New Bus Law Designed to Save Children's Lives

Village Marshall Bill Wood issued a reminder that the new Michigan law for stopping for school buses will go into effect Saturday, Sept. 13.

The law requires that all vehicles stop at least 10 feet in front or from the rear of a stopped bus. Drivers can proceed after the bus resumes motion, bus driver signals other drivers to proceed or visual signals on bus are no longer flashing.

In previous years, drivers were required to stop only if they were behind the school bus. The change in Michigan's law brings it into conformity with the laws in all other states but Utah.

Authorities also warned motorists to be prepared for the unexpected around a school bus. They pointed out that school children are impulsive and may dart in front of a car at any time.

They also reported that rear-end collisions involving stopped school buses have increased sharply in recent years. They warned that the presence of a school bus means that traffic ahead may stop at any given moment.

Mrs. Ralph Gauer will entertain the society Sept. 18 in her home on Houghton Street.

Atomic Exhibit At Saginaw Fair

"Atoms for Peace," one of the latest exhibits of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, will be shown at the Saginaw Fairgrounds during the 1958 Harvest Holiday, September 7-13. Occupying approximately 6,000 square feet, the exhibit is composed of 80 panels along with models and displayed objects which explain the peacetime programs of the Atomic Energy Commission.

It explains the atom and atomic energy and contains information concerning raw materials, reactors, power, radioisotopes, and their use in agriculture, medicine, industry, and research. There is information about health and safety factors, training of scientists and technicians, and the commission programs in international co-operation in atomic energy.

One of the more interesting parts of the exhibition for visitors is the set of mechanical hands. The hands are used in laboratories for the handling of radio-active material by remote control, and they duplicate many movements of the human hand from a distance of several feet away.

A sixteen foot model of a nuclear power plant is included in the "Atoms for Peace" exhibit. Visitors are given an opportunity to operate the plant. Another of the exhibits operated by visitors

For First Practice Monday

59 Grid Candidates Report

Coach Mike Yedinak greeted 59 football hopefuls Monday as the Cass City High School Red Hawks held their first official practice in preparation for the defense of their Thumb B Conference championship.

Many of the members of the squad had been working out on their own prior to the opening of the practice season and Coach Yedinak said that the squad is in good physical condition. For this reason no twice daily practices were held.

Among the candidates are eight lettermen who will form the nucleus of this year's eleven. They are Forrest Walpole, Chuck Anvil, Bob Tuckey, Chuck Wright, Alex Lopez, Newell Harris, Fred Leeson and Dave Wilson.

These boys give Coach Yedinak an experienced backfield with power and speed. Several vacan-

From the Editor's Corner

Let's not wait another five years.

Now that parking is again at an angle, there will probably be a tendency to let the parking problem slide as it has in the past.

Changing the parking has not solved the parking problem. It's here and every expert predicts that it will be greater every year. Cass City is in a relatively good position and should be able to develop off-street parking in an orderly fashion with expense held to a minimum.

First step, it is agreed, is to have the professional planner that is expected to be hired within the next few weeks advise the community what should be done to provide for future growth.

After that, it will be up to the community. No plan is any good without the support and work of the persons who have to implement it.

Parking is more than the problem of the council.

The plan should be backed and WORKED FOR by merchants who have the biggest stake in it. . . . the most to gain or lose. It was apparent that the problem was coming five years ago. . . . it's apparent now. . . . let's not wait another five years to take action.

Mrs. Douglas Tells Rotarians of Early Negro Preachers

Mrs. Earl Douglas told Rotarians of early Negro preachers in the south Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel and read some of their sermons from a collection, gathered into a book.

Mrs. Douglas said that the early Negro preachers have been pictured as semi-comic, but said that some of their sermons are classics. . . . reaching almost the status of poetry.

She proved her point by reading one of the early sermons, a funeral address and a prayer.

The club had as its guest Tuesday, Jim MacTavish, who has been selected by students at Cass City High School as the driver of the month for the community. The driver is selected for outstanding courtesy and driving habits as observed by the students.

Champions Decided In Softball Leagues

Baldy's swept a double header from an all-star City League squad Thursday to cap a successful season for the four-team league.

In the opener, Elwyn Helwig pitched his first game of the year in Cass City and defeated Bob Wallace in a brilliant duel, 2-1. Helwig limited the all-stars to two hits, walked a pair and whiffed 12. Wallace allowed six hits, walked none and struck out three.

