Seven Injured in Two-Car Crash Sunday Afternoon

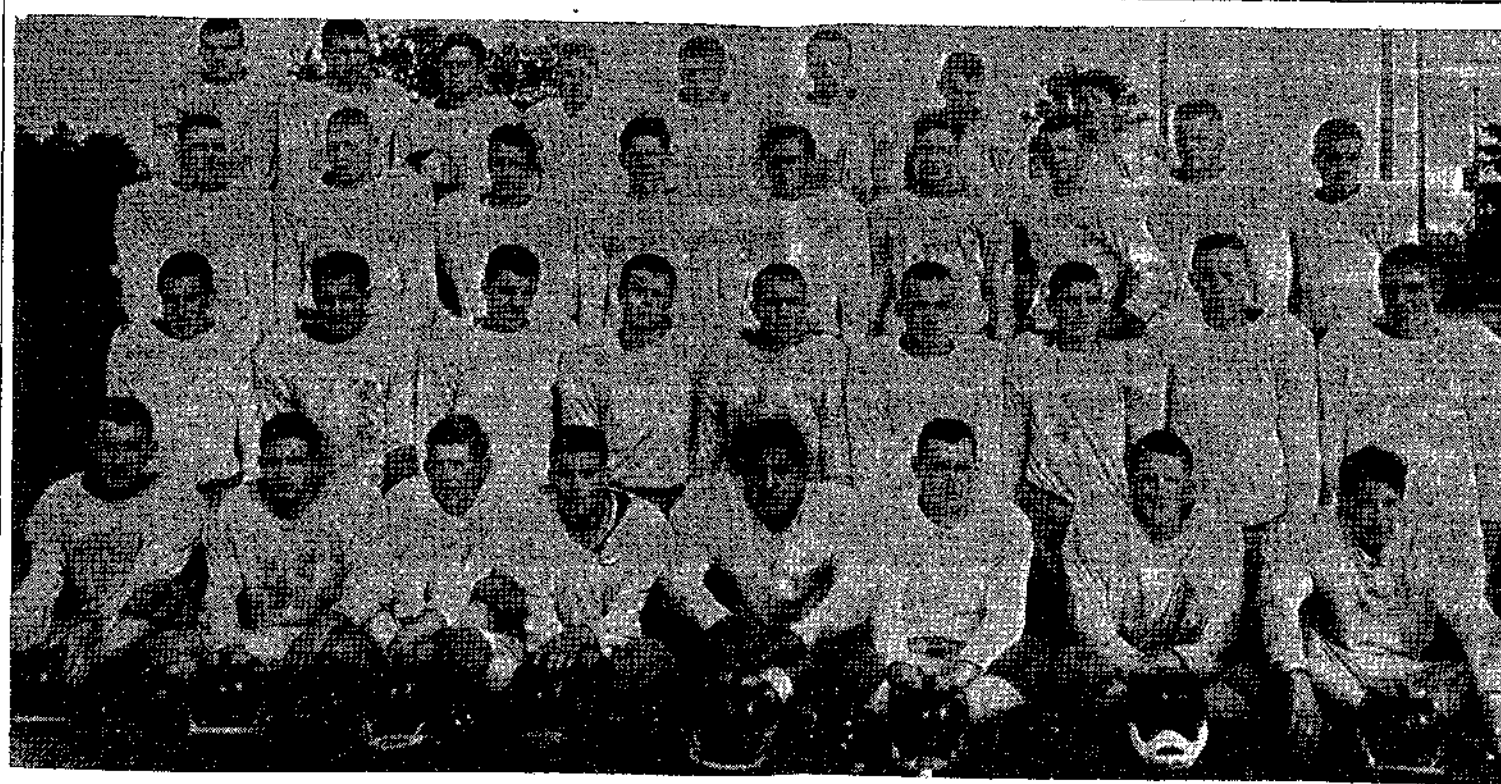

A two car collision Sunday afternoon on M-53 just south of the Huron County line injured seven persons, none seriously.

The accident occurred when Andrew J. Olsoy, 53, of Gagetown was attempting to make a U-turn on M-53. He collided with a car traveling north, driven by Francis Berendt, 61, of Detroit.

State Police Trooper Ronald Warner ticketed Mr. Olsoy for failure to yield the right-of-way. Six of the seven injured persons were taken to Cass City Hospital for treatment. Mr. Olsoy did not require hospitalization.

Injured were: Mr. Olsoy, bruised right leg; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Betty Olsoy, 26, of Gagetown, injured right arm and shock; her daughter, Kathy Marie, 4, possible internal injuries and shock; Mr. Berendt, bruised right leg; his wife, Viola, 59, rib injuries and shock; Stephen Jaworski, 56, Warren, cuts on the face, and his wife, Theresa, 56, bruises and shock.

1957 GRID SQUAD—These are the boys that Coach Mike Yedinak is counting on to defend the championship won by Cass City in the Thumb B Conference last year. Coach Yedinak describes the squad as speedy, but small. An experienced backfield will be working behind an inexperienced line.

Third row: Ray Fox, Dossie Mayer, Gordon Peters, Dave Wilson, Ron Parrott, Bill Merchant, Jim Johnson, Mel Rienstra and Forrest Walpole.

