Plans are complete for the annual Sunday workday that is designed to completely erect the Christmas displays on Main Street, Bernard Ross, Chamber of Commerce president, announced this week.

The volunteer workers will meet at the school at 7:30 a. m. for the annual breakfast that precedes the work. The breakfast will be served by the Cass City Chapter of the OES.

The work has been planned under the direction of various captains who have been briefed on what their jobs entail.

Handling the small Christmas trees that will be placed on brackets on the light poles will be Bill Ruhl, Ed Baker will be in charge of the crew that will place the bells and star across Main Street.

Wreaths that are placed on each light pole will be the responsibility of B. A. Calka. George Fisher will see that the large Christmas tree is secured and erected.

Robert Keating has been placed in charge of wrapping greens with Christmas lights and draping them on the poles. William Johnston is in charge of decorations at the entrances to the village.

Fred Witely will head the crew bringing in greens to be used for wreaths.

Home Decorations
While Sunday's workday is expected to take care of Main Street, President Ross reminded home owners that their displays form the backbone of Cass City's Christmas. He urged everyone to try to have a display this year.

He said that all publicity for the village will be ready for viewing Dec. 14. Judging from the many prizes is slated for Dec. 16.

Persons with displays are asked to leave them lighted until 10:30 each evening.

VanAllens Feted on Silver Wedding With Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Bill VanAllen of Cass City celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday, Nov. 17, at their home, three and a half miles south of Cass City.

Many relatives and friends attended the open house when ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. VanAllen is the former Genevieve Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson of Cass City.

The couple has five children: a daughter, Sharron, at home; four sons, Jack and David, at home, Douglas, Cass City, and Ronald, serving with the Air Force in Alaska. There are two grandchildren.

The honored couple received many beautiful gifts.

the game with the intention of painting "We Won Anyway" on the sidewalk in front of the home. When they arrived, the boys changed and one of the boys poured black paint on the entrance to the home and it also smeared the front and side of the house.

Another of the boys threw a can of paint against the side of the home, but it remained covered and only the can was dented.

Mr. Ackerman has signed a complaint against four of the 17 year-old youths, but a hearing has been postponed until an expert ascertains the amount of damage.

It is not known whether the black paint can be removed and the house repainted or whether the siding will have to be replaced.

The case was investigated by Constable Steve Orto and Trooper Ron Warner of Bad Axe State Police Post.

Roller Skating
Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday evenings. Matinee Saturday, Sunday, 1:30 to 4 p. m. For group and private skating lessons and party reservations, phone 830 or write Dormey's Cass City Arena. 11-15-3

Peters Placed on League All-Star Football Eleven

Although Cass City was undefeated this year, the Hawks placed only one man, Gordon Peters, on the Thumb "B" All-Conference football team.

Peters played guard and was outstanding on offense and defense this season. He was noted for his quick charge and often threw opposing ball carriers for losses.

Bad Axe, Caro and Marlette were the only teams able to place more than one man on the first eleven, selected by players in the conference.

Caro placed Don Jacob, a junior, at center and Bob Moore, also a junior, in the backfield. They were the only juniors selected on the mythical first team.

Others on the first team were: Louis Horwath, Vassar, guard; Duane Cubet, Sandusky, tackle; Sidney Bradley, end, Yale, and Jim Parker, Crosswell, back.

Now staying at the Eva Moore home in Gagetown, Mrs. Mellendorf is recovering. However, she has lost the use of her right arm and hand.

Any person from the Rescue area who would care to write is asked to contact the Chronicle office for details.

Boys Admit Smearing Ackerman Home

A group of Cass City High School students may face trial in justice court for smearing black paint over the home owned by Dave Ackerman, Cass City High School teacher.

The incident was provoked when Mr. Ackerman flunked two of his students, making them ineligible for Friday's championship football game.

A group of 12 students from the school went to the Ackerman home after Cass City had won

NEARING COMPLETION—Windows for the new addition to Cass City High School were expected to arrive Wednesday and the contracted portion of the building completed within the original contract time of Dec. 20, Supt. Willis Campbell announced this week.

From the Editor's Corner

Coach Mike Yedinak has been made to look like a master coach by the selection of the all-conference football team... and he doesn't like it a bit.

