Recreation Dept. Reschedules "On Wheels Parade"

Rain postponed the annual "On Wheels" parade scheduled by the Cass City Recreation Department Monday and the event has been rescheduled Monday, June 30, at 2:30 p. m. In case of rain the event will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

Children in the parade were forced to discontinue shortly after the parade started Monday. Bikes and other vehicles were temporarily stored in a Brinker Lumber Co. building, but costumes were ruined, Director Mrs. Mike Yedinak reported.

The remainder of the day was spent in the elementary gym where activities included games, refreshments and a fishing booth.

Prizes slated to be awarded in the original parade will be presented to winners when the parade is held. They include awards for best boys' and girls' bike, best tricycle, best wagon, scooter, skates, smallest entrant, best costumed girl and boy and most original theme.

The children will march from the park pool through the business district to the elementary school.

Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. weekly teenage dances will start at the tennis courts. There is no charge and everyone is welcome to attend, authorities said.

Recorded music by Elvis Presley, Tom Sands, Doris Day and Johnny Mathis will be featured. Mrs. Yedinak reminded parents that the recreation program is being held at the elementary school grounds.

Eli Holes will be in charge of two other classes. Children nine and 10 will receive lessons from 11 to 11:30 and children 11 and 12 will swim from 11:30 to 12 noon.

Red Cross classes will not start until July.

Although a planning commission has not yet been formed in Cass City, discussion by the Cass City Village Council Tuesday evening at the Municipal Building indicated that a commission will be established within a few weeks.

President B. F. Benkelman Jr. presented a copy of an ordinance that will establish a commission here. The lengthy ordinance was read to the council. Because of the many details involved, Trustee Andrew Bigelow asked that copies for study be made and distributed to the council, Chamber of Commerce, Development Corporation and men who will be appointed to the commission.

It is expected that copies will be available within a few days and the commission established at a special council meeting within two weeks.

President Benkelman said that he plans to appoint James Bauer, Cliff Croft, Jim Wallace, Herbert Ludlow, B. A. Calka and Willis Campbell to the commission. The ordinance calls for a nine-man commission. Besides the appointees by the president from the community, the village president is a member while in office. The president is also required to appoint a man from the council and another trustee is elected to serve by vote of the council.

The terms of the representatives from the council automatically expire when they leave office. Appointed members will serve staggered terms. Two will be appointed for one year, two for two years and two for three years. After the original appointments, all members will serve three-year terms, if the proposed ordinance is adopted.

The ordinance calls for the planning commission to pass on all building, land use, roads, subdivisions and other details connected with growth problems in the village. Its master plan will include the surrounding area.

Weed Ordinance
Trustees also voted to adopt a noxious weed ordinance that calls for a fine of from $10 to $100 for letting noxious weeds grow on property within the village.

Storm Sewer
C. R. Hunt reported that he had surveyed the alley running between Oak and Maple Streets a half block south of Main and said that it would be possible to build a storm sewer to dispose of water that has been accumulating in the area.

The sewer will care for water near Wesley Milk Co., in addition to the alley, and be connected with the storm sewer now operating at the corner of Pine and Seeger streets.

Other Business
The council accepted the resignation of Mrs. Grant Patterson from the library board and appointed Mrs. Esther McCullough to replace her.

Trustees okayed a raise in salary for Harold Jackson, village assessor, from $200 to $250 yearly.

The bid of Arnold Copeland and the Frankenthum Life Insurance Co. was low for the fleet insurance on vehicles owned by the village. Two bids were received.

Fred Neitzel was granted permission to place posts in front of his business property, at his expense, to eliminate dangerous U-turns on Maple Street.

Auten Motor Sales was granted permission to remove a tree from the front of the company's used car lot.

Trustees authorized Marshal William Wood to purchase a police siren and light for the village's police car.

Rotarians Receive Safe Driver Quiz From R. Stickle

Robert Stickle, driver training instructor at Cass City High School, made a return visit to the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Mr. Stickle, who previously explained the purpose and mechanics of his course, conducted a driver quiz among members.

He arranged test driving accidents, explained the circumstances leading to the accident and then asked various Rotarians who was at fault in the accident.

Rotarians were selected by program chairman Cliff Ryan who drew names by lot to decide who was to answer the questions.

Each Rotarian who incorrectly answered the problem was fined a quarter.

In the business meeting, the club voted its second payment of $500 this year toward payment of Rotary's $5,000 pledge to the Cass City Community Hospital.

Farmers Approve '59 Wheat Quotas

Marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, according to a report on preliminary returns from the June 20 referendum of wheat farmers received at the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

Quotas become effective on approval by two-thirds of the eligible wheat growers voting in the national referendum.

In Tuscola County, there were 203 votes for quotas and 66 against.

With marketing quotas in effect for the 1959 crop, a farmer who complies with his wheat allotment will be eligible for a price-support loan based on a national average of $1.81, 75 percent of estimated price. A farmer who exceeds his allotment will not be eligible for price support. In addition, those with more than 15 acres of wheat who exceed their allotments will be subject to a marketing quota penalty on each bushel of excess wheat.