Baldy's shoved across a run in the second and fourth and the all-stars counted in the fifth.

Second Game
In the second game, Baldy's sailed away the game in the first inning when they scored four times. Nelson Willy pitched a four-hitter and had perfect control as he duplicated Helwig's feat in the first game by allowing just a single run in the 3-1 victory.

Stoutenburg settled down after the rocky first inning and allowed no more runs until the fifth when Baldy's shoved across a pair. The winners added their final two runs in the top of the seventh.

The all-stars avoided a shutout with a counter in the sixth.

Church League
Gagetown Church of the Nazarene became the undisputed champions of the Church League Wednesday, Aug. 27, when they defeated the Cass City Methodists in a close game, 8-7.

The Methodists led throughout the game and going into the final frame boasted a three-run lead. But the determined Gagetownites combined defensive lapses of the Methodists with base knocks to score the winning run after two were out to cop the title.

Council Rescinds Parallel Parking

$5,700 Letter Lost in Village By Joe Velez

Joe Velez of Cass City reported this week that he has lost a registered letter between the post office and hotel that contained a check for $5,500 and two $100 bills.

The check was for himself and his wife. The $200 was sent by his mother in Puerto Rico for transportation costs home for his sister, who is vacationing in Cass City.

Mr. Velez said that he plans to stop payment on the check and offers a reward for the return of the letter.

Place Pair on Probation in Court Wednesday

Richard Martin Free and Donald Lee Morris were sentenced to two years' probation Wednesday morning by Judge T. C. Quinn in Tuscola County Circuit Court in Caro.

The pair had pleaded guilty when arraigned Aug. 20 for breaking and entering a store owned by Helen Cole in Arbela Township.

In addition to the probation, each was fined $100 and costs of $100 and ordered to make restitution of $8.67.

A presentence investigation by Friend of the Court John Humm revealed that neither boy had a criminal record.

In another Wednesday morning case, Kenneth Carlisle was ordered to take a job offered and make regular alimony payments plus $5 additional a week until back payments are caught up.

Two domestic cases were heard Wednesday, Aug. 27, in court.

Philus Hennessey of Cass City was granted a divorce from Thomas Hennessey of Lapeer. Custody of a minor son, 17, was granted to Mr. Hennessey.

Mrs. Betty Marie Sobolewski was granted temporary alimony of $15 weekly from John Sobolewski and he was ordered to pay $100 attorney's fees.

Democrats Slate Meeting Sept. 11

Democratic officials announced this week that there will be a meeting of Tuscola County Democrats at the Lee Dillon Store in Colwood Thursday, Sept. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting is open to the public and all Democrats are urged to attend, officials said.

The Cass City Village Council yielded to the requests of some 40 Cass City merchants Tuesday night and rescinded parallel parking on Main Street.

The move came after merchants present convinced the council that angle parking was more important to them than State and Federal aid for widening, storm sewer and curb and gutter on Main Street.

"The issue boils down," said Trustee Mrs. K. I. MacRae, "to which is more important, Federal funds for Main Street or more business for merchants with angle parking."

When the council unanimously voted to delay enforcement of parallel parking and ordered the former parking stalls repainted on Main Street, several made statements regarding their position in the controversy.

Cliff Ryan said that as a citizen of Cass City and as an individual he feels that widening of Main Street paid for by Federal funds was a wise decision, even though it meant parallel parking.

However, the question was not important enough for him to override the thinking of some 50 of the persons whom he was elected to represent.

C. R. Hunt said that he voted for the delay, but wanted it understood that he voted with personal reservations and still thinks that parallel parking is the best solution.

Mrs. MacRae urged merchants not to stop efforts for adequate off-street parking just because angle parking had been restored. President B. F. Benkelman Jr. told the merchants present that he believed that the problem could have been solved and parallel parking continued if the merchants would have "placed as much effort in trying to come up with a solution to parking as they have in fighting the new parallel parking."

The council had spent the week in investigating off-street parking for the community. They asked businessmen if they thought paved parallel parking in the alleys and the Presbyterian Church lot for all-day parking would ease the parking problem.

Merchants present replied that the plan would only take up the loss of spaces on Main Street and would still limit desirable "front door" parking spaces.

The merchants thought that alley parking and a parking limit on the side streets were very desirable and hope to see it accomplished with the present angle parking.