Jim was a stalwart on both offense and defense for Cass City this year and one of the main cogs in the drive to the championship.

All of which proves what many persons have been saying for years... that all-conference teams have little relationship with the ability of the players selected.

Because Cass City had a well balanced team, a player with plenty of ability could be overlooked, while a team with a scarcity of material makes a good player, such as Duane Cubet of Sandusky, really shine in every game he plays.

Hospital Auxillary Meets Monday

The regular meeting of the Hospital Auxillary was held Monday night in the Cass City Girl Scout Rooms. Several items of business were discussed but no action was taken.

Mrs. H. T. Donahue presided in the absence of President Mrs. C. M. Wallace.

The meeting for December has been scheduled a week later than usual because of Christmas. Instead of Dec. 23, the meeting will be held Dec. 30.

At this meeting the election of officers will be held.

Install 14 Brownie Scouts in Cass City

Fourteen second grade girls who meet weekly in the Girl Scout rooms under the direction of Mrs. John Guc and Mrs. Pat Rabideau were made official Brownie Scouts Thursday, Nov. 21, in an investiture service, when they received their Brownie pins.

Mothers of the girls were guests, as was Mrs. Arthur Kelley, chairman of the Girl Scout committee.

Twelve Seniors End Careers Hawks Win Second Straight Loop Title

Cass City won its second straight Thumb B Conference football crown with a tremendous second-half surge that netted three touchdowns and a 26-7 victory, after the Hawks trailed Crosswell-Lexington 7-6 at halftime. The game was played Friday on a snow covered gridiron in the Sanilac County village.

The breaks of the game kept the Hawks from clinching it in the first half, as they crossed the last white chalk mark three times only to see their efforts be nullified by penalties.

The Hawks scored on the first play, the first time they got the ball. Walpole moved for 39 yards around end after Cass City threw a Cros-Lex fumble.

Neither team scored after that until just before the half when Crosswell moved 67 yards to score. They were helped in the drive by a 15-yard penalty against Cass City. The plunge was good for the extra point.

That was the first and last time that Crosswell scored and the last time they were really in the game after the opening minutes of the second period.

Cass City took the second half punt and moved to their own 30 and then scored in three plays. After moving for a first down in two plays, Cass City scored on a picture play.

Alex Lopez slanted off tackle and moved 10 yards beyond the line of scrimmage. About to be tackled, he lateraled to Walpole and made a key block on the last Crosswell defender. Walpole dashed into the end zone untouched. The play covered 67 yards.

Ed McConkey made the first of two straight successful kicks for extra points.

Cass City scored again the next time they got the ball. They moved from their own 45 to pay dirt in just seven plays. Jim Johnson, senior quarterback who played one of his finest games of the year, slashed across from the six to cap the drive.

Tom Hullen received credit for the next marker as he pounded over from the four in the final period. His plunge capped a 48-yard drive.

Velez Escapes Serious Injury As Car Rolls

Angel Velez of Cass City escaped serious injury when he lost control of his car Saturday afternoon about five miles southwest of Cass City and rolled over several times.

Dr. James Ballard, who treated Velez, said that he suffered torn ligaments in his knee and a sprain and bruises on the shoulder.

Mr. Velez reported that he lost control of his car when he swerved to avoid hitting a dog in the road.

The car was completely demolished.

Fire Department to Install Hot Plate in Scout Rooms

The Elkland Township Fire Department received permission from the village council to build a table with a permanent gas plate stove at the scout rooms above the fire hall.

The stove will be built with a safety device so that it cannot be operated without a key. The council granted permission provided that the facility was available to all organizations that use the scout rooms.

They also granted permission to use the village's gas to operate the stove.

Joseph Peter Schmidt, a six-pointer shot near Munising Thursday, Nov. 21. The deer dressed at 147 pounds. It was Mr. Schmidt's first buck and his second year of hunting.

Costly Project Water Problem Arises in Cass City

Village Council Studies Three New Ordinances

Several new ordinances are contemplated by the village and were assigned to trustees for study before enacted into laws Tuesday night at the council's regular meeting at the Municipal Building.