Speedy Hawks Open Grid Season Tonight at Clio

Cass City Red Hawks, defending Thumb B Conference champions last year, Dave Wilson will today (Friday) at Clio, the only team to defeat them last year.

Looking for revenge for last year's 6-0 loss will be a team long on speed and short on weight. The starting line-up will average about 160 pounds.

A veteran backfield will be spearheaded by Forrest and Bob Walpole, Dave Wilson and Jim Johnson. Johnson is the real veteran of the team. He will be starting his third year as the regular quarterback for the Hawks. Both Forrest Walpole and Bob Walpole were outstanding in many of the Hawks' victories last year. Dave Wilson will replace hard-driving Dick Hanby, lost via graduation. Also gone from the backfield is Bob Hunter.

Several other backs will probably see action against Clio. Showing promise in preseason drills were Dick Kloc, John Donahue, Chuck Auvil and Alex Lopez.

Coach Mike Yedinak has been concerned with the blocking of the team and the lack of punch through the middle of the line.

This year's line is small and inexperienced. The bulk of the regulars lost by graduation were linemen. Don Root, all-league center, is missing, as are Jerry Dearing, Jim Lefler, Gene Wilson and Andy Kozan.

Several of the line positions have not been decided. Several veterans from last year are sure to play, but may be in new positions when the starting whistle blows.

Veteran Tom Hulien, an end, last year, may open the season at tackle. If he does, Fred Leeson and John Dunlap will probably start at end. If Hulien is at his familiar end slot, the tackle positions will be handled by Bob Tuckey and Dossie Mayer.

There may also be a switch of Mike Fritz in positions. Tentatively he is placed at center for the opening game.

If he is switched to another spot on the line Ray Fox will start at center. Guards will be Clayton Neiman and Gordon Peters.

The 1957 squad is the smallest at Cass City in a number of years. There are only 36 boys, out for the team, exclusive of freshmen.

Despite the small squad and the inexperienced line, Cass City will reign as one of the favorites to cop the league championship this year. In early season predictions, top competition for the crown is expected from Caro and Yale.

The schedule:

Sept. 20 ..... at Clio

Sept. 27 ..... at Vassar

Oct. 4 ..... Marlette

Oct. 11 ..... Caro

Oct. 18 ..... at Cross-Lex

Oct. 25 ..... Yale

Nov. 1 ..... at Bad Axe

Nov. 8 ..... Sandusky

All are conference games, except tonight's encounter with Clio.

ASC Committeemen Take Office Oct. 1

With about a third of the eligible voters casting ballots, annual ASC community election results were announced this week by Charles B. Eckfeld, county office manager of the Tuscola County ASC Committee.

The elections were held Sept. 18 and a total of 1,247 votes was cast. Ballots were mailed to 3,875 eligible voters.

County and community committeemen are elected for a term of a year and they will take office Oct. 1. The committees include three men from each township.

Among the men named were: Elkland Township: Walter Goodall, Harold McGrath and Lester Battel.

Ellington: Max Bradley, Fred Janks and Alvin Smith.

Elmwood: Arthur Carolan, F. E. Werdeaman and James Winchester.

Kingston: Carlyle Everett, G. W. Monte and Ronald Hampshire.

Novesta: Archie Hicks, Leroy Kilbourn and Robert Phillips.

The first name listed for each township is the chairman and the second is the vice-chairman, Eckfeld said.

From the Editor's Corner

Hospital authorities were gratified when the captains selected for the hospital drive turned out in large numbers Tuesday to learn details about the hospital and the coming drive.

They are hoping that the some 175 solicitors selected will also be as cooperative and come to the kickoff banquet Monday at Cass City School when the drive will be officially launched.

Coach Mike Yedinak is hoping that this season will prove that it isn't how many turn out for football that matters as much as it is the ability and desire of those playing that makes a winning football team.

With a squad of 36, exclusive of freshmen, Cass City will be defending its league title with the smallest number of players on the squad in recent years.

Placed in the unenviable position as the favorite for the Thumb B crown, all of the coaches know that they will have plenty of trouble living up to advance predictions.

In scrimmages the defense has looked fairly solid but the offense is far from what the coaches would like to see.

A better line on the team's chances should be upcoming this Friday when the Hawks open against Clio.

It may be that this year's club will do the same as last year's squad, which was rated "well before the season started. The 1956 gridgers started very slowly, lost to Clio and were held to a county office manager of the Tuscola County ASC Committee.

Once on the victory trail they kept forging ahead, showing improvement in every game and were undefeated the rest of the season.

Committees Appointed

Gavel Club Pledges Room for Hospital

The Cass City Gavel Club Tuesday evening pledged $3,000 to the Cass City Community Hospital at its regular weekly meeting at Parrott's Dairy Bar.

The money will be added to the more than $2,000 the club has already paid so that the organization will have a room dedicated in the new building.

The club made an initial payment of $1,000 with its pledge and will pay the remainder over a two-year period.

Retiring President Fred Auten presented the gavel to Harry Little, president for the year.

Dr. E. C. Fritz introduced Mike Yedinak, football coach at Cass City School. Mr. Yedinak told members of the prospects of the team for 1957 and discussed players trying out for the various posts on the team.

Standing committees for the year were appointed by the president. On the membership committee will be Herb Ludlow, Eli Holes and Jim Seals. Programs will be under the direction of Bernard Ross and Lee Hartel.