Compliment Council
Merchants present gave Trustee Ryan a round of applause when he announced his stand on changing back to angle parking. Chamber of Commerce President B. A. Calka expressed the appreciation of the organization he heads for the understanding attitude of the council.

Clifford Croft also thanked the council for their efforts and said that it was a credit to the council that they would change their minds to abide by the wishes of the majority even though they had personal reservations about the wisdom of the move.

In the two and a half hour meeting, the arguments presented were much the same as those presented in the initial meeting last week.

Merchants pointed to loss in parking spaces, loss of business and competition from other communities as their major reasons in requesting the change.

Palmtree Reunion At Anthes Home

The 37th annual Palmtree reunion was held Sunday, Aug. 31, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anthes of Cass City when 54 members of the family enjoyed a potluck dinner.

More Details of Soil Bank Plan Told

Additional details of the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as plans were being made for an early start on sign up under the program late this summer and early fall.

Under present plans, the sign-up period will begin about September 1, although definite opening dates will be set locally by state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees. It is expected to close about October 10.

The Conservation Reserve is being opened early this year because the other phase of the Soil Bank—the Acreage Reserve—will not be in effect in 1959.

Major changes in the 1959 Conservation Reserve from the program in effect for contracts beginning this year are:

1. An increase in the national average annual payment for Conservation Reserve land to $13.50 per acre from the previous national average rate of $10.
2. Additional incentives, including a payment of 10 per cent above normal rates, for farmers to put all eligible land on their farms in the program for at least 5 years.
3. A priority system for accepting Conservation Reserve contract applications.

Under the priority system, preference will be given farmers who had all their cropland in the Soil Bank in 1958. The Conservation Reserve and the Acreage Reserve together—and are now offering to put into the Conservation Reserve the land that was in the Acreage Reserve. After this, priority will be given farmers offering land at lowest rates compared with applicable maximum rates for their farms.

The more we learn about this old world of ours the more we want to stick around and see what happens next.

Some people think they were given a conscience so they could detect the faults of their next door neighbor.

Money is of no value to the man without experience, so a great many get the experience while earning the money.

WORKS BOTH WAYS
Silence is sure fire protection for men who possess knowledge and those who are ignorant.

CAN'T ALL BE CHIEFS
There is plenty of room for everybody in this world—but we can't all have front rooms.

ON THE BALL
The man who wakes up and finds himself famous can never be accused of day dreaming.

TIME WILL TELL
Right eventually triumphs—but people who think they are right sometimes lose the early rounds.

"Sunday Evenings In September"

"... I am not a SCIENTIST in the technical sense. But I am a CHRISTIAN. And I can Read. Today, there seems to be a general idea that SCIENCE and the BIBLE are in hopeless conflict. Many accept the idea that the true Student of SCIENCE must lay aside any confidence in the BIBLE. Many devout believers in the Scriptures have come to the conclusion that the realm of SCIENCE is incompatible territory..."

Is This Necessarily True???

Thus for the following THREE SUNDAY EVENINGS at FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, Cass City, Pastor Weckle will speak on THE SUBJECT - - "SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE."

Sept. 7th - - "ORIGINS." Here we are, human beings, living on the top side of a whirling planet. Where did we come from? Where did the planet come from? Who is responsible?

Sept. 14th, - - "MIRACLES." Are they possible? What's the answer????

Sept. 21st, - - "BIBLE HISTORY." Is it credible? The Scriptures are old. They speak of ancient people and happenings. Is the record true? Did these people live and die as the Bible suggests?

County Farm Field Day Slated Sept. 12

The order in which crops appear in the rotation can make a difference in yields. This fact will be vividly portrayed when the results of 18 years of research on crop rotations, fertilizer applications and fertilizer materials go on parade at the Ferden Farm Field Day on Friday, September 12, according to Alfred Ballweg, county extension director. The Ferden farm is 3 miles south and west of Chesaning in Saginaw County.

Visitors will see that corn and white pea beans produce their best yields when grown immediately after alfalfa in the rotation. And corn will continue to produce top yields two years after alfalfa providing supplemental nitrogen is added.

Sugar beets grown after white pea beans yield high. Sugar beets following plowed-down sweet clover do just as well.

