$25,000 Kresge Check Assures Hospital Now

The Cass City Community Hospital this week received a check from the Kresge Foundation for $25,000, fulfilling their pledge, and bringing the total cash collected to some 80 per cent of the amount pledged.

The check, together with the amounts given on pledges in recent weeks by area residents, assures construction of the hospital immediately.

Report Shows Village Water Good for Teeth

A report from the Michigan Department of Health received by the village of Cass City indicates that the village's water is very beneficial for teeth of residents.

The results of the plant tap of the Cass City water softening plant on July 9 indicates no iron, 140 parts per million of hardness and .7 parts per million of fluorides.

The letter said, "Since the recommended optimum fluoride content for the reduction of dental caries is 1.0 parts per million, the fluoride content of your water would seem to be very beneficial."

Deford School Opens Sept. 2

Principal A. A. Spratt announced this week that the Deford Elementary School will open Tuesday, Sept. 2, at 8:45 a. m. for all students. Classes will meet for a half day and students will be dismissed at 11:30 a. m. A hot lunch will not be served on the opening day of school.

Boards Frown on Transfer of Land to Cass City District

An informal opinion by the county school boards of Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac counties Tuesday evening indicated that the property owners of 57 parcels of land will not be allowed to transfer into the Cass City district from the Gagetown-Owendale District.

No formal action has been taken, but the opinion was informally decided so that students in the affected area would know where to start school next week. If the petitions are formally denied, property owners have the right to appeal to the State Board of Education.

Start Erection Of New Building For Walbro Corp.

Construction started Tuesday on a 60x100-foot building for the engineering, development and experimental sections of Walbro Corporation.

The building is being erected by the Cass City Development Corporation and will be leased to Walbro for a period expected to be five years. All details of the lease plan have not yet been completed.

The building is estimated to cost around $80,000, according to a member of the Development Corporation.

The Development Corporation was formed as a non-profit corporation, but due mainly to an increase in the value of the original 21-acre site, a 20 per cent dividend to stockholders was paid last year.

The new building is being erected on the last two and a half acres remaining in the original site reserved for industry.

Hear Several Cases In Circuit Court

Bulletin: Donald Gordon Wilton was sentenced to one to 15 years in Jackson Prison with no recommendation. Wednesday morning by Judge T. C. Quinn after he had pleaded guilty to breaking and entering.

Adrian Hutchinson was found guilty of contempt for non-payment of alimony. His sentence was suspended when he agreed to allow $30 weekly to be deducted from his salary and sent to the Friend of the Court's office for alimony payments.

Several cases were heard in Tuscola County Circuit Court during the week.

Thursday, Aug. 21, Melvin R. Clark asked damages from Robert Walker, real estate salesman, for allegedly misrepresenting a house that he bought through the broker. Judge T. C. Quinn asked that briefs be filed and the case was taken under advisement.

In another case Thursday, Adrian Hutchinson was brought before the court for non-payment of alimony. His case was adjourned until he found a job. He was expected to be back in court Wednesday and has a job waiting if he lives up to the terms of the agreement to be set by the court, reported Tuesday. Mr. Hutchinson has been in the county jail while waiting for disposition of his case.

Wednesday, Aug. 20, several cases concluded after press time were heard.

Doris Jean Michalik was granted temporary alimony of $25 weekly from Joseph R. Michalik. Mr. Michalik was ordered to pay $100 attorney's fees.

The Atlanta Metallic Casket Co. was awarded a default judgment of $183.35 and costs of $33.38 from Earl Douglas of Cass City.

Marjory H. Herriman was divorced from Calvin R. Herriman. A property settlement was approved.

Dorothy Baird was granted a divorce and alimony of $10 weekly for each of four children from Bill Crawford Baird.

Pair Sponsor Area Drive for McIntosh

Two prominent Tuscola County Republicans have announced that they are forming "McIntosh-Ford Congress" Committees in their respective localities. Audley Rawson, Cass City, and Sherwood Rice Jr., Gagetown, will set up the groups to further the candidacy of Congressman Robert J. McIntosh, Port Huron Republican, first elected to Congress two years ago.

