Cass City Wins in Independent Loop

Following an easy 81-54 victory over Bay Port, the Cass City Independent cage team hopes to move within shooting distance of the top spot in the league with a win over league-leading Bad Axe tonight at Cass City High School.

Cass City currently has a 5-2 record in the Huron County League and Bad Axe is undefeated in seven tries. If Cass City could upset the visitors, they would be just a single game out of first place and in a position to tie for the top, if the Huron County seat five should suffer a loss by another team in the league.

Coach Alden Asher said that the team has shown steady improvement and was able to top winless Bay Port easily even without the services of Bob Wallace, who has been one of the team's mainstays all season.

Cass City was ahead 23-19 at halftime and steadily moved ahead in the last half. They hit for 30 points in a big third period while Bay Port netted only 18. In the final period, Cass City posted a 23-17 advantage.

Wayne "Speed" Wilson was high point man for Cass City with 26. Gene Kloc posted 23 and played a fine floor game. Other scorers were: Lyle Ludlow, nine; Doug Vatters, eight; Dick Hanby, five; Keith Emerson, four; and Asher and Don Tuckey, three each.

Complete details of the reason why Rev. Peter Varonof, a speaker slated to speak at the Novesta Church of Christ, was denied admittance to the church Monday, Jan. 27, were revealed by church authorities this week.

They said that the church was informed that Rev. Varonof was wanted by the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department for questioning.

Knowing that the speaker was wanted by the police, they decided not to cancel the meeting, but cooperate with authorities so that they would be able to apprehend him for questioning. They also said that if there was any doubt about his character they did not want him to speak.

Members of the church pointed out that they were planning to investigate the alleged charges against the speaker to see if the charges were founded in fact. They feel that it is their duty to do so as members of the congregation were instrumental in helping the police find Rev. Varonof for questioning.

Meanwhile, Rev. Varonof emphatically denied all of the charges against him in a letter to the editor. He said that he was a victim of deliberate and malicious lies. His letter follows:

Dear Mr. Haire:

I am writing you in regard to circumstances of which I am completely a victim of deliberate and malicious lies being circulated to slander my character and damage my reputation.

It was on Thursday, Jan. 23, that I spoke at the Pilgrim Holiness Church of Kingston. At the close of the meeting I asked the minister of the church, Rev. Nelson, if he knew of any place I could stay overnight. He suggested that I better go to Flint or Saginaw. Being late at night and slippery roads, I decided to stop over at Caro. I stopped in downtown and asked an officer on duty if there was a hotel or some place for a night's lodging. He directed me to the local hotel where I stayed overnight.

The next morning at about 8 o'clock I went to use the bathroom across the hall and upon returning to the room I failed to lock the door, suddenly the cleaning woman barged into the room where I was standing with my pajamas on. She comes right in and starts removing the bedding and pushed one of my grips from the bed to the floor. She said, "Don't mind me doing it as I just came out of a mental hospital and I was for years in an orphanage," and left the room.

At 10 a. m. I was gone from the room until 1 p. m. Upon returning to the room I find the door was open and this woman was putting the linen on. So I waited in the hall for her to leave the room. The woman continued to stay in the room so I finally went in and took my overcoat and hat off. As she was about to leave the room she said that it was a common practice for patrons to leave a tip for her. She said that I don't

Beauticians to Aid Shut-ins in Area Next Week

The week of Feb. 9 has been proclaimed National Beauty Salon Week in Cass City by Village President Ben F. Benkelman, in keeping with the celebration planned by National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Local hairdressers, with Mrs. Dean Toner serving as chairman, will visit Stevens Nursing Home, Wayside Nursing Home at Elkton and a number of shut-in or bedridden women in Cass City during the week to give them permanent or other beauty treatment.

This philanthropic work during the past seven years has contributed greatly to the physical and mental well-being of more than a million persons confined to institutions throughout the United States.

The proclamation by the village president states: "Now, therefore, I, Ben F. Benkelman, president of Cass City, do hereby proclaim the week of Feb. 9, 1958, as National Beauty Salon Week in Cass City and urge our citizens to join in the celebration of this special week during which we recognize and commend the hairdressers and cosmetologists whose services are dedicated to the grooming of women for greater beauty."

FIRST OF MANY—This group hopes to start a series of vanishing brunches that will net a considerable amount towards fulfilling the Cass City Hospital Auxiliary's pledge to the hospital fund. All guests paid a dollar for the privilege of attending the brunch Monday evening at the home of Mrs. James Champion.

In turn, they are expected to hold brunches of their own and invite five other ladies, who also will pay $1 each. These five will include four guests and the four will each invite three guests. The auxiliary hopes that eventually the majority of women in the area will attend one of the brunches and contribute a dollar towards the hospital drive. Co-hostess Monday was Mrs. H. O. Paul Jr.

From the Editor's Corner

Although we suspect that changes will be made before this evening, the present schedule calls for a lot of basketball at Cass City High School Thursday.

A regularly scheduled cage game between Cass City and Bad Axe, the league leaders, in the Huron County Independent loop will be played.

Early this week it was decided to hold a preliminary contest between the Walbro Corporation production and office crews.

