

End of Long Dispute in Sight

Hear Area Farmers' Case Against Edison

Merchants Top Marlette for Second Win

The Cass City Merchants brought their season's record up to the 500 mark Monday night with a 5-4 extra-inning victory over Marlette at the Cass City Recreation Park.

After taking an early lead, the Merchants were forced to come from behind to win the game. Cass City scored in the first inning and again in the second on Don Erla's round-tripper to go ahead 2-0.

Marlette came storming back in the fourth to score four times. Witte opened with a double and Kennedy and Geister followed with singles. After Parker was thrown out at first, Ray Fox slammed a home run that accounted for the visitors' final three runs. Ray is not normally a member of the Marlette squad. But the team was short a man and they picked him out of the stands. He proved to be a wise choice as he provided Marlette's big offensive punch and played a fine defensive game.

The Merchants got one of the runs back in their half of the fourth when Tom Schwaderer singled and Erla, Ken Eisinger and Harry Hartwick drew walks. They tied the score in the sixth when Erla scored after drawing his second walk of the game.

Eugene Kloc almost scored the run that would have decided the game in the regulation distance in the fifth.

He blasted a line drive over the head of the Marlette left fielder and it appeared to be headed out of the field of play for an easy round tripper. However, the ball hit one of the fence posts near the track and bounced back to the left fielder and Kloc was thrown out at the plate.

The winning combination in the eighth started when Schwaderer walked and took second on Jack Hoo's sacrifice. He galloped home standing up on Erla's hot grounder through the infield.

Erla had a perfect night at the plate with a home run, single and two walks in as many tries. Dean Hoag was the only Marlette player to garner more than one safety as he cracked out a single and a double.

While Monday's game was exciting, the attendance was not. The team has been disappointed in the poor turnout at the first three home games. With only two games left and with their improving record, players are hoping for more fans to support their club and see some exciting softball at their next home game which will be Wednesday, July 17, against Frankmouth. Next Wednesday, July 10, the team plays at Sebawa which posted a 2-0 decision over them in the first game of the year.

Two Cars Collide at Area Intersection

Two cars were damaged in a collision at the corner of M-81 and M-53 Friday evening, but drivers of both cars escaped injury.

Robert L. Becker, 17, of Bad Axe lost control of his car when he tried to turn onto M-81 and skidded into a car driven by Robert B. Abbott, 34, of Caro which was waiting at the intersection to cross the highway.

Damage was about $300 to the Becker car and some $50 to the Abbott car.

Corporal Robert Angell, of Bad Axe State Police post, ticketed Becker for violation of the basic speed law.

After two side issues had been taken to the supreme court for settlement, trial of the case between four area farmers and the Detroit Edison Co. opened Monday.

The farmers, Joe Lang, Floyd Werdeeman, Grover Laurie and Frank Sinclair, claim that the Edison Co. used fraud in getting their signed agreements for right of way across their property for utility lines for $50 a frame.

They allege that Edison misrepresented the facts before agreements were signed and that other farmers are receiving more for the right of way than they are.

The case is being tried before Judge T. C. Quinn in Tuscola County Circuit Court. It was to have resumed Wednesday morning when the farmers present their final witness, Floyd Clark, an appraiser.

The Edison Company has not yet presented any witnesses and the case is expected to extend well into next week before a decision is reached.

The farmers are asking that the agreements be rescinded, which would mean, if granted, that the lines already erected would be torn down. If the agreements are not rescinded the farmers are asking the court for damages.

Park Program Will Feature Decathlon

The Cass City Recreation Department has arranged a decathlon program for boys and girls which will be run on an individual basis with ribbons for every participant who completes the proper point totals.

For a score of 30 a blue ribbon is presented. A score from 20 to 29 earns a red ribbon and from 10 to 19 points, a white ribbon.

The events are divided in three categories. There are 10 events for boys and 10 events for girls. For all children eight years old and younger there is a division with 10 events.

A complete breakdown of the various events which include jumping, running, baseball and basketball throws, rope climbs and push-ups is available from the recreation department. To earn points, contestants must accomplish each event within prescribed times or distances.

The Recreation Department staff pointed out that parents can assist the staff and children by helping and encouraging their children to practice events they plan to enter.

Wednesday evening a "Mummers Parade" was scheduled to be followed by singing, storytelling by Mrs. Fritz Neitzel and Clayton Neiman and a special Indian dance by Ron Fleenor. Paul Holmberg was to be in charge of the bonfire. Earl Douglas furnished the props for the storytelling.

Thursday evening at 8 p. m. a square dance on the tennis courts was scheduled. Mr. and Mrs. John West were to furnish the music via records.

Last week's attendance at the park was 805 children. The previous week it was 710.

PREPARE TO LEAVE—Receiving last minute instructions before leaving Monday for the Fourth National Jamboree to be held at Valley Forge, Penn., are the six scouts to attend from Cass City. From the Editor's Corner

The tourist season is in full swing and it is estimated that 15 billion dollars will be spent on vacations this year. Vacations boost sales all over the nation in sun tan lotions, eyedrops, insect repellents and camera film.

That's a result you'd expect. However, there's another item that ranks right along with these vacation standbys as biggest item in volume sales for tourists and we feel you'll be as surprised as we were when you learn that it's aspirin. It looks as if too many of us overdo it when we are off for a good time.

We don't know if it's the new speed law, improved drivers or constant education and publicity that is lowering the death rate on the highways in Michigan. However, at the risk of being repetitious we again point out that the long holiday week end ahead is always one which is among the highest in traffic deaths, and increased caution will be necessary to stay alive.

Representatives from Michigan State University have been concluded on page 10.

Set Training Day For Scout Leaders

Training day for all those helping with Girl Scout Day Camp will be held at the Girl Scout cabin, Wednesday, July 10. The session will begin at ten o'clock and end at three. Mrs. Earl Mattlin Sr. of Caro and Mrs. Alfred Dickson of Akron, who have just returned from camp training in New York, will be in charge.

