

Plant Burns, Publisher Dies

Paper Published Despite Misfortune

Despite a double misfortune, the Sandusky Republican-Tribune was to have issued a token paper this week. The paper was gutted by fire Friday afternoon and William Irving, publisher, died while supervising the moving of machinery from the ruined building Saturday.

Mr. Irving's death was said to have resulted from a coronary heart attack caused by exertion and strain due to the fire.

He was taken to the Sandusky Hospital at 5:40 p. m. where he was placed in an oxygen tent. He quietly died some 25 minutes later.

Active in the Republican party, he served as a member of the Republican State Central Committee and was an influential figure in Sanilac County politics.

Offers of assistance after the fire poured in from many neighboring newspapers, but plans were to have the July 3 issue of the paper printed at Yale. The Yale Exhibitor was purchased in September, 1956, by Mr. Irving. Both the Exhibitor and the Republican-Tribune have been published in partnership with Mr. Irving's son-in-law, Eldon W. Felker.

Mr. Irving was conversing with Sandusky Fire Chief Grant Yager, who was completing his fire report, when he collapsed.

The paper was in the process of moving equipment to a next door building, rented as temporary headquarters for the paper.

At the time of his death, Mr. Irving was president of the Thumb Publishers Association.

Mr. Irving was a resident of Sanilac County all of his life. He was born in Delaware Township Sept. 26, 1896, and purchased the two Sandusky papers in 1931. He combined them to form the Republican-Tribune.

Escaped Brahmas Provide Unlisted Thrill at Rodeo

Fans attending the annual Tuscola County Boots and Saddle Club's horse show and rodeo received a thrill not listed on the program Sunday when two Brahma bulls escaped.

One of the bulls squeezed through the fence where the show was held and the other jumped over the fence, scattering riders waiting their turn at the show.

After a chase of about an hour the first of the two animals was captured. The second was more elusive, running in and out of the Caro Fairgrounds, pursued by members of the show on horseback.

One rider roped the angry Brahma but was unable to hold it. It was not until several riders put a rope around the animal that the powerful bull was brought under control.

John E. Goslin Injured in Accident

John E. Goslin, 26, of Gagetown was slightly injured in an accident at 8:30 a. m. Saturday, about six miles southwest of Owendale.

He sustained bruises on the left ankle, arm and knee. Huron County Deputy Robert Quinn estimated the damage to the Goslin car at $500.

Second Cut Vital For Hay Crop In Sanilac County

A review of the 1958 hay crop in Sanilac County revealed the total tonnage is considerably less than normal but it was felt there would be an adequate supply if the second crop was nearly normal.

The total supply was far from serious enough to warrant requesting the county be declared a disaster area which would be necessary to pasture fields in the Acreage Reserve Program.

This was the decision made by members of the Agricultural Committee of the County Board of Supervisors and the Sanilac County Dairy Planning Committee at a meeting held in the Courthouse, Friday evening, according to Keith C. Sowerby, County Extension Agent in Agriculture.

Statistics furnished by the U. S. Weather Bureau Reporting Station at Sandusky revealed only 5.76 inches of rainfall in 1958 as compared to a normal of 15.44 inches through June 30. The 1957 and 1956 figures report 16.69 and 18.16 inches respectively for the same period.

Farmers attending the meeting felt that new seedlings in 1957 were suffering considerably more from the dry weather and numerous late frosts than were well established, older meadows. They also felt that an aggressive fertilizer program had often meant the difference between a good yield and near failure in many instances this year.

With the shortage of hay and pasture that exists in the county it behooves farmers to give serious consideration to side dressing their corn crop to obtain maximum yields of both forage and grain.

Nancy Spencer at Camp Shaw for Leader Training

Nancy Spencer, Tyre, has completed a week's training at Camp Shaw located near the Upper Peninsula Experimental Station at Chatham.

Outstanding 4-H members in soil and water and wildlife conservation, gun safety, forestry, entomology and other related fields were selected to attend the camp.

Camp Shaw, now in its 22nd year, is sponsored by the 4-H Club program, Cooperative Extension Service and Michigan State University.

Members arrived at the camp Monday afternoon when four "tribes" were formed and quarters assigned.

