

For Death of Son in Accident

Huffmans Awarded Damages of $3,500

The parents of young Ned Huffman, 11, who was killed by an exploding gas tank in Caro April 23, 1956, were awarded damages of $3,500 Thursday, June 20, in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Suit was brought before Judge T. C. Quinn by Mrs. Grace Huffman against Douglas and Esther Newkirk of the Newkirk Oil Company and William Force, driver of the truck. They had asked for $25,000 damages.

The oil truck driven by Force caught fire and the 100-gallon gas tank of the truck was hurled through the air approximately 150 feet and struck the boy in the head, killing him instantly.

After eight hours of deliberation, a hung jury Friday reached in no decision in an accident case involving the Frankemuth Mutual Auto Insurance Co. who insured the car of John Birk of Vassar, and Harry L. Stevens of Mayville.

The accident occurred Aug. 13, 1956, two miles east of Vassar. Both cars involved were declared total wrecks.

Thursday, June 20, Daniel Bussure was found guilty of contempt of court for failure to pay alimony. Sentence was suspended on his promise to pay $40 weekly until alimony in arrears is paid.

Late Wednesday, June 19, three men who pleaded guilty of breaking and entering the McDowell Construction Company were sentenced.

The three were: Harold DeLong, 20, George Clauss, 21, and Milton Leitner, 21, all of Vassar.

Mr. DeLong was sentenced to two years probation with the first 60 days to be spent in the county jail. In addition he was ordered to pay a fine of $150 and costs of $150 at $15 a month.

Mr. Leitner and Mr. Clauss were each sentenced to two years' probation and fined $100 and costs of $100 to be paid at $10 a month.

40 at 1927 Class Reunion Saturday

Some 40 were present Saturday evening when the class of 1927 enjoyed a reunion held at the school in Cass City. Women of the Presbyterian Church, who had served the class junior banquet, their senior banquet and 25-year reunion banquet, served a turkey dinner.

Willis Campbell talked to the group and each class member present spoke briefly. Plans were made for another reunion in 1962.

Plans for the reunion, which 19 former class members attended, were arranged by: Katherine Wallace Gross, Don MacLachlan, James MacTavish, Charles Bigelow and Pauline Knight Milligan.

Other class members present included: Adella Ferguson Jones of Rochester, Harry Clark of Caro, Beatrice Goodell Kolb of Pontiac, Margaret Kelly Johnson of Oak Park, Ill., Clarence Bullock of Snover, Margaret Wright French of Plymouth, Ethel Wager Frigaard of Glenview, Ill., Frank Agar of Ann Arbor, John Tuckey of Brown City, Loyal Boulton of South Rockwood, Elda MacKay Compton of Livonia, Gordon Bliss of Port Huron, Mary Wright Drake of Midland and Harry Severance of Saginaw.

Report Successful Kingston Centennial

Months of planning and preparation were successfully climaxed by residents of Kingston Friday and Saturday when large crowds attended the community's centennial celebration.

Parades featuring old-time music were held.

Stevens Accepts President's Gavel At Rotary Club

A. J. Stevens accepted the gavel from retiring Rotary President Jack Hullen Tuesday noon at the club's regular meeting as new officers for the Rotary year were installed.

Besides Mr. Stevens, other officers are: William Profit, vice-president; secretary, Louis Bartz; treasurer, John Haire, and sergeant-at-arms, Robert Keating. The officers were unanimously elected at an earlier meeting on the recommendation of the nominating committee.

Mr. B. Auten was the featured speaker at the luncheon. He traced the history and progress of work to raise funds for the Cass City Community Hospital.

OFF TO THE PARK—This group of smiling youngsters left Wednesday morning for the annual all-day picnic at Sleeper State Park sponsored by the Cass City Recreation Department. The children brought their own lunches, swam and played games, returning early in the afternoon. The event is one of the more popular special features sponsored by the recreation department.

From the Editor's Corner

While the Chronicle has received official word several weeks ago that home delivery of mail in Cass City would start in 90 days, Postmaster Ray Lapp has not yet been notified of any change.

In an attempt to secure official word Mr. Lapp has written postal headquarters asking for information.

School officials are busy preparing the list of qualified, registered voters in the new Cass City School District for the election of two trustees to the school board Monday, July 8.

Officials are unable to estimate how many voters to expect with the addition of the surrounding districts. Most do not think that there will be as many as 200 votes, but no one will even hazard a positive guess of the turnout at the polls.

A total of 600 ballots is being printed to take care of a huge turnout. Many undoubtedly will not be used but the school cannot take a chance on not having a ballot for a qualified voter.

Many more than 600 persons are registered and qualified to vote. The law reads that any elector that is qualified to vote in a general election is qualified to vote in a school election. It is not necessary to have children in school or be a taxpayer to vote.

Three Graduate From Bay City Business College

Three pupils from the Cass City area were among the 110 graduates of the largest class at Northwestern School of Commerce in Bay City.

The three were: Miss Janet Field, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Field, and Miss Geraldine Warner, daughter of Mrs. Hazen Warner, both of Deford, and Robert Zinnecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Zinnecker of Cass City.

Diplomas were awarded Tuesday, June 18, at the First Presbyterian Church in Bay City. Dr. Frederick W. Dow, of Dow Chemical Company of Midland, delivered the commencement address.

Miss Field completed a nine-month clerk-typist's course at the school.

Mr. Zinnecker completed a 96-week course in higher accounting. While at Northwestern he was a regular on the school's basketball team which won the City League championship for the past two years.

His plans call for further accounting work with an accounting school in Chicago. He is now employed as office manager of Diebel and Company of Saginaw.

Special Events Help Attendance at Park

Some 100 youngsters were off to Sleeper State Park Wednesday in two buses for one of the highlights of the summer recreation program that has attracted an average of 130 children daily during the first week—a record that surpasses attendance of any previous year.

Besides the regularly scheduled special events, children are entertained with various handicraft projects, including the popular making of plaster molds and painting them.

The department said that there is enough free handicraft work to interest children, but that for more expensive items there will be a nominal charge to help defray costs.

"On Wheels" Parade The first special event was the "On Wheels" parade in which 172 children participated.

One of the best features of the parade was the majorette band organized and instructed by Mary Ann Gracey. Included in the group were: Sharon O'Connor, Linda Bartle, Carol Wallace, Jill Auten, Sharon Profit, Judy Claesman, Mary Hartwick, Diane Yedinak, Barbara Starnann, Carol Decker, Suzanne Rabideau, Lynne Rabideau, Terry Sue Rabideau, Joan Maleck, Kathy Whall, Rosemary Kastern, Suzanne Geiger, Donna Yedinak, Suzanne and Sharia Hartwick, Louann Root, Ann Johnson, Bonnie DeLong, Dorothy Crawford, Marilyn Erla and Mary Ann Gracey.

Judges were Mrs. Lambert Althaver and Miss Annette Pinney.

Mummers Parade The next special event will be a Mummers Parade Wednesday, July 3, starting at 7:00 p. m. Children and adults are invited to wear a suitable ghostly costume and parade from the pool through the village. Following the parade a songfest will be held around a bonfire at the park.

Thursday evening the swimming pool will be open for adults only with a charge of 20 cents to enter. No children will be allowed from 8 to 9:30 p. m.

A free square dance will also be held Thursday at the park and refreshments will be served.

Combined Service For Local Churches

During July and August services at the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches in Cass City will be combined as ministers of the two churches enjoy vacation periods.

Services for congregations of the churches will be held in the Presbyterian Church in July and in the Methodist Church in August.

Next Wednesday, the Merchants will be on the road when they will be gunning for an upset over powerful Mayville.

Reappoint Three To Hospital Board

President Ben Benkelman Jr. Tuesday night reappointed three members of the board of trustees of the Cass City Hospital for three-year terms. Serving again will be M. B. Auten, Mrs. Edwin Fritz and Archie MacLachlan.

Village trustees also discussed water and sewer service to the new building. Because it is not definitely known just what will be needed they deferred action Tuesday night until a request is heard from the board of trustees of the hospital on what is needed to service the hospital.

It is definitely known that the installation of the facilities should be completed before next winter so that water will be available for building in the spring.

Bad Weather Plagues Local Softball Team

The Cass City Merchants have been plagued by poor weather on each of the home softball games this season in the Thumb All-Star League.

In the first two games played at Cass City Municipal Park, rain just before game time and cold weather held the crowd to an absolute minimum.

Wednesday, they were scheduled to play their third home game of the year with Marlette and a heavy rain early in the evening forced the postponement of the game.

The cancellation was especially frustrating for the home side as they hit the victory trail for the first time Wednesday, June 19, against Frankemuth Insurance and were hoping to add to their victory total.