Trustees Cliff Ryan and Andrew Bigelow are studying a sample ordinance from the Michigan Municipal League for the control of weeds. Primary purpose of the law is to eliminate weeds on vacant lots and gardens within the village.

Trustees Warren Wood and James King will study ordinances designed to control shade trees in the village. The ordinance was sent by the expert from Michigan State University who surveyed Cass City.

The third ordinance under consideration is for control of snow on sidewalks. Three ordinances from other cities and villages are under examination by President Benkelman and Mrs. K. I. MacRae.

Other Business
The council authorized two purchases and discussed two others Tuesday. A heat houser for the new tractor will be purchased for about $45 for the use of the maintenance crew while removing snow this winter.

A plat book 18 by 24 inches complete with backing for plats will be purchased to keep the village's records.

The council will include the cost of a new police car in the budget for next year. The present car is two years old.

Trustee Warren Wood said that he would like to see several maps of the village made. He suggested that each be used for a specific purpose, showing sewer mains, sanitary sewer and water lines. Trustees agreed that these maps would be beneficial to the village, but no action was taken.

Request Denied
A request by Walbro Corporation for credit for four-inch water pipe salvaged when a new eight-inch line was installed was denied by the council. Although Walbro purchased the new pipe recently installed, trustees felt that the main was installed for the benefit of the company. Because the original line was installed without

First Game in Two Weeks 68 Report for First Basketball Practice

With the football season concluded, Cass City High School this week started basketball practice with just two short weeks before the first game of the year, Friday, Dec. 6, with Yale.

With only two regulars back, Coach Irv Glaseman will have to depend on talent moving up from the reserve squad and letter winners from last season.

A total of 68 boys, including freshmen, turned out for the opening day of practice Monday.

Only returning full-time regular from last year's district champions is Jim Johnson. Fred Leeson, who was the sixth man on the squad last year and considered about on the par with some of the starting five, also figures heavily in Glaseman's plans.

With these two as a nucleus, the starting five will probably be selected from 12 boys. Letter winners last year trying to break into the regular line-up will be Mike Fritz, Forrest and Bob Walpole, Lawrence Hyatt and Tom Hullen.

Players who have shown promise in games last year and might make the starting five include: Bill Ruhl, Bob Tuckey, Newell Harris, Bob Holcomb, Alex Lopez, Ray Fox and Clayton Neiman.

Although Cass City lost heavily via graduation, so did most of the other teams in the league. Biggest loss to Cass City was John Meininger, all-conference and all-area forward and the Hawk's mainstay on rebounds. Also gone are Bob Martus, honorable mention all-conference and all-area; Dick Hanby, Chuck Gunther and Dick Hillaker. All but Hillaker were on the starting five.

Although they do not figure to help the varsity this year, Glaseman Jr. outlined a serious water problem that confronts Cass City due to a sharp increase in the amount of water used in the village in the last five years, at the regular meeting of the village council Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

Village President B. F. Benkelman Jr. outlined a serious water problem that confronts Cass City due to a sharp increase in the amount of water used in the village in the last five years, at the regular meeting of the village council Tuesday night at the Municipal Building.

A check of the records for October 1957 and October 1952 indicates that water consumption has more than doubled in just five years.

The village used 3,400,000 gallons in October 1952 and 7,500,000 in October of this year.

The village's water supply is secured from two wells. At the present time the system is taxed to capacity and at times the 80,000-gallon pressure tank is particularly used and not refilled again until the night hours.

Besides the normal increased demand for water stemming from the increase in population, the system has been further taxed by industry. Tusco Products is the largest single user of water in the community.

Building a new well the size needed for the village is a costly project. Caro recently installed a new well at a cost of $21,000 and this amount did not include the cost of the water main to transport the water to that village's water system.

It could cost Cass City considerably more. It is not known whether another well can be drilled near the present two serving the village. If another site must be located, an additional cost would be for building a water main so that the new source of supply can be transported to the Municipal Building where the water is softened.

Financing
Money for the project may have to be raised on revenue instead of general obligation bonds. At the present time the village is $150,000 in debt for construction of the new sewage disposal plant and more debt may be too big a tax load for the village.

