What about the Cass City Community Hospital? Almost daily this question is asked by interested persons in the area.

As a member of the Cass City Hospital Board, this writer can say that progress is being made and that prospects for building were never brighter.

Up for consideration at this time is the hospital site.

The hospital board has received a recommendation of five possible sites from a committee of residents who investigated.

(President James Bauer, Andrew Bigelow and B. F. Benkelman Jr.)

The site will include five acres of land.

The sites under investigation for availability and practicability are:

Land in southeast Cass City at the ends of Garfield and Ale Streets.

Property east of the Recreation Park.

Two sites in the Hills and Dales subdivision in northwest Cass City.

Land east of the Hills and Dales subdivision that fronts on North Seeger Street.

Before any decision can be reached, prices of the land, costs for sewer and water and approval of Federal representatives must be learned.

Meanwhile, large donations and pledges have swelled the assets of the hospital fund from about $90,000 to some $200,000 and a request for aid from the Kresge Foundation is now being processed by that company. A complete report will be made prior to the general drive for funds in the area the hospital serves.

If you live in the village, you're a stockholder in a $100,000 business and the annual meeting is Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 8:15 p. m. at the Town Hall on Main Street.

For Tuesday is the date of the annual caucus when the men who administer the funds are nominated. The offices of three trustees, president, clerk, treasurer and assessor expire. Trustees whose terms expire are Warren Wood, Andrew Bigelow and Cliff Ryan. Trustees are elected for two-year terms and other officers serve for one year.

Better plan to be there.

The special meeting of Echo Chapter OES held Monday evening at the Arena was attended by 335 members of the order. Included in the crowd were 23 members of the Grand officers of the Grand Chapter of Michigan from many parts of the state and members of the order from practically every chapter in the Thumb area.

Better plan to be there.

The St. Pancratius Altar Society was hostess to the National Council of Catholic Women board meeting Saturday, Jan. 26.

Mass was held at 8:30 a. m., followed by a coffee brunch.

Plans were discussed for the annual meeting which will be held in March at Fort Austin. Mrs. Alex Liberacki, president, told of the many interesting highlights of her trip to Chicago to the National Convention.

Mrs. Margaret Woodruff also told of many humorous details of the trip.

The meeting was well attended by officers from local organizations of the Bad Axe Deanery.

Judge Quinn Explains One-man Grand Jury

Tuscola County Judge T. C. Quinn told members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon that a one-man grand jury is about the only way to uproot corruption in government.

Judge Quinn is currently investigating, as a one-man grand jury, bribery and extortion and illegal election procedures in St. Clair Shores and Warren Township in Macomb County.

A one-man grand jury, he said, has the power to subpoena witnesses and records to conduct an investigation.

The biggest power of the one-man grand jury, he asserted, is the right to issue sentences up to a year in prison and a $1,000 fine for contempt of court for failure to answer questions.

Judge Quinn pointed out that the one-man grand jury does not try cases. Its purpose is to determine whether or not a crime has been committed and to point out who is responsible.

If enough evidence is gathered, a warrant is issued and the parties accused are brought to trial in the usual manner.

In the Macomb County case, under his direction, Judge Quinn has already sentenced two persons for contempt of court.

Michigan is the only state in the union with a one-man grand jury and Judge Quinn is in favor of the method of investigation.

Immunization Not Adequate For County Pupils

An immunization survey completed in December by the Tuscola County Public Health Nurses of Caro, Millington, Unionville and Kingston high schools indicates that Tuscola County children are not adequately protected against four major contagious diseases—diphtheria, whooping cough, smallpox and polio.

According to the survey, only 54.55 per cent of the pupils in the schools are protected. Dr. F. S. Leeder, Division of Disease Control, Michigan Department of Health, stated that an immunization minimum of 75 per cent is necessary to protect against epidemics. The doctor pointed out that everyone should be protected, if possible.

The survey included only consolidated schools and Cass City was not included. However, Supt. Willis Campbell said that Cass City's percentage would probably compare with the other schools in the area except for diphtheria inoculations.