All helpers and interested persons are asked to attend and bring a "nose bag" lunch for noon.

Day Camp begins July 22 and lasts for five days.

Six Leave Monday For Scout Jamboree

Two Explorers and four Boy Scouts from Cass City will join a contingent of 80 persons from the Valley Trails Council who will leave Monday from Saginaw to attend the Fourth National Jamboree slated July 12-18 at Valley Forge, Penn.

Attending from Cass City will be Jim Hutchinson, Bob Johnson, Dick Albee, Marvin McCormick, Jim Ross and Jim Rawson.

En route to the camp they will visit at Washington, D. C. At Valley Forge a huge tent city on 2,038 acres will house the 50,000 scouts expected. The boys will be divided into 38 villages of about 1,400 campers each.

Many foreign countries will be represented. Scouts will attend from Australia, Bahamas, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Iran, Israel, Peru, Philippines, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela.

The jamboree is a self-liquidating enterprise. Each participant pays a $50 fee which provides food, use of equipment and covers the cost of building the camp. Cass City Scouts were helped by their sponsoring organization, the Cass City Rotary Club, which contributed $150 towards jamboree expenses.

Spectacular evening programs are scheduled Friday, July 12, and Thursday, July 18, in a natural amphitheatre holding 50,000 campers and several thousand guests.

Methodists Commemorate Building of Church

Golden Anniversary at Grant Sunday

The Golden Anniversary of the present Grant Methodist Church was celebrated Sunday when some 150 members and guests attended all-day ceremonies at the church.

Although Sunday was the golden anniversary of the building of the present church, the Grant church is much older. The first formal church for the area was the Grant Methodist Episcopal Church built on a site donated, a corner of the James Greneshe's farm. It was dedicated Dec. 18, 1892.

Before the first church was built, persons in the area attended church services in three area schools . . . Dickout, Greenwood and Rescue.

Levi Cliff and O. C. Blair started the first Sunday School in about 1890. The area was served by Rev. Judson Cooper who came to the area whenever he could. When he was not available Layman John Sturton was in the pulpit.

Shortly after the first church was built, two members of the congregation, Duncan McDonald and Enoc Turner, walked the nine and a half miles to Cass City to attend the district conference and have the church recognized with a regularly appointed pastor.

First Church Burns In the spring of 1907, the church burned and in the fall, the present church was dedicated. Rev. Stevenson was the pastor.

The congregation of the church purchased a house and lot adjoining the church in 1895 for use as a parsonage. Rev. and Mrs. Allan were the first occupants. Grant supported a resident pastor until 1911 when the church became part of a circuit with Elkton, as it is today.

During the long history of the church, there have been 37 pastors including the present pastor, Rev. Leo Buerch who became the pastor three weeks ago.

The church has shown steady progress. Many church organizations were formed. Oldest is the Woman's Society of Christian Service which was organized as the Ladies' Aid in 1901.

The "Komjoynus" Junior-

Adult Bible Class formed Feb. 10, 1928, and was followed by the Grant Young Adult Fellowship organized May 20, 1949.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship organized in 1952. Most recent organization is the Junior Choir which formed in 1953.

Sturdy Building In the 50 years the present building has served the area, no major structural repairs have been necessary. Some 25 years ago a kitchen was added to the church basement. The roof has been repaired several times and the interior redecorated many times.

When church members painted the walls recently, they were forced to tear off three layers of wallpaper before the new paint could be added.

Dedication Service Rev. William Ainsworth of Harbor Beach, a former pastor, delivered the sermon to members and guests. A basket lunch at noon was followed by a program under the direction of Haskett Blair, chairman.

The topic was selected in response to numerous requests, the pastor said. The schedule will be: July 7—"When You Are Feeling Low"; July 14—"How to Handle Self"; July 21—"Responding to Criticism"; and July 28—"Letting God Take the Strain." Concluded on page 10.

Present Plans for New School Addition

Plans for a proposed addition to the Cass City Public School will be revealed to interested persons at the annual meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday, July 8.

The project will cost an estimated $99,000 and the school has some $75,000 in a fund for the project.

The addition will be placed east of the north half of the present high school building and will connect to the present building. An advertisement for bids appears in this issue of the Chronicle.

The addition will feature two rooms about 63 by 48 feet which will be used for a farm shop and industrial arts classroom. The present shop will be used by the band, according to present plans.

In addition, two smaller classrooms are expected to be made available from the addition. One will be an agriculture classroom and the other a mechanical drawing room.

A teachers' lounge is also in the plans for the new building. If there is not enough money for the complete building, as planned, school authorities will do as much as possible with the funds available.

School Election The annual meeting will be held an hour after the polls close for the school election Monday. Voters will decide two open posts on the school board.

Luke Tuckey is a candidate for re-election. Other nominees are Mrs. Elizabeth Walpole and Kenneth Maharg. Voting will be held at Cass City High School.

Babe Ruthers Win Pair of League Games

Cass City remained on top in the Western Division of the Thumb Babe Ruth League with a pair of victories in as many starts.

In the first game played Thursday, June 27, the squad posted an easy victory over Uby, 13-3. Newell Harris pitched shutout ball for six innings and collected two hits. Marvin McCormick twirled the final inning for the winners.

Les Severance reached base every time he came to bat and Dave Wilson turned out his usual fine game behind the plate.

Caseville Game

Cass City edged Caseville, regarded as the team to beat in the division, in a thrilling game Tuesday evening at Cass City Recreation Park, 3-2.

Clutch pitching by Harris was the highlight of the game. Caseville scored an unearned run in the first and after Fogie, Caseville hurler, led off with a triple in the fourth, Harris struck out the side. The visitors added another unearned run in the sixth to account for all of their runs.

Harris also led the team at the plate. He tripled and scored in the first and doubled for a key hit in the sixth. Dave Wilson was responsible for the winning run. With the score tied 2-2 and Wilson and Harris on base, an attempted double steal caused the Caseville catcher to throw the ball away and Wilson scampered all the way home from first.