Rawson, a farmer, and Rice, a businessman, stated: "We welcome the opportunity to participate in the campaign of a fine, young Congressman like Jack McIntosh. We will also welcome any volunteers who would like to help out and be members of our local committees in Cass City and Gagetown."

Congressman McIntosh will visit this area at least once, and probably two or three times, before the November election, according to Rice and Rawson. The Congressman's campaign schedule was unavoidably curtailed by the unusually long session of Congress which kept McIntosh in Washington until after mid-August.

STORM CASUALTIES—John Krug looks at three of his four cows killed when struck by lightning during the brief electrical storm Wednesday, Aug. 20. The lightning also struck and splintered a fence post near the dead cattle.

From the Editor's Corner

The way in which the discussion over parking on Main Street was handled Tuesday night at the council meeting was a credit to both sides. Despite the firm convictions of the council and the merchants, the session was handled in a businesslike manner. Both sides kept almost exclusively to the main issues involved. As Cliff Croft said, "We don't want hard feelings on either side after this matter is settled."

We believe, too, that C. R. Hunt's suggestion that Cass City solve its problems like they always have by working together has obvious merit and the steps taken and the attitude of the council following the meeting (as reported in the general story) is an important stride forward in the controversy.

There's a very fine collie dog looking for a home in the Cass City area, Dog Warden Jerry Stilson reported this week. The collie was picked up over three days ago, but Mr. Stilson is reluctant to destroy him.

He obviously belonged to someone and is well cared for, Stilson said. He was found with a choker chain attached to his collar.

The dog is brown with a white blaze and is available for free adoption at once.

Holmberg Explains Radiation to Club

"What makes radiation so deadly is that it cannot be detected by any of the five ordinary senses of humans, yet its effect can cause serious injury or death," Arthur Holmberg told members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

Because of the interest in the effects of radiation from atomic blasts and for a better understanding of articles concerning the atomic age, Mr. Holmberg traced the history and scientific

Burial Saturday for Drowning Victims

Final rites for William C. Eickhoff, 29, and his son, Richard, five, of Bad Axe will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at Little's Funeral Home.

The father and son were drowned in a tragic accident in the north branch of the Cass River Sunday, about seven miles northeast of Cass City.

The family was on a fishing trip when the drownings occurred. Richard was running along the bank of the river to show his father a fish his mother, Barbara, had caught when he slipped and fell into about 12 feet of water at the Hadley Road Bridge in Sanilac County.

The father jumped into the river in an attempt to rescue the boy, but unable to swim, he drowned with his son.

Mrs. Eickhoff saw her husband and son disappear below the surface of the water, but was unable to help. Another son was with her. The bodies were recovered about 50 minutes later.

The Eickhoff family moved to the area in March from La Puente, Calif.

Surviving are: his widow; a son, Clifford John, four; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Eickhoff of La Puente, Calif.; his grandparents, Mrs. Bertha Minor of La Puente and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Coulter of Gagetown.

Boy Injured in Fall from Attic

Six-year-old Jon Buschlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Buschlen of Snover, was admitted to Cass City Hospital Thursday for treatment of injuries sustained when he fell from an attic onto a cement floor. His jaw was cracked on the right side and he lost one tooth.

He returned to his home Friday.

Donation Assures New Valley Trails Scout Building

R. Perry Shorts of Saginaw has made available funds for the construction of a nature study and handicraft building at Camp Rotary, the Boy Scout Camp near Clare. The new building will be 30 feet by 24 feet. It will be equipped with facilities for handicraft and nature study during the summer months and will be provided with heating and cooking facilities, together with bunk beds, to be used as a winter camp site in other seasons.