Marketing quotas have been in effect for the last five crops of wheat, including 1958 crop. They were also approved for 1941 and 1942.

State Reasons For New Sanilac Nursing Home

The Sanilac County Department of Social Welfare this week released the first of a series of articles on reasons why they believe that the county should approve a one mill levy for a new county convalescent hospital.

Members pointed out that since the county infirmary has been condemned patients have been housed in private nursing homes in the county and neighboring counties. The 105 persons now being cared for will be increased in the future, they said.

The 1950 census revealed that 3,592 persons in Sanilac County were 65 or older . . . 11.6 percent of the county's population.

Compared with the percentage of 7.2 for Michigan, the figures indicate that Sanilac has a greater need for new facilities than most other counties.

All of Sanilac's neighboring counties, Huron, Tuscola and Lapeer, have convalescent hospitals. Tuscola is completing a 124-bed hospital and Huron has a new 110-bed hospital. Lapeer has 72 beds and is planning to enlarge facilities.

Arthur Craig, chairman of the Welfare committee, called a meeting of his committee June 18. Both the Welfare Committee of the Board of Supervisors and the Welfare Board have gone on record as urging a "yes" vote for the new nursing home.

Order New Signs

The Cass City Village Council Tuesday evening voted to purchase parallel and one hour limit parking signs to be erected on Main Street in the village.

The new parking will reduce available parking space on Main Street by about a third. Spaces to accommodate cars parallel parked require 24 feet. Each car uses 16 feet under the present parking regulations.

Thirty-five of each of the signs have been ordered. Together with steel posts the signs will cost the village $275.

Council Prepares for Parallel Parking

Mr. King asked for a ruling concerning removing picnic tables from the park. Trustees said that they cannot be removed from the park proper for any reason.

The committee reported that they felt there was too much pushing and running in the pool and that the condition could lead to serious injuries.

They were instructed to speak to the lifeguard to start a more rigid enforcement of safety precautions.

Work needed to be done, the park committee disclosed, includes trimming weeds on tennis courts and inside the wading pool and strengthening the poles that hold the tennis nets. The work will be added to the village's scheduled work.

The boards of education of Owendale and Gagetown had scheduled a consolidation vote Thursday, July 24, it was announced last week by Huron County School Superintendent Morgan Ballagh.

Mr. Ballagh said that he has received audited petitions from the Gagetown district with 274 legal signatures. A total of 251 signatures of the 501 voters registered in the district is needed for the consolidation vote.

Petitions were not needed in the Owendale high school district and the board of education had previously approved the vote.

Each district will vote separately and each must pass the measure for the consolidation to take place.

Polls in each community will be open from 12 to 8 p. m. Owendale enrollment is 334 with a state equalized valuation of $4,819,884.

The Gagetown district has an enrollment of 149 and state equalized valuation of $2,610,191.

There were 69 Gagetown high school pupils attending Cass City High School this year. If the consolidation is approved, these students will be allowed to continue their education in Cass City, but all future high school students will attend school in the district.

Plans call for these students to attend school at Owendale until other arrangements are completed.

The boards of both districts are in favor of a new high school building located between the two communities. The State Department of Public Instruction has gone on record as favoring further consolidation with Sebewing and does not approve a high school for the two districts.

Farm Doesn't Get Food Price Hike Most Received No 1957 Profit Increase

Just because retail food prices rose 3.7 per cent during 1957 doesn't mean that farmers received all the extra money consumers had to pay. R. J. Mutti, University of Illinois agricultural economist, reports that farmers received about 3.8 per cent more money for identical food products sold in the last quarter of 1957 than in the same period of 1956. Costs of marketing farm products averaged 2.7 per cent higher at the end of 1957 than a year earlier. Farmers received about 40.1 cents out of every consumer's food dollar at the beginning of 1958 compared with 39.9 cents a year before. From 1947 to 1949, farmers received almost 50 cents of the consumer's food dollar. This decrease in the share they get now has occurred in all major groups of food.

The farmer's share of the consumer's dollar hasn't jumped up with the hike in food prices.

Among the 48 items listed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in its market basket of foods, only farmers selling grapefruit received as high a share of the consumer's dollar as they did during 1947-49. The farmer's share was the same for eggs, oranges, canned peaches and canned peas.

The Department of Agriculture recently reported that operating costs of food-marketing firms continued upward last year. Hourly earnings of employees rose 5 per cent. Further increases are in prospect.

Pigs Fatten Equally On 3-Year-Old Barley

Three-year-old barley will fatten a pig just as quickly as new-crop barley, report University of California animal nutritionists.