The house committee is Dick Hampshire, Warren Wood and Fred Withey.

The sick committee is Glen McCullough and Russell Ayres and Lambert Althaver is the parliamentarian.

The Cub Scouts will be handled by Dr. Ivan MacRae, Alden Asher, Bernard Ross, Bernard Freiburger and Howard Bacon.

Institutional representatives are Dr. E. Fritz and Ed Baker.

In charge of completion of the work at the track will be Jim Wallace, Curt Hunt and Bernard Ross. Fund raising will be handled by Fred Auten, C. M. Wallace, Cliff Croft and Ken Eisinger. Absentees will be handled by Jim Gross; Dr. James Ballard is on the committee for the Girl Scouts, and Chris Schneider, Arlan Hartwick and Ben Benkelman are in charge of publicity.

With the increase in cost of construction and the size hospital needed, the total amount needed grew to $700,000.

With a total of $600,000 collected or pledged, the $100,000 expected from the drive will be enough to build the new building.

Sheep Breeders Slate Annual Ram Day at Sandusky

The annual Ram Day sponsored by the Thumb Sheep Breeders' Association will be held at the Sandusky stockyards Wednesday, Sept. 25, at 1 p. m., it was announced this week.

Graydon Blank of the animal husbandry department of Michigan State University will attend to discuss sheep management and visit with sheep raisers.

President Mrs. Paul presided at the meeting. In the business session, Mrs. Alden Asher reported that the club's birthday calendars were selling well and the deadline for orders is Tuesday, Sept. 24.

BULEN TALKS

MOTHERS-IN-LAW, MIXED EMOTIONS AND THE AUTOMATIC CLUTCH

Our children, their sayings and antics, are probably our most common source of humor. If only they knew how we superior grown-ups chuckle at them. (And if only we realized how they laugh at us.)

Mothers-in-law have been done to death with jokes—they're probably the second most-used category—which strikes me as strange because I think most people like their mothers-in-law.

I'm sure the third most-used source for jokes, although I may be a little prejudiced, is cars and the people who drive them.

A salesman who was in here the other day combined the second and third categories. He defined "mixed emotions" as watching your mother-in-law drive over a cliff in your brand new car.

Teenagers and cars are a constant source of laughs, like the case of the mother and father who were dressing down their son for dating a girl of whom they didn't approve. "With our old car," the son said sadly, "she's the best I can get."

Later, when he went to college he had his own jalopy. It was an old car, so he supplied the "automatic clutch."

And I always remember the sign displayed by a lonely service station at the edge of the desert: "Don't ask us for information, if we knew anything we wouldn't be here."

Someday, perhaps, I'll make a real collection of car stories. Beneath the humor I think you'd find an interesting history of our times. If you've got any good car stories to add, we'll give them the same careful attention we give the hand-picked used cars on our lot.

Beet Haulers—We have one new 1957 Chevrolet truck left. Equipped with 2 Speed Axle; V-8 Engine, 10 Ply Tires; Heavy Duty throughout. 156 1/2 in. Wheel-base. If you need a truck here is your chance to get a "Real Buy." We're going to move it and someone will get a "Steal." Brand new, 12 months or 12,000 mile guarantee.

You've told us. If it stops raining so you can get your beans off (we hope it does), you're going to buy a new car. Consider whether it is better to wait for a '58 at higher prices, when your old car will be worth less. Or, deal now for a '57 for many less dollars? Both will carry 12 months' guarantee, run just as far. Won't you come in and look at our fine selection, let us figure with you?

PASSING THE BUCK

Instead of borrowing trouble a great many people insist on loaning it to their friends.

Nematocides Can Increase Yields

But Small-Scale Tests Recommended

Nematocides — the increasingly popular soil fumigants for killing nematodes — can increase yields and quality of tobacco and vegetable crops by 25 percent or more, say scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. But nematocides treatments are expensive, and the Department recommends that farmers try them on a small scale first, before making any substantial investment.

So far there is no soil-sample test that will reveal whether enough nematodes are present to make treatments with a nematocide worthwhile. But since these tiny microscopic worms cause millions of dollars worth of crop damage every year, there is no doubt that many farmers would profit by applying nematode-killing chemicals.

A. L. Taylor, nematologist at USDA's Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., recommends that nematocides be tested

USDA says many farmers might find it profitable to apply nematode-killing chemicals.

In fields that will be planted to high-value crops.

Applications can be made in the fall, before spring planting, if this fits in with other farm operations. In any case, the chemicals should be applied at least two weeks before planting so the soil will be free of fumes by planting time.

Weed Killer Promises Near-Perfect Control

Near-perfect control of annual weeds in corn is shaping up at Oregon State college with a chemical weed killer developed in Switzerland and tentatively scheduled for commercial sale in this country next year.

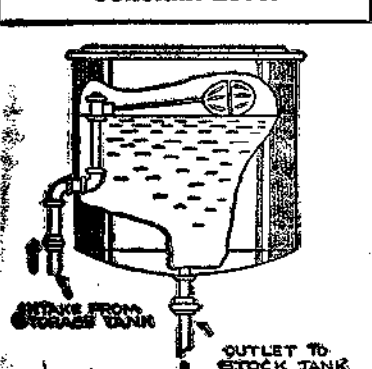

Sold in Europe under the name "Simazin," it is used there as a soil sterilant when applied at high rates. W. R. Furtick and Dave Chilcote, O.S.C. agronomists, tested low rates of Simazin last year and found it gave almost 100 percent control of annual weeds in corn throughout the growing season.