Meanwhile, Coach Irv Clasen, unaware of the second game, had scheduled a pair of games for two of his pre-high school teams. They were to start at 6:30 p. m.

Just what arrangements will be made was not decided at press time, but fans can expect a full schedule tonight starting at about 7 p. m.

All of you who suffered through (or not through) a foreign language in high school or college may be surprised to learn that it could have been made a lot easier for you. You just didn't start young enough.

Erlas to Distribute Greenfield Meats

Authorities of the Cass City Packing Company this week announced that they have signed an agreement with Greenfield Meat Products for exclusive wholesale dealership rights for the Thumb of Michigan.

Dick Erla, co-owner of the concern, said that he was pleased to be associated with the company because of its fine reputation in the meat industry in Michigan.

He said that a long-term extensive advertising campaign has been started to promote the products in the area.

Cass City Wins Pair; Shares League Lead

Cass City remained on top of the Thumb B Conference Tuesday night with an impressive victory over Caro before a capacity crowd at Cass City High School gym. The score was 49-40.

Many fans expected the game to be a bitterly fought contest, as was the opening game between the two schools when the Hawks were forced to come from behind to register a close victory.

Tuesday, Cass City played on even terms for the first quarter, and then salted the game away in the next two quarters.

At the end of the first period it was 10-10. Cass City started to solve Caro's zone defense in the second quarter. They hit for 16 points while the Tigers were registering 12.

At the half, it was still anybody's ball game. Cass City led the court with a 26-22 lead.

In the third period, the roof fell in on the visitors. Playing a smooth passing game and waiting for a good shot, Cass City netted 13 points while Caro could register only five. At the end of the quarter, the Hawks were safely in front 39-27.

Cass City stretched its margin to 15 points early in the last stanza before Coach Irv Clasen sent in the reserves and the Tigers chopped the final margin to nine points, 49-40.

Actually, the Hawks won the game from the charity lane. They converted 17 of 26 attempts while Caro made only four of 14 tries.

The Tigers outscored the Hawks from the field with 18 buckets to 16.

Neither team scored well from the field percentage wise. Unofficial figures gave Caro a .341 average and Cass City about a .295 percentage.

Bob Holcomb, who scored well on set shots in the first half to keep the Hawks' attack rolling, led Cass City eagers with 15 points. He was followed by Jim Johnson, who netted 13.

Reserves Win
In the preliminary game, Cass

City also scored an easy victory. They moved into an early lead and coasted to a 47-38 win with most of the players seeing action in the game.

Yale Game
Cass City moved into a tie for first place in the Thumb B Conference Friday night as they posted their highest point count of the year, defeating Yale 78-66.

Coach Irv Clasen said that he was pleased with the offensive surge of the squad recent games, but felt that the defense could have been more effective against the Bulldogs.

Hospital $3,000 From Goal; Cash Is Needed Now

The Cass City Community Hospital fund needs just $3,000 to reach its quota of $401,000, members of the hospital board said this week.

Counting interest on bonds and all pledges, there is now $398,000 in the fund.

Besides raising the final $3,000, biggest problem now facing the community is turning pledges into cash.

Administrators of the Hill-Burton federal funds said last week that 80 percent of the money is needed in cash before construction of the hospital can start.

Cash is also needed before the Kresge Foundation donation of $25,000 will be received, it was learned Friday in a visit with authorities of the foundation.

At the present time, there is $239,735 cash on hand as compared to $320,800 needed to start the hospital.

Malace Injured in Two-car Crash

Joseph A. Malace Jr., 20, of Deford was released from Pleasant Home Hospital Tuesday where he had been under observation following an automobile accident Thursday. He had received emergency treatment at General Hospital in Bay City.

Mr. Malace suffered bruises around the shoulder when he was hit by a car driven by Iva G. Pfund of Bay City on M-15, at the corner of German Road near Bay City. X-rays taken at the hospital showed no broken bones.

Mrs. Pfund was ticketed by Bay County Deputy Donald Watson.

Miss Irene Schneider, Mt. Pleasant, a passenger in the Malace car, suffered a sprained ankle.

A clinic for school bus drivers of Tuscola County will be held in Caro the evenings of Feb. 3, 4 and 5.

William Jakad, driver education consultant from Central Michigan College, will direct the meetings at Caro High School. School bus drivers attending the classes will receive the most recent information on driver education and safety regulations.

The clinic will be held in conjunction with CMC and the county school superintendent.

What was one of the worst fires in United States history, and may very probably have been the very worst, broke out in central Michigan Sunday, Oct. 8, 1871, Clifton Heller of Howell, formerly of Cass City, reported Tuesday at the Cass City Rotary Club.

The guest speaker, who has made a study of the fire and conditions leading to the catastrophe, said that the disastrous fire was made possible by the "cut and get" Maine lumbermen who harvested the area. Buying land for 30 cents to $1.25 an acre they cut enough cork pine to furnish almost all of the lumber used during the Civil War. So extensive were their operations that they had depleted the area by 1873. In their wake, they left slash, wood chips, tree tops, brush and smaller limbs.