Mahlon W. Vance of Caro, president of the Valley Trails Council, stated: "The gift from Mr. Shorts, in excess of $6,000, will make possible the immediate construction of one of the major buildings in the long term plans of Camp Rotary's growth. The structure has been so designed that it will serve boys in every month of the year, giving us a facility long desired by the boys and their leaders. Our gratitude to Mr. Shorts can be best expressed in the tremendous impetus this structure and its contents will give to good camping and good character building for all kinds of boys from all five counties in the Scout Council."

Mr. Vance has indicated that construction of the building will be started within the next few weeks with completion date set for November 1 so that the building can be used this winter.

Mr. Shorts said that parking could be helped if limits to parking on side streets off Main Street were restricted to two-hour parking and enforced. The council agreed to this suggestion.

Jim Gross seemed to sum up the sentiments of the merchants present when he said that parking is very serious. "Taking away seven and leaving nine parking spaces on my side of the block is making it harder and harder for Cass City businessmen."

The council refused to take any further action Tuesday, but a special meeting of the council to discuss the problem has been scheduled for Tuesday night, Sept. 2, at 8 p. m.

Rawson Chairman of Tuscola United Fund

Audley Rawson of Cass City was elected chairman of the Tuscola County United Fund at the annual meeting held in Caro recently.

Other officers named were: co-campaign chairmen, Watson Spaven, Mayville, and George Frye, Vassar; secretary, Mahlon Vance, Caro, and treasurer, Sterling Harris, Caro.

Named as directors and members of the executive committee were: Ed Shell, Millington; Pat Gerity, Caro, and Fred Auten, Cass City.

New directors are: Horace Bulen and Dave Ackerman, both of Cass City; John Krauss, Unionville; Harold Metcalf, Fairgrove, and Rev. Willard Rahn, Vassar.

At the meeting budgets for various participating agencies were approved and allocated to local chests.

Buniack Fined in Cass City Friday

John S. Buniack, 64, of Deford was arrested early Friday by Marshal William Wood. He pleaded guilty to the charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor on South Seeger Street before Justice Reva M. Little the same day.

He paid a fine and costs of $79.30 and surrendered his operator's license.

Special Meeting Slated Tuesday

Whether Main Street will have parallel parking or revert to angle parking was still not definitely decided today following Tuesday night's meeting of the Village Council at the Municipal Building when some 40 merchants packed the council chambers to protest the change.

The open meeting, with free discussion among council members and merchants, was opened by B. A. Calka, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who asked that the council rescind parallel parking.

Village President B. F. Benkelman Jr. listed the reasons why the council had ordered parallel parking. He turned to Village Attorney A. J. Stevens who read a part of state law that says that parking must be parallel on state trunkline highways.

He then explained that the council wanted curb and gutter and Main Street widening from city limits to city limits with Federal and State participation and that parallel parking was necessary for the money. There has been no definite date set by the state for the work and a resolution passed by the council promised that parallel parking would be in effect by the time work on Main Street started. However, the state has now been notified that the change is in effect, in the hopes that it would speed the work here. Cost of the project has been roughly estimated up to $100,000.

Mr. Benkelman pointed out that there had been ample notice of the change and that no protest had been heard from the businessmen before.

Merchants' Stand
Mr. Calka pointed out that an early article in the Chronicle stated that only two cars per block would be lost, but that an actual count revealed that six cars per side were lost with the switch. He claimed that was the reason that merchants weren't alarmed before.

Cliff Croft said that the parking was affecting business. "You're driving business to other towns and future business outside of the city limits," he said.

Keith McConkey and Joe Riley pointed out that Cass City is competing with three county seats . . . Bad Axe, Sandusky and Caro . . . for business and that "the only advantage we had in the intense competition for the business was our parking and now you have taken that from us."

When the inevitable problem of a parking lot was discussed, C. R. Hunt said that he would not vote to use taxpayers' money to purchase a parking lot for businessmen. He read a telegram from Mr. Bauer of Michigan State Highway Department urging the village to give parallel parking a fair trial.

Mr. Calka asked for a year to solve the parking problem and offered to put in writing that they would not protest parallel parking a year from the time the agreement was signed.