The recent diphtheria scare in the area resulted in a drive which saw about 90 per cent of the pupils protected.

The percentage:

Caro Community School

Diphtheria 64.6%

Whooping Cough 63.8%

Smallpox 49.4%

Polio 49.7%

Millington Community School

Diphtheria 56.8%

At Home, School Council Vocational Guidance Studied Monday

Three phases of vocational guidance were studied and discussed at a meeting of the Home and School Council Monday evening at Cass City School.

Parents and teachers were agreed of the need for more effective counseling. The group discussed what students should know about themselves, including their abilities, personalities and interests.

The third phase of the problem under consideration was how to find out about jobs available and what the jobs are like.

Many of the parents and teachers attending the meeting felt that the discussion helped to give them a better idea of what to do to improve vocational guidance in the home and in the school.

Arthur Holmberg was the panel moderator. Students on the panel were Jim MacTavish and Carol Hofmeister. Miss Patricia Hall and Lyle Clark represented the faculty, while Mrs. Edwin Fritz and Maynard McConkey represented the parents.

In spite of many conflicting events, the largest crowd of the current school year attended the Monday meeting.

Debate Team Wins League Championship

Cass City's debaters finished at the top in the Upper Thumb Debate League with a record of nine wins and three losses.

The last two rounds of the league were held Thursday, Jan. 24, at Harbor Beach. Competing were teams from Cass City, Bad Axe, Harbor Beach, Kingston and Reese.

In the first round David O'Dell and Bob Johnson defeated Reese's negative team while Ross Beach and Janet Auslander were defeated by Reese's affirmative team.

In the final round after dinner, Cass City met Harbor Beach. Judy Gremel and Mary Ann Hobart, for the affirmative, and Jack Laurie and Carol Hofmeister, for the negative, defeated both Harbor Beach teams. The victory gave Cass City sole possession of first place.

The team will now debate in state competition at a date and site to be announced.

The question for the debaters was: Resolved that the federal government should sustain the prices of the major agricultural products at not less than 90 per cent of parity.

Three men pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Moose Lodge in Caro in July. The three stole beer, wine and whiskey.

The three are: Richard Beller, Everett Perez and Kenneth Young, all of Detroit. Judge Quinn ordered a pre-sentence investigation and set Feb. 11 as the date for sentencing.

The court ordered land owned in Wells Township by two sisters, Gertrude Raymond and Hazel Swires, both of Caro, to be sold and the money be divided equally.

Try New Methods For Cooking Meat

Just because you have been "frying" hamburgers all these years, it's no reason to continue. Trying some other method of cooking will not only add variety to your menus, but will make your daily food-fetching job that much more interesting.

Basically there are two methods of cooking meat, explains Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent, dry heat and moist heat, depending on whether liquid is used. Each has several variations. Dry heat methods which are ideal for tender cuts are: oven roasting, broiling, pan broiling and pan frying. Moist heat methods which create steam, which softens tissues of less tender cuts, include: Braising, stewing and simmering in water.

Oven roasting, explains Mrs. Clark, is used for large, tender cuts. No water is added and the meat is not covered. A 325 degrees oven is usually the desired temperature and the meat is placed in a shallow roasting pan on a rack, fat side up. The fat melts and bastes the roast as it cooks. Hamburger patties, as well as other small tender cuts, may do well by being broiled. Steaks and chops should be cut at least one inch thick for best flavor results. They can be broiled frozen or thawed. Mrs. Clark cautions that broiling is not recommended for fresh pork, which requires longer cooking time, or for veal, which is lacking in fat. But smoked ham and bacon are often broiled.

Pan broiling is similar to broiling except the meat is cooked by direct contact with hot metal of the pan instead of by direct heat as in actual broiling. No fat is added. To prevent meat from sticking, the pan may be rubbed with a small piece of fat trimmed from the meat. Fat is usually poured off as it accumulates in the pan. Pan frying is like pan broiling except that a small amount of fat is added to the pan. This method is used for breaded or floured meats, for small frozen cuts and for meats which are very low in fat, such as liver or cube steaks.