It takes an average application of 200 pounds of fertilizer per acre a year to produce profitable increases in yields over an average application of 40 pounds per acre per year. Sugar beets is the only crop that can use profitably a yearly per acre application of 400 pounds of fertilizer, research on the farm shows, says J. R. Guttay, soils scientist at Michigan State University.

Sawdust and corn do not get along the first year. Guttay says yields were down until five years after application. Then the sawdust boosted yields.

A project on clipping beet tops will also be seen at the field day. Guttay reports that preliminary results indicate the possibility of taking two cuttings of tops for silage.

Experiments on plow-planting sugar beets and minimum tillage will be on display. Visitors will also see a new research project which is digging into the value of gypsum in normal superphosphate and sulfur in ammonium sulphate.

Guided tours to the 40 acres of research plots start at 9:30 a.m. and at 1:30 p.m., said Ballweg.

BULEN TALKS Cars

GOT A PASSION FOR PASSING?

My wife and I were coming home last Sunday when we managed to get tangled up with some of the city traffic. As you might expect when that happens, the cars were a little closer together than they should have been. In spite of the fact that traffic was moving along very well, close to the legal limit, there had to be one "Impatient Pete." He scared me out of a year's growth when he squeezed in behind me . . . and with the next traffic break, he was off with a roar.

That got me thinking about this business of passing . . . and the people who seem to have a passion for passing. They take some wild risks that really aren't worth while, when you stop to figure it out. You know, it takes a long time to pass a car that is doing fifty!

To pass a car going 50 MPH, you have to get up to 60 . . . and even then it takes a good 10 seconds to pass. At 60, you cover 880 feet in 10 seconds. That's the length of a football field, one sixth of a mile or more than a long city block. That's a long, long way.

When you're passing another car, you should remember that . . . and if you're meeting traffic at the same time, you'll need twice the distance or the length of TWO football fields. When you are driving, remember your safety rules . . . better safe than sorry.

Another good safety rule to remember is to bring your car in for regular servicing and safety checks . . . and when you are ready to trade for a new car or a good used car, it's Buleen for miles and miles of economical, trouble-free driving pleasure.

1958 Models. 13 to sell. The '59 Chevrolets bow the middle of October. So, we have six weeks. If there's a strike we'll wish for more cars. No strike, we'd like to be clean by October 15th. So, not knowing we'll just sell them now. In your case, as I've said, your present car will never be worth more, for when the '59s come out, your car has a birthday. It's a year older, worth considerably less. So it looks like good sense to TRADE NOW. We'd like to show you how reasonably it can be done on America's No. 1 Car.

IT'S THE BEST WAY TO GET MORE FOR YOUR BEANS

Marketing beans cooperatively is just good common sense. That's been demonstrated over and over again by your Michigan Cooperative Bean Marketing Association. The MCBMA, through its marketing agency—the Michigan Elevator Exchange—has served thousands of farmers, helping them to get higher prices than if they had marketed their crop individually. Bean Growers who want more for their beans should inquire about the pool which is run by growers, for growers' benefit.

The Association now is advancing $5.75 per hundredweight while your beans are waiting in the pool to be sold for the best price. You get the rest later. So, deliver your pool beans to:

White and red gladioli, palms and lighted candles decorated the altar for the 11 o'clock double-ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Glenn William Cronkite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaDuce of Saginaw and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hornbaker of Unionville.

The bride, who has made her home with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Van Falkenberg, was given in marriage by her uncle. She wore a floor-length gown of lace and net over satin. The tight-fitting bodice of lace had a boat-shaped neckline with sequins and long wrist-point sleeves. The bouffant skirt of net and lace was sprinkled with sequins. Her elbow-length net veil was secured to a crown of rhinestones, pearls and sequins and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Yvonne Bedore of Unionville was maid of honor. She wore a violet blue floor-length gown of crystal with a matching crown with circular veil headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white carnations with blue streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Shirley Market of Utica, Mrs. William Shoppe of Rochester and Miss Donna LaDuce, the bride's sister, from Saginaw. They all wore gowns similar to the maid of honor's in colors of gold, pink and aqua. Their headpieces matched their gowns and they carried cascade bouquets.

Junior bridesmaids were Rita Market and Sharon Wood, who wore aqua dresses similar to the bridesmaids'.

Flower girls Pamela Firguski and Janice Hornbaker wore yellow ruffled dresses. Raymond Wood was ring bearer.