Instruction Tuesday began with a talk about land use. Simplified land judging was demonstrated and the use of slope finders and measuring by pacing shown the group. Vegetation types were identified and experimental plots visited. The plots are used to find what plants are best to prevent soil erosion. The group also practiced land judging.

Highlight of Wednesday's program was a visit to an experimental forest, including a virgin forest. The students toured a charcoal plant, learning how charcoal is produced and the important byproducts that are collected in the process. Wood is

Sisters Stricken by Polio in 1952

Long Struggle for Kingston Girls

The Garth Chappel family, Kingston, has had its share of problems. They remember well a November morning in 1952 when their sleeping household was aroused by nine-year-old Sally, who stumbled uncertainly out of a warm bed and collapsed suddenly on the floor crying, "Daddy, I can't walk -- I can't walk!"

Equally well they remember 10 months later when the youngest child, Nancy, 17 months, was also stricken with polio.

When Sally was referred to the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital for treatment on November 24, 1952, she could not walk or stand. Her spine was twisted. Stiffness had

Dale Little Dies In Accident Friday

Dale C. Little, 28, of Cass City was killed Friday afternoon when he was thrown from his pickup truck after crashing into the rear of a farm wagon on M-81, two miles west of Cass City.

The wagon was being towed by a tractor driven by Dougald Krug, 36, of Cass City. Mr. Krug narrowly escaped serious injury when the wagon was pushed into the tractor, crumpling a fender near the driver's seat.

The accident occurred as Mr. Little was attempting to pass the wagon. The truck collided with the left rear of the wagon, throwing Mr. Little from the car. The truck spun about and skidded 96 feet down the highway.

Bales of hay from the wagon were strewn along the highway. Mr. Little was dead when admitted to Pleasant Home Hospital.

Investigating the accident were Marshal Bill Wood and members of the Bad Axe State Police Post and Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

The distribution was authorized to families whose income is below 60 per cent of the Federal-State maximum by the Tuscola County Board of Supervisors in its June session.

Language Big Problem in Africa Rotarians Told

Abe Sabbah, a native of Africa, told members of the Cass City Rotary Club of the language problem in a return visit to the club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Language, he said, is the biggest handicap in a united Africa. . . there are over 700 different languages and dialects spoken in the country.

Most are derivatives of Semitic languages from Asia and Hamitic languages, native to Africa. There are over 20 major divisions of languages in the country. Imagine at this club meeting, he said to illustrate his point, the president getting up to speak and requiring 17 interpreters to let the members know what he was saying. By the time the interpretations have been completed everyone would have forgotten what the president was saying. That's the biggest trouble in Africa today, he said.

Officers Installed
New officers of the club assumed their duties this week. Vice-president Louis Bartz presided for President Bill Profit. Secretary is Bob Keating and treasurer is Newell Manke. Stuart Atwell is the sergeant at arms.

From the Editor's Corner

We add our plea to multitude of others who are reminding travellers of the dangers of driving over the Fourth of July holiday. Despite the warnings, extra patrolmen and extreme caution by the great majority of drivers, a reckless few will be responsible for a huge carnage on the highways this week end. We trust that a Cass Cityite will not be the cause or innocent victim in one of the many accidents.

For the first six months this year, the record has been excellent throughout the state. Each month has seen a reduction of deaths and the number is 20 per cent less than occurred last year.

With the long week end and the hot weather authorities regard the three-day Fourth holiday as a crucial period in maintaining the excellent record during the remainder of the year.

Test Navy Beans In Two Locations

Two bean variety test plots were again planted in two widely separated bean growing areas of Tuscola County, reports Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. Cooperating in the planting of these test plots are the local farmer or bean grower, the Farm Crops Department of Michigan State University, and the local county Cooperative Extension Service.

The purpose of these navy bean variety test plots, according to Ballweg, is to learn more about the field performance of varieties in the bean growing areas of Michigan. The test plots contain four varieties planted side by side. Four rows of each 200 ft. long and planted in some distance from the side of the cooperating farmer's own field of beans.

Varieties included in the tests are Sanilac, Muefeld "211" strain C and Michelite. Cooperating growers are Fred Korhals of Gifford Township, and Milton Bedore of Columbia Township. Actual comparative yield tests will be made of each variety at harvest time.