For less tender cuts and for some tender cuts such as pork and veal chops, steaks and cutlets and pork liver, try braising. Braising is ideal for pork shoulder. Such a cut is tender, but reaches its flavor peak only after long, slow cooking.

In braising the meat is seasoned and browned and then liquid is added; it's covered and allowed to simmer. Meats are braised with liquids as water, tomato juice, broth or cider. Don't overlook stewing for small pieces of meat from economical but less tender cuts of beef, veal and lamb. Meat is browned in a heavy kettle and hot liquid is added until it just covers the meat. Cover the kettle and simmer until meat is tender. And finally, Mrs. Clark tells of the last method of cooking meats in water. It is used for cooking large, less tender cuts and as a step in making soups.

Holstein Production Records Completed

A special report of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vermont, announces the completion of an official production record by a registered Holstein cow in the herd of Mike V. Hatlas of Owendale.

Hat Lass Coffeydale Echo 338-7716, milked twice daily for 290 days, produced a total of 15,217 pounds of milk and 488 pounds of butterfat as a three-year-old.

A cow owned by Gilbert Davis of Sandusky, Clayacres Hello Royal 8006244, milked twice daily for 322 days, produced a total of 14,356 pounds of milk and 531 pounds of butterfat as a three-year-old.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of these records which compare with an annual production of only 5,815 pounds of milk and 224 pounds of butterfat by the average U. S. cow.

The new records are a part of the national Holstein organization's Herd Improvement Registry—a popular official testing program designed to provide individual lactation and lifetime production records on every cow in participating herds.

Registered Holstein breeders in all 48 states are utilizing HIR records as tools in the wise selection of individuals, families and bloodlines so vital to the continued improvement of their herds.

People who throw bouquets at themselves seldom miss the target.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Tender Turkey Will Take Spotlight in Holiday Feast

THANKSGIVING day will soon be here with the traditional bird taking its place in the spotlight. It's up to the homemaker to roast it to delicious goodness and serve it glistening on a warm platter for everyone to enjoy.

Here's a stuffing recipe which will add a bit something different to the Feast. It may be used with turkey, chicken or duck:

If you're serving a brace of turkeys of chicken, stuff each one with a different kind of stuffing for variety. Green and red grapes with parsley will give an attractive garnish, and can be removed for nibbling while the carver does his work.

Pineapple Nut Stuffing

(For 8-10 pound fowl)

- 4 cups bread cubes
- 3/4 cup finely chopped celery
- 3/4 cup pineapple wedges
- 3/4 cup walnuts, chopped
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 eggs

Combine bread, celery, pineapple, walnuts and seasonings. Melt butter, remove from heat, stir in unbeaten eggs and add to bread mixture. Toss lightly and stuff fowl.

Roasting Time

When you want dinner at a definite time, start the turkey cooking 30 minutes earlier than the time prescribed for roasting. This avoids delay if the turkey takes a little longer to cook, it allows time to make gravy, to undo the trussing and to arrange the bird on platter. It's also easier to carve a bird which is allowed to sit for 15 or 20 minutes before cutting as the meat will absorb the juices.

Use a slow (325°F.) oven. A four to six pound stuffed bird will require 3 to 3 1/2 hours time to roast. For 6-8 pounds, 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 hours; for 9-12 pounds, 4 1/2 to 5 hours. An 18-20 pound bird requires 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 hours roasting time; a bird 20 to 24 pounds needs 7 1/2 to 9 hours.

Foil Roasting

Many women prefer the foil-wrapped method of roasting, using a hot (450°F.) oven because it shortens cooking time and saves spattering in the oven. To do this, tie the drumsticks to the tail. Press wings to body with wing tips flat against the sides of the breast. Place the bird in the center of medium weight aluminum foil (which should extend 6 inches beyond legs and breast). Bring one side of foil strip snugly up and over breast. Bring opposite end up and over, using a simple lap fold. Fold foil snugly down at each end of bird, breast and legs, then bring ends up. No drippings should be allowed to escape into pan as they will brown quickly and cause odor and smoke.