Two Davis scientists, James H. Meyer of the animal husbandry department and B. A. Koch, now at Kansas State College, summarized their findings in these words: "The average weight gains and feed efficiency values obtained from feeding barley which had been stored for three years were equal to those obtained with new-crop barley, when fed to growing, fattening pigs." (Both barley rations were supplemented with equal amounts of casein or soybean-cottonseed meal mixture.)

In a second experiment, performed with the cooperation of Glen F. Loggreen and Harold Gess of the same department, the investigators found that several years' storage of barley had no effect on the amount of B-complex vitamins in the grain. Rats, which have B-complex vitamin requirements similar to those of pigs, were used in these trials. Thiamine, pyridoxine, and riboflavin were among the vitamins tested. However, it was evident that barley, included as 64 per cent of the diet, did not contain sufficient riboflavin to meet the needs of the growing rats.

Pail Holder

Here are two methods that may be used to stop pail spouts when feeding your stock. At left pail is attached to fence by piece of iron welded to the bucket. At right, flat pieces of iron with sharpened ends are welded to the bucket, so spikes may be forced into ground at feeding time.

TOO MUCH AND TOO MANY

A young couple came in to see us a few days ago. After some talk and a look at a couple of cars we have on the lot, it came out that they had been in to the city. The more they talked, the more I was sure that they had seen so many used cars at so many places that they didn't know which way to turn. Confused was no name for it.

Now, I'm not suggesting that you can't buy a used car in the city. You can . . . and you can buy a good one if you know what you are buying. But to buy a car in the city, you should know quite a bit about used cars . . . and on some of the lots that deal in used cars only, you have to know some of the tricks that some dealers can pull to make a car look and sound better than it usually is.

When you come right down to it. The best place to buy a used car is from a new car dealer. And when you live in a smaller town, you are in a good position to know the reputation of each dealer in the town. In a town like ours, your new car dealer HAS to live up to his reputation . . . even on his used cars.

In fact, many of the used cars we sell are cars that we sold new, serviced, then took in on trade. Even when you pay a little more, those are the best buys. And when we take in a car of a different make, we really give it a going over. Do you know what we do with the used cars we are not sure of? We wholesale them to the city lots!

So when you want a good used car . . . a car you can depend on for miles and miles of economical transportation, come and see us. We'll be glad to help you find just the right car.

FINE EXAMPLE:

Stanley McArthur's 1954 Ford 4 Door Sedan. The popular Custom Model. Exceptionally clean and nice with only 22,000 actual miles on it. This car has Radio and Overdrive. Tires are puncture proof and like new. The nicest '54 we have seen. You'll say so too.

For your convenience our Used Car Sales Office is open every evening except Thursday and Sunday.

Owens-Agar Vows Exchanged June 14

The First Baptist Church was decorated with candelabra, palms and white roses and poodles for the wedding of Miss Ruth Ann Agar and Clifford W. Owens, Saturday evening, June 14.

Rev. Gene Sicker of Lakeview, the bride's brother-in-law, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Max L. Agar of Cass City are the bride's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Owens of Muncie, Ind., are the parents of the groom.

The bride's gown was of French galloon lace over bridal satin with a half-Capri neckline accented with seed pearls and iridescents. Self-covered buttons extended down the back of the fitted princess bodice. The long sleeves formed bridal lily points over the hands. The back of the full, hooped skirt featured three-tiered lace ruffles which formed a chapel train.

Miss Sharon Brown of Flint was maid of honor and Mrs. Ronald Ray Van Natter of Muncie, Ind., the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Mary Otis of Cass City. The bride's attendants wore off-the-shoulder gowns of shrimp-color, blue and pink, respectively.

Attending the groom were Larry Owens and Ronald Van Natter of Muncie and Fred Vester of Albany, Ind.

Rev. Allan Jennex of South Lyons, brother-in-law of the bride, sang "Because" and "O Master, Let Us Walk With Thee."

James Sting of East Lansing, Ohio, was pianist.

Rev. R. G. Weckle was in charge of the reception, which followed the ceremony, in the church basement. Decorations included baskets of seasonal flowers and pink and white table decorations. A beautiful four-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. Ice cream, cake, punch and coffee were served.

Out-of-town guests came from Decker, Marlette, Pontiac, Dracynon Plains, Fort Wayne, Muncie and Albany, Ind., Stryker, Ohio, Milford, South Lyons, Berkley, Lakeview, Caro, Owendale and Saginaw.

Rev. Owens is pastor of a Methodist Church near Muncie, Ind. The bride is a student at Taylor University, Upland, Ind. They will live near Muncie.

Owendale Church Scene of Wedding

In a double-ring ceremony Saturday evening, June 21, at the Owendale Methodist Church, Miss Margie Joyce Sting and Richard John Allen spoke their marriage vows before an altar decorated with peonies, roses and other summer flowers and lighted candles.

Margie Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ottomar Sting of Gageton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Allen of Marshall, Michigan.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a white satin gown with a lace over satin, tight-fitted bodice and long, fitted, wristpoint sleeves. Her fingertip veil was secured to a cap of sequins and pearls. The full skirt of her gown extended into a chapel train.