Best man was Joyce Wood. Other attendants were Fred Market, William Shoppe and Sharon Market. Seating guests were Reuben Hewitt and Lawrence Salgat.

Before leaving the church the bride and groom presented a bouquet of flowers at the Blessed Virgin Altar.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to 105 guests and the bridal party at the Veterans Memorial Hall in Unionville.

A reception in the evening was held in the same hall and an estimated 1000 guests attended. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. LaDuce wore a champagne lace dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Hornbaker wore a gown of beige with white accessories. Mrs. Van Falkenberg wore a navy blue lace dress with pink accessories. All wore corsages of roses.

The groom is a barber and the bride was a secretary at Mercy Hospital, Bay City.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Now's The Time To Groom Feet

SOMETIME before the season ends, you'll be kicking off your shoes and pointing your toes at the sun. Perhaps, when they stand revealed, you might prefer to hide them in the sand, grass or behind a rock.

This can happen only if you've neglected your beauty routine down to the toeline prior to their public appearance. However, it's heartening to know that it's never too late to make amends and feet respond eagerly to beauty care.

Daily massage with lotion, a weekly pedicure, and perhaps a bit of rubbing on the rough spots with pumice stone in a wedge shape especially designed to make it easy to rub the feet are all that are required.

Massage for Color

For three seasons of the year, feet are encased in nylon, wool, leather and rubber. It's no wonder they appear pallid and slightly mottled by the time warm weather is here. Daily massage with a skin lotion will stimulate circulation and bring color to the feet.

Feet which are almost always encased in some fabric or material need their share of grooming, too. Daily massage with a light lotion and a weekly pedicure will soon bring better color and texture to the skin.

Four a few drops of lotion into the hand, rub it around the ankles and over the instep until it's absorbed.

Exposing the feet to the sun a few times will certainly bring color to them quickly. If they've been andaled and tan unevenly, smooth his out with a lotion especially made for the purpose.

Pedicure Tips

A well-managed pedicure does more than almost anything to give feet that wonderfully cared-for look. First, trim the toenails as short as they can be safely and comfortably shorn and worn. Don't try for ovals or dagger-sharp points; clip them straight across.

Dangers of ingrown toenails can be avoided if you file the nail of the big toe with a slight dip in the center. Cuticles can be pushed back with an orange stick but trimming is usually out as it's more difficult to maintain this type trimming on the feet.

Try Barbecued Ribs For Party Fare

Everyone loves ribs, barbecued to a crispy brown, bathed in rich, red spicy sauce. For one of those memorable week-end parties, try them. Preparation is simple if you have frozen ribs in the freezer along with the sauce all set to go.

Barbecued Ribs

Sauce:

- 2 1/2 cups chili sauce
- 1/2 cup cooking oil
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 teaspoons tabasco sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 cups finely chopped onion
- 2 cloves garlic, mashed
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard

Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Heat to boiling, then simmer for 15 minutes.

Barbecued Ribs:

3 to 4 pounds spareribs

1 pint barbecue sauce

Place ribs in broiler pan, meaty side up. Bake in a hot (450°F.) oven for 30 minutes. Pour barbecue sauce on the ribs; reduce temperature to moderate (35°F.) and bake for 1 hour longer. This will serve 4 to 6.

For the last hour of baking ribs, pop in this vegetable dish to serve with the ribs. It's so delicious:

Vegetable Medley (Serves 6)

- 2 packages frozen mixed vegetables
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Place frozen vegetables in buttered casserole. Combine soup and milk and pour over vegetables. Cover with foil and bake for an hour in moderate (350°F.) oven. Sprinkle cheese over top just before serving.

Michigan Mirror News In Brief

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association

Investigators from every corner of state government are taking another look at the result taxpayers are getting for the $62,000,000 spent on mental health.

The field, its importance to humanity and its financial needs are rarely completely understood. House members have a promising project ready for action next January when Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) will ask for a "complete medical audit of the system."

Chairman of a special committee investigating the operation and policies of the mental health system, Phillips wants answers to these questions:

1. How many children in facilities for the retarded have lost contact with their families and can be moved to other hospitals in the state where space is more readily available?

2. How many patients of each type—mentally ill and psychotic, retarded and deficient—occupy which space in the hospitals and what are the differences in treatment of each?

3. What are the different kinds of treatment, how much does each cost, what size staff is required, and what training and skills to treat each type are needed.