Joe Sommers said that parking could be helped if limits to parking on side streets off Main Street were restricted to two-hour parking and enforced. The council agreed to this suggestion.

Jim Gross seemed to sum up the sentiments of the merchants present when he said that parking is very serious. "Taking away seven and leaving nine parking spaces on my side of the block is making it harder and harder for Cass City businessmen."

The council refused to take any further action Tuesday, but a special meeting of the council to discuss the problem has been scheduled for Tuesday night, Sept. 2, at 8 p. m.

Informal Discussion

After the merchants left, the problem was discussed informally by the council. Cliff Ryan said that if Cass City was his business he would change to parallel parking for financial help from the government for curb and gutter. However, when as many persons as were present are against it he felt that it perhaps could be rescinded temporarily.

The council felt that an effort could be made to secure adequate off-street parking and an effort will be made to have suggestions for the next meeting. If off-street parking can be arranged, then they felt that parking could remain as it is.

Council to Check Off-Street Parking Areas in Village

Village President B. F. Benkelman Jr. appointed committees to investigate parking lot sites in the village at the regular meeting of the village council Tuesday.

He asked C. R. Hunt and Cliff Ryan to check on possible space in the north Main Street alley, the lot owned by Harold and Tom Jackson behind the Gamble store facing Seeger Street, and the lot behind the Presbyterian Church.

He appointed Warren Wood and Andrew Bigelow to check the alley on the south side of Main Street. The work is to be done at once so that conclusions can be presented at the special council meeting slated Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Other Business

The council made plans to spend the $8,000 allotted in the budget for street improvement. Plans call for some of the work to be done by the company that is resurfacing M-81. Less heavily traveled streets will receive a double seal which costs about half as much as asphalt paving. Streets to be completed this year have not been definitely decided.

Arthur Kettlewell appeared before the council to protest against refuse from the village dump pushed on his land. The council is aware of the problem and is seeking a new dump site.

The council checked the budget for the year and found enough savings in several departments to comply with a request from the Village Planning Commission for a down payment to hire a village planning expert. Cost is not expected to exceed $1,000 for the first year.

One of the first problems to face the planner will be Main Street parking in Cass City, the commission feels.

Fox Brothers Meet at New York Air Base

Two brothers from Cass City met recently on the flight line at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, New York, where one has been stationed since July 1955 and the other is attending a summer encampment of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps.

First Lieutenant James D. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Fox, Cass City, is a navigator with the 530th Bombardment Squadron at Plattsburgh. He met his brother, C. Edward Fox, during a flight line class of the AFROTC cadets. The younger man is a student at Michigan State University.

James Fox was graduated from Cass City High School in 1951 and from Michigan State University with a BS degree in 1955. He began his Air Force

TRAVEL TROUBLES

The flat tire has lost its place as the most frequent cause of trouble on the highways of North America according to the American Automobile Association. Biggest headache for motorists on the highways last year was the battery. Electrical failures were responsible for travel troubles for almost a quarter of the motorists who called for help.

While tires were no longer in first place as the source of trouble, they still accounted for one in five of the calls for help. In fact, batteries and tires came close to accounting for half of all roadside troubles.

Which just goes to show that it's neglect of the little things like putting water in the battery or having tires checked that can lead to so much grief.

It pays to look after your car. The time you spend waiting while we check the water level in your battery, the air in your tires and the oil level in your motor can save you a lot of time and trouble at the side of the road.

Regular servicing and regular attention to the small details make a whole of a difference in the performance of your car. Next time you stop by for gas be sure you say "yes" when the attendant asks you if he can "check under the hood." That extra minute or so is just good insurance against a long wait at the side of the road...and remember, a well serviced car is worth more in trade when you want a new car.