A victory would have placed them with a 500 percentage for the year as they now have won one and lost two games. The game has been rescheduled for Monday, July 1, at the Recreation Park.

Sebewaing and Mayville, both with outstanding pitchers, are rated as the powers in the league on the basis of early season play. Both have won three games in as many starts.

In third place is Frankemuth Carlings with a 2-1 record. Cass City is fourth and Frankemuth Insurance and Marlette are tied for the cellar with no wins in three tries.

Next Wednesday, the Merchants will be on the road when they will be gunning for an upset over powerful Mayville.

After two weeks of play in the area church league, the Cass City Methodists and Deford are tied for the top spot with a pair of victories in two starts.

Right behind the leaders is Kingston with a victory in the only game played. Church of Christ and the EUB teams have split in two tries while the Baptists have lost the only game they played. The Lutherans and Shabbona have yet to win in two tries.

Three from Area Recent Grads of Michigan State

Three Cass City residents were among an estimated 2,242 graduates of Michigan State University Sunday, June 9, according to a report received this week from the school's department of information services.

The three are: Robert D. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Fox; Lyle H. Ludlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Ludlow, and Ernest G. Schwaderer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schwaderer.

Mr. Fox received a BS degree in agricultural engineering and Mr. Ludlow a BS degree in dairy products. Mr. Schwaderer received a BA degree in journalism.

Vice-president Richard M. Nixon was the commencement speaker. It was the second largest class in Michigan State's history.

Plan Improvements For Area Roads

Additional road improvement work or resurfacing will be completed on several roads in the area, according to an announcement released this week by the Michigan State Highway Department.

Low bidder has been determined for 8.02 miles of non-sidewalk surfacing on M-46 from M-51 to the west city limits of Carsonville and from the east limits of Carsonville to the west limits of Port Sanilac.

East Shore Asphalt Paving Company's bid of $13,556.02 was low. Completion date for the project is Sept. 14.

Low bidder will be determined Tuesday, July 2, for a total of 6.8 miles of 22-foot-wide aggregate base construction on the following roads in Tuscola County: 3.8 miles on Gifford Road west to Saginaw County line; 3.005 miles on Colling Road from Colling north to Unionville Road.

Completion date for the entire project is Sept. 1.

John Wisenbaugh, 80 Dies at Farm Home

John A. Wisenbaugh, 80, died Tuesday afternoon at his home on Elmwood Road. He had been in ill health for five years.

Mr. Wisenbaugh was born in Sebewaing Dec. 5, 1876, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wisenbaugh.

He married the former Miss Garnett Barr in Unionville Aug. 5, 1909, and the couple settled in Cass City.

Four Cents More Per Hour

Village Employees Receive Wage Boost

The Cass City village council agreed on a raise for hourly employees Tuesday night at its regular meeting at the Municipal Building after more than three months of deliberation.

Hourly employees will receive a raise of four cents an hour, from $1.40 an hour to $1.44 per hour. Village Engineer William Schram and Clerk Wilma Fry were not included in the raise as they received salary adjustments in October.

The raise will be retroactive to June 1. The four cents per hour is slightly less than a three per cent raise. Trustees said that, the increase was granted on the basis of what they felt the village could afford at this time.

Insurance Bids Two bids for the fleet insurance for the three trucks and the police car owned by the village were opened Tuesday.

The low bid was submitted by Frankemuth Insurance for $197.75.

Receive Petition A petition for sewer on Sherman Street from Garfield Street as far as possible was received by the council. The land is in the Garden Center subdivision. The council agreed to do the work with property owners assuming 70 per cent and the village 30 per cent of the cost.

Other Business Members set a special council meeting for Tuesday, July 2, when they will meet with Mr. Benzie of the Michigan Water Resources Commission. Mr. Benzie will help the village draw up an ordinance controlling the waste placed in the sewer system.

A letter of appreciation from Woodrow Aldrich, president of Maple Rapids, thanking the community for its courtesies while he visited here during the Mayor's Exchange, was presented.

Trustees will investigate a special vacuum cleaner for the pool on the request of Arthur Holmberg, pool superintendent. The device is used to clean sediment from the bottom of the pool. Trustees feel that it is too late to purchase one for this year but will investigate the equipment for 1958.

Sweeney Holsteins Lead DHIA Tests

Leading the list of herds producing 30 pounds of fat or more per cow during May is that of Dolan Sweeney of Ubyly with 26 registered Holstein cows averaging 1,299 pounds of milk and 49.2 pounds of fat. In second place is the Red Dana 16-cow herd owned by E. G. Golding of Cass City, producing an average of 1,220 pounds of milk and 47.6 pounds of fat. In third place is the registered Brown Swiss herd owned by Henry Bublitz & Sons of Fairgrove, producing an average of 1,344 pounds of milk and 46.3 pounds of fat. Tying for fourth place are registered Holstein herds owned by Walter Moderow of Reese and Clarence Merchant of Cass City, each producing 45.5 pounds of fat. In fifth place stands the registered Holstein herd of Sam and Marvin McCreehy of Unionville, producing an average of 45.2 pounds of fat. Other herds producing over 43.0 pounds of fat in this class are those owned by Earl Koch of Millington; Claude Springsteen, Otisville; Howard Loomis & Sons, Gageton; George Foster, Fostoria, and Jackson Brothers, Caro.

In the 305-day records class, 41 cows produced 368 pounds of fat or more, led by a grade Holstein cow, age 5 years, owned by Henry Hohman, Vassar, and producing 16,010 pounds of milk and 606 pounds of fat. A registered Holstein cow owned by Dolan Sweeney produced 15,900 pounds of milk and 596 pounds of fat.

Remington School Annexes to Cass City District

Voters in Remington School District (Columbia number three fractional) voted by substantial majorities to annex to the Cass City District Monday.

The district was the last scheduled to vote in the reorganization of the Cass City district. It has an assessed valuation of approximately $450,000.

The district voted on three propositions. They favored annexing to the Cass City district by a 32-7 margin. Proposition two, to raise the mill limit of taxes, was passed 84-4. Taxpayers voted 28-6 in favor of proposition three, to assume the bonded indebtedness of the Cass City District.

Remington is the only district of the 12 that have consolidated with Cass City that has not been sending students to the local school.

The addition of the district will mean approximately 18 new students entering the school in the fall.

However, Supt. Willis Campbell said that, barring unforeseen expansion of the community through industrial development, enrollment should not increase more than the 40 pupils that has been the average increase in recent years.

Early Copy Please

Because of the Fourth of July holiday Thursday the Chronicle will be printed one day early next week. In order to publish at the earlier date it will be necessary to have all news, advertising and other copy into the office a day earlier than usual.

Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Vassar Boy Drowns In Gravel Pit

Roger Myers, 15, of Vassar drowned in a gravel pit in 15 feet of water in Fremont Township Thursday afternoon, June 20.

Reported a good swimmer, the boy sank when about 20 feet from shore. The gravel pit is fed by springs and the water is reported to be always cool.

Sheriff William Tomlinson temporarily closed the park because there was no lifeguard on duty at the time of the accident.

Roger was taken from the water by Jim and John Horwath and two Vassar companions with whom he was swimming, Kirk VanWormer, 16, and Paul Franko, 16.

The land where the pit is located was deeded to the Anderson Park Association, a non-profit organization, by the former owner, Frank Anderson of Saginaw. Always popular with persons in the area, more and more visitors have been visiting the area since it was deeded to the association.

To Plant Muskies In County Lake

An undetermined number of three-inch long northern muskellunge will soon be planted in Murphy Lake in Tuscola County. The lake is located near Millington.

Village Plans to Repaint, Widen Parking Lanes

Parking lanes on Main Street in Cass City will be repainted this summer and village trustees are now determining what proper width the new lanes should be.

There is general agreement of all trustees that the present nine-foot wide lanes are too narrow and will be widened.

Just how much wider is the question that will be investigated. Tuesday night trustees examined plans for angle parking that is used in Charlotte.

They felt that the plan used there might not be practical for Cass City. To determine the right width, Village Engineer William Schram and trustees will park several cars in a row with ample room for easy exit.

The space will then be measured and the new lanes painted accordingly.

Caro Cubs Win Annual Track Meet

For the first time in several years, a visiting Cub Pack won top honors at the field meet held at the Cass City Municipal Park, Thursday, June 20.

Packs from Caro, Cass City and Vassar competed at the meet. Top honors were won by the Caro Pack which took home the trophy donated by the Cass City Gavel Club. It was the second time this trophy had been awarded. Cass City won it last year.

A former trophy presented by the club was permanently retired by Cass City after they won the title three years in a row.

There was little doubt soon after the meet started that Caro was to win this year. They amassed a total of 133 points while second place Cass City won with 71½ points. Vassar scored 62½ points.