Each team collected four hits and committed two errors.

DON'T BUY ANY CAR BEFORE YOU DRIVE A CHEVY... ITS BEST SHOWROOM IS THE ROAD.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. There are reasons for this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution that takes excessive loads off the front wheels, the wide stance of outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Try it, this week!

Research Guides Cotton Production Lime, Potash Keys To Greater Yields

Research studies have shown that higher yields of cotton per acre—and consequent lower costs of production—can be achieved in the Southeast by substantially increasing the use of nitrogen and lime on cotton land, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Studies of cotton soils and nutrients required for producing cotton at a rate exceeding one bale per acre have been conducted by USDA's Agricultural Research Service and soil scientists of the State Agricultural Experiment Stations at Stoneville, Miss., and Thorsby, Ala.

Results show that it will pay farmers with better cotton soils to step up their use of nitrogen to 4 times the present average annual rate of 26 pounds an acre. The studies indicate also that, for greatest yield benefit, phosphorus, potash and sulfur should be applied in accordance with soil-test recommendations, and adequate liming should be done to offset the increased soil acidity created by heavier use of nitrogen.

In their virgin condition, soils of the Southeast were acid, low in nitrogen and potash, and deficient in phosphorus. Since nitrogen does not accumulate from fertilizer applications, the need for this element will continue to be a problem in these soils. Cotton plants take up about 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre to produce the first bale, and each succeeding bale requires at least another 30 pounds.

Tree Farm System Getting Larger

The 16-year old industry operated American Tree Farm System of growing timber as a crop on taxpaying forest lands gained 3,709,810 acres in 1956, reaching a total of 41,548,217 acres in 44 states.

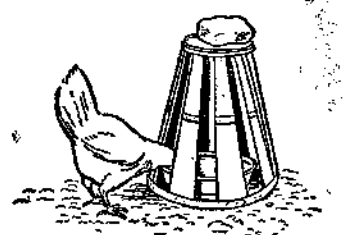

The 10 per cent increase in enrolled acreage was announced by C. A. Gillett, managing director of American Forest Products Industries, Inc., Washington, the national Tree Farm sponsor.

Florida took over national leadership with 4,290,800 acres and became the first state to pass the 4 million-acre mark. Other leaders were Georgia, 3,824,674 acres; Oregon, 3,687,778; Alabama, 3,614,041; Texas, 3,431,304; Arkansas, 3,406,081; and Washington, 3,374,033.

Mississippi continued to lead in number of Tree Farms certified, being first to reach the 1,000 mark. She was followed by Texas with 914 Tree Farms; Alabama 727; Arkansas 601; Idaho, 593; Minnesota, 508; Michigan, 432; and Ohio, 419.

J. C. McClellan, AFPI chief forester, said the Tree Farm program is encouraging millions of forest landowners to apply sound principles of forest management to their woodland tracts, thereby increasing timber supplies and income throughout the nation.

Pan Protector

It's a simple matter to prevent chickens from turning over water pans or scratching dirt into them. A tomato hamper will make an ideal guard. Remove every other stave, sawing through center hoop stapled to each stave. Kick or other weight placed on top of the hamper will keep it from being overturned.

In 1955, property taxes took 14 1/2 per cent of farmers' net incomes.

Lawn grasses such as Kentucky bluegrass and red fescue should be cut at 1 1/2 to 2 inches in height when grown in open sunny areas.

PERFECT FIT

There are many definitions of tact, but lying out of it gracefully seems to cover most cases.

AMAZE YOUR FRIENDS!
MYSTIFY YOUR NEIGHBORS!
BE THE FIRST ON YOUR BLOCK!

These can be the most intriguing words in the world -- and I suppose we've all thrown money away answering such bald and bold advertisements.

But this week, at great expense to the management, but at no cost to you, I'm going to pass on a little tid-bit that may help you amaze your friends, mystify your neighbors.

The next time you hear a car horn (and you hear it all too often I'm afraid) cock your ear, put on a very serious and learned expression and tell your friends slowly: "Ah, zat horn, zat is E Flat and G."

In almost every case, you'll be right. The car horn is built like a saxophone and those two notes were chosen for the "car saxophone" after a lot of study.

They have great powers of penetration, which is a safety factor, yet are the most pleasant of the penetrating sounds. Some cars also add B Flat to increase these qualities.

We've come a long way from the early auto horns. The very first was actually a whistle. It was installed in the mufflers of pioneer cars and was pulled with a cable.

Today's auto horn is such a reliable piece of equipment it almost never goes wrong. It's like so much of the equipment in modern cars, working for us all the time and we hardly ever think of it.

But—and this is an important but—there are people in this town who are paid to think of such things. They are our skilled and factory-trained mechanics. Their job is not just to patch up when things go wrong. They have instructions from me to do their best to prevent trouble developing in the future in the cars they service.

While they're doing a routine job on a car, their eyes are constantly on the alert, watching for the telltale signs of trouble.

So, even though Ollie is on vacation, our service department will continue to help you take care of your car. Just ask for "Bob," who's taking over in Ollie's absence, he'll be glad to help you.

Put A Wide-Awake Want Ad to Work

Mrs. James W. Young

Some 150 relatives and friends of Miss Joyce Helen Little and James William Young gathered in the Novesta Church of Christ Saturday, June 29, at three o'clock for the double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Howard Woodard, which united the couple in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Little of Cass City. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Young of Grand Rapids are the parents of the groom.

Potted palms and candelabra decorated the church. Keith and Harold Little, Ferris Ware and Lee Hartel seated the guests.

Preceding the entrance of the bride party, Bud Downs of Detroit, accompanied by Mrs. Audrey Horner, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years." At the close of the service he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Lee Hartel of Deford, as matron of honor, and sisters of the couple, Peggy Young of Grand Rapids and Hazel Little, as bridesmaids.