Performance of these test plots in bean growing areas of Michigan is a big help in appraising the over-all performance of individual varieties.

BULEN TALKS Cars

IS YOUR MUFFLER A LIFE SNUFFER?

The other day, I read in the paper that police had traced the real cause of an accident to a motorist's muffler! Fortunately, no one was seriously hurt, but the damage to the two cars ran to several hundred dollars.

When mufflers get burned and rusted, it takes very little to make a hole. When a hole appears, dangerous gases escape. If conditions are right, these gases can seep into your car . . . sometimes in dangerous amounts. You've all read or heard of people dying in closed-up cars. Even in the story I read in the paper, poisonous gases had affected the driver . . . impaired his ability to drive. In fact, police first thought he had been drinking.

The exhaust system on your car is designed to carry waste gases away from the car . . . and the muffler has been developed to cut down motor noise. There is always a certain amount of condensation inside the muffler and tail pipe. Waste from your motor is acid. The result is corrosion and rust . . . and finally a hole.

It is only good sense and good safety to replace your muffler and tail pipe at the first sign of serious wear. That makes driving safer and quieter for you. Don't risk your life or an accident by neglecting your exhaust system.

Let us check your exhaust system today. It takes only a few minutes of your time to check. And when your muffler and tail pipe need replacing we can do the job in a very short time . . . the cost is reasonable. Keeping your car in top shape makes driving safer, more pleasant for you . . . and when you do want to trade, you make a better deal.

At a candlelight service in the Pilgrim Holiness Church at Kingston, Saturday evening, June 28, Miss Donna O'Dell became the bride of Mr. Joel W. Hurley. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William C. O'Dell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley J. Hurley of Crosswell.

Rev. H. C. Riekner of Port Huron officiated and Rev. Lester Nelson of Kingston assisted. The church was decorated with palms, candelabra and flowers. Mrs. Jack Boomer of Mt. Pleasant sang "Because" and "Day of Golden Promise" and Miss Marguerite Starr of Lapeer sang "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us." They accompanied each other at the organ and Miss Starr played the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of imported clipped Chantilly lace featuring a fitted bodice, lace applique illusion neckline with satin accents and wrist-point sleeves. Chantilly lace over satin complemented her full sweeping floor-length skirt which fell to a chapel-length train. Her tiara of pearls and iridescents held a silk illusion fingertip veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses, white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Emma Jane Sickler was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Judy O'Dell, sister of the bride. They were dressed alike in blue embossed lace nylon dresses, featuring full skirts, fitted bodices and nylon chiffon softly draped necklines. Arlene O'Dell, junior bridesmaid, sister of the bride, wore pink embossed nylon. All wore floral headbands and carried cascade arrangements of pink and white mums. The flower girl, Karen Hurley, niece of the groom, was dressed in pink and carried a basket of rose petals.

Charles Hurley of Crosswell, brother of the groom, was best man. Also attending the groom were Larry Lindke and Lewis Hurley, brother of the groom, both of Crosswell. Seating the guests were Keith, David and Jack O'Dell, brothers of the bride, Charles Gray and Lloyd Straffen of Crosswell and Bill Nass of Ypsilanti.

The reception for 300 guests was held at the Deford Community School. The couple will return from a one-week trip to Niagara Falls and New York to live at Rosebush, Mich., where Mr. Hurley is pastor of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Hurley will teach at the Coleman Community School this fall.

The bride is a graduate of Cass City High School and Central Michigan College. The groom is a graduate of Crosswell High School and is attending Central Michigan College.

Couple Exchanges Vows Saturday

Mrs. Fern Profit and Mr. Emerson Peters were married Saturday, June 28, at the Methodist Church parsonage. Rev. Ernest Robinson performed the ceremony.

Miss Patricia Profit, the bride's daughter, and Mr. Richard Easton attended the couple. After the wedding the group enjoyed dinner at Blue Water Inn, Caseville.

A small reception was held in the evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Richard Kartz.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters are enjoying a short trip in the Upper Peninsula. They will make their home at 3386 Pasadena, Pontiac.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Political leaders in the legislature trapped themselves into a fight neither party wanted and ended with a compromise nobody wanted.