There were seven events in the field day for the scouts. They were: broad jump, high jump, 60-yard dash, open bag race, wheelbarrow race, 200-yard relay and the shuttle relay.

Each of the events with the exception of the shuttle relay is run off three times, divided by age for boys eight, nine and 10 years old. The shuttle relay is open to Cubs of all ages.

Ribbons were presented to boys finishing in the first five places. Points were awarded for the first five finishers. First place was worth five points; second, four points; third, three points; fourth, two points, and fifth, one point.

Following the meet, the Cubs swam in the pool and were served refreshments. The day was concluded with the presentation of the trophy to Roy Burton, Cubmaster from Caro, and ribbons.

Cass City adults who assisted in the program were: Cubmaster Harry Miller, Jim Mark, Alden Asher, Bernard Ross, Fred Auten, Dr. Edwin Fritz, Jack Hullen, Barney Freiberger, Ed Baker, Dr. K. I. MacRae, Robert Baker and Jim King.

4-H Club Enjoys Picnic at Park

The Cross Country Kids 4-H Club met Tuesday at the Cass City Recreation Park where 18 members and four visitors enjoyed a wiener roast and swimming.

The meeting was held under the supervision of Mrs. Orrin Wright, Mrs. Curtis Cleland, Mrs. Gaylord LaPeer and Mrs. Lynn Spencer.

The next meeting of the club will be a tour starting at the Lynn Spencer home.

SHORT STORY

Bundle Of Joy
By Ona F. Lathrop

WE WERE all floored when we learned the Kendall's news. Joyce and I had been married nine years when we had Mark, and that was shock enough for our crowd, but the Kendall's had been married sixteen, and now this!

Of course we fellows began razzing Dan about the new addition, and strangely enough, he seemed as embarrassed as a schoolboy. After all these years of saying how disappointed they were that they never had a family, now he said, "Oh well, it's a long time until July. Maybe it will just go away."

"It's really great having you join the ranks," we told him. "Yeah, 'miserable loves company' you know," he answered dryly. We couldn't figure him out. Ellen seemed delighted with the prospect, but she kept telling the girls, "If only Dan took it differently. He's always wanted a son, but he won't say he's glad."

Dan has a great theory about saving his money to buy up an acreage for their old age, raising their food, and being totally self-sufficient. Some of us just call him tight, but he has a plan. Maybe this was upsetting his plan.

"You and Ellen going to give up moving to the country?" Dave Williams asked. "Kids have to go to school in town, of course."

"They do have school buses, you know," Dan replied.

Then we decided it must be the money, so we began kidding him about that. "This is really going to cost you. Kids are expensive," I told him, speaking with the voice of experience. "All that equipment—baby beds, bassinets, bathinets, vitamins—Brother, you're really going to feel the pinch."

"All that stuff is a racket," he declared. "We'll borrow my sister's bed and we can bathe it in the kitchen sink. If they eat good food and drink plenty of milk, they don't need expensive vitamins."

"Do you know how many gallons of milk it would take to supply the vitamins you give them in one little drop?" Betty Williams, who had been a nurse, baited him.

"So what? Let it drink gallons of milk then."

"You'd better buy a cow, then, at the price of milk. And you'll probably need an automatic washer and dryer, maybe a sewing machine, if it's a girl. Good-bye, bankroll!" We thought we'd hit home.

"None of that foolishness at our house," he kept saying.

"How about hospital insurance? That bill will really set you back."

"She can just have it at home. My mother did." But he began to go around with such a worried look on his face that our wives made us stop teasing him. They felt sorry for Ellen and told her they would pool their maternity outfits and whatever equipment they had.

"You can use our sterilizer," Betty offered.

And then the baby arrived. Dan had sent Ellen to the best hospital in town, after all, we learned. While she was gone we planned a surprise shower and dinner for poor old Dan, so we all went over loaded with the old equipment one night before Ellen was to come home. Dan met us at the door with a sheepish grin on his face. He went strutting around passing out some really good cigars, and then he began showing us the nursery. The girls gasped, and we fellows opened our mouths and forgot to close them.

He'd had the room all done over and complete from the be-ruffled bassinet to all kinds of gadgets—a thermometer light-switch plate to show the exact temperature of the room, a wind-up musical bottle-holder, a big fluffy Teddy-bear, and even a new ritzy English cab.

Dan had joined the ranks of soft fathers. We took our old junk and silently stole away.

News from Gagetown Area

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Thiel attended funeral services Friday morning in St. Felix Church in Howellton for Mrs. Thiel's brother, Nelson Ducharme, 68, who died Monday in a Detroit hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Werdeeman and Theresa Ann returned Thursday from a western trip. They attended a wedding in Springfield, Mo., of a nephew and then went to Green Forest, Ark., to visit his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Werdeeman. Two cows were killed by lightning during their absence.

A dedication service will be held in the Methodist Church Sunday, June 30, at 9:30 a. m. when two chairs will be dedicated that were purchased in memory of Miss Margaret Burleigh.

Mrs. George Garrison of Clearwater, Fla., spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. George Purdy and called on many of her friends in this vicinity. Mrs. Garrison formerly was Miss Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson received word Sunday evening of the death of their daughter, Harvey Gray, 18, of Rochester who accidentally drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming in a gravel pit three miles east of Pontiac. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gray of Rochester.

Saturday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elery Sontag and family were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burk of Bad Axe.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayer and sons left Monday to spend a couple weeks in northern Kentucky visiting their parents and other relatives.

John Wilson and Michael Miller of St. Clair Shores are spending two weeks at the Don Wilson cottage at Crescent Beach. A week-end guest of the Wilsons was George Moore of Dearborn.

Miss Ann Seger of Highland Park is spending the week with Mrs. Lela Hall and Dr. June MacRae.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Comment were among those from here who attended funeral services for Nelson Higgs Thursday, June 13.

The Gagetown Farm Bureau met Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seurynck with 22 members and one guest present. Chairman Milton Hofmeister presided and Kenneth Baur led the discussion on the topic "State and Local Equalization of Assessments." The July meeting will be held at Caseville with a picnic scheduled. The Eastern Stars Gifford Chapter 369 held friends night at the club rooms last Tuesday evening for initiation work. A large crowd from the Gagetown chapter and surrounding territory attended. A cooperative lunch was served.

The second meeting of the Carolan Gagetown 4-H Club was held Tuesday, June 11, with 30 members present. Project books were given out and plans were made for the garden-dairy tour on July 9. It was announced that any who wish to attend summer 4-H camp at Sleeper State Park must have their reservations as soon as possible. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Francis Proulx entertained for luncheon and cards Thursday afternoon Mrs. Clem Mosack, Mrs. Frank Comment, Mrs. Alfred Langlois and Mrs. Edward Proulx.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Comment spent from Friday until Sunday in Detroit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bain. Mrs. Frank Comment returned to Pontiac with them where she is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Grappan.

Miss Ruth Hendershot spent the first of the week in Port Huron with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rocheleau, Paul and Diane and Mrs.

Charles Creason and daughter spent Sunday in Saginaw, dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Freeman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bliss and daughter Mary Lynn of Port Huron were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comment and family.

A baby boy was born prematurely Saturday evening in Caro Community Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. William Downing. The baby lived about one and a half hours. Burial was made Monday afternoon in St. Agatha Cemetery with Rev. Glenn Cronkite officiating at the graveside ceremony.

SHORT STORY

Right Answers

By Maud Welch

DICK TRAVIS was lonely. He sat in the office of the luxurious motel his mother had inherited from her uncle, while he was away serving his time in the army, feeling as if he didn't belong here. After his mother's death he had never felt at home anywhere.

Dick's mind went back to the small cottage where he and his widowed mother had lived so long, doing the things they loved, landscape gardening for the whole town, raising flowers. They had succeeded in developing a brand new rose, a rich dark crimson. He remembered how proudly his mother had named it "The Princess." Then she'd said happily, "When you find the right girl, we'll call it by her name and give it to her."

But Dick hadn't met the right girl. There was Phyllis, lovely and blonde who lived in the motel with her mother. He liked Phyllis in a way. But not seriously. He looked up, saw her coming in the office. "Dick, that girl down the street in the cottage, Joan Secord's her name, has got your mother's cat, Tizrah. She's a valuable animal, worth about fifty dollars. You'd better get her, bring her back."

Joan Secord was at work in the garden, when Dick came in. A sweet-looking girl in jeans and a flowered blouse. She said at once, "Hello, Dick Travis."

Dick stared. "I remember you. We were in Hi together. You had freckles and—"

Joan laughed, "and braces on my teeth and a bad habit of falling over everything. Lucky for me I grew out of some of my hand-caps."