These conditions were combined with the summer of 1871, one of the driest on record. The whole Midwest was plagued by fires from the tinder-dry conditions. Blazes were reported in Wisconsin, Ohio, Minnesota and other adjacent states.

It had not rained for three months and fires were common. On the fateful Sunday that the Michigan fire ravished two and a half million acres, 3,900 square miles, the town of Holland was destroyed by fire and homes and businesses demolished.

After this prelude to the big fire, the blaze that was to reach and destroy Cass City in just 90 hours started at a saw mill on the Manistee River.

There were few people in the area, so records are sketchy. In Cass City there were 80 persons and the figure is typical of the population of the area covered by the fire.

From Manistee, the fire quickly destroyed Grayling and raged through Big Rapids. Following the slash loaded timbering trail, it swept through Isabelle, Midland and Bay counties and was finally halted in Gratiot County where there had been no lumbering.

But along towards evening it

Highway Group Sees New Road Possibility

The M-81 Highway Extension Association reported this week that its work to have Cass City Road extended as a hard-surfaced road from M-53 to M-19 is much closer now than it was when the group was formed some two years ago.

Authorities for the group said that they have been in almost constant touch with highway construction authorities and executives of the Michigan State Highway Department.

The department has the group's proposal into the planning division, they reported.

Much of the progress of the association is due, members said, to the splendid cooperation of friends in other localities and the progressive cooperation of township authorities.

The group hopes to be able to announce an open public meeting of the association in the near future. At the program, they plan to have State Highway Department speakers, visiting highway construction authorities and interested officials.

President of the group is Norris Meredith. Arnold LaPeer is secretary and Harvey Linderman is the treasurer.

Delbert Strickland Buried Wednesday

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Douglas Funeral Home for Delbert Strickland, 34, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident Sunday morning at 1 o'clock on M-81, three quarters of a mile north of Caro.

Two other persons were injured in the accident. Ellison Rapson, 30, of Pigeon suffered cuts about the head and face. Larry LeValley Miller, 17, of Caro was treated for minor injuries.

The accident occurred when Mr. Strickland, driving a car owned by Mr. Rapson, turned in the highway into the path of a car driven by Mr. Miller.

Mr. Strickland died about three hours after the accident in Caro Community Hospital.

Mr. Strickland was born in Cass City May 19, 1923. He was a Navy veteran of World War II and a graduate of Cass City High School.

Surviving are: a daughter, Carla, of Miller Lake; his mother, Mrs. Eva Bair of Cass City; a sister, Mrs. Alvin Guilds; a brother, Grant Strickland of Cass City, and a half-brother, Theron Hopper of Deford. A sister, Marian, and a brother, Melvin, died before him.

Rev. Ernest Robinson, pastor of the Cass City Methodist Church, officiated at the final rites.

Burial was in Elkland Cemetery under the auspices of Trinity County post No. 507 of the American Legion.

An estimated 100 persons attended the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association meeting held at Sandusky Thursday evening. They heard James Hudnutt, the association's attorney, explain the details of consolidation with the agricultural workers AFL-CIO union.

After the address, a vote was taken and farmers present voted for the merger.

McPherson Trial Results in Hung Jury Saturday

The trial of Carl D. McPherson for breaking and entering Massoll's Sales Incorporated was resulted in a hung jury Saturday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

The jury had deliberated from 3:30 p. m. Saturday and returned at 12 midnight. They reported that they couldn't agree and that it wasn't likely that they ever would agree.

Mr. McPherson had originally pleaded guilty to the charge to Saginaw police and Tuscola County Sheriff's officials.

However, on the advice of council he changed his plea to not guilty. It was after the store was robbed that the fire started that completely razed the Massoll garage. It was said to have been started by a cutting torch that was left lighted after the thieves left the building.

The case was started Friday and heard all of that day and until 3:30 the following day.

Members of the jury were: Clarence Dykhous, Mildred Schmidt, Marion Brock, Ronald Bears, Glen Gust, Mrs. Lynn Robinson, Betty Osterle, Walter Hecht, Beatrice Hunt, William Willson, Ethel Cronover and Omar Safford.

Thursdays, Jan. 30, Leon J. Stubbs was sentenced to Jackson prison for one to 10 years for having narcotics in his possession.

Lawrence R. Ortez, who was sentenced for the same offense, was placed on probation for two years. He was fined $150 and ordered to pay costs of $150 at $12.50 per month.

Both men had pleaded guilty as charged Jan. 14.

In cases heard Wednesday, Jan. 29, Judge Quinn directed a verdict of not guilty against Herman Jackson. He was charged with the possession of narcotics.

In other Wednesday cases, Roy Wymer was awarded a default judgment from Frank Dombroski for $339.44 and costs of $32.54. Donald Cross petitioned the court for an operator's license and it was granted by the court.

Deaths Down 13% On State Highways

With final figures in for December, Michigan's traffic death toll in 1957 was 227 less than in the previous year, according to the monthly statistical report of the State Police.

There were 1,746 deaths in 1956 and 1,519 in 1957, a reduction of 13 per cent as compared to the goal of 10 per cent that had been set at the beginning of the year. The 1957 total may be increased slightly by delayed reports or deaths that occur this year but are chargeable to last year.