The battle ended with the Michigan State Police getting $11,700,000 and a reduced budget for 1958-59.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION—
Notice of Hearing—Appointment of Administrator and Determination of Fees.

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Tuscola.

In the Matter of the Estate of Leo Sawicki Deceased.

At a session of said Court, held on the 16th day of June A. D. 1958.

Present, Honorable Henderson Graham, Judge of Probate.

Notice is hereby given, that the petition of John Sawicki praying that the administration of said estate be granted to John Sawicki or to some other suitable person; and that the heirs of said deceased be determined, will be heard at the Probate Court on July 14th, 1958, at 10 a. m.

It is ordered, that notice thereof be given by publication of a copy hereof for three weeks consecutively previous to said day of hearing, in the Cass City Chronicle, and that the petitioner cause a copy of this notice to be served upon each known party in interest at his last known address by registered or certified mail, return receipt demanded, at least fourteen (14) days prior to such hearing, or by personal service at least five (5) days prior to such hearing.

Henderson Graham, Judge of Probate
Beatrice F. Berry, Register of Probate

It stirred personal bitterness and gave both parties new issues for the fall campaign. Joseph A. Childs, commissioner of the state police, wanted to become a political issue least of all, but he was caught squarely in the middle of the hassle.

Republicans, recognizing the state was close to a barren treasury, decided to impose a formula budget cut to all state agencies.

There were objections in all fields: corrections, mental health, public health, general government, regulatory agencies and public safety and defense.

In the pull and tug of legislative maneuvering, the differences were settled—all but the State Police budget and lesser items in the $21,500,000 public safety and defense bill.

Conciliation and compromise moves failed during the regular session.

The House insisted on $11,816,000. The Senate was willing to appropriate only $11,300,000 at first, but later held to the figure $11,700,000. Marathon caucuses produced only stiffened attitudes and stronger resistance.

That is the way the regular 1958 session ended.

Gov. Williams could make a little political hay by calling the legislature back into special session. The State Police, famous for its excellence throughout the nation, faced a crisis.

Senators reasoned that a good administrator could absorb a budget cut of less than one per cent. House Democrats backed Republican arguments that Childs should not be forced to lay off troopers.

Childs walked a figurative tightrope.

He was finally called upon to make an official analysis of his position. He said he could not guarantee that no layoffs would be required, but he would try to make ends meet.

Childs, a friendly soft-spoken career man, lost friends because he refused to take sides and fight.

As the session ended, an investigation already was under way by a senate committee into operations of all government agencies. They vowed if any waste existed, they would find it.

Childs received the $11,700,000 for next year and went back to his job, enforcing the law.

Both Republicans and Democrats saved face at the last minute, but both acknowledged that the Senate had won a major victory over the House.

Manufacturers, as well as merchants, now can be sued for damages brought about by inferior products.

The decision by the State Supreme Court set a precedent which overthrew an ancient English dictum adopted in America when the country was young.

For more than a century, manufacturers of products not considered inherently open to danger (narcotic drugs, cosmetics and others) were immune from damage suits.

The historic case involved cinder blocks sold for the construction of cottages in southwestern Michigan. The blocks were proved to be faulty in court.

The Supreme Court ruled that the contractor was not liable and that the injured party could sue the manufacturer.

Benefits from industrial leadership are apparent when business is booming; equally apparent when production slacks off. One of the reasons for the economic feast or famine can be seen in a report from the Detroit Chamber of Commerce.

The Detroit area, including Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, leads the nation in five industrial groups. It ranks number two in three additional classifications; third in four more.

This section of Michigan leads the nation in production of motor vehicles and equipment; metal-working machinery; iron and steel foundries; inorganic chemicals. It is second in production of tires and tubes; drugs and medicine; non ferrous rolling and drawing.

The Detroit area ranks third in metal stamping and coating; general industrial machinery and fabricated wire products.

So it is easy to see that when industry booms, Detroit booms; when production slows down, so does the economy of the Detroit area.

100 4-H'ers Slated At State Park

Over 100 boys and girls enrolled in Tuscola County's 4-H Club program will open the Inter-County 4-H Camp at Sleeper State Park on Sunday afternoon, July 6, says Bill Muller, County Extension Agent in 4-H Club work.