"And how!" Dick said fervently. He told her about the cat being gone, his mother's Persian and Joan said she hadn't seen it. But when Dick went down the walk, he looked back and there was Tizrah.

Next day he looked up to see Joan standing in the office door, the cat in her arms. "Phyllis Caine said this was your cat. She's not Persian, she's Angora. I found her in my front yard one cold night, almost starved." Her blue eyes grew cold and angry. "That's another reason I couldn't believe she was your pet." With that she turned quickly and left.

Dick fed the cat that night. He'd see to this from now on. But next morning Tizrah was gone again. Joan soon brought her back. "This could get very monotonous, you know," she said coldly.

"Maybe she likes your place better than this one," Dick said quietly, but Joan had turned, was gone.

Tizrah was restless all day. She cried to get out. Dick had a brain-flash. The cat would go straight to Joan's house and Joan would bring her back. Then he'd have another chance to see Joan, which he very much wanted to do. He opened the door, but Joan sent the cat back by an elderly man who lived close to her cottage.

Dick didn't wait for an excuse to see Joan. He went down to the cottage, found her digging among the roses. He said, "I didn't know Tizrah was being mistreated. Please believe me."

Joan smiled. "It was hard to believe you could be unkind to an animal or anyone. I liked you a lot when we were kids."

"You did?" Dick's voice was eager. "Could you like me and—someday love me enough to be my wife?"

She drew a quick breath. "Are you asking me to marry you because Tizrah wants to live with me?" she teased.

"I'm asking you because I love you," Dick said softly. Then he suddenly saw a rich, dark crimson rose. "That's the Princess," he exclaimed in wonder.

Joan nodded. "There wasn't any place for it at the motel. Your mother asked me to plant it here." Then she added demurely. "You had the right answer, Dick."

He slipped his arm around her, drew her close. "You're the one who has all the right answers, darling."

Strawberry Time

The full joy of June is found in the red-ripe strawberries coming from Michigan gardens. Sunshine and rain have teamed up to give full flavor that is a joy reserved for fresh strawberry time.

A cream pie with strawberries is my suggestion for good early summer eating. It is a hearty pie just right to top off a light salad meal. Here are the ingredients: 1/2 cup sugar; 6 tablespoons flour; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 cups milk; 2 eggs, slightly beaten; 2 table-spoons butter; 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, or 1/4 teaspoon almond extract; 9-inch baked pastry shell, or graham cracker shell; 1 cup heavy cream, whipped; and strawberries.

To make the pie, mix the dry ingredients with a little of the milk. Add the rest of the milk. Cook over boiling water, stirring until thick. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add a little of the hot mixture to the eggs which have been beaten slightly. Pour back blending slowly and cook a few minutes longer. Remove from heat and add the butter and vanilla or almond extract. Chill. Pour into a cool baked pastry shell. After it has chilled spread it with the sweetened whipped cream. Garnish with whole strawberries just before serving.

Future Dates

Coming up — Homemakers' Conference or a homemaker's vacation—July 23-26. Another outstanding part of the program for Homemakers' Conference is a favorite in years past. The presentation, "Romance in Song," by Doraine and Ellis. This presentation is brought back by popular demand for the entertainment feature of the week. It is a colorful and musical combination of vocal artistry with Broadway's greatest musical hits.

Dr. William H. Alexander, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City, will give the inspirational talks at the conference.

On July 3, Mrs. William Tonkin, Moreland group, and Mrs. Joe Young, Northwest Gilford group, will be my TV guests. We will be on Channel 5—the time, 12:10 p. m.

Tip for Removing Grass Stains from Children's Garments

Stains from grass and foliage are often found this time of year in your children's play clothes. They can be removed from most washable clothing, if the treatment is suited to the fabric, tells Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent.

If you know the fabric is washable, first try rubbing soap or synthetic detergent into a plant stain; then wash the garment. Or, if a test on an inside edge of a seam or other hidden part of the garment shows alcohol won't affect the dye, sponge the stain with alcohol. Use alcohol diluted with water on acetate fabrics.

For stubborn stains, you can use a sodium perborate bleach. Sprinkle the moist stain with bleach, gently cover the garment with a solution made of 1 table-spoon of sodium perborate per pint of water and let it soak several hours or overnight. Use cool water for wool, silk and Dynel and hot water for other washable fabrics. Rinse well.

If the plant stains still are stubborn, you can use stronger sodium perborate on the stain and dip it into very hot or boiling water. Rinse well and repeat if necessary.

Mrs. Clark explains that chlorine and sodium perborate bleaches generally remove the same types of stains. But, she warns, chlorine bleaches should never be used on wool, silk, blends containing these fibers or on fabrics, such as many of the new "wash and wear" cottons, that have chlorine-retentive resin finishes.

BULEN TALKS Cars

A lot of things have changed in the used car business in the last few years.

Perhaps you remember in the 1940's and even in the early 1950's how a lucky motorist could buy a new car, drive it around for a year or so, and sell it used for almost what he paid for it.

That was a bit rough on the poor fellow who couldn't buy a new car—but thank goodness the old law of supply and demand has come back and everybody gets a better break. The new car buyer is kind these days, he's getting the best deals in decades, and the used car buyer can take advantage of the normal depreciation on cars to get his good deals.

But some of the old bugbears remain. Maybe you've heard, for instance, that station wagons are an outstanding buy as used cars because they depreciate faster than ordinary cars. Well, that used to be true when station wagons had wooden bodies outside and the paint soon cracked and peeled.

But these days a station wagon, now that they've got steel bodies, depreciate in just about the same way as a sedan.

More and more people are turning to station wagons, though, as the ideal family car (and this makes them a good buy either new or used because their popularity makes them no more a risk for future trade-in than any other car.)

They're ideal for the large family, or the family that likes country outings with lots of camping and holiday gear around. They're a godsend for the handyman who may be carting lumber and tools around, or the suburban family that stocks up on a lot of supplies or the gardening family that packs fertilizers, tools and plants around.

Most people these days could find a use for a good station wagon, and we have seven different models to choose from.

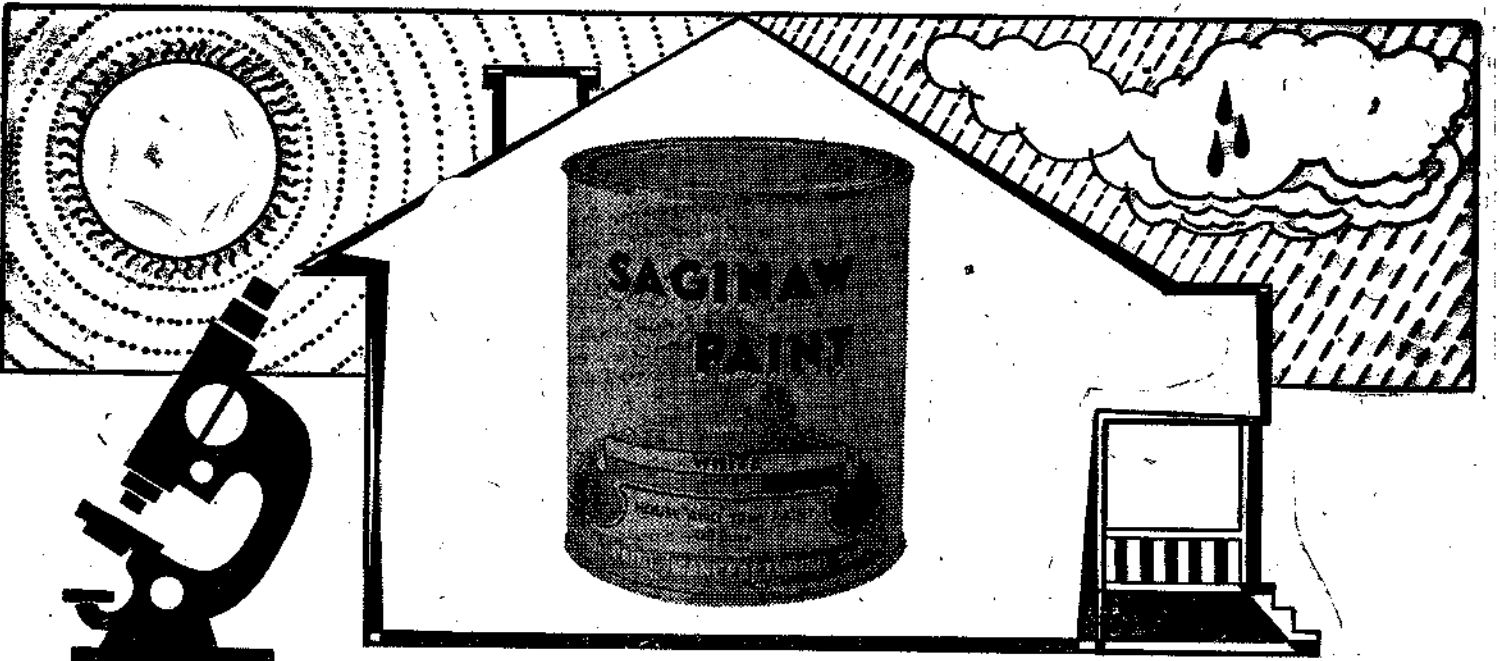

Or, if your choice is a really fine OK Used Car, you can't beat Charles Cassidy's 1955 Oldsmobile Holiday Coupe with 12,000 actual miles on it. Jet Black with Whitewall Tires, Radio, Heater, etc. Nicely broken in only. Everyone knows the Rocket Engine's reputation for trouble free motoring. If you see it, you'll want it. It doesn't cost a cent to drive it, or, make an offer.