Joseph Speia of Grand Rapids, friend of the groom, performed the duties of best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was preceded to the altar by her niece and nephew, Sharon Hartel and David Little, as flower girl and ring bearer.

The bride's gown was a creation of lace and net over satin. Floor-length, the dress was made with a fitted bodice which featured a Sabrina neckline and wristpoint sleeves. The skirt had pointed panels of lace. Her scalloped nylon net veil was held in place by a scalloped headpiece decorated with mother of pearl sequins. An orchid and fancy handkerchief made by the bride's mother topped her white pearl Bible, which was a gift of the groom.

The gowns worn by the bride's attendants were made alike of flocked nylon over taffeta. Point of interest of the gowns, which were waist-length, were cummerbunds with huge bows. Mrs. Hartel wore orchid and the bridesmaid's dresses were yellow.

The bridesmaids were wearing bands of net decorated with sequins. Mrs. Hartel's flowers were an arrangement of orchid and white mums. The others carried yellow and white mums, including the basket of flowers carried by the flower girl.

Mrs. Little, mother of the bride, wore navy blue with white accessories. The groom's mother wore light blue lace with pink accessories. Both mothers had corsages of pink and white carnations.

Put Nutrients Back in Soil

Plant Food Removal Needs Replacing

Minnesota soil scientists report that crops are eating up plant nutrients four times faster than farmers are putting them back in the soil.

These specialists estimate that in Minnesota alone, crops remove nearly 500,000 tons of nitrogen, phosphate and potash from the soil each year.

In terms of complete mixed fertilizer, this represents more than 1 1/2 million tons.

Replacements by Minnesota farmers amount to little more than 150,000 tons of plant nutrients annually.

Farming is like banking, you have to put in before you can take out. Crop production removes valuable plant nutrients from the soil, nutrients that must be replaced to assure top future production.

Normally, or the equivalent of 370,000 tons of complete fertilizer.

"This leaves an annual deficit of 340,000 tons of nitrogen, phosphate and potash, or more than a million tons of complete fertilizer removed from the soil without being replaced," the Minnesota soils men point out.

Plant food removal and replacement in other Midwestern states are comparable with the Minnesota experience, agronomists estimate.

The Minnesota soils men say that the biggest nutrient loss in their state comes in the form of nitrogen. Last year crops took 260,000 tons of actual nitrogen from the soil. Only 33,000 tons were applied last year; thus 226,000 tons had to come from soil reserves and other sources.

Crops used up about 130,000 tons of phosphate and 107,000 tons of potash last year. Farmers in Minnesota put back 76,910 tons of phosphate and 48,000 tons of potash last year.

Farm Welder Is Sound Investment

A farm welder is one of the best investments a farmer can make in his farm machinery maintenance program, says John W. Matthews, of the University of Illinois.

Time saved in repairing one machine with a welder during harvest season could pay for it.

Both electric arc and oxy-acetylene welders are fine for farm use, and each has special advantages.

Arc welding is faster and cheaper on heavy metals. Electricity, the source of energy, is available at the flick of a switch.

Oxy-acetylene is better for cutting and heating and is easier to control in welding small parts and thin materials. Its portability also may be an advantage.

Some farmers with a large operation may be justified in owning both types of welders. Others may prefer to buy one type and exchange welding work with a relative or neighbor who has the other type.

FOOL PROOF
What the world needs is some way for a man to insure his good resolutions against breakage.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT
Nature makes it impossible for a man to learn the ropes without falling over them a few times.

LITTLE FAULTS
It's generally a chain of circumstances that shows up the weak link in a man's character.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Make-Up Can Solve Facial Problems That Annoy You

MAKE-UP is a real art, but there are certain things about it every woman can learn and practice to her advantage. Cosmetics have to solve many problems for many women, but any woman can learn to apply the make-up properly for her few personal faults.

Clever application can do real wonders for the too thin face, for example. After you have applied a foundation, blend on a darker shade starting at the jaw line and carrying it to the chin.

Start rouge below the middle of the eyes under the cheekbone, blending downward and outward. To create width, avoid rouge close to the nose.

Keep the eyebrows straight, low at tip and short. This cuts length and gives width to the forehead.

Round Faces
To create an oval appearance so the roundness will be changed.

For this season, there's nothing neer than a full capeline coat in beige herringbone with elbow length cape sleeves and front flap trimming. The coat falls softly from gently rounded narrow shoulders to give a delicate feminine air.

use a foundation in darker tone around the jaw line from ear to ear. Start rouge at the upper portion of the cheek under eyes. Blend close to temple and down toward the dark foundation applied at the jaw.

Eyebrows for round faces and be long with that enchanting, light lift at the outer edges.

Darker tones in a foundation will conceal problem areas such as a double chin.

Use Lipstick Brush
To give your mouth natural looking curves, a lipstick brush is a wonderful investment.

It will also eliminate the ragged edges that give way to a smeared looking mouth. When using the brush, make certain the lips are dry, then work the brush well into the stick so there is a generous amount of color on the bristles.

Give Vegetables Foreign Accent

When you want your dinner to be special, give your vegetables a different from the ordinary treatment. There are subtle ways to bring out their delicate flavors and they're certain to be appreciated by a family whose tastes for "green things" may need a bit of vitality.

The French treat their green peas in an unusual way which you'll like too:

Peas, French Style
(Serves 6)
1 package frozen peas or 3 pounds fresh peas
5 or 6 outer lettuce leaves
12 small onions
2 sprigs parsley
¼ cup soft butter
2½ teaspoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons water

In a heavy saucepan with a tightly fitting cover lay lettuce leaves. Mix freshly shelled or frozen peas with onions, parsley, butter sugar and salt. Place on bed of lettuce. Sprinkle with water. Cover and cook over low heat for 12 to 15 minutes, or until peas are tender. Remove from heat. Shred lettuce with scissors and gently mix with peas to serve.