DEMONSTRATORS. Five on hand to be sold as follows:

- 1 - Biscayne V8 PowerGlide 4 Door
- 1 - Bel Air V8 PowerGlide Sport Coupe
- 2 - Bel Air V8 PowerGlide 4 Doors
- 1 - Brookwood V8 PowerGlide 4 Dr. Sta. Wagon

All with low mileage. New car appearance and New Car Guarantee. At substantially reduced prices. Worth just as much as a new car when they're traded in several years from now. Real bargains.

New Cars too. Must clean them out to make room for the '59s in October. Trade Now. Your car will never bring as much again.

Here's why you're not using a phone like this

Very few telephones wear out. They're retired when better ones are placed in service.

Better and more attractive instruments—more efficient central office equipment to speed your calls—expansion of service to let you get in touch with more people by telephone—these things are constantly being provided for you by General Telephone.

But constant telephone improvement and expansion, of course, take money. Only a healthy telephone system, operating at a profit, can continue to get the investing public to put their savings in its securities.

Profit is a small part of the money you pay for telephone service but it assures your own telephone future. Only when the payment is adequate can you count on getting the greatest value for your money.

Payments for Wool And Lambs in Mail

Wool and lamb incentive payments have started going out in the mail to Tuscola County farmers, Charles B. Eckfeld, County Office Manager of the Tuscola County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today. The payments are made under the wool incentive program on shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold during the 1957 marketing year which ended March 31, 1958.

As recently determined, the 1957 wool incentive payments will amount to $15.50 for every $100 each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the past marketing year. The payment rate on sales of unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be 33 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold.

The county office manager explained that the shorn wool payment of 15.5 per cent represents the difference between the national average price of 58.7 cents per pound received by producers for shorn wool during the 1957 marketing year and the 62-cent per pound incentive level announced for the 1957 marketing year last October.

A few words to the point are better than a long speech.

Fair week is over and now many of you homemakers are busy with getting the children ready for school, so I thought you might be interested in the new fabric and colors for fall.

This year the fabrics and colors will create enthusiasm for fall. Scheduled for fall are surface interest materials, an abundance of printed wools, and a rich vibrant color story. The most popular will be looped mohairs, brushed wools and textured novelties, especially those that offer depth without weight. Also in favor this fall are homespuns, loose basket weaves, hairy fabrics and rough nubby tweeds, all in lively colors.

The ever popular plaids are talked about in colors that blend, rather than contrast. Highly significant are knit fabrics in textured, bulky and semi-bulky weights. Jersey fabrics follow important wool trends offering new textures, looped innovations, hairy surfaces and dimensional ribbing. The subtle draping possible with jersey is considered highly important, particularly in the development of scythe backs and high empire shirring. Brown appears to be the big transitional color along or in combination with black, rust or orange. Stripes, paisley, dots and neat florals are favored.

For full color, we will see a color range resembling a fall landscape when leaves turn their richest color values to the sun. Brilliant, but never quite as bright as summer fruit shades, the color wheel revolves around fall tones, such as coppery oranges, burnished golds, curry and mustard.

In like manner, resort summer's blue-greens lead into fall's teal, yellow-greens, turquoise-greens, bronzines and tartan-greens. The red family witnesses growing interest in bright pink, blue-reds, purple and plum. Purple and green form an alliance and rich royal blues are very much part of fall's color scheme.

For the brown family, a blackish brown is proposed to take the place of gray and black as a neutral. Faun and rich walnut are other browns to note.

COMING EVENTS

Mrs. Robert Stratton of Port Huron will talk on her experience as an exchange teacher in the Orient at the home demonstration extension women's open meeting. She has had a wealth of experiences to relate. The open meeting will be held in the Mayville High School auditorium on September 9 at 8 p.m. All extension group members and their friends will be welcome. The Mayville group will hostess a coffee hour following the program so that everyone will be able to meet and talk with Mrs. Stratton.

Michigan Mirror News In Brief

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Rivals for space in Michigan's wonderland of lakes and forests are bringing to a head the crisis of the state as it prepares for its future.

The issues are being made clear - whether industry and the rich resort industry can live together in Michigan.