Michigan Mirror News in Brief

Cigaret and liquor tax increases to collect another $25,000,000 for school aid will go into effect July 1.

The controversy swirling about their enactment will last much longer than the law, which will expire in a year.

Gov. Williams cited "moral offensiveness" in tying the fortunes of educating the young of the state with the smoking and drinking habits of adults.

He left a lot unsaid in his message to the people and the legislature, informing them he would not veto the tax increases.

School people made it known early in the legislative session they would need more money than their two-thirds of the state sales tax is expected to provide—about $24,000,000 more.

In other states; that the tax difference would be so great that they must sell their products at a higher price. They are concerned that they will lose much business and this they point out, would produce much unemployment.

Reaction to the governor's continuous proposal about corporate profits taxes has become so pronounced that the controversy is receiving nationwide attention. It has made it more difficult to interest new industries in locating in Michigan.

There are those who think it will also make it more difficult for Gov. Williams to win a spot on the Democratic national ticket in 1968, should he be aiming in that direction.

Unfavorable publicity for the governor has been a source of satisfaction to some of his political opponents. They feel that he has never been sympathetic to problems of industry and business and that the tax fight has dramatized this lack of harmony to his disadvantage.

But the signing of this year's tax bills created another situation which follows the government pattern in Michigan.

Two legislators have asked for complete revisions of the state tax structure, with experts, from within and outside the state, to do the spadework.

Williams said he would support them "if they are unbiased," and later might appoint his own citizen's group to make another investigation.

Small groups of educators opposed liquor and cigarette products on which school should depend.

The most vocal majority said they didn't care much where the money came from, just so long as programs could be continued and the 70,000 new students expected next year could be instructed.

Church leaders opposed the idea on moral grounds, Williams added that the market is too unsteady to provide a positive sum, the liquor and cigarette industries said their taxes already are too high.

The governor referred only slightly to his eight-year campaign for a corporation profits tax.

The Williams theory is that business and industry would have to absorb the tax without passing it along to the consumer, or price themselves out of the market.

Business leaders argue that this is not the case. They declare that higher taxes in Michigan puts them at a competitive disadvantage with manufacturers

Millions of dollars are involved in the taxes on goods stored in warehouses, the levies which include docks and the use of them by foreign freight-carrying ships.

The governmental changes to be wrought by the seaway will be many.

For instance, one state official urged that the state make certain that a certain number of acres of productive farm land be reserved, indicating that the press of business and industry for space will make food-producing land scarce.

It finally happened. A meeting failed to show up for the speaker.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, much in demand as a speaker on varied subjects, was invited to address a group of furniture industrialists in Grand Rapids.

He arrived speech in hand. The hall was darkened. A hurried conference by telephone with the people in charge disclosed a slight error, on the part of the organization. The meeting was to be held a week later.

Hart, billed as "one of Michigan's first, full-time lieutenant governors," was inconvenienced but undismayed. He returned to make the speech a week later.

If you feel you must ask someone to take your part be careful that they don't take all you have.

Life is nothing more than a sentence at hard labor—with a few things added for good behavior.

Some parts of the program were passed and signed into law, those making it easier for cities and regions to set themselves up to operate a port.

But there is still a snag—taxes.

So, the legislature ordered another study made this summer of the effect of local property and personal taxes on creation of port areas.

Reaction to the governor's continuous proposal about corporate profits taxes has become so pronounced that the controversy is receiving nationwide attention. It has made it more difficult to interest new industries in locating in Michigan.

There are those who think it will also make it more difficult for Gov. Williams to win a spot on the Democratic national ticket in 1968, should he be aiming in that direction.

Unfavorable publicity for the governor has been a source of satisfaction to some of his political opponents. They feel that he has never been sympathetic to problems of industry and business and that the tax fight has dramatized this lack of harmony to his disadvantage.

But the signing of this year's tax bills created another situation which follows the government pattern in Michigan.

Two legislators have asked for complete revisions of the state tax structure, with experts, from within and outside the state, to do the spadework.

Williams said he would support them "if they are unbiased," and later might appoint his own citizen's group to make another investigation.

The best bet is that the state, with a $16,000,000 deficit staring it in the face for next year, is going to have a lot of tax wars in the next few years.

What is Michigan doing about getting ready for the St. Lawrence Seaway?

There was a study by a special legislative committee last year. It came up with a series of law changes to make it easier for communities to help themselves. Tenor of the recommendations was that cities and regions

Annual Disaster

Each year in Michigan, thousands of acres are blackened by forest fires—usually the result of man's carelessness. A little extra caution with campfires, brushfires and burning tobacco can prevent much of this needless waste. Keep Michigan clean—and green.

Agent Answers Milk Questions

Could you answer these questions about milk? To check yourself, consider these answers given by Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent.

Does pasteurization change the flavor of milk? No, not if properly done.

Is pasteurized milk as nutritious as milk that is not pasteurized? Pasteurized milk has essentially the same nutritive value as unpasteurized milk. The small losses of some vitamins due to pasteurization are not as important as the safety of the milk supply.

What grade of milk should you buy for your family? All grades of pasteurized milk sold in urban markets today are safe and wholesome. Price and convenience may be deciding factors.

Does milk have a place on the reducing diet? Yes, because it makes valuable contributions to the health of the body. If skim milk is used to keep calories low, vitamin A (lost when cream is removed) can be supplied by other foods.

Is milk that is accidentally frozen at home (in the refrigerator or on the doorstep) safe to use? Yes, there may be some separation of milk solids, but this does not affect the safety or nutritive value of the milk.

Is it advisable to eat milk and fish at the same meal? Yes, if you wish; fish and milk are satisfactorily combined in other cooked dishes.

How long will pasteurized milk keep in the refrigerator? A recent study showed that it kept well for four days after home delivery, but was not always of acceptable quality when held for seven days at room temperature.

Do you know how much milk you should drink today and everyday? These are the amounts recommended by nutritionists, each day: children, 3 to 4 cups; teenagers, 1 quart or more; adults, 2 or more cups; expectant mothers, 1 quart or more.

Have you had enough milk today?

The man who thoroughly enjoys life has learned to make every minute of every day count.

When a friend slaps you heartily on the back he's probably getting ready to make a soft touch.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lowry

Baskets of white glads and palms decorated the altar of the Colwood United Brethren Church Saturday, June 15, as Nellie Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowry of Caro, was married to Mr. John Lowry of Caro, Mich.

Rev. Marvin Price, brother-in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The molded bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and tapered sleeves that formed points over the wrist. Her bouffant tulle skirt was accented by half skirts of Chantilly lace on each side. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Douglas - Swartz Vows Exchanged

The Second Street Methodist Church in Grand Rapids was the scene of the wedding of Eloise Swartz and John Douglas Saturday evening, June 15.

The nuptials were performed before an altar decorated with bouquets of blue and white daisies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Swartz of 451 Bridge Street, Grand Rapids, and was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was floor-length, fashioned of alencon lace over white satin with a fitted elongated bodice and a scalloped bateau neckline trimmed with mother of pearl sequins. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was fastened to a bandeau of alencon lace and pearl sequins. Her bouquet was a colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Antonopoulos, was matron of honor and wore a waltz-length dress of iridescent blue rose point lace over iridescent pink with a fitted bodice, full bouffant skirt and matching Spencer jacket and hat.

The bridesmaids, close friends of the bride, were Miss Shirley Lee of Flint and Miss Diane Peacock of Grand Rapids. Their dresses were fashioned after the same style as the matron of honor's and were lilac and blue, respectively. They carried colonial bouquets of blue and white carnations.

Sharon Swartz, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress of ruffled white nylon over blue. She carried a basket of blue and white daisies.

Robert W. Douglas assisted his brother as best man. Michael Fritz of Cass City and Robert Benkelman of Bay City were the groom's attendants. Seating guests were Harold Swartz of Elgin, Ill., brother of the bride, and James Baker of Dearborn.