Revenue bonds carry considerably higher interest rates than general obligation bonds.

The council felt that the first

John Bohnsack Still Bedridden from Fall

John Bohnsack is still confined to his bed with injuries he sustained Nov. 16 when he fell from the roof of a building in Cass City which he was repairing.

A ladder he was attempting to descend slipped causing him to fall. No bones were broken. He was injured in the back and hips.

Need Just $30,000

The Cass City Community Hospital moved closer to realization this week as another $10,000 flowed into the fund from pledges from area residents, bringing the total paid or pledged to $370,000.

Just $30,000 more is needed to bring the drive over the top and start construction of the new facility.

Apple Jelly Makes Fine Yule Gift

For the traditional homemade Christmas gift this year, you might make apple jelly. Wrapped in gay paper or just tied with a colorful ribbon, a jar of jelly will please many of your friends, says Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent.
 For a batch of jelly you'll need about 3 pounds of tart, firm apples. Part of the apples should be under-ripe to provide enough pectin to assure jelly.
 After the apples are sorted and washed, remove stems and blossom ends. Cut apples into small pieces without removing the skin or core. Put pieces into a kettle, add 1 cup water per pound of apples, cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer about 20 to 25 minutes or until apples are tender.
 Put cooked apples into a jelly bag and let juice drain. Measure 4 cups strained apple juice into large kettle, add 3 cups sugar and stir. If the juice is mild, 2 tablespoons lemon juice may be added.
 Boil mixture rapidly until it "sheets" from a large spoon—the familiar "jelly test", or use a thermometer. Remove from heat, skim off foam and pour jelly immediately into hot, sterilized jars.
 Cover the jelly with a 1/8 inch layer of paraffin or for a tighter seal use the new jelly jars that seal with two-piece lids. Fill to the top and seal according to directions that come with the jars.
 Cool filled jars and store in a cool, dry place until you're ready to wrap them for gift giving.
 It may be true that money used to go farther, but never so fast.
 Life is like a poker game—it pays to know just when to bluff.
 Tip to motorists: Look out for children—expect them to do the unexpected.

All-Day Dairy Clinic Scheduled Dec. 2

Millington will be host to the Tuscola County dairy clinic December 2, remarks Don Kehler, assistant agricultural agent.
 This all-day clinic planned by local dairymen will present valuable information on dairy feeding, herd improvement, herd health, grade "A" milk law and dairy economics. The starting time is 10 a. m. in the high school auditorium.
 On part of the program, Dr. George Whitehead, Michigan Department of Agriculture, and Kenneth VanPatten, dairy products supervisor of this department, will talk on herd health and grade "A" milk law, respectively. During this period the Tuscola County brucellosis certification certificate will be presented to members of the county board of supervisors.
 The wives are invited too as a special afternoon program will be given just for them.
 Several dairy equipment dealers will display their new equipment and door prizes will be given out. Lunch will be served at the high school for those who will be staying over the noon hour.
 Assisting with the program are members of the Tuscola County extension office and Jake Meachum, Millington vo-jag instructor. There is no charge for this clinic and the public is invited to attend.

BULEN TALKS Cars

Of all the fears that beset the car driver, I think the worst is the fear of turning over.

The fear of the blowout, which used to be a terrible anxiety, has largely been removed for those drivers wise enough to buy the several kinds of safety tires.

But turning over (the possibility that the roof will cave in or that you'll be flung out through the door) is a fear that is hard to dissipate.

The automobile companies, which are constantly conducting safety research, found an answer recently to the door flying open problem.

They deliberately rolled over a number of cars and they found that in every case a door that was locked stayed locked — and closed, no matter how violently the car was uprooted.

So, although I don't agree exactly that people should "drive scared," it appears like a good idea to keep your car doors locked from the inside at all times.

Speaking of doors, there's a point you should give particular attention to when looking over a used car. See if the door hangs straight and whether, when the window is open slightly, it closes firmly. A twisted body can be doctored up pretty easily with paint, but it's hard to fool those doors.

The Salesman thought I was eccentric the other day — I ran around our used car lot opening and closing doors. I just wanted to make sure.