Trials this year were expanded to all major corn-producing areas of Oregon. Early reports from throughout the state indicate that treated stands of four to six weeks old corn are virtually free of weeds with no damage to corn. Simazin emerged.

Two pounds of Simazin, as it will be sold commercially, gave weed control on an acre of corn with full coverage or three acres when applied in bands along the corn rows. One pound of the commercial product is expected to cost about $4.50.

Simazin is highly insoluble and should be applied with an agitator tank using 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre. Good rainfall or irrigation is needed to take the chemical down to weed roots. It is not effective as a contact-killer on weed foliage.

Constant Level

If water supply system includes elevated storage tanks, water level can be controlled automatically in one or several tanks by fitting a float valve in the supply line at any convenient point between the storage and stock tanks. Unit is upper end of hot water tank, turned upside down, fitted as shown with ordinary toilet-tank float valve.

Just about the time a man begins to think he knows it all he cuts another wisdom tooth.

When people are fond of airing others' faults it usually means their own are on the shady side.

Reese Dairyman Leads DHIA Tests

The herd of Ruben Rohloff, registered Holstein cow, No. 41, Reese dairyman, heads the list of 29 herds producing 30 pounds or more of butterfat for August in the dairy herd improvement association, said Alfred Ballweg, Tuscola County agricultural agent. Rohloff's herd of twelve registered and grade Holsteins produced an average of 542 pounds of fat and 1,739 pounds of milk.

In second place is the Red Dane herd of 11 cows owned by E. G. Goding of Cass City, which produced 1,178 pounds of milk and 43.9 pounds of fat. The registered Holstein 27-cow herd of Dolan Sweeney, Uby, ranks third, producing 1,225 pounds of milk and 42.9 pounds of fat. A close fourth is the registered Holstein 32-cow herd of Clayton Rohlf and Sons, Fairgrove, producing 1,237 pounds of milk and 42.6 pounds of fat. In fifth place is the grade Holstein 33-cow herd of Jensen and Weinzierl, Millington, producing 1,251 pounds of milk and 42.2 pounds of fat. Martus - Rocheleau Vows Exchanged

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. William Martus will reside in Lansing, following their marriage in St. Agatha Church, Gagetown, Saturday morning, Sept. 14, at 10 a. m. at a nuptial High Mass.

The Rev. Fr. Glenn W. Cronkite performed the double-ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Marilyn Frances Rocheleau and William Martus before an altar decorated with white gladioli, palms and lighted candles. Rev. Fr. Richard Rabideau of Sebawaing said the Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rocheleau of Gagetown and Mr. and Mrs. William Martus Sr. of Cass City are the parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of embroidered nylon tulle over taffeta. The elongated fitted bodice featured brief sleeves complemented by long matching gauntlets and a Sabra neckline. The bouffant circular skirt held alternate ruffles of nylon tulle and lace and ended in a sweeping train. Her double fingered veil of bridal illusion net, hand rolled, was secured to a lace and nylon pleated, pearl-trimmed bonnet and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and valley lilies centered by an orchid and a white heirloom Prayer Book that formerly belonged to the late Miss Irene Shannon.

Mrs. Charles Creason, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a ballerina-length gown of peacock-colored chiffon tulle over taffeta with a long tucked, fitted bodice. The Dior neckline of chiffon was in cowl styling and extended over the shoulders to form flying panels of self material in the back. The full circular skirt had a nylon net underskirt and taffeta slip.

Bridesmaids Gail Rocheleau, sister of the bride, and Mary Jean Martus, sister of the groom, wore identical gowns styled as the matron of honor's but in Vasar pink. They wore round headbands to which were secured circular veils to match their dresses. They carried cascade bouquets of blue carnations.

Diane Rocheleau, sister of the bride, as flower girl wore a ballerina-length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta styled with a square neckline. The full skirt had a wide ruffle at the bottom. From a basket she scattered rose petals down the aisle.

Paul Rocheleau, brother of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

The groom's brother, Robert, was his best man. Other attendants were Fred Leeson of Cass City and Keith Rocheleau of Bay City. Guests were seated by Leroy Freeman of Saginaw and Paul Wurtsmith of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Before the newlyweds left the church the bride presented a bouquet at the Blessed Virgin Altar while the organist, Mrs. Ray Toohy, sang "Mother, At Thy Feet We Are Kneeling."

The bride's mother wore a rose-colored tissue taffeta dress with black accessories and Mrs. Martus wore a blue dress with blue accessories. Both wore corsages of lavender orchids.

A dinner for the immediate families and the bridal party was served in the VFW Hall in Elkton. In the evening a reception for 400 guests was held in the same hall. The bride's table held a three-tier decorated wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom, fall flowers and lighted candles.

When the couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls and as far as Cape Cod, the new Mrs. Martus was wearing a navy blue suit with navy accessories. Mrs. Martus was formerly employed in Bay City and Mr. Martus is taking an engineering course at Michigan State University. He will graduate in March.