Green Beans, Lyonnaise
(Serves 4)
1 pound green beans
¼ cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup thinly sliced onions
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon minced parsley

Rinse, break off ends and cut lengthwise into strips the green beans. Cook with ¼ cup water and ½ teaspoon salt until tender. Meanwhile, melt 3 tablespoons butter in skillet, then add onions and cook until transparent. Drain beans and add to onions with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Sauté 5 minutes. Add remaining butter, lemon juice and parsley.

Keep eggs clean, cool and covered.

A $1 investment in nitrogen fertilizer for corn can return between $2 and $5 in the fall, say MSU soils specialists. Nitrogen should be applied just before or, preferably, soon after planting.

18 County 4-H'ers To Attend Annual 4-H Club Week

Eighteen Tuscola boys and girls, active 4-H Club members, have been chosen to attend the 39th annual 4-H Club Week being held on the Michigan State University campus July 9-12. Tuscola County delegates include: Sandra Whalen, Akron; Mary Ann Hobart, Gaytown; Patricia Ruggles, Kingston; Sue Black, Akron; Barbara Fryers, Mayville; Catherine Hickey, Fairgrove; Bonnie Turner, Akron; Ruth Karr, Cass City; Jean Vaughn, Caro; Don Kowbel, Unionville; Nelson Davis, Mayville; Leland Irish, Caro; Gordon Taggett, Caro; Malcolm Downing, Akron; Willis Johnson, Mayville; Melvin Rupprecht, Frankenthum; Gary Janks, Caro, and Everett Wingert, Kingston.

They will join more than a thousand 4-H'ers who have received the honor of attending club week as an award for their outstanding 4-H Club work. They will live in Shaw dormitory on the banks of the Red Cedar River on the Michigan State University campus and will attend classes and discussions, listen to speakers, tour a factory and take part in contests. All 68 counties in lower Michigan are expected to be represented.

Tuscola County delegates will leave Tuesday, July 9, at 7:00 a. m. and will return home Friday, July 12. Chaperoning the group will be: Mrs. Preston Karr, Cass City; Betty Lou King, Summer 4-H Club agent, and Bill Muller, 4-H Club agent.

Speaking to the 1,200 boys and girls during the week will be Michigan Cooperative Extension Director Paul A. Miller; State 4-H Club Leader Russell G. Mawby; Dr. Thelma Porter, dean of the college of home economics, and Dr. Richard Swenson, assistant dean of agriculture.

Two contests will be held during the four-day session. One is the 4-H Club dress revue, in which nearly 100 girls will model the clothing they have made. They will be competing for a chance to enter the final dress revue at the State 4-H Show later in the summer.

Eight finalists will also be selected in the achievement booth contest. They will return to the State Show, where four winners will be named. To win in the achievement booth contest is considered the highest honor that can come to a 4-H member. Reward is a trip to the National 4-H Club Conference in Washington, D. C., next June.

Also during the week, the state 4-H Service Club will initiate its new members. The organization is an honorary group and each year takes in some 35 outstanding older club members besides honoring many 4-H local leaders.

The evening programs as well as the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday morning assemblies and the Thursday afternoon dress revue are all open to the public, says Betty Lou King, Tuscola County Summer 4-H Club agent. For details as to time contact Betty Lou King or Bill Muller in the county extension office in Caro.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Patient Work Will Remove Scratches That Mar Furniture

EVERYDAY living will leave a fine network of scratches on your furniture but few of these need be permanent if you're armed with a bit of know-how and some measure of patience.

The day Mom stood on a chair to tighten the curtain rod and dropped a screw driver on the sewing cabinet or the many months when Dad moves the lamp on his desk will mar furniture. Your first step in repairing these marks of living is to determine just how deeply the mark goes into the wood and then how it should be treated.

Fine Scratches

Fine scratches are those made by pushing, like when Dad pushes his lamp. They do not penetrate the finish and are easily eliminated. Treat with heavy paste wax rubbed on the surface. Let dry for

This new combination washer dryer is the latest antidote to oversized, individual appliances. This baby combination measures 27x36 inches, but will take a man-sized load such as a two-week allotment of diapers. It will fit in one-third the space of separate washers and dryers.

A few minutes, then polish. This may need to be repeated several times and the wax does give a film which is hard to keep rubbing. The idea is to fill the scratches so you can hardly see them. Give a final polish with a light touch.

More than waxing is needed when the scratch penetrates the wood. If the wood is dark, take a cotton swab, dip in iodine and rub into the scratch. This will color the wood. Now you need to apply the paste wax treatment outlined several times to fill the mark.

Walnut meats can be rubbed into dark walnut to color the scratches as the iodine is used on mahogany. Follow with the paste wax treatment.

For painted surfaces, match the paint and rub this in with a small cotton swab. If the scratch is rather deep, drip the paint in by drops, then work in as evenly as possible.

Set Pretty Tables With Odds and Ends

Another saucer broken? Just dinner plates remaining from your good set? Despair should not be your reaction for some of the loveliest tables can be created from odds and ends of dishes.

Let's say that you have just the dinner plates left from your good set. This often happens because dinner plates don't break as easily as do the cups and saucers and butter plates. You may use the pieces you need to fill in such as cups and saucers, salad or butter plates in a solid color as long as the color used is one prominent in the dinner plates.

Perhaps you have dinner plates as well as bread and butter plates left from the good set. You may use a decorative cup and a salad plate in a solid color that goes with a color in the dinner plate. Another idea is to use a bridge or dessert set as long as there is color harmony.

When your china service lacks soup bowls, use pastel pottery that accents the color of your set. Always look for a color that matches one already in the dishes you have.

Earthenware Sets
You have a blue and white china set that's incomplete? Glasses, cups and salad plates in inexpensive but well designed ruby glass will set off that dinner plates in that set beautifully.

Here's another solution to these blue and white sets or whatever color and white you already have: get cups and saucers or salad plates in plain white to go along with the incomplete set. The plain white enhances the color well. Cut glass adds a decorative note when used in water glasses.

White cups can be used on saucers left from a set to good advantage, too. When you buy cups and any choice is available, try to get cups that match the shape or style of those which were broken so they'll go nicely with the set.