We have an excellent stock of late model (and older) Used Cars, brought in by the public's acceptance of the 1958 Chevrolet (over 100,000 orders in the first three days). We must move them to make room for more coming in so if you're in need of transportation:

1. Come in and look over our cars over, select the one that you like.
2. Drive it. The only way to tell about any car.
3. Make us an offer. We don't want to turn it down.

Remember every car sold for over $300.00 carries our guarantee. We'll do our best to satisfy you.

Bulletin Gives Tips On Christmas Trees

Christmas tree marketing in Michigan needs more organization, according to a new bulletin put out by Michigan State University's forestry department.

Titled "Resurvey of Christmas Tree Marketing in Michigan," the bulletin is a study on the problems of the Michigan Christmas tree grower and what can be done about them.

It points out that the marketing channels for Christmas trees in Michigan are too complex. It is hard for producers and dealers to get together, which points up the need for organizations to iron out the kinks in the marketing chain.

The bulletin also goes into the problems of how to select the proper species of trees to grow, how to compete with trees imported from other areas, and the importance of quality in tree production.

Copies of "Resurvey of Christmas Tree Marketing in Michigan" are available free of charge from your county cooperative extension service office located at the County Agricultural Agent's office, Courthouse, Caro, Michigan.

Brood over a grievance and nothing but trouble hatches out.

Push to the front, but not by going back on your friends.

Groups Special Activities
The Mayville group sent fruit to the patients of the Mayville Convalescent Home for their November Community service.

The Reese group is furnishing mittens for the local 4-H Christmas mitten tree.

The Unionville group is furnishing Christmas treats for all the patients at the County Infirmary. The women of the Unionville group have begun a campaign to remove obscene literature from store counters.

This is a very worthwhile project and I hope other groups in the county will begin to notice what types of literature our young people have access to, when they go to buy a magazine.

Refinishing Workshop
I have decided to open the refinishing of furniture and chair-seat caning workshop to any interested woman. It will not make any difference if she is not an extension member. So if you or any of your friends have furniture that you would like to refinish, come to the Wilbur 4-H Memorial Building on December 10, at 2:00 p. m., for the beginning of the refinishing lesson.

Cheese a Good Protein Food
I find that during the holiday season, from Thanksgiving through New Year's Day, cheese in its various forms, is a favorite food for entertaining. There is a confusing array of cheeses at the dairy counter in the food markets, and as a result many people are confused when they go to purchase cheese.

There will be natural cheeses of various kinds on display. Some cheeses will have been aged a long period of time, while others have been aged very little.

There will, also, be displayed many imported cheeses from many lands. Then there will be process cheeses in many forms. Some of these process cheeses will have added ingredients, such as pimento. Then there will also be the process cheese spreads and process cheese foods, in various styles. Some stores also will have products sold as imitation cheese spread.

The process cheeses, process cheese foods, blended cheeses, and cheese spreads are made from natural cheeses. Process and blended cheeses differ little in composition from natural cheese, but they do differ in flavor and consistency. They are pasteurized and therefore will keep better than natural cheese.

Process cheese foods and cheese spreads must contain 51 per cent cheese. When these cheeses have special flavors added, or when packaged in small or fancy containers the cost runs quite high compared to their nutritive value. The soft texture of these cheeses makes them adaptable to many cooking purposes; although I find they lack the sharp flavor of better quality of aged natural cheeses.

As you check the labels on the packages of process cheeses, cheese foods and cheese spreads, you will find such information as the percentage of cheese and moisture that the product contains.

But, when you select natural cheeses at the dairy counter, you will not get any help as to the grade of the cheese. Cheeses are scored for the wholesale trade, and quality is determined on the basis of flavor, body, texture, appearance, and color. So when you buy your cheese, you will have to do your own "scoring" by looking at these same characteristics. "Off" odors and a spongy texture are signs of poor quality cheese.

When you buy cheese you are adding to your family diet, milk in a solid. Cheese, since it is a high protein food, will help daily menu.

Michigan Mirror News Items in Brief

By Elmer E. White

Michigan Press Association Michigan's population is growing like the proverbial "Topsy". In 1950, the date of the Federal Census, Michigan residents numbered 6,371,766. In July, 1957, our state lists 7,622,000 as residents. (This does not include residents serving overseas in the armed forces.)