Figures for December show 141 persons killed and 5,669 injured in 19,327 accidents. Compared with December of 1956, this was a reduction of 17 or 11 per cent in deaths, 116 or two per cent in injuries and 1,194 or six per cent in accidents.

It was the nineteenth in 21 months in which deaths were below the number killed in the same month of the preceding year.

For the year totals now stand at 58,126 injured and 188,896 accidents, reductions of two per cent in injuries and four per cent in accidents.

It is interesting to note that the 1957 death record was nearly 600 less than the 2,016 killed in 1955. It also marked the second consecutive year when the goal of cutting the previous year's death toll by 10 per cent was greatly exceeded. The record was accomplished in the face of increases in the number of drivers, motor vehicles and mileage traveled.

The 1957 death rate per 100 million miles of travel is now computed at 5.3, the lowest recorded in the state and one of the lowest among the eight large states with which Michigan is grouped in traffic accident comparisons.

Deaths in 1957 were down in nearly all types of accidents and pedestrian fatalities were the lowest on record. The reduction in rural areas was 214 or 17 per cent and in urban areas 13 or three per cent.

Credit for the reduction is attributed to increased safety effort on the part of drivers and pedestrians, increased law enforcement, and the accident prevention activity of press, radio, television and various official and private safety agencies.

Many Michigan dairy farms are undergoing a revolution. Ten to 12 cow dairy herds are rapidly disappearing, while more dairy farmers are milking herds of at least 30 cows, say Michigan State University farm economists.

Seed Growers Slate Annual Meeting

The Tuscola County Association of Certified Seed Growers will hold their annual meeting in the school agricultural building at Fairgrove on Thursday, February 13, at 1:30 p.m., reports Cecil Baker of Reese, association chairman.

An association of certified seed growers was organized a year ago to promote a number of objectives, one being mutual understanding between growers and the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, Michigan Foundation Seed Association, Farm Crops Department of Michigan State University, and the seed trade.

Herbert Pettigrove and George Wenner of the state association will meet with the Tuscola growers. Elevator managers and others interested in the seed trade are invited to attend, said Baker.

Coffee and donuts will be served and anyone interested is invited.

Sanilac Seed Beans Ready for Planting

A report on the availability of certified seed for Sanilac beans comes from Alfred Ballweg, county agricultural agent. He says Milt Erdmann, of the farm crops department at Michigan State University, reports that certified seed for the new Sanilac variety will be available for planting this spring. This will give farmers a choice of certified bean varieties. The Michelite has been the only certified pea (navy) bean variety grown in Michigan for years.

In comparing the two varieties, Erdmann says, the Sanilac is a bush-type bean which grows higher off the ground and therefore generally has a lower percent pick. The Sanilac matures about 10 days earlier, than the Michelite and is resistant to anthracnose and white mold.

Tests over the state during the last three years have shown the two varieties about equal in yield except in 1956. Where white mold was severe that year, Sanilac out-yielded Michelite by an average of 10 bushels per acre.

Ballweg said Erdmann recommends using Michelite on lighter soils, although that variety can be grown on heavy soil. Sanilac should be grown on the heavier, more fertile soils where there is a greater chance of white mold or anthracnose.

When you buy sheets, thread count tells you the number of lengthwise and crosswise threads in a square inch of fabric, say specialists at Michigan State University. Better muslin sheets are about 140 count and medium quality is 128 count. Percale has finer thread, so runs 180 to 200 count per inch.

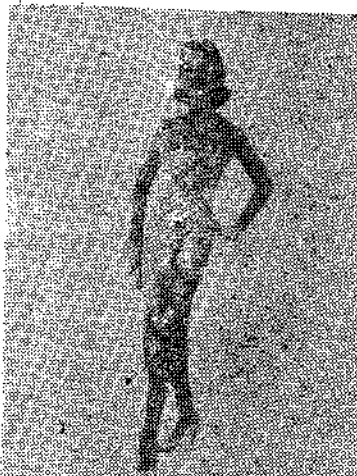

WOMAN'S WORLD

Season's Cottons Show Vivid Color, Casual Styling

COTTONS for the season have been dipped in vivid colors with the earth, moon, sky and stars all inspiring the new colorings. The materials will glow with the sun's yellows and the blue green of the deep ocean. Prints, plaids, stripes and dotted fabrics all have some of the earthy greens and icy blues in them.

The new silhouettes include the chemise with its unfitted, easygoing shape and the blouse which also has a carefree look. The chemise can be half-belted or it can be buttoned and bowed at the new lowered, undefined waistline. Silhouettes are also versatile with hemlines rising and necklines dipping low. Skirts will billow, drape or flounce the figure in luxury. Everything appears styled to make the figure look more elegant.

Flower Prints
Reflecting the interest in the season, you'll be wearing printed cottons in a variety of greenhouse hues including poppies, daisies, roses, carnations and camellias. Interesting combinations of fabrics are also used to good effect like sheerest color-coordinated cotton pique and batiste in a modern print for a sarong type dress. Soft and featherweight, the batiste is folded into a Grecian drape which veils the pique.