Mrs. Swartz chose a sheath dress of light blue silk shantung, trimmed with white, and wore white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a navy sheath chignon over white satin with navy accessories. Their corsages were blue and white carnations.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in De Vinney Hall of the church, served by the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The bride's table was centered with a four-layer bride's cake.

Mrs. Robert Douglas and Mrs. James Baker were in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will make their home in Camden, New Jersey, where John is associated with the Radio Corporation of America as an electronic engineer. He is a graduate of Albion College and the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Douglas is a graduate of Grand Rapids Junior College and a student of Medical Technology at the University of Michigan. She expects to do her clinical work at Temple University in Philadelphia, where she has been accepted for the fall term.

The bride and groom took a short trip through northern Michigan.

Mrs. C. W. Price left Saturday to visit a niece in Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Malvina Howarth, who has taught sixth grade here the past year, was awarded her Bachelor of Arts degree June 15 in commencement exercises at Ypsilanti State Teachers' College.

Jerry Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perry, flew Friday from Willow Run to Washington, D. C., to spend the week end with an aunt. From there he went to Ocean City, Md., where he will be employed for the summer at the Santa Maria Hotel.

Twelve were present last Thursday when the Art Club met with Mrs. Ralph Ward. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Sam Vyse. Mrs. Christina Goodall had charge of entertainment. The July meeting will be with Mrs. E. A. Livingston with Mrs. Arthur Moore assisting.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Little entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of Lee Hartel's birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hartel and children of Deford. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Little and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Little and daughters, Joyce and Hazel, and Jim Young.

A miscellaneous shower was given Thursday evening, June 20, for Miss Marjorie East at the home of Mrs. Harry Miller. Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Robert Groth and Mrs. Clark Seeley were hostesses to about 25 guests. Games were played and refreshments served. Miss East, whose marriage to Harlan Dickinson will take place July 6, received many nice gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Hendrick

Saturday evening at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church, Miss Barbara Mittlestat became the bride of Donald E. Hendrick in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. S. R. Wurtz. The church was decorated with baskets of flowers and candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white, waltz-length bouffant gown with a shoulder-length veil. Her bouquet was of red roses.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Richard Gault of Saginaw, and Miss Peggy Arnold of Marlette was bridesmaid. They wore waltz-length dresses of yellow and orchid, respectively. Flower girl Linda Brown, the groom's niece, wore a yellow dotted swiss dress.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Morris Hendrick of Caro, as best man and George Fisher Jr. of Uby. Ushering were Eldie Copeland, brother-in-law of the groom, and the bride's brother, Charles Mittlestat. The ring bearer was Richard Burle-

Assisting with the affair were Mrs. Tom Gibbard of Tyre, Mrs. Harold Guinther, Mrs. Hazen Guinther and the Misses Marilyn and Norma Guinther. Twenty-eight were present. The guest of honor received many lovely and useful gifts. Refreshments were served at the close of the party.

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hundley, pastors of the Cass City Assembly of God Church, will celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary Saturday, June 29, with a family reunion. Expected to be present are the Hundley's children, Fern and Linda Sue, who live at home, Naomi, who attends Bible School at Springfield, Mo., Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Hundley of Republic, Mo., Rev. and Mrs. Edie Hundley of Lubbock, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hundley and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hundley of Flint. Also expected are Rev. Hundley's sister, Lillie Hundley, a missionary from Honolulu, and Mrs. Hundley's brother, Mr. and Mrs. D. Mann of Toronto, Ont. Their four grandchildren are also expected to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill of Onaway are spending the week with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trathen.

Mrs. Clem Bauman and children of Detroit are spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Orr.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bond announce the birth of a seven-pound, 14-ounce daughter on June 25 in Cass City Hospital.

Sharon, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eberline, underwent a tonsil operation in Pleasant Home Hospital, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hennessey Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. William Patch visited in the Arnold Bell home near Colwood Tuesday evening.

Mrs. H. M. Bulen, Mrs. James Champion, Mrs. Melvin Balk and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Orto and Sandra were among the adults who helped the recreation department supervise children at Sleeper State Park, Wednesday.

Theresa Ann Werdeeman of Cass City was again on the Honor List for the semester ending in June at Mercy College in Detroit. To be eligible for the Honor List, students must maintain a 3.25 (B-plus) or better average for the semester.

Stevie Wells, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wells, fell about 12 feet from a window of the Baptist Church Sunday evening, striking his head on a cement base. Three stitches were required to close the wound. His father was conducting choir practice at the church at the time of the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGrath, Gary and Michael of Royal Oak observed the 48th wedding anniversary of Mr. McGrath's parents by providing a picnic lunch which was enjoyed in the yard at the John McGrath farm. Later the group visited at the Louis McGrath home, near Caro, where the children enjoyed horseback riding.

The Frances Belle Watson Club of Gifford Chapter met in the chapter dining room June 5 with Mr. and Mrs. George Sampson. After dinner a short business meeting was held, at which time it was voted to vacation during July and August. Next meeting will be September 4 in the chapter dining room with Mr. and Mrs. Olin Thompson. Eachure was the entertainment for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maksimowicz

With her twin sister as maid of honor, Miss Jean Elizabeth Demo of Saginaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Demo of Cass City, became the bride of John Gerald Maksimowicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Maksimowicz of Saginaw. Rev. Fr. Ralph M. Richards officiated at the ceremony Saturday morning in St. Helen Church, Saginaw.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Harry P. Fitzmaurice. Her gown of schiffli embroidered tulle was designed with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and full skirt with tiers which fell to a chapel-length train. To secure her fingertip veil she wore a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a showered cascade of roses and white feathered carnations.

Her twin sister, Miss Joan C. Demo, was gowned in starched white nylon chiffon over white taffeta. The sleeveless bodice was accented by a scoop neckline and aqua cummerbund and the circular skirt was ballerina-length.

The bridesmaids were dressed in matching gowns of white over aqua with matching bands of aqua horsehair. They carried cascades of pink roses and white feathered carnations. The maid of honor carried a cascade of pale pink carnations and pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Misses Frances K. Kessler and Lucille M. Rutkowski, of Detroit, Joyce A. McMullen of Pontiac and Mary M. Maksimowicz, sister of the bridegroom. Kathleen J. Fitzmaurice, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Charles S. Cabala was best man. Frank Nowak of Carrollton, Dale W. VanWormer, William R. Fortier and Earl M. Skelley were attendants. Elmer Faust of Caro, brother-in-law of the bride, and William Demo, brother of the bride, seated guests. Jack Kelly, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Dinner was served to 150 guests and an evening reception at Falcon Hall was attended by 650 persons.

Engaged

Marian Ruth Bradbury

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bradbury of Sebawaing announce the engagement of their daughter, Marian Ruth, to Walter Strucinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Strucinski of Gagetown.

Wedding plans are indefinite.

Mrs. Ruth Glann of Flint and L. J. Glann of Sebawaing were supper guests last Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glann of Grant.

Harold W. Parker of Detroit spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, and other relatives.

The Women's Study group of the Canboro Latter Day Saint Church spent a social evening with Mrs. Frank Sheufelt Tuesday night. Potluck lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palisus of Toledo, Ohio, visited Mrs. Adah Rapson and son Edric of Grant last week end.

Mrs. Stanley Endersbe of Grant was a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong of Elkton.

Mrs. Elmer Andrews, Mrs. Iva Arnott, Mrs. Jay Dickinson, Mrs. Harvey Dubbs and Mrs. Frank Sheufelt of Grant attended the Latter Day Saint Institute at the Blue Water reunion grounds last Wednesday. Others attending were Mrs. Robert Knight of Sebawaing, Mrs. Glenn Cummins, Mrs. John Abbe, Mrs. Peter Severn, Mrs. Floyd Zapfe and Mrs. Floyd Ziehm of Owendale.

The late George Ricker reunion was held last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osborn at Grant. Potluck dinner was enjoyed at noon by the 50 members. The afternoon was spent in visiting and later the group had supper. Guests were present from Grossé Pointe Farms, Lincoln Park, Bay City, Owendale and Greenwood, South Carolina.

Rev. and Mrs. Emmett Coons and children of Elkton, former pastor and family of the Elkton and Grant churches, left last Tuesday. He is going to college.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heck of Royal Oak spent last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heck of Grant.

Elder and Mrs. Frank Sheufelt were guests last Sunday afternoon of the adult class of the Owendale Methodist Church. They finished their yearly program with a picnic dinner and spent the afternoon at the Sheufelt Park in Grant Township, east of Owendale. The children enjoyed boating and other sports. Nine couples were present.