Alton Smiley of North Branch sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Promise Me," Mrs. Albert Ellicott was organist.

The groom's sister, Miss Janet Allen, was maid of honor. Her gown was waltz-length of mint green and she carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Emily Boesch, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations. Her gown was similar to the maid of honor's in egg shell.

Sue Payne, cousin of the groom, was junior bridesmaid and carried pink carnations. Sandy Payne, the bride's niece, and Beverly Smiley, flower girls, carried baskets of assorted flowers. Ring bearer was Mitchell Payne. James Sting of East Lansing, Ohio, was pianist.

Rev. R. G. Weckle was in charge of the reception, which followed the ceremony, in the church basement. Decorations included baskets of seasonal flowers and pink and white table decorations. A beautiful four-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table. Ice cream, cake, punch and coffee were served.

Out-of-town guests came from Decker, Marlette, Pontiac, Dracynon Plains, Fort Wayne, Muncie and Albany, Ind., Stryker, Ohio, Milford, South Lyons, Berkley, Lakeview, Caro, Owendale and Saginaw.

Rev. Owens is pastor of a Methodist Church near Muncie, Ind. The bride is a student at Taylor University, Upland, Ind. They will live near Muncie.

A cheerful atmosphere in pleasant surroundings at mealtime gives the family a comfortable feeling.

A true friend knocks before he enters—not after he leaves.

It's well to remember that the more you are promised the less you may expect.

Luck is the crossroad where planning and opportunity meet.

A]3c and Mrs. Keith Pobanz

Miss Joann Schwartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwartz of Gageton, and A]3c Keith Pobanz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pobanz of Elkton, were married Saturday, June 7, at 10 o'clock Mass at St. Agatha Church, Gageton.

Rev. Glenn W. Cronkite officiated. The church was decorated with candelabra, palms and spring flowers.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over net and taffeta with a scalloped neckline and scalloped hem. It featured nylon tulle ruffles down the back of the skirt. Her scalloped fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured to a queen's tiara with seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a cascade bouquet of red and white roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Dale Rabideau of Cass City, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Miss Mary Jane Schwartz of Gageton, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore ballerina-length gowns of chiffon over net and taffeta in romance blue and shrimp color, respectively. Their shoulder-length veils were held by pearl crowns and they carried bouquets of pink and blue daisies and cascades of carnations.

Best man was the groom's brother, Kenneth Pobanz of Elkton. Kenneth Pinkoski of Gageton was the groom's other attendant. Dale Rabideau and Frank Schwartz Jr. seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a light blue linen dress with white accessories and the groom's mother chose a purple print chiffon dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of gardenias and white carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home for relatives and friends. The bride's home was also the scene of the reception.

After a trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds are living in Bilozi, Miss., where A]3c Pobanz is stationed at Keeler Air Force Base.

Try Blue cheese garlic bread for a treat the next time you serve spaghetti. To make it, mix equal parts of Blue cheese and butter — about 1/4 cup of each. Add 1/4 to 1/2 garlic clove, minced, or garlic salt to taste. Slice Italian or French bread diagonally, not quite through the bottom crust. Spread one side of each slice with the cheese-butter mixture. Heat the loaf in a hot oven—400 degrees — for about 10 to 15 minutes or until it's hot and crusty.

Obstacles always show up when you take your eyes off the goal.

HIT ATTRACTION—Gene Autry, Mr. American Cowboy, will bring his star-studded "Hit Show of 1958" to the Tuscola County Fair at Caro this year, according to Carl Mantey, secretary-manager. Autry and his famous Melody Ranch gang will make afternoon and evening appearances before the grandstand Wednesday, August 20, only. This year's fair, the 77th annual, will be held August 18-23 at the Caro Fairgrounds, one of the oldest county fairs in the State of Michigan. Among the outstanding entertainers appearing with Autry is Jimmy Hawkins, better known as Tagg Oakley, brother of Annie Oakley in the popular television series. Jimmy, hailed as one of television's brightest young cowboy stars, will bring along his Pinto Pony, Pixie. Of course, another famous western horse, Gene Autry's Champion, will also appear in the show. The Strongs, famous western rope and whip artists, will be a part of the show along with comedian Rufe Davis and Autry's star-studded troupe of Melody Ranch musicians. Fair Manager Mantey says this year's fair will present the greatest array of entertainment features in its 77-year history. Arrangements are being made to make every grandstand attraction throughout the seven-day run of the fair "star bright every day and every night."