4. What facilities now are devoted to each type of illness?

Funds to bring in a team of qualified experts outside of state government to make the survey will be requested by Phillips.

When it is completed, the committee hopes to have clearer answers.

The committee already believes that the state built 112 too many beds at Coldwater Home and Training School; that excess space exists for some types of mental illness treatment and too little for other types of patients.

While some vacant beds are reported in hospitals for retarded children, probate judges are unable to commit and get treatment for mentally ill youngsters.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, of Oakland County, has estimated the figure of emergency cases at 205 and asked for quick action, in a special session of the legislature, if necessary.

Another committee, chaired by Rep. Ben Lohman, a Hamilton Republican, is studying mental commitment procedures with the idea of providing "civil rights for these unfortunate."

The committee suggests that a mental patient's civil rights be suspended rather than revoked, conditioned only on whether a court believes the patient has recovered.

Present law prohibits a former patient from exercising his civil rights during the three-year convalescent leave period. Suggestions have been heard to abolish or reduce the waiting period.

During that period, the patient is not allowed to marry or drive a car. Highway safety leaders said there is little reason to deprive a former patient of his driving privileges if he is cured.

Another project of the committee is to study whether another form of sending patients to mental hospitals is possible to erase the stigma of formal commitment.

The mental health commission, working on an administrative policy level to solve its own problems, will ask the 1959 legislature for planning money for a new mental hospital.

They said it would be constructed in western Michigan, possibly Grand Rapids.

It would be a 1,500-bed institution, 1,000 for children and the remaining 500 for adult mentally ill. The next year, the commission plans to ask for planning money for a second such institution in eastern Michigan.

As an emergency measure, the commission is trying to make room in the existing state hospitals for the seriously mentally disturbed youths who find themselves in probate court and in trouble.

Prison officials and the mental health department are also working on a joint problem.

Corrections leaders are proposing a $25,000,000 medical center to care for and segregate drug addicts, alcoholics, the mentally ill in prisons and others.

The mental health department is proposing a separate unit of the same general character, probably near Detroit for the criminal insane—serving much the same purpose as the overcrowded Ionia State Hospital for the Criminal Insane now pursues.

Taking the entire picture, it is certain that the 1959 legislature will be asked to make major policy in the mental health field.

Native of Village Dies in Pontiac

Leone B. Dimitroff of Pontiac, a native of Cass City, died Wednesday, Aug. 27, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She had been ill for about nine months.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Voorhees Siple Chapel, Pontiac. Rev. LeRoy Shafer of the Church of the Brethren officiated. Burial was in Elkland Cemetery.

Mrs. Dimitroff was born at Cass City Sept. 16, 1897. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr. She was married to Mike Dimitroff in Detroit, July 18, 1918.

She is survived by her husband and a sister, Mrs. Frank Gordon of Pontiac.

As you read this column, I will be vacationing in Minnesota. Mother and I crossed Lake Michigan at Ludington into Wisconsin, then to Litchfield, Minnesota, where we are visiting my uncle and aunt. As I travel westward, I find that the all-American treat is a barbecue.

On one of June's rarest days, or during "October's bright blue weather," cooking outdoors is a happy family activity. Barbecues are as simple and easy to fix as an old-fashioned picnic; and a lot more fun. You do not have to stay in your own backyard in order to cook outdoors. Facilities for outdoor cooking are usually available at public parks and campsites. If you like to be by yourself on the beach or along a stream, just borrow a rack from the kitchen oven and set it up on rocks.

Charcoal, natural or processed into briquets, makes the best heat and is easy to carry along on your trip. Be sure to keep the fuel at about a 2-inch depth. Briquets need not be more than one layer deep. Charcoal starter is the easiest way to start the fire, but paper or kindling can also be used. As soon as gray spots appear on the charcoal, you are ready to start cooking. Do not worry if the heat seems low at first, glowing coals get terrifically hot.

The variety of foods suitable for outdoor cooking is almost without limit. Poultry, especially chicken in convenient sizes, either halved or cut up, are simple to cook outdoors and are economical, too. Steaks do not have to be the most expensive to be good cooked over an outdoor grill. Rib or club steaks, sirloin, rump or sirloin tip makes excellent eating cooked over a clear coal fire. Lamb chops, rib or loin, spareribs, frankfurters, pork chops, sliced Boston butt, hamburgers, even breast of lamb, all have their place on the barbecue menu.