The Grant Farm Bureau recently met at the Williamson schoolhouse with 40 in attendance. Business meeting was held. Mrs. Clarence Schantz led the discussion on "State and Local Equalization Tax." Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Renn, Harvey Dubbs, Albert Taylor, Mrs. Howard Martin and Remember the golden anniversary celebration of the Grant Methodist Church Sunday. All are welcome to attend.

Mrs. DeEtte J. Mellendorf spent from Wednesday afternoon until Friday evening with her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe, and son Eddie in Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Joles and children, Judy, Bobby and Rickie, of Grant and their niece, Miss Gloria Jean Beutel of Pinconning, were Monday evening visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi J. Helwig, near Cass City.

Shabbona Group On Mystery Tour

Seventeen members of the Shabbona Extension Group enjoyed a mystery tour, planned for the club by Mrs. Wilfred Turner and Mrs. Harvey Fleming, Tuesday, June 18.

After much speculation, the group found that the first stop on the tour was Selfridge Air Force Base in Mt. Clemens.

A member of the staff of Major Gurman met the group at the base and conducted a tour of the facilities. The group inspected the weather station, flight line and other spots of interest on the base.

They were shown a troop transport plane by the head crew man who answered questions.

After lunch the group visited the Ironite Incorporated factory where that company's product was demonstrated. They were served refreshments at the plant.

A rose garden in Mt. Clemens that covers 50 acres was the next stop where rose growing was discussed. The group saw how rosebuds were graded and learned that roses are cut every morning.

While at Selfridge Field, the group received an invitation from Major Gurman to attend the open house anniversary at the base July 13. Many of the members hope to be able to attend.

County 4-H Horse Clubs Organize

Twenty-eight boys and girls recently became 4-H Club members when they enrolled in two new 4-H Saddle Clubs, states Bill Muller, County 4-H Club Agent.

The new clubs, the Oxbow Spurs and Saddle, east of Caro and the Hill and Gully Riders, in the Watrousville area.

Members enrolled in the Oxbow Spurs and Saddle group are: Mark Ellison, Cheryl McQueen, Jack Connelly, Larry Malace, Grant Zinnecker, Dick Perry, Edwina Dereing, Pattie Dudek, Donna Wright, Cathy Wright, Ronald Wright and Calvin Wright.

Leaders of this group are Milton and Claude Wright of Caro Route No. 4.

Members enrolled in the Hill and Gully Riders are: Barbara Hess, Jerry Tedford, Mary Churchill, Nancy Baranic, Kathryn Brock, Romy Karpovich, Gregg Riley, Barbara Lawrence, Betty Churchill, Louise Hepler, Sandy Orr, Judy Fullmer, Larry Karpovich and David Tiedgen.

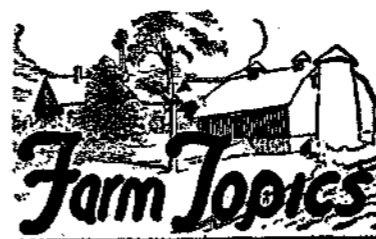

Leading this club is Romy Karpovich of Caro Route No. 2.

The Oxbow Spurs and Saddle Club will meet at 2:00 p. m. on the second and fourth Saturday of each month while the Hill and Gully Riders will meet from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. on the first and third Saturday of each month. Their business meeting will take place on the first Thursday of the month.

Youngsters enrolled in 4-H Saddle Club projects will learn Care and Management of their horses, Horsemanship and show their horses at the Tuscola County Fair.

Boys and girls owning horses in Tuscola County and who are interested in becoming a member of a Saddle Club can contact the County 4-H Club Agent for information on how they can join.

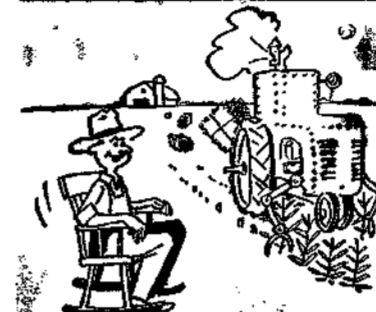

Mechanization to Ease Farm Load New and Better Equipment Coming

A new era in farm mechanization to help farmers increase their per acre income is predicted in a report prepared by two Purdue University professors.

Released by the Farm Equipment Institute, the report was prepared by Prof. J. Carroll Bokum and Dr. J. O. Dumbart. The study credits improved farm equipment as making possible a large share of the increased efficiency taking place on farms in the past 15 years, pointing out that in 1940 each farm worker in agriculture supplied 10 others with food, while in 1935 each farm worker supplied food for 19 others.

"During this same 15 years," the report continues, "labor requirements, percentage-wise, were

Maybe we have overdone it with the above illustration, but experts say that mechanization will make the farmer's job much easier in the future.

reduced almost as much as during the previous 120 years."

The Purdue economists predict that "wage rates will rise more than equipment prices and continue to make it profitable to substitute more and more machinery for labor both on the farm and in the factory."

"Present types of equipment will be improved and new equipment to perform tasks now performed by human labor will be developed and put into profitable use by farmers."

"As a result of labor prices rising faster than farm machinery prices," the study reports, "it takes less days of hired labor to buy almost any item of farm machinery than it did in 1940."

Chick Profit Lies In Bigger Flocks

"Egg money," traditional source of income for the American farm wife, may soon disappear from our agriculture economy.

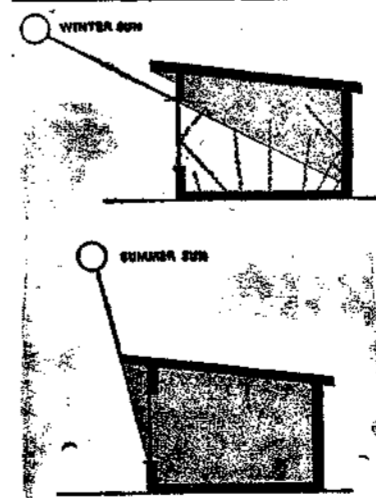

New trends in the production and marketing of poultry products are rapidly making inroads on the small flocks of chickens which have dotted American barnyards and kept the farm wife in spending money.

"Researchers at Pennsylvania State university college of agriculture already have been successful in tripling the number of laying hens in a single poultry house through solar design and efficient mechanization of the house," said W. Everett Eakin, farm service director of Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company.

Flocks of a few hundred birds or less, common on many farms a short time ago, are giving way to flocks of layers ranging from 1,000 to 10,000 birds, Eakin said.

The Penn State solar house utilizes through insulating glass the sun's rays for heat in the winter and shades the birds from high temperatures in the summer months.

Solar House

By facing your poultry house south, it is possible to use the winter sun for heat, and shade your layers from the hot summer sun. Note how the solar poultry house traps the rays of the winter sun, which is low in the heavens, through the use of large Thermopane insulated windows.

Some people spend all their time setting traps for others.

Blood transfusion—an 1874 experiment

This 1874 engraving from the Bettman Archive is an artist's conception of a 19th century blood transfusion. Compare this with the life-saving care you get in a modern Blue Cross participating hospital of today!

...thank goodness times have changed!

In 1874, a blood transfusion was little more than an experiment . . . a procedure doctors knew little about and seldom tried.

They didn't know that blood types differ. If a patient received his own blood type, it was by pure chance. Even then, the shock of the crude transfusion was often fatal.

Consider how far we've come in three generations. Blood transfusions are a routine life-saving function in today's modern hospital . . . not a last minute gamble. Transfusions play a vital role in bringing about the recovery of countless accident victims . . . they make delicate new miracle operations possible . . . and send many a patient home happy and healthy because the right type of blood was on hand for immediate use.

The intricate laboratory equipment . . . the time and personnel it takes to type, process, and safeguard blood, however, are just a few reasons our hospital bills are higher today than ever before.

But isn't the cost of living worth it? If you are a member of Michigan Blue Cross (and half the people in Michigan are) you don't have to worry about higher hospital bills. For Michigan Blue Cross—the non-profit hospital plan—pays the full cost of basic hospital services. And Michigan Blue Shield—the non-profit medical plan—helps pay for the finest doctor care in the world today.

RCA WHIRLPOOL WASHER-DRYER

DOES THE WORK OF TWO MACHINES—IN THE SPACE OF ONE!

IT WASHES!
IT RINSES!
IT DRIES!
ALL BY ITSELF!

NEW FILTER-STREAM ACTION GETS CLOTHES CLEANER WITH HALF THE WATER!

LOOK! A totally new kind of washing action! Clothes ride up through a powerful stream of filtered hot suds. Clothes drop down, with just the right impact, 45 times a minute. They're constantly showered with filtered water, never dunked in dirty, lint water.

This gets clothes cleaner, with much less water—just 1/2 the water and 1/2 the soap.