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor: I never like to start the day's work afore I know what's going on in the world. Everything is so tied up with everthing else that a feller has got to be careful. A election in Greece can cause a slump in the market on Wall Street, or a street fight in Egypt may call for an emergency meeting of the Cabinet in Washington. Things is so close knit in the world that I don't want to start plowing up the weeds in one of my fields if it's going to effect somebody in France the wrong way. I'm willing to postpone my plowing till next year if the signs ain't right in East Berlin. That's the reason I like to git my paper in the morning so's I can sorter plan and lay out the day's work in a manner that won't hurt nobody. The papers has been full of good stuff all week. Fer instance, I saw last night a feller in a dental school in Georgia is working on a power-drive tooth brush. I laid awake all night wondering if it'd have handles on it, or if you walked behind it, or if you could jump on it and ride. Along about daylight I figured it out that you could use it in a rocking chair. A great peace come over me and I fell off to sleep. I see where Congress has set aside eight million dollars and told the Air Force to "explore in the vicinity of the moon." Looks to me like they could git closer than that fer eight million. I don't see why they didn't make it 10 million and order 'em to hit it on the nose. After all, what's a couple more million to them Congressmen? Then there is this item where Billy Graham wants to hold world prayer to save them thugs in the Kremlin. I'm a great believer in prayer when you got a good cause, but right off hand I can't figger we got the percentages going fer us with this one. I've quit reading the newspaper funnies on account of they ain't half as funny as the front page. If I keep up with the news I'm going to die with excitement, and if I don't I'm going to die with curiosity. That's the reason you fellers in the newspaper business has got a good racket. But there's one thing I ain't saw in the papers this spring. You don't see kids playing marbles much no more. When I was a boy we couldn't wait fer warm weather so's we could shoot marbles. I can see how Johnny, under this new system of education, would forget how to read, but I can't figger why he'd quit shooting marbles. I was talking to my old lady about it last night and she allowed as how it's because Johnny has got too lazy to squat. Yours truly, Uncle Tim

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Republicans, while acting prudently and in good faith, lost part of a chance for a big bow on the public stage in an election year. Democrats stole the show when the legislature enacted a federal program to extend unemployment compensation benefits to 115,000 jobless at a cost of $30,000,000. The workers, the victims of the recession, will be getting their checks beyond the present 26-week maximum this summer.

It all started when Republicans sponsored a proposed extension of benefits during the legislative session but held back to wait for Congressional action. Democrats charged that the original Republican plans were not enough. Republicans reminded that Michigan's benefits exceeded those in all other major industrial states and ranked high in the nation. But they stuck for a time with their controversial state plans even after Congress set up an emergency system of federal loans, totaling $30,000,000 for Michigan, to extend benefits. Democrats, realizing they did not have the majority in the legislature to do anything more, fought for adoption of the federal program.

Then Republicans went for the federal program. When Gov. Williams signed the bill, the Democratic delegation in the legislature was photographed behind his desk and each received a pen with which he signed the bill. The Democratic stand, rightly or wrongly, is that they created pressure enough to force Republicans to vote for the federal plan. Republicans point out they waited to be sure which course was best; that the Democrats could not do it without their votes. Political experts see the situation as a ready-made political issue this year. They predict it will be a vital vote-getter among the unemployed and those who are jittery about business and industry and their fate in the recession. Republicans must make much more of their side of the story; that it took President Eisenhower's signature in Washington and the Republican majority in the Michigan legislature to do the job.

Federal help is always ready for farmers whose land or crops become victims of the caprice of the weather. It is a little-known agency with a state office in Lansing and units in every county; the Farmers Home Administration. The agency is called upon for emergency loans at a low three per cent interest rate when drought wrecks crops or rain and flood conditions washes them out. When a farmer is damaged and his financial picture is bleak, he may apply to a county committee.

for an assessment of his needs and a recommendation for assistance. Small loans are handled locally, but major sums are cleared through the state office and sent on to Washington for final approval. The Lansing office is headed by Elwood Borine of Vandalia, in southwestern Michigan, and a former state senator from that district.

Foreign car registrations are increasing in Michigan. Two reasons are given: that the sportier continental models satisfy an urge for the modern generations, and that domestic cars are becoming too expensive and large. As the registrations increase, all major American automobile manufacturers have revealed they have smaller models on the drafting boards and some have definite plans for making them. Merchandising experts insist, however, that most car buyers say they prefer smaller, less expensive cars and then purchase the gaudiest, biggest cars off the assembly lines.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, noting the increase in foreign car registrations and another boost in used car sales, has one answer. It is reflected in the lower figures on new cars sales and the slightly increased used car sales, the lower price per unit in new cars.

"Perhaps the nation is beginning to trade down to the Joneses, instead of keeping up with them," he said. A man never adds to his stature by treading on others' toes.

BUILDERS' SECTION

Building or remodeling a new home usually involves the largest single expenditure that the average family is called on to make.

This week the Chronicle presents its third annual Home Improvement section featuring information on new home building methods and materials, house plans and advertisements of area firms who are ready and willing to help you with your building problems.

In this section, you'll find representative firms from the area who can supply everything you need to build a house or remodel.