Kabobs add fun and flavor to outdoor eating. A kabob is a meal on-a-stick. Use long metal skewers or hardwood sticks and try these combinations: (1) Chicken livers, sliced bacon and mushrooms, (2) Calves liver (1-inch cubes) sliced bacon and mushrooms, (3) Bologna (1-inch cubes) sliced onion and sliced bacon, (4) Franks (1-inch chunks) pineapple chunks and sliced bacon.

Push the cooked kabobs from the skewer onto toasted buns or split Vienna bread. You can have loads of fun and good eating, cooking outdoors. Just remember, fire burns. Although I am quite away from home, I have a part of my mind on the extension fall open house and hope that all of the extension women are planning on attending this meeting on September 9 at 8 p.m. at the Mayville High School auditorium. The committee has secured an outstanding speaker, Mrs. Robert Stratton of Port Huron.

The committee for the fall open house consists of the following: Mrs. Perry Johnson, chairman, Fairgrove-Almer; Mrs. Silverius Lucas, Silverwood; Mrs. Lee Steels, Mayville; Mrs. Harold L. Maier, Mayville, and Mrs. Elwin Kitchen, Mayville.

The fall council meeting will be held Friday, September 12, in the courthouse at 2 p.m.

Next week, I will be writing you from that wonderful part of Michigan, the Upper Peninsula.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

Five Years Ago

Five new teachers are on the staff this year at Cass City School. They are: Robert Corwell, speech; Miss Jean Bachelder, second grade; Miss Ruth Shirley, junior high; Miss Joan May, art, and Lawrence White, geography.

John F. Kirm of Cass City will be among eight Tuscola County men to enter the service next Thursday. Recently discharged were Howard Parker of Decker and James Mallory, Don McConnell and Lynn Guisbert, all of Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Dodge will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with open house at their home Sept. 12.

Thirty-one attended the reunion of the class of 1923 of Cass City High School held Saturday at the New Gordon Hotel.

Entries from the Cass City area placed well in the livestock division of the 4-H and FFA section of the Tuscola County Fair. The Cass City Livestock Club won the Herdsman award for the best kept stalls and Edwin McConkey, Richard Donahue and Roger Marshall received the top award for the best group of three females.

Ten Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Brown will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday. A dinner has been planned for the couple by their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Dr. H. T. Donahue showed the grand champion Holstein cow and the grand champion bull in the open class at the Midland Fair.

E. Ray Willson, D. D., superintendent of Port Huron district, addressed a large congregation Sunday at the 50th anniversary celebration of the Deford Methodist Church.

The following members of the Cass City 4-H Livestock Club will exhibit at the Michigan State Fair: Dorothy Loomis and Don Loomis, Hereford steers; Keith Little and Jim Turner, Short-horn steers, and Alex Murray, Alfred Murray and Bill Zinnecker, Angus steers.

About 200 friends and relatives helped Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vatter celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday.

Don Simmons, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Simmons, won two blue ribbons and champion on his eight-months-old Red Dane heifer at the Caro Fair. He also won second place in showmanship.

Twenty-five Years Ago

Mrs. Hugh McColl, Cass City's oldest resident, celebrated her 93rd birthday Tuesday. She was honored at a birthday dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Landon, and the Rotary Club presented her with a bouquet of flowers for the occasion. Cass City's home-coming attracted a large crowd and was highly successful. Those in charge reported that 250 gallons of free lemonade was poured during the celebration.

Note Trend Before Redecorating

Planning to redecorate? Results will be better if you pay attention to the current trends in decoration, color and design.

Trends are important because it indicates what people have found works best for them, and you might as well benefit from the experience of others. It may also be that your property may be rented or even sold, and it might as well reflect current thinking.

For example, kitchens are now something what is called the full cycle. When the country was young, the kitchen was an eating and gathering place. Then it became a solitary room by itself when the preparation and storage activities were shunted off to a pantry. Now again it has become a "family" room.

If you're changing the kitchen, get rid of the pantry or you'll date the room. "Open" kitchens are the thing, with light modern materials and attractive appliances.

Eating Room
Surveys tend to show that most families eat most of the meals in the kitchen. For this reason the "island" unit which can take surface cooking units or act as a preparation-mixing center is very popular. It can separate the eating center from the kitchen proper without closing it off, and the design is attractive.