Savory Sauces Spice Vegetables

There's nothing like a good sauce to give flavor appeal to vegetables. If your family has been turning their attention to other foods at the cost of vegetables, try some of these flavorful ways to tempt them.

Red Cabbage, Vinegar Sauce

(Serves 8)

- 1 cup vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon brown sugar
 - 2 cloves
 - 1/2 bay leaf
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - Sprig of parsley
 - 2 teaspoons grated onion
 - 5 cups cooked red cabbage
- Simmer the first six ingredients for 5 minutes. Strain, add onion and pour over hot cabbage. Here's a tasty herb sauce which can be used for any number of hot vegetables, namely green beans, potatoes, carrots, etc.

Sour Cream Herb Sauce

(Makes 1 1/2 cups)

- 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1 cup commercial soured cream
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon paprika
 - 1 teaspoon minced chives
 - 1 teaspoon minced parsley
- Melt butter in saucepan. Blend in flour to make a smooth paste. Add milk, stirring and cooking until thick and smooth. Cool slightly. Add remaining ingredients. This may be packaged and frozen, if desired, to be used as needed.

Many a man has slowed down on the road to success and allowed the other fellow to get ahead.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
A "school that nobody wanted," the state Boys Vocational School at Lansing, now finds it has many friends.

BVS, an institution caring for boys with criminal records, has been a controversial issue the last few years in attempts to find a new location.

Pressure mounted beginning years ago to move the school out of Lansing. In 1926 some land was purchased for this purpose, but later diverted to other uses. An attempt to build a new security unit for $500,000 at the present site three years ago was not approved by the legislature.

Last year the legislature turned an ear towards the BVS problem and appropriated money to purchase land at a new location.

A site at Whitmore Lake was selected by the Department of Social Welfare, the controlling office for BVS. W. J. Maxey, department director, explains that the choice was directed by a desire to be near the extensive medical and psychiatric facilities located in Ann Arbor, and also within a reasonable distance from Detroit, where most of the boys live.

Whitmore residents immediately protested the decision. They point out that their present resort area is developing rapidly into a community similar to the present site; that reasons which make Lansing undesirable will exist soon in Whitmore. They also refer to U of M hospital's already overcrowded psychiatric facilities, with the suggestion that BVS needs its own psychiatric staff wherever it is located.

Many express valid reasons for not locating BVS at Whitmore Lake. They have placed considerable pressure on their state representatives to bring the matter before the legislature during the current session.

The city of Grayling now enters the picture. There, the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce and the County Board of Supervisors passed resolutions asking for BVS.

Bob Hayes, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, says "The whole town is for it. We'd like to see if we couldn't help these kids."

of the Michigan State

Several advantages for a site at Grayling are pointed out by Hayes. Construction costs would be less than at Whitmore Lake. Unlimited space is available. Cost per person a day is lower. Vocational training is available through the Conservation Department. Professional psychiatric help is available forty-five miles away at Traverse City.

One important factor is missing, say members of the Social Welfare Commission. A location near the city of Detroit is highly desirable. According to C. H. Runciman of Lowell, vice-chairman of the Commission, one of the greatest influences in rehabilitating the boys is regular visits from parents.

Since most of the boys in BVS come from the Detroit area, a northern Michigan location would make weekly visits impossible for most families, Runciman says.

A new struggle may shape up in the legislature. The Social Welfare Commission has authorized Director Maxey to seek a legislative appropriation for construction of a security unit at the Whitmore Lake BVS site.

The request for funds may be defeated by a combination of legislators representing Whitmore residents who don't want BVS, and those from other areas who would welcome the school. Such a move would serve to once again re-open the discussion of a new home for BVS.

Michigan's one man grand jury system may be taken before the U. S. Supreme Court to test its constitutionality. Judge Timothy Quinn of Caro, sitting as a one man grand jury has ordered St. Clair Shores Mayor Thomas S. Welsh to jail for contempt after the mayor refused to answer any of the court's questions. He was ordered to testify about reports of corruption in some Detroit suburbs.