With the coming of the St. Lawrence Seaway expected next year, its deep channels making Michigan a world port, the fight is already embarrassing state officials.

They are already alarmed that the broad rights-of-way of the highway revolution, which desperately are needed by the state, are taking wide strips of valuable land.

The original plan for the Rockwood-to-Saginaw toll road was an example.

Citizens in the Tawas area are opposing construction of a 1,000-foot dock and a 3,000-foot deep channel into Lake Huron by the National Gypsum Co.

At a recent hearing in Lansing, they offered evidence that the project is ruining the beach area and is lowering the value of resort property.

Company officials, who contended they always tried hard to be "good neighbors," said the economic benefits to the state generally would outweigh the "minor" disadvantages.

City and county officials painted a dark picture of the consequences if the company is not allowed to build its dock and deep-water channel to facilitate ship-loading for the market.

Both sides have powerful arguments.

Michigan is advertised and promoted as a tourist mecca. The resort industry is a $600,000-a-year business. Its leaders want to protect it from exploitation by industry.

Michigan is known on a world scale as the home of the automobile and the spawning place of big industry.

Its Great Lake routes provide a ready-made channel for world trade through the St. Lawrence Seaway. Industry needs access to the water routes.

State government has a special agency, the Department of Economic Development, assigned to lure industry to Michigan. Another agency, the State Tourist Council, promotes resorts and travel in the state.

Naturalists organized a special group to oppose a proposed lease of a wilderness state forest area in Porcupine Mountains State Park, in the Upper Peninsula, to a copper mining firm. It is the last wilderness in Michigan. The company wants to obtain the mineral rights on 933 acres of state property, plus several thousand acres of underwater land in Lake Superior.

Sportsmen and other nature groups argue that the fumes from the mining operation will damage the forest, the access roads will wreck its beauty.

The same arguments prevail in both disputes.

Some Upper Peninsula residents, eager to develop the area industrially, are supporting the lease, which the state conservation commission is empowered to award.

Slightly different in impact, but identical in principle, is the controversy over the routes of new state superhighways which bypass small towns and their businesses.

The shops, service stations and restaurants along U. S. 16, the new Brighton-Farmington bypass, have already had the experience.

Some people object that their businesses have dropped in volume. Others predict they will come back later.

Mt. Pleasant and Clare, facing a bypass in the relocation and new superhighway construction of U. S. 27, are wrapped up in the controversy.

Complicating the problem now is the thought that the 90 per cent Federal aid for highway construction in Michigan could be threatened if the towns are not bypassed.

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads offers the aid only for limited-access four-lane highways - a factor that might be defined as requiring the bypasses.

The whole question must be faced by Michigan, now or later.

Plant Wheat After Fly-Free Date

County wheat farmers are cautioned about jumping the gun to get their crops of winter wheat in early.

Entomologists and farm crops specialists at Michigan State University warn that the Hessian fly problem is still with us and that it is asking for trouble to plant before the "fly-free" date for the area, said Alfred Ballweg, county extension director.

The fly-free date is the time after which there is little likelihood of damage from the fall brood of the Hessian fly. The fly feeds at the base of the plant and, depending on how heavy the infestation is, damage may be slight or plants killed.

Michigan State University entomologists are working with several new systemic insecticides which will protect wheat plants from the larvae of the fly. These materials are absorbed and kept in the plant fluids. Larvae biting into the plant get a dose of the insecticide and are killed.

These insecticides aren't available for this use yet. If approved they'll allow farmers to plant ahead of the traditional fly-free date. Just how far ahead will depend upon the effects of earlier planting on growth and yields of the wheat.

Until these insecticides are available, farmers will still have to depend upon planting after the fly-free date, said Ballweg, to avoid damage from the fly.

It ranges from early September in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula to about the last of September in both the southeastern and southwestern corners of the state.

Guests attended from Clarkston, Goodells, Three Rivers, Rochester, Pontiac, Bay City, Detroit, Garden City, Cass City, Port Huron, New Greenleaf, Bad Axe and Holbrook.