Pink, Gray Lead In Bath Colors

Surveys show that American homemakers are far from fickle-minded when it comes to bathroom colors. Pink and gray still lead the color parade after being on top for several years.

Blue, which once showed strong signs of becoming really popular, has slipped into a new low in the homemakers' esteem.

Pink and gray are virtually tied for top honors, while tan, red, yellow and green are third, fourth, fifth and sixth choices. The newcomer to the list is red which in past years was rarely chosen. The other colors have always been popular.

White has climbed upwards on the list. It's now seventh choice and is being used more and more often in the roomy, expensive bathrooms in homes priced above $25,000.

Larger Baths
Homemakers, tired of postage-stamp baths they have lived in for many years with their lack of storage facilities and decorations are striking for bigger and better bathrooms.

Trends show that bathrooms are preferred if they have storage for cleaning supplies, towels and washcloths and cosmetics. The dressing table lavatories are becoming popular because of the drawer space which they can provide for milady's cosmetics.

Storage can also be built into the walls. One innovation is the bulk-head which is placed at the end of the tub which will provide shelves for towels, mats and extra soap, cleaners and tissues. Hampers can also be built in.

Durable Materials
For wallcovering, surveys show that ceramic tile is used three times as often as any other quality surfacing materials. Quarry tile is also popular for floors because it gives an easily cleaned surface.

Decorative wallpapers which have been specially designed for bathroom use are good for use above the wallcovering. These are specially coated so they can withstand the steamy conditions in the bathroom and are far heavier than wallpaper for other rooms.

A man must have a lot of patience if he expects greatness to be thrust upon him.

PERSEVERANCE

The kind of people who can take defeat gracefully will eventually win a great victory.

Keep Kitchen Cool By Using Broiler For Halibut Steaks

A BROILED dinner is a good way to cut down cooking time and keep your kitchen cool during sweltering days. Remember, too, that a broiler isn't just for expensive things like steaks and chops, but can be utilized for many wonderful fish dinners.

If you have a wooden board or plank, as they are called, you can make this all-broiled dinner with a cooking time of 20 to 25 minutes. It's so beautiful you'll want to adapt the idea for many of the fish steaks that are available.

Broiled Halibut (Serves 4)
1 1/2 pounds halibut steaks
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups mashed potatoes
4 small or 2 large tomatoes with buttered crumbs
Pimiento Butter Sauce

Thaw halibut if frozen. Place on wooden plank. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with half salt and pepper. Broil 3 inches from source of heat for 10 to 12 minutes. Turn steaks, brush with remaining butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spoon mashed potatoes in border around plank. Arrange tomatoes attractively. Return plank

Mashed potatoes make a handy border around halibut steaks to add appeal to this broiled dinner. Tomatoes as a vegetable can be broiled right along with the fish and potatoes if they're topped with buttered bread crumbs.

to broiler for 10 to 15 minutes or until potato border is browned and fish flakes with fork. When fish is done, serve with Pimiento Butter Sauce: saute 1 chopped pimiento in 1/4 cup butter. Remove from heat and stir in 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Serve hot. A green salad is ideal for the fish dinner, especially when you use garden greens, well washed and chilled, then broken in chunks and coated with an oil dressing made as follows: shake together 1/2 cups olive or salad oil with 1/4 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard and 1 clove of garlic sliced. Chill for several hours.

How to Avoid Ironing Pitfalls

You can sail along with your ironing smoothly and easily, and then starch sticks to the iron or you find a white tablecloth mildewed. This ends the easy job and you have to undo the problem before going on.

It's not enough to remedy the trouble. You have to know why it happened so you can avoid it completely the next time. Ironing is a big job and everything should run smoothly so you won't be held up by having to be a trouble shooter.

Starch, Mildew

When starch sticks to the iron it may be starch which has not been cooked long enough. Cook it two or three minutes after it clears. Lumps in the starch may cause sticking. Unless cooked starch is smooth, it's best to put it through a strainer to avoid trouble. Add a pinch of salt.

The garment should be bone dry after starching before dampening for ironing. Clean off starch on the iron with a clean, damp cloth while it's barely warm. It may also be rubbed over salt spread on paper. Wash the starch out of the garment completely and apply fresh starch before attempting to iron again.

Mildew is common when damp things are allowed to remain dampened for too long a time in heat and darkness, that is, being wrapped or rolled. Use chlorine bleach (1/4 cup to 1 gallon warm water) for removing mildew from white linen or cotton. If you can't get to the ironing, dry them out and try another time so clothing doesn't sit for too long while dampened.

Easy Ironing
Blotchy finishes on ironed things are caused by uneven dampening. However, if the blotchiness is caused on a rayon garment, it was probably because the iron was too hot or the garment was not turned to the wrong side for ironing. To remedy, moisten the dry spots on cottons and linens with a damp sponge before ironing over them. For rayons, use a wet cloth and run the iron over this. Be certain to dampen evenly next time before ironing.

MOVING FORWARD

The go-getter has his future before him, but the standpatter has his future behind him. Sometimes a man gets a reputation for courage by not getting frightened until it is too late to run.

Get Rid of Rubbish Clean, Simple Way With Incinerator

If yours is the average family, each year you throw away more than 400 pounds of trash and make anywhere from 500 to 700 trips to the garbage can.