Of every $15 the federal government spends, one dollar is spent in agricultural programs.

Enrichment of flour—what's that? Enriched flours are those regular or self rising flours to which certain B vitamins, iron and (sometimes) calcium have been added in specific amounts.

Chances are that breads that have coarse grain and large cells in the crumb have resulted from dough which has been allowed to rise just a little too much.

Schedule Barley Tour July 9

Staff members of Michigan State University and representatives of the malting and brewing industry from Milwaukee and Detroit are holding their annual malting barley tour.

The public is invited to look at fields of malting barley and discuss barley production practices. Three stop stops will be made in Tuscola County, relates assistant county agricultural agent Don Keblor. One of these stops will be at the barley variety test plots on the E. C. Korthals farm, located on Bradleyville Road, 3 miles east and 1 1/4 miles south of Reese. This stop is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. Varieties, small grain diseases, barley and oat breeding programs and production practices will be discussed here.

The first stop will be at the David Gray farm at 11 a. m. His barley field is on the east side of Garner Road, 4 miles east and 1 1/4 miles north of Reese. The second stop is at the Glenn McDonald farm at 11:30 a. m. His barley field is on the south side of Deckerville Road, 4 miles north and 1 1/4 miles east of Reese.

Dr. Milton Erdmann, farm crops specialist at MSU, arranged the tour. Working with him are MSU staff members Paul Rood, soil science department; Dr. John Grafius, barley and oat breeder, farm crops department; and Dr. Richard Kiesling, plant pathologist. Also representatives of the malting barley improvement association, A. J. LeJeune and W. W. Sialer, will be present. Everyone is welcome to attend the tour stops.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Tragic death of a Detroit child touched off new activity to provide improved legal protection from sex criminals. But at best, it will be nearly a year before laws change.

Mary deCaussin, six years old, was found assaulted and murdered. A 50-year-old grocery clerk named Lawrence Richard Turner confessed the crime. His record showed that 23 of his 50 years had been spent in hospitals, reform schools or prisons. He had been charged with six crimes as long ago as 1940. In 1942 he was convicted of criminal assault and sentenced to a term from 15 to 30 years. As law provides, he was given maximum time off for good behavior.

The warden urged that Turner be placed under psychiatric care. To prison officials it could be clearly predicted that the convict would strike again.

But under existing Michigan law, there was nothing that could be done. So Turner was permitted to go free even though medical science indicated what would be the result. As predicted, Turner did strike again.

Most appalling thing about the present situation is that it could so easily happen to another little girl any time. Alan Canty, director of Detroit's Recorders Court psychopathic clinic, says he knows of one other man who is apt to commit this type of crime as was Turner. He also says he knows of "many others" just as dangerous as is Turner. Included is one man who has a record of assaulting 12 girls, often using knives. He was sentenced 9-10 years in Jackson; was released as law provides after six years for good behavior.

Appointment of a committee to study sex criminals was called for by Detroit's Senator Harold M. Ryan, a Democrat. This committee would be expected to come up with present legislation to correct the present situation.

Laws controlling sex crimes are difficult to draft. The subject itself is complicated and legislators' reactions to it vary.

For six years the legislature has dealt with bills on the sex criminal subject. All failed to pass.

Robert E. Waldron, Republican representative from Grosse Pointe, was author of some unsuccessful bills in the last session. "If such laws had been in effect when Turner was convicted in 1942," he said, "Turner could —and probably would have been removed permanently from society."

Waldron's bill would have:

1. Provided for indeterminate sentences (one day to life) for convicted sex criminals with sadistic tendencies.

2. Provided protection for the defendant by allowing periodic psychiatric examinations and reviews by the state parole board.

3. Established a clinic at Jackson to provide special treatment.

Opposition to Waldron's bills during the last legislature, including opposition by Sen. Ryan and Canty, was on grounds that it included too large a scope of sex criminals, lumping "petty" offenses like peeping toms in the same category as murderers.

Soonest hope for correction of the big loophole in Michigan's law is the 1958 legislature to take action along lines recommended by the study committee. Since sex crimes, it is commonly agreed, are committed by mentally deranged people, whose behavior can be predicted, society itself is to blame if nothing is done to prevent them.

How about polio? Is the number of cases decreasing?

Happy answer to this question as supplied by Dr. F. S. Leader of the State Health Department, is: "Yes."

Until June 18 a total of 34 cases have been reported. This compares with 46 cases in the same period last year, and with 86 cases in 1955 before Salk vaccine was available.

With the scientist's careful evaluation, Dr. Leader said. "It is too early to detect a trend, but the outlook is hopeful."

Demand for Salk vaccine is "tremendous," according to Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner. He said that his department has received for free distribution only a "dribble" recently, and that that is being reserved for 1 to 14 year olds and for pregnant women.

Although the supply of vaccine is still "tight," production is picking up, and it will continue to be available. Health officials are recommending that vaccinations be continued all summer.

A face familiar in capitol circles is attracting attention in its possessor's mirror.

Dr. Eugene B. Keyes, doctor, dentist, lawyer, student of psychiatry and politician, announced recently that he could see a better candidate for mayor of Dearborn than Orville L. Hubbard (who has held the job for the last 18 years) by "looking into my own mirror."

Dr. Keyes did not actually say he was going to run, but he allowed as he was about to get some nomination petitions, "just in case."

In 1954 Keyes ran for nomination as governor on the Republican ticket. He placed fourth in a field of four. This happened, he states, because he had no support from "the checkbook section of the GOP."

Keyes served as Lieutenant Governor in 1943-44 and again in 1947-48.

"I keep thinking I'm cured of politics," Keyes says. "Maybe I should have got married instead of running for office." "I've got to have something to spend my money on," he philosophizes, "and it may have to be Orville Hubbard. I helped him get in there and I suppose I should have a sense of responsibility and help get him out."

Many a man finds he has to break a bad habit or it breaks him.

