "fast-breeder," creates more atomic fuel than it uses. Only one other has been built near Arco, Idaho. During a power test it "ran away" causing radioactivity to escape. No one was hurt, but things did get out of control.

Unions opposing PRDC contend that the cause of trouble has not been explained.

They believe that the Monroe reactor, which will be five times more powerful than any previously built, should be erected away from large population centers.

Cattle Waterers Can Spread Disease

"Back-siphoning" in some livestock watering devices has been found to be a possible cause for disease outbreaks among cattle. This, remarks Don Kebler, Tuscola County assistant agricultural agent, has been shown to be the reason for some disease outbreaks among humans. Researchers tested 25 different makes of watering devices for livestock and found some were potentially unsafe. And because of his findings, waterer manufacturers have corrected this fault. Chief cause for back-siphoning, he said, is due to the placement of the water inlet at a point below water level in livestock drinking water container. Check your waterer and remove this source of contamination! Sometimes the good man who goes wrong is just a bad man who has been found out. Advertise it in the Chronicle.