PLAN YOUR BUILDING WITH AREA BUILDING SERVICES AND SUPPLIES

Kitchen Modernization Takes High Priority

If your house is more than 17 years old, and nearly half of America's 26 million family-owned dwellings antedate World War II, chances are you have at least imagined the joys of modernizing your kitchen.

If so, you are right in step with the times for modernization is an important trend in the United States right now, kitchen remodeling in particular. A survey conducted last year indicates that of all home-owners planning improvements, one out of every five was planning kitchen modernization.

For successful kitchen planning, the preliminary step should be a conference of all members of the family to determine exactly what requirements the kitchen should fill.

Planning will be well along by the time you've asked yourselves such as: What are the complaints about the present layout? Should there be dining space in the kitchen? Does the whole family gather there frequently? And, is more than one person apt to be working and, or, cooking at the same time?

Do we need extra oven, sink, or more refrigeration space? Are there any structural bottlenecks such as unnecessary partitions or pantries? Where should the washer and dryer go? Is entertaining an important factor in our family so that service and clean-up could be made easier than it is now?

And so on and on, until you have a clear picture of how a well-planned new kitchen can harmonize with your family's way of life.

"Remodeling" is a term covering a broad range. Modern straightline, mix-or-match appliances are designed to stack and fit together in such a way that a custom-look kitchen is the result. In some cases, merely the installation of new cabinets and appliances will modernize a kitchen. From there, remodeling can range all the way up to a thorough re-building project that includes walls, floor and ceiling.

Whether your remodeling plan is modest or ambitious there are certain physical features which should be checked first, most importantly, the existing plumbing and wiring.

Ancient piping may require replacement and depending on such additions as dishwasher, disposal and automatic washer, you may require additional traps and plumbing lines.

In many old houses wiring is outdated and simply not adequate for today's requirements.

Walls which are badly cracked or damaged can be remedied with the use of an interior wall finish, such as wood paneling or wall-board. Similarly, prefinished wood flooring or tiling can be laid over deficient flooring.

Opportunity often knocks at the door of the man who is honking for service somewhere else.

When a man speaks slightly of himself he must feel that he is rendering a minority report.

After all it's a pretty good world we live in—very few things to trouble mankind except people.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-482

DESIGN B-482. Plans call for wide overhanging eaves and a living room window framed with stone or brick veneer and planter to lend form to the exterior which enables the attached double garage to be in proportion with the overall design. Wide horizontal siding and low pitched asphalt shingle roof comprise the remainder of the exterior. Extra generous closets have been provided in the bedrooms. The master bedroom has low, built-in trays. A separate vestibule with coat closet leads to the living room which features built-in book shelves by the stair wall. Floor area is 996 square feet, cubage is 18,426 cubic feet.

Stock Cabinets Ideal for Storage

Many thrifty and imaginative home-owners are solving their storage and furniture problems with cabinets of wood.

Most of the cabinets come "K-D"—knocked down—and can be quickly assembled with a hammer and screwdriver.

The wide variety of styles and sizes available as stock units from building material dealers makes it possible to build anything from a storage wall to a hi-fidelity cabinet.

The want ads are newsy, too.

Roofing Wins Vital Role In Decorating

When a house gets a new roof, it is always because the old one was worn out?

This used to be the case, say roofing contractors across the country, but not any more. Today more and more home-owners are recognizing the role their roof has in making their homes look better. Roofing has become an important decorating material.

Another factor is the economy of a new roof. In most parts of the country, re-roofing with asphalt shingles doesn't cost much more than a quality paint job... sometimes less.

Here are some examples of home-owners who've had new roofs applied for appearance.

A family in Ohio, tired of their white house, applied a new beige roof over the dark green roofing and used the new roof as a "color key" to paint the house in a soft pastel yellow.

A Michigan family bought an old, three-story house with a light red roof in good condition. Acting on the advice of an architect, they re-roofed with black asphalt shingles to make the tall house look lower.

In California, a man and wife didn't like the green roof on their house because it spoiled the "rustic" decor. They re-roofed with a soft brown blend of asphalt shingles.

In Wisconsin a family planned to sell their home. The roof was giving good protection but looked shabby, spoiling the appearance of the whole house. They re-roofed with a rich grey and the house was quickly sold.

In Oregon, a family moved into a new, modern house with a low-sloped roof covered with a dull, black material. Informed by a roofing contractor that asphalt shingles can be applied to roofs with pitches as low as two inches per foot, they ordered a new roof of pastel pink.

A new roof can be a factor in comfort as well as appearance and protection: In Connecticut a home owner re-roofed with white asphalt shingles over his black roof to take advantage of the heat-reflecting quality of the white.

In another summer comfort case, a couple in Louisiana re-roofed with ivory grey after they installed central air conditioning. The old dark colored roof absorbed heat, but the light color reflected it, making the air conditioner less expensive to operate.

Paint Tray Idea

No need to clean paint trays if you use this tip. Line the tray beforehand with common brown paper. Pour your paint in and go ahead with the job. When finished simply remove the paper from the tray. A little easily-wiped-up oil is all that remains in the tray.