In fast-growing communities, as most of them are, the rubbish disposal problem has become a tough one. The cost of garbage collection is skyrocketing and back yard burning adds to air pollution and smog.

Another factor, too, has entered the picture. With increased building dumping grounds are becoming few and far between. Most space is being converted to building development of one kind or another.

Trash Disposal

One of the best answers for getting rid of trash is the incinerator.

It's easy to get rid of table scraps, garden waste or anything in the rubbish line that will burn with a gas incinerator. It can be housed in a utility room or basement and the ashes make wonderful fertilizer.

Manufacturers are now producing compact automatic gas incinerators which can be operated beyond the large gas mains by means of liquefied petroleum gas. This is the same gas which is being used as cooking fuel or for heating water. Incinerators will dispose of everything that's burnable. This includes, first of all, those immediate and always available scraps from the table like heavy meat bones, crab, shrimp and lobster shells, fruit stones, rinds, and food packages and their various wrappings.

Next come the cloth food bags, combustible rags and other wastes, fresh vegetable wastes like corn cobs and watermelon rinds. Sick room rags and other wastes can be neatly disposed in the incinerator.

You can get rid of all waste papers, magazines and old newspapers easily. Include in this batch old canceled checks and confidential correspondence.

The capacity of the average household incinerator is two or more bushels. Foot pedal operation on some models will lift the top to reveal an opening of 11 inches or more. Dump the garbage in and forget it. There are dial controls on some models which turn the burner on and off automatically. The homemaker sets the dial or timer according to the type of refuse to be destroyed.

Other models need to be turned off manually after the trash has burned to ashes.

Use Frosty Ideas On Sizzling Days

Citrus fruits in any number of ways on sweltering days are a cooling idea just by themselves. Just think of how wonderful it is to have a pineapple sherbet ready for dinner or a tinkling limeade reposing in the refrigerator when you come in out of the hot sun!

Stock up on citrus fruits and concoct some of your own combinations. To start you off, here are two coolers:

Lime Bubbler (Serves 6)

½ cup lime juice
¼ cup sugar
2 cups water
4 drops green food coloring
2 cups carbonated water

Combine lime juice, sugar, water and food coloring. Stir and chill. Add carbonated water just before serving. If garnish is desired, stick a mint sprig in a maraschino cherry.

Frosty Orange Cooler (Serves 6)

3 cups orange juice
8 scoops orange sherbet
Pale dry ginger ale

Pour ½ cup orange juice in each glass. Add a scoop of sherbet and fill with ginger ale.

Banana Milk Shake (Serves 6)

3 or 4 large, brown-flecked bananas
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 quart chilled milk

Peel and mash bananas or put them through a sieve. Blend in sugar and vanilla. Stir in milk and beat vigorously until thoroughly blended.

GOOD INTENTIONS

Every man intends to become great some day—the trouble is he keeps putting it off.

DOUBLE EXPENSE

Living in the future may be all right, but you still have to pay rent in the present.

Because Asian Flu is regarded as a comparatively mild disease, its biggest danger appears to be that epidemics develop that may cause one in five to be stricken, authorities of the Tuscola County Red Cross announced this week.

Authorities announced that they have instructors available for any group of 10 or more. Interested persons should write Mrs. Lila DeBoer at the courthouse in Caro.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Justice is undergoing subtle changes in Michigan.

Judges nominated by Democrats and elected in non-partisan contests will hold six of the eight seats on the Michigan Supreme Court Jan. 1.

That is the day when Thomas M. Kavanagh, now attorney general, will take his seat on the bench.

In three years, the former Carson City lawyer and a state leader of the Knights of Columbus, has risen with other Democrats to take control of the state's highest court.

Republicans charge that the five justices with Democratic backgrounds already have changed the traditional conservative tone of the rulings to more liberal interpretations.

The problem that is putting furrows in the brows of legal thinkers is whether the changes can be attributed to Democrats or a general evolution of philosophy in the courts.

An example is the changes in workmen's compensation cases. Workers hurt on the job receive weekly benefits—for life, if totally and permanently disabled.

Until this year, the criterion was whether the condition existed previously.

The court, in recent decisions, has ruled that it makes no difference if the physical condition existed before an injury.

Another change in the making is the trend toward the doctrine of contributory negligence in auto accident cases.

The latest decision, 4 to 3, retained the doctrine that negligence must be proved. Democrats contend that the fact an accident happened proves there is negligence on the part of both drivers.

Republicans charged that when two candidates—John D. Voelker and Kavanagh—publicly campaigned as Democrats last year that the court lost some of its non-partisanship.

The charge was made despite the fact that John R. Dethmers, chief justice, was once Republican state chairman and Republican attorney general before his election to the court.

Republicans said, however, that Dethmers never campaigned for the court as a partisan.

Justice George Edwards, also nominated by Democrats, objected strenuously to being connected with the partisan campaign last year. He continues to insist on non-partisanship.

Incidentally, there will be three former attorneys general on the court Jan. 1. There will be Dethmers, Justice Eugene F. Black, who held the office as a Republican under former Gov. Kim Sigler, and Kavanagh. However, no one is prepared to say if this is good or bad.

Completion of the Mackinac Straits Bridge and its opening for traffic Nov. 1 will end 34 years of service for the state ferry fleet.

The first boat to be retired was the "Straits of Mackinac," the smallest of the fleet.