The same amazing Filter-Stream rinses your clothes 3 separate times. Then a warm, gentle breeze—at any of 5 temperatures—fluffs them thoroughly dry. All automatic—load it, set it, forget it—no need to baby-sit it. Come back when your laundry's done.

Better Silage with Plastic Coverings

Plastic covers can help preserve better quality silage in a bunker, trench or stack silo, but they must be put on right, says Don R. Kebler, assistant county agricultural agent.

A cover over a horizontal silo helps preserve the silage by avoiding the loss or addition of water. When silage gets too wet from rain it may rot; when it dries out, it will mold, he says.

However, putting the cover on right can be a tough job. The wind can raise havoc with a large sheet of light plastic when you're trying to put it on and can cause the cover to billow after it's on if it isn't weighted down properly.

It is recommended that the plastic be weighted down with hay or straw and then place boards or poles on the hay to hold it from blowing off. Also tuck the edges in so no air can enter to cause molding.

These plastic covers will be most practical in southern Michigan where there is a lot of rain, freezing and thawing during the winter. In northern Michigan where it stays frozen all winter a farmer might just as well cover this silo with 4 or 5 inches of soil or sawdust and soak it down with water: It will take a little more work, but cost less.

The reason covering with soil is not as practical for southern Michigan is because when it rains and thaws the mud is hard to remove and moisture can seep into the silage. The soil is easy to take off when it's frozen. By using a manure loader it can be lifted off in large chunks or slabs.

The plastics are available in several weights. About six mils is average. Heavier types may be used for several years and don't billow as easily as lighter covers. However, it is very hard to save a cover from year to year where there is a lot of ice and snow. A farmer trying one for the first time may be wise to start with a less expensive type to be used only one year.

Kebler concludes that many new developments are yet to come in the use of plastics for preserving silage. For example, this year manufacturers have a new plastic cover containing fibres which help prevent tearing.

Seed Growers to Hear Dr. Payne

Tuscola County certified seed growers, their wives and guests will meet for a chicken barbecue and meeting at the farm of Harold Humm of Fairgrove on Tuesday, July 2, at 8:30 p. m., according to Cecil Baker of Reese, chairman of the board of directors of the Tuscola County certified seed growers' association. The county association of certified seed growers was organized in February of this year for the purpose of promoting understanding between growers and the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, Michigan Foundation Seed Association, the farm crops department of Michigan State University and the seed trade," said Baker.

This will be the second meeting of this kind; the first was held at the Harry Rohlf's farm during 1955.

Program speaker will be Dr. Kenyon Payne, head of the farm crops department of MSU.

"Lasting Value is the thing that sold me on Olds!"

GOLDEN ROCKET 88 HOLIDAY COUPE

Attendant: Well, I've looked at Olds from every angle, underneath, under the hood, and I can tell you—Olds really knows how to put 'em together!

Owner: Yes, and Olds has style that you know will stay in style. Ever check on how much more you get for an Olds trade-in?

Attendant: You get more than lots of higher priced cars bring.

Owner: Right! The way Oldsmobile value lasts makes it a smart investment. And there's lots more . . .

Attendant: Sure, take that Rocket Engine* . . . there's still nothing quite like it. I always talk it up, even though the new J-2 Rocket does mean I pump less gas.

Owner: When you add it up, and take a look at the price—it really makes sense to own an Olds.

Attendant: That's for sure. I'm driving a Golden Rocket 88, too! And more and more of my customers are going over to Oldsmobile.

The saw-whet owl, Michigan's smallest and rarest native owl, is only slightly larger than a robin when full grown. A pair of saw-whets were discovered recently with a brood of four youngsters in a wood duck nesting box at Rose Lake wildlife station near East Lansing. This was only the fifth nesting of saw-whet owls on record in Michigan since 1888.

Michigan's small mammals are a most effective advertisement for tourists.

"These animals are an asset, but one which cannot readily be translated into dollars and cents," says William H. Burt, curator of mammals at The University of Michigan.

"The tourist business is one of the most important sources of income for the residents of Michigan," he says. "The tourist is thrilled to see in the wild a deer, bear, otter, bobcat, beaver or porcupine. The colorful little chipmunks and graceful tree squirrels playing about camp are continual sources of enjoyment." Professor Burt recalls driving slowly down the winding road in Wilderness State Park about 10 o'clock one night looking for a place in which to camp. "I came upon a group of people with flashlights and stopped to see what was going on. Raccoons had been coming to the camp each evening, and, as on previous nights, the campers had placed food (their last can of beans) and water on the table. An old coon was helping himself to the food, and other coons were coming from all directions."

"The beam from a flashlight picked up the eye shine of the animals some distance from the camp site," he goes on. There were not only raccoons present, but also deer. The campers said that on the previous night a couple of skunks were at their table.

"After this natural contact with our wildlife, these people would almost surely return to this spot again. Moreover, they'll probably spread the news to their friends, who may also come to Michigan in their travels," the professor concluded.

People find it very easy to keep in touch with society if they have money to lend.

There is little relationship between the cost and the pleasure of a vacation.

Vows Exchanged in Owendale Church

Miss Ruth Ann MacAlpine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert MacAlpine of Owendale, and Merton J. Hendershot, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hendershot of Gageton, were married Saturday evening at the Methodist Church in Owendale. Some 150 guests witnessed the wedding performed by the Rev. Frederick Werth before an altar of white gladioli and ferns.

Vocalist was Mrs. Bruce Ricker, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Ellicott. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a street length dress of white nylon lace over satin. A headress of pearls and beads held a shoulder length veil and she carried a Bible topped with a white orchid with streamers tied in lovers knots.

Miss Joyce MacAlpine, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the groom's sister, Miss Mary Hendershot, was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of white lace over turquoise and pink, respectively, with matching headpieces and carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Best man was Duane Deering of Gageton and seating guests was Bruce MacAlpine, brother of the bride. Ushers were Robert MacAlpine and Lee Sowden. The mothers of the bride and groom both wore navy blue dresses and corsages of red roses and mock orange blossoms.

Following a reception held in the church parlors for 150 guests, the couple left for a trip to northern Michigan.

Guests came from Detroit, Smith's Creek, Alenton, Whittemore, Mt. Morris, Carson City, Romeo, Utica, Elkton, Cass City, Gageton and Owendale.

Canboro Church Scene of Wedding

The Canboro Latter Day Saint Church was decorated with white gladioli, palms and candelabra Saturday for the wedding of Miss Patricia Knight and Elmer Crabtree. Elder Archie Harder of Bay Port performed the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Frank Sheufler was vocalist, accompanied by Miss Marilyn McConkey.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knight of Sebawaing, formerly of Grant. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crabtree of Sebawaing.

The bride's floor-length gown was of Chantilly lace with a lavishly ruffled skirt of tulle. The bodice featured a neckline of applique lace with a Queen Elizabeth collar and long tapered sleeves. Her illusion shoulder-length veil was held by a pearl crown. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of white carnations with a white orchid center trimmed with lovers knots and seed pearls. Her father gave her in marriage.

Miss Gail Walsh of Ypsilanti was her cousin's maid of honor in a princess style gown of pink lace and silk with brief sleeves and a full gored skirt. Bridesmaid Miss Janis Knight, also a cousin of the bride, wore an identically styled gown of blue. They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations with ribbon streamers to match their gowns.

Attending the groom were Martin Walsh as best man and Donald Demps. Seating the guests were Frank Witzgall and Leonard Crabtree.

Mrs. Knight wore a street-length dress of light blue silk for her daughter's wedding and the groom's mother wore a navy dress. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

A reception following the wedding in the church parlors was attended by 250 guests.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a black linen sheath trimmed with white with white linen accessories.

They will make their home at 404 Fifth Street in Sebawaing.

John J. Bastian Dies Unexpectedly

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dewey and her son, James Foy, and Mrs. Dewey's three nieces, Mrs. Frederick Booth, Mrs. Ray Swiontek and Mrs. Norris Willett, all of Chicago, who arrived in Cass City Wednesday, went to Dearborn Thursday morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Dewey's brother, John J. Bastian, 68, of St. Clair. Burial was made in Dearborn. Mr. Dewey was a pallbearer.

His death was very sudden. Mr. Bastian, who had moved to St. Clair May 1 from Dearborn, telephoned Mrs. Dewey Saturday to tell her he was going to Florida to live and asked her to come to St. Clair for his furniture. When Mr. and Mrs. Dewey arrived at St. Clair Sunday morning, they found that Mr. Bastian had suffered a stroke and he died 40 minutes after their arrival while being rushed by ambulance to a Port Huron hospital.

He is survived by a son, Donald of Birmingham; a daughter, Betty, in Kentucky; three brothers, and three sisters, including Mrs. Dewey. His former wife is also living.