Following Tuscola County's campers will be Huron, Sanilac and Saginaw Counties in that order.

The four counties rent the group camp from the State Conservation Department for a period of three weeks starting with the first full week in July.

AT A PRICE
Some people are willing to lend a hand if they think they have a chance of borrowing two later.

HALF THE BATTLE
Enthusiasm accomplishes little unless accompanied by a certain amount of planning and hustle.

MATTER OF PRIDE
After all it takes a lot of courage to admire the man who made a success of what you gave up as a failure.

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
Me and my old lady heard a mighty powerful sermon up at the country church Sunday. These country preachers git right down to rock bottom about things. The few times I've been in a city church I couldn't figure out half the time who the good parson was shooting at. But it ain't no trouble to sight the target when a country preacher takes his text.

And when a city preacher is bagging a few birds, the country parson is shooting at the whole covey. For instant, Sunday he was aiming at hypocrites. That took in about everybody in the church except me and my old lady, and sometimes I ain't too sure about her.

Another thing about country preachers. If he's out sick or gone visiting among other flocks for a couple Sundays, he starts right back where he left off and brings things right up to now, all in one sermon. Sometimes it takes him two hours, but a country preacher on Sunday morning has got more time than Congress has got investigations.

Speaking of Congress, I see where they is talking about cutting income taxes. I don't pay no attention to such talk. In an election year this gits as routine as raising the flag over the post office ever morning. Taxes and death is unavoidable, and we're mighty lucky death can't git no worse ever time Congress meets.

But I got a lot of sympathy for this present Congress. They've got a heap of serious decisions to make, on everything from running again to claiming territorial right to the moon. And back home we've got our decision problems, too. We've got to decide if Congress is deciding right, and on top of all our other deciding, come fall and we got to decide whether to go fer one point, or two after ever touchdown. This is a year of decision and that's for sure.

The fellers up at the country store Saturday night was debating what makes a man go into politics anyhow. Ed Doolittle said he'd been watching 'em fer 40 years and he always noted that whenever a feller walks too fast to plow, is too light fer heavy work and too heavy fer light work, he always ends up in politics.

I see in the paper this morning where a ear specialist named Dr. Aram Glorig from California says putting a hi-fi unit in a juke box is a waste of money. He claims the average human ear ain't delicate enough to catch the extra quality. That's the first time I ever knowed the juke box crowd was interested in quality. I always thought they was interested in nothing but noise. If you read the papers you'll learn a little something ever day. The only thing that beats the newspaper fer learning things is to keep your ear tuned to the telephone on your party line. For instant, I heard some woman telling another one that this was Rita Hayworth's fifth marriage. All the time I thought it was her eighth.

Yours truly,
Uncle Tim

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago
Winds that reached 70 miles per hour whipped the Cass City area Tuesday, destroying barns, uprooting trees and destroying the power lines serving the area. The gale knocked five windows out of the Rinerd Knoblet home and destroyed the Knoblets' barn.

William Ray Kelley, 66, of Deford was killed and David Seignourie, also of Deford, is in serious condition in Cass City Hospital as a result of an accident on Deford Road early Sunday morning. Mr. Kelley's car struck head-on with one driven by Elmer Fritz. Mr. Fritz and his wife were both hospitalized.

A drive for funds for the tornado-stricken Flint area will be conducted by the Elkland Township Community Chest, it was decided at their Monday night meeting.

Four employees of the Nestle Condensed Milk Co. have received gold pins of the Quarter Century Club, representing 25 years with the company. Helen O'Rourke is the most recent member of the club. Others are John Ryan, Mason Wilson and Alva Burt. The Nestle's plant is now in its 34th year of operation as the biggest employer in Cass City.

The Tuscola board of supervisors set up a committee Thursday to negotiate a loan of $60,000 to relieve the $65,000 deficit facing the county. The money would be paid back out of the first taxes collected under the seven and a half mill tax passed in April.

Ronald Poslusny is in serious condition in St. Luke Hospital, Saginaw, after his car went off Deckerville Road near Deford and hit an abutment early Saturday morning.