Welsh has indicated that he will fight the charge and is "deliberately" seeking a court test of the Michigan law.

Generally specific powers and purposes are vested in grand juries. They hear only testimony presented by the prosecution and by witnesses important to the specific case. Hearings are held in secret so that witnesses may be more willing to tell all they know. Testimony is not made public.

But the grand jury is limited in purpose. It does not try a case. In effect, its main power after hearing all testimony is to determine if there is enough evidence to bring the case to trial.

"Multiple-man" grand juries sit in most states. The Michigan law, passed in 1951, provides for judges to act as one man juries. Opponents of the system say the law is now distorted from its original intended effect. They contend that grand juries now try to make a witness incriminate himself, contrary to rights guaranteed under the constitution.

In the Welsh case, the issue at point is whether or not Judge Quinn can enforce the contempt charge, thereby making the grand jury testimony public. Welsh's attorney says this is inconsistent with grand jury law.

Many Michigan crimes could not be solved without the one man grand jury, say supporters of the law. They point out that it is the only way possible to protect witnesses from intimidation.

As a matter of policy the U. S. Supreme Court will not judge the constitutional aspects of a law if other ways to resolve a case can be found. The Welsh case may force the issue.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Pamper Hands In Raw Weather For Real Beauty

HANDS are a clue to your real character because they're always on view. No matter how beautiful the other features of you may be, no matter how beautifully clothed, you cannot be truly a beauty if your hands show neglect.

Winter weather often takes a toll of the hands because any cold and any water seem to be treacherous to smooth, silky hand complexion. Much can be done to prevent the raw weather from showing itself on the hands but you must remember never to go

Apply a lotion on your hands to give them a protective film before putting on gloves and going out-of-doors. This small ounce of prevention can do a lot toward counteracting painfully irritated hands which are such a common problem during cold weather.

What Lotion Does

The reasons that hands become coarse and rough during cold weather is that stinging winds dry out the skin and so do detergents and water. Once the skin is robbed of its own natural lubricants the hands emerge rough, red and dry. Wrinkles and knuckles show up much more than before.

Do choose a lotion which is not sticky or messy. It's much easier to use and you won't mind using it since you can go to work immediately or don your mittens or gloves without messing them or making them greasy. The lotion gives your hands an angel skin softness and protective film which protects it from the elements.

Apply lotion before plunging hands into water for the protective film which prevents water and detergents from coarsening the skin. Dry hands carefully afterwards and you'll also prevent many a case of painful chapping.

Keep the lotion where you wash your hands and in view to help remind you to use it.

Vegetables Offer Tempting Variety

Are you looking for a variety of ways to serve vegetables? One of the best ways is to use them in salads because you can add so many different seasonings to induce the palate.

Beans are always a favorite and folks are bound to like them in this vegetable bowl with bacon as a seasoning:

Bean and Bacon Bowl
(Serves 6)
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1 small onion, chopped
2 no. 303 cans red kidney beans

6 bacon slices, crisply cooked
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 cup thinly sliced celery
Measure vinegar, oil, Worcestershire sauce, salt, garlic and onion into a large bowl; beat to blend. Drain beans and add to dressing. Let stand several hours. When ready to serve, add crumbled bacon, walnuts and celery. Toss lightly to blend and serve.

Vegetables may be combined with fruits as long as there's flavor harmony to give you a wonderful aspic. Try this with roast chicken:

Vegetable-Fruit Aspic
(Serves 6-8)
1 1/2 cups peach whole fruit nectar
1 envelope plain gelatin
1/4 cup lemon juice
Few grains of salt
1/2 cup diced grapefruit
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped celery
Salad greens

Heat nectar; add salt. Soften gelatin in lemon juice and dissolve in hot nectar. Cool until slightly thickened. Fold in grapefruit and diced vegetables. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on greens and serve with mayonnaise.
