HONOR MRS. KNAPP—Grouped around Mrs. J. Knapp are several of the WSC members who gathered at the Methodist Church Tuesday to pay tribute to her and the Cass City Club on its 50th anniversary.

Honor Mrs. Knapp

WSC Recalls 50 Years of Service

With a host of dignitaries from the State Federation as guests, the Cass City Woman's Club observed its 50th anniversary with a program honoring Mrs. A. J. Knapp Tuesday at the Methodist Church.

Some 185 members and guests heard the many tributes to Mrs. Knapp by guests and club members.

Mrs. Knapp is the "mother" of many Woman's Study Clubs in the Thumb area.

Among the speakers paying tribute to Mrs. Knapp was Mrs. Audley Kinnaird, who pointed out that Mrs. Knapp deserved to be honored not only for her work in the WSC but for her contributions to the community, church and area.

Mrs. Ella Vance's tribute in rhyme was both timely and interesting.

Mrs. Andrew Bigelow introduced Mrs. Knapp who then introduced the many guests from the State Federation.

Club History

Mrs. Knapp and Mrs. Otto Hazard are the only two charter members of the club still active, a brief history of the club's activity, compiled and presented by Mrs. Chester Graham, revealed.

Organized Aug. 24, 1908, members of the WSC have compiled a long history of community service in its 50 years. In 1910 a Lyceum lecture course was organized and sponsored for several years.

Today's Cass City and Elkland Township Library can trace its origin to the work of club members. Books and magazines were collected. A librarian was paid, books purchased and other expenses met for several years under the direction of the club. When the library was placed under control of the township for state aid funds, the club retained a member as one of the directors of the board in recognition of its pioneering work.

Other public service activities of the club included the girl scouts, flower shows and other community projects. Currently the club is working to fulfill its pledge to the community hospital.

Four members were singled out for bringing special honor to the club. Mrs. Grant Patterson was president of the County Federation for the county and the East Central District.

Mrs. Graham has been president of the county, served seven years as an officer of the East Central District and was chairman of safety in the East Central District.

Mrs. Bigelow is presently serving as chairman of nurses for the East Central District.

Mrs. Knapp has held a host of high offices. She has been president of the East Central District, vice-president of the State Federation and president of the State Federation, 1928-30. She also served as first chairman of Bible as literature in the General Federation, secretary of the National Federation's Club and treasurer and president of the Upper Mississippi Valley Conference.

Mrs. Knapp was given a dozen gold roses by the club and a bouquet by the Junior Woman's Club of Cass City in tribute for her achievements.

Authorities of the Cass City Community Hospital this week changed the thermometer indicating the progress toward the goal of $401,000.

Since the emphasis is now on collecting pledges, the thermometer now indicates the amount of money collected and the money still outstanding on pledges.

The hospital board hopes that the change will serve two purposes . . . remind residents that 80 per cent of the money is collected and that the other 20 per cent will be needed shortly after construction starts.

Pinkoski Loses Driver's License

Kenneth S. Pinkoski of Gagetown was one of a number of Michigan residents to have their driver's licenses suspended by the state.

It was suspended for habitual negligence.

Unemployment Payments Down In August

Unemployment benefit payments in August were lower than in July, April and May, but total payments for the first eight months of this year already are twice as much as total payments for all of 1957, Gerald O. DeBoer, manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission at Caro, announced this week.

Mr. DeBoer feels that unemployment has reached a crest and that conditions should improve in the next two months, barring widespread strikes.

In August the Caro office paid out $176,649.00 as compared to July, $196,245.00; April, $185,058.00, and May, $181,294.00.

Total payments for the first eight months of this year were $1,182,250.00 as compared to $552,000.00 for all of 1957.

Hospital Sign Now Indicates Cash Collected

Supervisors Hold Monthly Session

Ed Golding Sr. of Cass City was appointed to replace the late Edward Rawson on standing committees of the Tuscola Board of Supervisors.

The action, taken by the board in its regular meeting in Caro Monday, places Mr. Golding on three important committees . . . ways and means, finance and equalization.

In other business, the board authorized the purchase of equipment for the Social Welfare office in the county nursing home. Price for the various pieces of equipment was $1,521.21 and low bidder was Little's Furniture of Cass City.

Also okayed was the purchase of office machines, including an electric typewriter, two office typewriters and an adding machine for $1,078.

Jail Improved

After a routine inspection of the county jail recently, the state requested that several changes be made.

To comply with the request, three new showers and a new drinking fountain were ordered installed.

The board also authorized two legal files for the drain commissioner's office at a cost not to exceed $150.

Eli Holes New Gavel Club President

The Gavel Club elected officers at its regular meeting Tuesday evening at Parrott's Dairy Bar. Named president was Eli Holes.

Barney Freiburger will serve as vice-president and Jim Gross is the secretary. C. M. Wallace is the treasurer.