Bright field flowers have been cut out and applied to beige textured silk for this slim dress with a wrapped and curved neckline. The elegance of both style and material clothe the figure, a feature of the new fashions.

Youthful gaiety is reflected in a perky white cotton chemise adorned with orange and yellow daisies.

Pleats and Flounces
Pleats are back again, just as always for they are never out for long. There is one vivid costume seen with a semi-pleated skirt complemented by a matching hip-length box jacket done with pleated panels.

Give Yourself Good Home Permanents

It's a smart woman who doesn't wait until her hair has become all straggly and stringy before she gives herself a home permanent. There's nothing so discouraging as hair that won't manage.

If you're rushed for time, then at least take care of some of the curls or the ends which simply won't stay put.

There are special tips to use if you want a good permanent. They're simple but effective when you follow them to the letter.

Healthy Hair

The effectiveness of a permanent depends upon the condition of the hair. Your diet should be rich in eggs, milk, carrots, liver and leafy vegetables if you want the proper nourishment for hair. Brushing and cleanliness are all important too as they prevent excessive oiliness or dryness. If you have the latter problem, do have an oil shampoo or two a week or more before the permanent. Don't forget daily brushings as they distribute the oil from the glands all over the hair strand.

Split ends should be snipped off before the permanent. If they are waved, they will give you that frizzy look which is so disastrous to a sleek, well groomed head.

If you are planning to trim the hair after the permanent, as is done in some cases where the short length is desired, then do trim off the split ends after the permanent.

Winding the Hair

The same amount of tension in winding the curlers on head will give the best results in the form of even waves or curls. One curl should not be loose, the next one tight. Wind the hair straight, not on the bias.

For fine hair use thick strands and wind the curl medium loose. If you wind fine hair tight, it will look like steel wool when you get through.

For long hair, wind the hair no more than six inches from the ends. With short hair you have to get the curls uniform or they will look unruly.

Baby pig anemia is becoming an increasing problem. It results from not enough iron in the diet. According to Michigan State University swine specialists, additional iron can be supplied from mineral soil, iron tablets or iron injections.

BULEN TALKS Cars

Friends sometimes complain to me that their car brakes act up when they first start out for work, but then get better through the day.

This kind of "morning sickness" can be mighty puzzling, but there's a way of curing it.

The cause is moisture and the way to get rid of it is to put the brakes on lightly for a few seconds as the car starts to roll away.

There's one thing about brake trouble, though; it usually gives plenty of warning that something is wrong, either by noise, or fading or grabbing.

The real enemy of brakes is heat. That's why you should try to stop the car by short off-and-on application of the brake pedal. Jamming on the brakes and leaving them there raises the temperature of the brake drums and lining by -- literally -- hundreds of degrees.

When a serviceman recommends new brake linings it's something you should never put off. Brake drums that are scored are so much more expensive to replace than brake linings.

And the peace of mind that comes from knowing there are good brakes ready to pull you up is a great safety factor.

When you're shopping around for a used car, take one of ours that pleases you out for a spin and test the brakes against the stopping-distance charts that you can pick up from safety organizations. Before a car goes out on the lot, we make sure the brakes are in safety-shape.

"Ollie" is gone. After 20 years he'll be hard to replace. Jay Dearing is taking the Service Manager's job, and will do his best to please you. So, we'll miss Ollie, but we'll muddle through, and be glad to see you in the shop. We'll look for you.

New Regulations to Limit Production in Acreage Reserve

The regulation that a farm must establish a Soil Bank base to enter the Acreage Reserve Program means that a farm's total harvested acreage will be limited, Charles B. Eckfeld, county office manager of the Tuscola County ASC Committee, announced this week.

The Soil Bank base is based on the average amount of land on a farm for which crops were harvested in 1956-57.

By this method, a limit is set on the total crop acreage of farms under the acreage reserve program.

All Youths Gifted Says College Prof

"I hold the view that all youth are gifted in some way," declares Ralph C. Wenrich, chairman of the department of vocational education and practical arts at the University of Michigan.

"There is much concern these days about the education of the gifted child. In a democratic society it is the responsibility of the schools to provide a variety of learning experiences in which any and all gifts possessed by the learner may be discovered and nurtured." Professor Wenrich maintains.

"To be sure, not all are endowed with a high degree of intellectual prowess. The talents of some may be found in artistic, mechanical, or musical fields. Others may be gifted in their ability to deal with people."

Professor Wenrich feels that "in view of the anticipated manpower needs in the U.S., it becomes increasingly important that we make better use of our human resources."

"This suggests the need for helping youth to discover and identify their interest and aptitudes and then provide them with the opportunity to develop whatever talents they possess to the limits of their capacities," he says.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Super highways tying together all major Michigan cities and bringing the millions of the cities closer to the playgrounds of the Water Wonderland will be finished in six years.

That is the pledge of Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, 38.

Mackie has set up priorities on both Detroit expressway system and the outstate network of limited access multilane highways.

The total cost will be approximately $2 billion, about one third of Michigan's highway needs shown by a survey conducted three years ago.