This is an increase of more than 1,250,000 in less than seven years. According to J. P. Thaden, MSU expert who accumulated this information, the population growth in the last seven years is greater than that of the previous 10 years. From 1940 to 1950 Michigan citizenship grew by only 1,106,658.

Outlook is for continued growth. Mr. Thaden's figures indicate that Michigan will grow by some 3 1/2 million souls during the next 18 years.

Significance of this continued growth can mean many things. Of course, each new person is another consumer. This is important to retailers and to manufacturers. And each new person will need services from his community. It is estimated that the population in Michigan will create demand for half again as many classrooms as now exist; half again as many houses, hospitals, stores, automobiles, teachers, doctors, lawyers, etc.

If these figures prove accurate, Michigan people can look forward to making the most of their opportunity.

Labor leaders have not admitted satisfaction of their expressed fears for the safety of workers at Michigan's new atomic reactor plant at Monroe but the expert testimony looks like it should calm their worry.

Legislators and other state officials toured the $69,000,000 installation last week and returned satisfied.

Dr. Hans Albrecht Bethe, an expert in the field, said the power plant can be operated "without undue risk to the public". His statement puts some Democrats on a spot.

Last year, Gov. Williams joined a number of labor leaders in asking the Atomic Energy Commission to halt construction of the plant until safety to workers and the community could be assured.

The AEC refused to stop building, but promised to investigate and develop the safeguards necessary.

Dr. Bethe said workers will have five barriers between them and harmful effects of radioactivity. Other precautions have been created to prevent other kinds of trouble.

Legislators reasoned thusly: If the AEC refused to halt construction, safety to the public was already assured. The most the unions and Democrats can charge now is that the AEC didn't tell them.

***

Court reforms suggested two years ago have been promised for lower courts by the Michigan Supreme Court starting in the spring.

National farm-city week is getting more attention in Michigan this year than in its first two years of existence.

The Nov. 22-28 period is set aside to help people in rural and metropolitan areas understand each other's problems and ways of life. The idea is sponsored by a number of national groups nationally. In Michigan the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Detroit, MSU, Chambers of Commerce, service clubs and farm and labor organizations have worked together.

One of the projects planned will send a special trainload of city people, mostly living in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, from Detroit to East Lansing and back. A special program is arranged for passengers so they can see some of the accomplishments of Michigan's rural community.

Some men would never rise in the world if their wives didn't blow them up.

The world is full of people who never feel the least bit comfortable unless they can make others uncomfortable.

Tips For Using Left-over Turkey

A little imagination with seasonings and some experimenting with food combinations can make left-overs from Thanksgiving dinner into tasty meals, says Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county home demonstration agent.

Bones and small bits of turkey can be used for soup or broth. Cover them with slightly salted water and simmer for an hour or so, then strain off the broth. Add onion, celery or other seasonings if you like a more flavorful broth.

You can use the broth to stretch left-over gravy for dumplings or in a meat pie. It can also be used in hash or to moisten left-over stuffing when you re-heat it.

Pinwheels make a hearty main dish from left-over meat. Make one recipe of baking powder biscuit dough and press or roll it flat into a rectangle. Cover with moistened, seasoned ground meat and roll it up as you would a jelly roll. Cut into one inch slices and bake. Serve with hot gravy.

You can combine cold vegetables for attractive salads. Use one vegetable or mix several. Marinate well in French dressing and serve on a lettuce leaf.

Left-over meats can be diced and added to tossed vegetable salad for a main dish at lunch.

For variety in flavor you may want to try herbs, spices or other flavorings when you serve Thanksgiving foods the second time. If so, add them a little at a time and taste to make sure you don't get too much. It's easy to add more seasoning but once you get too much there's nothing you can do.

Reese, Mich.
Nov. 22, 1957

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl 3 1/4 years old so I am having my mommy write this letter for me.

I would like a crying doll and crib, also some bottles to feed it.

I will be good to you Santa, and leave a glass of milk and some cookies for you.

Please leave a rattle for my baby sister Brenda Lee.

Thank You,
Linda Kay Valeck

The want ads are newsy, too.