The others will go into drydock when the bridge is completed, though agitation is rising to keep one or two of them prepared for emergencies in case something goes wrong with the bridge.

Gov. Williams will be the first man across the bridge when it is completed and opened to traffic. He will pay the toll, to dramatize the way the bridge is being financed.

The $100,000,000 span is being financed by a bond issue, which will be paid off from tolls.

For a time, it appeared that Michigan might get Federal aid for the bridge starting next year because it links highways that are a part of the interstate network qualifying for the help.

But U. S. Bureau of Public Roads officials said last week it will be a year before Michigan can be certain of the plan and, even then, the prospects are dim.

Preliminary reports on the 1957 tourist season show that more people visited the state but spent less money.

The state tourist council is working on plans to extend the summer tourist season into the fall and winter—and eventually advertise Michigan as a year-around resort area.

The usual summer attractions then will be linked with hunting and fishing in the fall, and winter, the skiing, and other winter sports.

Then comes summer and the cycle starts again.

Owner Sampler Plan For Testing Herds To Start Oct. 1

The owner-sampler plan of dairy herd testing will be available to dairymen on an expanded and uniform basis beginning October 1, reports Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent.

Like the dairy herd improvement association and weigh-a-day-a-month milk production record program, owner-sampler will be tabulated on IBM equipment. A typed monthly record of each cow's milk and butterfat production for the month and the total to date for the year will be provided herd owners. In addition to the individual cow record, average production for cows in the herd will be shown on a monthly basis and on the twelfth month of the year, a yearly average per cow will be shown.

After the first month, a barn sheet will be provided with cows' names listed for reporting the next month's record. Individual cow record sheets will be provided for the herd book so that yearly production records can be listed for each cow on the one sheet. If the dairyman would like to list the lactation record for each cow, a space will be provided. Also fresh and dry date information for each cow will be shown on the monthly sheet.

According to Agent Ballweg, details of the program are being worked out on an association basis either as a part of a local DHIA or an owner-sampler organization. Every cow in the state that is being milked should have a production record through one of the plans that are available.

For details on the various record production plans, and especially the new owner-sampler program, contact the Tuscola County extension office. Do this now so that arrangements can be made to start your herd with the new testing year which begins October 1.

There are two sides to the get rich quick scheme—and only one side can expect to win.

Any expert will tell you that a sure aim is worthless if an impossible target is selected.

Buy Dark Cottons For Longer Wear

PASTELS are lovely for summer dresses and no wardrobe would be complete without them. Their season, however, is short, so it's the wise shopper who includes the darker cottons in her wardrobe.

Transition cottons, as they're sometimes called, are the ones you wear on the cooler summer days and then well on into October. They're wonderful for all-season wear around the home, since darker colors are appropriate for winter months if you're working inside the house a great deal.

If you buy transition cottons early, you'll be able to make more use out of them. Put them on when fashion demands a dark color but the heat demands a fully washable cotton.

This gingham girl is all set for a day in town with her three piece ensemble. Black and white sanforized gingham styles the slim sheath skirt with its broad-banded hip pockets. A white semi-sheer blouse has a matching collar tab and the brief, self-trimmed sweater is just enough protection for cool mornings.

Attractive Styles

You'll be seeing transition cottons in many styles, several of which will suit your figure best. As with many summer things, the sheath is popular. You can get these in the tartan plaids, the darker colors including blue, green and brown. Some are sleeveless for the really warm days, others have toppers. You might even add your own topping by way of a bulky orlon short jacket or stole.

Casual coat dresses in textured cottons with tweed effects are very good too. Sleeves are usually brief and the soft unpressed pleats in the skirt make these a very popular style for everyone.

Spectator shirt waist fashions are popular with their comfortable, easy going styles. Select these in solid tones of navy, black, gold and dark green.

Add Pep to Meals With Sour Cream

Dairy sour cream or salad cream, as it's called in many communities, is being rediscovered by many homemakers. It's not a new product for our mothers and grandmothers relied on it to bring fine full flavor to food of all kinds.

Some may not be familiar with the name sour cream because the term "sour" is misleading. Actually the product uses cream which is pasteurized and homogenized. Lactic culture is added to produce a rich, clean medium sharp cultured flavor. Sour cream has a smooth consistency somewhat heavier than whipped cream.

If you think of sour cream being used only to make cottage cheese more delectable, then look at these ways in which to use it:

- Shrimp Chip Dip (Makes 1½ cups)
- 1 5-ounce can shrimp, drained and chopped
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- ¼ cup chili sauce
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
- Dash of tabasco
- Cut shrimp small and mix well with remaining ingredients. Use as a dip or spread for crackers or potato chips.
- Sour Cream Potatoes (Serves 6)
- 4 cups sliced cooked potatoes
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup sharp shredded cheddar cheese
- Saute onion in butter. Combine with sour cream, water, eggs and salt. Place potatoes in buttered quart casserole and pour sour cream mixture over all. Top with cheese and bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 20 to 25 minutes.

A great many people feather their nests with borrowed plumes.

Take Soil Samples Now, Says Kebler

From now until the ground freezes is the most opportune time to take soil samples, reminds assistant county agricultural agent Don Kebler.