Meanwhile, club members announced that they expect to have the work on the track at the Cass City Recreation Park completed within two weeks. The project is estimated to have cost the club over $3,500. Part of the money is being financed through the sale of bonds and there are a few remaining for sale.

With the improvements completed, the community has an excellent chance to become hosts for a regional track meet next fall, it was revealed by members.

New Pastor Takes Reins at Local Church Sunday

Robert Krist, 25, will assume the pastorate of the Cass City Assembly of God Church Sunday, replacing Rev. C. L. Hundley, authorities of the church announced this week.

The new pastor comes to Cass City from the Cedar Rapids Church. He is a graduate of the Assembly of God Bible School in Springfield, Mo., and has been preaching for seven years.

He is married and has a son, Ricky, 17 months. Besides preaching, Mr. Krist illustrates Biblical messages with chalk drawings.

Rev. and Mrs. Hundley say that they will take a few weeks' vacation visiting their children before returning to the pulpit in a church in south Texas.

Mr. Krist's father is known in the area as he served as a pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Bad Axe.

More Pupils in Cass City This Year

An increase in students in the grades and in junior high offsets a smaller high school enrollment this year to up slightly the total enrollment for 1958-59 at Cass City Schools, Supt. Willis Campbell announced this week.

As of Tuesday, the total was 1,142 pupils as compared to 1,136 at the beginning of school last year.

The grades jumped from 536 to 551 pupils and junior high increased from 130 to 152. High school enrollment decreased from 470 to 439. Some of the loss can be traced to freshman students from Gagetown now attending school at Gagetown-Owendale Schools.

The enrollment by grades is: kindergarten, 77; first, 86; second, 68; third, 73; fourth, 71; fifth, 88; sixth, 88; seventh, 84; eighth, 68; ninth, 105; 10th, 114; 11th, 112, and 12th, 108.

Several Changes

Several changes were completed during the summer months. One of the principal ones was the relocation of the shop to the newly completed school addition and the reconditioning of the former shop building for the band.

A new floor was installed in the home economics room and the room was redecorated. Retubing of the boiler was also completed.

The school has a teaching staff of 44. Twenty-three other employees bring the total work force to 67, Campbell said.

BULEN TALKS CARS

WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY BARGAIN?

I was looking over the used car ads in the big city daily the other day. The "Bargain Boys" were surely at it in fine style.... "No down Payment" "Easy Terms" "Look, Only $25 Down" "Wholesale" those were just a few of the come-ons they were using to lure people into their used car lots.

I haven't any doubt that some of the cars advertised in these screaming ads are good value... if you know exactly what to look for. And probably some of the dealers are completely above reproach. But I'm always upset when I see a rash of these ads. So many people get far less than they pay for when they buy some of these bargain cars. These easy payment contracts can have some very tough clauses hidden in the small type. The so-called bargain cars are often well camouflaged expensive repair bills for the unsuspecting buyer.

If you are an expert "horse trader" and a good mechanic you will probably do very well with the bargain boys. If you are not, my advice is to stick with a dealer you know... and one who has a good reputation in the community.

If you do that, you may pay a few dollars more for the car when you buy it... but at the end of a year's driving you'll be money in the pocket... not to mention the grief you will have missed.

You won't find any camouflaged crooks on our lot... and every car has been thoroughly checked and adjusted to give you more miles of trouble free driving at an economical cost per mile. Why not come in now. We've got a whole line of late model beauties... all ready for you to get behind the wheel and go.

NEW CARS! Had 23 a month ago, 10 left today. If you've been thinking of a new car, ACT NOW. Your car will never be worth more as a trade-in. The '59s are expected to go up in price since steel has risen. You'll never get more for your money. And, I doubt we'll ever have a more popular car than the '58.

Come in NOW while we have a good selection of models and colors. We'd like to give you a Demonstration.

List Advantages Of Soil Bank

Farmers in Tuscola County who want to scale down their farming operations have an opportunity to do so by putting part or all of their cropland into the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, County Office manager Charles B. Eckfeld of the Tuscola County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee explained today.

The county office manager pointed out that by taking advantage of the program farmers could: (1) Reduce cost for equipment, seed fertilizer, insecticides, or other cash outlays necessary in farming operations; (2) reduce the need for extra labor, and (3) reduce the hazards of uncertain markets and prices for farm commodities.