Let Contracts for Area Road Jobs

The Michigan State Highway Department announced this week that low bids for road work in Sanilac and Tuscola counties had been accepted by the department.

The Tuscola County work includes 1.8 miles of grading, drainage and aggregate surfacing on county road number 284 from four miles west of the east county line westerly.

Low bidders were Groleau Bros., Inc. and M & W Equipment Co., both of Berkeley. Their bid was $80,680. Completion date is July 1, 1959.

In Sanilac County, Detroit Concrete of Detroit was low bidder at $68,191 for 1.3 miles of construction on M-46 and US-25 in Port Sanilac.

US-25 will be widened from two to 10 feet from Mulberry Street north to the village limits. The M-46 section, from its junction with US-25 to the west limits, will be widened by two feet. Completion date is Sept. 15, 1959.

One From Cass City Slated at Driver Training School

A driver from Cass City Schools will be among Tuscola County Bus Drivers at a school conducted by the Michigan School Bus Driver Training Program at Caro Sept. 2-4.

The course, designed for experienced drivers, is another in a series of 12-hour, county-wide programs conducted by Michigan State University, the State Department of Public Instruction and universities.

Drivers will learn more about accident reporting, accident causes, emergency drills, suggestions for handling behavior problems, safety patrols, first aid and the Michigan Motor Vehicles Code.

Church Council In Busy Session

A varied business meeting highlighted a meeting of the Cass City Council of Churches Tuesday night, Aug. 19, at the Presbyterian Church.

The council received a check for UNICEF, which they had previously requested from the Community Chest. Members said that they hope to have a UNICEF drive this year.

Money collected from the Daily Vacation Bible School was voted for use of the Huron-Tuscola Mission. Members expressed appreciation for help and cooperation in conducting the school this summer.

A school will be held at Bad Axe Tuesday evenings, Sept. 23 through Oct. 28, for ministers, church officers, Sunday School teachers and workers, it was announced.

The council voted a gift for the National Council of Churches. The next meeting of the group will be at the Methodist Church Sept. 29.

Name Attractions Up Crowds at Fair

The most successful six-day run in the 77-year history of the Tuscola County Fair at Caro ended Saturday, Aug. 23.

Some 64,982 persons went through the fair gates during the week, an attendance increase of 13 per cent over last year, according to Carl Mantey, secretary-manager of the fair.

Mr. Mantey also reports that grandstand attendance was up 40 per cent. He credited the big name acts for attracting increased numbers to the show this year and indicated that future Tuscola County Fairs will offer similar big-time entertainment.

Among the top attractions this year were Gene Autry and Tagg Oakley, the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, Duke Ellington and his famous orchestra and the Grand Ole Opry.

An all-time high for grandstand attendance was Wednesday, Aug. 20, when Gene Autry and his western show played to a full grandstand in the afternoon and attracted an overflowing, standing-room-only crowd for an evening performance.

Hundreds of exhibitors at the fair this year shared in premiums totaling $7,062 of which $2,600 went to 4-H youth. Increased premiums were awarded in most departments including dairy cattle, sheep, swine, farm products, canning and fine arts and hobbycraft.

Queens Selected

The bean queen for Tuscola County and the 4-H king and queen were selected on Friday and Thursday evenings at the fair.

Edward Spannagel of Unionville and Mary Louise Raa of Reese were crowned by G. S. McIntyre, director of Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Mary Kathryn Biles, lovely brown-eyed blonde from Akron, was crowned bean queen by Paul D. Bagwell, Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Livestock Show

Among the winners in the Livestock Show were these champions from the Cass City area not listed last week. In the Oxford division of the sheep show, Harry Crandell had the champion ewe. Burt Jackson of Crosswell had the champion ram and won the Reid Kirk Memorial trophy for best of show. Kenneth Baur was selected premier Tuscola County Breeder.

In the Hereford class of the beef show, Milford Robinson, Decker, showed the champion and reserve champion bull and the champion female.