By taking samples at this time the soil can be tested and fertilizer recommendations made this winter. Also the farmer can shop around to find his best fertilizer buys long before spring crops need to be put in. This also helps the fertilizer dealers to have the analysis needed on hand.

Besides saving time in shopping for fertilizer during the spring rush, considerable money savings could be made. This is especially true when the correct analysis is used and the saving could amount to almost a dollar per acre.

Taking a soil sample is an easy matter. All it requires is a spade or a 1½ inch wood bit welded to a 3½ foot rod. Eight or 10 samples taken at six to eight inches in depth are all that is needed from an average level field. Mix these in a container with a piece of wood or metal, but do not touch the soil with the hands. Do not take samples in depressions, gullies or any irregular parts of a field. Soil samples must be air temperature dried so they can be done at home or at the soils laboratory at the Farm Bureau Service office in Caro.

THIS IS HELPFUL?—Yes, it is. Destroyer of spiders, caterpillars, grubs, and some species of the housefly, this ichneumon fly is being studied by Dr. Henry Townes, research associate in the Museum of Zoology at the University of Michigan. "Country cousin" of the wasp, it is prevalent in this and other states but is almost unknown to man since it seldom bothers him.

"Simplicity Spotlights Fashion" to be featured by Tuscola County Home Demonstration Groups

Highlighting important wool styles for autumn, a collection of fall fashions will be spotlighted at a special fashion review on Thursday evening, September 26, in Vassar High School auditorium at 8 p. m.

Every fashion in the collection shown is styled by Simplicity Patterns, and can be made at home. Together, they represent all the newest, most important trends in styles interpreted for every size woman and child.

Twenty-five fashions are featured: daytime apparel for street wear, casual dresses styled for autumn's changeable weather, a special collection of classic shirt-dresses for every age, and attractive school and play clothes for youngsters.

In the spotlight for colorful fall daytime wear are a brilliant blue wool suit with an interesting texture over a Dacron and cotton screen print blouse, a satin-lined brushed wool coat in vivid cherry over a contrasting blue wool crepe dress with matching wool crepe sweater; a soft sheer wool print in brown and green, and three interpretations of the perennial fall suit styling: a beige wool dress-and-jacket, the "classic" suit in flannel and velvet, and a slim rayon and acetate yellow-flecked grey tweed jumper with a beautifully detailed box jacket lined with crepe.

Attractive wear-abouts for casual relaxing in bright fall weather will feature soft, bloused lines and the smart "1920's" look. A monogrammed shirt is shown in beige cotton, tucked neatly into a wool tweed skirt of grey and brown—a perfect combination to go under a cherry-red coat.

Shown also is a softly bloused slim dress in novelty corduroy, accentuated with its accompanying beige felt cloche and beige-and-aqua reversible clutch bag; while coral red and chartreuse check make up a gay gingham dress for Indian summer afternoons.

A versatile grotto-blue wool jersey jumper has both a bloused bodice and a coordinated striped overblouse. And in a combination that reminds us of the 1930's, a black spun-rayon pleated skirt is topped by a black turtle neck wool and orlon blouse and a knitted wool box jacket, sleeveless for easy comfort. The epitome of casual wear—the at-home robe—adopts a flared skirt and simple V neck, with a shocking pink satin belt cinching its rose-and-green Patrician print corduroy.

"Shirtdresses through the years," shirtdresses for young ladies of all ages illustrate the variety of detail that can make each basically classic shirtdress look "different." For a very little girl, a red cotton print shirtdress has sissy ruffles in white on the bodice, and red cummerbund. A girl wears a shirtdress of imported tartan plaid with white pique trim; a teen wears a tucked and ruffled one in gold, black and white print cotton; and a Junior wears a tuckered shirtdress blouse in light blue cotton faille with darker blue cotton faille collar and cuffs matching the skirt.

Misses look especially pretty in a turquoise cotton and nylon shirtdress with cotton lace insertion trim; or the half-size in a silk geometric print, predominantly red and blue, with a self ruffle trim.

Get away from it all—for a week or a weekend—and enjoy the colorful magic of your own home state. Let Yourself Go... for fishing fun at its finest... for your favorite pleasure at its best. Have fun this fall in Michigan, Water Wonderland.

Favorites for special occasions this fall include a cocktail gown of dazzling red lace over satin with matching jacket, with a red and white satin clutch bag. The party-going mother-to-be sports a white Dacron and flax sissy shirt over a peacock green velvet street length skirt. For dinner or the theatre, there's a red crepe dress with a soft skirt and easy bodice and three quarter length sleeves; for more formal evenings, a long slim evening skirt in silver, white and black floral print is topped by an elegant silk chiffon blouse with deep bowed neckline and long, full sleeves.

The younger set is autumn-gay in a red cotton dress, trimmed with white and reversible plastron of plaid corduroy or blue cotton; or a plaid corduroy dress also trimmed with white and a reversible plastron of navy and red cotton. The junior man in the family wears a plaid corduroy shirt, while his cotton twill pants have turn-up cuffs matching the shirt. His sister goes out to play in long slim pants of royal blue plaid with a matching ribbed wool jersey topped by a warm hood. Little sister looks the most fashionable of all in a dusty rose corduroy cape with attached hood. Both cape and hood are lined with a rose, beige and brown print which matches the dress beneath.

The garments will be modeled by members of the different groups.