When cropland is put into the Conservation Reserve it is taken out of production and put into conservation uses. Cost-share payments are made to farmers to help with the establishment of the conservation practices and annual per acre rental payments are made on the land for the duration of the contract. This is assured income from the land for the life of the contract regardless of weather, crop diseases, insect pests, variations in market prices or other farming hazards.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS BRIEFS

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Paradox: Michigan is bordered on three sides by water; has more than 11,000 inland lakes. It boasts myriad streams and rivers stretching in every direction across the land.
But, Michigan has a water shortage.
It is a problem of mal-distribution: enough water is not always in the right place. Enormous new uses of water for farm irrigation, for industry, for sewage disposal systems of mushrooming cities and for recreation emphasize the shortage.
The legislature is concerned. The problem has been growing more acute for five years. It is approaching the critical stage as industry and cities expand into new areas.
Rural areas, which once made Michigan an agricultural state, are shrinking under pressure of progress in other fields. Now, only 10 per cent of the population is engaged in agriculture.

Farmers are turning to irrigation to make the fields do more work; to produce food for Michigan's 7,000,000 people and other markets.
Experts recommend that artificial ponds be created to collect water during the winter and spring for use during the hot, dry summer.
George S. McIntyre, state director of Agriculture, contends ponds are impractical because of the large investments, land and equipment.
As the study goes on, the problem becomes more serious.
Industry needs more water in its processes.
A new copper mining technique to coax low grade ore out of the ground in marketable quantities uses tremendous amounts of water -- 1,000,000 gallons for each ton of ore mined.
The process, which has been tested and proven in the Upper Peninsula, promises to bring another economic boon to the state. But the supply of water must be guaranteed.
The Bear Creek Mining Co., planning an installation in the Upper Peninsula, is waiting for, among other things, the certainty that it will have sufficient water over a long period of time.
Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) said the company, assured by geologists that the copper field exists under Lake Superior, is not interested even in test borings until making sure of water.

New cities spreading out from the metropolitan centers are preparing sewage disposal systems of the most modern design. They need water to make them operate efficiently.
Southeastern Michigan, a honeycomb of small towns grown into big cities, critically needs water for their new homes and factories.
As the shortage grows daily, the state still argues about a solution. The issue: whether to set up a priority system for water use or stick with the present system which guarantees the first owner the right to use it any way he sees fit without damage to others.
The solution becomes important when the use of water by an industry, or city lowers the stream level and the shoreline property owner declares it is diminishing his rights.
This, too, affects the resort and recreation industry, which has made Michigan a vacation spot for the nation during the summer months.
Lower levels on inland lakes and streams would give the tourist industry a new headache.
Already, there is competition on the water between fishermen and swimmers, boaters and water skiers. This situation will become more severe with more people and longer vacation periods.
Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) is chairman of a special House-Senate water rights study committee which plans to develop a legislative proposal for the 1959 session.
What it will be remains the problem -- whether to protect existing rights of ownership or

My, how time does fly. We are into our second week of vacation. Wisconsin and Minnesota are wonderful states, but for us, Michigan tops them all.
The Upper Peninsula has such a variety of things for the vacationist to see and do. For me, the wonderful forests and beautiful shore lines are my favorites.
On September 15, Monday, the secretaries and treasurers will have their officers' training school at the Courthouse from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Then on September 18, Thursday, the council members will have their officers' training school at the Courthouse from 2 to 3:30 p.m.
Since I will be teaching quite a few crafts the coming year, I wonder if you know what a "craft" is? There seems to be a popular misconception as to what a craft really is and a lack of understanding of the real importance and value in doing craft work.
One authority has defined a craft as a useful piece of art. Another has said it is "all those things which people make with their hands either for their own use or for the use of others." This authority further qualifies that statement by saying, "the article may be fashioned entirely by hand or it may be made in part by machine, such as the machine spinning of yarn to be woven on the hand loom." But, he continues, "if the final product, the character of the thing, is shaped by hand, it is an object of handicraft." Still another authority has defined a craftsman as "one who creates of basic materials from his own design, by his own skill and the best techniques of his craft, an object which fulfills its useful purpose to the satisfaction of the user and beholder."

Michigan State home economists combine these ideas and define a craft as a useful piece of art, the final shaping of which has been fashioned by hand, using the producers' original design. It has been conditioned by the inherent character of the materials used and the best techniques of the craft.
In other words, a craft is useful as well as a piece of art; it is a table, a salad bowl, a pitcher, a length of material. This differs from painting and sculpture which are produced to please and inform us. A craft is not only to please and inform us, but also to meet our needs. A craft is made by hand. It is made from the craftsman's original design and the character of the piece has its design in the materials and techniques used.
For example, making a leather wallet and tooling a design on it can be a perfectly good craft, but only if the producer has designed the article, cut it from leather himself and planned and executed his own design. If he has done this, something has happened between him and the material with which he is working. He has used his hands, his head and his heart to shape the material. Busy work is not only what is done but the way it is done.
A man may be the architect of his fortune, but he is also the designer of his misfortune.

BOB AND PAT DUNNING'S DREAM CAR COMES TRUE IN PLYMOUTH'S END-OF-MODEL CLEARANCE SALE

Canny young local couple takes advantage of year's lowest prices

Bob and Pat Dunning had put off buying a car. Budget. Wanted to see what would happen.