Most of the early planning in the first stages of construction were achieved before Mackie took office last July 1 by his predecessor, Charles M. Ziegler.

But it remains for Mackie to finish the job, connecting the completed pieces of the project. Democrats and Republicans agree that Mackie, ambitious and fast on his feet, cannot help but become the greatest road builder in state history.

Federal aid not available to earlier commissioners will pay for 90 per cent of the interstate system, and other financing arrangements have been developed.

Most important is the growing public awareness of the need for highways—the pressures which grew through the last years of Ziegler's 13 year regime to a final, powerful impact in 1956.

There were skeptics when Mackie announced his $1,250,000,000 outstate highway program last fall. Contracts came slowly at first but the dam broke in December.

Mackie has placed first priority on a super highway linking Detroit and Chicago along US 12, a Detroit to Muskegon route along US 16 and a route from the Ohio line to the Straits of Mackinac using US 23, US 10 and US 27.

He has promised the entire program will be under contract by 1962 and completed by 1964.

Right to work legislation may be most controversial in this session. Labor leaders argue that laws which permit employees to work at a unionized plant without belonging to the union are "union busting". Advocates of "right to work" legislation argue that no man should be forced to belong to a union in order to hold his job.

The record seems to indicate that right to work laws, while they might slow down union activity, do not "bust" unions. At present 19 states have such laws, some of them for 10 years or more. Two experts in the labor field were unable to point to a single union which ceased to exist because of the laws. Much union progress, on the other hand, has been reported in the southeast part of the country where right to work laws have been in existence for the longest period of time. It will be interesting to see what use both sides of the right to work argument make of the labor picture in states where the law has been in operation.

Secrecy in government on all levels is under attack in the 1958 legislature.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) is sponsoring a bill to open meetings of all public bodies and make their records open to public scrutiny.

Gov. Williams is interested in a similar administration bill. The idea is pushed hard by the Michigan Press Association which has been fighting for years for the "people's right to know" about the agencies which spend their tax money, and by Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalism fraternity.

Williams is taking a two way approach—stating that the right to know about government has another side—the editor's responsibility in presenting the information.

Simultaneously Williams brought out the point that some records must remain secret. They include adoption records and certain business records of the state insurance department.

Lawmakers, while not contesting this, say the major problem is on the local level.

Politics is gaining momentum far in advance of the 1958 election next fall. Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) is ready to announce his go-it-alone candidacy for governor on the Republican ticket.

Sallade, one of the original "Young Turks" in the house, lacks party support at the moment but he is the first of the Republicans to even hint at making the race next fall.

There has been a notable restraint in getting a Republican candidate. Old timers are leery of trying to "draft" a prominent citizen, and aside from Sallade none of the younger and lesser knowns have made the first move. The Democratic picture has not changed in months.

Williams is expected to try for his sixth term and Lt. Governor Philip Hart is expected to announce his candidacy for the United States Senate seat now held by Sen. Charles Potter. Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Detroit) is already a top Democratic choice to succeed Hart.

Coffee breaks may wake you up in the morning, but to "keep the doctor from your door," take an "apple" break. They're trying it at the New York State Experiment station. Each day a different kind of apple is available. They can keep this up quite a while, too—their fruit specialists have grown over 700 varieties.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Table Settings Should Express Your Ingenuity

EVEN the simplest meal you serve can become one of great pleasure and joy if you've spent a few minutes thinking out an attractive table scheme.

Interesting effects on the table can be created in all sorts of ways. If your tableware is of an elaborate pattern, use a simple cloth and napkins. Plain tableware can be combined with solid or printed cloths and is very effective when contrasting colored cloth and napkins are used, especially when they harmonize with the dinnerware.

Antique accessories can be combined with some modern ones for an interesting effect. For example, an antique pair of candlesticks can Sectional dinner plates as well as plain ones in a variety of sizes, colors and designs can eliminate the dishwashing problem when you're entertaining, as long as they're made of sturdy paper. Many are plastic-coated to prevent food soaking in them.

Look very well with a modern bowl of flowers.

Small tables call for small centerpieces, naturally. If you're using flowers, do pick those with out too heavy a scent. When candles are used, make certain they're straight. Refrigerate them if the weather is warm to insure this.

Special Effects

A sweet sixteen birthday, or any of the teen birthdays, for that matter looks effective when pastel cloth and napkins are used. A special floral effect can be used by way of fresh artificial flower corsages, one for each guest, massed in the center or along the side of the table if it's buffet style.

Younger birthdays can take on more picturesque decorations. Use a gayly striped cloth, with napkins to match one of the stripes. Pile the presents in a giant drum (cardboard decorated to simulate one).

Make Snack Special With Raisin Cookies

Few kitchen smells are sweeter than the wonderful fragrance of freshly-baked cookies. Now that the weather is cooler, it should be no job to keep the cookie jar full.