It's all right to pray for the things you want, but it will take a little hustling for the things you must have.

Most people get what they deserve—only the successful admit it.

Excess Shrubs Common Error In Landscaping

Overplanting is the most common error made by amateur "landscapers," believes Joseph T. Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture at Michigan State University.

A natural impatience to fill-in empty spots quickly—before proper size plants have a chance to mature—may cause people to plant too much and choose materials that grow too fast, without taking into account their ultimate size.

Cox points out that a foundation planting can either add or detract from the value of a house. To help owners of new homes that need to be landscaped and for those who want to redesign their general guide.

Draw two lines, beginning at the middle of the front doorstep. Run one line to each front corner of the house ending at a height halfway between the eaves and the ground. Foundation plants, when they are full grown, should fall within these lines.

If the door is in the center of the house, the lines may be symmetrical; if the door is to one side, one line will rise more steeply to the corner, indicating that taller plants on that side will help to achieve a balanced effect.

Cox says the important thing is that the plantings be balanced visually. But this does not mean you need to use exactly the same plants on each side. It's a matter of balancing mass rather than form.

If you would like your house to appear wider, place plants beyond the corners of the house that will grow to a height within a continuation of the lines from the doorstep.

Cox says that although there seems to be a preference for evergreens these days, the two coloring and winter effects of many deciduous shrubs are equally interesting. But if evergreens are used, plant species such as yew, juniper, and holly offer variety and will grow only to the height you desire.

Avoid full-sized trees such as hemlock and pines. Except for small flowering species such as dogwood and flowering crab which may produce a pleasant effect at the corner of a house, trees have no proper place in foundation planting.

In general, with modern houses, foundation plants should be low and spreading. Low plants are especially desirable at doorways and under windows, unless the house has a high foundation.

It may be less trouble to make enemies than friends, but friends are worth the trouble.

Many a substitute has been offered, but elbow grease still remains the essential oil of success.

The man who gets places while appearing to be going nowhere is well versed in the art of diplomacy.

History proves that in every age there have been men who held the opinions of another age—past or future.

The scheme of life seems to be that the good die young and the older we grow the more chance we have of being found out.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-479

DESIGN C-479. This plan includes a lavatory near the rear entry and a dental basin in the main bathroom. A low planter separates the living and dining rooms. Generous bedrooms have wardrobe type closets, and there are plenty of storage closets in the hall. The basement presents an excellent opportunity for those who want a rumpus room, with the entire rear half of the plan providing a clear space. The exterior is a pleasing combination of wide horizontal siding, asphalt shingle roof, planter and the flower box under the kitchen window. Floor area is 1436 square feet; cubage is 28,002 cubic feet. For further information about DESIGN C-479, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. You Can Depend on Established Firms

Law enforcement agencies have often called attention to the many individuals and "gyp" firms who travel throughout Michigan and the Thumb area offering services and supplies at unheard of low prices.

Hundreds of home owners have been swindled by these fast talking "con" men. Authorities say that before any merchandise is purchased from strangers, the better business bureau or a similar organization should be consulted.

One sure way to avoid paint that washes off with the first rain, lumber that warps, cracks and deteriorates, roofs that blow away with the first wind and the myriad other "bargain" offerings of strangers is to buy from known, area firms.

They point out that these firms will be in business after their products have stood the test of time and their reputation and business depends on the good name they have built in the community.

In this Home Improvement section you'll find the advertisement of many of these firms from whom you can buy with absolute confidence.

Hypocrites set good examples only when there's an audience.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Pleasant Fragrance Comes From Daily, Careful Grooming

ANY woman can float as though on a cloud of fragrance if she will study her needs and grooming habits and then keep at them daily.

She needs to choose bath soap, deodorants, anti-perspirants and perfumes with care if she would wear a pleasant air and carry with her that halo of confidence that comes daily good grooming habits.

Bathe Properly

A requisite of all good grooming is the daily bath or shower, and is best when the skin is thoroughly soaped. A deodorant soap, used regularly, helps protect throughout the day.

Deodorants, themselves, whether they be creams, sprays, pads, sticks or lotions are most effective when used on freshly washed skin.

The return of the pretty, pretty dress as done by Suzie Perette in the 1958 collection is seen here in pink silk and cotton. Cut on princess lines, it is beltless and features pink cotton lace in a face framing curve at the neckline and a double row of lace in the moderately full skirt.

They should never be used if the skin is irritated.

Read the labels to find out what each product will do. Deodorants stop odor temporarily. Anti-perspirants will check perspiration. You may need both, and you may even need dress shields. These latter should be laundered daily.

Cattle for County Fair Must Observe Health Regulations

If you are planning on exhibiting cattle at the Tuscola County Fair, here are a few things you should know. These are the latest health requirements published by the Michigan Department of Agriculture, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension director.

All cattle for exhibition must be free from infectious and contagious disease and free from exposure to contagion or infection.