Last week as Bob, a commercial artist, was driving to work he noted a sign in a Plymouth dealership reading, "End-of-Model Clearance Sale. Lowest Prices of the Year." "Just," as he says, "for the fun of it," he stopped his car and went in. Chatted with a Plymouth salesman. Couldn't believe his ears.

Rare Young Bird

One of the more rare and impressive birds in Michigan is the bald eagle. This youngster was captured on film in a nest in northern Michigan. Estimates indicate there are some 50-100 breeding pairs of bald eagles in the state. Like hawks and owls, all eagles are protected from hunting.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Many Make-Up Uses Offer You Exciting Changes of Face

HOW many faces does a woman have? Three, by average count. It's all done with mirror and make-up. There's, first of all the face with which you wake up, bare of everything except expression. This takes on a completely different look, the second face, when you apply a little lipstick, rouge and foundation and powder.

The third face is that which you put on for parties, with more and more careful make-up. It's probably the prettiest of all three.

It would be wonderful to appear in the third face at all times, but it might be a bit awkward to look party-like when you're stuffing washing into a machine or hunting bargains at the store. However, if you're bored by the second face and can't look the first one in the eye without shrinking, then why not create a fourth face? This is done with make-up to change your coarser features to reflect a more exciting you.

How to Use Color
Shorten a long nose by barely touching the tip with a hint of pink. To avoid looking like you have a head cold, wear rouge on the cheeks also so there is a steady progression of color.

Slacks look good on pines and hives. When the trek leads to a high climb, they are especially satisfactory. These slim-fitting wranglers are made for girls and misses in ankle length, styled in twill brightly printed in red or black stripes and blue and black, to be worn with a matching black shirt. Note the frontier styling, side zipper closing and wide tunnel straps for belt.

Softened a strong jawline or reduce fullness by applying rouge just under the jaw.

Slim a round face by blending rouge along the cheekbones, keeping color to the sides of the face.

Lipstick should be used with a brush if you want a neat mouth, and if you want to change the lips a little. Large mouths seem smaller if you apply the lipstick to about 1/8 of an inch within the natural boundaries.

Freezer Treasures Will Come In Handy

Make your freezer chest a treasure chest with special foods held in storage until you need them. Certain foods freeze well and keep their flavor and texture beautifully. They'll save time when you need to have a dinner in a hurry.

Here's a good meat dish and a dessert which you'll like having on hand:

Hungarian Steak
(Serves 4)
2 tablespoons drippings
2 pounds round steak
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 clove garlic, mashed
1 large onion, sliced thin
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1 cup water

Melt shortening in 10 inch skillet. Rub meat with salt, pepper and mashed garlic. Place in hot skillet and brown. Add remaining ingredients and cover. Cook very slowly for 1 1/2 hours or until meat is just tender. Cool and package for freezing. When reheating for serving, place in skillet, add strips from one green pepper and cook on very low heat for an hour.

Lemon Cheese Pie
(Serves 8)
2 tablespoons softened butter
1 1/2 cups shredded coconut
12 ounces cream cheese
3 eggs
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 tablespoons confectioner's sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Spread butter evenly in 9-inch glass pie plate. Sprinkle in coconut pressing evenly into butter. Whip cream cheese until fluffy, add eggs, one at a time and continue beating. Blend in sugar and lemon juice. Pour mixture into coconut shell. Bake in a preheated moderate (350°F.) oven for 25 minutes. Cool. Combine whipped cream, confectioner's sugar and vanilla. Spread over top of pie. Wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material. To serve, thaw partially or

Uncle Tim From Tyre Says:

Dear Mister Editor:
It looks like it pays a feller to keep himself good and ignorant these days. I see by the papers this morning where a feller held up a hotel lobby in New York, got $6 from the owner, $14 from the clerk, and $178 from the bellhop.

And I noted on the bulletin board at the post office not long ago where the Government wanted a chemist and a street sweeper for the grounds at the Pentagon Building. The chemist gets $3,700 a year and the sweeper gets $4,500. It shore makes ignorance look mighty attractive. All the sweeper needs is a broom.

Special Speaker at Novesta Church

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson, missionaries to French West Africa, will be special speakers at the Novesta Baptist Church Sunday.

The Johnsons will tell of their experiences in Africa. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Augsburg College and became a missionary of the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society in September of 1947.

The service is open to the public.

It is possible to rise above failure, but success is bound to boost you higher.

WORKS BOTH WAYS
Don't jump to conclusion that a man knows it all just because he never says anything.

TALK IS CHEAP
The easiest thing in the world is for those on the outside to criticize those on the inside.

TIP TO MOTORISTS
Good brakes prevent a number of things, but they are useless when the car takes to the air.