I AM NO LONGER RESPONSIBLE FOR MY WIFE'S ACTIONS

(Since she got her new kind of Ford)

"If she is unbelievably happy at 7:00 A. M. every morning, I now hold her 1957 Ford responsible. If she is off for the day at 7:02 A. M., I suggest that it is the power of Ford's Thunderbird V-8 engine. If she appears vastly more style-conscious, it is the longer, lower lines of her new kind of Ford that have made her so.

"If she arrives home remarkably refreshed, I refer you to the lower, more comfortable seats, the wider wrap-around windshield and the other peace-of-mind features of her new 'Inner Ford.' If she's just a bit more spoiled, don't blame her. With optional power steering, power brakes, power windows and seat—who wouldn't be?

"And if she is constantly raving about the savings her new car brings her, she's merely confirming what I've been telling her about Fords for years! Sure, we're a two-Ford family now. But even having one Ford in the family was more fun than you can imagine! Try a new '57 Ford at your house. It's Terrific!"

The day for the conservation tour proved to be a wet one. The rain kept quite a few of the women from the tour. The brave ones came with boots, raincoats and umbrellas. Tuscola County was beautiful and green, but the women saw many areas where the rain had been very cruel to the land. The women who went on this tour will now be very conscious of such things as gullies and erosion caused by not protecting the land from nature.

Many of the extension women who attended Homemakers' Conference in the past are planning on attending again this year.

Mrs. William Tonkin of the Moreland group says that Homemakers' Conference is one of her "highlights" of the year. Mrs. Joe Young of the Northwest Gilford group says that she certainly is planning on attending this year's conference. Mrs. Norman McConnell of the Fairgrove-Almer group is also planning on attending this year's conference. I hope other women who are planning on going to Homemakers' Conference during July 23-26 will let me know, so I can give them information about the conference. The program committee for this year's conference has lined up a very worthwhile and interesting group of speakers and entertainers for the women.

Three home demonstration groups furnished 45 dozen cookies for the patients at Saginaw Veterans' Hospital this past week. Women from Bethel, Oxbow and Northwest Fairgrove groups made the cookies this week.

At the last council meeting, the representatives of each extension group had a chance to vote for continuing or discontinuing this community project. I am glad to announce that the women voted to continue this project. The men at the Veterans' Hospital do appreciate getting those homemade cookies and the smiles that the women give so freely while they are serving the men their afternoon coffee break.

Enhance Seafood By Adding Cheese For Flavoring

WHEN the family's enthusiasm for seafood lags, you can add unusual flavor interest to seafood by means of American blue cheese. Dishes will have a zip-ness that combines well with the mild flavor of the fish.

Shrimp Italiane (Serves 4-6)

1½ pounds shrimp, shelled, deveined
¼ cup salad oil
1 large clove garlic, chopped
¼ cup crumbled blue cheese
¼ cup parsley
¼ cup chopped chives
Dash of pepper
Cook shrimp in oil for about 5 minutes or until pink on both sides. Remove shrimp. Add garlic to oil and cook 1 minute. Add remaining ingredients and cook until cheese is melted, stirring occasionally. Add shrimp and mix lightly. Sprinkle with additional cheese, if desired.

A simple, delicious dinner results from cooking shrimp with blue cheese. It makes an attractive meal served with boiled rice and lettuce wedges served with creamy French dressing.

Blue Cheese Flounder (Serves 6-8)

1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons water
1½ pounds fillets of flounder
1 cup fine bread crumbs
¼ cup butter, melted
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 small onion, chopped
1 tablespoon flour
8 ounces tomato sauce
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
¼ cup crumbled blue cheese
Salt, pepper, rosemary
Combine egg and water. Dip flounder in egg mixture; coat with crumbs. Cook in butter slowly about 30 minutes or until fork tender. Meanwhile, heat salad oil, add onion and cook until slowly browned. Blend in flour, then tomato sauce and tomatoes. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add remaining ingredients, seasoning to taste with salt, pepper and rosemary. Stir occasionally and cook until cheese melts. Pour sauce over flounder to serve.

Baking Center Plan Advised

Homemakers who like to do baking would be wise to plan a baking center in their homes. These should be designated to keep all the baking utensils and supplies in one definite area.

Baking centers, separate from other cooking and serving areas are becoming a real possibility, especially with built-in ovens which are separate from the cooking area. They can be planned, however, if the baking is centered around your current range.

There are certain advantages to a separate baking area. The best of these is that "floury" activities are isolated from other work centers in the kitchen. Then, too, all bowls, pans, ingredients and other utensils are concentrated in the area in which they're used, rather than being scattered throughout the kitchen.

Select Good Counter
Fruit and vegetable dyes, shortening and sticky substances used in creating your cake or pastry masterpieces will not harm the working area of the baking center if a good counter top is selected. A ceramic tile top for this is a good choice because it can be wiped easily and it's stain-proof. You should be able to chop directly on it, too, without cutting or scratching the surface.

Have a swing-out pastry board right in this area, too, either directly below or adjacent to the area. A mixer attached to the cabinet is a good idea, too. If it can be placed in a cabinet, then it, too, can be in or out of the way at a moment's notice.

Accessory Shelves
To make the baking center as convenient as possible, have spice shelves built into a cupboard, either as part of the regular shelves or inside the door if there's a space problem. Baking's so much more fun when you have all the ingredients close at hand both for easy measuring and then the clean-up job that follows a baking spree.

When you do a repair job around the home or farm, choose the right glue.

Consumers in Michigan prefer lean pork and this preference is boosting the demand for meat-type hogs, report animal husbandry specialists at Michigan State University.

To Organize Area

4-H Saddle Club

Boys and girls in the Cass City-Gagetown area owning horses will have an opportunity to join a 4-H Saddle Club, says Bill Muller, Tuscola County 4-H Club agent.

A meeting will be held at the Cass City High School, in the agricultural room on Friday evening, July 5, at 8:00 p. m. Persons attending are asked to enter through the north door, Mr. Muller said.