All cattle must have a certificate of record for exhibition (form 170). You may get this certificate of record by writing to the State Veterinarian, Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lewis Cass building, Lansing 13.

This is how you may qualify for the certificate of record for exhibition:

For TB - All counties in Michigan are tuberculosis accredited. If your herd is not under quarantine for a TB infection you may take your cattle to any show in Michigan without getting a tuberculin test.

For Bang's, you must meet one of the following requirements:

(1) A negative blood test for Bang's disease on individual animals conducted within 30 days of the show, or, (2) Cattle identified from a herd with a record of two complete approved negative blood tests for Bang's disease conducted within one year of date of show at no less than 6 months intervals, such individual certificates are valid for 90 days, or, (3) Official calfhood vaccinates under 30 months of age from a herd not under quarantine, such individual certificates valid for 90 days or until the animal becomes 30 months of age, whichever comes earlier, or, (4) Cattle properly identified from herds tested within one year and which are officially recorded as accredited or certified herds, such individual certificates are valid for 90 days, or, (5) Cattle originating from herds not under quarantine and blood tested for brucellosis within one year of the opening day of the fair and located in a modified certified brucellosis free area, such individual certificates valid for 90 days, or, (6) Cattle that originate immediately from a herd of which all members over one year of age, except steers, spayed heifers, and official vaccinates under 30 months of age, have passed an official test for brucellosis conducted within 90 days prior to the opening day of the fair or show, such certificates valid for 90 days.

Steers, free martins, and spayed heifers are exempted from the Bang's test requirement, and may be exhibited from a brucellosis quarantined herd, but in all cases must be accompanied by a certificate of record for exhibition (form 170).

New Boat Law

Michigan's new state boat law requires registration of all power-driven boats—regardless of size—and all non-powered boats more than 16 feet in length. The law applies to boats used on inland waters of the state. The license number, issued by the Secretary of State, must be affixed or painted on the forward part of the craft in numbers at least three inches high.

Wilting Produces Best Grass Silage

Using the direct-cut method to put up grass-legume silage to save one trip over a field usually doesn't pay off, believes Alfred Ballweg, county extension director.

If the forage is cut at the ideal time — early bloom stage — it will contain too much water to make good silage in an upright silo. Besides, valuable nutrients will be lost through seepage, he explains.

Farmers can expect to get a higher quality silage if they mow, rake and then let the forage wilt down to about 70 per cent moisture before ensiling, the agent thinks. Wilting time of two to three hours in good weather gives excess water a chance to evaporate.

If forage is dry enough to make good silage when harvested with a direct-cut machine, the main advantages of making grass-legume silage are lost. Feeding value of the material is not only reduced because of being more mature, but the second crop of hay will be smaller because of a shorter growing season.

All this extra meat remains on the butt half as compared to the ham where this extra meat is removed when the slices are cut from the ham on a bias or slant to remove as many extra slices as possible. Leaving this extra meat on the butt half produces extra fine slices for the consumer. Again, the "TableRite Way" produces more meat for your meat dollar.

Schedule Barley Tour July 1

Farmers interested in growing barley will have an opportunity to bring themselves up to date on the most recent research information available on barley production, said Alfred Baillew, county extension director. The tour will be held on Tuesday, July 1, and will start at the E. C. Korthals farm where the barley variety test plots conducted by Michigan State University are located.

The group will meet at 10:30 a. m. The Korthals farm is located 1 mile south of the junction of Bradleyville road and M-81.

From the Korthals farm, the group will visit the barley field of Roy Hickey of Fairgrove, located in section 11 of Gilford Township -- 3 miles west, 1 mile north and 3/4 mile west of Fairgrove. Here we will see a field of Kindred barley along with a small acreage of a new barley variety known as "Parkland." It has good strength of straw and may be okayed for malting purposes in Canada.

Any interested farmer is invited to join the tour at either stop, said Baillew. Following the tour stops in Tuscola County, the group will visit more barley fields in Huron and Sanilac Counties.

A horticulture field day is scheduled for August 13 on the Michigan State University campus at East Lansing.

NOW more protection than ever for group members!

New Blue Shield medical program is available to everyone in an employee group. And, if you earn up to $7,500 a year, you and your family can get full-payment coverage!

"M-75" pays your Blue Shield participating doctor in full for surgery, in or out of the hospital . . . doctor visits when you're a hospital bed patient, and even for the delivery of your baby.

In addition, "M-75" pays most of the cost of all these brand-new benefits:

- Medical lab tests, even in your doctor's office
- Diagnostic X-ray (pictures) both in and out of the hospital

- Radiology treatments (X-ray, radium) in or out of the hospital
 - Medical consultation or surgical assistance for the doctor when you're a hospital bed patient
- This remarkable new plan is sponsored by the doctors in your own community . . . and its costs and benefits are geared to your income. As a result, you and your family get the most dependable, economical medical-surgical protection available.