Chewy, meaty raisins give cookies a good texture and even better flavor. You'll like the refrigerator type as well as these made with chocolate bits:

Raisin Specialty Cookies
(Makes 48 medium cookies)
1 cup light or dark raisins
6 to 8 ounces semi-sweet chocolate
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup melted butter or substitute
1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking powder

Rinse and drain raisins. Beat eggs well. Stir in sugar and vanilla. Cool butter slightly and add to egg-sugar mixture. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder and add to batter. Blend in raisins and chocolate bits. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 15 to 18 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

Raisin Refrigerator Cookies
(Makes 4½ dozen)
1 cup raisins
½ cup butter or substitute
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Rinse raisins, drain and chop. Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Sift flour with salt and soda. Blend into creamed mixture alternately with milk. Stir in raisins and vanilla. Shape into rolls, wrap in waxed paper and chill thoroughly. Cut in thin slices with a sharp knife and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot (400°F.) oven 8 to 10 minutes.

Michigan cattle feeders are going to have to squeeze production costs if they hope to make much profit this season, warn Michigan State University beef specialists. Feeder cattle prices were about 20 per cent above a year ago while 1958 fat cattle prices aren't expected to be more than 10 per cent above 1957.

Home Extension Agent's Corner

Frances T. Clark
County Home Demonstration Agent

The North Almer home demonstration group had as their special speaker, Mrs. Pauline Layer of the Darbee group. Her topic was safety in the home and on the highway.

The Cass City home demonstration group will have a refitting of furniture workshop on February 11. It will be held in the town hall on Main Street. Anyone interested in learning about the refitting of wood will be welcome. Time, 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The following home demonstration groups furnished 15 dozen homemade cookies each for the Saginaw Veterans' Hospital: Deford, North Vassar and South Unionville. Each group also sent women to help serve the cookies and coffee to the patients and in the hospital canteen.

What is to be the 1958 Food Outlook?

I think every food shopper is aware that the 1958 food prices are definitely a bit higher. The prediction is that prices will continue high the first half of the year, even higher than the comparable period of 1957. The following guides may help you fit your needs and pocketbook: watch food market trends, study food forecasts, and plan, plan and plan.

As for food forecasts, what's the outlook for February? Apples: There are still unusually large supplies of apples, approximately 10 million bushels more than there were at this same time last year. Regardless of what variety of apples you choose, remember that they are coming from cold storage and if not kept cold, they show their lack of appreciation by shriveling and weeping (perspiring). Bananas: The supply this month is larger than usual. The plantings which survived the May 1957 blowdowns are back in full production and the new plantings since the blowdown have also come into production. The quality of the bananas is unusually good. Citrus: The Florida grapefruit suffered some losses but the Texas grapefruit was not damaged at all. Prices are up in some markets, but generally the quality is good. The supplies of oranges seasonally decline a bit in February and increase again from March through May. The tangerine supplies have decreased and prices have increased. Snap beans: The freezing weather and rains have considerably decreased the supply of snapbeans. Florida is the only source of snapbeans this time of year so there is not likely to be any improvement in the situation until the new snapbean crops come on.

Broccoli: The supplies of broccoli are normal size for February. The sources of the supplies are California, Arizona and Texas. Carrots: The supplies of carrots may be smaller than usual for February because of the decreased acreage plantings in the growing areas. This situation matches carrot appetites over the past years. We are eating a wide variety of other vegetables now and it has cut into the total consumption of carrots. Along with carrots from storage in Michigan, supplies come from Texas, Arizona and California. Celery: California continues to ship large supplies of celery. The Florida celery crop suffered some damage, but unless there is further damage, supplies of celery should remain steady. Cucumbers: The supplies of cucumbers are in a short supply. For the next three or four weeks, biggest supplies of cucumbers will come from Cuba, with a limited supply coming from hothouses in the Mid-west. Lettuce: The supplies of iceberg lettuce are fairly heavy, coming from California, Arizona and Texas. Peppers: The supplies of peppers (usually from Florida) are very short. Quality ranges from very good to very poor. Tomatoes: The supplies of tomatoes are relatively short because of the Florida crop damage. Some supplies have come from Cuba. Meats: Do not expect any major change in any meat prices. Prices on all meats are higher than they were this time last year. Even lamb prices which usually decline at this time of year, are holding steady. Abundant feed supplies may cause a progressive decrease in the spread between the price per pound of top grades of beef and price per pound of lower grades of beef.

Outdoor Classrooms

Some 8,000-9,000 youngsters leave their classrooms each winter for a week of education and recreation at Michigan state park outdoor centers. During this week of group camping, children have an opportunity to learn about forest and wildlife management, nature lore and other conservation subjects. Meanwhile, they enjoy hiking, archery, fishing and other outdoor recreation.

Bear Facts

Conservation Department bear trapping work in Michigan's upper peninsula provides much needed information on the habits and activities of these big animals. After being trapped, bears are put under anesthetic, weighed, measured, tagged and released. Reports on tagged bears killed by hunters provides valuable data for game management programs.

make much and I do three different jobs and I need every penny I can get. I told her that I am a family man and I have so many traveling expenses that I couldn't afford to tip anybody. She said if you can leave anything, leave it on the dresser and I will pick it up later. I stayed in the room till 3 p. m. and checked out that day.