Twenty-five Years Ago
Nile Stafford, son of Mrs. Roy Stafford, is a patient at the Morris Hospital with his right leg broken above the knee. He was struck by a swinging crane Tuesday morning while at work for his uncle, L. H. Stafford.

The half-price sale of 1933 license plates will start Aug. 1, it was announced by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald.

Nine candidates have been named for the title of "Miss Cass City" to compete in the Sugar Queen contest at the Tuscola County fair in August. They are: Andree Bliss, Iris Connell, Virginia Day, Marie McKenzie, Beatrice Martin, Irene Robinson, Johanna Sandham, Bernita Taylor and Anna Wroble.

Mrs. Falconio De Carrier died Sunday at the Morris Hospital after an automobile accident four miles north of Cass City. Her husband and two others were injured.

County Engineer James Schwaderer was in Cass City Wednesday morning arranging for the preliminary work necessary for the widening of the county highway from Cass City to the Huron Tuscola line.

Thirty-five Years Ago
The Tuscola County board of supervisors defeated a resolution for an appropriation for testing cattle for tuberculosis, by a 12 to 11 vote last week.

Howard Paldi, 12, son of a Snover merchant, was fatally injured Monday when a light truck in which he was riding was struck by an interurban car at Marysville.

R. D. Ure, poultry extension specialist from the Michigan Agricultural College, will be in Tuscola County July 9-11 to hold poultry culling demonstrations in connection with poultry demonstration farms selected by the county agricultural agent. Among the farms he will visit are those of C. E. Morse, Gageton, and J. J. Jeffrey, Kingston.

Fly Control Easy With Right Program

Controlling flies in dairy barns can be an easy task if a good program is followed, reports Don R. Kehler, county extension agent in agriculture.

The material to use is called Malathion and it will give control up to two weeks per application on floors and three weeks on walls.

Just mix either 16 pounds of 25 per cent wettable powder, or 1 gallon of 50 per cent emulsion in 50 gallons of water and spray the walls and floors of the barn. Neither of these sprays are to be used on the animals or in the milk house at any time. Also the animals must not be in the barn during spraying or allowed into a sprayed area for at least 1 hour after spraying.

A better floor treatment will be to make a sweet bait of Malathion and sugar. Mix 1 pound of 25 per cent wettable Malathion powder in 24 pounds of sugar. Sprinkle this bait uniformly on dry surfaces. By using this Malathion treatment every two weeks during the fly season, the fly problem will be greatly removed. A good clean-up program is also needed with the spray treatment.

for best control. Malathion has an objectionable odor and can cause headaches if too much is inhaled, warns Kehler. However, the use of a face mask will help eliminate this problem, and leave the doors open while spraying. Wear old clothes and wash them thoroughly each time after spraying.

Keep small children and pets away from areas where bait is spread on the floor.

TIP TO MOTORISTS
It's just good common sense to steer clear of driving practices that can result in injury and death.

County Home Demonstration Agent

Each year homemakers get a chance to take a short "refresher" course at Michigan State University. You will need to start making plans soon if you are going to attend this year's Homemakers' Conference July 22 to 25.

There will be education, inspiration and recreation in the four-day program. Twenty-two classes covering a variety of subjects will be taught; you can choose the one you want to attend.

You can take a look at how families plan to use their special talents, good health, even money, to reach the family's goals. To get ideas for mapping out a plan for your family, just attend the class on "your financial road map."

If you have trouble answering children's questions about the Bible, religion, faith and nature of life, you may want to choose the class "When Children Ask." You can find out how to banish washday blues, learn easy ways to save yourself, and how to take it easy in the kitchen. These are given in the class "Easy Ways with Housework." Other classes are offered in choral music, good design in crafts, recreation, flower arrangement, food marketing, fighting inflation and home landscape improvement. You can also learn to take pictures, to write for mass media, to conduct a meeting and to speak more easily to groups.

The conference also includes noted speakers and a variety of entertainment. You can make your reservation through my office by writing or telephoning Caro, 330. The cost for the four days is $22.00.

The women of the Reese extension group drove to Saginaw and toured the Michigan Bean Company and Gase Bakery for their final meeting of the summer.

The final summer meeting for Silverwood extension women will be a potluck picnic held at Indianfields Park.