To become a 4-H Saddle Club member, youngsters must be between 10-21 years of age and own or share a horse in their family.

At present, over 100 youngsters are enrolled in Saddle Horse projects in Tuscola County. The four clubs already organized are the Junior Horsemen, Millington Equine, Hill and Gully Riders and the Oxbow Spurs and Saddle. The last two clubs were organized in June, says Muller, and each have approximately 15 youngsters enrolled. The Junior Horsemen 4-H Club is starting its fifth year and has about 43 youngsters and the Millington Equine is starting its third year with 29 club members.

Enrolling in a 4-H Saddle Club puts meaning and reason in owning a horse, the agent says. Youngsters through an organized club will learn horsemanship, drills, feeding and management of their project and the opportunity to learn with other youngsters the full enjoyment of a working or pleasure horse.

Soils and plant scientists say that farmers are only about half as far as they can go toward increasing crop yields with soil treatments.

All-purpose flours are those blended from hard and soft wheat flours to give satisfactory results for all general home baking. They are lower in protein than bread flours.

Diagnosis by X-ray —year 1900

Compare the early x-ray equipment in this 1900 print from the Bettmann Archive with the modern x-ray equipment used in today's Blue Cross participating hospitals, and you have an idea of how far medical care has advanced in the last 57 years.

...thank goodness
times have changed!

The early x-ray machine . . . medical marvel of its time . . . was a crude looking affair that was of little or no help to doctors in delicate diagnosis. It was used primarily to confirm major bone fractures and could detect little else.

This, thank goodness, is no longer true.

Today's x-ray machine is a remarkably fine instrument. So sensitive it can reveal the smallest bone fracture . . . show up irregularities in skin tissue . . . detect lung and intestinal diseases in the early stages, when prompt treatment is so vitally important.

Every new development in life-saving equipment like the modern x-ray machine means better hospital care for all of us. Costly, precision equipment like this . . . and the skilled hands it takes to operate it . . . quite naturally mean higher hospital bills, too.

But isn't the cost of living worth it?

If you are a member of Michigan Blue Cross (and half the people in Michigan are), then you need never worry about increased hospital costs at the time of your illness. Furthermore, as a member of companion Blue Shield, you are assured of generous payments toward the cost of surgical and x-ray services.

Litterbug's Calling Card

Bottles, cans, paper and other debris mark the trail of the litterbug throughout Michigan. Each year, thousands of dollars must be spent to clean up unsightly conditions left by careless visitors at state parks, recreation areas and beaches.

Letter to Editor

July 2, 1957
Cass City, Mich.

Recently the American Legion Post in Cass City sent me to Boys' State in East Lansing. 1,055 boys from all over Michigan were present to elect city, county and state officers. One night at the General Assembly Governor Williams spoke on automation. Another evening, Rev. Robert Richards spoke on Americanism. I could tell by the 10-minute applause at the end, that it was the best speech we had ever heard. I would like to thank the American Legion for sending me to Boys' State. It was a real thrilling experience.

Yours truly,
David O'Dell

Need Physical Education Early

Physical education at the elementary level is the Great Sahara of American education, says Paul Hunsicker, associate professor of physical education at The University of Michigan.

"The great majority of elementary school children in the United States do not have regularly scheduled classes in physical education," he says. "In fact, 91 per cent of American elementary schools do not have a gymnasium and about the same number lack space essential for play areas."

He stresses that the elementary school child is capable of mastering highly complex motor skills. "Teachers should recognize that there is a tremendous gap between what is being offered and what the child is capable of doing," he asserts.

The professor calls for a more challenging elementary school physical education program. "Instruction in activities like swimming, skiing, golf, handball, table tennis, gymnastics, tumbling, skating, badminton, archery, basketball, bowling, soccer, softball, speed-ball, touch football, track and field, volleyball, camping, horseback riding, wrestling and tennis is possible," he asserts.

"Some teachers will argue that they lack the space to play these sports, but this should not deter them from teaching the skills or lead-up games associated with the activity."

He maintains "The elementary student has the neuromuscular potential to master practically any physical education course currently offered at college level by the time he is ten years old. In many instances, the rate of learning is faster at the lower age level. Besides, the youngster has more free time to practice these skills than his counterpart in college."

Professor Hunsicker deprecates the fact that all too often physical education is looked upon as "fringe benefit" and responsibility for developing a program is not assumed by anyone. "A recess or time for letting off steam" should not be construed as a course in physical education," he asserts.

Varied Program For Homemakers

Getting away from housework, talking with and meeting new friends from all over the state and learning, seeing and doing many fun-things are all part of every Homemaker's Conference.

But, something new this year at the 30th annual event, July 23-26 is told by Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent. It's your choice of five hour-long sessions held Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

This program replaces the former large morning assembly. Each one of the 1,300 women expected to attend the Michigan State University conference will enroll in two of the sessions as they register. The five sessions they will have to choose from include: Homemaking Is Here To Stay; Home Interiors With Skill And Imagination; Lamb's Your Meat for a Welcome Treat; News in Wool, and Learning to be Creative.

Homemaking Is Here To Stay will be considered by a husband-wife team, Dr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Bratton, professors at Cornell University. They will discuss ways families make decisions and effects of decisions on satisfying family life.

A color-slide talk on home interiors will be given by Helen Ludwig, related arts professor at the University of Minnesota.

The demonstration on lamb cookery which will show unusual cuts prepared in novel ways will be done by Mrs. Marguerite Hague, home economist with The American Sheep Producers' Council, Inc.

Thelma Thompson, of The Wool Bureau in New York, will tell what's new in wool besides illustrating good pressing techniques.

Learning to be Creative will include filmed ideas to best use leisure time. The films were made and will be discussed by MSU's home economics professor of related arts, Mrs. Ruby MacKenzie.

Mrs. Clark adds that many other classes and speakers and entertaining features are a part of Homemaker's Conference. See her for registration details.