It was arranged for me to return for a speaking engagement at the Novesta Church of Christ to show a film we have on anti-communism. Not being aware of false accusations were made against my person, I was proceeding to my speaking engagement. Upon arriving at the church I was stopped at the car. I was driving by an elderly gentleman, who said that he was a county sheriff and said he wanted to talk with me. I followed him to his car where two of his deputies were sitting. He asked me to identify myself and asked me for my home address. He also said that he had a complaint against me by the manager's wife of the hotel at Caro, Mich. I told him that I had no trouble at the hotel except that the cleaning woman asked me to give her a tip which I refused to do.

He began telling "that the cleaning woman at the hotel accused me that I asked her to drink with me and to go dancing with me and promised to give her some money." I was completely dumbfounded of these accusations. In my ten years of Christian ministry, I never had any moral accusations against me or any slander as I am endorsed by some of the leading clergymen of the country and some prominent citizens. I have hundreds of letters of recommendations and commendations by ministers of various faiths.

I am a married man and a father of three children and very happily-married and in love with my wife. My wife traveled with me for years until the children were born. She has complete confidence in me. I always stay in my travels at the YMCA places. However, here I had to stay at the hotel.

Mr. Tomlinson, the county sheriff, refused me the liberty to talk to the minister, Pastor Woodward, of the Novesta Church or to his people that were waiting outside the car. He denied me the right to go to the church and preach that night. He told me that the minister and his people said that they didn't want me at their church. This, of course, was not so as I talked with Pastor Woodward on the telephone and since then I talked with him personally and with a board member of his church.

Mr. Tomlinson, the sheriff, demanded that I drive with them to the Hotel at Caro and meet the woman that made the accusations against me. To my surprise I met the wife of the proprietor of the hotel, whom I saw only when I paid for the room rent. But the woman who is accusing me, was not there to accuse me of her charges. They knew better than to produce here a woman that was in a mentally sick hospital.

However, there appeared a man in a shabby appearance claiming that he saw me going into my room and heard some talking going on in my room and he saw the cleaning woman emerging from my room carrying liquor bottles. I told him to his face that, that was a deliberate lie. If there were any bottles they must have been from other rooms as I do not drink or believe in intoxicating drinks. I do not smoke; neither do I dance or believe in dancing.

The charges made against me are completely false and my character is maliciously slandered to damage my reputation. Whether this is the work of a crankster or a mentally sick person that should be confined back to a mental institution. I wonder if the gentleman, the proprietor of the Caro hotel, knows all the facts. I would like to meet him yet.

I refute all the charges being made against me and am willing to appear at court in your county, to face the charges being made against me. If there is any honesty or decency left on earth, I implore upon you for your assistance in investigating the truth and help a fellow Christian-American citizen and a minister crusading for God and freedom against Communism.

Trusting that the foregoing will change your attitude toward me and for the sake of the truth you can always reach me for facts to substantiate my innocence in involved slander.

Sincerely yours,

Rev. Peter Varonof

HAWKS WIN TWO

tered was the lowest of the game, they held the Bulldogs to only 10 points.

In the final period, Coach Clasenman cleared the bench and Yale posted a one-point, 20-19, advantage, but by this time the only question remaining was the final score.

Johnson led the Hawk attack with 21 points, collecting 10 field goals and a gift shot. Lesson connected for 16 points. He converted seven times from the field, most of the points coming on his favorite jump shot. Suffering with a stiff finger, he was able to collect only two of 10 free throws, although he has one of the best percentages from the charity lane of any of the Hawk regulars. Closely following Lesson in the scoring column was Forrest Walpole, who counted 14 on five two-pointers and four of four free throws.

In the preliminary, Cass City reserves quickly ran up a 20-1 lead in the first quarter and coasted to a 77-19 win.

Friday night the Hawks travel to Bad Axe. In the opening game between the two schools, Cass City was off to an early lead and registered a 53-46 victory.

Extend $5 Milk Price for Month

An agreement to extend the current $5.00 Class I (drinking) milk price in the Detroit market for one month has been reached by Detroit dairies and the Michigan Milk Producers' Association.

The $5.00 price originally obtained by MMPA last Aug. 1, was scheduled to expire Jan. 31. MMPA sought to have this price extended for two months, but major Detroit milk dealers wanted farmers to take an immediate cut of as much as 46¢ a hundred.

The one-month extension of the $5.00 price was agreed upon after three days of hard-fought negotiations which often appeared headed for a stalemate.

At a special meeting Wednesday, Jan. 29, the MMPA Sales Committee approved a recommendation of its Price Negotiating Committee to accept the one-month agreement and to reopen negotiations at an early date to determine prices for the period after Feb. 28.

In their demands for a lower price, Detroit dairies placed major emphasis on competition from outside dealers. While MMPA representatives agreed that this competition is serious, they expressed the hope that dairy farmer groups in nearby competing markets could be encouraged to establish higher prices in their markets and thereby relieve some of the pressure on Detroit.

Expected to have a major effect on future negotiations is a price cut forced on dairy farmers by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who has announced that he will reduce dairy price supports to 75 per cent of parity on April 1. The reduction would lower milk prices throughout the nation by 23¢ or more per hundredweight. MMPA has joined other dairy farmer cooperatives in a concerted effort to prevent the cut from taking effect.