Homemakers also find that the island unit also adds countertop working space and makes the kitchen more efficient. If it's not used to divide eating and kitchen area, it might be used in the middle of the kitchen as a working or cooking area, thus freeing countertops along the sides of the kitchen for other use.

Other Trends
If you're remodeling, then keep in mind that the laundry center is on the move! It's moving out of a dark corner in the basement to the kitchen, bathroom, a bedroom adjoining the bath, or in a linen closet.

If the laundry area is located near the bedrooms (because clothes accumulate there and are also stored there) and the bath (since plumbing from this room can be utilized for the washer), the homemaker can save much time and energy moving the clothes around.

If success turns your head, you're facing the wrong direction.

To become "contented" you need a poor memory and no imagination.

Even a tombstone will say good things about a guy when he's down.

The Want Ads are Newsworthy too.

Keep frozen foods at 0 degrees F. or colder for the best tasting foods when you thaw and serve them, say Michigan State University foods specialists.

The government shield and the lettering "USDA A" or "AA" on the carton of butter you buy shows that it has been graded for quality by an expert, impartial Government butter grader.

If you're furnishing an apartment or home, you'll find bench seating has lots of possibilities, says Mary Shipley, assistant professor in related arts at Michigan State University. You can use it against the wall, in front of windows or out in the room where you can sit on it from either side.

Tests Show Most Durable Fabrics

If you're buying a suit this fall, you'll have many choices, states Mrs. Frances T. Clark, county extension agent in home economics. You can select from a variety of all-wool fabrics as well as blends of different fibers. And you'll be interested in getting good quality.

To find out about quality in suits, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports a study being done on certain plain and twill-weave suitings. The materials are both all-wool and blends of different fibers -- several synthetics and rayon are included. The twills were more durable than the plain weaves in all fabrics tested. The twills had more yarn per inch, weighed more and were thicker than the plain weaves.

weaves. Durability was measured by the force required to break the fabric and by how much abrasion the fabric could stand along folded edges and against flat surfaces. In both these tests twill stood up better than plain weaves.

In comparing an all-wool fabric with a wool-nylon blend, Mrs. Clark says that the addition of 10 to 15 per cent nylon added strength to the fabric. It also helped the fabric resist wear on folded edges like sleeve bottoms, skirt hems, or trouser cuffs.

Wool has the natural quality of being elastic -- it "springs back."

This quality gave wool the "edge" on tests of how well fabrics recovered from wrinkles. Both all-wool and part-wool fabrics tested showed better recovery from creasing than did non-wool fabrics. Plain weaves proved just as good as twills -- or better. Wool fiber also gave a comfortable softness to blends.

Versatile Salads Are Tempters For Those Summer Menus

Too hot to eat? Not if you serve a crisp salad that's pretty to look at and tastefully seasoned. Salads should be a bit on the sharp and tangy side for main dishes, but they should not be overloaded with seasoning. Round out the menu with heated barley rolls or muffins out of your own freezer. Melon or fruit in hand is a perfect hot weather choice for a simple dessert.

Tuna-Pickled Onion Salad (Serves 6)

2 7-ounce cans tuna, solid pack
1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
1 3/4-ounce jar cocktail onions
1/4 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Crisp lettuce
Tomato wedges
Drain tuna, reserving 1/4 cup oil. Combine tuna oil and flour; blend. Drain onions, reserving liquid. Add onion liquid, vinegar, mustard, sugar, salt and paprika to flour mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened.

Tuna-Pickled Onion salad with a glass of crisp relishes and corn sticks comprise an appealing menu for a hot summer's day. The salad is seasoned with just the right tang if you make an old-fashioned boiled dressing for it.

Chill. Break tuna into pieces, arranging with onion on lettuce in salad bowls. Garnish with tomato wedges. Serve dressing with salads.

Chef's Supper Salad (Serves 4)

1 head lettuce
1/2 bunch spinach, romaine or endive
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup celery strips
1 cup Swiss cheese strips
1 cup ham, tongue or bologna strips
2 ounce can fillets of anchovy
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup French dressing
Rub bowl with garlic clove. Toss in greens, onions and celery. Arrange strips of meat, cheese and anchovy in mounds on the greens. Blend together mayonnaise and French dressing and pass with salad bowl.
